TITLE 2 Private Property

HISTORY:
Add, L 1958, ch 959, eff Oct 1, 1959.

§ 464. Incorporated associations of volunteer firefighters.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subdivision two of this section, real property owned by an incorporated association of present or former volunteer firefighters, other than a business corporation, which is (a) actually and exclusively used and occupied by such incorporated association or (b) leased to the city, town, village or fire district in which the real property is located and is actually and exclusively used and occupied by such city, town, village or fire district for fire department purposes or for the social and recreational use of the firefighters and residents of the city, town, village or fire district, provided the rent under any such lease does not exceed the amount of carrying, maintenance and depreciation charges or (c) leased to the school district in which the real property is located and is actually and exclusively used and occupied by such school district for school district purposes, provided the rent under any such lease does not exceed the amount of carrying, maintenance and depreciation charges, shall be exempt from taxation, but the total amount of the exemption to any one incorporated association shall not exceed twenty thousand dollars.

2. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision one of this section, real property owned by an incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department created for the purpose of furnishing fire protection which is (a) actually and exclusively used and occupied by such fire company or fire department for public purposes or (b) leased to the city, town, village or fire district in which the real property is located and is actually and exclusively used and occupied by such city, town, village or fire district for governmental purposes including but not limited to the social and recreational use of the firefighters and residents of the city, town, village or fire district provided the rent under any such lease does not exceed the amount of carrying, maintenance and depreciation charges or (c) leased to the school district in which the real property is located and is actually and exclusively used and occupied by such school district for school district purposes, provided the rent under any such lease does not exceed the amount of carrying, maintenance and depreciation charges, shall be exempt from taxation and exempt from special ad valorem levies and special assessments to the extent provided in section four hundred ninety of this chapter. In the event that not all of the real property shall be used and occupied for such purposes then exemption of the portion not so used shall be limited to the exemption provided in subdivision one of this section.

3. The term "public purpose", as used in this section, shall mean land and buildings, or portions thereof, used for

(a) housing, storage, repair and testing of fire department vehicles and of equipment, appliances, devices, tools, protective clothing, uniforms and supplies,

(b) receipt and dispatch of alarms,

(c) training, drills and instruction,

(d) generators, lockers, showers, custodial quarters,

(e) offices, company meetings, ready room,

(f) social and recreational use, other than for income producing or business purposes, of both the firefighters and residents of the city, town, village or fire district in which the real property is located.

3. Property leased to other parties

1. In general

Exemption from taxation of real property of incorporated association of volunteer firemen discussed. 1946 Op St Compt 162.

Real property owned by a fire company or department which is organized for the purpose of furnishing fire protection, is totally exempt from taxation, provided that it is actually and exclusively used and occupied by it for a public purpose (as defined in the statute). 1968 Op St Compt No. 532.

2. Property acquired after taxable status date

Property of an incorporated fire company acquired subsequent to the taxable status date is liable for taxes for the entire year. 1955 Op St Compt 74.

3. Property leased to other parties

When portion of real property owned and used by an incorporated volunteer fire association is rented for purposes other than those of the association and rent is received for such portion, such real property is wholly subject to taxation. 1947 Op St Compt 340.

The board of trustees of a village may enter into a lease with an incorporated fire department covering a portion of a building, owned by such department, for storing village fire apparatus and for village office and library purposes for twenty years. However, it would appear that the exemption afforded by § 464 of the Real Property Tax Law would not be applicable in such a case. 1960 Op St Compt No. 161.

An incorporated fire department may lease a portion of the fire house owned by it to a Central School District and have the property remain tax exempt. 1966 Op St Compt No. 733.

A tax exemption may be applied to the unleased portion of a building owned by a village volunteer fire department where the tenant of the leased portion does not qualify, under the statute, to create a total exemption for the building or premises. 1967 Op St Compt No. 1011.

An incorporated fire company may lease a portion of its real property to the village in which it is located, for use as office and storage space, as provided herein, and retain its tax exemption. 1968 Op St Compt No. 203.

A fire company may, under certain conditions, lease a portion of its real property to a fire district in which the property is located for parking of vehicles of members and residents of the fire district while in attendance at social functions at the district fire house. Where the rent under any such lease does not exceed the amount of carrying, maintenance and depreciation charges, the leased portion may remain or become tax exempt. 1968 Op St Compt No. 252.

Tax exemption of real property of an incorporated fire company is lost where a portion of the property is rented. 1955 Op St Compt 210.

Real property of incorporated volunteer fire department leased to United States Postal Service is not entitled to exemption under CLS RPTL § 464(2). 10 Op. Counsel SBRPS No. 65.

Analysis

1. In general

2. Vacant land
3. Property leased to other parties
4. Special assessments and ad valorem levies
5. Miscellaneous

1. In general

The real property tax exemption provided by subdivision 2 of section 464 of the Real Property Tax Law is applicable only to incorporated volunteer fire companies and departments which have satisfied the requirements of the Not-For-Profit Corporation Law (§§ 404(f), 1402). 5 Op Counsel SBEA No. 45 (1976).

Fire protection service supplied by a village fire department is a public purpose within the meaning of section 406 of the Real Property Tax Law, and accordingly, village-owned land leased to the fire department and used by the department for the provision of fire protection services is exempt from taxation pursuant to section 406. 5 Op Counsel SBEA No. 107 (1976).

2. Vacant land

Vacant land owned by a fire department is not exempt by virtue of its being owned by a fire department unless it is used for public purposes or is leased to other municipalities in accordance with the provisions of section 464 of the Real Property Tax Law. 5 Op Counsel SBEA No. 107 (1976).

3. Property leased to other parties

Real property owned by an incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department, otherwise exempt from taxation pursuant to section 464 of the Real Property Tax Law, is taxable when it is leased to a United States Army Reserve unit. Where only a portion of such property is leased to the reserve unit, that portion will be taxable while the remainder will be entitled to the exemption. 5 Op Counsel SBEA No. 78 (1976).

4. Special assessments and ad valorem levies

Real property exempt pursuant to either subdivision 1 or 2 of section 464 of the Real Property Tax Law is liable for special assessments and special ad valorem levies. 6 Op Counsel SBEA No. 16 (1976 as revised 1978).

Real property exempt from taxation pursuant to subdivision 2 of § 464 of Real Property Tax Law is exempt from special ad valorem levies and special assessments to same extent as properties exempt from taxation pursuant to one of sections listed in § 490. 7 Op Counsel SBEA No. 103 (1983).

5. Miscellaneous

Where a fire company or department, created for the purpose of furnishing fire protection, owns a recreation hall, that building is totally exempt from taxation pursuant to section 464(2) of the Real Property Tax Law if it is used solely for fire company or department purposes and none of the revenue derived from the operation of the building inures to the benefit of the members of the company or department. 5 Op Counsel SBEA No. 107 (1976).

Notes to Decisions

Where taxes are invalid because of subd. 7 of Tax Law § 4 and cloud upon title of property, provable only by evidence dehors the record, action in equity to have such taxes annulled and canceled of record is maintainable. The exemption from village taxation of firemen under former Village Law § 132 not only includes firemen actively serving as members of any indicated company, but also can include volunteer exempt firemen as defined by the statute. Starr v Mayor & Trustees of Island Park, 130 N.Y.S.2d 235, 1954 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2018 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1954).

Where a village has adopted a proposition pursuant to former § 132 of the Village Law exempting members of fire companies from taxation to the extnt of $500, "exempt volunteer firemen" who have resigned after five years service are not entitled to the exemption. 1947 Op St Compt 82.

Exemption from village taxes on real property owned by firemen and veterans. 1947 Op St Compt 266.

There is no minimum time which a volunteer fireman must serve in order to be eligible for tax exemption pursuant to this section, and a volunteer fire company may not adopt a bylaw which requires its members to fulfill certain service requirements in order to attain eligibility. 1963 Op St Compt No. 73.

Real property, owned jointly by a volunteer fireman of a village fire department together with another person who is not a volunteer fireman, qualifies for exemption from taxation by the village. 1969 Op St Compt No. 107.

A village volunteer fireman is not entitled to a refund for the additional tax he had to pay after his real property tax exemption was removed from the tax roll when he ceased to be an active volunteer fireman. 1979 Op St Compt No. 160.

Agency Opinions

The owner of "veteran property" or "volunteer fireman property" wholly exempt from village taxation is eligible to vote at a village election. 1955 NY Ops Atty Gen 93 (informal).

Village trustees may not submit a proposition to the electors exempting real property of volunteer firemen with more than 10 years' service and not exempting real property of those with less than 10 years' service. 1955 NY Ops Atty Gen 32 (informal) (former Village Law § 132).

Where a village had adopted a proposition affording the volunteer firemen an exemption from real property taxation, such action was undisturbed by the repeal of the former enabling statute (Village Law § 104) and its reenactment under Real Property Tax Law § 465. 1960 NY Ops Atty Gen Aug 3 (informal).

A village should deduct exemptions for veterans and volunteer firemen from the assessed value of real property and not from the full or equalized value. 1976 NY Ops Atty Gen March 30 (informal).

The exemption provided by section 466 of the Real Property Tax Law to volunteer members of a village fire department and fire companies in villages is in addition to any other exemption to which the real property may be entitled. 2 Op Counsel SBEA No. 23.

If a husband and wife are each eligible in their own right for the village firefighter exemption authorized by section 466 of the Real Property Tax Law, their marital status does not prevent each from enjoying the full benefits of the exemption. 7 Op Counsel SBEA No. 45 (1980).

A person subject to call for firefighting or rescue squad duty, without an option of whether or not to respond, is an active volunteer fireman and eligible to receive an exemption from real property taxes under Real Property Tax Law § 466. 7 Op Counsel SBEA No. 114 (1983).

§ 466-a. Volunteer firefighters and volunteer ambulance workers; certain counties

1. Real property owned by an enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service or such enrolled member and spouse residing in any county having a population of more than two hundred sixty-one thousand inhabitants but less than two hundred seventy thousand inhabitants, determined in accordance with the 1990 federal census, or in any county having a population of more than ninety-eight thousand seven hundred inhabitants butless than ninety-nine thousand inhabitants, as determined by the latestfederal decennial census, shall be exempt from taxation to the extent of ten percent of the assessed value of such property for city, village, town, part town, special district or county purposes, exclusive of special assessments, provided that the governing body of a city, village, town or county, after a public hearing, adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution providing therefor; provided further, however, that such exemption shall in no event exceed three thousand dollars multiplied by the latest state equalization rate for the assessing unit in which such real property is located.

2. Such exemption shall not be granted to an enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service residing in such county unless:

(a) the applicant resides in the city, town or village which is served by such incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service;

(b) the property is the primary residence of the applicant;

(c) the property is used exclusively for residential purposes; provided however, that in the event any portion of such property is not used exclusively for the applicant's residence but is used for other purposes, such portion shall be subject to taxation and the remaining portion only shall be entitled to the exemption provided by this section; and

(d) the applicant has been certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department as an enrolled member of such incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department for at least five years or the applicant has been certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated voluntary ambulance service as an enrolled member of such incorporated voluntary ambulance service for at least five years. It shall be the duty and responsibility of the municipality which adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution pursuant to this section to determine the procedure for certification.

3. Any enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service who accrues more than twenty years of active service and is so certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service, shall be granted the ten percent exemption as authorized by this section for the remainder of his or her life as long as his or her primary residence is located within such a county provided that the governing body of a village, town or county, after a public hearing, adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution providing therefor.

4. Application for such exemption shall be filed with the assessor or other agency, department or office designated by the municipality offering such exemption on or before the taxable status date on a form as prescribed by the commissioner.

5. No applicant who is a volunteer firefighter or volunteer ambulance worker who by reason of such status is receiving any benefit under the provisions of this article on the effective date of this section shall suffer any diminution of such benefit because of the provisions of this section.

Notes to Decisions

Volunteer firefighter or volunteer ambulance worker who serves in town in Putnam County other than that in which he or she resides cannot receive exemption based on 5 years of service from his or her home town under CLS RPTL § 466-c(2); in contrast, if volunteer's home town chooses to offer lifetime service exemption based on 20 years of service under § 466-c(3), fact that its resident serves, or served, in another town does not bar that exemption. 11 Op. Counsel SBRPS No. 31 (2002).

§ 466-c. [There are seven sections 466-c; added by L 2002, ch 431] Volunteer firefighters and volunteer ambulance workers; certain counties

1. Real property owned by an enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service or such enrolled member and spouse residing in any county having a population of more than nine hundred fifty thousand but less than nine hundred sixty thousand as determined in accordance with the latest decennial census, shall be exempt from taxation to the extent of ten percent of the assessed value of such property for city, village, town, part town, special district, or county purposes, exclusive of special assessments, provided that the governing body of a city, village, town, or county, after a public hearing, adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution providing therefor; provided further, however, that such exemption shall in no event exceed three thousand dollars multiplied by the latest state equalization rate for the assessing unit in which such real property is located.

2. Such exemption shall not be granted to an enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service residing in such county unless:

(a) the applicant resides in the city, town, or village which is served by such incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service;

(b) the property is the primary residence of the applicant;

(c) the property is used exclusively for residential purposes; provided however, that in the event any portion of such property is not used exclusively for the applicant's residence but is used for other purposes, such portion shall be subject to taxation and the remaining portion only shall be entitled to the exemption provided by this section; and

(d) the applicant has been certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department as an enrolled member of such incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department for at least five years or the applicant has been certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated voluntary ambulance service as an enrolled member of such incorporated voluntary ambulance service for at least five years. It shall be the duty and responsibility of the municipality which adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution pursuant to this section to determine the procedure for certification.

3. Any enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service who accrues more than twenty years of active service and is so certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service, shall be granted the ten percent exemption as authorized by this section for the remainder of his or her life as long as his or her primary residence is located within such county provided that the governing body of a city, village, town or county, after a public hearing, adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution providing therefor.

4. Application for such exemption shall be filed with the assessor or other agency, department or office designated by the municipality offering such exemption on or before the taxable status date on a form as prescribed by the commissioner.

5. No applicant who is a volunteer firefighter or volunteer ambulance worker who by reason of such status is receiving any benefit under the provisions of this article on the effective date of this section shall suffer any diminution of such benefit because of the provisions of this section.

§ 466-c. [There are seven sections 466-c; added by L 2002, ch 450] Volunteer firefighters and volunteer ambulance workers; certain counties

1. Real property owned by an enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service or such enrolled member and spouse residing in a county with a population of more than one million four hundred thousand and less than one million five hundred thousand, according to the latest federal decennial census, shall be exempt from taxation to the extent of ten percent of the assessed value of such property for city, village, town, part town, special district, county or school district purposes, exclusive of special assessments, provided that the governing body of a city, village, town, county or school district, after a public hearing, adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution providing therefor.

2. Such exemption shall not be granted to an enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service residing in such county unless:

(a) the applicant resides in the town which is served by such incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service;

(b) the property is the primary residence of the applicant;

(c) the property is used exclusively for residential purposes; provided, however, that in the event any portion of such property is not used exclusively for the applicant's residence but is used for other purposes, such portion shall be subject to taxation and the remaining portion only shall be entitled to the exemption provided by this section; and

(d) the applicant has been certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department as an enrolled member of such incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department for at least five years or the applicant has been certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated voluntary ambulance service as an enrolled member of such incorporated voluntary ambulance service for at least five years. It shall be the duty and responsibility of the municipality which adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution pursuant to this section to determine the procedure for certification.

3. Any enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service who accrues more than twenty years of active service and is so certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service, shall be granted the ten percent exemption as authorized by this section for the remainder of his or her life as long as his or her primary residence is located within such a county provided that the governing body of a city, village, town, county or school district, after a public hearing, adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution providing therefor.

4. Application for such exemption shall be filed with the assessor or other agency, department or office designated by the municipality offering such exemption on or before the taxable status date on a form as prescribed by the commissioner.

5. Incorporated volunteer fire companies, fire departments and incorporated volunteer ambulance services shall file lists of its enrolled members eligible for the exemption provided by this section with the assessor or other agency, department or office designated by the municipality offering such exemption on or before the taxable status date on a form as prescribed by the commissioner.

6. No applicant who is a volunteer firefighter or volunteer ambulance worker who, by reason of such status is receiving any benefit under the provisions of this article on the effective date of this section, shall suffer any diminution of such benefit because of the provisions of this section.

7. (a) For the purposes of this section, title to that portion of real property owned by a cooperative apartment corporation in which a tenant-stockholder of such corporation resides and which is represented by his share or shares of stock in such corporation as determined by its or their proportional relationship to the total outstanding stock of the corporation, including that owned by the corporation, shall be deemed to be vested in such tenant-stockholder.

(b) That proportion of the assessment of such real property owned by a cooperative apartment corporation determined by the relationship of such real property vested in such tenant-stockholder to such entire parcel and the building thereon owned by such cooperative apartment corporation in which such tenant-stockholder resides shall be subject to exemption from taxation pursuant to this section and any exemption so granted shall be credited by the appropriate taxing authority against the assessed valuation of such real property. Upon the completion of the final assessment roll, or as soon thereafter as is practicable, the assessor shall forward to the cooperative apartment corporation a statement setting forth the exemption attributable to each eligible tenant-stockholder. The reduction in real property taxes realized thereby shall be credited by the cooperative apartment corporation against the amount of such taxes otherwise payable by or chargeable to such tenant-stockholder.

(c) Every cooperative apartment corporation, upon receiving an exemption pursuant to this section, shall provide to each eligible tenant-stockholder a written statement detailing how the exemption is being credited to such eligible tenant-stockholder no later than sixty days after such cooperative apartment corporation receives such exemption.

(d) Real property may be exempt from taxation pursuant to this subdivision by a municipality in which such property is located only if the governing board of such municipality, after public hearing, adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution providing therefor.

Notes to Decisions

To qualify for volunteer firefighters and volunteer ambulance workers exemption in Suffolk County on basis of minimum of 5 years of service, that service must have been performed for single volunteer company. 11 Op. Counsel SBRPS No. 51.

Where 2 (or more) qualified firefighters or ambulance workers own property together, their exemptions under CLS RPTL § 466-c (L 2002, ch 450) may be combined. 11 Op. Counsel SBRPS No. 51.

Where title is in single owner, only one exemption may be allowed under CLS RPTL § 466-c (L 2002, ch 450), even if individual qualifies both as volunteer firefighter and as volunteer ambulance worker. 11 Op. Counsel SBRPS No. 51.

Term "enrolled member" is not defined in CLS RPTL § 466-c (L 2002, ch 45); it is intended to refer to "active volunteer members" as that term is defined in CLS Vol Fire Ben § 3(1) and CLS Vol Ambul Work L § 3(1). 11 Op. Counsel SBRPS No. 51.

(c) the property is used exclusively for residential purposes; provided however, that in the event any portion of such property is not used exclusively for the applicant's residence but is used for other purposes, such portion shall be subject to taxation and the remaining portion only shall be entitled to the exemption provided by this section; and

(d) the applicant has been certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department as an enrolled member of such incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department for at least five years or the applicant has been certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated voluntary ambulance service as an enrolled member of such incorporated voluntary ambulance service for at least five years. It shall be the duty and responsibility of the municipality which adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution pursuant to this section to determine the procedure for certification.

3. Any enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service who accrues more than twenty years of active service and is so certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service, shall be granted the ten percent exemption as authorized by this section for the remainder of his or her life as long as his or her primary residence is located within such county provided that the governing body of a city, village, town, school district, or county, after a public hearing, adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution providing therefor.

4. Application for such exemption shall be filed with the assessor or other agency, department or office designated by the municipality offering such exemption on or before the taxable status date on a form as prescribed by the commissioner.

5. No applicant who is a volunteer firefighter or volunteer ambulance worker who by reason of such status is receiving any benefit under the provisions of this article on the effective date of this section shall suffer any diminution of such benefit because of the provisions of this section.

§ 466-d. [There are four sections 466-d; added by L 2003, ch 142] Volunteer firefighters and volunteer ambulance workers

1. Real property owned by an enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service or such enrolled member and spouse residing in a county which has a population of more than nine hundred thousand and less than nine hundred fifty thousand persons, shall be exempt from taxation to the extent of ten percent of the assessed value of such property for city, village, town, part town, school district, special district or county purposes, exclusive of special assessments, provided that the governing body of a city, village, town, school district, or county, after a public hearing, adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution providing therefor.

2. Such exemption shall be granted to an enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service residing in such county only if:

(a) the applicant resides in the city, town or village which is served by such incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service;

(b) the property is the primary residence of the applicant;

(c) the property is used exclusively for residential purposes; provided, however, that in the event any portion of such property is not used exclusively for the applicant's residence but is used for other purposes, such portion shall be subject to taxation and the remaining portion only shall be entitled to the exemption provided by this section;

(d) the applicant has been certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department as an enrolled member of such incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department for at least five years or the applicant has been certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated voluntary ambulance service as an enrolled member of such incorporated voluntary ambulance service for at least five years. It shall be the duty and responsibility of the municipality which adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution pursuant to this section to determine the procedure for certification; and

(e) (i) for volunteer firefighters, the area served by the volunteer fire company does not encompass any area served by a fire company having five or more professional firefighters.

(ii) for volunteer ambulance workers, the area served by the volunteer ambulance company does not encompass any area served by an ambulance company having five or more professional ambulance workers.

3. Any enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service who accrues more than twenty years of active service and is so certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service, shall be granted the ten percent exemption as authorized by this section for the remainder of his or her life as long as his or her primary residence is located within such a county provided that the governing body of a city, village, town, school district or county, after a public hearing, adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution providing therefor.

4. Any volunteer firefighter or volunteer ambulance worker of such county who is or becomes permanently disabled due to the exercise of his or her duties as such firefighter or ambulance worker and who is prevented from being certified as an active service member shall be entitled to the annual certification during the period of his or her disability.

5. Application for such exemption shall be filed with the assessor or other agency, department or office designated by the municipality offering such exemption on or before the taxable status date on a form as prescribed by the commissioner.

6. No applicant who is a volunteer firefighter or volunteer ambulance worker who by reason of such status is receiving any benefit under the provisions of this article on the effective date of this section shall suffer any diminution of such benefit because of the provisions of this section.

ment or incorporated voluntary ambulance service or such enrolled member and spouse residing in any county having a population of more than seventy-three thousand inhabitants but less than seventy-four thousand inhabitants, determined in accordance with the latest federal decennial census, shall be exempt from taxation to the extent of ten percent of the assessed value of such property for city, village, town, part town, special district, school district, fire district or county purposes, exclusive of special assessments, provided that the governing body of a city, village, town, school district, fire district or county, after a public hearing, adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution providing therefor; provided further, however, that such exemption shall in no event exceed three thousand dollars multiplied by the latest state equalization rate for the assessing unit in which such real property is located.

2. Such exemption shall not be granted to an enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service residing in such county unless:

(a) the applicant resides in the city, town or village which is served by such incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service;

(b) the property is the primary residence of the applicant;

(c) the property is used exclusively for residential purposes; provided however, that in the event any portion of such property is not used exclusively for the applicant's residence but is used for other purposes, such portion shall be subject to taxation and the remaining portion only shall be entitled to the exemption provided by this section; and

(d) the applicant has been certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department as an enrolled member of such incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department for at least five years or the applicant has been certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated voluntary ambulance service as an enrolled member of such incorporated voluntary ambulance service for at least five years. It shall be the duty and responsibility of the municipality, school district and/or fire district which adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution pursuant to this section to determine the procedure for certification.

3. Any enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service who accrues more than twenty years of active service and is so certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service, shall be granted the ten percent exemption as authorized by this section for the remainder of his or her life as long as his or her primary residence is located within such county provided that the governing body of a city, village, town, school district, fire district or county, after a public hearing, adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution providing therefor.

4. Application for such exemption shall be filed with the assessor or other agency, department or office designated by the municipality, school district and/or fire district offering such exemption on or before the taxable status date on a form as prescribed by the commissioner.

5. No applicant who is a volunteer firefighter or volunteer ambulance worker who by reason of such status is receiving any benefit under the provisions of this article on the effective date of this section shall suffer any diminution of such benefit because of the provisions of this section.

§ 2. This act shall take effect on the first of January next succeeding the date on which it shall have become a law and shall apply to taxable status dates occurring on or after such date.

Notes to Decisions

Un-remarried surviving spouse of volunteer firefighter or ambulance worker killed in performance of duties on behalf of another company, which accepted his or her service, may benefit from exemption offered by CLS RPTL § 466-f. 11 Op. Counsel SBRPS No. 66.

As it has been enacted, new CLS RPTL § 466-f (L 2005, ch 324) does not apply to municipality in county whose volunteer firefighter and/or ambulance worker exemption is governed by any other section of Real Property Tax Law such as CLS RPTL § 466-f or § 466-g. 11 Op. Counsel SBRPS No. 66.

Real Property Tax Law does not define phrase "killed in the line of duty" as used in CLS RPTL § 466-f, but such standard is similar to that in other provisions of law relating to benefits payable to injured firefighters or representatives of deceased volunteer firefighters, such as CLS Gen Mun § 205. 11 Op. Counsel SBRPS No. 66.

§ 466-g. [There are two sections 466-g; added by L 2005, ch 419] Volunteer firefighters and volunteer ambulance workers; certain county

1. Real property owned by an enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service or such enrolled member and spouse residing in any county having a population of more than four hundred fifty-eight thousand inhabitants but less than four hundred sixty thousand inhabitants, determined in accordance with the latest decennial federal census, shall be exempt from taxation to the extent of ten percent of the assessed value of such property for city, village, town, part town, special district, school district or county purposes, exclusive of special assessments, provided that the governing body of a city, village, town, school district, or county, after a public hearing, adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution providing therefor; provided further, however, that such exemption shall in no event exceed three thousand dollars multiplied by the latest state equalization rate for the assessing unit in which such real property is located.

2. Such exemption shall not be granted to an enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service residing in such county unless:

(a) the applicant resides in the city, town or village which is served by such incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service;

(b) the property is the primary residence of the applicant;

(c) the property is used exclusively for residential purposes; provided, however, that in the event any portion of such property is not used exclusively for the applicant's residence but is used for other purposes, such portion shall be subject to taxation and the remaining portion only shall be entitled to the exemption provided by this section; and

(d) the applicant has been certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department as an enrolled member of such incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department for at least five years or the applicant has been certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated voluntary ambulance service as an enrolled member of such incorporated voluntary ambulance service for at least five years. It shall be the duty and responsibility of the municipality which adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution pursuant to this section to determine the procedure for certification.

3. Any enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service who accrues more than twenty years of active service and is so certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service, shall be granted the ten percent exemption as authorized by this section for the remainder of his or her life as long as his or her primary residence is located within such county provided that the governing body of a city, village or town, after a public hearing, adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution providing therefor.

4. Application for such exemption shall be filed with the assessor or other agency, department or office designated by the municipality offering such exemption on or before the taxable status date on a form as prescribed by the commissioner.

5. No applicant who is a volunteer firefighter or volunteer ambulance worker who by reason of such status is receiving any benefit under the provisions of this article on the effective date of this section shall suffer any diminution of such benefit because of the provisions of this section.

2. Such exemption shall not be granted to an enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service residing in such county unless:

(a) the applicant resides in the city, town or village which is served by such incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service;

(b) the property is the primary residence of the applicant;

(c) the property is used exclusively for residential purposes; provided however, that in the event any portion of such property is not used exclusively for the applicant's residence but is used for other purposes, such portion shall be subject to taxation and the remaining portion only shall be entitled to the exemption provided by this section; and

(d) the applicant has been certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department as an enrolled member of such incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department for at least five years or the applicant has been certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated voluntary ambulance service as an enrolled member of such incorporated voluntary ambulance service for at least five years. It shall be the duty and responsibility of the municipality which adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution pursuant to this section to determine the procedure for certification.

3. Any enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service who accrues more than twenty years of active service and is so certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service, shall be granted the ten percent exemption as authorized by this section for the remainder of his or her life as long as his or her primary residence is located within such county provided that the governing body of a city, village, town or county, after a public hearing, adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution providing therefor.

4. Application for such exemption shall be filed with the assessor or other agency, department or office designated by the municipality offering such exemption on or before the taxable status date on a form as prescribed by the commissioner.

5. No applicant who is a volunteer firefighter or volunteer ambulance worker who by reason of such status is receiving any benefit under the provisions of this article on the effective date of this section shall suffer any diminution of such benefit because of the provisions of this section.

§ 466-j. Volunteer firefighters and volunteer ambulance workers; certain county

1. Real property owned by an enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service or such enrolled member and spouse residing in any county having a population of more than seventy-nine thousand and less than eighty thousand inhabitants, determined in accordance with the latest federal decennial census, shall be exempt from taxation to the extent of ten percent of the assessed value of such property for city, village, town, part town, special district, school district, fire district or county purposes, exclusive of special assessments, provided that the governing body of a city, village, town, school district, fire district or county, after a public hearing, adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution providing therefor.

2. Such exemption shall not be granted to an enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service residing in such county unless:

(a) the applicant resides in the city, town or village which is served by such incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service;

(b) the property is the primary residence of the applicant;

(c) the property is used exclusively for residential purposes; provided however, that in the event any portion of such property is not used exclusively for the applicant's residence but is used for other purposes, such portion shall be subject to taxation and the remaining portion only shall be entitled to the exemption provided by this section; and

(d) the applicant has been certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department as an enrolled member of such incorporated volunteer fire company or fire department for at least five years or the applicant has been certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated voluntary ambulance service as an enrolled member of such incorporated voluntary ambulance service for at least five years. It shall be the duty and responsibility of the municipality, school district and/or fire district which adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution pursuant to this section to determine the procedure for certification.

3. Any enrolled member of an incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service who accrues more than twenty years of active service and is so certified by the authority having jurisdiction for the incorporated volunteer fire company, fire department or incorporated voluntary ambulance service, shall be granted the ten percent exemption as authorized by this section for the remainder of his or her life as long as his or her primary residence is located within such county provided that the governing body of a city, village, town, school district, fire district or county, after a public hearing, adopts a local law, ordinance or resolution providing therefor.

4. Application for such exemption shall be filed with the assessor or other agency, department or office designated by the municipality, school district and/or fire district offering such exemption on or before the taxable status date on a form as prescribed by the commissioner.

5. No applicant who is a volunteer firefighter or volunteer ambulance worker who by reason of such status is receiving any benefit under the provisions of this article on the effective date of this section shall suffer any diminution of such benefit because of the provisions of this section.

TITLE 4 Miscellaneous Provisions

HISTORY:
Add, L 1959, ch 733, § 9, eff Oct 1, 1959.

§ 578. County assistance under cooperative agreements

1. The legislative bodies of the counties and the governing boards of the cities, towns, villages and school districts or appropriate officers thereof authorized by such legislative body or governing board, as the case may be, shall have power to enter into contracts with each other for data processing and other mechanical assistance in the preparation of assessment rolls, tax rolls, tax bills and other assessment and property tax records and for supplies of field books, assessment rolls and other assessment and property tax forms.

2. (a) The legislative body of a county and the governing body of any city, town, village or school district therein shall have the power to enter into contracts with each other for the collection of taxes by the county treasurer. Such an agreement may either authorize the county treasurer to collect taxes jointly and concurrently with the tax collecting officer of such city, town, village or school district, or may delegate to the county treasurer the sole and exclusive authority to collect taxes for such city, town, village or school district. Such an agreement shall be considered a municipal cooperation agreement for purposes of article five-G of the general municipal law and shall be subject to all provisions thereof. Any such agreement shall be approved by both the city, town, village or school district and the county, by a majority vote of the voting strength of each governing body.

(b) An agreement that authorizes the county treasurer to collect taxes jointly and concurrently with the tax collecting officer of such city, town, village or school district shall have no effect upon the tenure, powers or duties of the incumbent tax collecting officer, except that the county treasurer shall also be considered a tax collecting officer of the city, town, village or school district, with all the powers and duties thereof. In no case shall such an agreement be construed to empower the tax collecting officer of a city, town, village or school district to collect taxes that have been returned to the county treasurer as unpaid.

(c) An agreement that delegates to the county treasurer the sole and exclusive authority to collect taxes for such city, town, village or school district shall have the effect of making the county treasurer the sole tax collecting officer of such city, town, village or school district, and of abolishing the separate office of tax collecting officer in such city, town, village or school district, for as long as the agreement shall be in effect. Provided, however, that if the office to be abolished is elective, the agreement shall be submitted for the approval of the electors of the contracting city, town or village in the manner provided by section twenty-three of the municipal home rule law. Provided further, that such an agreement shall not take effect during the term of an incumbent tax collecting officer, unless the office should become vacant prior to the expiration of such term. Upon the termination of such an agreement, the office of tax collecting officer shall be deemed reestablished as an appointive office of the city, town, village or school district, unless such office has been abolished or its functions transferred to another officer pursuant to law.

Agency Opinions

An agreement between a town, which has an assessing unit, and a county, which does not, whereby the county provides assessment services to the town exceeds statutory authority where the services reached the level of actually assessing property, as distinguished from services under Real Property Tax Law §§ 572, 578 or 1532. While the county legislature may assign additional duties to the county director of real property tax services, it may not assign duties inconsistent with any general or special law, see Real Property Tax Law 1532(4). 9 Op Counsel SBEA No. 30 (1989).

HISTORY:
Add, L 1973, ch 1039, § 1, eff Sept 1, 1973.

§ 413. Persons and officials required to report cases of suspected child abuse or maltreatment

1. (a) The following persons and officials are required to report or cause a report to be made in accordance with this title when they have reasonable cause to suspect that a child coming before them in their professional or official capacity is an abused or maltreated child, or when they have reasonable cause to suspect that a child is an abused or maltreated child where the parent, guardian, custodian or other person legally responsible for such child comes before them in their professional or official capacity and states from personal knowledge facts, conditions or circumstances which, if correct, would render the child an abused or maltreated child: any physician; registered physician assistant; surgeon; medical examiner; coroner; dentist; dental hygienist; osteopath; optometrist; chiropractor; podiatrist; resident; intern; psychologist; registered nurse; social worker; emergency medical technician; licensed creative arts therapist; licensed marriage and family therapist; licensed mental health counselor; licensed psychoanalyst; licensed behavior analyst; certified behavior analyst assistant; hospital personnel engaged in the admission, examination, care or treatment of persons; a Christian Science practitioner; school official, which includes but is not limited to school teacher, school guidance counselor, school psychologist, school social worker, school nurse, school administrator or other school personnel required to hold a teaching or administrative license or certificate; full or part-time compensated school employee required to hold a temporary coaching license or professional coaching certificate; social services worker; employee of a publicly-funded emergency shelter for families with children; director of a children's overnight camp, summer day camp or traveling summer day camp, as such camps are defined in section thirteen hundred ninety-two of the public health law; day care center worker; school-age child care worker; provider of family or group family day care; employee or volunteer in a residential care facility for children that is licensed, certified or operated by the office of children and family services; or any other child care or foster care worker; mental health professional; substance abuse counselor; alcoholism counselor; all persons credentialed by the office of alcoholism and substance abuse services; employees, who are expected to have regular and substantial contact with children, of a health home or health home care management agency contracting with a health home as designated by the department of health and authorized under section three hundred sixty-five-l of this chapter or such employees who provide home and community based services under a demonstration program pursuant to section eleven hundred fifteen of the federal social security act who are expected to have regular and substantial contact with children; peace officer; police officer; district attorney or assistant district attorney; investigator employed in the office of a district attorney; or other law enforcement official.

(b) Whenever such person is required to report under this title in his or her capacity as a member of the staff of a medical or other public or private institution, school, facility or agency, he or she shall make the report as required by this title and immediately notify the person in charge of such institution, school, facility or agency, or his or her designated agent. Such person in charge, or the designated agent of such person, shall be responsible for all subsequent administration necessitated by the report. Any report shall include the name, title and contact information for every staff person of the institution who is believed to have direct knowledge of the allegations in the report. Nothing in this section or title is intended to require more than one report from any such institution, school or agency.

(c) A medical or other public or private institution, school, facility or agency shall not take any retaliatory personnel action, as such term is defined in paragraph (e) of subdivision one of section seven hundred forty of the labor law, against an employee because such employee believes that he or she has reasonable cause to suspect that a child is an abused or maltreated child and that employee therefore makes a report in accordance with this title. No school, school official, child care provider, foster care provider, residential care facility provider, hospital, medical institution provider or mental health facility provider shall impose any conditions, including prior approval or prior notification, upon a member of their staff specifically required to report under this title. At the time of the making of a report, or at any time thereafter, such person or official may exercise the right to request, pursuant to paragraph (A) of subdivision four of section four hundred twenty-two of this title, the findings of an investigation made pursuant to this title.

(d) Social services workers are required to report or cause a report to be made in accordance with this title when they have reasonable cause to suspect that a child is an abused or maltreated child where a person comes before them in their professional or official capacity and states from personal knowledge facts, conditions or circumstances which, if correct, would render the child an abused or maltreated child.

2. Any person, institution, school, facility, agency, organization, partnership or corporation which employs persons mandated to report suspected incidents of child abuse or maltreatment pursuant to subdivision one of this section shall provide consistent with section four hundred twenty-one of this chapter, all such current and new employees with written information explaining the reporting requirements set out in subdivision one of this section and in sections four hundred fifteen through four hundred twenty of this title. The employers shall be responsible for the costs associated with printing and distributing the written information.

3. Any state or local governmental agency or authorized agency which issues a license, certificate or permit to an individual to operate a family day care home or group family day care home shall provide each person currently holding or seeking such a license, certificate or permit with written information explaining the reporting requirements set out in subdivision one of this section and in sections four hundred fifteen through four hundred twenty of this title.

4. Any person, institution, school, facility, agency, organization, partnership or corporation, which employs persons who are mandated to report suspected incidents of child abuse or maltreatment pursuant to subdivision one of this section and whose employees, in the normal course of their employment, travel to locations where children reside, shall provide, consistent with section four hundred twenty-one of this title, all such current and new employees with information on recognizing the signs of an unlawful methamphetamine laboratory. Pursuant to section 19.27 of the mental hygiene law, the office of alcoholism and substance abuse services shall make available to such employers information on recognizing the signs of unlawful methamphetamine laboratories.

Laws 2002, ch 420, § 9, eff Sept 1, 2004, provides as follows:

§ 9. a. Nothing in this act shall prohibit or limit the activities or services on the part of any person in the employ of a program or service operated, regulated, funded, or approved by the department of mental hygiene, the office of children and family services, the office of temporary and disability assistance, the department of corrections and community supervision, the state office for the aging, the department of health, or a local governmental unit as that term is defined in article 41 of the mental hygiene law or a social services district as defined in section 61 of the social services law, provided, however, this section shall not authorize the use of any title authorized pursuant to article 154 of the education law, except that this section shall be deemed repealed one year from the date that the regulations issued in accordance with section six of part Y of the chapter of the laws of 2018 which amended this subdivision appear in the state register, or the date such regulations are adopted, whichever is later; provided however that the state education department shall notify the legislative bill drafting commission upon the occurrence of the date such regulations appear in the state register and the date of their adoption in order that the commission may maintain an accurate and timely effective database of the official text of the laws of the state of New York in furtherance of effectuating the provisions of section 44 of the legislative law and section 70-b of the public officers law (Amd, L 2016, ch 59, § 1 (Part J), eff April 13, 2016; L 2018, ch 57, § 8 (Part Y), eff April 12, 2018).

Laws 2002, ch 420, § 11, eff Sept 1, 2004, provide as follows:

§ 11. This act shall take effect September 1, 2004; and provided, further, however, that the commissioner of education and the board of regents are authorized, prior to such effective date, to promulgate such rules or regulations as may be necessary for the timely implementation of this act.

Laws 2002, ch 676, § 19, sub 2, eff Dec 9, 2002, provides as follows:

§ 19. This act shall take effect immediately; provided that:

2. Sections seven, eight and nine and sections eleven through eighteen of this act shall take effect January 1, 2005; provided that the department of education is authorized to promulgate any and all rules and regulations and take any other measures necessary to implement sections seven, eight and nine and sections eleven through eighteen of this act on or before their effective date, including but not limited to the appointment of the state board for mental health practitioners, the acceptance and processing of applications for licensure, and the issuance of licenses; provided further that the provisions of article 163 of the education law requiring a license or limited permit to practice under such article shall not be enforced until January 1, 2006; provided further, however, that the provisions of such article 163 requiring a license or limited permit to practice under such article shall not be enforced until January 1, 2007 with respect to any individual who applied for a license pursuant to the provisions of subdivision 2 of section 8411 of the education law, unless such individual has otherwise been denied a license thereunder (Amd, L 2004, ch 210, § 8, eff July 27, 2004, L

Laws 2007, ch 513, § 2, eff Oct 14, 2007, provides as follows:

§ 2. This act shall take effect on the sixtieth day after it shall have become a law; provided, however, that effective immediately, the addition, amendment and/or repeal of any rule or regulation necessary for the implementation of this act on its effective date are authorized and directed to be made and completed on or before such effective date.

Laws 2008, ch 323, §§ 1, 19, eff July 21, 2008, provide as follows:

Section 1. Legislative findings. It is vital to provide a comprehensive state system to address the issue of residential child abuse and neglect. Children served in residential settings are particularly vulnerable and deserve at least as stringent a system of preventing and responding to abuse and neglect as those who live at home with their families. Accordingly, the government's response to abuse and neglect of children in residential care must provide full accountability and aggressively protect children from harm. It is therefore critical that the law employs appropriate standards to describe acts of abuse and neglect and delineates the processes that will be employed in response to findings made in an investigation of alleged abuse or neglect.

§ 19. This act shall take effect immediately; provided, however, that sections two, three, four, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen and eighteen of this act shall take effect on the one hundred eightieth day after it shall have become a law; provided, further, that effective immediately the office of children and family services, the state education department, the office of mental health, the office of mental retardation and developmental disabilities, the office of alcoholism and substance abuse services and the commission on quality of care and advocacy for persons with disabilities are hereby authorized to promulgate and adopt rules and regulations on an emergency basis as necessary for the purpose of implementing the provisions of this act.

Laws 2010, ch 130, § 16, eff June 18, 2010, deemed eff on and after June 1, 2010, provides as follows:

§ 16. [Formerly § 15, as renumbered § 16, L 2010, ch 132, § 5] This act shall take effect immediately; provided that sections thirteen, fourteen and fifteen of this act shall take effect immediately and shall be deemed to have been in full force and effect on and after June 1, 2010 and such sections shall be deemed repealed one year from the date that the regulations issued in accordance with section six of part Y of the chapter of the laws of 2018 which amended this section appear in the state register, or the date such regulations are adopted, whichever is later; provided however that the state education department shall notify the legislative bill drafting commission upon the occurrence of the date such regulations appear in the state register and the date of their adoption in order that the commission may maintain an accurate and timely effective database of the official text of the laws of the state of New York in furtherance of effectuating the provisions of section 44 of the legislative law and section 70-b of the public officers law; provided further that the amendments to section 9 of chapter 420 of the laws of 2002 amending the education law relating to the profession of social work made by section thirteen of this act shall repeal on the same date as such section repeals; provided further that the amendments to section 17-a of chapter 676 of the laws of 2002 amending the education law relating to the practice of psychology made by section fourteen of this act shall repeal on the same date as such section repeals (Amd, L 2010, ch 132, § 6, eff June 18, 2010, deemed eff on and after June 1, 2010, L 2013, ch 57, § 3 (Part AA), eff March 29, 2013, deemed eff on and after April 1, 2013; L 2016, ch 59, § 3 (Part J), eff April 13, 2016; L 2018, ch 57, § 10 (Part Y), eff April 12, 2018).

Laws 2012, ch 501, § 1, eff Dec 17, 2012, provides as follows:

Section 1. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "protection of people with special needs act".

§ 15. The provisions of sections eleven and twelve of this act shall not apply to persons applying for licensure or certification or to persons licensed or certified pursuant to section 8805 of the education law until such licensed or certified person re-registers their license or certification in accordance with the provisions of paragraph g of subdivisions 1 and 2 of section 8804 of the education law as added by section one of this act.

§ 16. This act shall take effect July 1, 2014: provided, however, that if section 3 of part D of chapter 501 of the laws of 2012 is not in effect on such date, then the amendments to paragraph (a) of subdivision 1 of section 413 of the social services law made by section twelve of this act shall take effect on the same date and in the same manner as such chapter of the laws of 2012, takes effect; provided further that sections six, seven, eight, nine and ten of this act and section 8805 of the education law as added by section one of this act shall take effect immediately; and provided further that effective immediately, the addition, amendment and/or repeal of any rule or regulation necessary for the implementation of this act on its effective date are authorized and directed to be made and completed on or before such effective date.

Laws 2014, ch 126, § 13, eff July 22, 2014, provides:

§ 13. This act shall take effect immediately; provided, however, that if section 12 of chapter 554 of the laws of 2013 shall not have taken effect on or before such date then section six of this act shall take effect on the same date and in the same manner as such chapter of the laws of 2013 takes effect.

Laws 2014, ch 205, § 4, eff Aug 6, 2014, provides:

§ 4. This act shall take effect immediately; provided, however, that sections one and two of this act shall take effect on July 1, 2015; provided, further that if chapter 554 of the laws of 2013 shall not have taken effect on or before such date then section one of this act shall take effect on the same date and in the same manner as such chapter of the laws of 2013, takes effect; and provided that if chapter 8 of the laws of 2014 shall not have taken effect on or before such date then section two of this act shall take effect on the same date and in the same manner as such chapter of the laws of 2014, takes effect.

Laws 2017, ch 56, § 6 (Part Q), eff July 19, 2017, provides:

§ 6. This act shall take effect on the ninetieth day after it shall have become a law; provided however that: the commissioner of the office of children and family services, in consultation with the office of temporary and disability assistance, shall promulgate all rules and regulations necessary to implement the provisions of section two of this act; the commissioner of the office of temporary and disability assistance, in consultation with the office of children and family services, shall promulgate all rules and regulations necessary to implement the provisions of sections one and three of this act; and the commissioner of the division of criminal justice services, in consultation with the office of temporary and disability assistance, shall promulgate all rules and regulations necessary to implement the provisions of section four of this act; and provided further, the aforementioned rules or regulations may be promulgated on an emergency basis.

8. Under former Penal § 483d

1. Constitutionality

Parents alleged that the principal's report to state's Department of Child and Family Services was exaggerated and misleading, but even in the light most favorable to them, nothing in the report was materially false—the son wrote violent journal entries, misbehaved in school, and expressed suicidal thoughts, albeit in a hypothetical, creative, imagined way—furthermore, the principal's actions were expressly aimed at protecting the son, and the principal had a legal obligation to report suspected neglect. There was no evidence that the principal acted with the type of malice needed to shock the conscience. Cox v Warwick Valley Cent. Sch. Dist., 654 F.3d 267, 2011 U.S. App. LEXIS 17094 (2d Cir. N.Y. 2011).

Statutes requiring child welfare officials to follow guidelines and take affirmative actions to ensure well being and promote welfare of children in foster care (CLS Soc Serv §§ 411, 413, 415, 416, 417, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424-b, 424-c) were sufficiently mandatory to afford children in custody of New York City Child Welfare Administration right to protective services of which they could not be deprived without due process of law. Marisol A. by Forbes v Giuliani, 929 F. Supp. 662, 1996 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 8420 (S.D.N.Y. 1996), aff'd, 126 F.3d 372, 1997 U.S. App. LEXIS 27618 (2d Cir. N.Y. 1997).

Miranda warnings were required in a situation where petitioner made statements to a child youth services caseworker who was investigating charges relating to the sexual abuse of a child for which petitioner was incarcerated pending trial because various sections of the New York Social Services Law, including N.Y. Soc. Serv. Law §§ 413 and 424, required the caseworker to report to law enforcement, and the caseworker in this circumstance knew that law enforcement was listening in on the conversation for purposes of its investigation. Because of this violation, habeas corpus relief was warranted with respect to a conviction involving defendant's minor daughter because the statements to the caseworker had a substantial and injurious effect in determining the jury's verdicts, but that was not the case with respect to convictions involving three other alleged victims. Jackson v Conway, 765 F. Supp. 2d 192, 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 17126 (W.D.N.Y. 2011), aff'd in part and rev'd in part, 763 F.3d 115, 2014 U.S. App. LEXIS 15589 (2d Cir. N.Y. 2014).

2. Reporting requirement

A complaint which alleges, in part, that a county is liable for its department of social services which had actual notice of conduct by foster parents constituting maltreatment of the infant plaintiff prior to the time that she was severely scalded due to their unfitness and carelessness states a cause of action against the county; in addition to the general legislative structure for the care and custody of children, the physical abuse or maltreatment of a child is required to be reported by social services workers and child care or foster care workers, among others (Social Services Law, § 413; 18 NYCRR 432.3) and in the event of a violation of this obligation the "person, official or institution required by this title to report a case of suspected child abuse or maltreatment who knowingly and willingly fails to do so shall be civilly liable for the damages proximately caused by such failure" (Social Services Law, § 420, subd 2); the statutory liability thus created, under a liberal construction of the pleadings, requires that the amended complaint be sustained. Bartels v County of Westchester, 76 A.D.2d 517, 429 N.Y.S.2d 906, 1980 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 12165 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1980).

County's and a school's argument that they were not required to report the mother's allegation of abuse to the New York Central Register as required by N.Y. Soc. Serv. Law § 413(1), because the brother was not a person legally responsible for his sister's care, was meritless, as it was not the duty of the mandated reporter to make that assessment; however, the court held that the supreme court abused its discretion by granting leave to serve a late notice of claim on behalf of the second daughter, as the second daughter was never the subject of any of the mother's reports of sexual abuse to the county or school. Catherine G. v County of Essex, 307 A.D.2d 446, 761 N.Y.S.2d 727, 2003 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 7702 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 2003), aff'd in part, modified, 3 N.Y.3d 175, 785 N.Y.S.2d 369, 818 N.E.2d 1110, 2004 N.Y. LEXIS 2413 (N.Y. 2004).

Evidence including a child's medical records and a social worker's written assessment, together with the statutory presumption of good faith, established that defendant, acting in the scope of his employment as an emergency room physician, had reasonable cause to suspect that the child's skull fracture may have been the result of abuse or maltreatment and that he was acting in good faith when he discharged his statutory duty to report that suspicion. Hunter v Lourdes Hosp., 174 A.D.3d 1269, 107 N.Y.S.3d 482, 2019 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5828 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 2019).

While a child was a "child coming before" a school district, principal, and school psychologist, they could not rely on a third party's hearsay statements or the mother's general concerns to support "reasonable cause" to believe the child was being abused; therefore, there was no duty to report suspected child abuse under N.Y. Soc. Serv. Law § 413. Diana G-D v Bedford Cent. School Dist., 932 N.Y.S.2d 316, 33 Misc. 3d 970, 2011 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 4978 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 2011).

Trial court in a neglect proceeding improperly relied on the notation in a caseworker's notes that the child's uncle was a known drug dealer and kept drugs, drug records, and weapons in the grandmother's apartment under circumstances in which this information was provided by an emergency room doctor who did not testify at the hearing; the trial court incorrectly attributed this statement to the father, although the source of the doctor's information was unknown and there was no showing of who provided this information to the doctor. Even though the doctor was under a duty to report suspected child abuse and maltreatment, the critical statement was not based on the doctor's own knowledge or observations made in the course of treating the father, and in the absence of any information about the source, there was no way to ascertain whether the information given the doctor came from someone who also had a business duty to report it or would be admissible under another hearsay exception. Matter of Jaden C. (Phillip J.), 90 A.D.3d 485, 936 N.Y.S.2d 8, 2011 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8802 (N.Y. App. Div. 1st Dep't 2011).

Persons serving as mediators in the Community Dispute Resolutions Center Program are not barred by the program's confidentiality provisions from reporting evidence of child abuse if such is neither the subject matter of the resolution process nor contained in the memoranda, work products or case files of a mediator. The reporting requirements of section 413 of the Social Services Law do not apply to the Program's mediators when they are acting as such. 1983 NY Ops Atty Gen 83-F17, 1983 N.Y. AG LEXIS 4.

Credentialed and noncredentialed substance abuse and addiction counselors are mental health professionals required to report suspected incidents of child abuse and neglect pursuant to Social Services Law § 413. 1991 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 91-F5, 1991 N.Y. AG LEXIS 77.

Social worker who failed to follow proper reporting procedure could be held liable under Social Services Law to allegedly abused foster child, even though she lacked authority to remove child from foster home. Doe by Hickey v Jefferson County, 985 F. Supp. 66, 1997 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21525 (N.D.N.Y. 1997).

Supplemental jurisdiction will be exercised over state-law claims, in action against numerous defendants claiming various constitutional and state-law violations arising from abuse of 7-year-old child in foster care, because state claims, including social worker's alleged violation of CLS Soc Serv Law § 413, arise from same case or controversy as federal claims. Doe by Hickey v Jefferson County, 985 F. Supp. 66, 1997 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21525 (N.D.N.Y. 1997).

Claims against the medical group for violation of statutory duties as a mandatory reporter failed as liability only attached if a failure to report was willful and knowing; the children did not make any allegations that this standard was met as to the medical group or present any facts supporting such a claim. Page v Monroe, 488 F. Supp. 2d 219, 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 35978 (N.D.N.Y. 2007), aff'd in part and rev'd in part, 300 Fed. Appx. 71, 2008 U.S. App. LEXIS 23407 (2d Cir. N.Y. 2008).

For the claim against the doctor for violating her statutory duties as a mandatory reporter to succeed, a reasonable juror was to be able to conclude that the doctor's failure to report the children's mother was willful and knowing and that that failure caused the childrens' harm; no reasonable juror could so conclude as the children never alleged that the doctor's failure to report was knowing and willful. Instead, they alleged that the doctor had reasonable cause to suspect that the children were abused or neglected children and thus should have suspected, even if she did not; even if the children were able to show that the doctor's actions constituted a breach of the duty of care, they were not able to show that this failure was the proximate cause of injury suffered by the children. Page v Monroe, 488 F. Supp. 2d 219, 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 35978 (N.D.N.Y. 2007), aff'd in part and rev'd in part, 300 Fed. Appx. 71, 2008 U.S. App. LEXIS 23407 (2d Cir. N.Y. 2008).

Credentialed alcoholism counselors are mental health professionals required to report suspected incidents of child abuse and neglect pursuant to CLS Soc Serv Law § 413. 1989 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 89-F5, 1989 N.Y. AG LEXIS 33.

In litigation that arose out of sexual relationship between minor high school student and teacher, failure to report child abuse claim against another teacher failed because parent did not file required pre-litigation notice. RF v S. Country Cent. Sch. Dist., 2016 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 130671 (E.D.N.Y. Sept. 23, 2016).

3. Defamation

In a defamation and malicious prosecution case brought by a father against a social worker based on reports made by the social worker alleging that the father had abused his children, summary judgment in favor of the social worker was affirmed where she submitted evidence establishing that the children made statements to her during therapy sessions which provided her with reasonable cause to suspect that they had been abused by the father and that she acted in good faith in reporting her suspicions; since the father failed to submit evidence showing that there was a fact issue as to whether the social worker engaged in misconduct or gross negligence, or as to whether the social worker acted with actual malice, the social worker was entitled to immunity under that N.Y. Soc. Serv. Law § 413. Rine v Chase, 309 A.D.2d 796, 765 N.Y.S.2d 648, 2003 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 10635 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 2003).

Defamation complaint should not have been dismissed where it alleged that residents, who were not presumptively privileged, made a false report of child abuse, did not have reasonable cause to suspect child abuse, and did not act in good faith. Vaz v Sipsas, 1 A.D.3d 503, 767 N.Y.S.2d 250, 2003 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 12111 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 2003).

Child was brought to the emergency department of a hospital by his mother for treatment of a laceration to his right ring finger which had occurred the previous day while the child was visiting his father and the triage nurse on duty reported to the New York Child Protective Services (CPS) her suspicion of the father's maltreatment or abuse of the child, but the CPS determined that there was no credible evidence to support the allegations and designated the report as unfounded; however, the trial court properly granted the nurse's motion for summary judgment dismissing the father's suit against him alleging that she willfully made false statements against him with the intent of inflicting harm on him because (1) the nurse submitted her own affidavit and that of her nursing supervisor and the child's hospital medical records establishing that she had reasonable cause to suspect that the child had been maltreated by the father, and that in reporting to the CPS she was discharging her duties under N.Y. Soc. Serv. Law. § 413 and following hospital policy and was immune from a lawsuit under N.Y. Soc. Serv. Law § 419; and (2) the father submitted no medical affidavits or affirmations or other probative proof supporting his speculative claims that the nurse had engaged in any misconduct or gross negligence, that her suspicions had been groundless, or to rebut the presumption of good faith. Lentini v Page, 5 A.D.3d 914, 773 N.Y.S.2d 472, 2004 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 2550 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 2004).

4. Immunity

Because a social services worker was a mandated reporter under N.Y. Soc. Serv. Law § 413(1), and because there was no evidence that the worker was guilty of willful misconduct or gross negligence, the worker was entitled to immunity under N.Y. Soc. Serv. Law § 419 for reporting the suspected abuse and the removal of the parents' child. Goldberg v Edson, 41 A.D.3d 428, 838 N.Y.S.2d 145, 2007 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6978 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 2007).

Where school employees asserted immunity from liability pursuant to N.Y. Soc. Serv. Law §§ 413 and 419, triable issues of fact existed as to whether the school employees had reasonable cause to suspect possible child abuse or maltreatment of a child by the mother, based on the mother's hitting the child's hand, and whether they reported the alleged abuse or maltreatment in good faith. Biondo v Ossining Union Free School Dist., 66 A.D.3d 725, 888 N.Y.S.2d 75, 2009 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 7247 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 2009).

Teacher, speech therapist, and principal are entitled to qualified immunity, even though they made reports of suspected child abuse that led to temporary removal of child and investigation of plaintiff parents, where they had no reason to doubt accuracy of "facilitated communication" with developmentally disabled child, because it is clear that educators had obligation to report suspected child abuse under CLS Soc Serv Law § 413. Zappala v Albicelli, 980 F. Supp. 635, 1997 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 16133 (N.D.N.Y. 1997), aff'd, 1999 U.S. App. LEXIS 3827 (2d Cir. N.Y. Mar. 11, 1999).

School defendants were entitled to qualified immunity in § 1983 action arising from their investigation of possible sexual abuse by father of developmentally disabled child, where they had relied substantially on evidence derived through facilitated communication in determining that it was necessary to file report with Child Abuse Central Registry; even if facilitated communication yielded false information, defendants' actions were still objectively reasonable because, at relevant time, they had no reason to believe that facilitated communication yielded false results, or even that it was highly suspect. Zappala v Albicelli, 980 F. Supp. 635, 1997 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 16133 (N.D.N.Y. 1997), aff'd, 1999 U.S. App. LEXIS 3827 (2d Cir. N.Y. Mar. 11, 1999).

5. Privileged communications

Exception to the physician-patient privilege applicable in child welfare proceedings did not apply in a murder prosecution in which an important issue was whether the child had been born alive; however, the reporting requirements applicable to professionals overcame the privilege in cases involving death. People v Strawbridge, 299 A.D.2d 584, 751 N.Y.S.2d 606, 2002 N.Y. App.

Defendant's three-month-old child, who defendant was charged with having beaten, was the client of social workers who had discussed the case with defendant and offered counseling to defendant and his wife so that social workers could disclose to the grand jury all pertinent information regarding the suspected crime regardless of any social worker-client privilege. People v Easter, 90 Misc. 2d 748, 395 N.Y.S.2d 926, 1977 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2145 (N.Y. County Ct. 1977).

Duty of health care professionals to report suspected cases of child abuse to social services agency under CLS Soc Serv §§ 413 and 415 suspends application of CLS CPLR § 4504(a) physician-patient privilege in all judicial proceedings involving child abuse or maltreatment, not just child protective proceedings under CLS Family Ct Act § 1046(a)(vii); thus, physician is not precluded by privilege from testifying before grand jury as to incriminating statements made to him by defendant where those statements were impetus for statutorily required report of suspected child abuse or maltreatment. People v Gearhart, 148 Misc. 2d 249, 560 N.Y.S.2d 247, 1990 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 423 (N.Y. County Ct. 1990).

Neither CPLR 4504(a) nor any other statute specifically includes emergency medical technicians (EMT's) among those to whom communications may be privileged. To the contrary, the legislature has in Social Services Law § 413 specifically included EMT's as well as physicians as mandated reporters of suspected child abuse or maltreatment. People v Sergio, 864 N.Y.S.2d 264, 21 Misc. 3d 451, 240 N.Y.L.J. 54, 2008 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 5304 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 2008).

6. —Medical records

A hospital that files a report of suspected child abuse or maltreatment as required by law (Social Services Law §§ 413, 415) is also required to provide the medical records of the alleged victim to the investigating caseworker from Child Protective Services since the legislative mandate to furnish medical information essential to a prompt and thorough investigation removes any barrier to the release of the medical records from which such information is gleaned. Since release of medical records is required by law, the hospital is entitled to immunity (Social Services Law § 419) and need not fear exposure to civil liability. Schuyler County Dep't of Social Services by Balch v Schuyler Hospital, Inc., 144 Misc. 2d 250, 543 N.Y.S.2d 872, 1989 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 446 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1989).

7. Illustrative cases

Because the statute could not be considered to channel official discretion meaningfully, plaintiffs could not plausibly claim that the preventative child abuse services they were allegedly denied were constitutionally protected liberty or property rights subject to due process scrutiny; hence, plaintiffs' procedural due process claim against a public hospital was dismissed. Jones v Nickens, 961 F. Supp. 2d 475, 2013 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 117743 (E.D.N.Y. 2013), dismissed, in part, dismissed without prejudice, 236 F. Supp. 3d 688, 2017 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 24079 (E.D.N.Y. 2017).

Complaint should have been dismissed–plaintiffs seek compensatory and punitive damages arising out of report by defendant medical center of suspected sexual abuse of plaintiffs' infant children; on October 10, 1986, plaintiff mother brought her three-year-old daughter to defendant for examination; child had sore throat and vaginal discharge; when mother stated that her daughter's seven-year-old cousin who lived in same household had similar discharge, she was told to bring both children in for examination next day; during examination of seven year old on October 11 child seemed very frightened and Spanish interpreter was summoned; although child's answers to questions about sexual abuse were negative, interpreter believed that child was not being truthful and that she was "afraid of something"; physical examination of seven year old revealed that she, too, had vaginal discharge; throat and vaginal cultures were taken from both children and sent to laboratory for testing for venereal disease–defendant's employees, pursuant to their obligations under Social Services Law § 413, reported matter to Bureau of Child Welfare, which removed children from their parents' custody–initial test results available to defendant as of 4:30 A.M., on October 11 were ambiguous; it was not until October 13 that final results for both children ruled out possibility of venereal disease; defendant's employees acted reasonably under circumstances; mandated reporters need not await conclusive evidence of abuse or maltreatment but must act on their reasonable suspicions and law allows them degree of latitude to err on side of protecting children who may be suffering from abuse. Isabelle V. v New York, 150 A.D.2d 312, 541 N.Y.S.2d 809, 1989 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 7127 (N.Y. App. Div. 1st Dep't 1989).

Plaintiff seeking damages for physical and mental abuse, allegedly suffered as result of defendant foster care agency's negligent supervision of his placement in foster homes, was not entitled to directed verdict based on admission of caseworker that she did not inform Department of Social Services of plaintiff's allegations of physical abuse in foster home, since caseworker also testified that plaintiff admitted to having fabricated allegation, and thus no case of suspected child abuse existed to be reported. Ivan John M. v Catholic Home Bureau, 182 A.D.2d 421, 582 N.Y.S.2d 154, 1992 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5602 (N.Y. App. Div. 1st Dep't 1992).

In action for damages for physical and mental abuse, allegedly suffered as result of defendant foster care agency's negligent supervision of plaintiff's placement in foster homes, court was not required to charge jury with either requirements of CLS Soc Serv § 413 or legal consequences of failure to comply therewith, although court should have charged that failure by foster care agency to report instance of suspected child abuse would constitute negligence as matter of law, where court's charge clearly instructed jury that defendant would be liable under negligence theory if evidence established that it had notice of abuse, failed to take reasonable steps to stop abuse, and that plaintiff was subsequently abused. Ivan John M. v Catholic Home Bureau, 182 A.D.2d 421, 582 N.Y.S.2d 154, 1992 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5602 (N.Y. App. Div. 1st Dep't 1992).

Dismissal of action for defamation and intentional infliction of emotional distress was not warranted where first defendant, allegedly at direction of second defendant, erroneously reported that plaintiffs had committed physical and sexual child abuse, and there were triable issues of fact as to whether first defendant was mandated reporter entitled to presumption of good faith under CLS Soc Serv § 413 and, if so, whether presumption was rebutted. Lieberman v Scully, 273 A.D.2d 279, 709 N.Y.S.2d 583, 2000 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6480 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 2000).

8. Under former Penal § 483d

In an action investigating charges of an allegedly "battered child" evidence which established that the child exhibited a pattern of nervous behavior, apprehension and withdrawal, bruised buttocks, a severe scalp wound requiring five sutures, and a broken arm constituted by virtue of the cumulative effect of the injuries an overall pattern which warranted a finding that the parent or persons having lawful custody of the child had committed or omitted performance of those duties owed to the child resulting in substantial injuries, and further compelling a finding that the child was a "neglected child" within the meaning of § 312 of the Family Court Act. In re Young, 50 Misc. 2d 271, 270 N.Y.S.2d 250, 1966 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1854 (N.Y. Fam. Ct. 1966).

Increasing community concern with the care and protection of the abused child has manifested itself in criminal legislation requiring a report to an appropriate public agency of a serious injury or injuries to a child which it is believed is the result of abuse or neglect, by the physician, superintendent, or person in charge of the hospital or other institution where such child's injuries are being treated. In re Young, 50 Misc. 2d 271, 270 N.Y.S.2d 250, 1966 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1854 (N.Y. Fam. Ct. 1966).

HISTORY:

§ 54-e. State assistance to reimburse municipalities for firefighting costs

1. As used in this section, unless otherwise expressly stated:

a. "Normal operating expenses" shall mean those costs, losses and expenses which are ordinarily associated with the maintenance, administration and day-to-day operations of the fire department of a municipality. Such expenses shall include, but not be limited to, the ordinary wages of firefighters, administrative and other overhead costs, depreciation, the costs of litigation and the costs of employee's benefits, including insurance, disability, death, or health care whether or not such costs are incurred as the result of firefighting services rendered to property under the jurisdiction of the state of New York.

b. "Firefighting costs" shall mean those expenses and losses which would not have been incurred had not the fire in question taken place. Such costs shall include, but not be limited to, salaries for specially employed personnel, costs of supplies expended, and the lesser of (1) the cost of repairing any destroyed or damaged equipment or (2) the value of such equipment immediately preceding the fire. Firefighting costs shall not include: normal operating expenses as defined herein, any firefighting cost for which the municipality is reimbursed under a policy of insurance or any costs associated with false alarms, regardless of cause.

c. "Claim" shall mean that amount which is equal to those firefighting costs incurred by a municipality to the extent that such costs exceed the sum of two hundred fifty dollars.

d. "Fire" shall mean any instance of destructive and uncontrolled burning on property under the jurisdiction of the state of New York including scorch burns and explosions of combustible dust or solids, flammable liquids and gases.

e. "Municipality" shall mean any county, city, village, town or fire district, having a fire department consisting of personnel, apparatus and equipment which has as its purpose protecting property and maintaining the safety and welfare of the public from the dangers of fire, or, in the case of a fire protection district or that portion of a town outside a village or fire district, a fire company as defined in section three of the volunteer firefighters' benefit law. The personnel of any such fire department may be paid employees or unpaid volunteers or any combination thereof.

f. "Property under the jurisdiction of the state of New York" shall mean real property and improvements thereon and appurtenances thereto in which the state of New York holds legal fee simple title and further, any real property conveyed or made available to the New York state housing finance agency or the dormitory authority of the state of New York under agreements for the financing and construction of facilities for the state university of New York; provided however, with the exception of property occupied by the state university of New York, such property shall not include leasehold interest; provided further, such property shall not include any property for which a municipality receives any payments-in-lieu of taxes or any other payments, including real property taxes, that are or may be used for providing fire protection to such property.

g. [Deleted]

2. Any municipality whose fire department has responded to a fire on property under the jurisdiction of the state of New York:

a. shall, within thirty days after such fire, submit a report, on a form prescribed by the office of fire prevention and control, to the office of fire prevention and control stating the location of such a fire and the firefighting costs incurred while fighting such a fire; and

b. may, within thirty days after such a fire, submit a claim, on a form prescribed by the office of fire prevention and control to the office of fire prevention and control pursuant to the provisions of this section.

3. The office of fire prevention and control shall review each claim to determine if such claim shall be approved, reduced, amended or rejected and shall notify the municipality, within sixty days of receipt of such claim, as to his [its]* determination. The municipality shall notify the office of fire prevention and control within thirty days after receipt of the office of fire prevention and control's notification, as to its acceptance or rejection of such determination. Failure to so notify the office of fire prevention and control shall constitute an acceptance of the determination. If accepted by the municipality, such acceptance shall constitute the final and conclusive determination for such claim. If rejected by the municipality, such municipality shall resubmit its claim, within thirty days after receipt of the office of fire prevention and control's notification, together with its reasons for objection and any additional documentation which may justify its claim. Upon receipt of a resubmitted claim, the office of fire prevention and control shall review such claim and within sixty days of receipt of such resubmitted claim, make a final determination as to the amount to be approved for such claim. If the municipality shall dispute such final determination it may commence an action, within sixty days of such final determination, in the court of claims which shall have jurisdiction to adjudicate the claim and enter judgment, which judgment shall be a final determination for purposes of this section and shall be payable in accordance with the provisions of subdivisions four and five of this section.

4. The office of fire prevention and control shall certify all claims for which a final determination has been made. The office of fire prevention and control shall submit all claims certified during the preceding year to the comptroller of the department of audit and control on or before April first of each year. Any claim that has been received prior to April first of such year, but for which no certification has been made, shall, for purposes of payment, be considered as a claim for the year in which such certification is made.

5. All claims certified by the office of fire prevention and control shall be paid annually and shall be paid upon a warrant from the comptroller from funds appropriated in the local assistance fund. In the event such appropriation is insufficient to permit the aggregate annual payments authorized under this section, each municipality's payment for any claim or claims certified during the preceding year shall be decreased proportionally until the total payments are equal to the amount appropriated.

6. The chief fiscal officer of the municipality shall pay the amounts received under this section into the fund or funds from which moneys were expended to provide the firefighting services for which a reimbursement was made under this section.

7. This section shall not in any way impair, limit or modify the rights and obligations of any insurer under any policy of insurance.

8. The office of fire prevention and control shall annually prepare a report on the effectiveness of this section and shall submit such report to the legislature. Such report shall include the number and location of any fire on property under the jurisdiction of the state of New York, the number of claims and the amount of each such claim filed pursuant to this section and further, the total amount of all claims filed and the total amount of payments made under the provisions of this section. The first such report shall be submitted to the legislature on or before June first, nineteen hundred seventy-nine.

ARTICLE VI Funds of the State

Section

97-pp. New York state emergency services revolving loan account

99-q. Volunteer firefighting and volunteer emergency services recruitment and retention fund

HISTORY:

Add, L 1940, ch 593, eff April 18, 1940.

§ 97-pp. New York state emergency services revolving loan account

1. There is hereby established within the combined expendable trust fund-020 in the custody of the state comptroller a new account to be known as the "New York state emergency services revolving loan account".

2. The account shall consist of all moneys appropriated for its purpose, all moneys transferred to such account pursuant to law, and all moneys required by this section or any other law to be paid into or credited to this account, including all moneys received by the account or donated to it, payments of principal and interest on loans made from the account, and any interest earnings which may accrue from the investment or reinvestment of moneys from the account.

3. Moneys of the account, when allocated, shall be available to the commissioner of the division of homeland security and emergency services to make loans as provided in this section. Up to five percent of the moneys of the account or two hundred fifty thousand dollars, whichever is less, may be used to pay the expenses, including personal service and maintenance and operation, in connection with the administration of such loans.

4. (a) The commissioner of the division of homeland security and emergency services, on recommendation of the state fire administrator, may make, upon application duly made, up to the amounts available by appropriation, loans for:

(i) Purchasing fire fighting apparatus. A loan for purchasing fire fighting apparatus shall not exceed the lesser of three hundred seventy-five thousand dollars or seventy-five percent of the cost of the fire fighting apparatus; provided, however, that loans issued in response to a joint application shall not exceed the lesser of five hundred fifty thousand dollars or seventy-five percent of the cost of the fire fighting apparatus.

(ii) Purchasing ambulances or rescue vehicles. A loan for purchasing an ambulance or a rescue vehicle shall not exceed the lesser of two hundred twenty-five thousand dollars or seventy-five percent of the cost of the ambulance or rescue vehicle; provided, however, that loans issued in response to a joint application shall not exceed the lesser of three hundred fifty thousand dollars or seventy-five percent of the cost of the ambulance or rescue vehicle.

(iii) Purchasing protective equipment or communication equipment. A loan for purchasing protective equipment or communication equipment or both shall not exceed two hundred thousand dollars. Communication equipment purchased with such loan shall, to the maximum extent practicable, be compatible with the communication equipment of adjacent services and jurisdictions; provided, however, that loans issued in response to a joint application shall not exceed two hundred sixty-five thousand dollars.

(iv) Repairing or rehabilitating fire fighting apparatus, ambulances, or rescue vehicles. A loan for repairing or rehabilitating fire fighting apparatus, ambulances, or rescue vehicles shall not exceed the lesser of two hundred thousand dollars or one hundred percent of the cost of the repair or rehabilitation; provided, however, that loans issued in response to a joint application shall not exceed the lesser of four hundred thousand dollars or one hundred percent of the cost of the repair or rehabilitation.

(v) Purchasing accessory equipment. A loan for purchasing accessory equipment shall not exceed one hundred twenty-five thousand dollars; provided, however, that loans issued in response to a joint application shall not exceed one hundred seventy-five thousand dollars.

(vi) Renovating, rehabilitating or repairing facilities that house firefighting equipment, ambulances, rescue vehicles and related equipment. A loan for this purpose shall not exceed the lesser of two hundred fifty thousand dollars or seventy-five percent of the cost of the project; provided, however, that loans issued in response to a joint application shall not exceed the lesser of five hundred thousand dollars or seventy-five percent of the cost of the project.

(vii) Construction costs associated with the establishment of facilities that house firefighting equipment, ambulances, rescue vehicles and related equipment. A loan for this purpose shall not exceed the lesser of five hundred thousand dollars or seventy-five percent of the cost of the construction, or be used for the payment of fees for design, planning, preparation of applications or other costs not directly attributable to land acquisitions or construction; provided, however, that loans issued in response to a joint application shall not exceed the lesser of seven hundred fifty thousand dollars or seventy-five percent of the cost of the construction, or be used for the payment of fees for design, planning, preparation of applications or other costs not directly attributable to land acquisitions or construction.

(viii) Construction costs associated with the establishment of facilities for the purpose of live fire training. A loan for this purpose shall not be granted if another live fire training facility is located within the boundaries of the county or within twenty-five miles. A loan for this purpose shall not exceed the lesser of two hundred fifty thousand dollars or seventy-five percent of the cost of construction, provided, however, joint applications shall not exceed the lesser of four hundred thousand dollars or seventy-five percent of the cost of construction or be used for the payment of fees for design, planning, preparation of applications or other costs not directly attributable to land acquisitions or construction.

(b) No loan authorized by this section shall have an interest rate exceeding two and one-half percent. No applicant shall receive a loan for any purpose under paragraph (a) of this subdivision more than once in any five-year period; provided, however, that joint applicants may receive up to two loans in any five year period. The minimum amount of any loan shall be five thousand dollars. The period of any loan shall not exceed the period of probable usefulness, prescribed by section 11.00 of the local finance law, for the emergency equipment to be purchased with the proceeds of the loan or, if no period be there prescribed, five years. The total amount of any interest earned by the investment or reinvestment of all or part of the principal of any loan made under this section shall be returned to the commissioner of the division of homeland security and emergency services for deposit in the account and shall not be credited as payment of principal or interest on the loan. The commissioner of the division of homeland security and emergency services may require security for any loan and may specify the priority of liens against any emergency equipment wholly or partially purchased with moneys loaned under this section. The commissioner of the division of homeland security and emergency services may make loans under this section subject to such other terms and conditions the commissioner of the division of homeland security and emergency services deems proper.

(c) The commissioner of the division of homeland security and emergency services shall have the power to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary and proper to effectuate the purposes of this section.

(d) The commissioner of the division of homeland security and emergency services shall annually report by March fifteenth to the governor and the legislature describing the activities and operation of the loan program authorized by this section. Such report shall set forth the number of loan applications received and approved; the number of joint applications received and approved; the names of counties, cities, towns, villages and fire districts receiving loans together with the amount and purpose of the loan, the interest rate charged, and the outstanding balance; and the balance remaining in the New York state emergency services revolving loan account, along with fund revenues and expenditures for the previous fiscal year, and projected revenues and expenditures for the current and following fiscal years.

5. (a) Application for loans may be made by a town, village, city, fire district, fire protection district, independent, not-for-profit fire and ambulance corporation or county, other than a county wholly contained within a city, provided that the application is otherwise consistent with its respective powers. Applications may also be submitted jointly by multiple applicants provided that the application is otherwise consistent with each applicant's respective powers.

(b) Every application shall be in a form acceptable to the commissioner of the division of homeland security and emergency services. Every application shall accurately reflect the conditions which give rise to the proposed expenditure and accurately reflect the ability of the applicant to make such an expenditure without the proceeds of a loan under this section.

(c) (i) The commissioner of the division of homeland security and emergency services shall give preference to those applications which demonstrate the greatest need, joint applications, and to those applications the proceeds of which will be applied toward attaining compliance with federal and state laws and may disapprove any application which contains no adequate demonstration of need or which would result in inequitable or inefficient use of the moneys in the account.

(ii) In making determinations on loan applications, the commissioner of the division of homeland security and emergency services shall assure that loan fund moneys are equitably distributed among all sectors of the emergency services community and all geographical areas of the state. Loans for the purpose of personal protective firefighting equipment shall be given preference for a period of two years from the date the first loan is made. Not less than fifty percent of the loans annually made shall be made to applicants whose fire protection or ambulance service is provided by a fire department or ambulance service whose membership is comprised exclusively of volunteers.

(d) An application or joint application shall not be approved:

(i) if the applicant or applicants are in arrears on any prior loan under this section,

(ii) if it shall be shown that at any time in the prior ten years the applicant or applicants used state funds to repay all or part of any loan made under this section.

(e) The commissioner of the division of homeland security and emergency services shall, to the maximum extent feasible, and consistent with the other provisions of this section, seek to provide that loans authorized by this section reflect an appropriate geographic distribution, are distributed equitably and encourage regional cooperation.

(f) [Redesignated]

6. For purposes of this section, the following terms shall have the accompanying meanings:

(a) "Fire companies" means (i) a fire company, the members of which are firefighters, volunteer, paid or both, of a county, city, town, village, fire district or fire department, or (ii) a fire corporation, the members of which are firefighters, volunteer, paid or both, providing fire protection pursuant to a fire protection contract within a fire protection district of a town.

(b) "Volunteer ambulance service" means an individual, partnership, association, corporation, municipality or any legal or public entity or subdivision thereof engaged in providing emergency medical services and the transportation of sick, disabled or injured persons by motor vehicle, aircraft or other form of transportation to or from facilities providing hospital services which is (i) operating not for pecuniary profit or financial gain, and (ii) no part of the assets or income of which is distributable to, or inures to the benefit of, its members, directors or officers.

(c) "Ambulance" means a motor vehicle designed, appropriately equipped, and used for carrying sick or injured persons.

(d) "Accessory equipment" means equipment necessary to support the ordinary functions of fire fighting, emergency medical services, or rescue activities other than communication equipment, protective equipment, and motor vehicles together with their fixtures and appointments.

(e) "Account" means the New York state emergency services revolving loan account established by this section within the combined expendable trust fund-020.

(f) "Communication equipment" means any voice or original transmission system or telemetry system used to enhance fire fighter safety on the grounds of a fire or other emergency.

(g) "Emergency equipment" means any or all of the following: ambulances, accessory equipment, communication equipment, fire fighting apparatus, protective equipment, and rescue vehicles.

(h) "Fire fighting apparatus" means elevated equipment, pumpers, tankers, ladder trucks, hazardous materials emergency response vehicles, or other such specially equipped motor vehicles used for fire protection, together with the fixtures and appointments necessary to support their functions.

(i) "Joint application" means an application submitted by two or more towns, villages, cities, fire districts, fire protection districts, not-for-profit fire and ambulance corporations or counties, other than a county wholly contained within a city, for any purposes provided in subdivision four of this section.

(j) "Protective equipment" means any clothing and devices that comply with occupational safety and health administration standards (federal occupational safety and health act regulations) used to protect personnel who provide emergency services from injury while performing their functions, including, but not limited to, helmets, coats, boots, eyeshields, gloves and self contained respiratory protection devices.

(k) "Rescue vehicle" means a motor vehicle, other than an ambulance or fire fighting apparatus, appropriately equipped and used to support fire department operations and includes a vehicle specifically for carrying accessory equipment.

Section 1. Legislative intent. The legislature hereby finds and declares that fire protection districts and not-for-profit fire and ambulance companies provide services which are valuable and vital to the health and safety of the citizens of this state. Such services require support to purchase and update equipment, construct and maintain facilities and acquire rescue vehicles and other apparatus necessary to provide adequate fire protection and emergency services. The state emergency services revolving loan account exists to provide low interest loans for such purposes, but under current law access to loans through this fund is limited or denied to these entities. The support of such entities to provide adequate fire and emergency services for the health and safety of our citizens is an important public benefit and purpose.

Federal Aspects:

The Federal Occupational Safety and Health Act, cited in statutory text, appears generally as 29 USCS §§ 651 et seq.

§ 99-q. Volunteer firefighting and volunteer emergency services recruitment and retention fund

1. There is hereby established in the joint custody of the commissioner of taxation and finance and the comptroller, a special fund to be known as the "volunteer firefighting and volunteer emergency services recruitment and retention fund".

2. Such fund shall consist of all revenues received by the department of taxation and finance, pursuant to the provisions of sections two hundred nine-G and six hundred thirty-b of the tax law and all other moneys appropriated, credited, or transferred thereto from any other fund or source pursuant to law. Nothing contained in this section shall prevent the state from receiving grants, gifts or bequests for the purposes of the fund as defined in this section and depositing them into the fund according to law. Any interest received by the comptroller on moneys on deposit in such fund shall be retained in and become part of such fund.

2-a. On or before the first day of February each year, the state fire administrator shall provide a written report to the temporary president of the senate, speaker of the assembly, chair of the senate finance committee, chair of the assembly ways and means committee, chair of the senate committee on local government, chair of the assembly local government committee, the state comptroller and the public. Such report shall include how the monies of the fund were utilized during the preceding calendar year, and shall include:

(i) the amount of money dispersed from the fund and the award process used for such disbursements;

(ii) recipients of awards from the fund;

(iii) the amount awarded to each;

(iv) the purposes for which such awards were granted; and

(v) a summary financial plan for such monies which shall include estimates of all receipts and all disbursements for the current and succeeding fiscal years, along with the actual results from the prior fiscal year.

3. Moneys in such fund shall be expended only to provide grants to volunteer firefighting and volunteer emergency services organizations and to statewide organizations which represent the interests of volunteer firefighters and/or volunteer emergency services providers for the purpose of encouraging the recruitment and retention of volunteer firefighters and volunteer emergency services personnel. Such purposes may include, but need not be limited to: development and implementation of marketing plans, publicity campaigns, and community awareness initiatives; design, production and distribution of promotional merchandise, brochures and other materials; sponsorship of local community events designed to help recruit volunteers; newspaper publications, promotional mailings and other advertising designed to help recruit volunteers.

4. Monies shall be payable from the fund on the audit and warrant of the comptroller on vouchers approved and certified by the state fire administrator.

5. To the extent practicable, the state fire administrator shall ensure that all monies received during a fiscal year are expended prior to the end of that fiscal year.

ARTICLE XI State Purchasing

Section

163. [Repealed June 30, 2021] Purchasing services and commodities.

HISTORY:

Add, L 1995, ch 83, § 33, eff July 20, 1995, deemed eff on and after April 1, 1995.

§ 163. [Repealed June 30, 2021] Purchasing services and commodities.

1. Definitions. For the purposes of this section, the following terms shall have the following meanings unless otherwise specified:

a. "Consortium" means like entities which agree to collectively purchase commodities at a lower price than would be otherwise achievable through purchase by such entities pursuant to other provisions of this article.

b. "Emergency" means an urgent and unexpected requirement where health and public safety or the conservation of public resources is at risk.

c. "Responsible" or "responsibility" means the financial ability, legal capacity, integrity, and past performance of a business entity and as such terms have been interpreted relative to public procurements.

d. "Responsive" means a bidder or other offerer meeting the minimum specifications or requirements as prescribed in a solicitation for commodities or services by a state agency.

e. "Specification" or "requirement" means any description of the physical or functional characteristics or the nature of a commodity or construction item, any description of the work to be performed, the service or products to be provided, the necessary qualifications of the offerer, the capacity and capability of the offerer to successfully carry out the proposed contract, or the process for achieving specific results and/or anticipated outcomes or any other requirement necessary to perform the work. It may include a description of any obligatory testing, inspection or preparation for delivery and use, and may include federally required provisions and conditions where the eligibility for federal funds is conditioned upon the inclusion of such federally required provisions and conditions. Specifications shall be designed to enhance competition, ensuring the commodities or services of any offerer are not given preference except where required by this article.

f. "Procurement record" means documentation of the decisions made and the approach taken in the procurement process.

g. "Sole source" means a procurement in which only one offerer is capable of supplying the required commodities or services.

h. "Single source" means a procurement in which although two or more offerers can supply the required commodities or services, the commissioner or state agency, upon written findings setting forth the material and substantial reasons therefor, may award a contract or nontechnical amendment to a contract to one offerer over the other. The commissioner or state agency shall document in the procurement record the circumstances leading to the selection of the vendor, including the alternatives considered, the rationale for selecting the specific vendor and the basis upon which it determined the cost was reasonable.

i. "Lowest price" means the basis for awarding contracts for commodities among responsive and responsible offerers.

j. "Best value" means the basis for awarding contracts for services to the offerer which optimizes quality, cost and efficiency, among responsive and responsible offerers. Such basis shall reflect, wherever possible, objective and quantifiable analysis. Such basis may also identify a quantitative factor for offerers that are small businesses, certified minority- or women-owned business enterprises as defined in subdivisions one, seven, fifteen and twenty of section three hundred ten of the executive law or service-disabled veteran-owned business enterprises as defined in subdivision one of section three hundred sixty-nine-h of the executive law to be used in evaluation of offers for awarding of contracts for services.

k. "Authorized user" or "non-state agency purchaser" means (i) any officer, body or agency of the state or of a political subdivision or a district therein, or fire company or volunteer ambulance service as such are defined in section one hundred of the general municipal law, to make purchases of commodities, services and technology through the office of general services' centralized contracts, pursuant to the provisions of section one hundred four of the general municipal law; (ii) any county extension service association as authorized under subdivision eight of section two hundred twenty-four of the county law; (iii) any association or other entity as specified in and in accordance with section one hundred nine-a of the general municipal law; (iv) any association, consortium or group of privately owned or municipal, federal or state owned or operated hospitals, medical schools, other health related facilities or voluntary ambulance services, which have entered into a contract and made mutual arrangements for the joint purchase of commodities, services and technology pursuant to section twenty-eight hundred three-a of the public health law; (v) any institution for the instruction of the deaf or of the blind listed in section forty-two hundred one of the education law; (vi) any qualified non-profit-making agency for the blind approved by the commissioner of the office of children and family services or the office of temporary and disability assistance; (vii) any qualified charitable non-profit-making agency for the severely disabled approved by the commissioner of education; (viii) any hospital or residential health care facility as defined in section twenty-eight hundred one of the public health law; (ix) any private not-for-profit mental hygiene facility as defined in section 1.03 of the mental hygiene law; (x) any public authority or public benefit corporation of the state, including the port authority of New York and New Jersey and the interstate environmental commission; (xi) any public library, association library, library system, cooperative library system, the New York Library Association, and the New York State Association of Library Boards or any other library except those which are operated by for profit entities; (xii) any other association or entity as specified in state law, to make purchases of commodities, services and technology through the office of general services' centralized contracts. Such qualified non-profit-making agencies for the blind and severely disabled may make purchases from the correctional industries program of the department of corrections and community supervision subject to rules pursuant to the correction law.

2. Operating principles. The objective of state procurement is to facilitate each state agency's mission while protecting the interests of the state and its taxpayers and promoting fairness in contracting with the business community. The state's procurement process shall be guided by the following principles:

a. To promote purchasing from responsive and responsible offerers, including small businesses.

b. To be based on clearly articulated procedures which require a clear statement of product specifications, requirements or work to be performed; a documentable process for soliciting bids, proposals or other offers; a balanced and fair method, established in advance of the receipt of offers, for evaluating offers and awarding contracts; contract terms and conditions that protect the state's interests and promote fairness in contracting with the business community; and a regular monitoring of vendor performance.

c. To encourage the investment of the private and not-for-profit sectors in New York state by making reasonable efforts to ensure that offerers are apprised of procurement opportunities; by specifying the elements of a responsive bid and disclosing the process for awarding contracts including, if applicable, the relative importance and/or weight of cost and the overall technical criterion for evaluating offers; and by ensuring the procurement is conducted accordingly.

d. To ensure that contracts are awarded consistent with the best interests of the state.

e. To ensure that officers and employees of state entities do not benefit financially or otherwise from the award of state contracts.

f. To ensure regular and critical review of the efficiency, integrity and effectiveness of the overall process.

3. General provisions for purchasing commodities.

a. State agency procurement practices for commodities shall incorporate the following:

(i) The purchase of commodities by state agencies including the office of general services shall be conducted in a manner which accords first priority to preferred sources in accordance with the provisions of this article, second priority to centralized contracts, third priority to agency or multi-agency established contracts and fourth priority to other means of contracting.

(ii) Commodities contracts shall be awarded on the basis of lowest price to a responsive and responsible offerer; or, in the case of multiple awards, in accordance with paragraph c of subdivision ten of this section.

(iii) The commissioner shall be responsible for the standardization and centralized purchase of commodities required by state agencies in a manner which maximizes the purchasing value of public funds.

(iv) The commissioner is authorized to permit purchases of commodities and services for authorized users through the office of general services' centralized contracts. Such authorized users so empowered shall accept sole responsibility for any payment due with respect to such purchases.

(v) Consistent with guidelines issued by the state procurement council, state agencies may competitively purchase commodities procured in accordance with this article in lieu of using centralized contracts when the resultant price is less than the centralized contract price.

(vi) When justified by price, state agencies, and hospitals and facilities managed and controlled by state agencies eligible pursuant to section twenty-eight hundred three-a of the public health law, shall be eligible to make purchases pursuant to guidelines issued by the state procurement council from a consortium or comparable entity in lieu of using centralized contracts for commodities.

(vii) The commissioner is authorized to enter into contracts pursuant to the provisions of section twenty-eight hundred three-a of the public health law.

b. The commissioner shall:

(i) determine, in cooperation with the state procurement council and state agencies, the identity, form, function and utility of those commodities which shall be made available on or through centralized contracts. Criteria may include, but need not be limited to, the availability of a volume discount, prior use of the commodity among state agencies and the relative cost of establishing the contract, its anticipated use and expected actual savings for the state. The commissioner may also act as a broker for state agencies to procure commodities.

(ii) determine the number and scope of centralized contracts for commodities to be let during any period, including the letting of multiple contracts to ensure the sufficient variety and uninterrupted availability of commodities for state agency use.

(iii) maintain lists of firms which produce or manufacture or offer for sale commodities in the form, function and utility required by state agencies. The commissioner shall ensure such lists are updated regularly. With the assistance of the department of economic development and other state agencies, beginning on July first, two thousand one, ensure the availability to all authorized purchasers of a centralized list which identifies commodities offered by New York state's small businesses and a centralized list which identifies commodities and services offered by businesses certified pursuant to article fifteen-A of the executive law. Such lists shall be updated semiannually and designed to enable effective identification of New York state's small businesses and businesses certified pursuant to article fifteen-A of the executive law.

(iv) ensure the specification of commodities for centralized contracts reflect the form, function and utility required by state agencies and conform, wherever possible, to industry standards. Where necessary, the commissioner may develop specifications for commodities. When not otherwise forthcoming from a particular firm or industry, the commissioner may request information from businesses for the purpose of establishing or improving a specification. The office of general services may assist agencies in developing specifications for agency-procured commodity contracts when industry standards are not available or appropriate. In all cases, specifications shall be consistent with the requirements of state agencies.

(v) With the assistance of the department of economic development and other state agencies, provide a training program once per year, in each economic development region, as established in article eleven of the economic development law, beginning January first, two thousand one, for those businesses certified pursuant to article fifteen-A of the executive law and those interested in becoming certified. Such training program shall provide assistance with respect to participation as a vendor in the procurement process, as established in this article, and including without limitation educating minority and women contractors about surety bonding requirements on state contracts, and identifying resources available to such contractors in obtaining their first bond and in increasing their bonding capacity, including but not limited to the federal small business administration bond guarantee program.

(vi) With the assistance of the department of economic development and other state agencies, provide training once per year for staff of each state agency's minority and women business development office, or if an agency does not have such an office, then an agency's representative. Such training program shall consist of a meeting with such agencies' representatives to inform each agency of how to encourage procurement of commodities and services from businesses certified pursuant to article fifteen-A of the executive law.

(vii) assist the department of agriculture and markets and the department of economic development in providing a training program once per year, in each economic development region, established in article eleven of the economic development law, to encourage and increase participation in the procurement process, pursuant to this article, by small businesses, as defined in section one hundred thirty-one of the economic development law, including farms, selling food or food products grown, produced, harvested, or processed in New York state and assist such businesses in identifying such food or food products which may help to meet state agencies' needs.

(viii) maintain a list of contractors which produce or manufacture or offer for sale environmentally-sensitive cleaning and maintenance products in the form, function and utility generally used by elementary and secondary schools in accordance with specifications or guidelines promulgated pursuant to section four hundred nine-i of the education law.

(ix) review and consider prior to issuance of bid solicitations the term of the proposed contract based on factors, including, but not limited to; (A) the nature of the commodity, (B) the complexity of the procurement, (C) the identity and type of purchasers, (D) the suitability of the contract for adding additional contractors during the term, and (E) the estimated contract value. This determination shall be documented in the procurement record.

(x) reasonably consider aggregate amount of public sales by potential vendors.

(xi) review and consider the feasibility of creating regional contracts for commodities being procured by the state.

(xii) maintain a procurement record for each centralized contract procurement identifying, with supporting documentation, decisions made by the commissioner during the procurement process. The procurement record shall include, but not be limited to, each contract amendment, and the justification for each.

c. When commodities are not available in the form, function and utility required by state agencies through preferred sources or centralized contracts, a state agency may, independently or in conjunction with other state agencies, procure commodities in accordance with the provisions of this section. State agencies may maintain listings of firms, including those certified pursuant to article fifteen-A of the executive law, or may use the office of general services' listing of firms and may request assistance from the office of general services. It shall be the responsibility of state agencies to periodically advise the office of general services of those agency-procured commodities which, due to the frequency of purchase or related factors, should be made available through centralized contracts.

d. The commissioner may make, or cause to be made by a duly authorized representative, any investigation which he or she may deem proper for acquiring the necessary information from a state agency, except state agencies where the head of the agency is not appointed by the governor, including but not limited to the state education department, the department of law, and the department of audit and control, for the exercise of his or her powers and duties under this section. For such purposes the commissioner may subpoena and compel the attendance of witnesses before him or her, or an authorized representative, and may compel the production of books, papers, records or documents. The commissioner or a duly authorized representative may take and hear proofs and testimony and, for that purpose, the commissioner or the duly authorized representative may administer oaths. In addition, the commissioner or the duly authorized representative:

(i) Shall have access at all reasonable times to offices of state agencies;

(ii) May examine all books, papers, records and documents in any such state agency as pertain directly to the purchase, control or distribution of commodities; and

(iii) May require any state agency to furnish such data, information or statement as may be necessary.

4. General provisions for purchasing services. State agency procurement practices for services shall incorporate the following:

a. The purchase of services by state agencies including the office of general services shall be conducted in a manner which accords first priority to preferred sources in accordance with the provisions of this article when the services required are available in the form, function and utility required by state agencies through a preferred source.

b. (i) Centralized contracts for services may be procured by the office of general services at the request of state agencies or as determined by the commissioner. The purchase of services by state agencies, except state agencies where the head of the agency is not appointed by the governor, including but not limited to the state education department, the department of law, and the department of audit and control, shall be conducted in a manner that accords second priority to centralized contracts meeting form, function and utility required by said agency, third priority to agency or multi-agency established contracts and fourth priority to other means of contracting.

(ii) The commissioner shall:

(A) review and consider prior to issuance of bid solicitations the term of the proposed contract based on factors, including, but not limited to, (a) the nature of the service, (b) the complexity of the procurement, (c) the identity and type of purchasers, (d) the suitability of the contract for adding additional contractors during the term, and (e) the estimated contract value. This determination shall be documented in the procurement record.

(B) reasonably consider the aggregate amount of public sales by potential vendors.

(C) review and consider the feasibility of creating regional contracts for services being procured by the state.

(D) maintain a procurement record for each centralized contract procurement identifying with supporting documentation, decisions made by the commissioner during the procurement process. The procurement records shall include, but not be limited to, each contract amendment, and the justification for each.

c. When services are not available from preferred sources consistent with the provisions of this article in the form, function or utility required by state agencies, state agencies may procure services independently or in conjunction with other state agencies in accordance with the provisions of this section.

d. Service contracts shall be awarded on the basis of best value to a responsive and responsible offerer; or, in the case of multiple awards, in accordance with paragraph c of subdivision ten of this section.

e. The commissioner is authorized to permit purchases of services for authorized users through the office of general services' centralized contracts. Such authorized users so empowered shall accept sole responsibility for any payment due with respect to such purchases.

f. [Repealed]

g. All state agencies shall require all contractors, including subcontractors, that provide services for state purposes pursuant to a contract, to submit an annual employment report for each contract for services that includes for each employment category within the contract the number of employees employed to provide services under the contract, the number of hours they work and their total compensation under the contract. Employment reports shall be submitted to the agency that awarded the contract, the department of civil service and the department of audit and control and shall be available for public inspection and copying pursuant to section eighty-seven of the public officers law provided that in disclosing such reports pursuant to the public officers law, the agency making the disclosure shall redact the name or social security number of any individual employee that is included in such document.

5. Process for conducting state procurements. The process for conducting state procurements for services and commodities shall be as follows:

Determination of need. State agencies shall be responsible for determining the need for a given service or commodity:

(i) For commodities, upon such determination of need, state agencies shall ascertain whether the commodity is available in the form, function and utility consistent with their needs from preferred sources and if so, shall purchase said commodity from a preferred source in accordance with the provisions of this article. If not so available, state agencies shall determine whether the commodity is available in the form, function and utility consistent with their needs on a centralized contract and if so, except as provided in subparagraph (v) of paragraph a of subdivision three of this section, shall purchase said commodity using the centralized contract. If a commodity is not available in the form, function and utility consistent with the needs of the state agency from a preferred source or a centralized contract or as provided for in subparagraph (v) of paragraph a of subdivision three of this section, the state agency may procure the commodity independently or in conjunction with another state agency in accordance with paragraph c of subdivision three of this section.

(ii) For services, upon such determination of need, state agencies shall ascertain whether the service is available in the form, function and utility consistent with their needs from preferred sources and, if so, shall purchase said service through the preferred source in accordance with the provisions of this article. If not so available, state agencies the heads of which are appointed by the governor:

(A) Shall purchase the service if it is available in the form, function and utility consistent with their needs using an established centralized contract procured by either the office of general services or another state agency;

(B) May request that the office of general services procure such a service, particularly with respect to those services having utility and/or benefit to more than one state agency; or

(C) May procure the service independently or in conjunction with another state agency.

6. Discretionary buying thresholds. Pursuant to guidelines established by the state procurement council: the commissioner may purchase services and commodities in an amount not exceeding eighty-five thousand dollars without a formal competitive process; state agencies may purchase services and commodities in an amount not exceeding fifty thousand dollars without a formal competitive process; and state agencies may purchase commodities or services from small business concerns or those certified pursuant to articles fifteen-A and seventeen-B of the executive law, or commodities or technology that are recycled or remanufactured in an amount not exceeding five hundred thousand dollars without a formal competitive process and for commodities that are food, including milk and milk products, grown, produced or harvested in New York state in an amount not to exceed two hundred thousand dollars, without a formal competitive process.

6-a. Discretionary purchases. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision two of section one hundred twelve of this chapter relating to the dollar threshold requiring the state comptroller's approval of contracts, the commissioner of general services may make purchases or enter into contracts for the acquisition of commodities and services having a value not exceeding eighty-five thousand dollars without prior approval by any other state officer or agency in accordance with procedures and requirements set forth in this article.

6-b. Determination of threshold amount. For determination of threshold amount purposes of determining whether a purchase is within the discretionary thresholds established by subdivision six of this section, the commissioner and state agencies shall consider the reasonably expected aggregate amount of all purchases of the same commodities or services to be made within the twelve-month period commencing on the date of purchase. Purchases of services or commodities shall not be artificially divided for the purpose of satisfying the discretionary buying thresholds established by subdivision six of this section. A change to or a renewal of a discretionary purchase shall not be permitted if the change or renewal would bring the reasonably expected aggregate amount of all purchases of the same commodities or services from the same provider within the twelve-month period commencing on the date of the first purchase to an amount greater than the discretionary buying threshold amount.

6-c. Pursuant to the authority provided in subdivision six of this section, for the purchase of commodities that are food, including milk and milk products, grown, produced or harvested in New York state, where such commodities exceed fifty thousand dollars in value, state agencies must advertise the discretionary purchase on the state agency website for a reasonable period of time and make the discretionary purchase based on the lowest price that meets the state agency's form, function and utility.

6-d. Pursuant to the authority provided in subdivision six of this section, state agencies shall report annually on a fiscal year basis by July first of the ensuing year to the director of the division of minority and women-owned business development the total number and total value of contracts awarded to businesses certified pursuant to article fifteen-A of the executive law, and with respect to contracts awarded to businesses certified pursuant to article seventeen-B of the executive law such information shall be reported to the division of service-disabled veteran-owned business enterprises for inclusion in their respective annual reports.

7. Method of procurement. Consistent with the requirements of subdivisions three and four of this section, state agencies shall select among permissible methods of procurement including, but not limited to, an invitation for bid, request for proposals or other means of solicitation pursuant to guidelines issued by the state procurement council. State agencies may accept bids electronically including submission of the statement of non-collusion required by section one hundred thirty-nine-d of this chapter, and the statement of certification required by section one hundred thirty-nine-l of this chapter, and, starting April first, two thousand twelve, and ending March thirty-first, two thousand fifteen, may, for commodity, service and technology contracts require electronic submission as the sole method for the submission of bids for the solicitation. State agencies shall undertake no more than eighty-five such electronic bid solicitations, none of which shall be reverse auctions, prior to April first, two thousand fifteen. In addition, state agencies may conduct up to twenty reverse auctions through electronic means, prior to April first, two thousand fifteen. Prior to requiring the electronic submission of bids, the agency shall make a determination, which shall be documented in the procurement record, that electronic submission affords a fair and equal opportunity for offerers to submit responsive offers. Within thirty days of the completion of the eighty-fifth electronic bid solicitation, or by April first, two thousand fifteen, whichever is earlier, the commissioner shall prepare a report assessing the use of electronic submissions and make recommendations regarding future use of this procurement method. In addition, within thirty days of the completion of the twentieth reverse auction through electronic means, or by April first, two thousand fifteen, whichever is earlier, the commissioner shall prepare a report assessing the use of reverse auctions through electronic means and make recommendations regarding future use of this procurement method. Such reports shall be published on the website of the office of general services. Except where otherwise provided by law, procurements shall be competitive, and state agencies shall conduct formal competitive procurements to the maximum extent practicable. State agencies shall document the determination of the method of procurement and the basis of award in the procurement record. Where the basis for award is the best value offer, the state agency shall document, in the procurement record and in advance of the initial receipt of offers, the determination of the evaluation criteria, which whenever possible, shall be quantifiable, and the process to be used in the determination of best value and the manner in which the evaluation process and selection shall be conducted.

7-a. On or before February first, two thousand twelve, the commissioner of the office of general services shall submit to the speaker of the assembly and the temporary president of the senate a report describing:

(a) the number of times the office of general services required electronic submission as the sole method by which bids could be submitted for the period from July first, two thousand ten through December thirty-first, two thousand eleven;

(b) the estimated savings to the state as a result of the office of general services requiring electronic submission as the sole method by which bids could be submitted in response to a solicitation and the basis on which the estimate is made;

(c) to the extent practicable, the size, minority- and women-owned business enterprise composition and geographic distribution of those vendors that submitted bids in response to an office of general services solicitation where electronic submission was the sole method by which bids could be submitted for the period from July first, two thousand ten to December thirty-first, two thousand eleven; and

(d) to the extent practicable, the size, minority- and women-owned business enterprise composition and geographic distribution of those vendors that submitted bids in response to an office of general services solicitation for those contracts described in subdivision seven of this section for the period from July first, two thousand eight through June thirtieth, two thousand ten.

8. Public notice. All procurements by state agencies, including, without limitation, the state university of New York and the city university of New York, in excess of fifty thousand dollars shall be advertised in the state's procurement opportunities newsletter in accordance with article four-C of the economic development law.

9. Soliciting and accepting offers. For purchases from sources other than preferred sources and for purchases in excess of the discretionary buying threshold established in subdivision six of this section:

a. The commissioner or a state agency shall select a formal competitive procurement process in accordance with guidelines established by the state procurement council and document its determination in the procurement record. The process shall include, but is not limited to, a clear statement of need; a description of the required specifications governing performance and related factors; a reasonable process for ensuring a competitive field; a fair and equal opportunity for offerers to submit responsive offers; and a balanced and fair method of award. Where the basis for the award is best value, documentation in the procurement record shall, where practicable, include a quantification of the application of the criteria to the rating of proposals and the evaluation results, or, where not practicable, such other justification which demonstrates that best value will be achieved.

b. The solicitation shall prescribe the minimum specifications or requirements that must be met in order to be considered responsive and shall describe and disclose the general manner in which the evaluation and selection shall be conducted. Where appropriate, the solicitation shall identify the relative importance and/or weight of cost and the overall technical criterion to be considered by a state agency in its determination of best value.

c. Where provided in the solicitation, state agencies may require clarification from offerers for purposes of assuring a full understanding of responsiveness to the solicitation requirements. Where provided for in the solicitation, revisions may be permitted from all offerers determined to be susceptible of being selected for contract award, prior to award. Offerers shall be accorded fair and equal treatment with respect to their opportunity for discussion and revision of offers. A state agency shall, upon request, provide a debriefing to any unsuccessful offerer that responded to a request for proposal or an invitation for bids, regarding the reasons that the proposal or bid submitted by the unsuccessful offerer was not selected for an award. The opportunity for an unsuccessful offerer to seek a debriefing shall be stated in the solicitation.

(i) A debriefing shall be requested by the unsuccessful offerer within fifteen calendar days of release by the state agency of a notice in writing or electronically that the offerer's offer is unsuccessful.

(ii) Such notice shall be provided to all unsuccessful offerers by the state agency for the specific procurement.

(iii) The state agency, upon a request made within fifteen days of release of the written or electronic notice from the unsuccessful offerer for a debriefing, shall schedule the debriefing to occur within a reasonable time of such request. Debriefings shall be conducted by the state agency with the unsuccessful offerer in-person, provided, however, the parties may mutually agree to utilize other means such as, but not limited to, by telephone, video-conferencing or other types of electronic communications. State agency personnel participating in the debriefing discussion shall have been involved with and knowledgeable about the procurement and the evaluation and selection of the successful offerer or offerers.

(iv) Such debriefing shall include, but need not be limited to: (A) the reasons that the proposal, bid or offer submitted by the unsuccessful offerer was not selected for award; (B) the qualitative and quantitative analysis employed by the agency in assessing the relative merits of the proposals, bids or offers; (C) the application of the selection criteria to the unsuccessful offerer's proposal; and (D) when the debriefing is held after the final award, the reasons for the selection of the winning proposal, bid or offer. The debriefing shall also provide, to the extent practicable, general advice and guidance to the unsuccessful offerer concerning potential ways that their future proposals, bids or offers could be more responsive.

d. All offers may be rejected. Where provided in the solicitation, separable portions of offers may be rejected.

e. Every offer shall be firm and not revocable for a period of sixty days from the bid opening, or such other period of time specified in the solicitation to the extent not inconsistent with section 2-205 of the uniform commercial code. Subsequent to such sixty day or other specified period, any offer is subject to withdrawal communicated in a writing signed by the offeror.

f. Prior to making an award of contract, each state agency shall make a determination of responsibility of the proposed contractor which shall supplement, as appropriate, but not supersede the determination of responsibility that may be required pursuant to section one hundred thirty-nine-k of this chapter.

g. A procurement record shall be maintained for each procurement identifying, with supporting documentation, decisions made by the commissioner or state agency during the procurement process. The procurement record shall include, but not be limited to each contract amendment and the justification for each.

10. Letting of contracts. Contracts for commodities shall be awarded on the basis of lowest price to a responsive and responsible offerer. Contracts for services shall be awarded on the basis of best value from a responsive and responsible offerer. Multiple awards for services and commodities shall be conducted in accordance with paragraph c of this subdivision.

a. Selection and award shall be a written determination in the procurement record made by the commissioner or a state agency in a manner consistent with the provisions of the solicitation. In the event two offers are found to be substantially equivalent, price shall be the basis for determining the award recipient or, when price and other factors are found to be substantially equivalent, the determination of the commissioner or agency head to award a contract to one or more of such bidders shall be final. The basis for determining the award shall be documented in the procurement record.

(i) Single or sole source procurements for services or commodities, or procurements made to meet emergencies arising from unforeseen causes, may be made without a formal competitive process and shall only be made under unusual circumstances and shall include a determination by the commissioner or the state agency that the specifications or requirements for said purchase have been designed in a fair and equitable manner. The purchasing agency shall document in the procurement record, subject to review by the state comptroller, the bases for a determination to purchase from a single source or sole source, or the nature of the emergency giving rise to the procurement.

(ii) State agencies shall minimize the use of single source procurements and shall use single source procurements only when a formal competitive process is not feasible. State agencies shall document in the procurement record the circumstances and the material and substantial reasons why a formal competitive process is not feasible. The term of a single source procurement contract shall be limited to the minimum period of time necessary to ameliorate the circumstances which created the material and substantial reasons for the single source award. Not later than thirty days after the contract award, state agencies shall, for all single source procurement contracts, make available for public inspection on the agency website, a summary of the circumstances and material and substantial reasons why a competitive procurement is not feasible. Any information which the contracting agency is otherwise prohibited by law from disclosing pursuant to sections eighty-seven and eighty-nine of the public officers law, shall be redacted from the documentation published on the agency website.

c. The commissioner or state agency may elect to award a contract to one or more responsive and responsible offerers provided, however, that the basis for the selection among multiple contracts at the time of purchase shall be the most practical and economical alternative and shall be in the best interests of the state, and further provided that the requirements set forth herein shall not preclude the commissioner from establishing multiple award contracts for reasons including increased opportunities for small businesses to participate in state contracts.

d. It shall be in the discretion of the commissioner or state agency to require a bond or other guarantee of performance, and to approve the amount, form and sufficiency thereof.

e. The commissioner may authorize purchases required by state agencies or other authorized purchasers by letting a contract pursuant to a written agreement, or by approving the use of a contract let by any department, agency or instrumentality of the United States government and/or any department, agency, office, political subdivision or instrumentality of any state or states. A state agency purchaser shall document in the procurement record its rationale for the use of a contract let by any department, agency or instrumentality of the United States government or any department, agency, office, political subdivision or instrumentality of any other state or states. Such rationale shall include, but need not be limited to, a determination of need, a consideration of the procurement method by which the contract was awarded, an analysis of alternative procurement sources including an explanation why a competitive procurement or the use of a centralized contract let by the commissioner is not in the best interest of the state, and the reasonableness of cost.

f. The commissioner is authorized to let centralized contracts, in accordance with the procedures of this section, for joint purchasing by New York state and any department, agency or instrumentality of the United States government and/or any state including the political subdivisions thereof; provided however that any entity incurring a liability under such contract shall be responsible for discharging said liability.

11. Reasonableness of results. It shall be the responsibility of the head of each state agency to periodically sample the results of the procurement process to test for reasonableness; to ensure that the results withstand public scrutiny and that the quality and the price of the purchase makes sense; and to ensure that purchasing is conducted in a manner consistent with the best interests of the state.

12. Review by the office of the state comptroller. Review by the office of the state comptroller shall be in accordance with section one hundred twelve of this chapter. If the contracting agency has not complied with one or more provisions of this article, the state comptroller may approve the awarded contract if:

a. the contracting agency determines that the noncompliance was a non-material deviation from one or more provisions of this article. For the purposes of this subdivision "non-material deviation" shall mean that such noncompliance did not prejudice or favor any vendor or potential vendor, such noncompliance did not substantially affect the fairness of the competitive process, and that a new procurement would not be in the best interest of the state. Such determination by the contracting agency and the state comptroller shall be documented in the procurement record; and

b. the state comptroller concurs in such determination.

13. Technological procurement improvements. The state procurement council may request that the office of general services provide, or recommend to the state comptroller to provide for the utilization of technological advances and efficiencies in the procurement process including, but not limited to, electronic ordering and payment, procurement cards and similar improvements.

14. Reporting by the state comptroller. To support transparency in the state's procurement process and prudent procurement management, oversight and policy-making, the state comptroller shall submit a report to the state procurement council, the governor, the commissioner of the office of general services, the director of the budget, and the legislative fiscal committees containing data related to state agency contracts. Such report shall be made annually, on a fiscal year basis by the first of July of the next succeeding year.

a. For state agency contracts, such report shall include:

(i) a list of all active contracts as of the end of the fiscal year;

(ii) a list of all contracts reviewed by the office of the state comptroller during the fiscal year;

(iii) a list of contract award protests reviewed by the office of the state comptroller and the resolution thereof; and

(iv) for consulting contracts subject to approval of the state comptroller, a report of planned and actual employment under each contract.

b. The lists required pursuant to subparagraphs (i) and (ii) of paragraph a of this subdivision shall include, to the extent reasonably available, the following information related to each contract:

(i) the state agency letting the contract;

(ii) the state agency for which the contract is let, if different;

(iii) whether an agency contract or centralized contract;

(iv) vendor name and address;

(v) a description of the contract. For contracts let under section nine of the public buildings law, the description shall denote the scope of work of the contract and the nature of the emergency for which it was let;

(vi) contract start and end dates;

(vii) the dollar value of the contract;

(viii) for contracts subject to approval by the state comptroller, whether approved or non-approved, the date of such approval/nonapproval, and if non-approved, the reason or reasons therefor;

(ix) life to date and fiscal year expenditures against the contract and by which agencies;

(x) major contract category, including, but not limited to, consultant, construction, equipment, grants, leases, land claim, miscellaneous services, printing, repayment agreements, revenue agreements, intergovernmental agreements, and commodities;

(xi) source selection method, including "lowest price", "best value", sole source, single source, negotiated and/or emergency procurement;

(xii) number of bids/proposals received by the contracting agency; and (xiii) subtotals as deemed applicable.

c. The report required pursuant to subparagraph (iv) of paragraph a of this subdivision shall include:

(i) information required to be reported by the contractor annually by the employment category within the contract, including the planned number of employees to provide services under the contract, the planned number of hours to be worked under the contract, and the total compensation planned under the contract; and

(ii) information required to be reported by the contractor annually pursuant to paragraph g of subdivision four of this section, specifically, the actual number of employees, by employment category within the contract, employed to provide services under the contract, the number of hours worked and total compensation under the contract.

d. For the purposes of the report required pursuant to subparagraph (iv) of paragraph a of this subdivision, a "contract for consulting services" shall mean any contract entered into by a state agency for analysis, evaluation, research, training, data processing, computer programming, engineering, environmental health and mental health services, accounting, auditing, paralegal, legal, or similar services. Such report shall be available for public inspection and copying pursuant to section eighty-seven of the public officers law provided that in disclosing such reports pursuant to the public officers law, the agency making the disclosure shall redact the name, social security number and other personal information of any individual employee or consultant that is included in such document.

e. The information required by this subdivision shall be provided in electronic format in such form as prescribed by the state comptroller such that the data can be searched and sorted.

f. All reports required under this subdivision shall be available for public inspection and copying pursuant to section eighty-seven of the public officers law provided that in disclosing such reports pursuant to the public officers law, the agency making the disclosure shall redact the name or social security number of any individual employee that is included in such document.

15. Reporting by agencies.

a. State agencies shall report annually, on a fiscal year basis, by July first of the ensuing year to the state procurement council, the governor, the legislative fiscal committees and the state comptroller the total number and total dollar value of single source contracts awarded by the agency during the fiscal year, and the percentage such contracts represent of the agency's total number and total dollar value of contract awards during the reporting period.

b. Each state agency shall include with its report an assessment by the agency head of the agency's efforts to minimize the award of single source contracts.

c. All reports required under this subdivision shall be available for public inspection and copying pursuant to section eighty-seven of the public officers law provided that in disclosing such reports pursuant to the public officers law, the agency making the disclosure shall redact the name or social security number of any individual employee that is included in such document.

Laws 1997, ch 430, § 33, sub 3, eff Aug 20, 1997, provides as follows:

§ 33. This act shall take effect immediately provided, that:

3. The amendments to sections 162 and 163 of the state finance law made by sections six and seven of this act shall not affect the repeal of such sections and shall be deemed to be repealed therewith;.

Laws 2000, ch 95, § 27, subs 2 and 3, eff July 1, 2000, provides as follows:

2. Procurement contracts for which bid solicitations have been issued prior to the effective date of this act shall be awarded pursuant to the provisions of law in effect at the time of issuance.

3. Nothing contained in sections two through twenty-five of this act shall be deemed to affect the application, qualification, expiration, reversion or repeal of any provision of law amended by any section of this act and the provisions of this act shall be applied or qualified or shall expire or revert or be deemed repealed in the same manner, to the same extent and on the same date as the case may be as otherwise provided by law.

Laws 2005, ch 1, § 16, eff Aug 23, 2005, provides as follows:

§ 16. This act shall take effect immediately; provided, however, that sections one, six, eight, nine, ten, eleven and fifteen of this act shall take effect January 1, 2006; and provided, however, the amendments to paragraph f of subdivision 9 of section 163 of the state finance law made by section fifteen of this act shall not affect the repeal of such section and shall be deemed repealed therewith; provided, further, that the amendments to article 1-A of the legislative law, made by this act, shall not affect the repeal of such article pursuant to chapter 2 of the laws of 1999, as amended, and shall be deemed repealed therewith; provided, further, that sections thirteen and fourteen of this act shall take effect January 1, 2006 and shall be deemed repealed July 31, 2021; provided, further, that effective immediately, the advisory council on procurement lobbying created pursuant to section twelve of this act shall be constituted no later than sixty days following the effective date of this act, provided that effective sixty days following the effective date of this act, the advisory council on procurement lobbying shall be authorized to establish model guidelines and to add, amend and/or repeal any rules or regulations necessary for the implementation of its duties under sections twelve and thirteen of this act, and the advisory council authorized to make and complete such model guidelines on or before the effective date of section thirteen of this act; provided, further, that procurement contracts for which bid solicitations have been issued prior to the effective date of this act shall be awarded pursuant to the provisions of law in effect at the time of issuance. (Amd, L 2007, ch 501, § 1, eff Aug 1, 2007; L 2009, ch 169, § 1, eff July 11, 2009; L 2010, ch 4, § 5, eff March 10, 2010; L 2014, ch 62, § 1, eff June 30, 2014; L 2016, ch 57, § 2 (Part F), eff April 13, 2016.).

Laws 2005, ch 584, § 1, eff Sept 1, 2005, provides:

Section 1. Legislative intent. Even more so than adults, children are vulnerable to, and may be severely affected by, exposure to chemicals, hazardous wastes and other environmental hazards. The Federal Environmental Protection Agency estimates that human exposure to air pollutants indoors can be two to five times, and occasionally up to 100 times, higher than outdoor levels. Children, their teachers, and other school staff members spend a significant part of their lives in school buildings, and are exposed to chemicals from cleaners, waxes, deodorizers and other maintenance products. Health threats may be caused by the presence of such chemicals, potentially resulting in increased costs to individual schools, school districts and the state in terms of staff time and effort, cleanup costs, school closings and student absenteeism. Discharges of chemicals from cleaning and maintenance products also burden publicly-owned wastewater treatment works, and also end up in our lakes and streams. Cleaning and maintenance products that are the same in form, function and utility as products currently used in schools, but that have eliminated or lowered concentrations of potentially harmful chemicals, are increasingly being developed and are available in the marketplace. Therefore, the legislature finds that school districts and public and private elementary and secondary schools should be informed of and should purchase environmentally-sensitive cleaning and maintenance products. It is the purpose of this legislation to reduce as much as possible exposure of children and school staff to potentially-harmful chemicals and substances used in the cleaning and maintenance of schools.

Laws 2006, ch 10, § 6, eff June 19, 2006, provides as follows:

§ 6. This act shall take effect on the ninetieth day after it shall have become a law, provided, however, that the amendments to section 163 of the state finance law made by sections four and five of this act shall not affect the repeal of such section and shall be deemed repealed therewith.

Laws 2006, ch 56, § 5 (Part D), eff April 10, 2006, provides as follows:

§ 5. This act shall take effect immediately; provided that procurement contracts for which bid solicitations have been issued prior to the effective date of this act shall be awarded pursuant to the provisions of law in effect at the time of issuance of the bid solicitation; and provided further that the amendments to section 163 of the state finance law made by sections three and four of this act shall not affect the repeal of such section and shall be deemed repealed therewith.

Laws 2008, ch 137, § 23, eff June 30, 2008, provides as follows:

§ 23. This act shall take effect immediately; provided, however, that the amendments to section 163 of the state finance law made by sections two, three, four, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, and twenty of this act shall not affect the repeal of such section and shall be deemed repealed therewith; and provided further that sections five, six, and seven of this act shall take effect on December 31, 2009. The commissioner of economic development is authorized to develop and issue a process for state agencies on or before December 31, 2008 of how the additional information required by subdivision 3 of section 143 of the economic development law shall be submitted for the procurement opportunities newsletter.

Laws 2009, ch 361, § 7, eff Aug 26, 2009, provides as follows:

§ 7. This act shall take effect immediately; provided, however, that the amendments to subdivision 4 of section 311 of the executive law made by section five of this act shall not affect the expiration of such section and shall be deemed to expire therewith; provided further that the amendment to section 163 of the state finance law made by section six of this act shall not affect the repeal of such section and shall be deemed to be repealed therewith; and provided further that the additional appointments required by subdivision 1 of section 120 and subdivision 1 of section 133 of the economic development law, as amended by sections one and two, respectively, of this act shall be made no later than April 1, 2010.

1. Generally

The Office of General Services may not validly adopt a rule or standard for bidding on public contracts which enlarges or alters the powers expressed in statute governing bidding. American Institute for Imported Steel, Inc. v Office of General Services, 47 A.D.2d 118, 365 N.Y.S.2d 56, 1975 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8724 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1975), aff'd, 38 N.Y.2d 991, 384 N.Y.S.2d 437, 348 N.E.2d 913, 1976 N.Y. LEXIS 2632 (N.Y. 1976).

The Commissioner of General Services has the power under the State Finance Law to adopt a rule requiring that all bids must be on domestic commodities unless otherwise specified. 1973 NY Ops Atty Gen April 25 (Formal), 1973 N.Y. AG LEXIS 141.

2. Letting of contracts

CLS St Fin § 163(10)(c), which authorizes relatively new type of contract that makes bidder eligible to receive purchase orders for duration of contract, allowed postbid price reduction where reduction benefited taxpayers in that state could buy bituminous concrete at lower price; such reduction did not undermine bidding process. Pallette Stone Corp. v State Office of Gen. Servs., 245 A.D.2d 756, 665 N.Y.S.2d 457, 1997 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 12945 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1997).

State Office of General Services (OGS) was not required to formally promulgate rule reflecting policy of allowing postbid price reductions under multiple-award contract making qualified bidders eligible to receive purchase orders for bituminous concrete where standards in CLS St Fin § 163(10)(c) governing multiple-award contracts—namely, "the best interests of the state" and "the most practical and economical alternative"—allow considerable discretion, and thus subject OGS policy was not "rule" under CLS St Adm P Act § 102(2)(a)(i) or "rule or regulation" under CLS NY Const Art IV § 8. Pallette Stone Corp. v State Office of Gen. Servs., 245 A.D.2d 756, 665 N.Y.S.2d 457, 1997 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 12945 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1997).

3. Best Value

Order staying an arbitration was proper because a collective bargaining agent's allegation that the replacement of a health benefit administrator violated a provision in an underlying collective bargaining agreement (CBA) requiring approval of a joint committee would have violated public policy set forth in N.Y. State Fin. Law § 163(4)(d), (10), under which service contracts were to have been awarded on the basis of best value to a responsive and responsible offeror; the agent's request that the CBA be interpreted and enforced so as to require joint committee approval before selection of a new insurance carrier or administrator would have effectively delegated to that committee control and veto power over the procurement of health benefit services provided pursuant to the CBA and would have impermissibly added another layer to the decision-making process, one not contemplated or provided by the legislatively crafted procurement scheme. Such a result was untenable, and irreconcilable with and would have clearly violated the public policy obligating the state to award contracts for services, after a competitive bidding process, based solely upon which bid represented the best value. Matter of New York State Correctional Officers & Police Benevolent Assn., Inc. v New York State Dept. of Civ. Serv., 70 A.D.3d 240, 892 N.Y.S.2d 614, 2009 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 9840 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 2009).

4. Method of procurement

In Article 78 proceeding to annul government contract for provision of electronic benefit transfer services for social services recipients, court dismissed claim that respondent violated CLS St Fin § 163(7) because it did not specify that competitive range would be 10 percent until after bidders' first proposals were received but prior to receipt of their final proposals, where competitive range procedure embodied requisite cost-benefit analysis and was in public interest, and there was no evidence of favoritism, fraud or corruption, nor any unfair advantage to low bidder at other bidders' expense. Transactive Corp. v New York State Dep't of Soc. Servs., 236 A.D.2d 48, 665 N.Y.S.2d 701, 1997 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 12010 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1997), aff'd, 92 N.Y.2d 579, 684 N.Y.S.2d 156, 706 N.E.2d 1180, 1998 N.Y. LEXIS 4041 (N.Y. 1998).

5. Soliciting and accepting offers

In Article 78 proceeding to annul government contract to provide electronic benefit transfer services for social services recipients, court dismissed claim that respondent's request for proposals (RFP) failed to comply with CLS St Fin § 163(9)(b) because it did not list 109 scoring items used in evaluating bidders' technical proposals, as § 163(9)(b) does not require particularization but only generalization and RFP met that standard where it set forth general evaluation criteria and weight accorded to each, it adequately advised bidders as to weight given to price factor, 109 items not listed were simply more specific factors subsumed within 5 general criteria listed, and record showed that technical proposals were scored in manner specified in RFP. Transactive Corp. v New York State Dep't of Soc. Servs., 236 A.D.2d 48, 665 N.Y.S.2d 701, 1997 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 12010 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1997), aff'd, 92 N.Y.2d 579, 684 N.Y.S.2d 156, 706 N.E.2d 1180, 1998 N.Y. LEXIS 4041 (N.Y. 1998).

State agency properly rejected all bids and issued revised request for proposals on ground that it violated CLS St Fin § 163(9)(c) by requesting clarification and additional information from petitioner, lowest bidder under initial request for proposals, in absence of language in original request for proposals permitting it to do so. La Corte Elec. Constr. & Maintenance v New York State Dep't of Soc. Servs., 243 A.D.2d 1029, 663 N.Y.S.2d 446, 1997 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 10876 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1997).

6. Standing denied

In Article 78 proceeding challenging Department of Social Services' award of contract to create and implement electronic benefit transfer system (EBTS) which would replace existing system whereby government benefits were distributed (in some areas) by individual attendants at local "check cashing" institutions, trade association of local check cashing institutions was not within zone of interests protected by CLS St Fin § 163 and thus lacked standing to sue, although it stood to lose remuneration for services performed under pre-EBTS arrangement, because its alleged injury arose from decision to have EBTS, not from procurement process to determine who would implement it. Transactive Corp. v New York State Dep't of Soc. Servs., 92 N.Y.2d 579, 684 N.Y.S.2d 156, 706 N.E.2d 1180, 1998 N.Y. LEXIS 4041 (N.Y. 1998).

In Article 78 proceeding challenging Department of Social Services' award of contract to create and implement electronic benefit transfer system (EBTS) for distribution of certain government benefits, lead subcontractor for unsuccessful bidder was not within zone of interests protected by CLS St Fin § 163 although it suffered potential economic injury, because it was not bidder or offerer under CLS St Fin Art 11; allowing any entity to bring suit based on its status as "bidding team member" would confer standing to too many potential litigants. Transactive Corp. v New York State Dep't of Soc. Servs., 92 N.Y.2d 579, 684 N.Y.S.2d 156, 706 N.E.2d 1180, 1998 N.Y. LEXIS 4041 (N.Y. 1998).

In Article 78 proceeding to annul government contract to provide electronic benefit transfer services for social services recipients based on respondent's alleged noncompliance with Procurement Stewardship Act of 1995 (CLS St Fin §§ 160 et seq.), petitioner that filed intention to bid but did not, as required by request for proposals (RFP), certify that it could meet or exceed qualifications for bidders established by RFP, and did not make evidentiary showing that it could have qualified, did not have standing because its interest was not within zone of interest protected by State Finance Law. Transactive Corp. v New York State Dep't of Soc. Servs., 236 A.D.2d 48, 665 N.Y.S.2d 701, 1997 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 12010 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1997), aff'd, 92 N.Y.2d 579, 684 N.Y.S.2d 156, 706 N.E.2d 1180, 1998 N.Y. LEXIS 4041 (N.Y. 1998).

7. Commissioner's authority

Authority of commissioner to make rules is limited to administrative field and, in any event, clause in specifications may not be given effect as rule if it is intended to confer upon commissioner discretion wider than discretion vested in him under statute. Dictaphone Corp. v O'Leary, 287 N.Y. 491, 41 N.E.2d 68, 287 N.Y. (N.Y.S.) 491, 1942 N.Y. LEXIS 1086 (N.Y. 1942).

8. Illustrative cases

In Article 78 proceeding to annul government contract to provide electronic benefit transfer services for social services recipients based on respondent's alleged failure to comply with Procurement Stewardship Act of 1995 (CLS St Fin §§ 160 et seq.), petitioner could be viewed as "unsuccessful bidder" although it did not actually submit any bid, where it was nation's largest processor of systems for electronic distribution of benefits and primary subcontractor for financial institution that submitted unsuccessful bid, and request for proposals welcomed bids from teams with clear distinction of responsibilities so long as one member of team was financial institution, other team members were fully qualified to perform their expected functions and only one team member was designated as primary contractor. Transactive Corp. v New York State Dep't of Soc. Servs., 236 A.D.2d 48, 665 N.Y.S.2d 701, 1997 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 12010 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1997), aff'd, 92 N.Y.2d 579, 684 N.Y.S.2d 156, 706 N.E.2d 1180, 1998 N.Y. LEXIS 4041 (N.Y. 1998).

Proceeding to review determination to award contract to bidder other than petitioner was improperly dismissed without hearing where parties had provided only conclusory assertions in support of their respective contentions as to certification requirements. Power Cooling Inc. v State Univ. of New York, 244 A.D.2d 493, 665 N.Y.S.2d 909, 1997 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 11642 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1997).

Commissioner's decision to cancel a contract with a floor covering installer to perform government projects after discovering that the installer's bid was below the prevailing wage rate required for state contracts, and not permitting modification of the proposal was rational, and the trial court properly dismissed the installer's N.Y. C.P.L.R. art. 78 petition seeking an injunction to prevent the cancellation. Taub's Carpet & Tile Corp. v Ringler, 1 A.D.3d 730, 766 N.Y.S.2d 646, 2003 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 11734 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 2003).

Corporation did not depart from the terms of its request for proposals for debt collection services in demanding that a law firm obtain written confirmation from the jurisdictions at issue that it was exempt from their licensing requirements because the law firm was made aware at the outset that it could be required to submit proof of appropriate licensure or registration and that the corporation had the right to request additional information to clarify the proposal; as the corporation unambiguously intended to require any successful bidder to demonstrate its ability to collect debts in all 50 states and Puerto Rico, it did not deviate from the terms of the request for proposals by directing the law firm to produce a letter from a jurisdiction stating that the law firm was exempt from licensing requirements. Nor was it irrational for the corporation to award the contract to another entity if proof of licensure was not forthcoming. Matter of Solomon & Solomon, P.C. v New York State Higher Educ. Servs. Corp., 70 A.D.3d 1280, 895 N.Y.S.2d 588, 243 N.Y.L.J. 43, 2010 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 1543 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't), app. denied, 15 N.Y.3d 709, 909 N.Y.S.2d 23, 935 N.E.2d 815, 2010 N.Y. LEXIS 2635 (N.Y. 2010).

Trial court did not err in dismissing appellant's action challenging a state agency's rejection of its bid for a contract because appellant failed to exhaust its administrative remedies, and it was not excused from exhaustion on the grounds that the agency acted ultra vires, since the agency was permitted to procure work by a preferred source, if appropriate, and had the power to reject all bids under certain circumstances. Matter of Guilderland Print., Inc. v New York State Off. of Temporary & Disability Assistance, 163 A.D.3d 1318, 83 N.Y.S.3d 692, 2018 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5291 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 2018).

Office of General Services acted lawfully in allowing contractor selected under one-year multiple-award contract for supplying concrete for road repairs to voluntarily reduce its state contract price because it had subsequently submitted lower bid on another public works contract; competitive bidding process was not thereby undermined, there was no suggestion of favoritism, public interest was advanced by lower prices, and general specifications specifically advised bidders that any contractor offering same product to another buyer at price lower than state contract price had to offer that price reduction to state. Pallette Stone Corp. v State Office of Gen. Servs., 168 Misc. 2d 869, 645 N.Y.S.2d 389, 1996 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 212 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1996), aff'd, 245 A.D.2d 756, 665 N.Y.S.2d 457, 1997 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 12945 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1997).

9. Use of funds rule

Governor and the New York State Department of Health (DOH) acted within their authority in promulgating Executive Order (Cuomo) No. 38 (N.Y. Comp. Codes R. & Regs. tit. 9, § 8.38) and the use-of-funds rule, N.Y. Comp. Codes R. & Regs. tit. 10, pt. 1002, and the use-of-funds rule's administrative costs and executive compensation limits were consistent with N.Y. Pub. Health Law §§ 201, 206 and N.Y. State Fin. Law § 163 or their underlying purpose; the Boreali factors did not indicate that DOH usurped the New York State legislature's function. Agencies for Children's Therapy Servs., Inc. v New York State Dept. of Health, 136 A.D.3d 122, 22 N.Y.S.3d 524, 2015 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 9650 (N.Y. Section
186-f. Public safety communications surcharge

HISTORY:
Add, L 1909, ch 62.

§ 186-f. Public safety communications surcharge

1. Definitions. As used in this section, where not otherwise specifically defined and unless a different meaning is clearly required:

(a) "Place of primary use" has the same meaning as that term is defined in paragraph twenty-six of subdivision (b) of section eleven hundred one of this chapter.

(b) "Wireless communications customer" means mobile telecommunications customer as defined in subparagraph (i) of paragraph twenty-seven of subdivision (b) of section eleven hundred one of this chapter, who contracts for or is the end user of wireless communications service.

(c) "Wireless communications device" means any equipment used to access a wireless communications service.

(d) "Wireless communications service" means all commercial mobile services, as that term is defined in section 332(d) of title 47 of the United States Code, as amended from time to time, including, but not limited to, all broadband personal communications services, wireless radio telephone services, geographic area specialized and enhanced specialized mobile radio services, and incumbent-wide area specialized mobile radio licensees, which offer real time, two-way voice or data service that is interconnected with the public switched telephone network or otherwise provides access to emergency communications services.

(e) "Wireless communications service supplier" means a home service provider as defined in subparagraph (ii) of paragraph twenty-seven of subdivision (b) of section eleven hundred one of this chapter, provided that the home service provider provides wireless communications service and has one or more wireless communications customers in New York state.

(f) "Prepaid wireless communications seller" means a person making a retail sale of prepaid wireless communications service.

(g) "Prepaid wireless communications service" means a prepaid mobile calling service as defined in paragraph twenty-two of subdivision (b) of section eleven hundred one of this chapter.

2. Public safety communications surcharge.

(a) (1) A surcharge on wireless communications service provided to a wireless communications customer with a place of primary use in this state is imposed at the rate of one dollar and twenty cents per month on each wireless communications device in service during any part of each month. The surcharge must be reflected and made payable on bills rendered to the wireless communications customer for wireless communication service.

(2) A surcharge is imposed on the retail sale of each prepaid wireless communications service, whether or not any tangible personal property is sold therewith, at the rate of ninety cents per retail sale. A sale of a prepaid wireless communications service occurs in this state if the sale takes place at a seller's business location in the state. If the sale does not take place at the seller's place of business, it shall be conclusively determined to take place at the purchaser's shipping address or, if there is no item shipped, at the purchaser's billing address, or, if the seller does not have that address, at such address as approved by the commissioner that reasonably reflects the customer's location at the time of the sale of the prepaid wireless communications service.

(b) The surcharges must be reported and paid to the commissioner on a quarterly basis on or before the twentieth day of the month following each quarterly period ending on the last day of February, May, August and November, respectively. The payments must be accompanied by a return in the form and containing the information the commissioner may prescribe.

(c) The surcharges must be added as a separate line item to bills furnished by a wireless communications service supplier to its customers, or must be added as a separate line item to a sales slip, invoice, receipt, or other statement of the price, if any, that is furnished by a prepaid wireless communications seller to a purchaser, and must be identified as the "public safety communications surcharge".

(d) Each wireless communications service supplier and prepaid wireless communications seller is entitled to retain, as an administrative fee, an amount equal to three percent of fifty-eight and three-tenths percent of the total collections of the surcharges imposed by this section, provided that the supplier or seller files any required return and remits the surcharge due to the commissioner on or before its due date.

3. Exemption. Lifeline consumers shall be exempt from the surcharges imposed by this section.

4. Applicable provisions.

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, the surcharges imposed under this section shall be administered and collected by the commissioner in a like manner as the taxes imposed by article twenty-eight of this chapter. All the provisions of article twenty-eight of this chapter, including the provisions relating to definitions, exemptions, returns, personal liability for the tax, collection of tax from the customer, payment of tax, and the administration of the taxes imposed by such article, shall apply to the surcharges imposed under the authority of this section so far as those provisions can be made applicable to the surcharges imposed by this section, with such modifications as may be necessary in order to adapt the language of those provisions to the surcharges imposed by this section. Those provisions shall apply with the same force and effect as if the language of those provisions had been set forth in full in this section, except to the extent that any of those provisions is either inconsistent with a provision of this section or is not relevant to the surcharge imposed by this section. For purposes of this section, any reference in this chapter to a tax or the taxes imposed by article twenty-eight of this chapter shall be deemed also to refer to the surcharges imposed by this section unless a different meaning is clearly required.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this subdivision:

(1) the exemptions provided for in section eleven hundred sixteen of this chapter, other than the exemptions in paragraphs one, two and three of subdivision (a) of that section, shall not apply to the surcharges imposed by this section.

(2) the credit provided in subdivision (f) of section eleven hundred thirty-seven of this chapter shall not apply to this section.

5. Deposits of surcharge monies collected and received. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, all surcharge monies collected and received by the commissioner under this section must be deposited daily to the credit of the comptroller with those responsible banks, banking houses or trust companies the comptroller may designate. Those deposits must be kept separate and apart from all other monies in the possession of the comptroller. The comptroller must require adequate security from all such depositories. Of the total revenue collected or received under this section, the comptroller must retain in the comptroller's hands an amount determined by the commissioner to be necessary for refunds under this section, out of which the comptroller will pay any refunds to which taxpayers are entitled under the provisions of this section. The comptroller, after reserving the amount to pay refunds, must, on or before the tenth day of each month, pay all surcharge monies collected and received under this section and remaining to the comptroller's credit as follows:

(a) forty-one and seven-tenths of the revenues collected and received under this section into the state general fund; and

(b) after deducting the amount paid under paragraph (a) of this subdivision and the amount retained by wireless communications suppliers pursuant to paragraph (d) of subdivision two of this section, the balance of the revenues collected under this section into the statewide public safety communications account of the miscellaneous special revenue fund, created pursuant to section ninety-seven-qq of the state finance law.

6. Distribution. The monies collected from the surcharge imposed by this section must be distributed to include the following:

(a) The sum of twenty-five million five hundred thousand dollars must be allocated to the state police pursuant to appropriation by the legislature annually;

(b) The sum of one million five hundred thousand dollars must be deposited into the New York state emergency services revolving loan fund annually; provided, however, that such sums shall not be deposited for state fiscal years two thousand eleven —two thousand twelve, two thousand twelve—two thousand thirteen, two thousand fourteen—two thousand fifteen, two thousand fifteen—two thousand sixteen, two thousand sixteen—two thousand seventeen, two thousand seventeen—two thousand eighteen, two thousand eighteen—two thousand nineteen, two thousand nineteen—two thousand twenty, two thousand twenty—two thousand twenty-one and two thousand twenty-one—two thousand twenty-two;

(c) Up to the sum of seventy-five million dollars annually may be used for the provision of grants or reimbursements to counties for the development, consolidation, or operation of public safety communications systems or networks designed to support statewide interoperable communications for first responders, to be distributed pursuant to standards and guidelines issued by the state. Annual grants may consider costs borne by a municipality related to the issuance of local public safety communications bonds pursuant to section twenty-four hundred thirty-two of the public authorities law, when the municipality has qualified as an approved participant in a statewide interoperable communications system under the standards and guidelines issued by the state, and maintains compliance with such standards and guidelines. The grant amount will be prescribed pursuant to an agreement with the municipality, and may not exceed thirty percent of the annual cost borne by the municipality in relation to such bonds;

(d) To provide the costs of debt service for bonds and notes issued to finance expedited deployment funding pursuant to the provisions of section three hundred thirty-three of the county law and section sixteen hundred eighty-nine-h of the public authorities law; and

(e) services and expenses that support the operations and mission of the division of homeland security and emergency services as appropriated by the legislature.

(f) [Repealed]

(g) The sum of ten million dollars annually shall be used for the provision of grants to counties for costs related to the operations of public safety dispatch centers, to be distributed pursuant to a plan developed by the commissioner of homeland security and emergency services and approved by the director of the budget. Such plan may consider such factors as population density and emergency call volume.

HISTORY:

Add, L 1944, ch 415.

§ 209-G. Gift for volunteer firefighter and volunteer emergency services workers recruitment and retention

Effective for any tax year commencing on or after the effective date of this section, a taxpayer in any taxable year may elect to contribute to the support of the volunteer firefighter and volunteer emergency services workers recruitment and retention fund. Such contribution shall be in any whole dollar amount and shall not reduce the amount of the state tax owed by such taxpayer. The commissioner shall include space on the corporate income tax return to enable a taxpayer to make such contribution. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, all revenues collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to the volunteer firefighter and volunteer emergency services recruitment and retention fund and shall be used only for those purposes enumerated in section ninety-nine-q of the state finance law.

253. Recording tax

HISTORY:
Add, L 1909, ch 62, eff Feb 17, 1909.

1. A tax of fifty cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is, or under any contingency may be secured at the date of the execution thereof or at any time thereafter by a mortgage on real property situated within the state recorded on or after the first day of July, nineteen hundred and six, is hereby imposed on each such mortgage, and shall be collected and paid as provided in this article. If the principal debt or obligation which is or by any contingency may be secured by such mortgage recorded on or after the first day of July, nineteen hundred and seven, is less than one hundred dollars, a tax of fifty cents is hereby imposed on such mortgage, and shall be collected and paid as provided in this article.

1-a. (a) In addition to the tax imposed by subdivision one of this section, there shall be imposed on each mortgage of real property situated within the state, except mortgages wherein the mortgagee is a natural person or persons, or is a credit union as defined in section two of the banking law, and in either case the mortgaged premises consist of real property improved by a structure containing six residential dwelling units or less, each with separate cooking facilities, a special additional tax of twenty-five cents for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is, or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof or at anytime thereafter by such mortgage. The tax, if any, imposed by this subdivision shall in cases of real property principally improved or to be improved by one or more structures containing in the aggregate not more than six residential dwelling units, each dwelling unit having its own separate cooking facilities, be paid by the mortgagee, and such tax shall not be paid or payable, directly or indirectly, by the mortgagor except as otherwise provided in sections two hundred fifty-eight and two hundred fifty-nine of this article and except such tax shall be paid in such cases by the mortgagor where the mortgagee is an exempt organization described in paragraph (b) of this subdivision. In all other cases, such tax shall be paid by the mortgagor except that the tax shall be paid by the mortgagee where the mortgagor is an exempt organization described in paragraph (b) of this subdivision. All of the provisions of this article shall apply with respect to the special additional tax imposed by this subdivision to the same extent as if it were imposed by said subdivision one of this section, except as otherwise expressly provided in this article.

(b) An organization organized other than for profit which is operated on a nonprofit basis no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any officer, director or member and which is exempt from federal income taxation pursuant to subsection (a) of section five hundred one of the internal revenue code shall be exempt from the special additional tax imposed by this subdivision.

2. (a) In addition to the taxes imposed by subdivisions one and one-a of this section, there shall be imposed on each mortgage of real property situated within the state recorded on or after the first day of July, nineteen hundred sixty-nine, an additional tax of twenty-five cents for counties outside of the metropolitan commuter transportation district, as defined pursuant to section twelve hundred sixty-two of the public authorities law, and thirty cents for counties within such metropolitan commuter transportation district for each one hundred dollars and each remaining major fraction thereof of principal debt or obligation which is, or under any contingency may be secured at the date of execution thereof or at any time thereafter by such mortgage, saving and excepting the first ten thousand dollars of such principal debt or obligation in any case in which the related mortgage is of real property principally improved or to be improved by a one or two family residence or dwelling. All the provisions of this article shall apply with respect to the additional tax imposed by this subdivision to the same extent as if it were imposed by the said subdivision one of this section, except as otherwise expressly provided in this article. Notwithstanding article eighteen-A of the general municipal law and titles eleven and fifteen of article eight of the public authorities law, no mortgage of real property situated within the state in counties located within the metropolitan commuter transportation district, the Niagara Frontier transportation district, the Rochester-Genesee transportation district, the capital district transportation district, and the central New York regional transportation district executed, given, made, or transferred or assigned by or to an agency created under article eighteen-A of the general municipal law, an authority created under title eleven or fifteen of article eight of the public authorities law, an agent or agent of such agent of such agency or authority, a project operator receiving financial assistance from such agency or authority, a project occupant of such agency or authority, or an owner of a project receiving financial assistance from such agency or authority shall be exempt from the additional tax imposed by this subdivision. For the purposes of this subdivision the term "financial assistance" shall have the same meaning as defined in section eight hundred fifty-four of the general municipal law. The imposition of this additional tax on mortgages recorded in a county outside the city of New York, other than one of the counties from time to time comprising the metropolitan commuter transportation district, the Niagara Frontier transportation district, the Rochester-Genesee transportation district, the capital district transportation district or the central New York regional transportation district may be suspended for a specified period of time or without limitation as to time by a local law, ordinance or resolution duly adopted by the local legislative body of such county.

(b) Any local law, ordinance or resolution suspending the imposition of this additional tax as provided in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, or amending or repealing such local law, ordinance or resolution, shall take effect only on the first day of the third month succeeding the month in which such local law, ordinance or resolution is duly adopted. Such a local law, ordinance or resolution shall not be effective unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the state tax commission at its office in Albany at least sixty days prior to the date the local law, ordinance or resolution shall take effect. However, the tax commission may waive and reduce such sixty-day notice requirement to a requirement that such certified copy be mailed by registered or certified mail within a period of not less than thirty days prior to such effective date if it deems such action to be consistent with its duties under this article. A certified copy of any local law, ordinance or resolution adopted pursuant to this subdivision shall also be filed with the state comptroller within five days after the date it is duly adopted.

3. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the mortgage recording tax shall not be imposed upon any mortgage executed by a voluntary nonprofit hospital corporation, fire company or voluntary ambulance service as defined in section one hundred of the general municipal law, or upon any mortgage executed by or granted to the dormitory authority.

Editor's Notes: Laws 1970, ch 714, § 1, provides as follows:

Section 1. Statement of legislative findings and purpose. The legislature hereby finds and declares as follows:

A. The economic growth of the state and the well-being of its people require adequate, safe, and efficient transportation facilities and services at reasonable cost to the people.

B. The strengthening and improvement of transportation and related services for the residents of the central part of the state and more particularly the growing counties of Cayuga, Cortland, Jefferson, Madison, Oneida, Onondaga and Oswego is a matter of vital importance.

C. In order to insure a healthy economy for such an area and to serve the well-being of its people, it is necessary to take the appropriate measures and assume responsibility for the preservation and improvement of non-highway transportation and related services in such an area.

D. The planning and development of such services is coordinated by the department of transportation which is responsible for balanced transportation policy and planning for all modes.

E. The provision of adequate and efficient non-highway transportation and related services in such an area requires coordinated operation of mass transit, omnibus, aviation, and marine transportation service by a public transportation authority.

F. In order that such a public transportation authority may perform its function, the municipalities included in the authority's transportation district must assume financial responsibility for the authority, utilizing whatever grants are offered or assistance made available, since the facilities operated by the authority may not be self-supporting.

Laws 1973, ch 512, § 1, eff June 5, 1973, provides as follows:

§ 2. This act shall take effect on the ninetieth day after it shall have become a law and shall apply to all mortgages recorded after January first, nineteen hundred seventy-two.

Laws 1986, ch 669, § 9, eff July 26, 1986, provides as follows:

§ 9. Notwithstanding paragraph (b) of subdivision two of section two hundred fifty-three of the tax law or any other provision of law, if the county of Dutchess, Orange or Rockland submits a plan to withdraw from the metropolitan commuter transportation district pursuant to section twelve hundred seventy-nine-b of the public authorities law, it is hereby authorized and empowered through action by its local legislative body to suspend, as of the effective date of such county's withdrawal from the district, for a specified period of time or without limitation as to time, the additional mortgage recording tax imposed by paragraph (a) of subdivision two of section two hundred fifty-three of the tax law; provided, however, that such local law, ordinance or resolution shall not be excepted from the provisions of paragraph (b) of subdivision two of such section two hundred fifty-three unless a certified copy thereof is mailed by registered or certified mail to the state tax commission at its office in Albany at least sixty days prior to the effective date of the county's withdrawal. A certified copy of any such local law, ordinance or resolution adopted pursuant to this section shall also be filed with the state comptroller and the recording officer of the county so acting within seven days after the date it is duly adopted. Except as provided herein, the provisions of the tax law shall apply to the suspension by any such county of the additional mortgage tax imposed by paragraph (a) of subdivision two of such section two hundred fifty-three.

This act shall take effect July 1, 2017 (Amd, L 2017, ch 3, § 1, eff Feb 1, 2017.).

Laws 2017, ch 3, § 2, eff Feb 1, 2017, provides as follows:

This act shall take effect immediately and shall be deemed to have been in full force and effect on and after a chapter of the laws of 2016, amending the general municipal law, the public authorities law, and the tax law, relating to certain recording taxes, as proposed in legislative bills numbers A. 9490 and S. 7442, takes effect.

1. Generally

Tax imposed by this section on mortgage executed by lessees did not amount to a tax on personal property. S.S. Silberblatt, Inc. v Tax Com. of State, 5 N.Y.2d 635, 186 N.Y.S.2d 646, 159 N.E.2d 195, 1959 N.Y. LEXIS 1401 (N.Y.), cert. denied, 361 U.S. 912, 80 S. Ct. 253, 4 L. Ed. 2d 183, 1959 U.S. LEXIS 44 (U.S. 1959).

It is not necessary that a mortgage be recorded at once upon its delivery, and failure to do so and to pay the tax does not render the instrument void, but it may be recorded and the tax paid at any time before the mortgagee seeks to enforce it. Mutual Life Ins. Co. v Nicholas, 144 A.D. 95, 128 N.Y.S. 902, 1911 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 1631 (N.Y. App. Div. 1911).

Assignment of rent given as security does not constitute a mortgage as defined in Tax L § 250 so as to be subject to a tax under Tax L § 253 upon recordation. Albee Fuel Corp. v Gallman, 42 A.D.2d 323, 346 N.Y.S.2d 678, 1973 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 3677 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1973), aff'd, 34 N.Y.2d 773, 358 N.Y.S.2d 140, 314 N.E.2d 879, 1974 N.Y. LEXIS 1539 (N.Y. 1974).

In a proceeding by the Attorney General seeking to enjoin mortgagees from collecting from sellers the special additional mortgage recording tax imposed by Tax Law § 253, insofar as it relates to mortgages on real property improved by a structure containing six residential dwelling units or less, and seeking restitution with respect to amounts so collected by the mortgagees from sellers, Special Term erred in denying restitution to two mortgagees on the ground that class actions were pending seeking such relief against them, where such class actions were still in the early stages and where the present proceeding was a superior and more effective device for obtaining restitution. In addition, the amount of restitution would be reduced by the amount of dollar-for-dollar tax credit received by taxpayers pursuant to Tax Law §§ 210, 606, since it would otherwise be giving taxpayers a windfall if mortgagees were required to pay an amount equal to the special tax paid. State by Abrams v Intercounty Mortgagee Corp., 87 A.D.2d 748, 448 N.Y.S.2d 675, 1982 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 16168 (N.Y. App. Div. 1st Dep't), app. dismissed, 57 N.Y.2d 954, 457 N.Y.S.2d 1028, 443 N.E.2d 496 (N.Y. 1982), app. denied, 61 N.Y.2d 601, 471 N.Y.S.2d 1029, 459 N.E.2d 1291, 1983 N.Y. LEXIS 6792 (N.Y. 1983).

Defendants executed adjustable-rate promissory note secured by mortgage on certain realty they owned; mortgage and note were later assigned for value to bank; defendants defaulted and action was commenced; thereafter, defendants sold mortgaged property and bank assigned note and mortgage to plaintiff; neither original mortgage nor subsequent assignments was recorded and no mortgage recording tax was paid as required by section 253 of Tax Law, which provides no judgment or final order shall be made for foreclosure or enforcement of any mortgage subject to any tax or of any debt or obligation secured by any such mortgage, unless taxes imposed have been paid–note refers to subject property and states it is secured by mortgage, and payment of required taxes is necessary before judgment on underlying debt can be granted to plaintiffs; since section 258 of Tax Law does not create obligation to record mortgage, failure to record mortgage and pay tax does not render mortgage and note unenforceable; thus, plaintiff may be entitled to obtain judgment on debt by paying required tax prior to judgment or final order–cause of action on behalf of bank was properly dismissed since bank received value for its assignment and, as assignor, no longer has standing to sue on debt. Commonwealth Land Title Ins. Co. v Lituchy, 161 A.D.2d 517, 555 N.Y.S.2d 786, 1990 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6529 (N.Y. App. Div. 1st Dep't 1990).

2. Constitutionality

The tax on mortgages provided for in Art. 11 is a recording tax and as such does not conflict with the U.S. Const., Am. XIV, § 1, or with the N. Y. Const. Art. XVI, § 3. Franklin Soc. for Home Bldg. & Sav. v Bennett, 282 N.Y. 79, 24 N.E.2d 854, 282 N.Y. (N.Y.S.) 79, 1939 N.Y. LEXIS 860 (N.Y. 1939), app. dismissed, 309 U.S. 640, 60 S. Ct. 893, 84 L. Ed. 995, 1940 U.S. LEXIS 695 (U.S. 1940).

Federal savings bank was entitled to summary judgment declaring that provision of CLS Tax § 253(1-a)(1) was unenforceable insofar as it imposed mortgage recording tax which could not be passed on to borrower, since statute was preempted by regulation promulgated by Federal Home Loan Bank Board, which permitted federal savings and loan associations to pass through to their borrowers necessary costs incurred in making loans secured by mortgages on real property (12 CFR 545.32). Dime Sav. Bank, FSB v State, 174 A.D.2d 173, 579 N.Y.S.2d 679, 1992 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 339 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1992).

Taxpayer (bank) was not entitled to refund of taxes it paid pursuant to special mortgage recording tax statute (CLS Tax § 253(1-a)(a)) on grounds of unconstitutionality, even though statute's anti-pass-through provision was preempted by federal regulation, since statute, considered apart from such provision, is fully consistent with federal law, tax itself was not preempted, and legislature intended that tax be imposed irrespective of efficacy of provision. Dime Sav. Bank, FSB v State, 225 A.D.2d 581, 639 N.Y.S.2d 102, 1996 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 2134 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1996).

Interest at the rate of 3% per annum (General Municipal Law, § 3-a, subd 1) is payable by the County of Erie on a refund of a mortgage recording tax (Tax Law, § 253) which was determined by the State Tax Commission eight years after application for review to be a tax upon a national bank which the State was without power to levy; the fact that the statute was found to have been levied unconstitutionally as opposed to being unconstitutional per se does not make the case one of erroneous collection, where no interest would be payable. Moreover, the facts present a situation so offensive to one's sense of justice that interest on the refund must be awarded to ameliorate the injustice. CC&F Buffalo Development Co. v Tully, 103 Misc. 2d 1060, 427 N.Y.S.2d 392, 1980 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2254 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1980).

3. "Principal debt or obligation"

The mortgage tax, as provided for in this section, is improperly imposed upon a second mortgage collateral to first and securing same loan, when the tax has already been imposed for the total debt secured by two mortgages. People ex rel. United States Title Guaranty Co. v State Tax Com., 230 N.Y. 102, 129 N.E. 222, 230 N.Y. (N.Y.S.) 102, 1920 N.Y. LEXIS 562 (N.Y. 1920).

Where mortgagor conveyed leasehold to mortgagee, and mortgagee reconveyed leasehold and improvements thereon to mortgagor, the purchase price to be paid in installments together with a certain percentage of net annual rental income, said sale did not constitute a supplemental mortgage under Tax Law § 255, and a recording tax was subsequently due and owing upon the filing of said agreement pursuant to Tax Law § 250; the amount of the principal debt or obligation is to be used as the basis for computation of the recording tax pursuant to Tax Law, § 253, unless that amount "is not determinable from the terms of the mortgage" in which case "the value of the property covered by the mortgage" is to be used pursuant to Tax Law, § 256; here, although the consolidation agreement provided for additional payments, the amount of which would not be ascertainable at the time of recording, such payments are nothing more than additional interest and, therefore, do not make indeterminable or uncertain the amount of the principal indebtedness. 200 East 64th St. Corp. v Manley, 37 N.Y.2d 744, 374 N.Y.S.2d 621, 337 N.E.2d 133, 1975 N.Y. LEXIS 2108 (N.Y. 1975).

A mortgage given to secure a principal sum of $9,0O0,000 provided that mortgagee might install separate refrigeration plant on premises if mortgagor or sublessor failed to do so and that cost thereof was to be charged on property and secured by mortgage. In order to get the mortgage recorded, a clause was added which provided that maximum amount secured in event of any contingency was $10,900,000. Application for a refund of recording tax calculated on sum of $1,600,000 was properly denied. The contingent additional indebtedness for installation above mentioned amounted to possible physical enhancement of mortgage security and constituted principal indebtedness and not indebtedness incidental to principal secured by mortgage. The ultimate indebtedness was indeterminate so as to require the tax on the maximum amount to be secured in the event of any contingency stated in the mortgage. Rockefeller Center, Inc. v Bragalini, 8 A.D.2d 657, 185 N.Y.S.2d 82, 1959 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 9029 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1959).

Mortgage recording was due on interest included in consolidation and extension agreement, where interest was further indebtedness other than that secured by prior recorded primary mortgages, even though indebtedness represented unpaid interest on primary mortgages. In re Michael Dubroff Asso., Inc. (File No. 13738) State Tax Com., Dec. 8, 1976.

Mortgage tax is due on amount of indebtedness recited in mortgage instrument offered for recordation, where mortgage secures payment of lesser indebtedness, plus interest thereon, tax is due on total amount of which is set forth in certain note. In re Cosmopolitan Broadcasting Corp., Det State Tax Comm, Sept. 28, 1979.

4. —Incidental indebtedness

A mortgage given to secure a principal sum of $9,000,000 provided that mortgagee might install separate refrigeration plant on premises if mortgagor or sublessor failed to do so and that cost thereof was to be charged on property and secured by mortgage. In order to get the mortgage recorded, a clause was added which provided that maximum amount secured in event of any contingency was $10,900,000. Application for a refund of recording tax calculated on sum of $1,600,0O0.

Mortgage recording tax was due on interest included in consolidation and extension agreement, where interest was further indebtedness other than that secured by prior recorded primary mortgages, even though indebtedness represented unpaid interest on primary mortgages. In re Michael Dubroff Asso., Inc. (file No. 13738) State Tax Comm., Dec. 8, 1976.

5. —Contingencies

A mortgage given to secure a principal sum of $9,000,000 provided that mortgagee might install separate refrigeration plant on premises if mortgagor or sublessor failed to do so and that cost thereof was to be charged on property and secured by mortgage. In order to get the mortgage recorded, a clause was added which provided that maximum amount secured in event of any contingency was $10,900,000. Application for a refund of recording tax calculated on sum of $1,600,000 was properly denied. The contingent additional indebtedness for installation above mentioned amounted to possible physical enhancement of mortgage security and constituted principal indebtedness and not indebtedness incidental to principal secured by mortgage. The ultimate indebtedness was indeterminate so as to require the tax on the maximum amount to be secured in the event of any contingency stated in the mortgage. Rockefeller Center, Inc. v Bragalini, 8 A.D.2d 657, 185 N.Y.S.2d 82, 1959 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 9029 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1959).

6. New or further indebtedness—generally

Under § 250 and this section the recording of an indenture is taxable only to the extent that it increased the mortgagor's "principal debt or obligation." Park & 46th Street Corp. v State Tax Com., 295 N.Y. 173, 65 N.E.2d 763, 295 N.Y. (N.Y.S.) 173, 1946 N.Y. LEXIS 838 (N.Y. 1946).

Under § 255, it is immaterial whether or not there is a "further" indebtedness provided it is a "new" indebtedness. Application of New York, N. H. & H. R. Co., 266 A.D. 470, 42 N.Y.S.2d 676, 1943 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 3591 (N.Y. App. Div.), app. denied, 266 A.D. 925, 44 N.Y.S.2d 172, 1943 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5247 (N.Y. App. Div. 1943).

Tax on mortgage claimed to be exempt notwithstanding statute providing circumstances under which statutory exemption is not available should not be incurred as long as parties are careful not to extinguish original debt so as not to create new indebtedness, and it matters not that mortgagor has paid tax on indebtedness which never actually came into existence, representing amount it never received, inasmuch as tax is imposed on debt which may be secured where it exceeds amount actually advanced; different rule governs, however, by statute, in case of mortgages given in trust to secure corporate bonds. Woodmere Knolls, Inc. v Procaccino, 52 A.D.2d 979, 383 N.Y.S.2d 105, 1976 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 12860 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1976).

7. —Tax due

Where 18 mortgages (some of them blanket mortgages) were given on seven parcels of real property and then were replaced by seven mortgages reallocating the same indebtedness, each covering one of the same seven parcels, the mortgage tax was payable on the seven new mortgages even though, prior to recording, the county clerk had ruled that no tax would be payable and the mortgagors could have accomplished in a different way the same result without tax. Sverdlow v Bates, 283 A.D. 487, 129 N.Y.S.2d 88, 1954 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4714 (N.Y. App. Div. 1954).

Where a mortgage to secure a principal indebtedness of $7,000 was recorded in 1944 and a supplementary agreement was made when the principal debt had been reduced to $3,298.71 whereby the mortgagee advanced an additional $2,701.29 and the parties agreed that the maximum for which the mortgage could stand as security was $7,000 was subject to tax on the difference between the amount of the unpaid balance of the original indebtedness and the stated possible maximum. City Title Ins. Co. v Orgel, 2 A.D.2d 250, 154 N.Y.S.2d 751, 1956 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4570 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1956).

Whether an old indebtedness was canceled and a new one created was a question of the intention of the parties and hence, an exchange of old mortgage notes by the holder thereof for bonds in a new form did not work a cancelation of the indebtedness where the State Tax Commission sought to assess a mortgage tax on a base of $3,750,000 instead of on a base of $1,000,000 and the net result of the transaction was to procure a single mortgage lien in the amount of $3,750,000 by consolidating the liens of an existing mortgage for $2,750,000 with a new lien for $1,000,000 for a new loan. Fifth Ave. & 46th Street Corp. v Bragalini, 4 A.D.2d 387, 165 N.Y.S.2d 312, 1957 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4684 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1957).

Mortgage recording tax was due on interest included in consolidation and extension agreement, where interest was further indebtedness other than that secured by prior recorded primary mortgages even though indebtedness represented unpaid interest on primary mortgages. In Re Michael Dubroff Asso., Inc. (File No. 13738) State Tax Com., Dec. 8, 1976.

8. —Tax not applicable

Mortgagor was not obligated to pay mortgage recording tax when it recorded fourth mortgage since that mortgage did not represent new debt or further indebtedness but was merely exchange of one mortgage with prior incidental one. Long Island Lighting Co. v Commissioner of Taxation & Fin., 235 A.D.2d 637, 652 N.Y.S.2d 640, 1997 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 100 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't), app. denied, 90 N.Y.2d 801, 660 N.Y.S.2d 554, 683 N.E.2d 19, 1997 N.Y. LEXIS 1569 (N.Y. 1997).

9. —Collateral mortgage

Collateral mortgage created a new indebtedness or obligation separate and distinct from that of the primary mortgage and the lien created thereunder and was therefore not entitled to the exemption provided by § 255 of the Tax Law. Movielab, Inc. v Murphy, 28 A.D.2d 617, 279 N.Y.S.2d 921, 1967 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4132 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1967).

10. —Future advances

In ascertaining the value of real estate in fixing the mortgage tax, under this section and § 256, on a mortgage given to secure unlimited future advances, the prior mortgage should not have been deducted, where the statement provided by § 256 showing limit of advances had not been filed. People ex rel. Park Row Realty Co. v Saxe, 180 A.D. 103, 167 N.Y.S. 509, 1917 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8115 (N.Y. App. Div. 1917), aff'd, 222 N.Y. 659, 119 N.E. 1070, 222 N.Y. (N.Y.S.) 659, 1918 N.Y. LEXIS 1546 (N.Y. 1918).

Where mortgagor and mortgagee entered into agreements which not only acknowledged that only $3,000,000 had been advanced under previous agreement but expressly provided that amount of $1,000,0O0 previously available would not be advanced and could no longer be required to be advanced and thus did not represent "the principal indebtedness which is or under any contingency[could] be secured by[the] recorded primary mortgage," full amount of sum thereafter advanced to mortgagor represented "new or further indebtedness" secured, together with other debts, by mortgage of the later date, and such amount was subject to recording tax. Woodmere Knolls, Inc. v Procaccino, 52 A.D.2d 979, 383 N.Y.S.2d 105, 1976 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 12860 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1976).

11. —Bonds

The mortgage recording tax imposed by this section and § 259, applied to bonds secured by a corporate refunding mortgage to a trustee and issued to raise money to pay matured bonds of the same amount and secured by the same mortgage with respect to which the matured bonds tax had been paid. People v Boston & M. R. R., 202 A.D. 54, 195 N.Y.S. 402, 1922 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4851 (N.Y. App. Div.), aff'd, 234 N.Y. 629, 138 N.E. 475, 234 N.Y. (N.Y.S.) 629, 1922 N.Y. LEXIS 829 (N.Y. 1922).

The mortgage tax could not legally be imposed under this section and §§ 255 and 259 upon bonds of corporation issued to replace bonds theretofore issued under the same mortgage, though the new bonds matured at later date and carried a different rate of interest, where the mortgage authorized issuance of refunding or replacing bonds and substituted bonds so issued were not sold but were delivered to original bondholders in exchange for original bonds which were surrendered and canceled. New York State Gas & Electric Corp. v Gilchrist, 209 A.D. 771, 205 N.Y.S. 501, 1924 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8733 (N.Y. App. Div. 1924), aff'd, 240 N.Y. 552, 148 N.E. 701, 240 N.Y. (N.Y.S.) 552, 1925 N.Y. LEXIS 769 (N.Y. 1925).

New bonds which were exchanged for underlying bonds did not constitute a new advance under a trust mortgage and the amount thereof is not taxable, under this section, notwithstanding that part of the outstanding bonds were past due and part were not due when the new bonds were substituted for old. People ex rel. Boston & M. R. R. v Loughman, 227 A.D. 361, 238 N.Y.S. 27, 1929 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6439 (N.Y. App. Div. 1929), aff'd, 254 N.Y. 513, 173 N.E. 844, 254 N.Y. (N.Y.S.) 513, 1930 N.Y. LEXIS 1095 (N.Y. 1930).

A series of railroad bonds, which created a new obligation secured by an underlying mortgage and was for a further amount advanced under such mortgage, was taxable under this section and § 259, where such bonds were sold to a new creditor and the proceeds were paid to the railroad company and the railroad company thereupon paid its former noteholders. Application of Erie R. Co., 260 A.D. 268, 21 N.Y.S.2d 513, 1940 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4576 (N.Y. App. Div.), aff'd, 284 N.Y. 673, 30 N.E.2d 720, 284 N.Y. (N.Y.S.) 673, 1940 N.Y. LEXIS 1299 (N.Y. 1940).

Tax on mortgage claimed to be exempt notwithstanding statute providing circumstances under which statutory exemption is not available should not be incurred as long as parties are careful not to extinguish original debt so as not to create new indebtedness, and it matters not that mortgagor has paid tax on indebtedness which never actually came into existence, representing amount it never received, inasmuch as tax is imposed on debt which may be secured where it exceeds amount actually advanced; different rule governs, however, by statute, in case of mortgages given in trust to secure corporate bonds. Woodmere Knolls, Inc. v Procaccino, 52 A.D.2d 979, 383 N.Y.S.2d 105, 1976 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 12860 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1976).

12. —Other renegotiation of mortgage

A builder executed a mortgage to a loan association, which was duly recorded, and the tax provided by § 253 was paid. Thereafter, the mortgage was extended, purchasers of the property assumed the mortgage, and the contractor was released. Held: the extension of agreement was as a matter of law not such a "mortgage" as to be subject to the recording tax imposed by § 253. Sections 250 and 253 were not applicable. Suffolk County Federal Sav. & Loan Asso. v Bragalini, 5 N.Y.2d 579, 186 N.Y.S.2d 602, 159 N.E.2d 164, 1959 N.Y. LEXIS 1397 (N.Y. 1959).

Mere substitution of one mortgage agreement for another, even in combination with change of mortgagors, was insufficient to create new mortgage and was not subject to mortgage recording tax. Bay View Towers Apartments, Inc. v State Tax Com., 40 N.Y.2d 856, 387 N.Y.S.2d 1002, 356 N.E.2d 474, 1976 N.Y. LEXIS 3021 (N.Y. 1976).

Where full mortgage tax had been paid on original indebtedness and such indebtedness was not extinguished on execution of third "wrap-around" mortgage, under which third mortgagee was to receive debt service charge on both the original and new mortgage debt and was to pay debt service on the two prior mortgages on mortgagor's behalf, mortgage recording tax in connection with the third mortgage was payable only on the increase in the mortgage loan, rather than on the entire amount secured by the third mortgage. First Fiscal Fund Corp. v State Tax Com., 49 A.D.2d 408, 375 N.Y.S.2d 433, 1975 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 10923 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1975), aff'd, 40 N.Y.2d 940, 390 N.Y.S.2d 412, 358 N.E.2d 1037, 1976 N.Y. LEXIS 3123 (N.Y. 1976).

State Tax Commission properly granted refund of mortgage recording tax paid by holder of "wraparound" mortgage when it refinanced consolidated first mortgage on property by obtaining additional mortgage commitment to raise amount of first mortgage and readjust equity position of mortgagees without changing total indebtedness; once mortgage has been given and recorded, it may be changed by supplemental mortgage and no additional recording tax will be due as long as amount secured remains same. New York v State Tax Com., 130 A.D.2d 890, 516 N.Y.S.2d 132, 1987 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 46885 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1987).

13. Computation of tax

Where mortgagor conveyed leasehold to mortgagee, and mortgagee reconveyed leasehold and improvements thereon to mortgagor, the purchase price to be paid in installments together with a certain percentage of net annual rental income, said sale did not constitute a supplemental mortgage under Tax Law § 255, and a recording tax was subsequently due and owing upon the filing of said agreement pursuant to Tax Law § 250; the amount of the principal debt or obligation is to be used as the basis for computation of the recording tax pursuant to Tax Law, § 253, unless that amount "is not determinable from the terms of the mortgage" in which case "the value of the property covered by the mortgage" is to be used pursuant to Tax Law, § 256; here, although the consolidation agreement provided for additional payments, the amount of which would not be ascertainable at the time of recording, such payments are nothing more than additional interest and, therefore, do not make indeterminable or uncertain the amount of the principal indebtedness. 200 East 64th St. Corp. v Manley, 37 N.Y.2d 744, 374 N.Y.S.2d 621, 337 N.E.2d 133, 1975 N.Y. LEXIS 2108 (N.Y. 1975).

In ascertaining the value of real estate in fixing the mortgage tax, under this section and § 256, on a mortgage given to secure unlimited future advances, the prior mortgage should not have been deducted, where the statement provided by § 256 showing limit of advances had not been filed. People ex rel. Park Row Realty Co. v Saxe, 180 A.D. 103, 167 N.Y.S. 509, 1917 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8115 (N.Y. App. Div. 1917), aff'd, 222 N.Y. 659, 119 N.E. 1070, 222 N.Y. (N.Y.S.) 659, 1918 N.Y. LEXIS 1546 (N.Y. 1918).

Under this section the tax is measured by the amount of the principal debt which is, or under any contingency may be secured by the mortgage. Application of Erie R. Co., 260 A.D. 268, 21 N.Y.S.2d 513, 1940 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4576 (N.Y. App. Div.), aff'd, 284 N.Y. 673, 30 N.E.2d 720, 284 N.Y. (N.Y.S.) 673, 1940 N.Y. LEXIS 1299 (N.Y. 1940).

A mortgage given to secure a principal sum of $9,000,0O0 provided that mortgagee might install separate refrigeration plant on premises if mortgagor or sublessor failed to do so and that cost thereof was to be charged on property and secured by mortgage. In order to get the mortgage recorded, a clause was added which provided that maximum amount secured in event of any contingency was $10,900,000. Application for a refund of recording tax calculated on sum of $1,600,000 was properly denied. The contingent additional indebtedness for installation above mentioned amounted to possible physical enhancement of mortgage security and constituted principal indebtedness and not indebtedness incidental to principal secured by mortgage. The ultimate indebtedness was indeterminate so as to require the tax on the maximum amount to be secured in the event of any contingency stated in the mortgage. Rockefeller Center, Inc. v Bragalini, 8 A.D.2d 657, 185 N.Y.S.2d 82, 1959 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 9029 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1959).

Where full mortgage tax had been paid on original indebtedness and such indebtedness was not extinguished on execution of third "wrap-around" mortgage, under which third mortgagee was to receive debt service charge on both the original and new mortgage debt and was to pay debt service on the two prior mortgages on mortgagor's behalf, mortgage recording tax in connection with the third mortgage was payable only on the increase in the mortgage loan, rather than on the entire amount secured by the third mortgage. First Fiscal Fund Corp. v State Tax Com., 49 A.D.2d 408, 375 N.Y.S.2d 433, 1975 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 10923 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1975), aff'd, 40 N.Y.2d 940, 390 N.Y.S.2d 412, 358 N.E.2d 1037, 1976 N.Y. LEXIS 3123 (N.Y. 1976).

In action to foreclose mortgage given as security for $87,000 debt, plaintiff was entitled to summary judgment notwithstanding junior lienor's claim that mortgage was unenforceable because plaintiff failed to pay applicable mortgage tax; "future advance clause" contained in mortgage did not render amount of principal indebtedness secured by mortgage indeterminable, which would require that mortgage tax be assessed on greater value of mortgaged property pursuant to CLS Tax § 256, where additional provision of mortgage stated that "maximum amount of debt secured...shall not be greater than" principal debt, which permitted determination of principal debt. National Bank v Recreational Acreage Exch., 223 A.D.2d 153, 644 N.Y.S.2d 600, 1996 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 7565 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't), app. dismissed, 89 N.Y.2d 861, 653 N.Y.S.2d 283, 675 N.E.2d 1236, 1996 N.Y. LEXIS 4190 (N.Y. 1996).

An Art 78 proceeding to annul and reverse a state tax commission determination that the amount of a mortgage recording tax due was to be computed upon the maximum amount of indebtedness expressly secured by two mortgages rather than the value of the property would be dismissed, even though both mortgages contained a clause stating that the mortgage would be in an amount equal to the purchase price of the lands described in the mortgage, since a mortgage that has been filed clearly expresses a specific indebtedness to be secured by the real property described in the instrument, since the mortgage recording tax under Tax Law § 253 is computed on the amount of the indebtedness expressed in the instrument, and since a recording officer may under Tax Law § 256 determine the tax from the value of the property only if the maximum amount secured is not expressed. In re WBVM Associates, 120 Misc. 2d 434, 466 N.Y.S.2d 136, 1983 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 3735 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1983).

14. —Property in different counties

The New York City mortgage recording tax with respect to a mortgage covering real property located both within and without the City of New York is properly determined by the State Tax Commission on the basis of the relative assessments of such property as they appeared on the respective assessment rolls, without adjustment for differences in equalization rates, pursuant to sections 253-a and 260 of the Tax Law. Long Island Lighting Co. v State Tax Com., 45 N.Y.2d 529, 410 N.Y.S.2d 561, 382 N.E.2d 1337, 1978 N.Y. LEXIS 2288 (N.Y. 1978).

15. Exemptions—generally

Federal credit unions (FCUs) were not exempt from the New York State mortgage recording tax (MRT) imposed by N.Y. Tax Law § 253 as: (1) if federal credit union mortgages were intended to be excluded from MRTs, such immunity would have been stated in the Federal Credit Union Act, specifically 12 U.S.C.S. § 1768, and it was not; (2) the term "property" in § 1768 could not be construed broadly to encompass mortgage loans; (3) Congress could not have intended § 1768 to exempt the mortgage loans since when the provision was enacted, credit unions could issue such loans; (4) when Congress granted FCUs the power to offer residential mortgages, it did not amend § 1768 to include mortgages, or articulate an intent to include mortgages in the property exempt from state taxation; and (5) there was little danger that the MRT would drive federal credit unions out of business. Hudson Val. Fed. Credit Union v New York State Dept. of Taxation & Fin., 20 N.Y.3d 1, 956 N.Y.S.2d 425, 980 N.E.2d 473, 2012 N.Y. LEXIS 2719 (N.Y. 2012).

Tax on mortgage claimed to be exempt notwithstanding statute providing circumstances under which statutory exemption is not available should not be incurred as long as parties are careful not to extinguish original debt so as not to create new indebtedness, and it matters not that mortgagor has paid tax on indebtedness which never actually came into existence, representing amount it never received, inasmuch as tax is imposed on debt which may be secured where it exceeds amount actually advanced; different rule governs, however, by statute, in case of mortgages given in trust to secure corporate bonds. Woodmere Knolls, Inc. v Procaccino, 52 A.D.2d 979, 383 N.Y.S.2d 105, 1976 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 12860 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1976).

16. —Tax applied

State Tax Commission properly denied mortgagee's application for refund of mortgage recording tax even though New York Employees' Retirement System (system), tax exempt entity, was "end lender" destined to hold mortgage, for at time mortgage was recorded, (1) mortgagor and mortgagee, both private entities, were only parties to mortgage, (2) system had advanced no funds to mortgagor, (3) mortgage did not secure any obligation owed to system, and (4) mortgagor was not acting as agent for system; when parties involved in such transaction are private concerns, recording tax is due at time of recording, notwithstanding eventual ownership of debts by governmental instrumentality under previous agreement. C. E. Towers Co. v State Tax Com., 135 A.D.2d 976, 522 N.Y.S.2d 384, 1987 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 52873 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1987), app. denied, 71 N.Y.2d 804, 528 N.Y.S.2d 829, 524 N.E.2d 149, 1988 N.Y. LEXIS 553 (N.Y. 1988).

17. —Hospital corporation

It is not purpose or intention for which separate corporation is organized, but whether for mortgage tax purposes it is a hospital as defined in statute, that determines its exemption. If nonprofit hospital seeking some special advantage separately incorporates for such advantage, separate corporation cannot thereafter be classified as "voluntary nonprofit hospital corporation" for purpose of seeking relief from imposition of mortgage tax. St. St. Joseph's Health Center Properties, Inc. v State Tax Com., 55 A.D.2d 484, 391 N.Y.S.2d 16, 1977 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 10006 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't), app. denied, 41 N.Y.2d 804, 1977 N.Y. LEXIS 3039 (N.Y. 1977).

In an Article 78 proceeding to review the imposition of a mortgage recording tax on a charity foundation with respect to the foundation's execution as mortgagor of a construction mortgage for the purposes of a village's housing development for the elderly, the tax was properly imposed where the housing development, which was not operated only for the benefit of the infirm or disabled, was unrelated to the hospital functions of the foundation, and where the multicorporate purposes that were stated in the foundation's certificate of incorporation did not limit its activities only to the establishment of hospitals, despite the fact that the foundation was primarily a voluntary, nonprofit, hospital corporation. Church Charity Foundation v State Tax Com., 91 A.D.2d 746, 457 N.Y.S.2d 984, 1982 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 19632 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1982).

18. —Federal agencies

Federal credit union's (FCU) claim that it was a federal instrumentality entitled to exemption from the New York State mortgage recording tax imposed by N.Y. Tax Law § 253 under the Supremacy Clause, U.S. Const. art. VI, cl. 2, was rejected as FCUs were private associations chartered under federal law, and were wholly owned, funded and managed by their members; FCUs were not so closely connected to the federal government that they could not be viewed as separate entities with respect to mortgage-lending activities. Hudson Val. Fed. Credit Union v New York State Dept. of Taxation & Fin., 20 N.Y.3d 1, 956 N.Y.S.2d 425, 980 N.E.2d 473, 2012 N.Y. LEXIS 2719 (N.Y. 2012).

19. —Miscellaneous public agencies

An industrial development agency is exempt from payment of the mortgage recording tax. 1982 Op St Compt No. 82-188, 1982 N.Y. Comp. LEXIS 559.

20. —Refund

Inasmuch as the New York State Employees' Retirement System, a state agency, enjoys an immunity of taxation independent from the statutory exemptions listed in the Tax Law for property utilized in the public interest, and the fact that retirement system property consisting of funds loaned to a private party and secured by a mortgage does not negate its immunity, the imposition of a mortgage recording tax upon petitioner mortgagor pursuant to Tax Law § 253 was unlawful and the recovery of interest upon the tax refund due from the State Tax Commission would be allowed even in the absence of specific provision for interest in the taxing statute. Hotel Waldorf-Astoria Corp. v State Tax Com., 86 A.D.2d 330, 451 N.Y.S.2d 261, 1982 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 15715 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't), app. denied, 58 N.Y.2d 603, 459 N.Y.S.2d 1026, 445 N.E.2d 218, 1982 N.Y. LEXIS 6544 (N.Y. 1982).

Neither New York State nor New York City mortgage recording tax was applicable to various transactions at issue, including lease and transfer of title to New York City Industrial Development Agency. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-93-(1.1)R.

Mortgagee was required to pay special additional mortgage tax where there were fewer than 6 residential dwellings with separate cooking facilities located on mortgaged property. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-81-(1)M.

Recording of mortgages by City of Syracuse Industrial Development Agency, as well as of any other related documents recording of which would otherwise be subject to tax under CLS Tax Law Art 11, was not subject to taxes imposed under CLS Tax § 253. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-82-(1)M.

Creation of lien did in fact lie within contemplation of parties, and thus tax was due under CLS Tax Law Art 11 on recordation of instrument which provided "That this instrument shall not be a lien against said premise in respect to any mortgages that hereafter may be placed against said premises and the recording of said mortgage or mortgages shall have preference and precedence and be superior and prior in lien of this agreement, irrespective of the date of recording and the said (vendee) agrees to execute any such instrument without cost, which may be deemed necessary or desirable to further effect the subordination of this agreement to any such mortgage or mortgages." NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-84-(2)M.

Assignment of mortgage by City University of New York was not subject to mortgage recording tax since assignment did not constitute mortgage. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-86-(1)M.

Mortgage recording tax would not apply where mortgages, assignment of contract to trust, assignment of rents, and declaration of trust would not be recorded; however, tax would apply at time such documents were recorded. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-93-(14)R.

Deed did not rise to level of mortgage, and its recording was not subject to mortgage recording taxes, where its sole purpose was transferring title to property and was not intended as mortgage or security interest. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-93-(14)R.

Recording of supplemental mortgage, merely for purposes of adding new owner as mortgagor and merely correcting mortgage to also secure note, was not subject to additional mortgage recording tax. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-90-(2)R.

No mortgage recording taxes would be imposed at time financing or refinancing was obtained, or when petitioners entered into trust lease, where memoranda of trust leases, assignment of trust leases and mortgages, notes and certificates, assignment of agreement to acquire condominium interests, and assignment of perfected and first priority security interests would not be recorded or indexed in real estate records (there would only be UCC filing against non-real property interests); however, if such instruments were recorded or indexed in real estate records at subsequent time, such recording or indexing of those instruments would be subject to taxes measured by principal debt or obligation which might be secured at date of execution or at any time thereafter. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-96-(5)R.

Further assignment by Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority (TBTA) to trustee of TBTA's rights and assumption by trustee of TBTA's obligations (if any) under fee mortgage and collateral assignment were not subject to mortgage recording taxes. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-97-(4)R.

Funding of loan to (and execution and delivery of loan certificates by) trustee only after assignment were not subject to mortgage recording taxes. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-97-(4)R.

Payment and performance by trustee of its obligations under, holding by lenders of, and/or enforcement by lenders of their rights and remedies under or as to any of loan certificates, loan documents, loan agreement, leasehold mortgage, assignment of rents, or fee mortgage were not subject to mortgage recording taxes. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-97-(4)R.

4. —Incidental indebtedness

Mortgages to savings and loan associations securing a principal debt and also premiums, dues, fines, penalties, etc., in addition to interest were taxable only upon principal debt, and the premiums, fines, etc., were not considered as principal. 1919 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 104.

Where a mortgage secured repayment of money loaned by an insurance company, in instalments, and also secured the payment of premiums on a policy of life insurance which was not issued exclusively as additional collateral for the loan, those premiums were part of the "principal debt or obligation". 1919 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 137.

"Profit Rate" did not constitute part of "principal debt or obligation" secured by mortgage, but rather was incidental amount within meaning and intent of mortgage recording tax regulations § 648.1(b)(1). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-02-(4)R.

5. —Contingencies

The liability on the recording of a mortgage relates to the full amount of the mortgage and not to the lesser contingent amount. 1910 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 679.

No tax was due upon the recording of an executory contract, where possession was not to be given until the completion of certain payments, when the deed was to be given and mortgaged back for the balance. 1927 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 228.

Mortgages to savings and loan associations securing a principal debt and also premiums, dues, fines, penalties, etc., in addition to interest were taxable only upon principal debt, and the premiums, dues, fines, etc., were not considered as principal. 1919 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 104.

Where a mortgage secured repayment of money loaned by an insurance company, in instalments, and also secured the payment of premiums on a policy of life insurance which was not issued exclusively as additional collateral to the loan, those premiums were part of the "principal debt or obligation." 1919 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 137.

6. New or further indebtedness—generally

7. —Tax not applicable

Mortgage recording taxes were not applicable in connection with refinancing of debt, evidenced by existing note and secured by primary reported mortgage where existing note and mortgage were assigned by trustee under commercial mortgage backed securities trust to new lender in exchange for defeasance note and security agreement; mortgage and its underlying note had not become due and payable and paid in full so as to prevent recording of assignment to new lender under CLS Real P § 275. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-00-(1)R, 2000 N.Y. Tax LEXIS 72.

Mortgage can be assigned either for cash or any other bona fide consideration and, provided mortgage continues to secure bona fide indebtedness, mortgage may be assigned in conformity with CLS Real P § 275; further, recording of assignment of mortgage, in and of itself, is not subject to mortgage recording taxes. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-00-(1)R, 2000 N.Y. Tax LEXIS 72.

Neither CLS Real P § 275 nor CLS Tax § 258 would prevent recording of assignment of mortgage and underlying note to new lender; further, once assignment was recorded, instrument which was considered supplemental mortgage as to mortgage, as set forth in CLS Tax § 255(1)(a) and as defined in Mortgage Recording Taxes Regulations § 645(1)(a), could be recorded without further payment of mortgage recording taxes unless such instrument created or secured new or further indebtedness other than indebtedness secured by mortgage. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-00-(1)R, 2000 N.Y. Tax LEXIS 72.

Recordation of deed conveying condominium unit by limited liability company to trustee would be treated as conveyance by limited liability company to petitioner of fee title to condominium unit, followed by conveyance by petitioner to trustee of fee title to condominium unit as security for petitioner's indebtedness to participants in condominium project; thus, recordation of deed would be considered recordation of mortgage encumbering condominium unit for purposes of mortgage recording tax. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-01-(7)R.

Assuming that proper amount of mortgage recording tax had been paid on recording of mortgage(s) granted by limited liability company (LLC) to acquisition/construction lender under acquisition/construction financing, and that consolidation and severance of mortgage did not create or secure any new or further indebtedness in addition to that on which mortgage recording tax had been paid, recording of instrument which by its terms consolidated separate mortgages granted by LLC to secure acquisition/construction financing into single mortgage would not be subject to additional mortgage recording tax. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-01-(7)R.

Assuming that proper amount of mortgage recording tax had been paid on recording of mortgage(s) granted by limited liability company (LLC) to acquisition/construction lender under acquisition/construction financing, and that consolidation and severance of mortgage did not create or secure any new or further indebtedness in addition to that on which mortgage recording tax had been paid, recording of agreement severing mortgage into separate mortgages securing condominium project units' respective allocable shares of proceeds advanced under acquisition/construction financing would not be subject to additional mortgage recording tax, and recording of assignment of participants' mortgage by acquisition/financing lender to administrative agent as agent for participants would not be subject to additional mortgage recording tax. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-01-(7)R.

Recording of any assignment, supplement, modification, or amendment of mortgages on property that was part of New York State Urban Development Corporation's land use project was not subject to mortgage recording tax to extent that (1) instrument was not mortgage subject to tax under CLS Tax § 253 (as in case of assignment of mortgages), (2) recording tax was exempt under supplemental mortgage provisions of CLS Tax § 255, but only to extent that principal indebtedness or obligation that was secured by prior primary mortgage was not increased or added to, or (3) Corporation was named as mortgagee or co-mortgagee as to such assignment, supplement, modification, or amendment. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-97-(5)R.

Mortgage recording taxes would not apply where consolidation of existing mortgages and new mortgage to form single lien would not create or secure new or further indebtedness or obligation other than principal indebtedness or obligation secured by or which under any contingency could be secured by recorded primary mortgage on which proper tax, if any, had been paid. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-93-(19)R.

8. —Urban development corporation

Where Urban Development Corporation, as named mortgagee under land use improvement project mortgages, could record mortgages without payment of mortgage recording taxes imposed under CLS Tax § 253, recording of any assignment, supplement, modification, or amendment of any mortgage was exempt from mortgage recording tax to extent that principal amount of secured indebtedness was not increased; where principal amount of secured indebtedness was increased, mortgage recording tax was due only as to amount of increase. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-89-(2)R.

Rationale exempting Urban Development Corporation from mortgage recording tax imposed by CLS Tax Law Art 11 would seem applicable to mortgage recording tax imposed by Chapter 26 of Title 11 of New York City Administrative Code; however, definitive opinion on City mortgage recording tax should come from New York City Finance Administration. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-89-(2)R.

Mortgage recording tax is not due on recording of any mortgage recorded in connection with Octagon Project (Roosevelt Island development by state Urban Development Corporation), if petitioner is named mortgagee (whether as trustee, agent, nominee or otherwise) and petitioner presents mortgage for recording; to extent that mortgage continues to secure same principal debt or obligation, recording of any assignment, supplement, modification, or amendment of such mortgage is exempt from mortgage recording tax, either because such action does not create new mortgage subject to tax under CLS Tax § 253, or because instrument constitutes supplemental mortgage under CLS Tax § 255. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-09-(1)R.

9. —Future advances

Mortgage executed to secure repayment of advances and readvances made to reimburse borrower for expenses incurred in making improvements on real property would not qualify as credit line mortgage since such mortgage would be made under "building loan contract," whether principal amount of mortgage was greater or less than $3 million. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-99-(2)R.

Mortgage executed to secure repayment of advances and readvances made to fund making of improvements on real property would not qualify as credit line mortgage since such mortgage would be made under "building loan contract," whether or not principal amount of mortgage was greater or less than $3 million. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-99-(2)R.

10. —Bonds

Whether amendment and restatement of first mortgage bonds by New York State Energy Research and Development Authority represented issuance of further or additional indebtedness was irrelevant for purposes of mortgage recording taxes inasmuch as Authority was state agency exempt from taxation. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-94-(1)R, 1994 N.Y. Tax LEXIS 795.

11. —Other renegotiation of mortgage

Modification of existing mortgage, in order to secure, as additional interest, interest on accrued and unpaid interest on original mortgage indebtedness, without increasing maximum principal indebtedness secured by original mortgage, was not subject to any additional mortgage recording taxes under CLS Tax § 255 since it did not create or secure new or further indebtedness or obligation other than principal indebtedness or obligation secured by or which under any contingency could be secured by recorded primary mortgages. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-91-(5)R.

Provisions of CLS Tax § 258 would prevent release, discharge, or enforcement of prior recorded mortgages were principal advances, including principal advances in form of unpaid interest, were made that exceeded amount on which tax had been paid; thus, if advances attributable to modification of existing mortgages for unpaid interest when aggregated with outstanding principal balances exceeded maximum amounts secured, such mortgages would only be enforceable up to stated maximum amounts. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-91-(5)R.

Where mortgagor is exempt organization under CLS Tax § 253(1-a)(b), special additional mortgage recording tax shall be paid by mortgagee and cannot be passed on to mortgagor or any other party in accordance with CLS Tax § 253(1-a)(a). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-92-(9)R.

To extent that principal amount of secured indebtedness was not increased, recording of any assignment, supplement, modification, or amendment of any recognized mortgage was exempt from mortgage recording tax either because such action did not create new mortgage subject to tax under CLS Tax § 253, or because such action constituted "supplemental mortgage" under CLS Tax § 255; where principal amount of secured indebtedness of recognized mortgage was increased, recording tax was due only as to amount of increase. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-93-(4)R.

Mortgage modification agreement was supplemental instrument or mortgage, recording of which would not be subject to additional mortgage recording taxes, since agreement provided that accrued interest being deferred would be paid in fixed some at maturity, would not bear interest, and would not be added to principal amount of mortgage; agreement did not create or secure new or further indebtedness or obligation other than principal indebtedness or obligation secured by recorded primary mortgage, but merely extended due date for when accrued interest was payable. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-93-(12)R.

Leasehold mortgage and personal property security interest constituted supplemental mortgages under CLS Tax § 255, in relation to mortgage given by Port Authority of New York and New Jersey to trustee, assuming that they were recorded subsequent to recording of mortgage given by Authority to trustee, since they were given for purpose of imposing lien on property (i.e., leasehold interest and personal property of petitioner) not originally covered by or not described in recorded primary mortgage for purpose of securing principal indebtedness secured by prior recorded primary mortgage; thus, leasehold mortgage and personal property security interest granted by petitioner to trustee could be recorded without payment of mortgage recording tax. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-96-(3)R.

Where mortgage is already of record and proper amount of mortgage recording tax has been paid, mortgage recording tax is imposed on recording of supplemental instrument or mortgage only to extent such instrument serves to increase amount of secured indebtedness beyond that which is secured by primary recorded mortgage. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-01-(7)R.

Deed would be considered supplemental instrument or mortgage recorded pursuant to recorded mortgage; thus, recording of conveyance of deed subject to mortgage would be subject to mortgage recording tax only to extent that it created or secured new or further indebtedness or obligation over and above indebtedness or obligation secured by recorded mortgage. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-01-(7)R.

Since recording of amended and restated mortgage would be supplemental to recorded mortgage and deed, and would not secure any additional indebtedness, it would not be subject to any additional mortgage recording tax. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-01-(7)R.

Subsequent to recording of mortgage on which all taxes, if any, have been paid, supplemental instrument or mortgage is recorded for purposes of modifying prior recorded primary mortgage, such additional instrument or mortgage would not be subject to taxes imposed under CLS Tax § 253 unless it created or secured new or further indebtedness or obligation other than principal indebtedness or obligation secured by or which under any contingency could be secured by recorded primary mortgage; thus, since amended mortgage presented for recording would not create or secure new or further indebtedness or obligation other than principal indebtedness or obligation secured by mortgage, recording of amended mortgage constituted recording of supplemental mortgage or instrument under CLS Tax § 255 and thus would not be subject to mortgage recording taxes. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-95-(6)R.

Provided proper procedures were followed for recording of tax exempt supplemental mortgage under CLS Tax § 255, there was no mortgage recording tax due and payable on recording of modification agreement, which constituted supplemental mortgage that did not create or secure new or further indebtedness or obligation other than principal indebtedness or obligation secured or which under any contingency could be secured by mortgage. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-95-(13)R.

To extent that split and modification of existing mortgage do not extinguish original debt and do not create new indebtedness, such mortgage is exempt from mortgage recording tax, either because such action will not create new mortgage subject to tax under CLS Tax § 253 or because instrument constitutes supplemental mortgage under CLS Tax § 255 provided that instrument so recorded is not subject to tax under CLS Tax § 255(1)(a)(ii). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-07-(4)R.

12. Computation of tax

13. —Property in different counties

The tax upon mortgages covering property in different counties only applies to such mortgages as are recorded on or subsequent to July 1, 1906, even though offered for recording in other counties. 1909 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 557.

Where a supplemental indenture mortgaged real property under terms and conditions of an original trust agreement which was secured by personal property only, the mortgage tax had to be computed on the amount of indebtedness which remained when the supplemental indenture was executed and a lien on real property created, not on the amount of indebtedness secured at the execution of the original trust agreement. 1918 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 216.

Although "revolver" characteristic of loan resulted in mortgage for indefinite amount, petitioner properly capped maximum amount secured at $400,000; thus, on recordation of mortgage, mortgage recording taxes would be computed on $400,000, which was amount stated to be secured by such mortgage. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-93-(15)R, 1993 N.Y. Tax LEXIS 629.

In "cost-plus sale" form of financing, recording of mortgage resulted in imposition of mortgage recording tax computed solely on "Base Amount" being financed by finance company. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-02-(4)R.

14. Exemptions—generally

15. —Tax applied

New York State-chartered credit union, incorporated under CLS Bank Art 11, is not exempt from special additional tax on mortgages imposed under CLS Tax Art 11, since, under CLS Bank § 460(1), State-chartered credit union may pay earnings to its members. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-06-(1)R, ADVISORY OPINION - PETITION NO. M051201A N.Y. Dep't of Tax'n & Fin. May 30, 2006, 2006 N.Y. Tax LEXIS 129 (N.Y. Dep't of Tax'n & Fin. May 30, 2006).

16. —Hospital corporation

Ground lease/leaseback constituted mortgage given by petitioner, as mortgagor to trust as mortgagee, and since petitioner was voluntary nonprofit hospital corporation, recording of ground lease/leaseback was exempt from mortgage recording tax. NY Adv Op Comm T&F TSB-A-98(3) R.

Exemption from mortgage recording tax applied to 43.3 percent of leasehold mortgage representing expenditures for diagnostic and treatment center, and portion of common space reasonably apportioned to diagnostic and treatment center; remainder of mortgage proceeds that were not utilized for hospital-related purposes were subject to tax. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-02-(3)R, 2002 N.Y. Tax LEXIS 128.

17. —Urban development corporation

Mortgage recording tax was not due on recording of any mortgage recorded in connection with waterfront development use improvement project, if New York State Urban Development Corporation d/b/a Empire State Development Corporation or Queens West Development Corporation was named mortgagee (whether as trustee, agent, nominee, or otherwise) and either of those corporations presented mortgage for recording; further, to extent that mortgage continued to secure same principal debt or obligation, recording of any assignment, supplement, modification, or amendment of mortgage was exempt from mortgage recording tax, either because such action did not create new mortgage subject to Tax under CLS Tax § 253, or because instrument constitute "supplemental mortgage" under CLS Tax § 255. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-00-(3)R.

Mortgage recording tax was not due on recording of any mortgage recorded in connection with land use improvement project, if New York State Urban Development Corporation d/b/a Empire State Development Corporation was named mortgagee (whether as trustee, agent, nominee, or otherwise) and Corporation presented mortgage for recording; further, to extent that mortgage continued to secure same principal debt or obligation, recording of any assignment, supplement, modification, or amendment of mortgage was exempt from mortgage recording tax, either because such instrument did not create new mortgage subject to Tax under CLS Tax § 253, or because such instrument constituted "supplemental mortgage" under CLS Tax § 255. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-01-(1)R.

Urban Development Corporation, as named mortgagee under land use improvement project mortgages securing loans whose proceeds would be used for project acquisition and development costs, could record mortgages without payment of mortgage recording taxes imposed under CLS Tax § 253. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-89-(2)R.

Petitioner, New York State Urban Development Corporation, as mortgagee, could record mortgages without payment of mortgage recording taxes. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-93-(4)R.

Inasmuch as CLS Tax § 252 was enacted in 1909, and last amended in 1966, it must yield to exemption provisions contained in law creating New York State Urban Development Corporation (UDC Act), which were enacted in 1968; thus, if provisions of UDC Act exempted from recording tax mortgages created under project in question, such exemption provisions would prevail. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-93-(4)R.

Recording of instrument in which petitioner, New York State Urban Development Corporation, was named mortgagee to increase principal amount of indebtedness secured by recognized mortgage was not subject to mortgage recording tax. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-93-(4)R.

Mortgage recording taxes were not due on recording of any mortgage of property that was part of New York State Urban Development Corporation's land use project if Corporation was named mortgagee or co-mortgagee (whether as trustee, agent, or otherwise) and recognized mortgages were recorded prior to time that Corporation assigned its interest in mortgages to other lenders or its co-mortgagee. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-97-(5)R.

Mortgage recording tax was not due on recording of any mortgage recorded in connection with development project if New York State Urban Development Corporation (UDC) or its subsidiary Queens West Development Corporation (QWDC) was named mortgagee (whether as trustee, agent, nominee, or otherwise), and UDC and QWDC presented mortgage for recording. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-95-(15)R.

18. —Not for profit development corporation

Mortgage recording tax is not due on recording of mortgage by housing development fund company where such company is lender/mortgagee; thus, mortgages entered into by Habitat for Humanity Development Fund Company in connection with Habitat for Humanity-New York City program were not subject to mortgage recording tax. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-00-(4)R.

Petitioner, not-for-profit corporation which executed mortgage to construct intermediate care facility certified by office of Mental Retardation and Development Disabilities under CLS Men Hyg §§ 31.02(a)(1) and 31.05 and 14 NYCRR § 681.13, was not exempt from mortgage recording tax since it was not voluntary nonprofit hospital corporation as provided in CLS Tax § 253(3). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-85-(1)M, 1985 N.Y. Tax LEXIS 406.

Mortgages given to or by petitioner, not-for-profit local development corporation, were exempt from mortgage recording taxes since petitioner was reincorporated under CLS N-PCL § 1411, and CLS N-PCL § 1411(f) provided that income and operations of corporations incorporated or reincorporated under such section shall be exempt from taxation. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-93-(13)R.

If petitioner, tax-exempt not-for-profit corporation about to execute mortgage with lending institution, was organization that had established exemption under Internal Revenue Code § 501(a), petitioner would be exempt from portion of mortgage recording tax representing special additional tax, but would be subject to basic tax, additional tax, and tax on mortgages recorded in cities having population of one million or more. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-90-(3)R, 1990 N.Y. Tax LEXIS 94.

19. —Port authorities

Mortgage from Port Authority of New York and New Jersey to trustee, which included rental payable to Authority, was mortgage under CLS Tax Law Art 11 and could be recorded without payment of tax is borrower was state agency. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-92-(5)R.

Leasehold mortgage granted to trustee by general partnership as supplemental mortgage to assignment of rents granted by Port Authority of New York and New Jersey could be recorded without payment of mortgage recording tax, provided assignment of rents granted by Authority to trustee was recorded first; unless mortgage to be granted by partnership to trustee was recorded subsequent to recording of assignment of rents there was no supplemental mortgage and no exemption. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-92-(5)R.

Recording of mortgage given by Port Authority of New York and New Jersey to trustee in form of assignment of rents was exempt from mortgage recording tax since Authority was agency or instrumentality of New York State. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-96-(3)R.

20. —Bridge and tunnel authorities

Recording of leasehold mortgages granted by Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority (TBTA) to lenders on its leasehold interest in leased property under lease of property by Metropolitan Transit Authority to TBTA, and assignment of rents in such mortgages, under specific terms and conditions where TBTA was named mortgagor, was exempt from mortgage recording taxes. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-97-(4)R.

In accordance with CLS Tax §§ 250 and 253, assignment by Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority (TBTA) to trustee of its rights (if any), and assumption by trustee of TBTA's obligations, under leasehold mortgages granted by TBTA to lenders on its leasehold interest in leased property under lease of property by Metropolitan Transit Authority to TBTA, and assignment of rents in such mortgages, were not events which would cause mortgage recording taxes to be imposed. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-97-(4)R.

Funding of loan and execution and delivery of loan certificates to trustee only after assignment were not subject to mortgage recording taxes in situation where execution, delivery or recording by Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority (TBTA) of 2 mortgages granted by TBTA to lenders on its leasehold interest in leased property under lease of leased property by Metropolitan Transportation Authority (MTA) to TBTA and assignment of rents in said mortgages and in loan agreement under sublease of leased property by TBTA to MTA where (a) TBTA was named mortgagor, (b) loan secured in part by leasehold mortgage and assignment of rents would be provided by one or more persons or entities other than, and unrelated to, MTA, (c) documents for and securing loan were executed by TBTA, but loan was funded only after either (x) assignment of all of TBTA's right, title, and interest in lease, sublease, support assets purchase option, loan documents, leasehold mortgage and assignment of rents, and collateral assignment to trustee under trust agreement with grantor and assumption by trustee of all of TBTA's obligations (and release of TBTA) under lease, sublease, loan documents, leasehold mortgage and assignment of rents, and collateral assignment or (y) on satisfaction of certain conditions and authorizations relating to possibility of funding loan prior to assignment, which conditions and authorizations were not expected to occur, and (d) proceeds of loan were used by trustee (as successor in interest to TBTA) to fund portion of lump sum payment to MTA, which sum constituted prepaid rent under lease and cost for option giving trustee right to extend initial lease term. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-97-(4)R.

Payment and performance by trustee of its obligations under, holding by lenders of, and/or enforcement by lenders of their rights and remedies under or as to loan certificates, loan documents, loan agreement, leasehold mortgage and assignment of rents, or fee mortgage were not subject to mortgage recording taxes in situation where execution, delivery or recording by Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority (TBTA) of 2 mortgages granted by TBTA to lenders on its leasehold interest in leased property under lease of leased property by Metropolitan Transportation Authority (MTA) to TBTA and assignment of rents in said mortgages and in loan agreement under sublease of leased property by TBTA to MTA where (a) TBTA was named mortgagor, (b) loan secured in part by leasehold mortgage and assignment of rents would be provided by one or more persons or entities other than, and unrelated to, MTA, (c) documents for and securing loan were executed by TBTA, but loan was funded only after either (x) assignment of all of TBTA's right, title, and interest in lease, sublease, support assets purchase option, loan documents, leasehold mortgage and assignment of rents, and collateral assignment to trustee under trust agreement with grantor and assumption by trustee of all of TBTA's obligations (and release of TBTA) under lease, sublease, loan documents, leasehold mortgage and assignment of rents, and collateral assignment or (y) on satisfaction of certain conditions and authorizations relating to possibility of funding loan prior to assignment, which conditions and authorizations were not expected to occur, and (d) proceeds of loan were used by trustee (as successor in interest to TBTA) to fund portion of lump sum payment to MTA, which sum constituted prepaid rent under lease and cost for option giving trustee right to extend initial lease term. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-97-(4)R.

Recording of fee mortgage (where Metropolitan Transportation Authority was mortgagor and Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority was mortgagee) was exempt from mortgage recording taxes since at least one party to mortgage at time of recording was agency or instrumentality of New York State. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-97-(4)R.

21. —Federal agencies

Mortgages entered into between U.S. Army and private housing corporation could be recorded without payment of mortgage recording taxes imposed under CLS Tax Art 11 where proceeds of mortgage would be used for government purpose of rehabilitation and reconstruction of military housing units located at military base. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-04-(1)R.

22. —Miscellaneous public agencies

Exemption from payment of mortgage recording tax was applicable where recorded construction loan mortgage given by housing development fund company (HDFC) was severed to cover different portions of originally mortgaged premises and HDFC executed 2 or more substitute mortgages in favor of original mortgagee, and original construction loan mortgage did not expressly contemplate or describe severance of mortgage and execution of replacement mortgages; further, exemption would also apply where original construction loan mortgage expressly contemplated and provided for severance of mortgage and execution of replacement mortgages. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-01-(4)R.

Mortgage recording tax would not be due on recording of any mortgage recorded in connection with portion of community development project, if Roosevelt Island Operating Corporation (RIOC) was named mortgagee (whether as trustee, agent, nominee, or otherwise), and RIOC presented mortgage for recording; further, to extent that mortgage continued to secure same principal debt or obligation, recording of any assignment, supplement, modification, or amendment of mortgage was exempt from mortgage recording tax, either because such action did not create new mortgage subject to tax under CLS Tax § 253, or because instrument constituted "supplemental mortgage" under CLS Tax § 255. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-01-(5)R.

Mortgage from corporation to Administrator of Federal Railroad Administration was not subject to mortgage recording tax since mortgagee was instrumentality or agency of United States which was immune from taxation by New York State. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-90-(9)R.

Mortgages which arise directly from operation of State of New York Mortgage Agency's Forward Commitment Program are exempt from mortgage recording taxes imposed by CLS Tax Law Art 11. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-84-(1)M.

Recording of mortgage by City University of New York, as instrumentality of New York State, was exempt from mortgage recording tax. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-86-(1)M.

Mortgage recording tax would not be imposed on recording of Supplemental Mortgage Indenture to be entered into in conjunction with issuance by New York State Energy Research and Development Authority of certain refunding revenue bonds and concurrent amendment and restatement of certain first mortgage bonds of Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-98-(4)R.

To extent that creation of payments in lieu of real estate taxes (PILOT) mortgage was authorized by CLS Gen Mun § 858, recording of such PILOT mortgage was exempt from imposition of New York State and New York City mortgage recording taxes. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-93-(18)R.

Amendment to loan agreement to increase indebtedness back to original amount constituted additional indebtedness subject to mortgage recording taxes; however, since Town of Hempstead Industrial Development Agency was party to such mortgage, recording of amended loan agreement to effectuate such increase in indebtedness was exempt from taxation. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-93-(19)R.

Amendment and restatement of first mortgage bonds, and concurrent recordation of supplemental mortgage indenture, being undertaken for benefit of, and to support issuance of refunding bonds by, New York State Energy Research and Development Authority, state agency, were exempt from imposition of mortgage recording taxes. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-94-(1)R, 1994 N.Y. Tax LEXIS 795.

Mortgage recording tax would not be due on recording by Battery Park City Authority of one or more mortgages on New York Mercantile Exchange (NYMEX) on leasehold interests in leased property to which Authority would be either named mortgagee or named mortgagor, provided that proceeds of mortgage(s) were used for project development costs, and either Authority was initial named mortgagee under mortgage, or Authority executed mortgage with NYMEX, as co-mortgagor. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-95-(1)R.

To extent principal amount of secured indebtedness was not increased, recording by Battery Park City Authority of any assignments, modifications, amendments, spreaders, consolidations, substitution, severance, restatements, and extensions of mortgage were exempt from mortgage recording tax either because such action would not create new mortgage, or because such action constituted "supplemental mortgage" under CLS Tax § 255; where principal amount of secured indebtedness of mortgage was increased, and Authority was not party to recorded instrument evidencing such increase, mortgage recording tax was due as to amount of increase. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-95-(1)R.

Construction loan mortgages recorded by Greater Syracuse Business Development Corporation (petitioner) were exempt from mortgage recording tax, even if mortgages were or might be assigned immediately after recording to private lender for duration of construction phase of project, but then reassigned to petitioner after completion of construction phase for remainder of their term, since petitioner was reincorporated under CLS N-PCL § 1411, and CLS N-PCL § 1411(f) provides that income and operations of corporations incorporated or reincorporated under such section shall be exempt from taxation. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-95-(16)R, 1995 N.Y. Tax LEXIS 907.

Recording tax is not due on recording of mortgage as part of Hunters Point (Queens West) Waterfront Development Use Improvement Project if either New York State Urban Development Corporation (dba Empire State Development Corporation) or Queens West Development Corporation (QWDC) is named mortgagee (whether as trustee, agent, nominee or otherwise) and presents mortgage for recording, and recording of assignment, supplement, modification or amendment of such mortgage is exempt from mortgage recording tax to extent that mortgage continues to secure same principal debt or obligation; however, mortgage recording tax would be imposed with respect to new or further indebtedness to extent that such tax would otherwise be required to be paid on new or further indebtedness. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-02(6)R.

23. —Reverse mortgage

Recording of reverse mortgage loan, including recording of reverse mortgage loan containing provision for compounding of interest, was not subject to mortgage recording taxes. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-94-(9)R.

24. —Applicability to previous statutes

Pertinent provisions of CLS Tax § 252 were enacted in 1909, and thus they would yield to exemption provisions contained in CLS Priv Hous Fin § 577, which were enacted in 1966. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-00-(4)R.

Inasmuch as CLS Tax § 252 was enacted in 1909, and last amended in 1966, it must yield to exemption provisions contained in law creating Urban Development Corporation (UDC) which were enacted in 1968; thus, if provisions of UDC Act exempt from recording Tax mortgages created under construction project, such exemption provisions would prevail. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-89-(2)R.

Recording of initial assignment, supplement, modification, or amendment of leasehold mortgage, and assignment of rents, fee mortgage, or collateral assignment to extent that then principal indebtedness or obligation secured by leasehold mortgage and assignment of rents or obligations under lease and sublease secured by fee mortgage or collateral assignment (as case may be) were not increased, were either exempt from mortgage recording taxes or were not subject to such taxes because such action did not create mortgage as defined in CLS Tax § 250; recording of any subsequent (following in time to initial assignment) assignment, supplement, modification, or amendment of leasehold mortgage, and assignment of rents, fee mortgage, or collateral assignment under conditions as in case of initial assignment, were either exempt from mortgage recording taxes or were not subject to such taxes for same reasons as in case of initial assignment of those instruments. ARTICLE 12-A Tax on Gasoline and Similar Motor Fuel

282. Definitions
284. Tax imposed
289-c. Refunds

HISTORY:

Add, L 1929, ch 364, § 1.

As used in this article,

1. a. With respect to motor fuel, "distributor" means any person, firm, association or corporation, who or which imports or causes to be imported into the state, for use, distribution, storage or sale within the state, any motor fuel; and also any person, firm, association or corporation who or which produces, refines, manufactures or compounds motor fuel within the state.

b. With respect to Diesel motor fuel, "distributor" means any person, firm, association or corporation (i) who or which imports or causes to be imported into the state, for use, distribution, storage or sale within the state, any Diesel motor fuel; (ii) who or which produces, refines, manufactures or compounds Diesel motor fuel within the state; (iii) who or which makes a sale or use of Diesel motor fuel in this state other than: (A) a retail sale not in bulk or (B) the self-use of Diesel motor fuel which has been the subject of a retail sale to such person; (iv) who or which is registered by the department as a distributor of kero-jet fuel pursuant to the provisions of subdivision two of section two hundred eighty-two-a of this article. For the purposes of this article when used with respect to Diesel motor fuel, a "retail sale not in bulk" means the making or offering to make any sale of Diesel motor fuel to a consumer of such fuel which is delivered directly into a motor vehicle for use in the operation of such vehicle. A "retail sale in bulk" means the making or offering to make any sale of Diesel motor fuel to a consumer which is other than a "retail sale not in bulk". Motor fuel or Diesel motor fuel brought into the state in the ordinary fuel tank connecting with the engine of a motor vehicle, aeroplane, motor boat or other conveyance propelled by the use of such motor fuel or Diesel motor fuel, and to be used only in the operation thereof, shall not be deemed imported within the meaning of this article, if not removed from such tank except as used in the propulsion of such engine.

2. "Motor fuel" means gasoline, benzol, reformulated blend stock for oxygenate blending, conventional blend stock for oxygenate blending, E85, fuel grade ethanol that meets the ASTM International active standards specifications D4806 or D4814 or other product which is suitable for use in operation of a motor vehicle engine.

3. "Motor vehicle" means any vehicle propelled by any power other than muscular, except boats, road building machinery, power shovels, tractor cranes, tractors used exclusively for agricultural purposes and such vehicles as are run only on rails or tracks.

4. "Purchaser" shall include, in addition to its usual meaning, the distributor in the case of transfer of motor fuel by a distributor from his, their or its stock, into a motor vehicle, or into a container from which motor fuel is supplied by the distributor to a motor vehicle or vehicles of the distributor or of others.

5. "Sale" shall include, in addition to its meaning under article twenty-eight of this chapter, the transfer of fuel by a distributor into a motor vehicle or into a receptacle from which fuel is supplied by him or it to his or its own or other motor vehicles.

6. "Filling station" shall include any place, location or station where motor fuel, highway Diesel motor fuel or water-white kerosene (exclusively for heating purposes in containers of no more than twenty gallons), is offered for sale at retail.

7. "Owner" shall include any person offering motor fuel for sale at retail.

8. "Person" includes an individual, copartnership, limited liability company, society, association, corporation, joint stock company, and any combination of individuals and also an executor, administrator, receiver, trustee or other fiduciary.

9. "Omnibus carrier" shall mean every person engaged in operating an omnibus line subject to the supervision of the state department of public service under article three-a of the public service law, including every person operating omnibuses used for the transportation of school children under a contract made pursuant to the provisions of the education law.

10. "Taxicab licensee" shall mean every corporation, company, association, partnership and person engaged in operating a taxicab, as defined in section one hundred forty-eight-a of the vehicle and traffic law, and licensed by local authorities as defined in section one hundred twenty-two of such law to operate at a fixed rate of fare.

11. "Nonpublic school operator" shall mean any nonpublic elementary or secondary school which owns or leases and operates any vehicle solely and exclusively for its purposes.

12. "Transporter" means any person who or which has the use or control, or the right to the use or control of any means of transportation used in transporting motor fuel including a barge, truck or pipeline. "Importing transporter" means any transporter who or which transports motor fuel in the state where such motor fuel is being imported into the state for use, distribution, storage or sale in the state. "Exporting transporter" means any transporter who or which transports motor fuel in this state where such motor fuel is being exported from a point in this state to without this state.

13. "Terminal" means a motor fuel or Diesel motor fuel storage facility with a storage capacity of fifty thousand gallons or more excluding such facility at which motor fuel or Diesel motor fuel is stored solely for its retail sale at such facility. "Terminal operator" means any person who or which has the use of or control over, or the right to so use or control, a terminal.

14. "Diesel motor fuel" shall mean No. 1 Diesel fuel, No. 2 Diesel fuel, biodiesel, kerosene, fuel oil or other middle distillate and also motor fuel suitable for use in the operation of an engine of the diesel type, excluding, however, any product specifically designated "No. 4 Diesel fuel" and not suitable as a fuel used in the operation of a motor vehicle engine.

15. [Repealed]

16. "Non-highway Diesel motor fuel" means any Diesel motor fuel that is designated for use other than on a public highway (except for the use of the public highway by farmers to reach adjacent lands), and is dyed Diesel motor fuel as defined in subdivision eighteen-a of this section.

16-a. "Highway Diesel motor fuel" means any Diesel motor fuel which is not non-highway Diesel motor fuel.

17. "Fixed base operator" means any person, firm, association or corporation, who or which engages in the sale of kero-jet fuel or aviation gasoline, or both, for airplanes from a fixed and permanent place at an airport within the state.

18. "Indian nation or tribe" means one of the following New York state Indian nations or tribes: Cayuga Nation, Oneida Nation of New York, Onondaga Nation, Poospatuck or Unkechauge Nation, Saint Regis Mohawk Tribe, Seneca Nation of Indians, Shinnecock Indian Nation, Tonawanda Band of Seneca and Tuscarora Nation.

18-a. "Dyed Diesel motor fuel" means Diesel motor fuel which has been dyed in accordance with and for the purpose of complying with the provisions of 26 USC § 4082(a) and the regulations thereunder, as may be amended from time to time.

19. "Qualified Indian" means a person duly enrolled on the tribal rolls of one of the Indian nations or tribes. In the case of the Cayuga Indian Nation of New York, such term shall include enrolled members of such nation when such enrolled members purchase motor fuel on any Seneca reservation.

20. "Qualified reservation" means

(a) lands held by an Indian nation or tribe that is located within the reservation of that nation or tribe in the state;

(b) lands within the state over which an Indian nation or tribe exercises governmental power and that are either (i) held by the Indian nation or tribe subject to restrictions by the United States against alienation, or (ii) held in trust by the United States for the benefit of such Indian nation or tribe;

(c) lands held by the Shinnecock Tribe or the Poospatuck (Unkechauge) Nation within their respective reservations; or

(d) any land that falls within paragraph (a) or (b) of this subdivision, and which may be sold and replaced with other land in accordance with an Indian nation's or tribe's land claims settlement agreement with the state of New York, shall nevertheless be deemed to be subject to restriction by the United States against alienation.

21. "Reservation motor fuel seller" means a seller of motor fuel or Diesel motor fuel which is an Indian nation or tribe, one or more members of such tribe, or an entity wholly owned by either or both, which sells motor fuel within the boundaries of a qualified reservation.

22. [Repealed Sept 1, 2021] "E85" means a fuel blend consisting of ethanol and motor fuel, which meets the ASTM International active standard D5798 for fuel ethanol.

23. [Repealed Sept 1, 2021] "B20" means a mixture consisting by volume of twenty percent biodiesel and the remainder of which is diesel motor fuel. "Biodiesel" shall mean either "qualified biodiesel" or "unqualified biodiesel." "Qualified biodiesel" means a diesel motor fuel substitute produced from nonpetroleum renewable resources that meets the registration requirements for fuels and fuel additives established by the Environmental Protection Agency under section 211 of the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. 7545) and that meets the ASTM International active standard D6751 for biodiesel fuel. "Unqualified biodiesel" means a diesel motor fuel substitute produced from nonpetroleum renewable resources that does not meet the ASTM International active standard D6751 for biodiesel fuel.

24. [Repealed Sept 1, 2021] "CNG" means fuel comprised primarily of methane, stored in either a gaseous or liquid state, suitable for use and consumption in the engine of a motor vehicle.

25. [Repealed Sept 1, 2021] "Hydrogen" means fuel comprised primarily of molecular hydrogen, stored in either a gaseous or liquid state, suitable for use and consumption in the engine of a motor vehicle.

26. "Public highway" means public highway as defined in subdivision six of section five hundred one of this chapter.

27. "Wholesaler of motor fuel" means any person, firm, association or corporation who or which: (1) is not a distributor of motor fuel; (2) makes a sale of motor fuel in this state other than a retail sale not in bulk; and (3)(A) makes any purchases of motor fuel for resale within the region set forth in subparagraph (i) or (ii) of paragraph one of subdivision (e) of section eleven hundred eleven of this chapter; or (B) makes any sales of motor fuel, other than retail sales not in bulk, within the region set forth in subparagraph (i) or (ii) of paragraph one of subdivision (e) of section eleven hundred eleven of this chapter. For the purposes of this article when used with respect to motor fuel, a "retail sale not in bulk" means the making or offering to make any sale of motor fuel to a consumer of such fuel which is delivered directly into a motor vehicle for use in the operation of such vehicle. A "retail sale in bulk" means the making or offering to make any sale of motor fuel to a consumer which is other than a "retail sale not in bulk".

Editor's Notes: Laws 1985, ch 44, § 42, eff June 1, 1985, provides in part as follows:

§ 42. This act shall take effect immediately, except that sections one through thirty-six shall take effect June first, nineteen hundred eighty-five . . . and shall apply to all taxable events respecting motor fuel as such events are defined in section eleven hundred two of the tax law, as amended by this act, and automotive fuel occurring on and after such date and an amount equivalent to the sales taxes paid by or passed through to a purchaser upon sales of motor fuel before such date at the regional average retail sales price pursuant to the provisions of articles twenty-eight and twenty-nine of the tax law in effect prior to such date shall be allowed such purchaser as a credit or refund, where a refund or credit would be allowable after such date under the tax law, as amended by this act, against the tax required to be prepaid pursuant to section eleven hundred two and passed through or required to be collected or paid pursuant to section eleven hundred five or eleven hundred ten of the tax law upon sales or uses of such motor fuel occurring on and after such date and provided further, however, that no refund or credit shall be allowed pursuant to this provision with respect to motor fuel placed into the ordinary fuel tank connected with the engine of such vehicle prior to such date notwithstanding use of such fuel thereafter.

§ 37. This act shall take effect immediately except that sections one through twenty-four of this act shall apply on and after such effective date (and provided that the department of taxation and finance shall immediately undertake all necessary steps and application review to insure that on October 1, 1986 all terminal operators and transporters, required to be licensed by the provisions of this act, are so licensed by such date and further provided that the single regional average retail sales price for motor fuel provided for in section thirty of this act, which shall replace the separate regional average retail sales price for leaded, unleaded and premium motor fuel, shall be prescribed and first become effective on September 1, 1986 and the commissioner of energy shall determine such single average retail sales price for each region before August 16, 1986 and such price shall be compiled from data with respect to the six-month period ending the last day of June, 1986) and except that sections twenty-five through twenty-eight of this act shall take effect December 1, 1986. (Amd, L 1989, ch 245, § 1, L 1990, ch 190, § 243, L 1992, ch 55, § 52, L 1993, ch 57, § 140, eff April 15, 1993.).

§ 75. (a) Section nineteen of this act insofar as it adds subdivision 6 to section 2 of the tax law; sections twenty through twenty-five, twenty-seven through thirty, thirty-two through thirty-nine, forty-one, forty-four through forty-six, forty-eight, fifty-two, fifty-six, fifty-seven, fifty-nine through sixty-two and sixty-four of this act; sections forty, fifty-three through fifty-five, sixty-five, sixty-six and sixty-eight through seventy of this act, except insofar as they define the term "limited liability company" by reference to the limited liability company law; and sections forty-three, forty-seven, forty-nine through fifty-one, fifty-eight and sixty-seven of this act, except insofar as they add a reference to a manager of a limited liability company, take effect immediately pursuant to section seventy-six of this act and are amendments of a merely clarifying nature which are not to be construed to change the result that limited liability companies and members thereof were also included within the meaning of the terms "partnership," "person", "association", "partner" or "member", as applicable, prior to the enactment of this act.

Laws 2005, ch 61, § 7 (Part K), eff March 1, 2006, provides as follows:

§ 7. This act shall take effect March 1, 2006, provided that any actions, rules and regulations necessary to implement the provisions of this act on its effective date are authorized and directed to be completed on or before such date. (Amd, L 2005, ch 63, § 4 (Part A), eff March 1, 2006.).

Laws 2006, ch 109, § 19 (Part W-1), eff June 23, 2006, provides as follows:

§ 19. This act shall take effect immediately; provided, however, that sections one through thirteen of this act shall take effect September 1, 2006 and shall be deemed repealed on September 1, 2021 and such repeal shall apply in accordance with the applicable transitional provisions of sections 1106 and 1217 of the tax law, and shall apply to sales made, fuel compounded or manufactured, and uses occurring on or after such date, and with respect to sections seven through eleven of this act, in accordance with applicable transitional provisions of sections 1106 and 1217 of the tax law; provided, however, that the commissioner of taxation and finance shall be authorized on and after the date this act shall have become a law to adopt and amend any rules or regulations and to take any steps necessary to implement the provisions of this act; provided further that sections fourteen through sixteen of this act shall take effect immediately and shall apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2006. Laws 2006, ch 302, § 12, eff July 26, 2006, provides as follows:

§ 12. This act shall take effect immediately; provided, however, that (a) sections one through three and eight through eleven of this act shall take effect on the first day of the first month next occurring 120 days after this act shall have become a law and shall apply to sales made on or after such date; provided that the commissioner of taxation and finance shall be authorized on and after the date this act shall have become a law to adopt and amend any rules or regulations and issue any procedures, forms or instructions necessary to implement the provisions of such sections of this act on their effective date.

(b) claims for refunds, credits, or reimbursements which expire on or before the date this act shall have become a law and which are revived under sections four through seven of this act, and claims for refunds, credits, or reimbursements which expire after the date this act shall have become a law, but before the ninetieth day after this act shall have become a law, and which are covered under the laws amended by such sections of this act may be filed by the later of the ninetieth day after this act shall have become a law or the date that the time to file a claim expires under the law as amended by such sections of this act.

§ 58. This act shall take effect September 1, 2011 and shall apply to sales or uses occurring on or after such date in accordance with the applicable transitional provisions in sections 1106 and 1217 of the tax law; provided, however, that:

(a) the amendments to subdivisions 22 and 23 of section 282 of the tax law, made by section one of this act shall not affect the repeal of such subdivisions and shall be deemed repealed therewith;.

§ 3. This act shall take effect immediately; provided, however, that the amendments made to subdivision 22 of section 282 of the tax law made by section one of this act shall not affect the repeal of such subdivision and shall be deemed repealed therewith.

Laws 2012, ch 59, § 7 (Part E), eff June 1, 2012, provides as follows:

§ 7. This act shall take effect June 1, 2012; provided, however, that the amendments to paragraph 2 of subdivision (a) of section 1102 of the tax law made by section five of this act shall be subject to the expiration and reversion of such paragraph pursuant to section 19 of part W1 of chapter 109 of the laws of 2006, as amended, when upon such date the provisions of section six of this act shall take effect; provided, further, that sections five and six of this act shall apply to sales made and uses occurring on and after such effective date in accordance with the applicable transitional provisions in sections 1106 and 1217 of the tax law.

Laws 2013, ch 174, § 1, eff as stated in 2013 note below, provides as follows:

Section 1. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "upstate New York gaming economic development act of 2013."

Laws 2016, ch 60, § 7 (Part UU), eff April 13, 2016, provides:

§ 7. This act shall take effect immediately; provided, however, that sections two, three, four, five and six of this act shall take effect December 1, 2016. Effective immediately, any rules, regulations and agreements necessary to implement the provisions of this act on its effective date are authorized and directed to be completed on or before such date.

Analysis

1. In general
2. Distributor

1. In general

Petitioner was engaged in the delivery of aviation fuels to airlines under agreements with oil companies and was required to make good on losses by evaporation and, to the extent that it paid for fuel loss by evaporation, it was a purchaser within the meaning of this section. Allied New York Services, Inc. v Bragalini, 4 A.D.2d 802, 164 N.Y.S.2d 506, 1957 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4725 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1957).

2. Distributor

A bus line is a distributor within the meaning of this section and entitled to deduct the equivalent of 1 per cent for services even though the gasoline it imports is primarily for its own consumption. Central Greyhound Lines, Inc. v Graves, 274 A.D. 679, 87 N.Y.S.2d 441, 1949 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5868 (N.Y. App. Div. 1949).

Petitioner, gasoline and motor fuel retailer in New York and New Jersey, is liable for unpaid New York motor fuel tax on amount of fuel purchased from New Jersey supplier, despite contention that supplier paid New Jersey motor fuel tax on such fuel and passed cost of tax onto petitioner, since petitioner is clearly distributor as defined by statute and regulation, and thus petitioner is primarily liable for filing necessary return and timely paying tax to New York; there is no merit to contention that New Jersey supplier, being registered distributor with State, became petitioner's agent for collection of taxes, thus completely discharging petitioner's tax liability. Mira Oil Co. v Chu, 114 A.D.2d 619, 494 N.Y.S.2d 458, 1985 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 53310 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1985), app. denied, 68 N.Y.2d 601, 505 N.Y.S.2d 1026, 496 N.E.2d 239, 1986 N.Y. 1. Enhancement Petroleum blend resulting from combining marine diesel fuel with enhanced diesel motor fuel would not be deemed to be "enhanced diesel motor fuel," and thus blending process would not be "enhancement" under CLS Tax § 282, since marine diesel fuel is not middle distillate but is instead residual petroleum product formed by blending other fuel oils to produce lower volatility fuel commonly used in medium speed marine engines; also, resulting product is not identified for use in automotive market. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-96(1)M.

Petroleum blend resulting from combining substandard No. 2 heating oil with enhanced diesel motor fuel would not be deemed to be "enhanced diesel motor fuel," and thus blending process would not be "enhancement" under CLS Tax § 282, as long as enhanced diesel motor fuel does not contain kerosene or any other substance or additive (such as cetane improver) which would improve substandard heating oil's performance in diesel automotive engine. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-96(1)M.

2. Exemptions

The consular officers of Norway and its nationals employed in a consulate in this country, other than those engaged in private occupations for gain, are exempt from motor fuel tax. 1938 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 336.

3. Omnibus carrier

Petitioner, which operates vehicles with seating capacity of 8 or more passengers in transportation of disabled persons, meets definition of omnibus carrier under CLS Tax § 282(9); however, petitioner is eligible for refund of taxes paid under CLS Tax §§ 289-c(3)(d), 301-c(c) and 1119(b) only with respect to transportation contracts that provide mass transit service and thus qualify as operating "in local transit service," not with respect to contracts providing services only to select group of persons. § 284. Tax imposed

1. There is hereby levied and imposed an excise tax of four cents per gallon upon motor fuel (a) imported into or caused to be imported into the state by a distributor for use, distribution, storage or sale in the state or upon motor fuel which is produced, refined, manufactured or compounded by a distributor in the state (which acts shall hereinafter in this subdivision be encompassed by the phrase "imported or manufactured") or (b) if the tax has not been imposed prior to its sale in this state, which is sold by a distributor (which act, in conjunction with the acts described in paragraph (a) of this subdivision, shall hereinafter in this article be encompassed by the phrase "imported, manufactured or sold"), except when imported, manufactured or sold under circumstances which preclude the collection of such tax by reason of the United States constitution and of laws of the United States enacted pursuant thereto or when imported or manufactured by an organization described in paragraph one or two of subdivision (a) of section eleven hundred sixteen of this chapter or a hospital included in the organizations described in paragraph four of such subdivision for its own use or consumption and except kero-jet fuel when imported or manufactured by an airline for use in its airplanes. Provided, further, no motor fuel shall be included in the measure of the tax unless it shall have previously come to rest within the meaning of federal decisional law interpreting the United States constitution. All tax for the period for which a return is required to be filed shall be due on the date limited for the filing of the return for such period, regardless of whether a return is filed by such distributor as required by this article or whether the return which is filed correctly shows the amount of tax due.

2. If, prior to April first, nineteen hundred forty-seven, a contract of sale of motor fuel shall have been made, and delivery thereof pursuant to such contract is made within the state thereafter, from a stock of motor fuel which, at the time of the taking of such fuel therefrom for such delivery, is subject to the taxing power of the state, the vendor shall be deemed a distributor, for the purposes of this article, and such motor fuel shall be deemed to be sold, and shall be subject to such tax, at the time of such delivery.

Editor's Notes: Laws 1985, ch 44, § 42, eff June 1, 1985, provides in part as follows:

§ 42. This act shall take effect immediately, except that sections one through thirty-six shall take effect June first, nineteen hundred eighty-five . . . and shall apply to all taxable events respecting motor fuel as such events are defined in section eleven hundred two of the tax law, as amended by this act, and automotive fuel occurring on and after such date and an amount equivalent to the sales taxes paid by or passed through to a purchaser upon sales of motor fuel before such date at the regional average retail sales price pursuant to the provisions of articls twenty-eight and twenty-nine of the tax law in effect prior to such date shall be allowed such purchaser as a credit or refund, where a refund or credit would be allowable after such date under the tax law, as amended by this act, against the tax required to be prepaid pursuant to section eleven hundred two and passed through or required to be collected or paid pursuant to section eleven hundred five or eleven hundred ten of the tax law upon sales or uses of such motor fuel occurring on and after such date and provided further, however, that no refund or credit shall be allowed pursuant to this provision with respect to motor fuel placed into the ordinary fuel tank connected with the engine of such vehicle prior to such date notwithstanding use of such fuel thereafter.

§ 37. This act shall take effect immediately except that sections one through twenty-four of this act shall apply on and after such effective date (and provided that the department of taxation and finance shall immediately undertake all necessary steps and application review to insure that on October 1, 1986 all terminal operators and transporters, required to be licensed by the provisions of this act, are so licensed by such date and further provided that the single regional average retail sales price for motor fuel provided for in section thirty of this act, which shall replace the separate regional average retail sales price for leaded, unleaded and premium motor fuel, shall be prescribed and first become effective on September 1, 1986 and the commissioner of energy shall determine such single average retail sales price for each region before August 16, 1986 and such price shall be compiled from data with respect to the six-month period ending the last day of June, 1986) and except that sections twenty-five through twenty-eight of this act shall take effect December 1, 1986. Former sub 3, add, L 1962, ch 499, § 1; repealed, L 1985, ch 44, § 5, eff June 1, 1985 (see 1985 note below).

Repeal Notes: [1985, ch 44] Subdivisions three and four of section two hundred eighty-four of the tax law, repealed by section five of this act, exempted sales to a registered distributor of another state for immediate exportation from this state and sales to a volunteer fire company or department, or a volunteer rescue squad from the New York tax. Since the motor fuel tax is collected on the first sale, sales of fuel exported under these circumstances have tax included in the price, but the purchaser will be able to obtain a refund upon furnishing proof of the out-of-state consumption. A refund for taxes paid by a volunteer fire company or department or a volunteer rescue squad is provided by this act.

[1986, ch 276] Subdivision three of section two hundred eighty-four of the tax law, repealed by section five of this act, allowed a person twenty-four hours to pay the taxes due on motor fuel in the event that he purchased motor fuel on which the taxes had not been paid or passed through. This provision had been relied on in a number of instances to frustrate the enforcement efforts of the department of taxation and finance in connection with the first import legislation. It is now prohibited to buy motor fuel upon which the taxes imposed under article twelve-A of the tax law have not been paid or passed through.

1. In general

Petitioners, as competitors of Indian reservation retailers, had standing to maintain Article 78 proceeding to compel Department of Taxation and Finance to "uniformly enforce New York State cigarette and motor fuel tax laws and regulations" as applied to sales made on Indian reservations located in New York, in that petition essentially raised equal protection claim based on differential enforcement of tax laws and, as members of disadvantaged class, petitioners had right to seek judicial resolution of their claim. N.Y. Ass'n of Convenience Stores v Urbach, 92 N.Y.2d 204, 677 N.Y.S.2d 280, 699 N.E.2d 904, 1998 N.Y. LEXIS 1825 (N.Y. 1998).

Equal protection claim, arising from failure of Department of Taxation and Finance to enforce cigarette and motor fuel tax laws and regulations against sales made on Indian reservations located in New York, was not subject to "strict scrutiny" analysis where department's specialized treatment of on-reservation sales was predicated not on race-based discrimination but on department's sensitivity to tribal sovereignty issues and complex restrictions imposed by federal Indian Trader Laws. N.Y. Ass'n of Convenience Stores v Urbach, 92 N.Y.2d 204, 677 N.Y.S.2d 280, 699 N.E.2d 904, 1998 N.Y. LEXIS 1825 (N.Y. 1998).

Defendants' failure to pay taxes on motor fuel imported from New Jersey to New York did not constitute larceny from New York State on theory that New York was owner of unpaid taxes because, while state may be deemed "owner" of collected but unremitted sales taxes, defendants' tax liability did not depend on their collection of taxes from consumers but resulted from their personal obligations under Tax Law, and they did not hold any funds in trust for state. People v Nappo, 94 N.Y.2d 564, 708 N.Y.S.2d 41, 729 N.E.2d 698, 2000 N.Y. LEXIS 523 (N.Y. 2000).

Refusal of State Tax Commission to apply 1% loss allowance, allowed for evaporation and spillage of gasoline from tanks used by registered distributors exclusively for bulk storage, to gasoline stored by bulk distributor in tank which was connected by a line to retail pumps at distributor's retail outlet was justified, in the absence of proof of actual loss from evaporation and spillage. Evans v Gallman, 48 A.D.2d 466, 370 N.Y.S.2d 223, 1975 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 9919 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't), app. denied, 37 N.Y.2d 712, 1975 N.Y. LEXIS 2958 (N.Y. 1975).

Although federal law forbids collection of sales and excise taxes on tobacco and motor fuel sold on Indian reservations to enrolled tribal members, such taxes are collectible when sales thereof are made to non-Indian customers. N.Y. Ass'n of Convenience Stores v Urbach, 275 A.D.2d 520, 712 N.Y.S.2d 220, 2000 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8429 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't), app. dismissed, 95 N.Y.2d 931, 721 N.Y.S.2d 606, 744 N.E.2d 142, 2000 N.Y. LEXIS 3595 (N.Y. 2000), app. denied, 96 N.Y.2d 717, 730 N.Y.S.2d 790, 756 N.E.2d 78, 2001 N.Y. Department of Taxation and Finance had rational basis to forbear indefinitely from collecting sales and excise taxes on tobacco and motor fuel sold on New York Indian reservations to non-Indian customers where tax statutes could not be effectively enforced against uncooperative Indian retailers because of tribal immunity, and state's attempted interception of tobacco and fuel shipments resulted in civil unrest, personal injuries, and interference with public transportation. N.Y. Ass'n of Convenience Stores v Urbach, 275 A.D.2d 520, 712 N.Y.S.2d 220, 2000 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8429 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't), app. dismissed, 95 N.Y.2d 931, 721 N.Y.S.2d 606, 744 N.E.2d 142, 2000 N.Y. LEXIS 3595 (N.Y. 2000), app. denied, 96 N.Y.2d 717, 730 N.Y.S.2d 790, 756 N.E.2d 78, 2001 N.Y. Court dismissed Article 78 proceeding in nature of mandamus to compel Department of Taxation and Finance to enforce tax laws pertaining to sale of tobacco products and motor fuel to non-Indians by Indian retailers on Indian reservations in New York state, as department had rational basis to repeal applicable regulations in conjunction with its efforts to obtain legislative solution after determining that there was no practical manner for enforcement, after making sincere efforts to negotiate settlement, and considering tribal sovereignty and unique nature of Indian nations. N.Y. Ass'n of Convenience Stores v Urbach, 181 Misc. 2d 589, 694 N.Y.S.2d 885, 1999 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 316 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1999), aff'd, 275 A.D.2d 520, 712 N.Y.S.2d 220, 2000 N.Y. App. Div. In contrast to taxing scheme under CLS Tax Art 28, there are no comparable provisions under CLS Art 12-A to justify credit for bad debt as to prepaid motor fuel tax. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-98-(1)M.

2. Distributors

Wholesale distributor of motor oil was entitled to preliminary injunction restraining state from collecting motor fuel taxes and sales taxes on its sales to Indians on Indian reservation and from otherwise regulating such sales, since such regulation is preempted by federal Indian trader laws, and thus distributor had established clear likelihood of success on merits. Herzog Bros. Trucking, Inc. v State Tax Com., 69 N.Y.2d 536, 516 N.Y.S.2d 179, 508 N.E.2d 914, 1987 N.Y. LEXIS 16349 (N.Y. 1987), vacated, 487 U.S. 1212, 108 S. Ct. 2861, 101 L. Ed. 2d 898, 1988 U.S. LEXIS 2888 (U.S. 1988).

On reargument following remand from United States Supreme Court, Court of Appeals would express no opinion on whether sales tax collection statutes, as regards distribution of motor fuel to Seneca Indian retailers, generally met constitutional standards, despite remand "for further consideration in light of proposed regulations" published by state Commissioner of Taxation and Finance, where decision on regulations' validity would constitute advisory opinion involving hypothetical future transactions of unknown parties, given uncertainty as to whether distributor which instigated initial appeal would continue to sell to such retailers, and existence of attempts by state and retailers to negotiate different solution to tax problem; thus, Court of Appeals' prior decision would be adhered to. Herzog Bros. Trucking, Inc. v State Tax Com., 72 N.Y.2d 720, 536 N.Y.S.2d 416, 533 N.E.2d 255, 1988 N.Y. LEXIS 3535 (N.Y. 1988).

The State Tax Commission properly sustained a motor fuel tax assessment that was imposed against a licensed fuel oil distributor pursuant to Tax Law § 284, based on a discrepancy during a certain period of more than 300,000 gallons of gasoline between the distributor's purchases of fuel from refineries and what it reported as its sales, since distributors of motor fuel are required, pursuant to Tax Law § 286, to "keep a complete and accurate record of all purchases and sales or other dispositions[of motor fuel]," so that the Tax Commission's determination that the distributor had the burden of establishing its compliance with the statutory requirement by showing that its records were accurate was both rational and reasonable, since the distributor failed to present any direct proof of the claimed specific leakage, spillage, evaporation, volume contraction, or other actual loss during the period at issue, proof from a qualified expert that would establish that such losses regularly occur, or evidence that the figures contained in the distributor's records fell within the range of anticipated loss for the particular activity, and since there was also a rational basis for the distinction that had been drawn by the Tax Commission that resulted in its recognition of a loss allowance without actual proof of loss for gasoline stored in bulk, but not for gasoline involved in retail trade. Petroleum Sales & Service, Inc. v Bouchard, 98 A.D.2d 882, 470 N.Y.S.2d 865, 1983 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 21198 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1983), aff'd, 64 N.Y.2d 671, 485 N.Y.S.2d 252, 474 N.E.2d 612, 1984 N.Y. LEXIS 4928 (N.Y. 1984).

Petitioner, gasoline and motor fuel retailer in New York and New Jersey, is liable for unpaid New York motor fuel tax on amount of fuel purchased from New Jersey supplier, despite contention that supplier paid New Jersey motor fuel tax on such fuel and passed cost of tax onto petitioner, since petitioner is clearly distributor as defined by statute and regulation, and thus petitioner is primarily liable for filing necessary return and timely paying tax to New York; there is no merit to contention that New Jersey supplier, being registered distributor with State, became petitioner's agent for collection of taxes, thus completely discharging petitioner's tax liability. Mira Oil Co. v Chu, 114 A.D.2d 619, 494 N.Y.S.2d 458, 1985 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 53310 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1985), app. denied, 68 N.Y.2d 601, 505 N.Y.S.2d 1026, 496 N.E.2d 239, 1986 N.Y. LEXIS 18991 (N.Y. 1986).

Under Art. 12-A, the distributor, not the purchaser, is the taxpayer, even though the declared intention of § 289-c is to place the ultimate burden of the tax on those persons who use the motor fuel for the operation of motor vehicles on the highways. Petitioner, registered motor fuel distributor, was entitled to substantial portion of exempt sales claimed on its MT-104s, even though dealer did not obtain prior approval of its exempt sales as directed by regulations in effect during audit period (20 NYCRR former § 411.5), since evidence petitioner submitted established certain exempt sales made by dealer and established also that it was motor fuel from petitioner being sold in those transactions; further, Division of Taxation had prior notice of noncompliance with regulations and did not disclose that information to petitioner's detriment rather than confront parties, command literal compliance, and assure proper documentation of exempt sales. § 289-c. Refunds

1. The tax imposed by this article though payable by the distributor, shall be borne by the purchaser and when paid by the distributor shall be deemed to have been so paid for the account of the purchaser. No person shall sell, advertise, or offer for sale motor fuel, separate from the tax herein imposed; and the price paid by the purchaser for motor fuel on which the tax has been paid, if such price be not less than the amount of the tax thereon, shall be presumed for the purposes of this section to have included the tax.

1-a. (a) Any person selling motor fuel to an organization described in paragraph one or two of subdivision (a) of section eleven hundred sixteen of this chapter or a hospital included in the organizations described in paragraph four of such subdivision for its own use or consumption or selling kero-jet fuel to an airline for use in its airplanes may exclude the amount of the tax or taxes imposed by this article from the selling price thereof.

(b) (i) Any person registered as a distributor of motor fuel selling aviation gasoline to a fixed base operator registered under this article as a "retail seller of aviation gasoline" may exclude the amount of the tax or taxes imposed by this article from the selling price thereof where such aviation gasoline is delivered to the fixed base operator's premises and placed in a storage facility used exclusively for the purpose of fueling airplanes. The commissioner may register as a "retail seller of aviation gasoline" a fixed base operator who makes no sales of aviation gasoline other than retail sales not in bulk delivered directly into the fuel tank of an airplane and who makes no sales of motor fuel other than the foregoing described retail sales of aviation gasoline delivered directly into the fuel tank of airplanes (provided, in no event, shall kero-jet fuel be construed to constitute motor fuel). Such registration shall apply only to the wholesale purchase of only aviation gasoline by such "retail seller of aviation gasoline" and the retail sale by such person of aviation gasoline not in bulk for delivery directly into the fuel tank of an airplane for use in the operation thereof. In no event shall the registration as a "retail seller of aviation gasoline" be deemed to be an authorization to import, or cause to be imported, motor fuel including aviation gasoline, into this state. All the provisions of section two hundred eighty-three-a (except subdivision one) of this article shall be applicable to the registration of "retail sellers of aviation gasoline" with the same force and effect as if the language of such section had been incorporated in full herein and had expressly referred to the registration of "retail sellers of aviation gasoline", with such modification as may be necessary in order to adapt the language so as to apply to the registration of applicants for and persons registered as "retail sellers of aviation gasoline". Provided, however, that if the commissioner is satisfied that certain requirements of such foregoing provisions with respect to registration are not necessary in order to protect tax revenues, the commissioner may waive, limit or modify such requirements with respect to the registration of "retail sellers of aviation gasoline". The department, where applicable, shall coordinate the registration process with respect to a fixed base operator applying for registration as a "retail seller of aviation gasoline" and as a distributor of kero-jet fuel only with the purpose of eliminating any duplicative information or procedures required of the applicant. Every person registered as a "retail seller of aviation gasoline" shall keep complete and accurate records of purchases and sales of aviation gasoline (including individual invoices identifying each purchase or sale of aviation gasoline) to and from such "retail seller of aviation gasoline". The commissioner shall, if it is determined to be appropriate, establish a requirement that a certificate be given by a "retail seller of aviation gasoline" prior to the sale of aviation gasoline pursuant to this paragraph.

(ii) Any person registered as a distributor of motor fuel and also registered as a "retail seller of aviation gasoline" may exclude the amount of the tax or taxes imposed by this article from the selling price thereof on such retail sale of aviation gasoline.

(c) (i) Any person making a sale of motor fuel under the circumstances described in paragraph (a), or subparagraph (i) of paragraph (b) of this subdivision or making a sale of Diesel motor fuel under the circumstances described in subdivision four of section two hundred eighty-two-a of this article whereby the tax or taxes imposed by this article have not been passed through to the purchaser, shall be allowed a refund or credit of the tax or taxes imposed by this article in the amount of such tax or taxes paid by such person on such motor fuel or Diesel motor fuel being sold or included in the price paid by such person for such fuel. Claims for refunds or credits shall be presented, and refunds or credits shall be made, only as authorized by the commissioner under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe.

(ii) Any airline registered as a distributor of motor fuel who imports aviation gasoline into this state for use in its airplanes and a distributor described in subparagraph (ii) of paragraph (b) of this subdivision shall be allowed a refund or credit of the tax or taxes imposed by this article in the amount of such tax or taxes paid by such person on such aviation gasoline so imported and used exclusively in the operation of its airplanes. The refund or credit shall accrue at the time the aviation gasoline is delivered and stored as prescribed in subparagraph (i) of paragraph (b) of this subdivision. Claims for refunds or credits shall be presented and refunds or credits shall be made only as authorized by the commissioner, including documentary proof required to substantiate refund claims.

(d) [Repealed Sept 1, 2021] (i) Any person may exclude the amount of the tax or taxes imposed by this article on E85 from the selling price thereof where E85 is delivered to a filling station and placed in a storage tank of such filling station for such E85 to be dispensed directly into a motor vehicle for use in the operation of such vehicle. Any person making a sale of E85 under the circumstances described herein, whereby the tax or taxes otherwise imposed by this article have not been passed through to the purchaser, shall be allowed a refund or credit of the taxes imposed by this article in the amount of such tax or taxes paid by such person on such E85 being sold or included in the price paid by such person for such fuel. Claims for refunds or credits shall be presented, and refunds or credits shall be made, only as authorized by the commissioner under such rules and regulations as the commissioner may prescribe.

(ii) Any person may exclude twenty percent of the amount of the tax or taxes imposed by this article from the selling price with respect to any sale of B20. Any person making a sale of B20 upon which such person does not pass on more than eighty percent of the taxes otherwise imposed by this article, where such person has purchased such B20 with the entire amount of the taxes imposed by this article included in such person's purchase price, shall be entitled to a refund or credit equal to the amount of the tax or taxes paid under this article on such B20 in excess of eighty percent of the tax or taxes imposed by this article on diesel motor fuel. Claims for refunds or credits shall be presented, and refunds or credits shall be made, only as authorized by the commissioner under such rules and regulations as the commissioner may prescribe.

(iii) Any person may exclude the amount of the tax or taxes imposed by this article on CNG or hydrogen from the selling price thereof. Any person making a sale of CNG or hydrogen, whereby the tax or taxes otherwise imposed by this article have not been passed through to the purchaser, shall be allowed a refund or credit of any taxes imposed by this article in the amount of such tax or taxes paid by such person on such CNG or hydrogen being sold or included in the price paid by such person for such CNG or hydrogen. Claims for refunds or credits shall be presented, and refunds or credits shall be made, only as authorized by the commissioner under such rules and regulations as the commissioner may prescribe.

2. However, the intention of this article is to place the ultimate burden resulting from such tax, so far as possible, on persons who use the public highways of the state for operating motor vehicles thereon, or who use the waterways of the state including any other waterways bordering on the state for operating pleasure or recreational motor boats thereon, and the following refunds are provided to that end, subject to the provisions of subdivision five of this section.

3. (a) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (b) of this section, any person who shall buy any motor fuel or diesel motor fuel, on which the tax imposed by this article shall have been paid, and shall consume the same in any manner except in the operation of a motor vehicle upon or over the public highways of this state, or in the operation of a pleasure or recreational motor boat upon or over the waterways of the state including waterways bordering on the state, shall be reimbursed the amount of such tax in the manner and subject to the conditions herein provided except that there shall be no reimbursement of tax paid on motor fuel or diesel motor fuel taken out of this state in a fuel tank connected with the engine of a motor vehicle and consumed outside of this state.

(b) Any omnibus carrier which shall buy any motor fuel on which the aggregate tax imposed by section two hundred eighty-four and section two hundred eighty-four-a of this chapter, or any diesel motor fuel on which the aggregate tax imposed by section two hundred eighty-two-a and section two hundred eighty-two-b of this chapter, shall have been paid, shall be reimbursed, in the case of such motor fuel, the amount paid pursuant to such sections two hundred eighty-four and two hundred eighty-four-a in excess of four cents per gallon, and in the case of diesel motor fuel, the amount paid pursuant to such sections two hundred eighty-two-a and two hundred eighty-two-b in excess of six cents per gallon, provided such motor fuel or diesel motor fuel has been consumed by such carrier in the operation of an omnibus in this state. Any taxicab licensee, as defined by subdivision ten of section two hundred eighty-two of this chapter, who or which shall buy any motor fuel on which the aggregate tax imposed by section two hundred eighty-four and section two hundred eighty-four-a of this chapter or any diesel motor fuel on which the aggregate tax imposed by section two hundred eighty-two-a and section two hundred eighty-two-b of this chapter, shall have been paid, shall be reimbursed, in the case of such motor fuel, the amount paid pursuant to such sections two hundred eighty-four and two hundred eighty-four-a in excess of four cents per gallon, and in the case of diesel motor fuel, the amount paid pursuant to such sections two hundred eighty-two-a and two hundred eighty-two-b in excess of six cents per gallon, provided such motor fuel or diesel fuel has been consumed by such licensee in the operation of a taxicab in this state.

(c) All claims for reimbursement shall be in such form and contain such information as the commissioner shall prescribe and shall be filed within three years from (i) the date of the purchase, in the case of the purchaser; or (ii) the date of the sale, in the case of the seller, of the motor fuel so subject to reimbursement. Every such claim shall include a certificate by or on behalf of the party presenting the same to the effect that it is just, true and correct, that no part thereof has been paid, except as stated therein, and that the balance therein stated is actually due and owing. The claimant shall satisfy the department that the claimant has borne the tax and that the motor fuel has been consumed by the claimant in a manner other than the operation of a motor vehicle upon or over the public highways of this state, the operation of a pleasure or recreational motorboat upon or over the waterways of the state including waterways bordering on the state or, in the case of an omnibus carrier, taxicab licensee, nonpublic school operator or volunteer ambulance service, that the claimant has borne the tax and that the amount claimed is the amount of such tax reimbursable under paragraph (b), (d), (e) or (f) of this subdivision. The department may require such further information or proof as it shall deem necessary for the administration of such claim. Claims for reimbursement approved by the department shall be paid from revenues collected under this article and deposited to the credit of the comptroller as hereinafter provided; but no such claims shall be paid unless the department is satisfied that the amount of the tax for which the reimbursement is claimed has actually been collected by the state. The amount of any erroneous or excessive payment to a claimant for reimbursement may be determined by the department and may be recovered from such claimant in the same manner as a tax imposed by this article, provided, however, that any such determination shall be made within three years after the date of such erroneous or excessive payment.

(d) Any omnibus carrier which shall buy motor fuel on which the aggregate tax imposed by section two hundred eighty-four, section two hundred eighty-four-a and section two hundred eighty-four-c of this chapter or any diesel motor fuel on which the aggregate tax imposed by section two hundred eighty-two-a, section two hundred eighty-two-b and section two hundred eighty-two-c of this chapter shall have been paid, shall be reimbursed the amount paid provided such motor fuel or diesel motor fuel has been consumed by such carrier in the operation of an omnibus in local transit service in this state pursuant to a certificate of convenience and necessity issued by the commissioner of transportation of this state or by the interstate commerce commission of the United States or pursuant to a contract, franchise or consent between such carrier and a city having a population of more than one million inhabitants, or any agency of such city.

(e) Any nonpublic school operator which shall buy motor fuel on which the aggregate tax imposed by section two hundred eighty-four, section two hundred eighty-four-a and section two hundred eighty-four-c of this chapter or any diesel motor fuel on which the aggregate tax imposed by section two hundred eighty-two-a, section two hundred eighty-two-b and section two hundred eighty-two-c of this chapter shall have been paid, shall be reimbursed the amount paid provided such motor fuel or diesel motor fuel has been consumed by such nonpublic school operator exclusively in educational related activities.

(f) Any voluntary ambulance service, as defined in section thirty hundred one of the public health law, which shall buy motor fuel on which the tax or taxes imposed by this article shall have been paid shall be reimbursed the amount of such tax in the manner and subject to the conditions herein set forth, provided such motor fuel has been consumed by such volunteer ambulance service vehicle in the course of operating within the state.

(g) An organization described in paragraph one or two of subdivision (a) of section eleven hundred sixteen of this chapter or a hospital included in the organizations described in paragraph four of such subdivision, or a fire company or fire department, as defined in section three of the volunteer firefighters' benefit law, or a volunteer rescue squad supported in whole or in part by tax money where any such entity is the purchaser, user or consumer of motor fuel or diesel motor fuel in a vehicle owned and operated by it and used exclusively for its purposes, or an airline where it has purchased kero-jet fuel for use in its airplanes shall be reimbursed the amount of the taxes on motor fuel and diesel motor fuel imposed by or pursuant to the authority of this article included in the price paid for such motor fuel or diesel motor fuel.

(h) Notwithstanding any provision of the law to the contrary, tax paid pursuant to this article in respect to motor fuel or diesel motor fuel purchased by a government entity and paid for by such government entity with a credit card shall be reimbursed or credited to the issuer of the credit card used for such purchase or the fuel distributor designated in accordance with and subject to the provisions of sections eleven hundred thirty-eight, eleven hundred thirty-nine, eleven hundred forty-two, and eleven hundred forty-five of this chapter concerning such credit card issuers, fuel distributors and government entities. Such provisions shall apply with respect to the administration of and procedure with respect to the taxes imposed under this article in the same manner and with the same force and effect as if the language of such provisions had been incorporated in full into this article and had expressly referred to the tax under this article, with such modifications as may be necessary in order to adapt the language of such provisions to the taxes imposed by this article, except to the extent that any such provision is not relevant to this article.

4. [Repealed]

5. If the provisions of this section providing for reimbursement of the amount of the tax paid be held unconstitutional by a court of competent jurisdiction, the other constitutional provisions of this article nevertheless shall stand, it being the express intention of the legislature that even though such provision for reimbursement be held unconstitutional the tax provided for by this article shall be imposed, collected and distributed as provided in this article, regardless in that event of the manner in which the motor fuel is consumed.

6. Moneys paid in error under this article may be refunded. Where motor fuel, upon which the tax imposed by this article has been paid, is sold, under such circumstances that, if the tax had not been paid, the sale would not have been taxable under this article, the tax may be refunded. Refunds shall be made only as authorized by the commissioner under such rules and regulations as the commissioner may prescribe provided an application therefor is filed with the commissioner within three years from the time the erroneous payment was made, or tax paid motor fuel was so sold. Refunds authorized by the commissioner shall be paid from revenues collected under this article and deposited to the credit of the comptroller as hereinafter provided.

7. If an agreement under the provisions of section two hundred eighty-eight (extending the period for determination of tax imposed by this article) is made within the three-year period for the filing of an application for refund under subdivision six of this section or, in the case of a claim for reimbursement under subdivision three of this section, if such agreement is made within three years from the date of purchase or sale (as the case may be) of the motor fuel, the period for filing an application for refund or a claim for reimbursement shall not expire prior to six months after the expiration of the period within which determination may be made pursuant to the agreement or any extension thereof.

8. With respect to motor fuel imported, manufactured or sold or purchased in this state, and with respect to the sale or use of Diesel motor fuel, a refund or credit shall be allowed a distributor or a purchaser of the tax required to be paid pursuant to this article upon such motor fuel or Diesel motor fuel in the amount of such tax paid by or included in the price paid by a distributor or such purchaser to the seller thereof if such fuel was exported from this state for sale or use outside this state, such distributor or such purchaser, as the case may be, exporting such fuel is duly registered with or licensed by the taxing authorities of the state to which such fuel is exported as a distributor or a dealer in the fuel being so exported, and in connection with such exportation such fuel was immediately shipped to an identified facility in the state to which such fuel is exported, and the applicant complies with all requirements and rules and regulations of the commissioner, including evidentiary requirements, relating thereto; and provided further that upon receipt of a claim for refund in processible form, interest shall be allowed and paid at the overpayment rate set by the commissioner pursuant to subdivision twenty-sixth of section one hundred seventy-one of this chapter from the due date of the return to the date immediately preceding the date of the refund check except no such interest shall be allowed or paid if the refund check is mailed within thirty days of such receipt and except no interest shall be allowed or paid if the amount thereof would be less than one dollar. For the purpose of this article, "export" from this state shall in no event be construed to include motor fuel or diesel motor fuel taken out of this state in the fuel tank connected with the engine of a motor vehicle or any conveyance and consumed in the operation thereof outside of this state.

9. With respect to any organization described in paragraph four of subdivision (a) of section eleven hundred sixteen of this chapter which is eligible pursuant to this section for reimbursement of the tax required to be paid pursuant to this article, upon receipt of a claim for reimbursement in processible form, interest shall be allowed and paid at the overpayment rate set by the commissioner of taxation and finance pursuant to subdivision twenty-sixth of section one hundred seventy-one of this chapter from the date of the application for reimbursement to the date immediately preceding the date of the reimbursement check except no such interest shall be allowed or paid if the reimbursement check is mailed within forty-five days of such receipt and except no interest shall be allowed or paid if the amount thereof would be less than one dollar. Provided, however, the department shall process applications for reimbursement as expeditiously as possible.

Editor's Notes: Laws 1985, ch 44, § 42 in part, eff June 1, 1985, provides as follows:

§ 42. This act shall take effect immediately, except that sections one through thirty-six shall take effect June first, nineteen hundred eighty-five . . . and shall apply to all taxable events respecting motor fuel as such events are defined in section eleven hundred two of the tax law, as amended by this act, and automotive fuel occurring on and after such date and an amount equivalent to the sales taxes paid by or passed through to a purchaser upon sales of motor fuel before such date at the regional average retail sales price pursuant to the provisions of articles twenty-eight and twenty-nine of the tax law in effect prior to such date shall be allowed such purchaser as a credit or refund, where a refund or credit would be allowable after such date under the tax law, as amended by this act, against the tax required to be prepaid pursuant to section eleven hundred two and passed through or required to be collected or paid pursuant to section eleven hundred five or eleven hundred ten of the tax law upon sales or uses of such motor fuel occurring on and after such date and provided further, however, that no refund or credit shall be allowed pursuant to this provision with respect to motor fuel placed into the ordinary fuel tank connected with the engine of such vehicle prior to such date notwithstanding use of such fuel thereafter.

§ 37. This act shall take effect immediately except that sections one through twenty-four of this act shall apply on and after such effective date (and provided that the department of taxation and finance shall immediately undertake all necessary steps and application review to insure that on October 1, 1986 all terminal operators and transporters, required to be licensed by the provisions of this act, are so licensed by such date and further provided that the single regional average retail sales price for motor fuel provided for in section thirty of this act, which shall replace the separate regional average retail sales price for leaded, unleaded and premium motor fuel, shall be prescribed and first become effective on September 1, 1986 and the commissioner of energy shall determine such single average retail sales price for each region before August 16, 1986 and such price shall be compiled from data with respect to the six-month period ending the last day of June, 1986) and except that sections twenty-five through twenty-eight of this act shall take effect December 1, 1986. (Amd, L 1989, ch 245, § 1, L 1990, ch 190, § 243, L 1992, ch 55, § 52, L 1993, ch 57, § 140, eff April 15, 1993.).

Laws 1989, ch 61, § 365(e)(1)a and d, eff April 19, 1989, provides as follows:

(e)(1) a. sections ninety-one through one hundred forty-four and section one hundred sixty-five of this act shall take effect September 1, 1989 and shall apply to the interest chargeable or due on taxes or on any other amounts, or any portion thereof, for which interest rates are set under sections ninety-one through one hundred forty-four of this act which remain or become due or overpaid on or after such date; provided, however, that:

d. any rules or regulations necessary to implement the provisions of sections ninety-one through one hundred forty-four and section one hundred sixty-five of this act may be promulgated and any procedures, forms or instructions necessary for such implementation may be issued on or after the date this act shall have become a law.

Laws 1997, ch 389, §§ 151 and 219 (Part A), sub (23), eff Aug 7, 1997, provides as follows:

§ 151. Statement of findings. Sections one hundred fifty-one through one hundred fifty-eight of this act are intended to clarify the operation of the article 13-A tax from its inception and shall be so construed. In no event shall sections one hundred fifty-one through one hundred fifty-eight of this act affect in any manner the computation of receipts for purposes of the sales and use taxes imposed by article 28 of the tax law and pursuant to the authority of article 29 of the tax law, and receipts subject to sales and use taxes shall be determined without regard to the provisions of sections one hundred fifty-one through one hundred fifty-eight of this act. Further, in no event shall this clarification with respect to the pass through of tax create any refund (credit or reimbursement) or determination of rights which are otherwise time barred as of the date sections one hundred fifty-one through one hundred fifty-eight of this act shall have become a law or enlarge or otherwise affect the time for the filing of a refund (credit or reimbursement) claim or the making of a determination. The allowance of a revised export credit/refund (or reimbursement) for products used outside the state under articles 12-A and 13-A taxes is made available; and with respect to vessels, the allowance of an excess purchases credit/refund under the article 13-A tax is made available. Relief with respect to any impermissibility of the consumption tax aspects under article 13-A of the tax law shall be given by means of the granting of such export credit/refund (or reimbursement) or such excess purchases credit/refund, as the case may be, as the sole and exclusive form of relief. However, if a court of competent jurisdiction does finally determine that making such export credit/refund or such excess purchases credit/refund the exclusive remedy to afford relief under the consumption aspects of the article 13-A tax is not constitutionally permissible, then allowance of a credit for petroleum business taxes paid to other states (or in the case of a foreign country, to such country) to the extent of the article 13-A tax owing with respect to the same petroleum product shall be made available. In such event, such credit for such other states' petroleum business taxes shall be allowed as the exclusive remedy with respect to such consumption aspects of the article 13-A tax.

(23) sections one hundred fifty-two, one hundred fifty-five and one hundred fifty-six of this act shall take effect and shall apply on and after September 1, 1990, and the references in subdivision (b) of section 315 of the tax law, as added by section one hundred fifty-six of this act, to subdivisions 1 of sections 285-a and 289-c of the tax law shall be deemed to apply to article 13-A of the tax law on and after July 1, 1983;.

Laws 2006, ch 109, § 19 (Part W-1), eff June 23, 2006, provides as follows:

§ 19. This act shall take effect immediately; provided, however, that sections one through thirteen of this act shall take effect September 1, 2006 and shall be deemed repealed on September 1, 2021 and such repeal shall apply in accordance with the applicable transitional provisions of sections 1106 and 1217 of the tax law, and shall apply to sales made, fuel compounded or manufactured, and uses occurring on or after such date, and with respect to sections seven through eleven of this act, in accordance with applicable transitional provisions of sections 1106 and 1217 of the tax law; provided, however, that the commissioner of taxation and finance shall be authorized on and after the date this act shall have become a law to adopt and amend any rules or regulations and to take any steps necessary to implement the provisions of this act; provided further that sections fourteen through sixteen of this act shall take effect immediately and shall apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2006. (Amd, L 2011, ch 61, § 2 (Part L), eff March 31, 2011; L 2012, ch 59, § 1 (Part D) eff March 31, 2012; L 2014, ch 59, § 1 (Part V), eff March 31, 2014; L 2016, ch 60 § 1 (Part U), eff April 13, 2016.).

§ 12. This act shall take effect immediately; provided, however, that (a) sections one through three and eight through eleven of this act shall take effect on the first day of the first month next occurring 120 days after this act shall have become a law and shall apply to sales made on or after such date; provided that the commissioner of taxation and finance shall be authorized on and after the date this act shall have become a law to adopt and amend any rules or regulations and issue any procedures, forms or instructions necessary to implement the provisions of such sections of this act on their effective date.

(b) claims for refunds, credits, or reimbursements which expire on or before the date this act shall have become a law and which are revived under sections four through seven of this act, and claims for refunds, credits, or reimbursements which expire after the date this act shall have become a law, but before the ninetieth day after this act shall have become a law, and which are covered under the laws amended by such sections of this act may be filed by the later of the ninetieth day after this act shall have become a law or the date that the time to file a claim expires under the law as amended by such sections of this act.

Laws 2008, ch 102, § 7, eff Sept 1, 2008, provides as follows:

§ 7. This act shall take effect on the first day of the sales tax quarterly period, as described in subdivision (b) of section 1136 of the tax law, that begins at least ninety days after the date on which it shall have become a law and shall apply to sales made and uses occurring on or after that date in accordance with the applicable transitional provisions of sections 1106 and 1217 of the tax law.

Laws 2011, ch 61, § 58 intro par (Part K), eff Sept 1, 2011, provides as follows:

§ 58. This act shall take effect September 1, 2011 and shall apply to sales or uses occurring on or after such date in accordance with the applicable transitional provisions in sections 1106 and 1217 of the tax law; provided, however, that:

1. In general

A failure of a motor fuel distributor, who, under section 287 of article 12-A of the Tax Law, is required to report the number of gallons sold and pay a motor fuel tax on such gallonage monthly, to claim a credit pursuant to a provision in the section that "where a distributor has purchased motor fuel prior to the expiration of the period covered by the return, upon which the taxes imposed by this article have been or are required to be paid by another distributor, a credit shall be allowed for the amount of such taxes", results in a payment of money in error within the meaning of, and, hence, is subject to, the two-year period of limitation contained in section 289-c (subd 6) of article 12-A, which provides that moneys paid in error under that article may be refunded, but that an application for a refund must be made within two years. Mobil Oil Corp. v State Tax Com., 62 A.D.2d 668, 406 N.Y.S.2d 365, 1978 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 10892 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1978).

Commission's determination that petitoner is not entitled to a reimbursement or refund for motor fuel consumed by omnibus carrier affiliated to petitioner by virtue of the fact that their stocks are owned by the same individuals is supported by substantial evidence since, although petitioner purchased all diesel motor fuel and paid taxes, it did not consume the fuel utilized in the operation of its affiliate's omnibuses and therefore could not claim credit or reimbursement for such fuel. Liberty Coaches, Inc. v State Tax Com., 79 A.D.2d 775, 435 N.Y.S.2d 69, 1980 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 14173 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1980).

Under Art. 12-A, the distributor, not the purchaser, is the taxpayer, even though the declared intention of § 289-c is to place the ultimate burden of the tax on those persons who use the motor fuel for the operation of motor vehicles on the highways. In re Conklin, 110 F.2d 178, 1940 U.S. App. LEXIS 4502 (2d Cir. N.Y. 1940).

Two year statute of limitations period provided by Tax Law § 289-c(6), within which application for refund for monies paid in error must be made, was equally applicable to credit in lieu of refund pursuant to Tax Law § 287; enforcement of such statute of limitations did not impose motor fuel tax twice in violation of § 289-a. In re Mobil Oil Corp., State Tax Comm, August 24, 1976.

Omnibus carrier credits may not be claimed by coach company for diesel motor fuel purchased by it but consumed by another affiliated omnibus corporation which was also engaged in mass transportation; coach corporation which purchased all diesel motor fuel and paid tax, but did not consume fuel utilized in operation of affiliate's omnibuses could not claim credit or reimbursement for such fuel. IN re Liberty Coaches, Inc., Dec State Tax Comm, August 17, 1979.

2. Exemptions

Exemptions from taxation are to be strictly construed against the taxpayer. Central Greyhound Lines, Inc. v Graves, 274 A.D. 679, 87 N.Y.S.2d 441, 1949 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5868 (N.Y. App. Div. 1949).

Petitioner who was engaged in the delivery of aviation fuel to airlines for oil companies which sold fuel to the airlines was required to make good any losses or shortages in fuel due to evaporation and when the petitioner had to make good on such a loss it reimbursed the oil companies for the loss including the tax. Held: petitioner was entitled to a refund under this section since it was a purchaser to the extent of the fuel that was lost while in its possession and loss by evaporation was a consumption for which a refund would apply. Allied New York Services, Inc. v Bragalini, 4 A.D.2d 802, 164 N.Y.S.2d 506, 1957 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4725 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1957).

3. —Off highway use

Since highway is defined as not including private parking lots, gasoline used by a bus line in idling motors of its buses on its own parking lots to keep the motors from freezing was not subject to tax under this section. Central Greyhound Lines, Inc. v Graves, 274 A.D. 679, 87 N.Y.S.2d 441, 1949 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5868 (N.Y. App. Div. 1949).

The use of a stationary truck's engine to operate mounted compressors and pumps, the fuel therefor coming from the same source which supplies the engine for the vehicle's propulsion, does not amount to the use of motor fuel in the operation of a motor vehicle upon the highways of the state and is not subject to the motor fuel tax. 1952 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 183, 1952 N.Y. AG LEXIS 67.

4. Exemption denied

Operation of air-conditioning units in buses is part of the operation of such vehicles within this section and gasoline used for such a purpose is subject to tax. Central Greyhound Lines, Inc. v Graves, 274 A.D. 679, 87 N.Y.S.2d 441, 1949 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5868 (N.Y. App. Div. 1949).

A determination of the State Tax Commission which sustained the denial of refunds for motor fuel tax to petitioner that had contracted to maintain and service scrubbers, sweepers and forklifts owned by a soft drink company was not erroneous, arbitrary, or capricious, where, although petitioner paid the applicable motor fuel taxes and the vehicles were never operated on state highways, it was the soft drink company rather than petitioner that consumed the motor fuel. Soft Drink Leasing Corp. v State Tax Com., 96 A.D.2d 612, 464 N.Y.S.2d 600, 1983 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 19156 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1983).

Gasoline consumed in "idling" or "heating" motor preparatory to its running on highway is taxable use, since it is an essential incident to the use of highways, and accordingly there should be no refund of taxes based on such consumption. 1940 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 195, 1940 N.Y. AG LEXIS 55.

Taxicab service operating on the basis of different rates for geographic zones does not operate at fixed rate of fare within meaning and intent of Tax Law § 289(c) and is thus not entitled to refund of motor fuel taxes on basis of being taxicab licensee. In making its determination as to whether vessel with license to fish and sell portion of its catch is entitled to refund of taxes imposed under CLS Tax Art 12-A, Art 13-A, Art 28 and Art 29, Department of Taxation and Finance would consider collectively provisions of such statutes as they apply to commercial fishing vessels, as well as technical services memorandum defining "fishing vessel" and "predominantly"; criteria to be met include, but are not limited to, (1) fact that fisherman falls within definition of commercial fisherman as set forth in CLS Tax § 300 taking into consideration amount of time, capital and effort that are consumed by fisherman, (2) percent of total gross income from all sources such fisherman has derived from harvesting fish for sale, and (3) whether commercial fishing vessel was used directly and predominantly (more than 50 percent) in harvesting of fish for sale. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-95(3)M.

Fishing vessels used directly and predominantly in harvesting of fish for sale do not include any vessel used predominantly (more than 50 percent) for sport fishing, and thus, if fisherman and vessel do not fall within provisions of CLS Tax Art 12-A, Art 13-a, Art 28 and Art 29 as they apply to vessels engaged in commercial fishing, such fisherman will not be entitled to reimbursement of taxes paid on fuel used in such vessel. Petitioner, which operates vehicles with seating capacity of 8 or more passengers in transportation of disabled persons, meets definition of omnibus carrier under CLS Tax § 282(9); however, petitioner is eligible for refund of taxes paid under CLS Tax §§ 289-c(3)(d), 301-c(c) and 1119(b) only with respect to transportation contracts that provide mass transit service and thus qualify as operating "in local transit service," not with respect to contracts providing services only to select group of persons. 4. Exemption denied

Corporation was not entitled to refund of diesel motor fuel tax paid on its purchases of fuel used in idling its vehicles to load and unload cargo and to drop off and hook up its trailers between trips; diesel motor fuel consumed by such idling is considered same as fuel used for actual propulsion of vehicle and is consumed for use on highways of New York State. ARTICLE 13 Tax on Unrelated Business Income

290. Imposition of tax

HISTORY:

Add, L 1970, ch 1005, § 25, eff May 20, 1970, applicable to taxable years beginning after Dec 31, 1969.

(a) General. For every taxable year or part thereof, every organization described in paragraph two of subsection (a) of section five hundred eleven of the internal revenue code of nineteen hundred fifty-four and every trust described in paragraph two of subsection (b) of section five hundred eleven of such code carrying on an unrelated trade or business in New York shall pay a tax at the rate of nine per centum on its unrelated business taxable income for such year, or on the portion thereof allocated to this state, as provided in section two hundred ninety-three, or two hundred fifty dollars, whichever is greater.

(b) Unrelated trade or business carried on by a receiver. Any receiver, referee, trustee, assignee or fiduciary, or any officer or agent appointed by any court, who carries on the unrelated trade or business of an organization or trust described in either paragraph two of subsection (a) or paragraph two of subsection (b) of section five hundred eleven of the internal revenue code of nineteen hundred fifty-four shall be subject to the tax imposed by this article in the same manner and to the same extent as if the unrelated trade or business were carried on by the agents, officers or trustees of such organization or trust.

(c) Exemptions. (1) Every corporation liable to tax under article nine-a of this chapter shall not be subject to tax under this article.

(2) Every organization whose sole unrelated trade or business carried on in New York consists of activities constituting an unrelated trade or business solely by virtue of section 501(m)(2)(A) of the internal revenue code shall not be subject to tax under this article.

(3) Any income derived from the conduct of games of chance or from rental of premises for the conduct of games of chance pursuant to a license granted under article nine-A of the general municipal law shall not be subject to tax under this article.

Editor's Notes: Laws 1970, ch 1005, § 1, eff May 20, 1970, provides as follows:

Section 1. Legislative findings and declaration of purpose. A state's tax system must attempt to treat all taxpayers with fairness and equity. Strong taxpayer interest in greater equity in the tax system stimulated the federal tax reform studies and the enactment of the tax reform act of nineteen hundred sixty-nine. This taxpayer interest, plus the close conformity of the state tax system with the federal tax statutes, suggested that the state's tax structure should be reviewed to determine if greater equity and fairness could be achieved without losing the significant advantages of federal conformity.

It is recommended that the state continue to closely conform with federal statutes to the extent that the state can do so without harm to its fiscal position. Thus, the state should accept those federal tax changes with which the state has automatic conformity and take action to assure continuance of the benefits of procedural tax conformity. In addition, it is recommended that the state adopt the increased federal standard deductions, the first two steps of the increased federal personal exemption, reduce, on a tapered basis, the nonconformity deduction for life insurance premiums, and conform to the federal unrelated business income tax. Other changes would impose a minimum income tax, increase the statutory credit for single persons, and, as a means of conforming to the intent of the new federal low-income allowance, eliminate any tax liability for low-income taxpayers with New York adjusted gross income of less than two thousand dollars in any taxable year.

In summary, it is the purpose of this act to institute a program of tax reform that will bring a greater measure of equity and fairness to the state's tax system and that will also maintain the advantages of federal conformity.

Laws 1987, ch 547, § 3, eff July 30, 1987, provides as follows:

Analysis

1. In general
2. Taxable status

1. In general

Petitioner exempt organization under IRC § 501(c)(7) was subject to $250 minimum tax for taxable year 2003 where its federal unrelated business taxable income for taxable year 2003 was zero, and modifications contained in CLS Tax § 292 did not appear to apply, and thus petitioner did not have unrelated business taxable income for purposes of § 292 for taxable year 2003. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-04-(14)C.

Assuming petitioner political action committee is organization described in IRC § 527, petitioner is not subject to tax on unrelated business income imposed under CLS Tax Art 13. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-05-(15)C.

2. Taxable status

Receipt of demutualization proceeds by voluntary employees' beneficiary association (VEBA) did not constitute carrying on of unrelated trade or business in New York under CLS Tax § 290; thus, such receipt did not create taxable status for VEBA for purposes of CLS Tax Law Art 13. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-01-(17)C.

Investment of demutualization proceeds by voluntary employees' beneficiary association (VEBA) and income generated by such investment did not constitute carrying on of unrelated trade or business in New York under CLS Tax § 290; thus, investment of proceeds and income that was generated did not create taxable status for VEBA for purposes of CLS Tax Law Art 13. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-01-(17)C.

Receipt of demutualization proceeds by voluntary employees' beneficiary association (VEBA), policyholder in mutual corporation that was now operating as stock corporation, did not constitute carrying on of unrelated trade or business in New York under CLS Tax § 290; thus, such receipt did not create taxable status for VEBA for purposes of CLS Tax Law Art 13. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-02-(9)C.

Voluntary employees' beneficiary association (VEBA), policyholder in mutual corporation that was now operating as stock corporation, was not carrying on unrelated trade or business in New York merely because it invested demutualization proceeds and received income generated by such investment activity; thus, investment of proceeds and income that was generated did not create taxable status for VEBA for purposes of CLS Tax Law Art 13. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-02-(9)C.

ARTICLE 20 Tax on Cigarettes and Tobacco Products

Section
480-b. Prohibition against the stamping of certain cigarettes
480-c. Prohibition against the sale of certain tobacco products

HISTORY:

Add, L 1939, ch 940, § 3; amd, L 1947, ch 89; L 1959, ch 71, eff in part April 1, 1959 and in part July 1, 1959.

1. Every tobacco product manufacturer as defined by section thirteen hundred ninety-nine-oo of the public health law whose cigarettes are sold for consumption in this state shall annually certify under penalty of perjury that, as of the date of such certification, such tobacco product manufacturer: (a) is a participating manufacturer as defined in subdivision one of section thirteen hundred ninety-nine-pp of the public health law; or (b) is in full compliance with subdivision two of section thirteen hundred ninety-nine-pp of the public health law. Such certification shall be executed and delivered to the commissioner, the attorney general and any agent who affixes New York state cigarette tax stamps to cigarettes of such tobacco product manufacturer, no earlier than the sixteenth day of April and no later than the thirtieth day of April of each year, and shall be accompanied by a list setting forth each of the cigarette brands of such tobacco product manufacturer sold for consumption in New York state. Agents shall retain such certifications for a period of five years.

2. An agent may not affix, or cause to be affixed, a New York state cigarette tax stamp to a package of cigarettes if either: (a) the tobacco product manufacturer of such cigarettes has not provided such agent with the certification required by subdivision one of this section; or (b) the commissioner has notified such agent that such tobacco product manufacturer is in violation of section thirteen hundred ninety-nine-pp of the public health law, or has filed a false certification under subdivision one of this section, and such agent has not been notified by the commissioner that such violation has ceased.

2-a. An agent may not affix, or cause to be affixed, a New York state cigarette tax stamp to a package of cigarettes unless: (a) the cigarettes have been certified by the manufacturer if certification is required under subdivision three of section one hundred fifty-six-c of the executive law; and (b) the package has been marked in such manner as may be required by subdivision six of section one hundred fifty-six-c of the executive law.

3. The commissioner shall prescribe the form of the certification required to be filed pursuant to subdivision one of this section, and is authorized to collect and retain any information he or she may require to assure compliance with this section by agents and tobacco product manufacturers.

§ 7. This act shall take effect on the one hundred twentieth day after it shall have become a law; provided, however, that the prohibition against the distribution, sale or offering for sale of any package of cigarettes unless the manufacturer has placed the letters "FSC" as required by subdivision 6 of section 156-c of the executive law on such package; and the testing requirements set forth in paragraph a of subdivision 3 of section 156-c of the executive law as amended by section four of this act shall take effect twelve months after this act shall have become a law. Nothing in this act shall prohibit wholesale dealers or retail dealers from selling their inventory of cigarettes existing on the date that is 12 months after this act takes effect; provided that such cigarettes contain a marking in compliance with section 8 of the office of fire prevention and control regulations at Title 19 NYCRR Part 429, as in existence as of the date this act becomes a law; provided, further, that such wholesale dealer or retail dealer can establish that New York state cigarette tax stamps were affixed to such cigarettes prior to the date that is 12 months after this act takes effect, and provided further that such wholesale dealer or retail dealer can establish that such inventory was purchased prior to such date in comparable quantity to the inventory purchased during the same period in the preceding year.

Laws 2008, ch 57, §§ 6 and 7 (Part MM), eff July 1, 2008, provide as follows:

§ 6. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, any retailer subject to article 20, 20-A, 28, 29, or 37 of the tax law, at the retailer's option, may continue to sell its inventory of tobacco products that, as the result of the amendments made by this act, are first being defined as cigarettes for a period of thirty days after the effective date of this act. Any retailer selling its inventory of these tobacco products without a cigarette tax stamp during this time is not in violation of article 20, 20-A, 28, 29 or 37 of the tax law.

§ 7. This act shall take effect July 1, 2008; provided, however, that any tobacco product manufacturer required to file a certification between April 16 and April 30, 2008, under subdivision 1 of section 480-b of the tax law, with respect to cigarettes that are first being defined as cigarettes as a result of the amendments made by this act, must file that certification no later than July 1, 2008.

Analysis

1. In general
2. Procedure

1. In general

Noerr-Pennington immunity did not protect statutes enacted as a result of a tobacco settlement agreement from Supremacy analysis based on the Sherman Act because the protection of pre-legislation action could not immunize the end product. Freedom Holdings, Inc. v Spitzer, 357 F.3d 205, 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 74 (2d Cir.), reh'g denied, 363 F.3d 149, 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 5600 (2d Cir. 2004).

In a dormant Commerce clause challenge of New York's Contraband Statutes, enacted pursuant to a settlement agreement for lawsuits against major tobacco manufacturers, plaintiff tobacco importers failed to identify any in-state commercial interest that was directly or indirectly favored by the statutes at the expense of out-of-state competitors; the importers conceded that virtually all cigarettes sold at retail were purchased out of state, the statutes applied equally to in-state and out-of-state products, and products sold by and to in-state and out-of-state parties and any incidental burdens on out-of-state products — i.e., the so-called "embargoing" of the cigarettes of non-participating manufacturers the importers purchased, resulted from their failure to comply with the statutes, a burden that was no greater for out-of-state interests than for in-state ones. Thus, the district court's dismissal of the Commerce Clause for failure to state a claim was affirmed. Freedom Holdings, Inc. v Spitzer, 357 F.3d 205, 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 74 (2d Cir.), reh'g denied, 363 F.3d 149, 2004 U.S. App. LEXIS 5600 (2d Cir. 2004).

2. Procedure

Where the district court denied two cigarette importers' motion for a preliminary injunction against enforcement of N.Y. Pub. Health Law §§ 1399-nn to 1399-pp and N.Y. Tax Law §§ 480-b and 481 subdiv. 1(c), the denial was affirmed because the importers failed to show irreparable harm. If they were successful at trial on their claims, they conceded that they would be entitled to a return of any funds deposited into escrow. Freedom Holdings, Inc. v Spitzer, 408 F.3d 112, 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 8886 (2d Cir. N.Y. 2005).

Where the district court denied two cigarette importers' motion for a preliminary injunction against enforcement of N.Y. Pub. Health Law §§ 1399-nn to 1399-pp and N.Y. Tax Law §§ 480-b and 481 subdiv. 1(c), the denial was affirmed because the importers failed to show irreparable harm. If they were successful at trial on their claims, they conceded that they would be entitled to a return of any funds deposited into escrow. Freedom Holdings, Inc. v Spitzer, 408 F.3d 112, 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 8886 (2d Cir. N.Y. 2005).

Cigarette importers did not show that the New York Escrow and Contraband Statutes, N.Y. Pub. Health Law §§ 1399-nn to 1399-pp and N.Y. Tax Law §§ 480-b, 481, and 1846, violated the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C.S. § 1, as the evidence did not establish that the statutes effectively compelled non-participating tobacco manufacturers to join an allegedly anticompetitive Master Settlement Agreement among tobacco companies and government entities. Also, state-action immunity applied to the challenged statutes. Freedom Holdings, Inc. v Cuomo, 624 F.3d 38, 2010 U.S. App. LEXIS 21392 (2d Cir. N.Y. 2010), cert. denied, 563 U.S. 913, 131 S. Ct. 1810, 179 L. Ed. 2d 670, 2011 U.S. LEXIS 2548 (U.S. 2011).

Cigarette importers failed to prove that the New York Escrow and Contraband Statutes, N.Y. Pub. Health Law §§ 1399-nn to 1399-pp and N.Y. Tax Law §§ 480-b, 481, and 1846, had an extraterritorial effect on commerce, and their challenge to the statutes under the dormant Commerce Clause, U.S. Const. art. I, § 8, cl. 3, was therefore properly rejected. While the enactment of similar escrow and contraband statutes in most states had caused cigarette prices to rise nationwide, the statutes imposed no inconsistent obligations. Freedom Holdings, Inc. v Cuomo, 624 F.3d 38, 2010 U.S. App. LEXIS 21392 (2d Cir. N.Y. 2010), cert. denied, 563 U.S. 913, 131 S. Ct. 1810, 179 L. Ed. 2d 670, 2011 U.S. LEXIS 2548 (U.S. 2011).

Cigarette importers demonstrated neither a likelihood of success on the merits nor irreparable harm with regards to the Master Settlement Agreement (MSA), the Escrow Statute, N.Y. Pub. Health Law § 1399-pp, and provisions of the Contraband Statute found at N.Y. Tax Law §§ 480-b, 481, and 1846. However, they made a showing of likelihood of success and of irreparable harm as regards the repeal of the Allocable Share Release provision, and accordingly, a preliminary injunction was granted enjoining the amended version of N.Y. Pub. Health Law § 1399-pp. Freedom Holdings, Inc. v Spitzer, 447 F. Supp. 2d 230, 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 18296 (S.D.N.Y. 2004), aff'd, 408 F.3d 112, 2005 U.S. App. LEXIS 8886 (2d Cir. N.Y. 2005).

1. Every tobacco product manufacturer, as defined by section thirteen hundred ninety-nine-oo of the public health law, whose roll-your-own tobacco is sold for consumption in this state, must annually certify under penalty of perjury that, as of the date of that certification, the tobacco product manufacturer: (a) is a participating manufacturer as defined in subdivision one of section thirteen hundred ninety-nine-pp of the public health law; or (b) is in full compliance with subdivision two of section thirteen hundred ninety-nine-pp of the public health law. The certification must be executed and delivered to the commissioner, the attorney general, and any distributor of roll-your-own tobacco of such tobacco product manufacturer, no earlier than the sixteenth day of April and no later than the thirtieth day of April of each year, and must be accompanied by a list setting forth each of the brands of roll-your-own tobacco of the tobacco product manufacturer sold for consumption in New York state. Distributors must retain the certifications for a period of five years.

2. A distributor must not offer for sale or cause to be sold in this state roll-your-own tobacco of a tobacco product manufacturer if either: (a) the tobacco product manufacturer of the roll-your-own tobacco has not provided the distributor with the certification required by subdivision one of this section; or (b) the commissioner has notified the distributor that the tobacco product manufacturer is in violation of section thirteen hundred ninety-nine-pp of the public health law, or has filed a false certification under subdivision one of this section, and the distributor has not been notified by the commissioner that the violation has ceased.

3. The commissioner must prescribe the form of the certification required to be filed pursuant to subdivision one of this section, and is authorized to collect and retain any information he or she may require to assure compliance with this section by distributors and tobacco product manufacturers.

(1) For purposes of this subsection:

(A) "Qualified taxpayer" means a resident individual of the state, who (i) is a resident of a city with a population over one million, (ii) has occupied the same residence for six months or more of the taxable year, and (iii) is required or chooses to file a return under this article.

(B) "Household" or "members of the household" means a qualified taxpayer and all other persons, not necessarily related, who have the same residence and share its furnishings, facilities and accommodations. Such terms shall not include a tenant, subtenant, roomer or boarder who is not related to the qualified taxpayer in any degree specified in subparagraphs (A) through (G) of paragraph two of subsection (d) of section one hundred fifty-two of the internal revenue code. Provided, however, no person may be a member of more than one household at one time.

(C) "Household gross income" means the aggregate adjusted gross income of all members of the household for the taxable year as reported for federal income tax purposes, or which would be reported as adjusted gross income if a federal income tax return were required to be filed, with the modifications in subsection (b) of section six hundred twelve of this article but without the modifications in subsection (c) of such section, plus any portion of the gain from the sale or exchange of property otherwise excluded from such amount; earned income from sources without the United States excludable from federal gross income by section nine hundred eleven of the internal revenue code; support money not included in adjusted gross income; nontaxable strike benefits; supplemental security income payments; the gross amount of any pension or annuity benefits to the extent not included in such adjusted gross income (including, but not limited to, railroad retirement benefits and all payments received under the federal social security act and veterans' disability pensions); nontaxable interest received from the state of New York, its agencies, instrumentalities, public corporations, or political subdivisions (including a public corporation created pursuant to agreement or compact with another state or Canada); workers' compensation; the gross amount of "loss-of-time" insurance; and the amount of cash public assistance and relief, other than medical assistance for the needy, paid to or for the benefit of the qualified taxpayer or members of his or her household. Household gross income shall not include surplus foods or other relief in kind or payments made to individuals because of their status as victims of Nazi persecution as defined in P.L. 103-286. Provided, further, household gross income shall only include all such income received by all members of the household while members of such household. In computing household gross income, the net amount of loss reported on Federal Schedule C, D, E, or F shall not exceed three thousand dollars per schedule. In addition, the net amount of any other separate category of loss shall not exceed three thousand dollars. The aggregate amount of all losses included in computing household gross income shall not exceed fifteen thousand dollars.

(D) "Residence" means a dwelling in this state, in a city with a population of over one million, owned or rented by the taxpayer, and so much of the land abutting it, not exceeding one acre, as is reasonably necessary for use of the dwelling as a home, and may consist of a part of a multi-dwelling or multi-purpose building including a cooperative or condominium, and rental units within a single dwelling. Residence includes a trailer or mobile home, used exclusively for residential purposes and defined as real property pursuant to paragraph (g) of subdivision twelve of section one hundred two of the real property tax law.

(E) "Qualifying real property taxes" means all real property taxes, special ad valorem levies and special assessments, exclusive of penalties and interest, levied on the residence of a qualified taxpayer and paid during the taxable year. A qualified taxpayer may elect to include any additional amount that would have been levied in the absence of an exemption from real property taxation pursuant to section four hundred sixty-seven of the real property tax law. If tenant-stockholders in a cooperative housing corporation have met the requirements of section two hundred sixteen of the internal revenue code by which they are allowed a deduction for real estate taxes, the amount of taxes so allowable, or which would be allowable if the taxpayer had filed returns on a cash basis, shall be qualifying real property taxes. If a residence is owned by two or more individuals as joint tenants or tenants in common, and one or more than one individual is not a member of the household, qualifying real property taxes is that part of such taxes on the residence which reflects the ownership percentage of the qualified taxpayer and members of his or her household. If a residence is an integral part of a larger unit, qualifying real property taxes shall be limited to that amount of such taxes paid as may be reasonably apportioned to such residence. If a household owns and occupies two or more residences during different periods in the same taxable year, qualifying real property taxes shall be the sum of the prorated qualifying real property taxes attributable to the household during the periods such household occupies each of such residences. If the household owns and occupies a residence for part of the taxable year and rents a residence for part of the same taxable year, it may include the proration of qualifying real property taxes on the residence owned. Provided, however, for purposes of the credit allowed under this subsection, qualifying real property taxes may be included by a qualified taxpayer only to the extent that such taxpayer or the spouse of such taxpayer, occupying such residence for one hundred eighty-three days or more of the taxable year, owns or has owned the residence and paid such taxes.

(F) "Real property tax equivalent" means fifteen and three-quarters percent of the adjusted rent actually paid in the taxable year by a household solely for the right of occupancy of its New York residence for the taxable year. If (i) a residence is rented to two or more individuals as cotenants, or such individuals share in the payment of a single rent for the right of occupancy of such residence, and (ii) each of such individuals is a member of a different household, one or more of which individuals shares such residence, real property tax equivalent is that portion of fifteen and three-quarters percent of the adjusted rent paid in the taxable year which reflects that portion of the rent attributable to the qualified taxpayer and the members of his or her household.

(G) "Adjusted rent" means rental paid for the right of occupancy of a residence, excluding charges for heat, gas, electricity, furnishings and board. Where charges for heat, gas, electricity, furnishings or board are included in rental but where such charges and the amount thereof are not separately set forth in a written rental agreement, for purposes of determining adjusted rent the qualified taxpayer shall reduce rental paid as follows:

(i) For heat, or heat and gas, deduct six percent of rental paid.

(ii) For heat, gas and electricity, deduct eight percent of rental paid.

(iii) For heat, gas, electricity and furnishings, deduct ten percent of rental paid.

(iv) For heat, gas, electricity, furnishings and board, deduct twenty percent of rental paid.

If the commissioner determines that the adjusted rent shown on the return is excessive, the commissioner may reduce such rent, for purposes of the computation of the credit, to an amount substantially equivalent to rent for a comparable accommodation.

(2) A qualified taxpayer shall be allowed a credit as provided in paragraph three of this subsection against the taxes imposed by this article reduced by the credits permitted by this article. If the credit exceeds the tax as so reduced for such year under this article, the excess shall be treated as an overpayment, to be credited or refunded, without interest. If a qualified taxpayer is not required to file a return pursuant to section six hundred fifty-one of this article, a qualified taxpayer may nevertheless receive the full amount of the credit to be credited or repaid as an overpayment, without interest.

(3) Determination of credit. For taxable years after two thousand thirteen, the amount of the credit allowable under this subsection shall be determined as follows:

If household gross income for the taxable year is:	Excess real property taxes are the excess of real property tax equivalent or the excess of qualifying real property taxes over the following percentage of household gross income:	The credit amount is the following percentage of excess property taxes:
Less than $100,000	4	4.5
$100,000 to less than $150,000	5	3.0
$150,000 to less than $200,000	6	1.5

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, the maximum credit determined under this subparagraph may not exceed five hundred dollars.

(4) If a qualified taxpayer occupies a residence for a period of less than twelve months during the taxable year or occupies two or more residences during different periods in such taxable year, the credit allowed pursuant to this subsection shall be computed in such manner as the commissioner may, by regulation, prescribe in order to properly reflect the credit or portion thereof attributable to such residence or residences and such period or periods.

(5) The commissioner may prescribe that the credit under this subsection shall be determined in whole or in part by the use of tables prescribed by such commissioner. Such tables shall set forth the credit to the nearest dollar.

(6) Only one credit per household and per qualified taxpayer shall be allowed per taxable year under this subsection. When two or more members of a household are able to meet the qualifications for a qualified taxpayer, the credit shall be equally divided between or among such individuals unless such individuals file with the commissioner a written agreement among such individuals setting forth a different division.

(A) Provided, however, where a joint income tax return has been filed pursuant to the provisions of section six hundred fifty-one of this article by a qualified taxpayer and his or her spouse (or where both spouses are qualified taxpayers and have filed such joint return), the credit, or the portion of the credit if divided, to which the spouses are entitled shall be applied against the tax of both spouses and any overpayment shall be made to both spouses.

(B) Where any return required to be filed pursuant to the provisions of section six hundred fifty-one of this article is combined with any return of tax imposed pursuant to the authority of this chapter or any other law if such tax is administered by the commissioner, the credit or the portion of the credit if divided, allowed to the qualified taxpayer may be applied by the commissioner toward any liability for the aforementioned taxes.

(7) No credit shall be granted under this subsection:

(A) If household gross income for the taxable year equals or exceeds two hundred thousand dollars.

(B) To a property owner unless: (i) the property is used for residential purposes, (ii) not more than twenty percent of the rental income, if any, from the property is from rental for nonresidential purposes and (iii) the property is occupied as a residence in whole or in part by one or more of the owners of the property.

(C) To an individual with respect to whom a deduction under subsection (c) of section one hundred fifty-one of the internal revenue code is allowable to another taxpayer for the taxable year.

(D) With respect to a residence that is wholly exempted from real property taxation.

(E) To an individual who is not a resident individual of a city, within the state, with a population over one million, for the entire taxable year.

(8) The right to claim a credit or the portion of a credit, where such credit has been divided under this subsection, shall be personal to the qualified taxpayer and shall not survive his or her death, but such right may be exercised on behalf of a claimant by his or her legal guardian or attorney in fact during his or her lifetime.

(9) Returns. If a qualified taxpayer is not required to file a return pursuant to section six hundred fifty-one of this article, a claim for a credit may be taken on a return filed with the commissioner within three years from the time it would have been required that a return be filed pursuant to such section had the qualified taxpayer had a taxable year ending on December thirty-first. Returns under this paragraph shall be in such form as shall be prescribed by the commissioner, which shall make available such forms and instructions for filing such returns.

(10) Proof of claim. The commissioner may require a qualified taxpayer to furnish the following information in support of his claim for credit under this subsection: household gross income, real property taxes levied or that would have been levied in the absence of an exemption from real property tax pursuant to section four hundred sixty-seven of the real property tax law, the names of members of the household and other qualifying taxpayers occupying the same residence and their identifying numbers including social security numbers, household gross income, size and nature of property claimed as residence and all other information which may be required by the commissioner to determine the credit.

(11) Administration. The provisions of this article, including the provisions of sections six hundred fifty-three, six hundred fifty-eight, and six hundred fifty-nine of this article and the provisions of part six of this article relating to procedure and administration, including the judicial review of the decisions of the commissioner, except so much of section six hundred eighty-seven of this article which permits a claim for credit or refund to be filed after the period provided for in paragraph nine of this subsection and except sections six hundred fifty-seven, six hundred eighty-eight and six hundred ninety-six of this article, shall apply to the provisions of this subsection in the same manner and with the same force and effect as if the language of those provisions had been incorporated in full into this subsection and had expressly referred to the credit allowed or returns filed under this subsection, except to the extent that any such provision is either inconsistent with a provision of this subsection or is not relevant to this subsection. As used in such sections and such part, the term "taxpayer" shall include a qualified taxpayer under this subsection and, notwithstanding the provisions of subsection (e) of section six hundred ninety-seven of this article, where a qualified taxpayer has protested the denial of a claim for credit under this subsection and the time to file a petition for redetermination of a deficiency or for refund has not expired, he shall, subject to such conditions as may be set by the commissioner, receive such information (A) which is contained in any return filed under this article by a member of his or her household for the taxable year for which the credit is claimed, and (B) which the commissioner finds is relevant and material to the issue of whether such claim was properly denied.

(12) Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, the credit allowed under this subsection shall be determined after the determination and application of any other credits permitted under the provisions of this article.

(13) The commissioner shall prepare a written report after December thirty-first of each calendar year, which shall contain statistical information regarding the credits granted on or before such dates under this subsection during such calendar year. Copies of the report shall be submitted by the commissioner to the governor, the temporary president of the senate, the speaker of the assembly, the chairman of the senate finance committee and the chairman of the assembly ways and means committee within forty-five days of December thirty-first.

Such report shall contain, but need not be limited to, the number of credits and the average amount of such credits allowed; and of those, the number of credits and the average amount of such credits allowed to qualified taxpayers in each county; and of those, the number of credits and the average amount of such credits allowed to qualified taxpayers whose household gross income falls within each of the household gross income ranges set forth in paragraph three of this subsection.

(1) For taxable years beginning on and after January first, two thousand seven, a resident taxpayer who serves as an active volunteer firefighter as defined in subdivision one of section two hundred fifteen of the general municipal law or as a volunteer ambulance worker as defined in subdivision fourteen of section two hundred nineteen-k of the general municipal law shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this article equal to two hundred dollars. In order to receive this credit a volunteer firefighter or volunteer ambulance worker must have been active for the entire taxable year for which the credit is sought.

(2) If a taxpayer receives a real property tax exemption relating to such service under title two of article four of the real property tax law, such taxpayer shall not be eligible for this credit; provided, however (A) if the taxpayer receives such real property tax exemption in the two thousand seven taxable year as a result of making application therefor in a prior year or (B) if the taxpayer notifies his or her assessor in writing by December thirty-first, two thousand seven of the taxpayer's intent to discontinue such real property tax exemption by not reapplying for such real property tax exemption by the next taxable status date, such taxpayer shall be eligible for this credit for the two thousand seven taxable year.

(3) In the case of a husband and wife who file a joint return and who both individually qualify for the credit under this subsection, the amount of the credit allowed shall be four hundred dollars.

(4) If the amount of the credit allowed under this subsection for any taxable year shall exceed the taxpayer's tax for such year, the excess shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section six hundred eighty-six of this article, provided, however, that no interest shall be paid thereon.

(1) For taxable years beginning on and after January first, two thousand seven, a resident taxpayer who serves as an active volunteer firefighter as defined in subdivision one of section two hundred fifteen of the general municipal law or as a volunteer ambulance worker as defined in subdivision fourteen of section two hundred nineteen-k of the general municipal law shall be allowed a credit against the tax imposed by this article equal to two hundred dollars. In order to receive this credit a volunteer firefighter or volunteer ambulance worker must have been active for the entire taxable year for which the credit is sought.

(2) If a taxpayer receives a real property tax exemption relating to such service under title two of article four of the real property tax law, such taxpayer shall not be eligible for this credit; provided, however (A) if the taxpayer receives such real property tax exemption in the two thousand seven taxable year as a result of making application therefor in a prior year or (B) if the taxpayer notifies his or her assessor in writing by December thirty-first, two thousand seven of the taxpayer's intent to discontinue such real property tax exemption by not reapplying for such real property tax exemption by the next taxable status date, such taxpayer shall be eligible for this credit for the two thousand seven taxable year.

(3) In the case of a husband and wife who file a joint return and who both individually qualify for the credit under this subsection, the amount of the credit allowed shall be four hundred dollars.

(4) If the amount of the credit allowed under this subsection for any taxable year shall exceed the taxpayer's tax for such year, the excess shall be treated as an overpayment of tax to be credited or refunded in accordance with the provisions of section six hundred eighty-six of this article, provided, however, that no interest shall be paid thereon.

Editor's Notes Laws 2019, ch 490, § 82, eff November 12, 2020, provides:

§ 82. This act shall take effect one year after it shall have become a law; provided, however that the amendments to subdivision 7 of section 369-h of the executive law made by section twenty-five of this act shall not affect the repeal of such section and shall be deemed repealed therewith. Effective immediately, the addition, amendment and/or repeal of any rule or regulation necessary for the implementation of this act on its effective date are authorized to be made and completed on or before such effective date.

Laws 2019, ch 683, §§ 6, 7, eff December 18, 2019, provide:

§ 6. Study of the underutilization of minority and women screenwriters and directors. 1. Study. Subject to an appropriation which shall provide sufficient funding necessary to complete such study, the department of economic development shall select, through the request for proposal process, an entity independent of such department which shall serve as such department's designee for the purpose of conducting a study to investigate the statistical significance of the underutilization of minority and women screenwriters and directors. Such study shall conduct or provide for an examination of, but not be limited to, a comparison of available minority and women screenwriters and directors against the share of screenwriting and directing work such groups receive on projects in New York state to demonstrate the statistically significant underutilization of that population.

2. Report. (a) Upon the completion of the study conducted pursuant to subdivision one of this section, the department of economic development shall deliver a report of the findings of such study to the governor, the temporary president of the senate, and the speaker of the assembly and post the study on the website of the department of economic development. (b) If the department of economic development determines that the study has found statistically significant evidence of the underutilization of minority and women screenwriters and directors against the share of screenwriting and directing work such groups receive on projects in the state, then the department of economic development shall so notify the governor, the temporary president of the senate, the speaker of the assembly, the commissioner of taxation and finance and the legislative bill drafting commission.

3. Powers. All other departments or agencies of the state or subdivisions thereof, and local governments shall, at the request of the department of economic development or its designee chosen pursuant to subdivision one of this section, provide expertise, assistance, and/or data that are relevant or material to the completion of the study directed to be completed by subdivision one of this section and the report directed to be completed by subdivision two of this section. The department of economic development, or its designee, shall also be authorized to obtain relevant information from any recognized entities representing the television industry or segments thereof towards the completion of such study (Amd, L 2020, ch 55, § 2 (Part XX, Subpart X), eff Dec 18, 2020).

§ 7. This act shall take effect immediately, provided, however, that the provisions of sections one, two, three, four, and five of this act shall take effect on the first of January next succeeding the date the department of economic development provides notice to the legislative bill drafting commission of a determination pursuant to paragraph (b) of subdivision two of section six of this act and shall apply to taxable years on and after such date; provided that the department of economic development shall notify the legislative bill drafting commission upon the occurrence of the submission of the report provided for in paragraph (b) of subdivision two of section six of this act in order that the commission may maintain an accurate and timely effective data base of the official text of the laws of the state of New York in furtherance of effectuating the provisions of section 44 of the legislative law and section 70-b of the public officers law. Effective immediately, the addition, amendment and/or repeal of any rule or regulation necessary for the implementation of this act on its effective date are authorized to be made and completed on or before such effective date (Amd, L 2020, ch 55, § 2 (Part XX, Subpart X), eff Dec 18, 2020).

Laws 2020, ch 59, § 2 (Part E), eff April 3, 2020, provides:

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately and apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2020.

Amendment Notes The 2019 amendment by ch 39, § 4 (Part G), in (eee)(5), redesignated and rewrote the former second sentence as the second and third sentences and added the last sentence.

The 2019 amendment by ch 59, §§ 3, 4 (Part L), added (i)(1)(B)(xliv) [first setout]; and added (jjj) [first setout].

The 2019 amendment by ch 59, § 2 (Part R), substituted "two thousand twenty-three" for "two thousand twenty" in the second sentence of (mm)(1).

The 2019 amendment by ch 59, § 2 (Part U), added "Except in the case of a qualified rehabilitation project undertaken within a state park, state historic site, or other land owned by the state, that is under the jurisdiction of the office of parks, recreation and historic preservation" at the beginning of the first sentence of (oo)(5).

The 2019 amendment by ch 59, § 3-a (Part U), in (pp)(5)(A)(iv), added the (1) and (2) designations and added (3); and made a related change.

The 2019 amendments by ch 59, §§ 3, 4 (Part W), added (i)(1)(B)(xliv) [second setout]; and added (jjj) [second setout].

The 2019 amendment by ch 59, § 2 (Part LL), added "for purposes of the credit authorized by this subsection" at the end of (eee)(1)(G).

The 2019 amendment by ch 59, § 1 (Part NN), deleted "and prior to two thousand sixteen" following "thirteen" in the introductory language of (e-1)(3).

The 2019 amendment by ch 59, § 2 (Part OO), in (eee)(6)(B), added the (i) designation and added (ii).

The 2019 amendments by ch 59, §§ 3, 4 (Part PP), in (eee), added "provided that in the event such party was determined to be ineligible on the basis that his or her primary residence received the STAR exemption in the associated fiscal year, the improperly issued credit amount shall be deemed a clerical error and shall be paid upon notice and demand without the issuance of a notice of deficiency and shall be assessed, collected and paid in the same manner as taxes" at the end of (10)(E) and added (13)(E).

The 2019 amendment by ch 59, § 2, (Part RR), added the second sentence of (eee)(3)(A).

The 2019 amendment by ch 59, § 4 (Part TT), in (eee)(5), substituted "were levied" for "where levied" in the first sentence and in the second sentence, deleted "and making any required payments" following "renouncing the exemption" and added "and making any required payments within the time frame prescribed by section four hundred ninety-six of the real property tax law" at the end.

The 2019 amendment by ch 59, § 1 (Part ZZZ, Subpart F), added (jjj).

The 2019 amendment by ch 490, § 72, added "(i)" and "or (ii) has a qualifying condition, as defined in section three hundred fifty of the executive law, and has received a discharge other than bad conduct or dishonorable from such service after September eleventh, two thousand one, or (iii) is a discharged LGBT veteran, as defined in section three hundred fifty of the executive law, and has received a discharge other than bad conduct or dishonorable from such service after September eleventh, two thousand one" in (a-2)(2)(A).

The 2019 amendment by ch 683, §§ 3, 4, added (v); and updated the table of (i)(1)(B)(xlv).

The 2020 amendment by ch 59, § 2 (Part B), substituted "two thousand twenty-two" for "two thousand twenty-one" in the first sentence of (a-2)(1); and substituted "two thousand twenty-one" for "two thousand twenty" in (a-2)(2)(B).

The 2020 amendment by ch 59, § 1 (Part E), in the first sentence of (aa)(1), substituted "There shall be" for "A taxpayer shall be" at the beginning, added "in an amount," and "substituted "the premiums" for "the premium" and added the second sentence in (aa)(1).

The 2020 amendment by ch 59, § 1 (Part F), added "(A)" at the beginning of the first sentence in (d)(6); and added (d)(6)(B).

PART II Residents

HISTORY:

Add, L 1960, ch 563, § 2, eff April 18, 1960.

§ 612. New York adjusted gross income of a resident individual

* * * * *

(c) Modifications reducing federal adjusted gross income. There shall be subtracted from federal adjusted gross income:

* * * * *

(41) The amount of any award paid to a volunteer firefighter or volunteer ambulance worker from a length of service defined contribution plan or defined benefit plan as provided for in articles eleven-A, eleven-AA, eleven-AAA and eleven-AAAA of the general municipal law, to the extent that such award is includable in gross income for federal income tax purposes; provided, however, that such award is not distributed in the form of a lump sum distribution, as defined in subparagraph (D) of paragraph four of subsection (e) of section four hundred two of the internal revenue code and taxed under section six hundred three of this article; and provided, further, that such award is not distributed to a taxpayer who has not attained the age of fifty-nine and one-half years.

(42) [There are three sub (c), paragraphs (42)] Distributions from an eligible retirement plan, as such term is defined in subparagraph (B) of paragraph (8) of subsection (c) of section four hundred two of the Internal Revenue Code, made on or after April first, two thousand seventeen and before April second, two thousand twenty-two. In order for such distributions to be eligible to be subtracted from federal adjusted gross income under this paragraph, the following conditions must be satisfied: (A) the taxpayer's primary residence was located in the area affected by the disaster declared pursuant to executive order one hundred sixty-five of two thousand seventeen, declaring a state of emergency, dated May third, two thousand seventeen; (B) such primary residence must have incurred damage due to coastal flooding, widespread erosion and water damage caused by such disaster; (C) such damage must qualify for the casualty deduction under section one hundred sixty-five of the internal revenue code (determined without regard to whether the loss exceeds ten percent of adjusted gross income); and (D) the taxpayer during the taxable year must use the entire amount of the distributions to pay for repairs needed as a result of such damage. Provided, however, that the amount of the distributions that otherwise may be subtracted under this paragraph must be reduced by any deduction claimed by the taxpayer for such damage pursuant to section one hundred sixty-five of the internal revenue code. Provided, further, that the taxpayer shall not claim a subtraction modification under paragraph three-a of this subsection for such distribution.

(42) [There are three sub (c), paragraphs (42); eff Jan 1, 2019] Insurance payments received by an eligible volunteer firefighter for the cancer disability benefits in section two hundred five-cc of the general municipal law to the extent includable in gross income for federal income tax purposes.

(42) [There are three sub (c), paragraphs (42)]

(A) The amount of any student loan that is discharged, whether in whole or in part, if such discharge was:

(i) pursuant to subsection (a) or (d) of section 437 of the Higher Education Act of 1965 or the parallel benefit provided pursuant to part D of title IV of such act;

(ii) pursuant to section 464(c)(1)(F) of the Higher Education Act of 1965; or

(iii) otherwise discharged on account of the death or total and permanent disability of the person on whose behalf the indebtedness was incurred.

(B) For the purposes of this paragraph, "student loan" means:

(i) a student loan as defined in section 108(f)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986; or

(ii) a private education loan, as defined in section 140(7) of the Consumer Credit Protection Act.

Editor's Notes Laws 1963, ch 446, §§ 20, 21, provide as follows:

§ 20. The provisions of this act and the deductions and modifications allowed for purposes of the tax law as amended by the preceding sections of this act, shall be given effect for tax purposes only and shall not be taken into consideration or given any effect for the purposes of any state or local law other than the tax law or for the purposes of any regulation promulgated under any other such law.

§ 21. This act shall take effect April first, nineteen hundred sixty-four and shall apply to taxable years commencing on or after April first, nineteen hundred sixty-four.

Laws 1963, ch 921, § 8, eff April 30, 1963, provides as follows:

§ 8. This act shall take effect immediately and shall apply only with respect to taxable years beginning on or after January first, nineteen hundred sixty-three.

Laws 1965, ch 178, § 11, provides:

§ 11. This act shall take effect immediately, but shall apply to taxable years commencing on or after January first, nineteen hundred sixty-five. The net operating loss carryback provisions shall apply to taxable years commencing on or after January first, nineteen hundred sixty-two.

Laws 1970, ch 1005, § 1, eff May 20, 1970, provides as follows:

Section 1. Legislative findings and declaration of purpose. A state's tax system must attempt to treat all taxpayers with fairness and equity. Strong taxpayer interest in greater equity in the tax system stimulated the federal tax reform studies and the enactment of the tax reform act of nineteen hundred sixty-nine. This taxpayer interest, plus the close conformity of the state tax system with the federal tax statutes, suggested that the state's tax structure should be reviewed to determine if greater equity and fairness could be achieved without losing the significant advantages of federal conformity.

It is recommended that the state continue to closely conform with federal statutes to the extent that the state can do so without harm to its fiscal position. Thus, the state should accept those federal tax changes with which the state has automatic conformity and take action to assure continuance of the benefits of procedural tax conformity. In addition, it is recommended that the state adopt the increased federal standard deductions, the first two steps of the increased federal personal exemption, reduce, on a tapered basis, the nonconformity deduction for life insurance premiums, and conform to the federal unrelated business income tax. Other changes would impose a minimum income tax, increase the statutory credit for single persons, and, as a means of conforming to the intent of the new federal low-income allowance, eliminate any tax liability for low-income taxpayers with New York adjusted gross income of less than two thousand dollars in any taxable year.

In summary, it is the purpose of this act to institute a program of tax reform that will bring a greater measure of equity and fairness to the state's tax system and that will also maintain the advantages of federal conformity.

Laws 1972, ch 414, § 6, eff May 22, 1972, provides as follows:

Since September of nineteen hundred sixty-six when nonpublic enrollment reached a zenith of 891,000 pupils, the enrollment of such schools has shown a constant and unmistakable decline. Fewer than 760,000 students were enrolled in September of nineteen hundred seventy-one. The severity of the fiscal crisis confronting nonpublic education threatens to change what has been a gradual transition of pupils into a sudden and precipitous collapse of nonpublic education. Such a collapse would seriously jeopardize the quality of education for all students and worsen an already serious fiscal crisis in the public schools.

Additional financial assistance to public school districts cannot prevent the disruption of the educational process which a massive infusion of new students would precipitate. It can, however, partially alleviate the enormous, and perhaps intolerable, fiscal burden that must be borne by the property taxpayers of school districts. Urban school districts, which contain a majority of the nonpublic school enrollment, are particularly affected, since their ability to raise property tax revenues is curtailed by constitutional tax limits. Therefore, it is declared to be the policy of this State to provide additional financial assistance for those impacted public school districts in accordance with the provision contained herein.

Laws 1973, ch 265, § 2, eff May 1, 1973, provides as follows:

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately, and any claim for credit or refund of taxes attributable to the provision of paragraph eight-a of subdivision (c) of section six hundred twelve of the tax law, as added by this act, may be filed within two years from the time such member of the armed forces returns to the United States.

Laws 1978, ch 70, § 47, provides as follows:

§ 47. This act shall take effect immediately and, except as otherwise expressly provided by the provisions of the tax law or of the administrative code of the city of New York as herein amended, shall apply to taxable years commencing after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred seventy-seven.

Laws 1983, ch 400, § 22 in part, eff June 30, 1983, provides as follows:

This act shall take effect immediately, except that . . . sections four, five and eight through twelve of this act shall be applicable to taxable years commencing on or after the first day of July, nineteen hundred eighty-three and to that portion of any taxable year commencing prior thereto to the extent of that portion of such year which includes the period which commences with the first day of July, nineteen hundred eighty-three, ...

Laws 1985, ch 43, § 30, eff April 17, 1985, provides as follows:

§ 30. This act shall take effect immediately, provided, however, the provisions of this act with respect to recovery property subject to the provisions of section two hundred eighty-F of the internal revenue code shall apply to taxable years ending after June eighteenth, nineteen hundred eighty-four and, provided further the deletion of the phrase "for which a deduction is allowed under section one hundred sixty-eight of the internal revenue code" in sections three, five, eight, eleven, fourteen, sixteen, nineteen, twenty-one, twenty-five and twenty-eight of this act shall apply to taxable years commencing on or after January first, nineteen hundred eighty-four.

Laws 1987, ch 28, § 1, eff April 20, 1987, provides as follows:

Section 1. Short title. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Tax Reform and Reduction Act of 1987".

Laws 1987, ch 28, § 107, eff April 20, 1987, provides, in part, as follows:

(a) . . . sections thirty-two, thirty-four through thirty-seven, forty, forty-one, forty-five, forty-six, fifty, fifty-two, fifty-four, fifty-eight, sixty-one, . . . shall apply to taxable years beginning after nineteen hundred eighty-six;.

(d) . . . section fifty-five insofar as it applies to paragraph one of subsection (k) of section six hundred twelve of the tax law shall apply to contributions made on or after the effective date of this act; section fifty-five insofar as it applies to paragraph two of subsection (k) of section six hundred twelve of the tax law shall apply to income realized by a qualified higher education fund, and to payments made by such a fund, in taxable years beginning on or after January first, nineteen hundred eighty-eight; section fifty-five insofar as it applies to paragraph one of subsection (1) of section six hundred twelve of the tax law shall apply to terminations of qualified higher education funds occurring on or after the effective date of this act; section fifty-five insofar as it applies to paragraph two of subsection (1) of section six hundred twelve of the tax law shall apply to taxable years ending on or after the effective date of this act; . . .

(e) . . . sections . . . thirty-eight, thirty-nine, forty-seven and forty-eight shall apply to property to which the amendments made by section two hundred one of Public Law 99-514 apply. . . .;.

(g) The provisions of section thirty-one and forty-three shall apply to taxable years beginning after nineteen hundred eighty-eight; . . . .

(j) . . . sections thirty-three, forty-two, sixty-three, . . . shall apply to taxable years beginning after nineteen hundred eighty-seven. (Amd, L 1987, ch 333, §§ 172, 173, eff April 20, 1987.).

Laws 1987, ch 265, § 12, eff July 20, 1987, provides, in part, as follows:

§ 12. This act shall take effect immediately, provided however, section . . . four . . . of this act, shall apply to taxable years beginning after December thirty-first, nineteen hundred eighty . . . .

Laws 1988, ch 782, § 8, eff Jan 1, 1989, provides as follows:

§ 8. This act shall take effect January first, nineteen hundred eighty-nine, provided however, that in no event shall this act take effect earlier than the beginning of the first full calendar year quarter following forty-five days after the internal revenue service rules that the employee contributions picked up under this act are not includible in the gross income of the employee until distributed or made available to the employee; and this act shall remain in full force and effect only so long as such treatment of employee contributions is authorized pursuant to the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code.

Laws 1989, ch 114, §§ 15, 16, eff May 30, 1989, provide as follows:

§ 15. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to create any contractual right with respect to members to which it applies. The provisions of this act are intended to afford members the advantages of certain benefits contained in the internal revenue code, and the effectiveness and existence of this act and benefits it confers are completely contingent thereon.

§ 16. This act shall take effect immediately; provided that it shall remain in force and effect only so long as, pursuant to federal law, contributions picked up under this act are not includible as gross income of a member for federal income tax purposes until distributed or made available to the member.

Laws 1989, ch 664, § 3, eff July 21, 1989, provides as follows:

§ 3. This act shall take effect immediately and shall apply to federal pension benefits received in taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1989; provided, however, that in the event the federal public salary tax act of 1939 or federal law, decisional or legislative, no longer require that federal and state pension benefits be treated equally for purposes for the tax imposed by article 22 of the tax law and the tax authorized pursuant to the authority of article 30 of such law, then the amendments made by sections one and two of this act shall be of no further force and effect except as to federal pension benefits received in taxable years ending prior to the date such change in federal law becomes effective.

Laws 1990, ch 190, § 385(c), (q)(2), eff May 25, 1990, provides as follows:

(c) sections seven through twenty-seven of this act shall apply to taxable years beginning after 1989;.

[(q)] (2) sections two hundred twelve, two hundred twenty-five, two hundred twenty-six, two hundred twenty-seven and two hundred twenty-eight of this act shall apply with respect to the taxes imposed by sections 182, 182-a, 182-b and article 13-A of the tax law, as the case may be, on and after June 1, 1990 and shall not apply with respect to any such taxes accrued prior to such date;.

Laws 1991, ch 166, § 406(a), eff June 12, 1991, provides as follows:

(a) Sections two, four and five of this act shall apply to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1990;.

Laws 1992, ch 681, §§ 15, 16, eff July 31, 1992, provide as follows:

§ 15. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to create any contractual right with respect to members and employees to which it applies. The provisions of this act are intended to afford members and employees the advantages of certain benefits contained in the internal revenue code, and the effectiveness and existence of this act and benefits it confers are completely contingent thereon.

§ 16. This act shall take effect immediately; provided that it shall remain in force and effect only so long as, pursuant to federal law, contributions picked up under this act are not includible as gross income of a member or employee for federal income tax purposes until distributed or made available to the member or employee.

(j) sections forty-six and eighty-one of this act shall apply to taxable years of regulated investment companies ending on or after the date of enactment of this act;.

Laws 1993, ch 374, § 15, eff July 21, 1993, provides as follows:

§ 15. This act shall take effect immediately; provided, however, that nothing contained herein shall be deemed to affect the application, qualification, expiration or repeal of any provision of law amended by any section of this act and such provision shall be applied or qualified or shall expire or be deemed repealed in the same manner, to the same extent and on the same date as the case may be as otherwise provided by law.

Laws 1993, ch 638, § 1, eff Aug 4, 1993, provides as follows:

Section 1. Short title. This act may be cited as the "Viatical Settlements Act".

Section 1. Legislative findings and declaration of purpose. 1. Mass transportation services in the metropolitan commuter transportation district ("MTA district") are essential to meeting the basic mobility and economic needs of the citizens of the MTA district, the state and the region. The contributions of such mass transportation services are also essential to addressing fundamental environmental policy and social needs of the state's residents.

2. The metropolitan transportation authority must continue to function as the primary provider of reasonably priced, safe and reliable mass transportation services in the MTA district.

3. It is of vital importance to the ability of the metropolitan transportation authority to meet the continued need for mobility and for the economic health of the MTA district that additional dedicated sources of reliable funding be made promptly available.

4. Such funding is needed to ensure the continuation of reasonable fares and provide for the continuation of the capital program of the authority to ensure the ongoing rehabilitation, improvement and expansion of the mass transit system.

5. It is the intent of the governor and legislature to continue to fund the capital program of the metropolitan transportation authority as well as other transportation needs of the state including highways and bridges, non-MTA transit, passenger and freight rail and aviation and port facilities on a multi-year basis.

6. It is the intent of the governor and the legislature to address the capital needs of the department of transportation including highways and bridges, non-MTA transit, passenger and freight rail and aviation and port facilities at the same time and for the same duration as the next MTA capital program. The governor and the legislature request that the department of transportation begin the development of such a program immediately and provide the legislature with an outline of the objectives of the program and the performance measures that will be used to determine investment in transportation in the state for the next multiyear capital program by October 1, 2009.

1. In general

Where taxpayer's New York State income tax return was properly prepared claiming a moving expense deduction, and taxpayer's federal income tax return was incorrectly prepared and where said return did not reflect his proper federal adjusted gross income, audit division erred in disallowing taxpayer's moving expense education. In re Albert, Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-H-85(23)-I.

Definitions governing new business investment deferral differ from those pertaining to exclusion for new business investment gains; to qualify for a new business investment deferral, new business must be business enterprise that meets all of requirements set forth in CLS Tax § 612(p); there is no requirement that corporation which qualifies as new business must be subject to tax and, accordingly, investment in S corporation may qualify for new business investment deferral. Advisory Opinion, Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-A-87-(5)-I.

CLS Tax § 612 does not contain any modification that affects shareholders of corporations that are each party to tax-free reorganization, where for federal income tax purposes transaction constitutes statutory merger and stock of corporation which before merger was in control of merged corporation as used in transaction. Advisory Op Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-A-88-(14)-C.

CLS Tax Law § 612(b)'s professional corporation modification provisions are triggered by legal or equitable ownership of shares in professional corporation; where taxpayer has given up all incidents of ownership, both legal and equitable, in shares of a professional corporation, by means of "Clifford" trust, it cannot be said, as matter of law, that this is an impermissible method of tax avoidance. In Matter of Friedman, NYS Dept. of Tax. & Fin., Tax Appeals Tribunal Decision No. TSB-D-88-(23)I.

Division of Taxation's adjustment to taxpayer's non-resident income tax return by taking into account taxpayer's spouse's non-New York income to compute tax rate was proper. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-99-(19)I.

2. Constitutionality

In an Article 78 proceeding brought by attorneys who were members of a professional corporation seeking review of deficiencies assessed for personal income tax returns, the assessments were proper where the attorneys transferred their shares of stock in their corporation to trustees under revocable trusts, where the trustees had no active duties to perform other than to do as directed by the attorneys who were the grantors and beneficiaries of the trusts, and where the "add back" provisions of Tax Law § 612, pertaining to upward adjustments of gross income, were properly applied in view of the fact that equal protection rights were not violated by treating employees of a conventional corporation different than employees of a professional corporation. Becker v New York State Tax Com., 89 A.D.2d 707, 453 N.Y.S.2d 830, 1982 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 17838 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1982).

Because the state decided to pay full refunds to the plaintiffs, who paid income taxes on Federal pensions for the years 1986 through 1988 pursuant to a discriminatory, unconstitutional tax scheme under Tax Law § 612 [c] [3] [ii]; Administrative Code of City of New York § 11-1712 [c] [3], the issues affected by the vacation and remitittur of this court's decision in Duffy v Wetzler (1992, 2d Dept) 174 App Div 2d 253, 579 NYS2d 684 for further consideration in light of Harper v Virginia Dep't of Taxation (1993) 509 US 86, 113 S Ct 2510, 125 L Ed 2d 74, are academic. Duffy v Wetzler, 207 A.D.2d 375, 616 N.Y.S.2d 48, 1994 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8246 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1994).

This statute is not unconstitutional in that it requires taxation of undistributed profits in apparent conflict with New York Constitution Article 16 § 3, in view of provisions of New York Constitution Article 3 § 22 that "income" may be defined by reference to any provision of laws of United States. Garlin v Murphy, 51 Misc. 2d 477, 273 N.Y.S.2d 374, 1966 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1598 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1966), aff'd, 34 N.Y.2d 921, 359 N.Y.S.2d 552, 316 N.E.2d 869, 1974 N.Y. LEXIS 1426 (N.Y. 1974).

The prohibition against income splitting contained in Tax L § 612, subd f does not violate Article 3, § 22 of the New York State Constitution. Application of Kenning, 72 Misc. 2d 929, 339 N.Y.S.2d 793, 1972 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1271 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1972), aff'd, 43 A.D.2d 815, 350 N.Y.S.2d 1017, 1973 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 7087 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1973).

Tax Law §§ 612(f) and 615(b)(2) declared constitutional despite contention that denial of right to file separate returns by married couple where one spouse earned income while permitting such filing where both spouses earned income was denial of equal protection and for purpose of convenience of Department of Taxation and Finance. Application of Kenning, 72 Misc. 2d 929, 339 N.Y.S.2d 793, 1972 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1271 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1972), aff'd, 43 A.D.2d 815, 350 N.Y.S.2d 1017, 1973 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 7087 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1973).

A state system of providing income tax benefits to parents of nonpublic school children by allowing deductions of specific amounts from adjusted gross income in calculating their state income tax is invalid under the First Amendment's establishment clause as insufficiently restricted to assure that it will not have the impermissible effect of advancing the sectarian activities of religious schools. Committee for Public Education & Religious Liberty v Nyquist, 413 U.S. 756, 93 S. Ct. 2955, 37 L. Ed. 2d 948, 1973 U.S. LEXIS 36 (U.S. 1973).

Since there is no jurisdiction at the administration level to declare Tax Law § 612(b)(7)–(9) unconstitutional, petitioner's argument, that the add back provisions of Tax Law § 612(b)(7)–(9) are unconstitutional in that they deny shareholders of a professional service corporation equal protection of the law because if a professional is engaged in private practice as an employee-shareholder of that professional service corporation, he is then subject to the add back tax provision that the same professional engaged in the practice of his profession as an employee of a conventional business corporation is not subject to, is to no avail. In re Levy, Dec St Tax Comm, October 3, 1980.

There is no jurisdiction at administrative level to declare Tax Law § 612 unconstitutional. In re Petition of Bartlett, Dec State Tax Comm, Apr. 24, 1981.

Petitioners, who failed to timely file claims for refund of taxes paid on federal pension income, were not entitled to refund under special refund authority of CLS Tax § 697(d) where petitioners paid income tax on federal pension income as was required by law at time when individual income tax returns were filed for years in question, and even though CLS Tax § 612(c)(3)(ii) had been rendered unconstitutional, petitioners' payments at time they were made, were pursuant to law. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-98-(21)I.

3. New York adjusted gross income

New York taxpayers are required to conform their New York adjusted gross income to their federal adjusted gross income. In re Ross, Dec State Tax Comm, TSB-H-83-(339)-I.

New York adjusted gross income of resident individual means his federal adjusted gross income, as defined in laws of United States for taxable year, with modifications specified in Tax Law § 612(b) and (c); since modifications set forth in § 612(b) are modifications increasing federal adjusted gross income and since there is no modification within § 612(c) to reduce federal adjusted gross income by amount of income earned from foreign sources, or by amount of foreign income taxes withheld, all such income is subject to New York state personal income tax; foreign income taxes may not be taken as New York itemized deduction, since Tax Law § 615(c)(1) requires that total amount of deductions from federal adjusted gross income is to be reduced by federal deductions for income taxes imposed by this state or by any other taxing jurisdiction. In re Noaks, Dec State Tax Comm, Sept. 28, 1979.

Rejected was the claim of the petitioner, a fighter, that he assigned his income to his cooperation and, thus, it was not taxable to him as an individual. This position was based on his allegation that the income from the fights was paid to the corporation which, in turn, paid petitioner a salary as well as covering all expenses associated with the fight. The adjusted gross income of a resident individual is his Federal adjusted gross income as defined in the laws of the United States for the taxable year with certain modifications not applicable in the instant case. Federal adjusted gross income is defined as all income from whatever source derived, minus any pertinent deductions. It is a principle of Federal Income Tax Law that income is to be taxed to the person who has earned it. If that person assigns, his income to another, it nevertheless is the income of the assignor and is taxable to him. Thus, petition's argument that the money was not income to him because he assigned it to his corporation, or it was paid directly to the petitioner, who then passed it on to the corporation, ignores this fundamental principle. Tax may not be escaped by the earner through the use of an anticipatory arrangements and contracts however skillfully devised to prevent income when paid from vesting to him. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-90(35) I (1990).

4. Includability in income—Contributions to pension plans, life insurance

Pension of federal employee is includible in gross income for state personal income tax purposes. In re Resnick, Dec State Tax Comm, TSB-H-83-(25)-I.

Taxpayer was required to make modifications provided for in §§ 612(b)(7), (b)(8) and (b)(9) of Tax Law where professional service corporation in 1978, as direct result of taxpayer being one of its shareholder-employees, contributed certain amounts to a pension plan on taxpayer's behalf, paid the federal excise tax for old age, survivors and disability insurance on taxpayer's wages, and purchased life, accident or health or other insurance for taxpayer. In re Helou, Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-H-85(93)-I.

Shareholders in professional service corporation in general are not outside of the ambit of § 612(b)(7) by virtue of their being in situations involving a defined benefit plan as opposed to a defined contribution plan. In re Etengoff, Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-H-85(109)-I.

Restitution received pursuant to Civil Liberties Act of 1988 (PL 100-383), acknowledging and apologizing for fundamental violations of basic civil liberties and constitutional rights of individuals of Japanese ancestry during World War II, is not subject to New York State personal income tax or New York City personal income tax on residents. Matter of Kochiyama, State Tax Com., March 10, 1989, TSB-A-89-(3)I.

Petitioner, an attorney and shareholder of a professional service corporation who transferred his shares of the company's stock to another attorney pursuant to a trust agreement, still remained the owner of the stock, even though the trust acquired possession for all substantial and practical purposes and therefore will be considered a taxpayer who is a shareholder of a corporation organized under BCL Article 15 and is required to make modifications provided for in Tax Law § 612(b)(7)–(9). In re Levy, Dec St Tax Comm, October 3, 1980.

For purposes of CLS Tax § 634(a)(1), items of income, gain, loss, and deduction included in federal distributable net income of estate for taxable year 1995, that were derived from or connected with New York sources, included "pension income" distribution except to extent that "Voluntary Employee Contribution Account" constituted annuity under 20 NYCRR § 132.4(d), and to extent $20,000 subtraction modification under CLS Tax § 612(c)(3-a) was allowed under CLS Tax § 631(a). Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-96(9)I.

Petitioners' claims, seeking refunds of state personal income taxes paid based on inclusion of federal retirement benefits in their state taxable income, were properly dismissed as time-barred under CLS Tax § 687(a) where petitioners had opportunity to file timely "protective" claims for refunds for years in question. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-98-(23.1)I.

5. —Corporate distributions, dividends

Transfers from corporation to sole proprietorship owned by corporation's sole stockholder were not constructive dividends, where check stubs for the payments were marked "loan," the sole proprietorship intended to pay back the loans and did so, and there was a business purpose to the loans, notwithstanding that no notes were made and no interest was paid. In re Senor, Op State Tax Comm, August 16, 1977.

Total gross dividend received by petitioners from foreign corporation was includible in New York adjusted gross income under CLS Tax Law § 612, subd a, even though portion of dividend was withheld by corporation and remitted directly to foreign government. In re Nevin, Op State Tax Comm, October 13, 1978.

Constructive distribution made by corporation having no current earnings or profits would be treated as a return of capital to the extent of the stock basis, but any distribution made from current earnings and profits would be treated as dividend income. In re PLA Standard Corp., Op State Tax Comm, September 15, 1980.

Taxpayer's practice of waiting until end of each fiscal year to determine how much salary he would draw from professional corporation by means of promissory notes was invalid, and money withdrawn from corporation constituted dividend, since there was never any intention to repay notes nor was there any reasonable expectation by corporation of receiving payment on notes at any time, and each note was forgiven as soon as it was deemed to be salary for any specific fiscal year. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-92-(4)I.

Division of Taxation properly assessed petitioner for additional personal income tax attributable to excess income of 2 closely-held corporations, where criminal investigation by district attorney's office determined that corporations' net profit figures were constructive or actual dividends (or excess salary) to petitioner and other corporate principals/shareholders, and petitioner did not offer any evidence to dispute district attorney's findings with respect to corporations' tax liability. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-97-(23)I.

6. —Income from or loss of subchapter S corporation

Tax deficiency resulting from failure of wife's attorney to file and elect as subchapter S corporation as to her business did not fall within provision of separation agreement obligating husband to pay any tax deficiency due to wife's failure or neglect to disclose any income to be included on tax return; if corporation has not properly elected to be treated as S corporation "any item of loss or deduction of the corporation" shall be included in gross income under CLS Tax § 612(b)(19)(A), so that deficiency was due to underreporting of losses rather than income. Jackson v Jackson, 157 A.D.2d 559, 550 N.Y.S.2d 300, 1990 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 789 (N.Y. App. Div. 1st Dep't 1990).

If all shareholders fail to file election for Subchapter S status, shareholders must add back to federal adjusted gross income their pro-rata share of net operating loss of corporation to extent such loss was deducted for federal income tax purposes pursuant to CLS Tax § 612(b)(19); since such election was not made by shareholders of corporation, shareholders, in determining their New York adjusted gross incomes, are required to increase their respective federal adjusted gross incomes by their pro-rate share of net operating loss of corporation as reported on their federal returns. In re Spitalny, et al, Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-H-87(58)-I.

Shareholders of S corporation for federal income tax purposes, may elect to take into account S corporation items of income, loss, deduction and reduction for taxes on personal income tax returns filed for New York State. In re Gerbasi, Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-H-87-(163)-I.

In order to calculate New York City resident tax, taxpayer was not entitled to reduce New York State taxable income by his share of income from subchapter S corporation. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-99-(5)I.

7. —Fellowships, grants and the like

Stipend received by doctor while in educational training at hospital was not excludible from gross income as fellowship grant in accordance with Internal Revenue Code § 117 where doctor received withholding slips showing his compensation as wages, deductions were made for social security, federal and state taxes, he received 2 weeks vacation and 2 weeks military leave, he was provided with medical insurance and where he did not sustained burden of proof to show that amounts received did not represent compensation for services or that his services were not primarily for benefit of hospital within meaning of Treasury Regulation § 1.117-4(c); fact that an individual is engaged in work which may result in educational benefits to himself and/or others does not transform payment received for such work into excludible scholarship or fellowship grant in accordance with Revenue Ruling 64-212, 1967 2 CB 40. In re Buscaglia, 1980 Dec State Tax Comm, Jan 2, 1980.

Grant received by doctor from State Department of Mental Hygiene was not paid as compensation for services or for benefit of grantor, and was properly excludible from income, notwithstanding that grant was made by department in settlement of grievance by doctor concerning department's harassment because doctor criticized conditions at institution operated by department. In re Bronston, 1982 Dec State Tax Comm, Apr 30, 1982.

8. —Interest from government obligations

That portion of lump sum retirement distribution which represents earning from interest on United States Government bonds is exempt from state taxation. Johnson v New York State Tax Com., 117 A.D.2d 867, 498 N.Y.S.2d 581, 1986 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 53139 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1986).

Dividends paid by regulated investment company, substantially all of which distributions are made out of interest and original issue discount on federal obligations, are not exempt from personal income tax imposed under CLS Tax Law Article 22, as although CLS Tax § 612 exempts from personal income tax interest on obligations of United States and its agencies and instrumentalities, exemption does not extend to dividends attributable to such exempt interest, since tax-exempt character of income earned by corporation is not automatically preserved and passed through corporate entity upon distribution of dividends by it to its shareholders. In re Luschinsky, Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-H-86(118)I.

Although interest expense on loan used to buy tax-exempt federal securities is not deductible on state income tax, income earned from rebate of such prepaid interest may not be excluded from Federal income in determining state income. In re Millard, Op State Tax Comm, June 14, 1977.

Interest income received by taxpayers from United States Treasury Bills and Notes is exempt from New York State personal income tax. In re Power, Dec State Tax Comm, Sept 28, 1979.

Exempt-interest dividends attributable to obligations of Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands and Guam are excluded from federal gross income and thus not subject to personal income tax. In re Driscoll, 1982 Op State Tax Comm, Sep 22, 1982.

To extent that interest which New York limited partnership established as "private banker" incurs or continues to purchase or carry indebtedness in ordinary course of its banking business is allowed as deduction under § 163(a) of Internal Revenue Code and is not disallowed under § 265(2) of Internal Revenue Code, such interest will also be allowed as deduction for New York State personal income tax purposes and will not be disallowed under CLS Tax § 612(b)(4). Advisory Opinion, Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-A-87-(1)-I.

Taxpayer properly reduced amount of his federal adjusted gross income by amount of interest received on Treasury Note; taxpayer properly reduced amount of his federal adjusted gross income by amount of dividends paid by mutual fund which were attributable to interest on federal obligations. In Matter of Petition of Kalina, TSB-H-87-(194)-I.

9. —Partnership income or distribution

In an Article 78 proceeding to annul a determination of the state tax commission requiring a partner to pay state taxes on all of his partnership income for the year in question, the determination was properly annulled where the partner had been a nonresident alien for 11 months of the year. McLaughlin v New York State Tax Com., 87 A.D.2d 712, 448 N.Y.S.2d 891, 1982 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 16051 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1982).

New York resident's adjusted gross income includes his or her distributive share of partnership income or gains. Callicutt v New York State Comm'r of Taxation & Fin., 241 A.D.2d 778, 660 N.Y.S.2d 747, 1997 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8106 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1997).

Taxpayer failed to establish existence of valid assignment of his interest in limited partnership, on which he had failed to pay income tax, where he presented only copy of unsigned assignment together with his "extremely vague" testimony that he had signed original document, purported assignment did not comply with requirements of partnership agreement, and taxpayer had accepted following year's partnership distribution, which was inconsistent with his claim of assignment. Callicutt v New York State Comm'r of Taxation & Fin., 241 A.D.2d 778, 660 N.Y.S.2d 747, 1997 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8106 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1997).

Determination of personal income tax deficiency was supported by evidence of taxpayer's receipt of distributive share from limited partnership, despite taxpayer's intervening bankruptcy, where partnership agreement provided that bankruptcy of limited partner would not cause dissolution of partnership and there was no evidence that taxpayer scheduled partnership interest as asset in bankruptcy proceeding. Callicutt v New York State Comm'r of Taxation & Fin., 241 A.D.2d 778, 660 N.Y.S.2d 747, 1997 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8106 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1997).

Nonresident alien petitioner, who for first 11 months of 1968 resided outside New York State, was required to include as taxable income on her part-year New York State resident income tax return her entire distributive share of income from a calendar year foreign partnership which did not derive any income from United States sources. In re McLaughlin, Dec State Tax Comm, October 17,1980.

20 NYCRR § 154.6 provides means to allocate distributive share of partnership income and gain between resident and non-resident period, and such regulation is necessary because partner is required to pay tax on his distributive share of partnership income and gain without regard to amount of partnership distributions actually made to partner in taxable year; after allocation required by regulation is made, and portion of distributive share of partnership income or gain is allocated to resident period, fact that income or gain may have non-New York source has no relevance to its taxability. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-95-(5)I.

Petitioner's evidence was insufficient to establish that payments made by partnership were made on periodic basis, and thus constituted excludable annuity payments under CLS Tax § 612(c)(3-a), where sole evidence of how payments were calculated and/or paid was testimony of partnership's tax professional that payments were scheduled basically monthly pursuant to fixed formula in partnership agreement, there was no evidence as to exactly how payments were calculated, there was no testimony as to whether petitioner's wife had absolute right to receive payments on periodic basis regardless of partnership's profits or available funds or whether such right was contingent on partnership's earnings. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-95-(17)I.

Petitioner's evidence was insufficient to establish that payments made by partnership arose from employer-employee relationship, and thus constituted excludable annuity payments under CLS Tax § 612(c)(3-a), where petitioner was partner, not employee; annuity exclusion does not apply to former partners. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-95-(17)I.

10. —Payments for services

Lump sum payment received by taxpayer from his employer was not excludable from his New York State gross income on ground that it constituted damages received due to personal injury or sickness under Internal Revenue Code § 104(a)(2) since he did not show that there were any damages suffered and thus had not proven that payment was for settlement of tort like action, and he had not proven that payment was made on account of personal injuries. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-99-(6)I.

11. —Payments by, for or to member or clergy of religious group

Petitioner's salary, derived from his employment as systems analyst, was properly included in his gross income, despite fact that petitioner was member of religious order which required him to take vow of poverty and turn over said salary, earned in his individual capacity, to church. In re Stanley Dubois, Dec State Tax Comm, TSB-H-84-(183)-I.

Rental allowance or "domiciliary allowance" from seminary to theological teacher used to provide taxpayer with rented quarters and to assist him in purchase of home is not includible in gross income in accordance with meaning and intent of Internal Revenue Code § 107 and Tax Law Article 22. In re Ginsberg, 1979 Dec State Tax Comm, Dec 14, 1979.

Rental allowance of $7,500.00 granted to taxpayer as condition of his employment, and prior to his being hired as instructor at Yeshiva University was not includable in gross income, in accordance with meaning and intent of § 107 of Internal Revenue Code and of Article 22 of New York State tax Law where taxpayer was paid salary of $15,537.27 by Yeshiva during 1972, which was apportioned as follows: $7,500.00 for rental allowance, $2,500.00 for services as religious studies teacher, $5,537.27 for services as mathematics teacher where taxpayer spent two-thirds of his teaching time as religious studies teacher and one-third of his teaching time as mathematics teacher. In re Ginsberg, 1980 Dec State Tax Comm, February 20, 1980.

12. —Reimbursed business expenses; personal use of business property

Reimbursements received by petitioner for meals, lodging, and transportation while he worked on construction job away from his residence should have been included in petitioner's income for tax purposes, where petitioner's wife and two youngest children moved to city of "temporary" job, job lasted for almost three years, and there was no anticipated end of the assignment, making job of indefinite, rather than temporary nature. In re Hanna, Op State Tax Comm November 19, 1976.

Use of aircraft owned by state of New York to transport children of governor results in additional New York State taxable income to governor where governor's children were transported without governor or any other state official, apparently for purely personal reasons or where second state aircraft was used to transport children to same destination on same day and at same time as official flights by governor. In re Carey, Dec State Tax Comm, June 8, 1979.

Petitioner is not entitled to exclude from New York income for year in question amount representing moving expense reimbursement received by petitioner during year in question for moving expenses incurred and paid in previous year. In re James R. Cox & Stella B. Cox, Dec State Tax Comm, TSB-H-84-(199)-I.

13. —Stock options; profit sharing plans

A lump sum distribution received by a president of a corporation during the year in question from a profit-sharing plan constitutes ordinary income under IRC § 402 and Article 22 of the Tax Law where petitioner presented no evidence as to the terms and conditions of the profit-sharing plan nor did he give reasons behind the request made by the IRS that such plan be terminated and liquidated. In re Giebel, 1980 Dec St Tax Comm, Jan. 2, 1980.

The excess of the average daily market price over the purchase price of stock purchased by petitioner pursuant to his company's 1971 stock option purchase plan constitutes ordinary income for 1972 for New York State tax purposes under Tax Law § 612(a) since the company notified petitioner on May 5, 1972 that the shares he purchased in 1971 were no longer subject to a substantial risk of forfeiture. In re Newman, 1980 Dec St Tax Comm, Jan. 11, 1980.

When substantial risk of forfeiture of stocks purchased in company's stock purchase plan is removed, ordinary income results to the extent that fair market value exceeds cost. In re Newman, 1980 Dec State Tax Comm, Jan 11, 1980.

14. —Taxes

Unincorporated business tax is not deduction that is properly allocable to or chargeable against personal service income and, so, should be included in personal service net income of partner in law firm. Wolfe v State Tax Com., 120 A.D.2d 871, 502 N.Y.S.2d 304, 1986 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 56971 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1986).

Order granting defendant wife's motion affirmed–issue is whether tax deficiency, occurring from failure to file and elect as subchapter S corporation, is failure to report income; in separation agreement, husband is to pay any tax deficiency due to wife's failure or neglect to disclose any income that is to be included in tax return; wife began corporation from joint marital funds; her attorney at time of incorporation filed election of subchapter S corporation with Federal Government but not with State; tax deficiency resulted; if corporation has not properly elected to be treated as S corporation any item of loss or deduction of corporation shall be included in gross income (Tax Law § 612 [b] [19] [A]); thus, deficiency was due to underreporting of losses rather than income; section in issue should be construed literally as long as it can reasonably reflect parties' intent; court cannot broaden meaning of income to include underreporting of losses; if that was intent of parties, separation agreement should have exempted husband from paying any tax deficiency and not just those resulting from failure or neglect of wife to report income. Jackson v Jackson, 157 A.D.2d 559, 550 N.Y.S.2d 300, 1990 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 789 (N.Y. App. Div. 1st Dep't 1990).

15. —Unexplained income; safe deposit boxes

Existence of cash or property in safe-deposit box does not of itself imply that taxpayer received taxable income in particular year which was not reported on his returns. While taxpayer may have duty to explain such deposits, no explanation was possible where taxpayer was deceased. In re Estate of Zangen, Op State Tax Comm, Jan. 12, 1977.

Funds found in safe deposit box would not be considered unreported income for the current year, where the bills were old, there were no transactions during the current year that would yield this amount, and the reported estate and decedent's previous life style would explain this amount. In re Estate of Weinstein, Op State Tax Comm, August 16, 1977.

Money found in safe deposit box was not unexplained income, as taxpayer had cashed checks and reported income in previous years sufficient to explain amount in box. In re Estate of Loeb, Op State Tax Comm, August 16, 1977.

Taxpayers' bank deposits of $147,000.00, source of which is unidentified, represent income subject to tax, within meaning and intent of § 61(a) of Internal Income Revenue Code and of §§ 612 and 705 of New York Tax Law. re Tambasco, 1979 Dec. State Tax Comm, December 20, 1979.

Audit Division's assertion of deficiency was arbitrary and capricious where its evidence consisted only of fact that $42,000 was found in deceased's safe deposit boxes, where evidence of administrator of estate showed that decedent lived frugally, did not own automobile, did not spend money for entertainment and did not spend much for clothes or shelter. In re Bogarsky, 1982 Dec State Tax Comm, May 28, 1982.

16. —Undistributed corporate income

Undistributed share of income from subchapter S Corporation was properly included in shareholder's adjusted gross income, and such taxation was neither prohibited under New York Constitution Article 16 § 3, nor denied equal protection of the law. Garlin v Murphy, 42 A.D.2d 30, 344 N.Y.S.2d 402, 1973 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4226 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1973), aff'd, 34 N.Y.2d 921, 359 N.Y.S.2d 552, 316 N.E.2d 869, 1974 N.Y. LEXIS 1426 (N.Y. 1974).

Petitioners are required to include in New York adjusted gross income, their undistributed taxable income from Pennsylvania corporation which was taxed as small business corporation for federal income tax purposes. In re Barton, Dec State Tax Comm, September 1, 1980.

17. —Other items

In an Article 78 proceeding to review a determination of deficiency with respect to a taxpayer's personal income tax liability, the determination by the Commission that a condemnation award to the taxpayer's deceased husband's estate was "income in respect of a decedent" under Internal Revenue Code § 691 was supported by substantial evidence, where at the time of the decedent's death title to the condemned land had already vested in the state, and the deceased had rejected the state's offer and initiated the suit for just compensation which led to the award. Zeamon v Tully, 91 A.D.2d 67, 458 N.Y.S.2d 89, 1983 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 16096 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1983).

Restitution received pursuant to Civil Liberties Act of 1988 (PL 100-383), acknowledging and apologizing for fundamental violations of basic civil liberties and constitutional rights of individuals of Japanese ancestry during World War II, is not subject to New York State personal income tax or New York City personal income tax on residents. Matter of Kochiyama, State Tax Com., March 10, 1989, TSB-A-89-(3)I.

Taxpayer who, subject to settlement agreement with Internal Revenue Service did not deduct long-time capital loss for federal purposes may not deduct such loss from state income tax return. In re Shapiro, 1982 Dec State Tax Comm, Jul 13, 1982.

There is no modification in CLS Tax § 612 with respect to income that is distribution to claimant from qualified settlement fund, and thus such income is treated same for New York state personal income tax purposes as it is treated for federal income tax purposes. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-A-94-(2)I.

18. Adjustments to federal adjusted gross income, generally

Tax L § 612(c) does not permit a taxpayer to adjust his Federal Adjusted Gross Income for state tax purposes by disregarding the addition required by Internal Revenue Code § 337(d)[26 USCS § 337(d)]. In re Kern, Op State Tax Comm, June 24, 1977.

Dependent as used in Tax Law § 612(c) does not include taxpayer's spouse. In re Badeau, Advisory Op State Tax Comm, Feb. 2, 1981.

CLS Tax § 612 provides no modifications which may serve to reduce petitioner's federal adjusted gross income on his New York State return by amounts of deductions or adjustments to income which petitioner inadvertently failed to claim on his federal return, such that where petitioner failed to claim moving expense adjustment on his federal return he is prohibited from making such adjustment for New York State purposes. In Matter of Petition of Herzstock, TSB-H-87-(193)-I.

19. —Federal pensions

In action against state and municipal taxing authorities to invalidate statute and regulations which discriminated against recipients of federal (as opposed to state and municipal) pension benefits for state income tax purposes, court correctly rejected plaintiffs' claims under 42 USCS § 1983; defense of qualified immunity was available to defendants inasmuch as right claimed by plaintiffs under 4 USCS § 111 was not clearly established until relatively recent opinion of United States Supreme Court, thereby shielding individual defendants from liability for civil damages. Duffy v Wetzler, 174 A.D.2d 253, 579 N.Y.S.2d 684, 1992 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 739 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't), aff'd, in part, app. dismissed, 79 N.Y.2d 976, 583 N.Y.S.2d 190, 592 N.E.2d 798, 1992 N.Y. LEXIS 1068 (N.Y. 1992), app. dismissed, app. denied, 80 N.Y.2d 890, 587 N.Y.S.2d 900, 600 N.E.2d 627, 1992 N.Y. LEXIS 1793 (N.Y. 1992), vacated, 509 U.S. 917, 113 S. Ct. 3027, 125 L. Ed. 2d 716, 1993 U.S. LEXIS 4466 (U.S. 1993), disapproved, Harper v Virginia Dep't of Taxation, 509 U.S. 86, 113 S. Ct. 2510, 125 L. Ed. 2d 74, 1993 U.S. LEXIS 4212 (U.S. 1993).

Because the state decided to pay full refunds to the plaintiffs, who paid income taxes on Federal pensions for the years 1986 through 1988 pursuant to a discriminatory, unconstitutional tax scheme under Tax Law § 612 [c] [3] [ii]; Administrative Code of City of New York § 11-1712 [c] [3], the issues affected by the vacation and remitittur of this court's decision in Duffy v Wetzler (1992, 2d Dept) 174 App Div 2d 253, 579 NYS2d 684 for further consideration in light of Harper v Virginia Dep't of Taxation (1993) 509 US 86, 113 S Ct 2510, 125 L Ed 2d 74, are academic. Duffy v Wetzler, 207 A.D.2d 375, 616 N.Y.S.2d 48, 1994 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8246 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1994).

State Department of Taxation and Finance was not obligated to personally notify all potential income tax refund applicants of their rights and obligations following U.S. Supreme Court case that affected state taxation of federal retirement benefits; in any event, Article 78 petitioners had been aware of import of case before limitations period expired. Brault v New York State Tax Appeals Tribunal, 265 A.D.2d 700, 696 N.Y.S.2d 579, 1999 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 10678 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1999).

Receipts from federal government pension are includable in income of New York State resident. In re Esposito, Op State Tax Comm, Sept. 10, 1976.

Refund provisions of CLS Tax § 687 satisfy minimum requirements of due process as set forth in McKesson Corp. v. Division of Alcoholic Beverage & Tobacco, 496 US 18; thus, petitioners' claims for refund of tax paid on federal pension income were properly denied as time-barred under CLS Tax § 687(a) even though Davis v. Michigan Dept. of Treasury, 489 US 803, which ultimately invalidated New York's taxation of federal pension income, applies retroactively. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-97-(21)I.

New York's interest in financial stability justifies its enforcement of 3-year state of limitations on refund claims under CLS Tax § 687(a) with respect to retroactive application of CLS Tax § 612(c)(3) regarding exemption for federal pension benefits. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-97-(24)I.

Administrative law judge properly denied petitioners' claim for refund of taxes paid on federal pension benefits, as having been filed beyond statute of limitations under CLS Tax § 687(a), despite petitioners' contention that it would have been impossible for them to file timely claims for refund for 1977 through 1985 because Supreme Court's decision in Davis v. Michigan Dept. of Treasury, 489 US 803, was not issued until 1989; New York's refund procedure provides clear and certain post-payment remedy and meaningful opportunity to obtain relief for any unconstitutionally collect taxes, and meets minimum requirements of due process. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-97-(25)I.

Claim for refund of tax paid on federal pension income was time-barred under CLS Tax § 687(a) despite petitioners' assertion that they did not timely file their claim due to tax division's neglect in notifying many retirees, including themselves, that claim should be filed; division had issued Technical Services Bureau memorandum to public, which informed taxpayers of their rights to file protective refund claims pending Court of Appeals' determination as to whether state was required to issue refunds for prior years pursuant to amendments to CLS Tax § 612(c)(3) and NYC Admin Code § 11-1712(c)(3). NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-97-(26)I.

Petitioner was not entitled to refund of tax paid on federal pension income pursuant to retroactive application of Davis v. Michigan Dept. of Treasury, 489 US 803 because her claim was not timely filed under CLS Tax § 687(a) and record did not contain any evidence to support her assertion that it was against equity and good conscience to deny her claims because other taxpayers who had filed claims for refund at same time as she did received refunds. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-97-(27)I.

Taxpayer was not entitled to relief pursuant to special refund authority of CLS Tax § 697(d) for taxes paid on his federal pension income; such payments were made pursuant to law when his income tax returns were filed, although statute was subsequently rendered unconstitutional. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-97-(56)I.

20. —State and subdivision pensions

Amounts withdrawn by teacher who is not retired and who is under 59 ½ years of age from tax deferred annuity established under Tax Deferred Annuity Program of New York City Teachers' Retirement System are subject to personal income tax imposed under Tax Law. Advisory Opinion, Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-A-87-(9)-I.

Pension received by taxpayer from Manhattan and Bronx Surface Transit Operating Authority does not constitute pension payable by state or municipal retirement system exempt from taxation; statute creating transit authority provided that its officers and employees would not become members of New York City employees retirement system, pension rights of employees were fixed in collective bargaining agreement and pensions were paid from current operating revenues, no trust was set up and payments were continued only for life of collective bargaining agreement. In re Noone, Dec State Tax Comm, File #14008.

Distributions from Individual Retirement Account established by means of tax free rollover of amounts received in form of pension from state of New York or subdivision or agency thereof are not subject to tax under New York personal income tax because receipt of distribution from qualified trust which constitutes such pension is not subject to tax; act of rolling over pension into Individual Retirement Account is not itself taxable event and subsequent distribution from such account would represent nontaxable return of principal to extend that distribution represented return of funds rolled over into account; to extent that distribution represented interest, or any other type of gain, earned an account, such portion would be subject to tax. In re Martiney, Op State Tax Comm, November 24, 1980, Advisory Opinion No. 1800630 B.

Employees of Manhattan and Bronx Surface Transit Operating Authority were employees of state, its subdivisions, and agencies within meaning and intent of CLS Pub A § 1203-a and CLS Tax § 612 prior to enactment of L 1997, ch 312, amending CLS Pub A § 1203-a. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-98-(7)I.

20 NYCRR former § 116.3(c)(1) is invalid to extent that it may be interpreted as precluding exemption of pension income pursuant to CLS Tax § 612(c)(3)(i) unless such benefits are paid from New York state or municipal retirement system, as statute contains no such requirement; thus, Long Island Railroad Company pension benefits received in 1991 by retired employee constituted allowable subtraction from federal adjusted gross income. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-97-(52)I.

Petitioner, as employee of Manhattan and Bronx Surface Transit Operating Authority, was employee of state, or one of its subdivisions or agencies, thereby satisfying requirements of CLS Tax § 612(c)(3)(i) and entitling him to pension exemption. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-98-(5)I.

21. —Pensions and annuities received by certain individuals

Payments received by taxpayer pursuant to Teachers Insurance Annuity Association Retirement Annuity Contract and College Retirement Equities Fund Retirement Annuity Contract did not qualify for exemption provided by CLS Tax § 612(c)(3-a), rather, such payments are entirely attributable to premium payments made by taxpayer from his own funds; additionally, such payments are not distributions from IRA or Keogh plans. Advisory Opinion, Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-A-87-(11)-I.

Individual retirement account distributions are excluded from tax up to $20,000, except for distributions which constitute lump sum distributions within meaning of 26 USCS § 402. In re Kaszubinski, TSB-A-84-(1)-I.

Payments made to petitioner under petitioner's employer's long-term disability income plan during taxable years ending on or after December 16, 1982 constitute "annuities" subject to exclusion provided for in CLS Tax L § 612(c)(3-a); however, only those payments received by petitioner after he had attained age of 59 ½ years will qualify for such exclusion. In re Richard J. Alexanderson TSB-A-85(2)I.

Payments from corporate employer to taxpayer qualified as annuity, not income, where they were made in money only and at regular intervals, annually, for life of taxpayer, rate remained uniform, taxpayer's right to receive them was evidenced by written instrument executed by employer, and taxpayer was never member of employer's qualified retirement plans. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-94-(7)I.

22. —Military pay or pension

Resident's New York adjusted gross income means his federal adjusted gross income for taxable year, plus or minus specific modifications, but Tax Law does not provide for modification to reduce federal adjusted gross income by amounts received as military retirement pension. In re Winters, Dec State Tax Comm, File #16686.

Military pension received by individual currently residing in New York who was not resident of state when he entered military service must be included in adjusted gross income. In re Bellow, 1978 Op State Tax Comm, September 1, 1978.

Pension received for service as officer in branch of United States Armed Forces does not constitute pension subtracted from federal adjusted gross income, within meaning and intent of Tax Law § 612(c)3; military retirement pay is includible in income of New York State resident. In re Johnson, 1978 Op State Tax Comm, September 13, 1978.

23. —Other income taxes

In an Article 78 proceeding brought by partners in the same law firm seeking review of determinations of the State Tax Commission sustaining personal income tax assessments imposed under Tax L §§ 612 and 617, the Commission properly determined that the New York City Unincorporated Business Tax could not be considered a business excise tax, rather than an income tax, for purposes of being used as an allowable deduction in computing net income for state income tax purposes. Bower v New York State Tax Com., 86 A.D.2d 932, 448 N.Y.S.2d 568, 1982 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 15616 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1982).

A city unincorporated business tax, paid by a partnership and deducted by the partnership on its federal information returns, is an income tax required to be added by a partner to his federal adjusted gross income to determine his New York adjusted gross income. Scobey v New York State Tax Com., 95 A.D.2d 905, 463 N.Y.S.2d 907, 1983 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 18876 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1983).

Excessive social security taxes withheld from compensation is not one of modifications to federal adjusted gross income provided for under CLS Tax § 612. In re Cosentino, Dec State Tax Comm, TSB-H-84-(141)-I.

New York City general corporation tax is not an income tax that is required to be added back to federal adjusted gross income when computing New York adjusted gross income, such that shareholder of New York S corporation is not required to make modification required by CLS Tax § 612(b)(3) for shareholder's distributive share of New York City general corporation tax paid by S corporation. Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-A-86(16)I, TSB-A-86-(17)-I.

Distributive share of New York City unincorporated business income tax paid by a partnership, which petitioner had deducted in computing federal adjusted gross income, was not deductible under Tax Law Art 23 (New York State unincorporated business income tax) § 706(4) in computing New York State personal income tax; governing statutes were Tax Law §§ 612(b)(3) and 615(c)(1), requiring unincorporated business income tax to be added to federal adjusted gross income in computing New York State personal income tax. Petition of Adelsberg, File Nos. 13054, 13055 State Tax Com. August 25, 1978.

New York City unincorporated business tax is income tax which must be added to federal adjusted gross income in determining New York adjusted gross income. In re Beah, Dec State Tax Comm, October 9, 1979.

Petitioner, a retired partner of a New York stock brokerage firm, is required to add to federal adjusted gross income petitioner's share of the partnership's New York City unincorporated business tax deduction pursuant to Tax Law § 612(b)(3). In re Smith, 1980 Dec St Tax Comm, Jan. 2, 1980.

Income Tax Bureau properly increased amount of nonresident petitioner's New York source income in accordance with meaning and intent of Tax Law §§ 637(c) and 612(b)(3) by including within his distributive share New York State and New York City unincorporated business taxes taken as deductions on partnership return of brokerage firm of which he was general partner. In re Marchi, 1980 Dec St Tax Comm, Feb 29, 1980.

Since the New York Tax Law makes no provision for the allowance of a credit for taxes paid to a foreign country, petitioners are required to reduce their federal itemized deductions for the taxes paid to Great Britain by a trust of which they were the beneficiaries and the amount of tax paid is included in petitioner's taxable income for purposes of the New York personal income tax. In re Whitehead, 1980 Dec St Tax Comm, March 21, 1980.

The New York City Unincorporated Business Tax is not properly deductible in computing New York State personal income tax. In re Nadler, 1980 Dec St Tax Comm, May 16, 1980.

The New York City unincorporated business tax is an "income tax" within the meaning and intent of Ch 46, Title S of the New York City Administrative Code and accordingly must be added to the federal adjusted gross income. In re Taylor, 1980 Dec St Tax Comm, Jun. 20, 1980.

Taxpayer who received distributive share of partnership ordinary income was required to increase his Federal adjusted gross income by sum representing his share of New York City unincorporated business tax deduction taken on return of partnership. In re Shukat, Dec State Tax Comm, TSB-H-83(88)I, June 10, 1983.

Petitioners, S corporation shareholders, were entitled to resident tax credit against personal income tax for taxes paid to New Jersey and Connecticut by the S corporation to the extent it was deducted in arriving at Federal Adjusted Gross Income. Even assuming that state court decisions in New Jersey and Connecticut characterized the taxes paid by the S corporation as franchise taxes, rather than income taxes, the Tax Appeals Tribunal is not bound by the foreign state's characterization of its own taxes. Courts will often construe the same tax differently depending upon the precise issue before those courts, and therefore, the issue before the Tax Appeals Tribunal should be whether these taxes were income taxes as that term is used in Tax Law § 620(a). In looking at the nature and practical effect of the tax in question, it was concluded that to the extent the instant taxes were imposed on an income base, the nature and effect of the taxes were "income" taxes within the meaning of the resident tax credit. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-90 (28) I (1990).

Additions to federal adjusted gross income for computing New York State adjusted gross income of resident individual under § 612(b)(3) includes New York City unincorporated business tax. In re Kern, Dec State Tax Comm, Oct 3, 1980.

Income taxes imposed by the state or any other taxing jurisdiction, to the extent deductible in determining federal adjusted gross income, shall be added to such income in determining the New York adjusted gross income of a resident individual under Tax Law §§ 617 and 612(b)(3); furthermore Tax Law §§ 632 and 637 make Tax Law §§ 612(b)(3) and 617 applicable to nonresident taxpayers to the extent that income is derived from or connected with New York sources and accordingly New York City unincorporated business tax is not properly deductible by either resident or non-resident in computing New York State Personal Income Tax. In re Koenig, 1981 Dec St Tax Comm, December 3, 1981.

24. —Ordinary and necessary expenses

A taxpayer who spent approximately 30 hours per week reviewing investment publications, making records of his ownership of stocks, and performing other tasks related to his investments, was not engaged in the business of securities trading under Tax Law § 612, where his transactions lacked the degree of frequency, regularity and continuity necessary to identify him as a trader. Klesitz v New York State Tax Com., 107 A.D.2d 880, 484 N.Y.S.2d 316, 1985 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 42786 (N.Y. Taxpayer was not in business or trade of bookmaking, and thus he was not entitled to calculate forfeiture of seized funds as business expense under 26 USCS § 162(a), where he testified that income in question derived from family gifts, business savings and winnings from legal gambling, he did not testify that he was full-time gambler or bookmaker, and he testified that he was employed as manager of carwash, having been previously employed by IBM. Rizzo v Tax Appeals Tribunal, 210 A.D.2d 748, 621 N.Y.S.2d 115, 1994 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 13024 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1994).

Question of reasonablenss of salary or compensation is factual, to be determined upon examination of all facts and circumstances presented; factors include employee's qualifications, nature, extent, and scope of employee's work, size and complexities of business, comparison of salaries paid with gross income and net income, prevailing general economic conditions, comparison of salaries with distribution to stockholders, prevailing rates of compensation for comparable positions in comparable concerns, salary policy of taxpayer to all employees, and in case of small corporations with limited number of officers amount of compensation paid to particular employee in previous years; closely-held corporations are subject to closer scrutiny with respect to salaries and other compensation paid to officer-shareholders; burden of proving that salaries and other compensation paid are reasonable falls upon taxpayer. In re Backus, Dec State Tax Comm, TSB-H-83-(5)-I.

Trader in securities, defined as person who buys and sells securities in frequent and continuous operations for his own account, may deduct expenses, exclusive of commissions, from gross income in determining adjusted gross income; investor in securities, defined as person whose activities are limited to occasional transactions and are less than those required in trade or business may deduct expenses, exclusive of commissions, as nonbusiness itemized deductions. In re Klesitz, Dec State Tax Comm, TSB-H-83-(20)-I.

Bona fide salaries paid to family members may be deducted; propriety of deducting salary expense turns upon economic substance of transaction, not upon time sequence or form of transaction; deduction for salary is properly disallowed where total salary amounts as well as proportions thereof to be returned to family farm by each family member are determined solely by farmer and it appears that no provision for interest to be booked or paid to purported "loans" is established. In re Sobiech, Dec State Tax Comm, TSB-H-83-(48)-I.

Stockbroker who used a private airplane to travel to meetings with numerous Canadian clients could deduct airplane expenses as unreimbursed business expense, as use of the private airplane was necessary in order to timely meet commitments. In re Pease, Op State Tax Comm, July 15, 1977.

Modification for a portion of executors' terminal commissions paid to executors of decedent's estate in final year of estate was properly based on ratio that tax-exempt income for New York State income tax purposes bore to total income in last year of estate, rather than ratio that said tax-exempt income bore to total income over life of estate. Petition of Estate of Green, State Tax Com'n. (File No. 13205) July 27, 1978.

Special guardian fee paid during tax year and claimed as deduction for Federal and New York State income tax purposes constituted payment for conservation or maintenance of property held for production of income, and allocation for New York State income tax purposes was properly based on ratio that tax-exempt income for New York State income tax purposes bore to total income in last year of estate. Petition of Green, State Tax Com'n. (File No. 13206) July 27, 1978.

Taxpayer who was employed for indefinite period at particular business location was "at home" at job site for tax purposes, and travel expenses claimed by taxpayer in connection with assignment at job site were not considered "away from home" expenses under Internal Revenue Code § 162(a)(2), but travel expenses from job site in connection with maintenance of apartment houses owned by taxpayer were considered ordinary and necessary expenses incurred for management, conservation or maintenance of rental property held for the production of income in accordance with Code § 62(5). In re Thew, 1979 Dec State Tax Comm, Nov 26, 1979.

Legal fees incurred in connection with a court action to void a trust agreement are not deductible under IRC § 212 since the legal expenses claimed were expended for the purpose of gaining control of the trust's assets and not for the management, conservation, or maintenance of such trust. In re Greene, 1980 Dec St Tax Comm, Feb. 22, 1980.

Permanent nature of job is judged at time job began and not by later events, consequently assignment, by lasting more than one year, does not change assignment from temporary to indefinite in nature; petitioner properly deducted expenses for meals and lodging in accordance with § 162(a)(2) of Internal Revenue Code. In re Kostuck, Dec State Tax Comm, August 20, 1980.

Loss derived from worthless stock is an ordinary loss where such stock was acquired with a business motive and not an investment motive, and said business motive was retained until said stock became worthless. In re Weisser, Dec State Tax Comm, September 19, 1980.

Petitioner's legal expenses incurred in attempting to reverse conviction for driving while intoxicated were personal in nature and not deductible, where petitioner was arrested on way home from church function unrelated either to his position as city mayor or his rubbish removal business, notwithstanding his contention that conviction was contested because it would have resulted in additional automobile insurance costs which would affect net income from rubbish removal business, and also have adverse effect upon his election to any subsequent public office. In re Stummer, Op State Tax Comm (File No. 10839) April 24, 1978.

Property was held for production of income for use in trade or business, and rental loss would be allowed under Internal Revenue Code § 62(5) and Tax Law Article 22, where property was ski house with capacity of 22 people, was rented during winter by weekend and for summers, was registered as rental property, insurance reflected rental status, and taxpayer did not use property as personal residence. In re Vulpi, 1979 Dec State Tax Comm, Nov 26, 1979.

To be deductible, travel expenses (including amount expended in meals and lodging) while taxpayer in carrying on any trade or business must not only be reasonable and necessary, but must be incurred "while away from home," that is, the taxpayer must maintain an actual residence, the expense of which he continues to incur while away from that residence on business and the taxpayer's employment "away from home" must be "temporary" rather than "indefinite" in nature. Rejected was the position of the Division of Taxation which urged a two-year rule, whereby an expected or actual stay of two years or longer would be considered an indefinite stay, and not a stay away from home, regardless of any other facts or circumstances. Instead of utilizing a durational test to determine whether petitioner's employment was either temporary or indefinite, the better test to apply was to weigh all relevant facts. Here, the petitioner expected his job would be temporary; this expectation was consistent with his past work experience, and furthermore, petitioner contained to maintain strong familial, social, and financial bonds to his Mechanicsville home. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-90 (31) I (1990).

25. —Operating losses

In an Article 78 proceeding challenging the disallowance of that portion of the taxpayer's 1973 and 1974 net operating loss carryback, against his 1971 adjusted gross income, which exceeded his positive federal taxable income for 1971, the disallowance was proper since it only prevented an unauthorized double deduction, and since it was consistent with federal provisions that limited carry forward losses to the amount that was not used to reduce federal taxable income to zero in the preceding year. Berg v Tully, 92 A.D.2d 436, 461 N.Y.S.2d 562, 1983 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 16638 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't), app. denied, 60 N.Y.2d 552 (N.Y. 1983).

Because the taxpayers' returns for 1999 and 2000 did not include the income represented by certain bad debts, and they did not aver that such income was included in any prior year, pursuant to N.Y. Tax Law § 612(a), the taxpayers were not entitled to a bad debt deduction under 26 C.F.R. § 1.166-1(e). Matter of Schnell v Commissioner of Taxation & Fin., 27 A.D.3d 977, 812 N.Y.S.2d 664, 2006 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 3571 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 2006).

Taxpayers may not carryback New York net operating losses sustained in tax years when they were nonresidents of New York to tax years when they were residents of New York, since such losses did not enter into the taxpayers' Federal adjusted gross income for the years that they were New York residents. In re McClure, 1983 Dec State Tax Comm, TSB-H-83(298)I, October 25, 1983.

Individuals may not claim for New York state income tax purposes different net operating loss deductions or carryback or carryover deductions than for federal income tax purposes. In re Gregory, Op State Tax Comm, October 3, 1977.

Loss incurred by renting home to daughter at less than market value is not deductible since under such circumstances property in question was not operated for profit. In re Williams, Dec State Tax Com, December 16, 1980.

In determining New York State Income Tax, taxpayers may not compute a net operating loss and a net operating loss carryback deduction which includes the addition and subtraction modifications required by Tax Law § 612 and 615 since 26 USCS § 172 providing for the computation of a net operating loss and a net operating loss carryback deduction does not provide for such modifications. In re Hawkings, 1981 Dec St Tax Comm, October 29, 1981.

Computation of net operating loss is not controlled by amount of loss shown on New York State income tax return of loss year; in absence of any provisions in Tax Law for computation of net operating loss, provisions of Internal Revenue Code control computation of any net operating loss; 26 USCS § 172 provides for computation of net operating loss and net operating loss carryback deduction and does not provide for modifications required by Tax Law §§ 612 and 615; therefore, petitioners cannot determine net operating loss or claim deduction for such loss in manner different from that provided in 26 USCS § 172. In re Atwell, 1981 Dec State Tax Comm, Oct 29, 1981; re Adrian, 1981 Dec State Tax Comm, Oct 29, 1981.

26. —Capital gains and losses

It may be assumed that Real Prop Tax L § 467 contemplated using the term "income" to embrace what is currently taxable, at least in part, as income, but in so assuming, it is only fair to carry the assumption further and offset capital gains with capital losses. Engle v Talarico, 33 N.Y.2d 237, 351 N.Y.S.2d 677, 306 N.E.2d 796, 1973 N.Y. LEXIS 867 (N.Y. 1973).

Although as result of circuit court's determination that stock inherited by taxpayer should be valued at sum in excess of that originally shown on estate tax return, resulting in additional estate tax, one-half of which was charged to petitioner as beneficiary of his mother's estate, tax imposed on petitioner for gain realized in sale of stock on basis of the difference between the original valuation and the later valuation did not constitute double taxation, inasmuch as both taxpayers and taxes imposed were different. Kuser v Gallman, 48 A.D.2d 970, 371 N.Y.S.2d 163, 1975 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 10264 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1975).

Taxpayer who did not inherit stock until July 1960, was not entitled, in computing state adjusted gross income, to subtract from federal adjusted gross income the gain from property having higher adjusted basis for state income tax purposes than for federal and, since he did not amend his 1961 federal return to eliminate gain from 1961 sale of stock, after Surrogate's Court increased value of stock for estate tax purposes to the amount for which it was sold, and his 1961 federal adjusted gross income included the capital gain, taxpayer was also required to include it in his 1961 state return. Kuser v Gallman, 48 A.D.2d 970, 371 N.Y.S.2d 163, 1975 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 10264 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1975).

In computing capital gains as an item of tax preference for minimum income tax purposes, taxpayers may not use a higher New York State basis for property giving rise to such gains than that used for Federal purposes. In re Estate of Fried, 1983 Dec State Tax Comm, TSB-H-83(160)I, June 20, 1983.

Spouses who determine federal income tax on joint return but determine New York income taxes separately must determine New York adjusted gross income separately as if federal adjusted gross incomes had been determined separately; one spouse's reporting of realized gains without taking into consideration losses separately reported by other spouse is improper where spouse who reported losses would not have been entitled to deduct capital losses on federal tax return had separate federal tax return being filed. In re Di Giacinto, Dec State Tax Comm, TSB-H-84-(52)-I.

Gain on sale of Florida cattle ranch may be subtracted under Tax Law § 612(c)(5) from federal adjusted gross income, since such gain was reportable under Article 16 of the Tax Law in an earlier year in which petitioner did not elect to use instalment basis for reporting income to New York State. In re Vanderbilt, Op State Tax Comm, Jan. 13, 1977.

Where taxpayer had made a gift of stock after the corporation had sold its only asset pursuant to a plan of liquidation, the taxpayer would be required to pay the capital gain attributable to the shareholders upon liquidation of the corporation. In re Trefner, Op State Tax Comm, June 14, 1977.

Where both condemned and replacement property, consisting of 2 to 6 family houses held by petitioners for rental income, were similar or related in service or use within the meaning of Internal Revenue Code §§ 1031 and 1033, petitioners could elect to defer payment of the tax on part of the gain resulting from the replacement of the condemned property with property of like character in accordance with the meaning and intent of Internal Revenue Code § 1033, could elect to report all capital gain on two properties without consideration of replacement property, and could elect to combine two condemned properties with four replacement properties to defer part of the gain. Petition of Podolsky, File No. 10644 State Tax Com., Sept. 20, 1978.

Where petitioner sole stockholder filed a separate return, long-term capital loss from sale of such stock was reduced from $1,000 to $500 pursuant to Tax Law § 612(f). Application of Kornblith, File No. 10816 State Tax Com., September 20, 1978.

Taxpayer, member of partnership who was credited on schedule of partner's capital with capital gain income must report such capital gain where he cannot substantiate contention that proceeds of sale which resulted in capital gain were used to satisfy partnership liabilities, including portion of liability which he had assumed and that he received no monetary award from sale and did not realize taxable capital gains since his basis was equal to or larger than capital gain distribution. In re Rice, Dec State Tax Comm, Oct. 9, 1979.

Lump-sum distribution from profit-sharing plan did not qualify for capital gains treatment, and constituted ordinary income in accordance with Internal Revenue Code § 402 and Tax Law Article 22, where taxpayer was president of corporation, owned 75 percent of corporate stock, and corporation's profit-sharing plan was terminated and liquidated on request of Internal Revenue Service. In re Giebel, 1980 Dec State Tax Comm, Jan 2, 1980.

Despite the fact that redemption of petitioner's stock by a brokerage firm technically constituted a sale or exchange of a capital asset and as such would be a capital loss, where petitioner purchased the stock to protect his income, after the brokerage firm made it clear that any advancement or even his remaining with the firm was dependent on his purchase of corporate stock, such purchase was clearly not motivated by investment purposes and therefore the loss taken by petitioner upon the redemption of such stock constitutes an ordinary loss. In re Spurr, 1980 Dec St Tax Comm, Feb. 22, 1980.

Taxpayer who, subject to settlement agreement with Internal Revenue Service, did not deduct long-time capital loss for federal purposes may not deduct such loss from state income tax return. In re Shapiro, 1982 Dec State Tax Comm, Jul 13, 1982.

Constructive distribution made by corporation having no current earnings or profits would be treated as a return of capital to the extent of the stock basis, but any distribution made from current earnings and profits would be treated as dividend income. In re PLA Standard Corp., Op State Tax Comm, September 15, 1980.

Taxpayers were not entitled to reduce capital gain reported on their federal income tax return, realized on sale of partnership interest, by amount attributable to amount of mortgage assumed by purchaser of interest. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-91-(8)I.

Division of Taxation was not precluded from assessing additional tax on gain from sale of certain stock in 1988 tax year when stock was sold although it never challenged or denied taxpayer's Internal Revenue Code § 83(b) election, where taxpayer did not file valid § 83(b) election with his federal income tax return in 1985 when he acquired stock in question, but mistakenly filed it with his 1986 federal income tax return. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-97-(46)I.

27. —Alimony

Petitioner was not entitled to claim deduction for alimony in 1979 where such alimony payments were made in taxable year 1977, since he was a cash base taxpayer, and since said deduction was not claimed for federal purposes in 1979. In re Thompson, Dec St Tax Comm., TSB-H-85-(43)-I.

Money received by taxpayer from her former husband, pursuant to judgment of divorce, constitutes alimony and is taxable as income to taxpayer where divorce decree and separation agreements incorporated therein required former husband to pay for various elements of support for children but neither agreements nor decree stated that specific amount was payable only for child support. In re Shool, Dec State Tax Comm, September 5, 1980.

Although the New York Supreme Court incorporated in its divorce decree a provision designating a certain part of the alimony award to be tax free to petitioner, the entire amount received by petitioner is fully taxable alimony income within the meaning of Article 22 of the Tax Law since the Supreme Court is without authority to determine the taxability of alimony payments. In re Coakley, Dec St Tax Comm, September 19, 1980.

Alimony deduction is not proper where payments are being made under agreement dated before enactment of Internal Revenue Code of 1954 and never altered or modified. In re Luxemburger, Dec State Tax Com, December 26, 1980.

Support payments made to petitioner from husband's pension, must be included in petitioner's federal and New York adjusted gross income and do not qualify for pension and annuity exclusion provided by § 612[c][3-a] of Tax Law. Advisory Opinion, Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-A-86[8]-I.

Prepaid alimony which may be deducted from Federal taxable income may also be deducted from New York taxable income. In re McFarlane, Op State Tax Comm, June 30, 1977.

28. —Income spreading and averaging

In Article 78 proceeding to review personal income tax assessments, provisions of Tax L § 612, subdivision a did not require New York to adopt federal tax regulation permitting taxpayer to spread unusually large legal fee over years in which earned; thus, entire fee was taxable in New York in year received. Bonney v State Tax Com., 43 A.D.2d 879, 351 N.Y.S.2d 187, 1974 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5934 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't), app. denied, 34 N.Y.2d 515, 1974 N.Y. LEXIS 2712 (N.Y. 1974).

Income averaging is not permitted in computation of New York State personal income tax and federal investment tax credit is to be disregarded in computation of New York State personal income tax. In re Passero, Op State Tax Comm, Sept. 28, 1976.

Since there is no provision in New York Tax Law which permits conformity with respect to special tax computations permitted for Federal income tax purposes, while § 612 requires Federal conformity with respect to included gross income, the entire accumulations distribution received by petitioner in 1971 and required to be included in her Federal gross income for that year was properly includable in New York adjusted gross income notwithstanding fact that she was permitted to throw back amount of said accumulation distribution to 1969 and 1970 in reporting Federal taxable income and to separately compute Federal tax thereon. In re Manasse, Op State Tax Comm, (File No. 12706) April 24, 1978.

29. —Joint or separate returns

Since husband and wife taxpayers file separately on one return and bad debt in issue was only claimed by husband taxpayer, Notice of Deficiency is canceled with respect to wife taxpayer. In re Vibbard, Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-H-87-(168)-I.

Where husband and wife filed a joint federal return but separate state tax returns, capital gain on sale of franchise of husband's business was attributable only to husband. In re Costa, Op State Tax Comm, August 16, 1977.

Where petitioner sole stockholder filed a separate return, long-term capital loss from sale of such stock was reduced from $1,000 to $500 pursuant to Tax Law § 612(f). Application of Kornblith, File No. 10816 State Tax Com., September 20, 1978.

Husband who paid alimony to wife pursuant to separation agreement was entitled to deduction on his separate New York personal income tax return, notwithstanding that husband and wife filed a joint federal return, thereby canceling the deduction for federal purposes. In re Smith, Op State Tax Comm, August 16, 1977.

30. —Qualified higher education funds

Transfer of funds directly from one transferee bank to another does not result in qualified higher education funds being paid to creator of past account; in absence of such payment, transfer of funds does not constitute distribution. In re Sawyer, Op State Tax Comm, Mar. 6, 1981.

If taxpayers have used or will use amounts contained in their higher education fund to establish alumni tuition plan, whereby parents prepay child's full tuition before child enters college, for eligible beneficiary, neither taxpayer nor eligible beneficiary will be subject to tax on such amounts unless eligible beneficiary ceased to be student or incident of termination took place before relevant effective dates of repeal; amounts contained in qualified higher education fund may be used to establish college alumni tuition plan, whereby taxpayer prepays child's college tuition, but no tuition deduction is available for amounts contributed to such plan. Advisory Opinion, Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-A-87-(4)-I.

31. —Other items

Loss in form of forfeiture as part of consensual agreement with district attorney was neither "transaction entered into for profit" (26 USCS § 165(c)(2)) nor loss from "wagering transaction" (26 USCS § 165(d)); thus, taxpayer could not claim forfeiture as deduction for "any loss sustained during the taxable year and not compensated for by insurance or otherwise" under 26 USCS § 165(a). Rizzo v Tax Appeals Tribunal, 210 A.D.2d 748, 621 N.Y.S.2d 115, 1994 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 13024 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1994).

Taxpayer was not entitled to a subtraction for state and city tax refunds, where no evidence was submitted that these refunds were included in Federal Adjusted Gross Income. In re Weinberg, Op State Tax Comm, June 24, 1977.

Taxpayer is not required to add back the $25,000 exclusion from federal gross income authorized by Internal Revenue Code § 911 to New York personal income. In re Goldstein, 1982 Dec State Tax Comm, Dec. 17, 1982.

Taxpayer who merely contended that he paid rent for his mother's apartment failed to sustain burden of proof required to show that he was entitled to exemption in accordance with Internal Revenue Code § 151(e), § 152 and Tax Law Article 22, where only canceled checks, and no other documentary evidence, were submitted. In re Shpiz, 1980 Dec State Tax Comm, January 2, 1980.

To be deductible, travel expenses (including amount expended in meals and lodging) while taxpayer in carrying on any trade or business must not only be reasonable and necessary, but must be incurred "while away from home," that is, the taxpayer must maintain an actual residence, the expense of which he continues to incur while away from that residence on business and the taxpayer's employment "away from home" must be "temporary" rather than "indefinite" in nature. Rejected was the position of the Division of Taxation which urged a two-year rule, whereby an expected or actual stay of two years or longer would be considered an indefinite stay, and not a stay away from home, regardless of any other facts or circumstances. Instead of utilizing a durational test to determine whether petitioner's employment was either temporary or indefinite, the better test to apply was to weigh all relevant facts. Here, the petitioner expected his job would be temporary; this expectation was consistent with his past work experience, and furthermore, petitioner contained to maintain strong familial, social, and financial bonds to his Mechanicsville home. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-90 (31) I (1990).

Shareholders of regulated investment company may treat tax-exempt dividends attributable to interest on company's "Exempt Obligations" as subtraction item for purposes of CLS Tax § 612(c)(1) if relevant asset and notice requirements are satisfied. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-91-(9)I.

If shareholder of registered investment company receives exempt-interest dividends derived from New York municipal obligations and obligations of United States territories and possessions that are excluded from shareholder's federal adjusted gross income, such exempt-interest dividends are excluded from New York adjusted gross income. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-91-(11)I.

Exempt-interest dividends attributable to interest on New York municipal obligations and obligations of United States territories and possessions that are paid by lower-tier funds to upper-tier fund that is similarly qualified to pay exempt-interest dividends, which are excluded from federal adjusted gross income, are also excluded from New York adjusted gross income when paid by upper-tier fund to shareholders of upper-tier fund who are subject to New York State or City personal income tax. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-00-(1)I.

3. —Income from or loss of subchapter S corporation

Advisory opinion concerning treatment under CLS Tax Art 22 of transaction where election under Internal Revenue Code § 338(h)(10) is made by shareholders of corporation that has elected to be taxed under Subchapter S of Internal Revenue Code (S corporation) when (1) corporation is non-electing S corporation for New York tax purposes, and (2) corporation is New York electing S corporation. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-97(2)I.

4. —Interest from government obligations

Interest paid on obligations issued by Niagara Falls Bridge Commission is exempt from New York State and New York City Personal Income Taxes. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-92-(1)I.

Zero coupon obligations, including Certificate of Accrual Treasuries, Treasury Bond Receipts, Coupon Treasury Receipts, Easy Growth Treasury Receipts, and Separate Trading of Registered Interest and Principal of Securities, are obligations of United States under CLS Tax § 612(c)(1), and thus are exempt from tax thereunder. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-90-(9)I.

Since taxpayer did not elect to deduct his New York itemized deductions under CLS Tax § 615 in determining his New York taxable income for tax year in question, no deduction was allowed under CLS Tax § 615(d)(3); further, since premium paid was not attributable to trade or business carried on by taxpayer, no deduction was allowed computing New York adjusted gross income under CLS Tax § 612(c)(10) for amortizable bond premium for municipal bonds of other states. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-03-(3)I.

5. —Partnership income or distribution

Exemption provisions of PL 86-272 do not apply to members of LLCs that are New York domestic corporations or who are residents or domiciliaries of New York. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-08-(7)C.

6. —Payments for services

Income that taxpayer actually received in 1996 when he was statutory city resident individual, that was attributable to services performed prior to 1996, was included in his federal adjusted gross income for taxable year 1996 under Treasury Regulations § 1.451.-1(a); thus, under CLS Tax § 1303, NYC Admin Code § 11-1711(a), and CLS Tax § 612, taxpayer could not exclude such income from his city taxable income computed for 1996. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-01-(3)I.

Lodging furnished by hotel to its employees is not subject to sales tax and hotel is not required to collect or pay tax on value assigned to such lodging if hotel receives no cash or other consideration for lodging from its employees and lodging is provided under circumstances whereby value of lodging is not income for employees under federal or state income tax laws. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-06-(11)S.

For purposes of federal and state personal income tax, value of lodging furnished to employee by his or her employer must be excluded from employee's wages if such lodging is furnished on employer's business premises, is furnished for the employer's convenience and employees must accept such lodging as condition of employment. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-06-(11)S.

Provision of rooms by hotel to select vendors (such as musicians, photographers and other vendors who provide services to hotel) is part of consideration paid by hotel for vendor's services; such consideration is subject to tax on normal rent of room. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-06-(11)S.

Reorganization of bank, to form holding company and become wholly-owned subsidiary thereof in transaction treated as tax-free transaction under Internal Revenue Code § 351(a), constituted transaction that was not taxable for purposes of CLS Tax Art 32; further, if for federal income tax purposes, no taxable income would be realized by shareholders as result of exchange of bank's stock for holding company stock, no taxable income would be realized by shareholders for New York State income tax purposes. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-90-(5)I, 1990 N.Y. Tax LEXIS 203.

New York adjusted gross income for resident individual, who was nonresident alien for federal income tax purposes and who would be present in United States for less than 183 days during taxable year, would include his consulting fees for services performed in United States and dividends from stock in United States corporations, but would not include consulting fees for services performed in other countries, dividends from stock in alien corporations, interest on deposits held in United States bank account, or capital gain on sale of corporate stock. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-90-(6)I.

Revamped Manhattan and Bronx Surface Transit Operating Authority (MABSTOA) pension plan is not "New York State or municipal retirement system" within meaning of Personal Income Tax Regulations former § 116.3(c)(now § 112.3(c)) and thus pension payments received through plan are not exempt from personal income tax under CLS Tax § 612(c)(3); however, revamped MABSTOA pension plan still qualifies for exemption provided by CLS Tax § 612(c)(3-a). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-92-(8)I.

Pension payments taxpayer received from his Teachers Insurance and Annuity Association defined contribution pension plan (TIAA) when he reached age 59 ½ would qualify for subtraction under CLS Tax § 612(c)(3-a) up to $20,000 maximum exclusion if he selected interest only option that was paid on periodic basis fluctuating only when TIAA changed interest rate. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-97(5)I.

Discussion as to whether taxpayer was entitled to exclude from his New York adjusted gross income, under CLS Tax § 612(c)(12), all withdrawals from IRA, received during each taxable year, until such time as sum of such withdrawals exceeded sum of all of CLS Tax § 612(b)(7) add-back modifications taxpayer made as to professional service corporation's contributions to pension plan attributable to taxpayer. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-99-(2)I.

When taxpayer reached age 59 ½ , distributions received from his private Individual Retirement Account (IRA), which was established by means of tax-free rollover or direct transfer of amounts received from his New York City Teachers' Retirement Internal Revenue Code (IRC) § 403(b) tax-deferred annuity plan, would be exempt from state personal income tax, but not in excess of $20,000. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-03(5)I.

Retirement benefits received from Internal Revenue Code (IRC) § 403(b) tax-deferred annuity plan are exempt from New York personal income tax under CLS Tax § 612(c)(3)(i) and 20 NYCRR § 112.3(c)(1)(i) if amounts are actually contributed to plan (rather than merely deemed to be contributed to plan) and individual (state employee) directs custodian of current New York State-sponsored § 403(b) plan to transfer funds from plan to another § 403(b) plan not sponsored by state. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-06-(10)I.

Distributions that are attributable to petitioner's 401K Thrift Plan rollover contribution to her IRA are not included in her New York taxable income pursuant to CLS Tax § 612(c)(3)(ii); however, any gain or income earned by IRA rollover is included in petitioner's New York taxable income to extent it does not qualify for $20,000 income subtraction under CLS Tax § 612(c)(3-a). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-09-(7)I.

Distributions that are attributable to rollover contribution to IRA, 457 Plan, or other eligible retirement plan that is not Roth IRA are not included in New York taxable income pursuant to CLS Tax § 612(c)(3)(i); however, for IRA, 457 Plan or eligible retirement plan that is not Roth IRA, any gain or income earned on amount of rollover is included in petitioner's New York taxable income to extent that it does not qualify for $20,000 income subtraction under CLS Tax § 612(c)(3-a) while, for Roth IRAs, amount of rollover will not be included in New York taxable income pursuant to CLS Tax § 612(c)(3)(i) and, pursuant to Internal Revenue Code § 408A(d), distributions will not be included in Federal gross income. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-09-(9)I.

Where tax-deferred annuity plan (TDA) was funded with contributions from school district, which is state public employer, distributions that are attributable to rollover contribution to IRA from TDA are not included in New York taxable income under CLS Tax § 612(c)(3)(i); however, any gain or income earned on amount of rollover is included in petitioner's New York taxable income to extent that it does not qualify for $20,000 income subtraction under CLS Tax § 612(c)(3-a). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-09-(10)I.

8. Adjustments to federal adjusted gross income, generally

9. —Federal pensions

Individual's pension payments from Federal Reserve Retirement Plan are pension payments paid to employee of instrumentality of United States, and thus are exempt from tax under CLS Tax § 612(c)(3)(ii). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-90-(8)I.

Retirement plan for employees of Federal Reserve System was pension or other retirement plan within meaning of CLS Tax § 612(c)(3)(ii), and distributions from plan were exempt from personal income tax. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-01(1)I.

Distributions from thrift plan (other than in-service withdrawals) for employees of Federal Reserve System, which constituted qualified plan under Internal Revenue Code § 401(a) and profit-sharing plan within meaning of Internal Revenue Code § 401(k), were exempt from personal income tax under CLS Tax § 612(c)(3)(ii). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-01(1)I.

Retirement plan for employees of Federal Reserve System Benefits Equalization Plan (BEP), which was unfunded nonqualified defined benefit excess-type pension plan designed to be complementary to retirement plan, was pension or other retirement benefit for purposes of CLS Tax § 612(c)(3)(ii); thus, distributions from BEP were exempt from personal income tax. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-01(1)I.

Thrift plan for employees of Federal Reserve System Benefits Equalization Plan (Thrift BEP), which was unfunded nonqualified defined contribution excess-type pension plan designed to be complementary to thrift plan, was pension or other retirement benefit for purposes of CLS Tax § 612(c)(3)(ii); thus, distributions from Thrift BEP were exempt from personal income tax. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-01(1)I.

10. —State and subdivision pensions

Distributions received by taxpayer under City University of New York Optional Retirement Program constituted pension and other retirement benefits paid to public employee of subdivision of New York State that were exempt from taxation NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-02-(5)I.

As to distributions of any gain or income earned from rollover IRA account, since earnings were not attributable to taxpayer's retirement plan attributable to his employment with City University of New York, interest or any other type of gain or income earned was not exempt from New York State taxation under CLS NY Const Art XVI § 5 and CLS Tax § 612(c)(3)(i). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-02-(5)I.

Where state, its political subdivisions or agencies, or federal government, do not make any contribution to tax deferred annuity (TDA) plan, distributions received by retired New York State public school teacher do not constitute pension or retirement benefit exempt from New York personal income tax, under CLS Tax § 612(c)(3)(i) and 20 NYCRR § 112.3(c)(1)(i). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-05-(3)I.

If petitioner's tax deferred annuity (TDA) plan distributions received by retired New York State public school teacher are attributable to amounts actually contributed (rather than merely being deemed to be contributed) by New York State, its political subdivisions or agencies, then such distributions constitute pension or retirement benefit exempt from New York personal income tax, under CLS Tax § 612(c)(3)(i) and 20 NYCRR § 112.3(c)(1)(i). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-05-(3)I.

11. —Pensions and annuities received by certain individuals

"Buyout" payments, requiring that taxpayer officially resign from his tenured position and that he would receive 50 percent of his salary for next 3 years, did not qualify for exclusion in CLS Tax § 612(c)(3-a). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-97(5)I.

Payments made pursuant to petitioner's employer's long term disability plan were "annuity" within meaning of CLS Tax § 612(c)(3-a). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-98-(5)I.

Where taxpayer was more than 59 ½ -years of age, balance of distribution from rollover Individual Retirement Account (IRA) that represented any other amount in rollover IRA could be added to his state pension and annuity income, if any, that met conditions of CLS Tax § 612(c)(3-a) and Personal Income Tax Regulations § 112.3(c)(2) for purposes of computing $20,000 pension and annuity income modification; total, not in excess of $20,000, would be allowed as subtraction from federal adjusted gross income when computing New York adjusted gross income. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-03(4)I.

Analysis as to whether CLS Tax § 612(c)(3-a) permitted 2 $20,000 pension income exclusions on married filing joint return where one spouse died during year and both spouses were over 59 ½ years of age. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-98-(6)I.

Analysis of whether distributions from individual retirement account established by means of tax-free rollover of amounts received in form of pension from New York Police Department could be subtracted from federal adjusted gross income when computing adjusted gross income for personal income tax purposes under CLS Tax Art 22. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-98-(4)I.

Employer's deferred compensation plan, whereby taxpayer was receiving monthly payments equal to 30 percent of his final average compensation for rest of his life, constituted annuity under Personal Income Tax Regulations § 112.3(c)(2)(i), and assuming that annuity income he received was included in his federal adjusted gross income, that annuity income met conditions under CLS Tax § 612(c)(3-a) because he was more than 59 ½ years of age, and annuity was attributable to personal services performed by him prior to his retirement as non-union employee; thus, when computing New York adjusted gross income, he could, under CLS Tax § 612(c)(3-a), subtract from federal adjusted gross income up to $20,000 of payments he received each year from plan. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-99-(1)I.

Taxpayer's distributions from New York State deferred compensation plan would be treated as pension and annuity income under CLS Tax § 612(c)(3-a); if taxpayer met all conditions of statute, his distributions from plan, up to $20,000 for taxable year, could be excluded when he computed his New York adjusted gross income under CLS Tax § 612. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-02-(2)I.

Where taxpayer's distributions from New York State deferred compensation plan were rolled over into IRA under provisions of Internal Revenue Code § 457(e)(16), such distributions were not subject to tax for taxable year of rollover; for taxable year that taxpayer received distributions from such IRA, distributions would be treated as pension and annuity income under CLS Tax § 612(c)(3-a). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-02-(2)I.

If taxpayer rolled over his City University of New York Optional Retirement Program pension accumulation to IRA, when he received distributions form rollover IRA account, only portion of distribution was exempt; assuming distributions taxpayer received from rollover IRA account were included in his federal adjusted gross income, portion of distribution from rollover IRA account that represented amount of pension benefit that was rolled over to IRA (contribution), was return of pension contribution and was exempt from New York State income tax under CLS NY Const Art XVI § 5 and CLS Tax § 612(c)(3)(i). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-02-(5)I.

Balance of distributions that represents amount other than return of pension contribution in rollover IRA account, including any other contributions or any interest or other type of gain or income earned, may be allowed to be subtracted in computing New York adjusted gross income, but only up to $20,000. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-02-(5)I.

Individual who is one of 2 beneficiaries of decedent's Individual Retirement Account (IRA) is entitled to allocation of $20,000 pension and annuity income exclusion under CLS Tax § 612(c)(3-a) and 20 NYCRR § 112.3(c)(2), in same ratio as distribution is shared, regardless of age of beneficiaries or whether individual's brother, who is nonresident, receives annual distributions or elects to take lump-sum distribution in prior year resulting in no distribution possible in current year. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-07-(3)I.

12. —Disability income

Under CLS Tax § 612(a), wages paid in connection with firefighter's reassignment to desk duty that were included in his federal adjusted gross income were included in New York adjusted gross income subject to New York State personal income tax, where he was not permanently and totally disabled and was not yet retired, and thus was not eligible for disability income subtraction under CLS Tax § 612(c)(3-b)(i); in addition, under CLS Tax § 671, such wages were taxable wages paid to petitioner and were subject to state's withholding of tax. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-04-(5)I.

13. —Military pay or pension

Compensation received by United States Army Reserve Master Sergeant for performing active service for United States Army does not qualify for subtraction modification under CLS Tax § 612(c)(8-b), since such modification applies only to military pay received by member of New York State organized militia while on active duty. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-07-(5)I.

Supplemental pay received by United States Army Reserve Master Sergeant from New York State Police while on military active duty does not qualify for subtraction modification under CLS Tax § 612(c)(8-b). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-07-(5)I.

14. —Operating losses

Under CLS Tax § 612 and 20 NYCRR § 154.8(c), where federal net operating loss is carried back to taxable year that individual was resident of New York state, recomputation of federal adjusted gross income for carry-back year will result in recomputation of New York adjusted gross income for carry-back year; net operating loss carry-back may be allowed for New York personal income tax purposes to extent that carry-back is includible in individual's federal adjusted gross income for carry-back year. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-96(3)I.

15. —Capital gains and losses

As New York S corporation subject to tax under CLS Tax Art 9-A that conducts its business within and without New York State, petitioner is required to compute its business allocation percentage and its investment allocation percentage using method that applies to petitioner under Article 9-A; petitioner must then report such percentages to its nonresident shareholders along with each shareholder's pro rata share of petitioner's items of income, gain, loss, and deduction included in federal adjusted gross income as well as those items that relate to CLS Tax § 612(b) and (c). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-08-(1)I.

Petitioner who is S corporation shareholder and is unable to currently deduct flow-through loss from her S corporation on her federal income tax return, has no relief from CLS Tax § 612(b)(8), which requires her to add back to her federal adjusted gross income bonus depreciation allowed under Internal Revenue Code § 168(k). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-09-(12)I.

16. —Qualified higher education funds

For purposes of subtraction modification under CLS Tax § 612(c)(32), term "contribution" includes amounts transferred from another state's 529 Plan and rolled over to New York 529 Plan; this includes earnings portion of distribution from other state's 529 Plan not included in federal gross income under IRC § 529(c)(3)(C)(i) and portion of distribution considered investment in other state's 529 Plan. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-05-(7)I.

Amounts accumulated in member account under investment company's consumer loyalty program and contributed to New York 529 Plan are considered contribution by member for purposes of subtraction modification under CLS Tax § 612(c)(32) in determining New York adjusted gross income where members decide whether rebates on their purchases under program will be transferred into New York 529 Plan or received personally or directed to another individual or entity. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-05-(7)I.

There is no modification required under CLS Tax § 612 for distribution from family tuition savings plan established under qualified tuition program of state other than New York. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-07-(6)I.

Petitioner's federal "529 plan" distribution, including earnings, received from qualified tuition savings plan established in state other than New York is not included in New York adjusted gross income and is not subject to New York personal income tax. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-07-(6)I.

17. —Other items

Taxpayer may, when computing state adjusted gross income for year when he received distribution from deferred compensation plan, subtract from his federal adjusted gross income amount of distribution from plan which was portion of distribution that was included in taxpayer's state adjusted gross income in year of contribution. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-92-(3)I.

CLS Tax § 612 does not contain any modification that affects shareholders or stockholders of banks or corporations that are each party to transaction that for federal income tax purposes constitutes tax-free transaction under Internal Revenue Code § 351(a). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-95(1)I.

No taxable income, for personal income tax purposes, will be realized by New York state resident or nonresident individuals who are eligible account holders and new stockholders of stock bank as result of transaction whereby bank will reorganize as stock savings bank which will be controlled by newly-formed New York mutual holding company where transaction will be tax-free under Internal Revenue Code §§ 351 and 368(a)(1)(F). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-95(1)I.

Amounts paid by petitioner to his ex-wife in 1992 and 1993 pursuant to separation agreement constituted assignment of income owed to petitioner as his share of partnership income that accrued during time he was partner of former partnership, and since such amounts were earned by petitioner, they should be included in his federal adjusted gross income for those years for purposes of computing his New York adjusted gross income under CLS Tax § 612. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-97-(6)I.

§ 630-b. Gift for volunteer firefighting and volunteer emergency services fund

An individual in any taxable year may elect to contribute to the volunteer firefighting and volunteer emergency services fund for the recruitment and retention of volunteer firefighters and volunteer emergency services personnel. The contribution shall be in any whole dollar amount and shall not reduce the amount of state tax owed by such individual. The commissioner shall include space on the personal income tax return to enable a taxpayer to make such contribution. Notwithstanding any other provision of law all revenues collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to the volunteer firefighting and volunteer emergency services recruitment and retention fund and used only for those purposes enumerated in section ninety-nine-q of the state finance law.

ARTICLE 28 Sales and Compensating Use Taxes

Part III. Exemptions

Section

1116. Exempt organizations

1120. Refunds and credits with respect to motor fuel and diesel motor fuel

HISTORY:

Add, L 1965, ch 93, § 1, eff Aug 1, 1965.

PART III Exemptions

HISTORY:

Add, L 1965, ch 93, § 1, eff Aug 1, 1965.

§ 1116. Exempt organizations

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, any sale or amusement charge by or to any of the following or any use or occupancy by any of the following shall not be subject to the sales and compensating use taxes imposed under this article:

(1) The state of New York, or any of its agencies, instrumentalities, public corporations (including a public corporation created pursuant to agreement or compact with another state or Canada) or political subdivisions where it is the purchaser, user or consumer, or where it is a vendor of services or property of a kind not ordinarily sold by private persons;

(2) The United States of America, and any of its agencies and instrumentalities, insofar as it is immune from taxation where it is the purchaser, user or consumer, or where it sells services or property of a kind not ordinarily sold by private persons;

(3) The United Nations or any international organization of which the United States of America is a member where it is the purchaser, user or consumer, or where it sells services or property of a kind not ordinarily sold by private persons;

(4) Any corporation, association, trust, or community chest, fund, foundation, or limited liability company, organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, testing for public safety, literary or educational purposes, or to foster national or international amateur sports competition (but only if no part of its activities involve the provision of athletic facilities or equipment), or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual, no substantial part of the activities of which is carrying on propaganda, or otherwise attempting to influence legislation, (except as otherwise provided in subsection (h) of section five hundred one of the United States internal revenue code of nineteen hundred fifty-four, as amended), and which does not participate in, or intervene in (including the publishing or distributing of statements), any political campaign on behalf of or in opposition to any candidate for public office. The provisions of this paragraph regarding political campaign activity shall be interpreted in the same manner as section 501(c)(3) of the United States internal revenue code has been interpreted as of the effective date of the chapter of the laws of two thousand nineteen that amended this paragraph;

(5) A post or organization of past or present members of the armed forces of the United States, or an auxiliary unit or society of, or a trust or foundation for, any such post or organization:

(A) organized in this state,

(B) at least seventy-five percent of the members of which are past or present members of the armed forces of the United States as defined in section thirteen-a of the general construction law and substantially all of the other members of which are individuals who are cadets or are spouses, widows, widowers, ancestors, or lineal descendants of past or present members of the armed forces of the United States or of cadets, and

(C) no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual.

(6) The following Indian nations or tribes residing in New York state: Cayuga, Oneida, Onondaga, Poospatuck, Saint Regis Mohawk, Seneca, Shinnecock, Tonawanda and Tuscarora, where it is the purchaser, user or consumer.

(7) A not-for-profit corporation operating as a health maintenance organization subject to the provisions of article forty-four of the public health law.

(8) Cooperative and foreign corporations doing business in this state pursuant to the rural electric cooperative law.

(9) A credit union, as defined in subdivision nine of section twoof the banking law, where it is the purchaser, user, or consumer, or where it is a vendor of services or property of a kind not ordinarily sold by private persons.

(b) Nothing in this section shall exempt:

(1) (i) retail sales of tangible personal property by any shop or store operated by an organization described in paragraph (4), (5) or (6) of subdivision (a) of this section; (ii) sales, other than for resale, of services described in subdivision (b) or paragraph five of subdivision (c) of section eleven hundred five of this article by that organization, whether or not at a shop or store; (iii) retail sales of tangible personal property and sales, other than for resale, of those services by that organization, made with a degree of regularity, frequency, and continuity by remote means, such as by telephone, the internet, mail order or otherwise; or (iv) retail sales of tangible personal property by lease or rental by that organization as lessor, whether or not at a shop or store;

(2) sales of food or drink in or by a restaurant, tavern or other establishment operated by an organization described in paragraph (1), paragraph (4), paragraph (5) or paragraph (6) of subdivision (a) of this section, other than sales exempt under paragraph (ii) of subdivision (d) of section eleven hundred five, from the taxes imposed hereunder, unless the purchaser is an organization exempt under this section;

(3) sales of the service of providing parking, garaging or storing for motor vehicles by an organization described in paragraph (4) or paragraph (5) of subdivision (a) of this section operating a garage (other than a garage which is part of premises occupied solely as a private one or two family dwelling), parking lot or other place of business engaged in providing parking, garaging or storing for motor vehicles;

(4) sales of tangible personal property or services by cooperative and foreign corporations doing business in this state pursuant to the rural electric cooperative law, unless the purchaser is an organization exempt under this section.

(5) purchases of motor fuel or diesel motor fuel from the tax required to be prepaid pursuant to section eleven hundred two of this article and retail sales of motor fuel or diesel motor fuel subject to the tax imposed by sections eleven hundred five and eleven hundred ten of this article, except that purchases of such fuel by an organization described in paragraph one or two of subdivision (a) of this section for its own use or consumption, purchases of motor fuel by a hospital included in the organizations described in paragraph four of such subdivision for its own use and consumption, purchases of motor fuel and diesel motor fuel by a fire company or fire department, as defined in section three of the volunteer firefighters' benefit law or a voluntary ambulance service, as defined in section three thousand one of the public health law, for such department, company or service's own use and consumption for use in firefighting vehicles, apparatus or equipment, or emergency rescue or first aid response vehicles, apparatus or equipment, owned and operated by such department, company or service if such company, department or service qualifies as an exempt organization pursuant to the provisions of paragraph four of subdivision (a) of this section and purchases of diesel motor fuel by an organization described in paragraph four of such subdivision for its own heating use and consumption shall be exempt from such tax required to be prepaid and from retail sales and use taxes on such fuel.

(6) purchases of cigarettes from the tax required to be prepaid pursuant to section eleven hundred three of this article, except that no prepayment of tax shall be required on sales of cigarettes sold under such circumstances that this state is without power to impose such tax or sold to the United States or sold to or by a voluntary unincorporated organization of the armed forces of the United States operating a place for sale of goods pursuant to regulations promulgated by the appropriate executive agency of the United States, to the extent provided in such regulations and written policy statements of such agency applicable to such sales.

(7) rent received by a hotel operated by a college or university, where such hotel offers one hundred or more rooms for occupancy, and where the individual paying said rent is not doing business on behalf of any organization exempted pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section.

(c) (1) Where any organization described in paragraph four of subdivision (a) of this section carries on its activities in furtherance of the purposes for which it was organized, in premises in which, as part of said activities, it operates a hotel, occupancy of rooms in the premises and rents therefrom received by such corporation or association shall not be subject to tax hereunder.

(2) Nothing in this subdivision shall exempt any hotel operated by a college or university and which offers one hundred or more rooms for occupancy from collecting taxes imposed pursuant to section eleven hundred five of this article from individuals who are not doing business on behalf of an organization exempted pursuant to subdivision (a) of this section.

(d) (1) Except as provided in paragraph (2) of this subdivision, any admissions all of the proceeds of which inure exclusively to the benefit of the following organizations shall not be subject to any of the taxes imposed under subdivision (f) of section eleven hundred five:

(A) an organization described in paragraph (4), (5) or (6) of subdivision (a) of this section;

(B) a society or organization conducted for the sole purpose of maintaining symphony orchestras or operas and receiving substantial support from voluntary contributions; or

(C) national guard organizations; or

(D) a police or fire department of a political subdivision of the state, or a voluntary fire or ambulance company, or exclusively to a retirement, pension or disability fund for the sole benefit of members of a police or fire department or to a fund for the heirs of such members.

(2) The exemption provided under paragraph (1) of this subdivision shall not apply in the case of admissions to:

(A) Any athletic game or exhibition unless the proceeds shall inure exclusively to the benefit of elementary or secondary schools or unless in the case of an athletic game between two elementary or secondary schools, the entire gross proceeds from such game shall inure to the benefit of one or more organizations described in paragraph (4) of subdivision (a) of this section;

(B) Carnivals or rodeos in which any professional performer or operator participates for compensation, unless the entire net profit from such carnival or rodeo shall inure exclusively to the benefit of an organization described in paragraph four of subdivision (a) of this section, and such organization shall have as its charitable or educational purpose the operation of a school and of such a carnival or rodeo; or

(3) Admission charges for admission to the following places or events shall not be subject to any of the taxes imposed under subdivision (f) of section eleven hundred five:

(A) Any admission to agricultural fairs if no part of the net earnings thereof inures to the benefit of any stockholders or members of the association conducting the same; provided the proceeds therefrom are used exclusively for the improvement, maintenance and operation of such agricultural fairs.

(B) Any admission to a home or garden which is temporarily open to the general public as a part of a program conducted by a society or organization to permit the inspection of historical homes and gardens; provided no part of the net earnings thereof inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual.

(C) Any admissions to historic sites, houses and shrines, and museums conducted in connection therewith, maintained and operated by a society or organization devoted to the preservation and maintenance of such historic sites, houses, shrines and museums; provided no part of the net earnings thereof inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual.

(e) Receipts from the service of trash removal shall be exempt from the tax on such service imposed by this article, where such service is rendered by a municipal corporation of the state, other than a city of one million or more, including such service rendered on its behalf, under an agreement with such corporation.

(f) (1) For purposes of paragraph four of subdivision (a) of this section, in the case of a qualified amateur sports organization (A) the requirement of such paragraph that no part of its activities involve the provision of athletic facilities or equipment shall not apply, and (B) such organization shall not fail to meet the requirement of such paragraph merely because its membership is local or regional in nature.

(2) For purposes of this subdivision, the term "qualified amateur sports organization" means any organization organized and operated exclusively to foster national or international amateur sports competition if such organization is also organized and operated primarily to conduct national or international competition in sports or to support and develop amateur athletes for national or international competition in sports.

(g) For purposes of paragraph five of subdivision (a) of this section, duly authorized representatives of any such post or organization, while acting on behalf of such post or organization, shall not be subject to the tax imposed under subdivision (e) of section eleven hundred five or the unit fee imposed by section eleven hundred four of this article, provided that such representatives provide an exempt organization certificate from such post or organization certifying that such representative is acting on its behalf.

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately except with respect to receipts from the service of trash removal actually rendered by the municipal corporation itself, this act shall be deemed to have been in effect on and after June first, nineteen hundred seventy-seven, and except with respect to receipts from the service of trash removal rendered by the village of Patchogue, this act shall be deemed to have been in effect from June first, nineteen hundred seventy-six. (Amd, L 1983, ch 90).

Laws 1983, ch 821, § 2, eff July 30, 1983, provides as follows:

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately and shall apply retroactively and be controlling in any action or proceeding to enforce, abate or recover a tax assessment, provided that a refund may be claimed as prescribed in section eleven hundred thirty-nine of the tax law, and further provided that liability for the tax had not been finally adjudicated prior to January first, nineteen hundred eighty-three.

Laws 1985, ch 44, § 42, eff June 1, 1985, provides as follows:

§ 42. This act shall take effect immediately, except that sections one through thirty-six shall take effect June first, nineteen hundred eighty-five and shall apply to all taxable events respecting motor fuel as such events are defined in section eleven hundred two of the tax law, as amended by this act, and automotive fuel occurring on and after such date and an amount equivalent to the sales taxes paid by or passed through to a purchaser upon sales of motor fuel before such date at the regional average retail sales price pursuant to the provisions of articles twenty-eight and twenty-nine of the tax law in effect prior to such date shall be allowed such purchaser as a credit or refund, where a refund or credit would be allowable after such date under the tax law, as amended by this act, against the tax required to be prepaid pursuant to section eleven hundred two and passed through or required to be collected or paid pursuant to section eleven hundred five or eleven hundred ten of the tax law upon sales or uses of such motor fuel occurring on and after such date and provided further, however, that no refund or credit shall be allowed pursuant to this provision with respect to motor fuel placed into the ordinary fuel tank connected with the engine of such vehicle prior to such date notwithstanding use of such fuel thereafter.

§ 37. This act shall take effect immediately except that sections one through twenty-four of this act shall apply on and after such effective date (and provided that the department of taxation and finance shall immediately undertake all necessary steps and application review to insure that on October 1, 1986 all terminal operators and transporters, required to be licensed by the provisions of this act, are so licensed by such date and further provided that the single regional average retail sales price for motor fuel provided for in section thirty of this act, which shall replace the separate regional average retail sales price for leaded, unleaded and premium motor fuel, shall be prescribed and first become effective on September 1, 1986 and the commissioner of energy shall determine such single average retail sales price for each region before August 16, 1986 and such price shall be compiled from data with respect to the six-month period ending the last day of June, 1986) and except that sections twenty-five through twenty-eight of this act shall take effect December 1, 1986. Laws 1994, ch 170, § 564, sub 20, eff June 9, 1994, provides as follows:

§ 564. This act shall take effect immediately provided, however, that:

20. Sections two hundred twenty-eight through two hundred thirty-two of this act shall take effect September 1, 1994, and shall apply to any occupancy on or after September 1, 1994, although such occupancy is pursuant to a prior contract, lease or other arrangement. Where any charge for occupancy is paid on a weekly, monthly or other term basis, the charge for occupancy shall not be subject to the tax imposed under section 1104 of the tax law (repealed by section two hundred twenty-eight of this act) to the extent that the charge for occupancy covers any period on and after September 1, 1994, and such charge for occupancy shall be apportioned on the basis of the ratio of the number of days falling within said period to the total number of days covered thereby. Provided, further, that all provisions of law repealed or deleted by sections two hundred twenty-eight, two hundred twenty-nine, two hundred thirty, two hundred thirty-one and two hundred thirty-two of this act and all provisions of any regulations adopted under any such provision of law, in respect to the assessment, payment or payment over, determination, collection and refund of tax imposed by such section 1104, the filing of returns and preservation of records for the purpose of such tax, the civil and criminal penalties that any person may be subject to for violating provisions of such article, the secrecy of returns, and the disposition of revenues shall continue in effect with respect to all such tax, including any penalty or interest related thereto, accrued up to September 1, 1994. Provided, further, the commissioner of taxation and finance may take any action with respect to the adoption, amendment, suspension or repeal of any rule or regulation relating to sections two hundred twenty-eight through two hundred thirty-two of this act, and may establish any procedure necessary for the timely implementation of sections two hundred twenty-eight through two hundred thirty-two of this act, on and after the date such sections shall have become law.

Laws 1994, ch 281, § 32, provides:

§ 32. This act shall take effect immediately and the pari-mutuel tax reductions in section six of this act shall expire and be deemed repealed on July 1, 2021; provided, however, that nothing contained herein shall be deemed to affect the application, qualification, expiration, or repeal of any provision of law amended by any section of this act, and such provisions shall be applied or qualified or shall expire or be deemed repealed in the same manner, to the same extent and on the same date as the case may be as otherwise provided by law; provided further, however, that sections twenty-three and twenty-five of this act shall remain in full force and effect only until May 1, 1997 and at such time shall be deemed to be repealed (Amd, L 1995, ch 2, § 129; L 1995, ch 16, § 4; L 1995, ch 36, § 4; L 1995, ch 70, § 4; L 1998, ch 56, § 12 (Part E); L 2002, ch 113, § 7, eff June 28, 2002; L 2007, ch 60, § 6 (Part A), eff April 9, 2007; L 2008, ch 18, § 107, eff Feb 19, 2008; L 2009, ch 57, § 7 (Part L-1), eff April 7, 2009; L 2010, ch 134, § 7 (Part C), eff June 21, 2010; L 2011, ch 61, § 7, eff March 31, 2011; L 2012, ch 59, § 7 (Part O), eff March 30, 2012; L 2013, ch 59, § 7 (Part U), eff March 28, 2013; L 2014, ch 59, § 7 (Part AA), eff March 31, 2014; L 2015, ch 59, § 7 (Part NN), eff April 13, 2015; L 2016, ch 60, § 7 (Part FF), eff April 13, 2016; L 2017, ch 59, § 7 (Part OO), eff April 10, 2017; L 2018, ch 59, § 7 (Part GG), eff April 12, 2018; L 2019, ch 59, § 7 (Part HH), eff April 12, 2019; L 2020, ch 59, § 7 (Part Z), eff April 3, 2020).

Laws 1995, ch 2, § 152, sub 5(a), (c), eff June 7, 1995, provides as follows:

§ 152. This act shall take effect immediately, provided, however:

5. (a) Sections forty-seven through sixty-eight and section seventy of this act shall take effect September 1, 1995, and shall apply to all taxable events respecting cigarettes as such events are described in section 1103 of the tax law, as added by section forty-nine of this act, occurring on or after such date

(c) The commissioner of taxation and finance may take any action with respect to the adoption, amendment, suspension or repeal of any rule or regulation relating to sections forty-seven through seventy-three of this act, and may establish any procedure necessary for the timely implementation of sections forty-seven through seventy-three of this act, on or after the date it shall have become a law;

Laws 1997, ch 389, § 219 (Part A), sub (17), eff Aug 7, 1997, provides as follows:

(17) sections one hundred and one hundred one of this act shall take effect December 1, 1997, and shall apply to any admission to a circus occurring on or after such date whether or not the admission charge has been paid prior to such date, provided that if a ticket to a circus occurring on or after such date was sold and delivered (other than for resale) prior to such date, such sections shall not apply to such ticket;.

Laws 1998, ch 408, § 2, eff July 22, 1998, provides as follows:

§ 2. This act shall take effect immediately and shall apply to sales tax quarterly periods commencing on or after such date.

Laws 2004, ch 3, § 26, eff Dec 8, 2004, provides as follows:

§ 26. Construction. This act and all powers granted hereby shall be liberally construed to effectuate its intent and their purposes, without implied limitations thereon. This act shall constitute full and complete authority for all things herein contemplated to be done. All rights and powers herein granted shall be cumulative with those derived from other sources and shall not, except as expressly stated herein, be construed in limitation thereof. Insofar as the provisions of this act are inconsistent with the provisions of any other act, general or special, the provisions of this act shall be controlling.

Laws 2004, ch 418, § 15, eff Sept 7, 2004, provides as follows:

§ 15. This act shall take effect immediately; provided, that the amendments to subdivision 1 of section 210 of the military law made by section five of this act shall be deemed to have been in full force and effect on and after April 1, 2004; provided, however, that section ten of this act shall apply to taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 2004; provided, further, that section eleven of this act shall take effect June 1, 2004, and shall apply to sales made, uses occurring and services rendered on or after such date, in accordance with applicable transitional provisions in sections 1106 and 1217 of the tax law provided further, however, that section thirteen of this act shall expire and be deemed repealed one year after it shall have become a law.

Laws 2005, ch 591, § 3, eff March 1, 2006, provides as follows:

§ 3. This act shall take effect March 1, 2006, and shall apply to sales made, services rendered and uses occurring on or after such date in accordance with the applicable transition provisions of articles 28 and 29 of the tax law; provided, however, that section two of this act shall take effect March 1, 2008, in accordance with the applicable transition provisions of articles 28 and 29 of the tax law; and provided further that the commissioner of taxation and finance is authorized, on or after the date this act becomes law, to adopt and amend any rules or regulations and issue any procedure, forms or instructions necessary to implement the provisions of this act on their respective effective dates.

Laws 2006, ch 296, § 3, eff Dec 1, 2006, provides as follows:

§ 3. This act shall take effect on the first day of the sales tax quarterly period, as described in subdivision (b) of section 1136 of the tax law, next commencing a least 90 days after this act shall have become a law and shall apply in accordance with the applicable transitional provisions of sections 1106 and 1217 of the tax law.

Laws 2008, ch 57, § 2 (Part KK-1), eff Sept 1, 2008, provides as follows:

§ 2. This act shall take effect September 1, 2008, and shall apply to sales made, uses occurring and services rendered on or after such date, in accordance with applicable transitional provisions in sections 1106 and 1217 of the tax law.

Amendment Notes The 2019 amendment by ch 407, § 1, in (a)(4), added "or in opposition to" in the first sentence and added the second sentence.

Repeal Notes: [1965, ch 571] Subparagraph (C) of paragraph (2) of subdivision (d) of section eleven hundred sixteen of the Tax Law, repealed by this act, excluded motion picture exhibitions from the exemption granted certain organizations from the sales and compensating use taxes imposed by article twenty-eight of the Tax Law.

Sale made directly to and paid for by governmental agency is not subject to sales tax; sale made to planning and development board which furnished vendor with registration for tax free transactions which indicated it was governmental agency is exempt from sales tax. Auxiliary Services, State University College at Oswego, Inc., Dec State Tax Comm, TSB-H-83(183)S.

Construction contractor on state projects was liable for sales tax on purchases of tools, supplies, repairs, fuel, and similar items. Re A. F. Lehmann Construction Co., Op State Tax Comm, June 7, 1977.

Contractor on state project must pay sales tax on materials incorporated into the project when his contract so provides. Re A. F. Lehmann Construction Co., Op State Tax Comm, June 7, 1977.

No tax is payable by the purchaser of property constituting equipment, facilities, a transportation facility or a transit facility as those terms are defined in Public Authorities Law §§ 1200 and 1261 if in connection with the purchase the purchaser leases the property to any municipality, public authority, or public benefit corporation for its use and the lease contains an option through the lesee to purchase the property upon the scheduled expiration of the lease for a nominal consideration since such purchase constitutes a purchase for resale; nor is any tax payable by lessor upon the purchase of the property by the municipality, public authority or public benefit corporation pursuant to such option or agreement since the lessee in each case is an entity exempt from tax pursuant to Tax Law § 1116(a)(1). Advisory Op St Tax Comm, April 6, 1982.

In order to determine whether particular entity is instrumentality of state or one or more of its political subdivisions for purposes of determining such entity's exemption from state and local sales and use taxes, examination must be made of following factors: (1) whether entity is used for governmental purpose and performs governmental function, (2) whether performance of its function is on behalf of state or one or more of its political subdivisions, (3) whether there are any private interests involved, or whether state or its political subdivisions involved have powers and interests of owner, (4) whether control and supervision of entity is vested in public authority or authorities, (5) whether there is expressed or implied statutory authority necessary for creation and/or use of such entity, and (6) whether financial autonomy and source of operating expenses are provided by political subdivisions. NYAdv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-94(35)S.

2. —Department of Social Services

New York State Department of Social Services which instituted "direct vendor" program with regard to certain public assistance clients has certain transactions which are exempt from sales tax pursuant to exemption provided under Tax Law. Advisory Opinion, Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-A-87-(30. 1)-S.

3. —Industrial development agencies

Purchases of tangible personal property made for the purpose of installing or using such property upon or within projects financed by industrial development bonds are exempt from sales or use tax, since it is clear from the language of Gen Mun Law art 18A, which establishes tax exemptions upon property owned by industrial development agencies as well as upon property controlled or supervised by them and upon their activity, that it was never the intention to exclude personal property, which is as much a part of a project developed by an industrial development agency as real estate or buildings, from the tax exemption. Since industrial development agencies are governmental agencies created for a public purpose, they would not ordinarily be subject to taxes upon any of their property, real or personal, except as otherwise specifically required by law; thus the purpose of itemizing, in art 18-A, the property declared to be exempt from taxation, was to emphasize that such property was to be included within the tax exemption so long as the industrial development agency owned, controlled, or supervised it in connection with its activities, including the equipping and furnishing of a project. Wegmans Food Markets, Inc. v Department of Taxation & Finance, 126 Misc. 2d 144, 481 N.Y.S.2d 298, 1984 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 3566 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1984), aff'd, 115 A.D.2d 962, 497 N.Y.S.2d 790, 1985 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 55328 (N.Y. App. Div. 4th Dep't 1985).

4. —Long Island Railroad Company

Long Island Railroad Company is organization exempt from imposition of state sales tax under Tax Law § 1116(a)(1) and services rendered by taxpayer for said organization pursuant to contract for cleanup and removal of debris are not subject to sales tax. Re Klarmann, Det State Tax Comm, Oct. 9, 1979.

5. —Power authorities

The Power Authority is exempt from sales tax, and contractors with the Power Authority need not pay sales tax, even if the authority is not billed separately for materials. Re Germanetti & Ryan, Inc., Op State Tax Comm, August 26, 1977.

6. —Private organizations associated with state

Flying club with membership limited to members of New York Air National Guard and its civilian employees, stated purpose of which is to conduct program of flight safety and instruction for members, is operated primarily for benefit and recreational interests of its members and its activities are only incidentally educational; club is not instrumentality of state of New York within meaning and intent of Tax Law § 1116 although New York Air National Guard provides storage facilities for aircraft, use of its runway, and space for meetings; club is not entitled to exemption from sales or use tax. Re Syrang Aero Club, Inc., Dec State Tax Comm, October 17, 1980.

Not-for-profit corporation created by New York Conference of Mayors and Other Officials (NYCOM) to provide workers' compensation service program for NYCOM's public employer-members was instrumentality of state, and thus would be afforded same exemption from sales and use taxes as granted to NYCOM. NYAdv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-94(35)S.

7. Municipality, or municipal agency, authority or instrumentality or school district

It was neither arbitrary nor unreasonable to impose sales tax on revenues received by municipalities from off-street parking fees since (1) CLS Tax § 1105(c)(6) explicitly allows such tax on receipts obtained from providing "parking, garaging or storing for motor vehicles," (2) municipalities concededly qualified as "persons" subject to statute, (3) municipalities failed to show that provision of parking facilities was not service also ordinarily provided by private vendors, who served same public interest of aiding free flow of traffic but were taxed nonetheless, and (4) operation of municipal parking lots is proprietary, not governmental, function. North Hempstead v Regan, 171 A.D.2d 165, 574 N.Y.S.2d 851, 1991 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 13061 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1991), aff'd, 80 N.Y.2d 936, 591 N.Y.S.2d 131, 605 N.E.2d 867, 1992 N.Y. LEXIS 3432 (N.Y. 1992).

It was neither arbitrary nor unreasonable to exclude municipal parking lots and fields from exception from sales tax created for "on-street" metered parking since off-street parking is ordinarily sold by private persons subject to tax, while on-street parking is not. North Hempstead v Regan, 171 A.D.2d 165, 574 N.Y.S.2d 851, 1991 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 13061 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1991), aff'd, 80 N.Y.2d 936, 591 N.Y.S.2d 131, 605 N.E.2d 867, 1992 N.Y. Public schools located outside New York state are not exempt from sales and use taxes under § 1116(a)(1) of Tax Law, and in order for such schools to be considered exempt from tax, they must file an application for an exempt organization certificate pursuant to § 1116(a)(4) of Tax Law and meet statutory requirements for exemption. Re Tee Bar Corp., Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-H-85(141)S.

Municipal corporation, being instrumentality of State of New York, is not required to collect sales tax on its charges to property owners for sewer rent, even though municipality initially purchases waste treatment services from private company, as while waste treatment services may sometimes be sold by private persons, they are not "ordinarily" sold by private persons within meaning and intent of CLS Tax § 1116(a)(1). Advisory Opinion, Dec State Tax Comm, TSB-A-86(36)S.

School board, which entered into a contract for construction of building prior to effective date of amendment to Tax L § 1115, subd a(15) could not recover sales tax paid and passed on by contractor, where the contract was a lump sum contract which did not provide for separate passage of title of the materials. City of Rome is not subject to sales tax on sales of restaurant meals provided to city employees while engaged in city business where city makes direct payment for meals, or where meals are paid for by employee who subsequently receives specific reimbursement from city. Re City of Rome, Op State Tax Comm, Oct 9, 1980.

Sales tax is due on one-half of certain purchases of fuel oil purchased by petitioner in his own name for heating a building owned by the New York City Housing Preservation and Development Administration adjacent to one owned by him pursuant to a contract entered into with HPDA since petitioner did not sell fuel to HPDA but rather provided its building with heat and hot water and therefore his purchases were not purchases for resale under the definition contained in Tax Law § 1101(b)(4)(i) and since the purchases of fuel oil made by him could not be construed as being made by an agent of New York City in order to qualify for the sales tax exemption provided in Tax Law § 1116(a)(1) since petitioner did not transfer the fuel oil itself to the city and since there was no demonstrated or explicit designation of petitioner as the city's agent in buying the fuel oil. Op St Tax Comm, February 18, 1981.

Upgrade and renovation of county coliseum scoreboard were exempt from sales tax under CLS Tax §§ 1116(a)(1) and 1115(a)(15) where county owned coliseum, scoreboard was installed on behalf of county, and it became integral part of structure. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-95(15)S.

8. United States of America; federal agencies and other entities

Petitioner, who was engaged in the service of removal or cleanup of oil spills from bodies of water in New York state, was an independent contractor which purchased equipment, materials, and supplies on its own behalf for use in performing service contracts for the Coast Guard and other persons, and did not make such purchases as agent for the Coast Guard, and thus did not qualify for the exemption from sales and use taxes as provided in § 1116(a)(2) of the Tax Law; accordingly, such purchases were subject to the tax imposed under § 1105(a) of the Tax Law. Re Sea-Land Restoration, Inc., Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-H-85(4)S.

Where language of contract between company and U.S. Department of Energy not only fails to name contractor as agent of government, but also specifically prohibits contractor from acting in agency capacity, contractor, rather than Federal Government, is making purchases and since such purchases do not become integral part of structure, building or real property owned by Federal Government, such purchases do not qualify for exemption from tax and are, therefore, subject to sales and use tax. Advisory Opinion, Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-A-88(7)S.

Purchases of materials by general contractor for use in constructing 31 story commercial office tower on top of existing 8 story building, constructing new building columns, footings, girders and supports in subsurface beneath existing building, and renovating portions of existing building are exempt from state and local sales tax when pursuant to lease between petitioner as tenant and United States Postal Service as landlord, where United States Postal Service will acquire immediate title to such materials once incorporated into real property. 1989 New York State Dept. of Taxation & Finance Advisory Opinion, TSB-A-89-(8)S (Sales Tax).

Purchases of tangible personal property and services under management and operating contract between United States Department of Energy (DOE) and petitioner, company formed to compete for management and operating contract for project to carry out high-level nuclear waste management demonstration project, were not exempt from sales and use tax under CLS Tax § 1116(a)(2) since petitioner failed to show that it was acting as agent of DOE in making purchases in question and in performing its duties under contract. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-98(15)S.

9. Exempt organizations; in general

In Article 78 proceeding, evidence supported State Tax Commission's determination that corporation which managed food service operations for educational and health care institutions was not agent for its tax exempt institutional clients, and thus was not entitled to exemption pursuant to CLS Tax § 1116(a)(4) for recurring purchases of plastic spoons and cups, paper supplies, napkins and cleaning agents, where corporation exercised control over details of food management operations including purchase of food and supplies, determination of vendors to use, performance of bookkeeping functions and placement of employees on its payroll. Custom Mgmt. Corp. v N.Y. State Tax Comm'n, 148 A.D.2d 919, 539 N.Y.S.2d 550, 1989 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4097 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1989).

Parking charges levied by a private profit-making corporation in connection with its operation of a parking facility owned by a corporation exempt from sales tax on such charges pursuant to Tax Law § 1116 would not be similarly exempt where the former was an independent corporation with its own investors which distributed its own profits, filed its own tax returns and operated various other parking facilities, and where such circumstances indicated a lack of the totality of control which would make the former merely an operating extension of the latter and, therefore, the former was the true vendor of the facility. Lincoln Center for Performing Arts, Inc. v State Tax Com., 113 Misc. 2d 329, 448 N.Y.S.2d 931, 1982 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 3298 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1982).

Public schools located outside New York state are not exempt from sales and use taxes under § 1116(a)(1) of Tax Law, and in order for such schools to be considered exempt from tax, they must file an application for an exempt organization certificate pursuant to § 1116(a)(4) of Tax Law and meet statutory requirements for exemption. Re Tee Bar Corp., Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-H-85(141)S.

In ascertaining whether an organization is organized exclusively for one or more of the enumerated exempt purposes, the focus is on the provisions of the organizing documents; the documents must limit purposes of organization to one or more exempt purposes and cannot expressly empower organization to participate, other than as an insubstantial part of its activities, in activities which are not in furtherance of one or more exempt purposes; on the other hand, in determining whether organization is operated exclusively for one or more exempt purposes, focus is on organization's activities; an organization will not be regarded as exempt if more than an insubstantial part of its activities is not in furtherance of exempt purposes. Employee purchases by use of corporate credit card of exempt organization bearing name of employee and abbreviation of organization's name would not be subject to sales and use taxes where vendors were issued properly completed Exempt Organization Certifications (Form ST-119.1) by employees who were authorized by organization to act on its behalf to make purchases, and organization and employee were identified on any bill or invoice as purchaser of record. NYAdv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-94(30)S.

10. —Certificate of incorporation specifying exempt purpose

In an Article 78 proceeding to challenge the imposition of an additional sales tax against a fraternal organization whose facilities included a recreation area, bar and lounge, and banquet hall, the actual activity of the organization did not qualify it as an exempt corporation despite reference to a charitable purpose in its certificate of incorporation. Surface Line Operators Fraternal Organization, Inc. v Tully, 85 A.D.2d 858, 446 N.Y.S.2d 451, 1981 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 16689 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1981).

Where organization was engaged in certain charitable activities, its organizational intent and substantially all of its operational activities were in furtherance of educational purposes, and specifically, where organization was engaged in presentation of information, lectures and demonstrations concerning plants, flowers, flower arranging and gardening techniques, at meetings advertised and open to general public, organization qualified for exemptions from sales and use taxes under tax law § 1116(a)(14). Re Bridgeview Garden Club, Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-H-85(74)S.

JA Companies, non-profit corporations affiliated with Junior Achievement, which involve students in operations of their own small businesses, satisfies criteria set forth in CLS Tax L § 1116(a)(4), and thus sales of tangible personal property by petitioner, where on door-to-door basis, would not be subject to tax. Re Junior Achievement of Western New York, Inc., TSB-A-84(13)S.

11. —Organizations predominantly involved in non-exempt activities

Organization's certificate of incorporation does not satisfy organizational test set forth in Tax Law because none of enumerated tax purposes are set forth therein; further, organization's operations are not exclusively educational or charitable, and these purposes were insubstantial part of its activities. Re Rockwood Park Concerned Residents, Inc., Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-H-87(207)S.

Organization is not entitled to exempt status where, despite commendable humanitarian endeavors, it is clear from subject matter of monthly meetings that nonexempt social activities contribute more than insubstantial part of overall activities. Re Pierpont, Dec Tax Comm, TSB-H-84(75)S.

Division of Taxation properly denied taxpayer's application for exempt organization status, even though organization operated to serve community, supported prevention of cruelty to children, assisted persons in community who were ill or in need, attempted to prepare persons for citizenship, and provided periodic courses on volunteer basis, since financial data clearly indicated that substantial portion of organization's revenue and expenditures were committed to non-exempt purposes. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-91-(49)S.

12. — —Athletic clubs

Skating club which shared use of skating arena constructed on campus of private school with private school which charged annual dues and initiation fee is not organized or operated exclusively for educational or any of exempt purposes set forth in § 1116(a)(4), but is rather athletic club within meaning and intent of § 1105(f)(2) and as such, its membership dues and initiation fees are subject to tax. New York City elementary school principals association did not qualify for exemption from sales tax since it was not organized and operated exclusively for one or more of the purposes specified in § 1116(a)(4) of the Tax Law; although many of association's activities ultimately had an impact on education, a substantial portion of them were designed primarily to improve the profession of school principal and were of concern only to a school principal; these activities served to improve the efficiency of the school principal, but they were not educational in nature. Re New York City Elementary School Principals Asso., Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-H-85(241)S.

Bar association which has purposes which are not limited to those enumerated in Tax Law § 1116(a)(4) is not organization exempt from imposition of sales and use taxes despite fact that association engages in many activities which are educational or charitable in nature because substantial part of its activities are directed toward promoting legal profession for benefit of its members and it is expressly authorized to engage in activities which further professional interest of its members. Re Erie County Bar Asso., Det State Tax Comm, August 17, 1979.

Petitioner, International Bar Association, was properly denied exemption under CLS Tax § 1116(a)(4) where objectives of petitioner's organization, while characterized as educational, were also concerned in large part with advancement of professional interests of its members, and it was exempt from federal taxation under Internal Revenue Code § 501(c)(6) and not § 501(c)(3). NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-93(42)S.

17. — —Retired and senior citizens organizations

Club of retired and veteran railway employees which meets monthly for lunch and for discussion of rights of members with respect to their retirement benefits is not organized exclusively for exempt purposes and is therefore not entitled to exemption from sales and compensating use tax. Re National Asso. of Retired & Veteran Railway Employees, Inc., Dec State Tax Comm, TSB-H-84(113)S.

Seniors citizens club organized for purpose of social, recreational, educational, and service activities among men and women of senior years did not qualify for exempt organization status since club was essentially social organization and its educational and charitable activities were incidental to its social and recreational objectives. Re Waverly Senior Citizens Club, Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-H-86(180)S.

Although Hanover Township Senior Citizens Club's activities are educational and charitable in nature, substantial portion of them are in furtherance of social and recreational purposes; moreover, Club's constitution and bylaws lack clauses for nonninurement, restrictive legislation and dissolution provisions; accordingly, Club is neither organized nor operated exclusively for any of purposes specified in CLS Tax § 1116 and its application for exempt organization status was properly denied. Re Hanover Township Senior Citizen Club, Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-H-87(194)S.

Organization for retired public school employees was not exempt for purposes of CLS Tax § 1116(a)(4) since its constitution stated that its purpose was "to maintain and perpetuate among the retirees the personal, educational, and professional associations and contacts originally established during many years of service within" community, and it held various social functions including luncheons, annual barbecue, and sightseeing tours; under circumstances, organization was primarily social in nature. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-90-(57)S.

Senior citizens clubs were not entitled to tax exempt status under CLS Tax § 1116(a)(4) where their bylaws disclosed that purpose for which they were formed was broader than educational purposes specified in statute, and their educational activities appeared secondary to overall social and recreational aspects of monthly meetings, trips, picnics and dinners. NY Tax Appeals Tribunal TSB-D-97-(11)S.

18. —Organizations predominantly involved in exempt activities

Where organization was engaged in certain charitable activities, its organizational intent and substantially all of its operational activities were in furtherance of educational purposes, and specifically, where organization was engaged in presentation of information, lectures and demonstrations concerning plants, flowers, flower arranging and gardening techniques, at meetings advertised and open to general public, organization qualified for exemptions from sales and use taxes under tax law § 1116(a)(14). Re Bridgeview Garden Club, Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-H-85(74)S.

Audit division properly denied sorority's application for an exempt organization certificate notwithstanding that taxpayer met operational requirements of § 1116(a)(4) of Tax Law in that all of its activities, other than its Founder Day luncheon, were confined exclusively to educational and charitable purposes of activities designed to raise funds to achieve these purposes, where sorority's constitution did not limit sorority's activities to one or more exempt purposes; constitution stated one of its purposes to be "to promote sisterliness and friendship toward each soror"; such purposes were more social in nature than exempt purposes provided for in § 1116(a)(4). Re Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Theta Iota Omega Chapter, Dec St Tax Comm, TSB-H-85(75)S.

Applicant which operated school and day care center was not "organized and operated" exclusively for an exempt purpose under Tax Law § 1116(a)(4) for 2-year period prior to formal adoption of articles of incorporation, even though applicant had been recognized prior to such adoption as a nonprofit entity by a certified public accounting firm retained by the New York City agency of child development. Application of Brownstone School, File No. 14540 State Tax Com., August 25, 1978.

Since petitioner's organizing documents did not contain a provision insuring that its assets were dedicated for an exempt purpose in the event of dissolution as required by the Taxpayers Services Division before September 17, 1975, petitioner was not organized exclusively for exempt purposes within Tax Law § 1116(a)(4) and therefore is not entitled to a refund of sales taxes paid before September 17. 22. Indian nations, tribes, reservations, and individuals

Department of Taxation and Finance may require plaintiff, enrolled member of Seneca Nation, to collect and remit sales, use and excise taxes on sale of cigarettes and motor fuel to non-Indian consumers at plaintiff's retail business on Cattaraugus Reservation; state tax statutes requiring Indian retailers to collect and remit taxes on sales to non-Indian purchasers, and to keep records necessary to ensure compliance, do not violate Commerce Clause or constitutional proscription against direct taxation of Indians without explicit congressional consent. Snyder v Wetzler, 84 N.Y.2d 941, 620 N.Y.S.2d 813, 644 N.E.2d 1369, 1994 N.Y. LEXIS 4106 (N.Y. 1994).

Company proprietors lacked standing to assert that a local tax law which imposed a tax on the rental proceeds of hotel and motel rooms within a county was void because it did not exempt Indian tribes, in violation of N.Y. Tax Law § 1116; the proprietors did not show any injury that they, as owners and operators of non-tribal accommodations, suffered. Hunter v Bd. of Supervisors, 21 A.D.3d 622, 800 N.Y.S.2d 231, 2005 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8280 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 2005).

An Indian who resides on a reservation in New York is not liable for New York state and local sales taxes on sales of tangible personal property delivered to the reservation, sales of services where services are delivered to reservation, or on items purchased off the reservation but delivered to the Indian on the reservation, but such exemptions are derived not from § 1116(a)(6) of the Tax Law but from principles set forth in United States Supreme Court decisions. Re Seneca Nation, 1982 Op State Tax Comm, Aug 25, 1982.

23. Non-exempt sales

Table setup at monthly meeting from which tangible personal property is offered for sale by organization which is qualified for exemption from sales tax constitutes "shop or store" within meaning and intent of § 1116(b) of Tax Law, and proceeds from such sales are accordingly subject to sales tax. Re Women's Aglow Fellowship, 1981 Op State Tax Comm, Dec. 22, 1981.

Sales tax must be collected on the sale of meals to employees through a non-profit program conducted in a state institution; although Tax Law § 1116 provides for an exemption from sales tax generally applicable to sales made by the State of New York or any of its agencies or instrumentalities that exemption is by the same statutory provision made expressly inapplicable to sales of food or drink in or by a restaurant, tavern or other establishment. Advisory Op St Tax Comm, March 29, 1982.

24. Admissions

Provision in Tax Law providing that admission charges to historic sites operated by nonprofit-making entity are exempted from imposition of sales tax did not constitute denial of equal protection. State and local sales tax applied to purchases or sales of certain "miscellaneous expense" items used by taxpayer (food management company) in fulfillment of contractual agreement entered into with state school district since (1) school district, either itself or through taxpayer, was not direct purchaser, user or consumer of items, (2) taxpayer and school district had not entered into agreement whereby taxpayer was designated to act as agent for school district, (3) purchases were initiated by taxpayer's personnel, and vendor invoices arising therefrom were sent to school district location for verification of quantity, privacy, etc., and then forwarded to taxpayer's home office for payment to vendors, (4) taxpayer sought monthly reimbursement for such expenses by submitting listing of detailed transactions to school district, and (5) taxpayer used or consumed items in performing its services for school district. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-90-(47)S.

Taxpayer was required to pay sales tax on materials and supplies purchased and used by subcontractors to build, and which became component part of, roads which, as required by subdivision approval process, were to be deeded over to New York State, municipality, or other organization exempt from sales tax under CLS Tax § 1116(a) after construction of roads was completed; however, if real property on which roads were to be constructed was deeded by taxpayer to municipality prior to incorporation of materials and supplies into real property, purchase of such materials and supplies would be exempt from sales tax. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-90-(53)S.

Exemptions provided in CLS Tax §§ 1115(a)(15) and 1115(a)(16) for tangible personal property incorporated into land, buildings, or structures of exempt governmental entity, and exemption provided in CLS Tax § 1116(a)(1) for purchases by governmental entities, were not applicable to purchases made by petitioner in erecting sewage treatment plant to be constructed to service lands of petitioner's members, who were developers in surrounding communities. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-01-(14)S.

Services by elevator inspectors hired by municipalities to determine whether and to what extent elevators within municipality are in violation of applicable building codes, and to prepare written report to building owner which addresses any violations, are exempt from sales tax under CLS Tax § 1116(a)(1); inspectors should retain governmental purchase order or copy of contract with governmental entity to substantiate exempt nature of transaction. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-05-(11)S.

Services of elevator inspectors hired by municipalities to determine whether and to what extent elevators within municipality are in violation of applicable building codes, and to prepare written reports to owners which address violations, are not subject to sales tax regardless of whether inspectors are hired by exempt governmental entity or nonexempt private entity. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-05-(11)S.

School yearbook publisher would not be required to collect sales tax on sales of yearbooks to customer (i.e., public school) as sale would be exempt from sales tax under CLS Tax § 1116(a)(1), where contract was signed by person authorized to contract for disbursement of school district's funds, and publisher's invoice named school district as purchaser. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-08-(42)S.

Since books are property of kind ordinarily sold by private persons, public school districts are generally required to collect sales tax on their sales of such books. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-08-(42)S.

Student organizations (i.e., yearbook committee or "key club") and extraclassroom activity funds of public schools are not included in exemption granted to school districts under CLS Tax § 1116(a)(1); thus, purchases by such organizations and funds are normally subject to sales tax. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-08-(42)S.

Extraclassroom activity fund of school district (only one such fund is required for each school district) may register as sales tax vendor with Department of Taxation and Finance; as registered vendor, extraclassroom activity fund may issue properly completed Resale Certificate (Form ST- 120) to yearbook publisher when purchasing yearbooks for student organizations or fund if such yearbooks are purchased by fund for resale, and student organization or extraclassroom activity fund must collect and remit sales tax on their receipts from sales of yearbooks. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-08-(42)S.

7. United States of America; federal agencies and other entities

Company that had contract to perform services as general contractor for United States Department of Energy did not qualify for agency exemption under CLS Tax § 1116(a)(2) where contract contained specific language prohibiting company from acting on its behalf (e.g., "[p]rocurement arrangements under this contract shall be made in the name of the Contractor, shall not bind nor purport to bind the Government..."). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-90-(7)S.

Sales of aerosol sprays, which detected presence of substances such as marijuana and cocaine, to United States or its agencies or instrumentalities, were exempt from sales tax under CLS Tax § 1116(a)(2). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-90-(41)S.

Prime contractor would be required to pay sales tax on subcontractor's charges for removal of waste material where prime contractor's customer was tax-exempt organization described in CLS Tax § 1116(a)(2), project being performed by prime contractor was not capital improvement, and cost of service being billed to prime contractor by subcontractor would be re-billed to tax-exempt organization; prime contractor's subsequent charges to tax-exempt organization would not be subject to sales tax. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-95(38)S.

Mission which has been issued valid United States Department of State (USDOS) tax exemption card would be considered direct payer of record where payment was made by check of mission, credit card of mission, or credit card in name of mission's national government; mission's use of its own credit card to make approved exempt purchases is considered to be direct payment by mission so long as USDOS permits such mission to make such purchases with credit cards. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-97(31)S.

8. Exempt organizations; in general

9. —Certificate of incorporation specifying exempt purpose

Although not-for-profit corporation qualified as exempt organization under Internal Revenue Code § 501(c)(6), it did not qualify for exemption under CLS Tax § 1116(a)(4) since general purposes stated in corporation's certificate of incorporation and its by-laws indicated that corporation was not organized and operated exclusively for any purpose enumerated in § 1116(a)(4). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-92-(22)S.

10. —Organizations predominantly involved in non-exempt activities

11. — —Animal clubs; pet fanciers

Dog club that conducts dog shows is not exempt from collecting sales tax on admission charges or sales or rentals of tangible personal property, notwithstanding that dog club makes contributions to other charities or that it is operated on not-for-profit basis. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-90-(18)S.

There is no "sale" of art work by collector to museum where there is no consideration provided by museum to collector for use and display of art work by museum in state; also, even if such transaction were considered to be sale, such sale to museum would be exempt from sales tax under CLS Tax § 1116(a). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-08-(7)S.

12. —Organizations predominantly involved in exempt activities

NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-96(88)S.

Where buyer of mailing lists has established its exempt status as religious, charitable, educational, etc., institution or organization under CLS Tax § 1116(a)(4), and buyer is purchaser of mailing list and payer of record, receipts from such sale are not subject to tax; organization should furnish, and seller should maintain for its records, properly completed Exempt Organization Certificate, Form ST-119. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-04-(20)S.

Exemptions provided in CLS Tax § 1116 are only applicable to purchases by exempt organization for its own use and consumption; purchase of mailing lists by buyer, which is not itself qualifying exempt organization, for buyer's use in performing services for exempt organization is not exempt under § 1116. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-04-(20)S.

Not-for-profit paramedic service created by county's local town boards was eligible for refund of sales taxes paid on fuel used in its vehicles in course of its operations within state since service had exempt status under CLS Tax § 1116(a)(4). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-06-(27)S.

13. —Benefits inuring to specific groups or individuals

Rent received by petitioner, exempt organization under CLS Tax § 1116(a)(4), for occupancy of room in Hotel Saranac, which provided internship program for students for hotel restaurant management, culinary arts, and forestry, was exempt from sales tax under CLS Tax § 1116(c); rent included separately stated charges for use of furnishings and equipment, maid service, towel and linen services, telephone service, and other accommodations. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-98-(40)S.

Golf association's sales of daily and "season" spectator admissions to US Open golf tournament, where proceeds inure other than exclusively to benefit of elementary or secondary schools, are subject to sales tax imposed on admissions under CLS Tax §§ 1105(f) and 1116(d)(2). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-05-(5)S.

If hospitality package at golf tournament were to include food and beverages or catering services, hospitality package charges in excess of admission charges would be subject to sales tax under CLS Tax §§ 1105(d)(i)(2) and 1116(b)(2); accordingly, in such case, entire charge for hospitality table package would be subject to sales tax regardless of whether charges for items included in hospitality package were separately stated on bill, invoice or other statement of charges rendered by golf association to its client. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-05-(5)S.

Golf association, as exempt organization under CLS Tax § 1116(a)(4), could purchase any catering services it might provide as part of golf tournament's hospitality packages without payment of sales tax; in such instance, association would be required to provide caterer with properly completed "Exempt Organization Exempt Purchase Certificate" (Form ST-119.1) in order to make such purchases on tax exempt basis. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-05-(5)S.

14. —Purchases by contractors for exempt organizations

Contractor's purchases of tangible personal property may be exempt from sales tax even though exempt governmental entity does not enter into capital improvement contract with contractor where road building materials purchased by contractor are installed in and become part of real property owned by exempt governmental entity and title to road building materials passes to exempt entity on completion of contract with respective utility company. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-05-(20)S.

If, at time of purchase, it is impossible for contractor to distinguish between those road building materials that will be used to restore property of exempt entity and of nonexempt entity, contractor may not issue contractor exempt purchase certificate; contractor may apply for refund or credit for tax paid on those materials incorporated into property of exempt entity, provided such application is made within 3 years of date on which sales or compensating use tax was payable by contractor's supplier. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-05-(20)S.

Where contractor may be required to make its installations on private property owned by organization exempt from sales tax under CLS Tax § 1116(a)(4), (5), (6), (7) or (8), contractor will be eligible to purchase road building materials for incorporation into gas and phone line installation projects without payment of sales tax in same manner that such exempt purchases may be made with regard to such installations on property owned by exempt governmental entity. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-05-(20)S.

Contractor can substantiate that its purchase of road building material is to become integral component part of property owned by entity exempt from sales tax under CLS Tax § 1116(a) by relying on signed document between contractor and its customer which identifies project, location and owner of real property on which work is being performed, assuming contractor's records allow it to tie in particular purchase of road building materials to contract with customer. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-05-(20)S.

Purchases by installer of underground high voltage cable of soil, backfill, concrete and asphalt pavement restoration materials and like which become property of owner of underlying realty on installation are purchases at retail subject to sales or use tax unless otherwise exempt; however, such materials, when incorporated into real property of entity exempt under CLS Tax § 1116(a), may be purchased by installer without payment of sales or use tax. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-05-(35)S.

If petitioner makes retail sales or leases of its hospital beds to persons other than person who uses bed in performing medical or similar services for compensation, or to otherwise exempt entity, petitioner is not required to collect sales or use tax on such sale. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-05-(36)S.

Rental of petitioner's therapeutic beds to persons performing medical or similar services for compensation are taxable, unless purchaser is exempt entity under CLS Tax § 1116(a). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-05-(36)S.

If petitioner makes retail sales or leases of its "Vacuum Assisted Closure" (VAC) devices to persons other than person who uses device in performing medical or similar services for compensation, or to otherwise exempt entity, petitioner is not required to collect sales or use tax on such sale. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-05-(36)S.

Rental of petitioner's "Vacuum Assisted Closure" (VAC) devices to persons performing medical or similar services for compensation are taxable, unless purchaser is exempt entity under CLS Tax § 1116(a). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-05-(36)S.

(a) Retail vendor. (1) A vendor of motor fuel or diesel motor fuel who or which is required to collect the taxes imposed by subdivision (a) of section eleven hundred five of this article and any like tax imposed pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter shall be allowed a refund or credit against the amount of tax collected and required to be remitted to the commissioner pursuant to the provisions of section eleven hundred thirty-seven of this article upon the retail sale of motor fuel or diesel motor fuel in the amount of the tax on such fuel prepaid by or passed through to and included in the price paid by such vendor pursuant to the provisions of section eleven hundred two of this article.

(2) A refund or credit shall also be allowed such vendor for the tax prepaid by or passed through to and included in the price paid by such vendor upon any motor fuel or diesel motor fuel pursuant to the provisions of section eleven hundred two of this article if such fuel is sold at retail by such vendor under circumstances where the taxes imposed by section eleven hundred five of this article and pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter are not required by the provisions of this article to be collected and remitted upon receipts from a retail sale thereof.

(b) Retail user. A purchaser, user or consumer of motor fuel or diesel motor fuel at retail who or which is required to pay the tax imposed by section eleven hundred ten of this article and any like tax imposed pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter with respect to the purchase of or the use or consumption of such fuel shall be allowed a credit against such tax required to be paid to the commissioner pursuant to such section and article in the amount of the tax prepaid by or passed through to and included in the price paid by such purchaser, user or consumer pursuant to the provisions of section eleven hundred two of this article.

(c) Self-use of motor fuel or diesel motor fuel purchased at wholesale. A refund or credit equal to the amount of tax prepaid by or passed through to and included in the price paid by a purchaser, user or consumer pursuant to the provisions of section eleven hundred two of this article with respect to a purchase of motor fuel or diesel motor fuel other than at retail shall be allowed such purchaser, user or consumer upon the use or consumption of such fuel at retail if the acquisition of such fuel by the purchaser, user or consumer would have otherwise been exempt pursuant to section eleven hundred five-A, eleven hundered fifteen or eleven hundred sixteen of this article but for the provisions of the last sentence of subdivision (c) of section eleven hundred two and subdivision (j) of section eleven hundred fifteen or of such last sentence and paragraph five of subdivision (b) of section eleven hundred sixteen of this article. Also, a refund or credit shall be allowed equal to the difference between the amount of tax prepaid by or passed through to and included in the price paid by a purchaser, user or consumer pursuant to the provisions of section eleven hundred two of this article with respect to a purchase of diesel motor fuel other than at retail and the aggregate of the amount of tax that would have been imposed if measured by the applicable rate specified in section eleven hundred five-A of this article and the amount of tax that would have been imposed if measured by the applicable rate specified in section twelve hundred ten of article twenty-nine upon diesel motor fuel which is used for residential heating purposes if the purchase, use or consumption would have otherwise been subject to such lower rate of tax pursuant to such section eleven hundred five-A but for the last sentence of subdivision (a) of such section eleven hundred five-A or pursuant to section twelve hundred ten but for the last sentence of subparagraph (i) of paragraph three of subdivision (a) of such section twelve hundred ten.

(d) Purchase of motor fuel or diesel motor fuel at retail by an exempt organization. A refund or credit equal to the amount of tax imposed pursuant to section eleven hundred five of this article and any like tax imposed pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter upon the sale of motor fuel or diesel motor fuel and paid by a purchaser shall be allowed such purchaser if the purchase, use or consumption of such fuel would have otherwise been exempt pursuant to section eleven hundred fifteen or eleven hundred sixteen of this article but for the provisions of subdivision (j) of section eleven hundred fifteen or paragraph five of subdivision (b) of section eleven hundred sixteen of this article. Also, there shall be allowed a refund or credit equal to the difference between the amount of tax actually imposed pursuant to section eleven hundred five of this article and the amount of tax that would have been imposed as measured by the applicable rate specified in section eleven hundred five-A of this article and a refund or credit equal to the difference between the tax actually imposed pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter and the amount of tax that would have been imposed if measured by the applicable rate specified in section twelve hundred ten of article twenty-nine upon diesel motor fuel which is used for residential heating purposes if the purchase, use or consumption would have otherwise been subject to such lower rate of tax pursuant to such section eleven hundred five-A but for the last sentence of subdivision (a) of such section eleven hundred five-A or pursuant to section twelve hundred ten but for the last sentence of subparagraph (i) of paragraph three of subdivision (a) of such section twelve hundred ten.

(e) Immediate export. With respect to (i) motor fuel imported, manufactured or sold or purchased in this state, and (ii) highway diesel motor fuel, a refund or credit shall be allowed a registered distributor of this state or a purchaser of the tax required to be prepaid pursuant to section eleven hundred two of this article in the amount of such tax paid by or included in the price paid by a distributor or such purchaser if such fuel was exported from this state for sale outside this state, such distributor or such purchaser, as the case may be, exporting such fuel is duly registered with or licensed by the taxing authorities of the state to which such fuel is exported as a distributor or a dealer in the fuel being so exported, and in connection with such exportation such fuel was immediately shipped to an identified facility in the state to which such fuel is exported, and provided the applicant complies with all requirements and rules and regulations of the commissioner, including evidentiary requirements, relating thereto.

(f) Refunds of the tax required to be prepaid pursuant to the provisions of section eleven hundred two of this article shall be allowed only to the extent such tax paid by or passed through to the retail vendor, or the purchaser, consumer or user exceeds the amount of tax required to be collected from such person or required to be remitted by the provisions of this article and pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter.

(g) Such credit shall be allowed only to the extent that the tax required to be prepaid pursuant to section eleven hundred two of this article is prepaid by such vendor, purchaser, user or consumer (i) upon importation, manufacture, sale or use, as the case may be, and (ii) with respect to the identified motor fuel or diesel motor fuel for which such credit is claimed upon the use or consumption thereof, but only to the extent that the tax imposed by section eleven hundred five of this article and any like tax imposed pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter together with the tax imposed by section eleven hundred ten of this article and any like tax imposed pursuant to the authority of article twenty-nine of this chapter required to be paid, collected and remitted has been paid, collected and remitted.

(h) Such refunds and credits shall be subject to the provisions of sections eleven hundred nineteen and eleven hundred thirty-nine of this article as if such sections were incorporated in full into this section and had expressly referred to the refunds and credits authorized by this section including the periods of limitations on payments and applications to the commissioner; provided, however, that as provided in subdivision (e) of section eleven hundred thirty-nine of this article no interest shall be allowed or paid upon any refund made or credit allowed pursuant to subdivisions (a) and (b) of this section; and provided, further, that, with respect to refunds or credits pursuant to subdivision (d) of this section with respect to organizations described in paragraph four of subdivision (a) of section eleven hundred sixteen of this chapter and subdivision (e) of this section, upon receipt of a claim for refund in processible form, interest shall be allowed or paid at the overpayment rate set by the commissioner pursuant to section eleven hundred forty-two of this article, or if no rate is set, at the rate of six percent per annum, from the due date of the return or the actual filing date of the return, whichever is later, to the date immediately preceding the date of the refund check except no interest shall be allowed or paid if the refund check is mailed within thirty days of such receipt (except in case of organizations described in paragraph four of subdivision (a) of section eleven hundred sixteen of this chapter, the relevant period of time shall be forty-five days from the date the application for refund is received in processible form and interest, if allowable, shall apply from the date such application is received in processible form) and no interest shall be allowed or paid upon a credit pursuant to such subdivision and except no interest shall be allowed or paid if the amount thereof would be less than one dollar. Provided, however, the department shall process applications for refund as expeditiously as possible.

Amendment Notes: 2011. Chapter 61, § 42 (Part K) amended:

Sub (e) by deleting at fig 1 "enhanced" and adding the matter in italics.

Repeal Notes: [1971, ch 221] The provisions of § 1120 of the Tax Law which have been repealed provided a contractor, subcontractor or repairman with a right to apply for a credit against his sales or use taxes for sales or use taxes which he had paid on materials he purchased where he also collected a sales or use tax on the sale of such materials as part of a sale of taxable services or on certain other retail sales. However, that section did not mention his refund rights under those circumstances. Section 1119(b) of the Tax Law sets forth both the right to a refund and the alternative right to a credit in those types of transactions. This amendment does not diminish any right of a contractor, subcontractor or repairman provided under existing law to apply for a credit and specifically provides for his refund rights. In addition, it avoids duplication of procedural provisions by substantially incorporating into § 1119(b) the procedures which were in § 1120 so that the controlling procedures are now found in one section.

1. In general

Chapter 44 of Laws of 1985 does not authorize refund of sales tax paid on purchase of motor fuel by service station operator from distributor during period September 1, 1982 through May 30, 1985 to extent that such tax exceeds amount that would be due if tax were calculated based on price at which service station sold motor fuel, as § 42 of Chapter 44, regarding refunds and credits, is not to be applied retroactively. In Matter of Fourth Day Enterprises, Inc., State Tax Com., Oct. 27, 1988, TSB-D-88(31)S.

2. Refund not authorized

Gasoline retailer was not entitled to refund for sales taxes based on difference between amount of tax it paid to its distributor, which was calculated on basis of average retail sales price for gasoline, and amount it would have paid had tax been computed on basis of price that retailer actually charged for its gasoline, which was lower than applicable retail average, since tax law contained no pertinent refund or credit provisions for retailers who chose to sell gasoline below applicable average sales price. Gasit, Inc. v Dugan, 171 A.D.2d 325, 576 N.Y.S.2d 402, 1991 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 14837 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1991), app. dismissed, 79 N.Y.2d 1040, 584 N.Y.S.2d 448, 594 N.E.2d 942, 1992 N.Y. LEXIS 1321 (N.Y. 1992).

Chapter 44 of Laws of 1985 does not authorize refund of sales tax paid on purchase of motor fuel by service station operator from distributor during period September 1, 1982 through May 30, 1985 to extent that such tax exceeds amount that would be due if tax were calculated based on price at which service station sold motor fuel, as § 42 of Chapter 44, regarding refunds and credits, is not to be applied retroactively. Agency Opinions

Marketer of petroleum products, could not claim credit or refund of sales tax when debt attributable to sale of motor fuel had been ascertained to be uncollectible; there are no provisions under CLS Tax § 1120 allowing distributor refund or credit of taxes paid under such circumstances. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-90-(55)S.

Fuel purchased by taxpayer, which rented aircraft and agreed to provide fuel for aircraft, was purchased for resale; however, taxpayer was required to pay sales tax on cost of fuel to vendor from whom it purchased fuel, but then taxpayer could claim credit against sales tax it collected on lease for sales tax paid on fuel purchased and pumped into aircraft in connection with lease. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-92-(75)S.

Purchases of aviation gasoline by airlines or for commercial aircraft are subject to sales tax at time of purchase, and purchaser may then apply to Department of Taxation and Finance for refund of sales tax paid; commercial aircraft operators other than airlines must also pay sales tax on purchases of kero-jet fuel at time of purchase, and may then apply for refund of tax paid. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-05-(15)S.

Sales of fuel to noncommercial aircraft operators are subject to sales tax without any right to refund. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-05-(15)S.

Not-for-profit paramedic service created by county's local town boards was eligible for refund of sales taxes paid on fuel used in its vehicles in course of its operations within state since service had exempt status under CLS Tax § 1116(a)(4). NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-06-(27)S.

Sales tax must be paid at time of purchase on fuel used to operate exempt ferry boat under CLS Tax § 1115(a)(43); however, ferry boat company may apply for refund of sales tax paid on purchases of fuel made on and after September 1, 2008, if fuel is used to operate exempt ferry boat. NY Adv Op Comm T & F TSB-A-08-(50)S.

ARTICLE 3 Town Officers, Powers, Duties and Compensation

Section
29. Powers and duties of supervisor

HISTORY:
Add, L 1932, ch 634, with substance transferred from former Articles 5, 22–A, 23–A, 24–A.

§ 29. Powers and duties of supervisor

Except where powers or duties specified herein are devolved upon the town comptroller pursuant to section thirty-four of this chapter, the supervisor of each town.

1. Shall act as treasurer thereof and shall demand, collect, receive and have the care and custody of moneys belonging to or due the town from every source, except as otherwise provided by law. Except as otherwise provided in articles eleven and thirteen, he shall also act as treasurer and disbursing officer for every special district therein.

2. Within ten days after their receipt, shall deposit and secure in his name as supervisor, all such moneys in the manner provided by section ten of the general municipal law.

3. Shall disburse such moneys only by checks payable to the person or persons entitled thereto, which checks shall, if the town board requires such countersignature, be countersigned by the town clerk, or by the comptroller in towns where the office of town comptroller has been established. When authorized by resolution of the town board, such checks may be signed with the facsimile signature of the supervisor or other town officer whose signature is required, as reproduced by a machine or device commonly known as a checksigner. By resolution duly adopted, the town board may determine to enter into a contract to provide for the deposit of the periodic payroll of the town in a bank or trust company for disbursal by it in accordance with provisions of section ninety-six-b of the banking law.

4. Shall keep an accurate and complete account of the receipt and disbursement of all moneys which shall come into his hands by virtue of his office, in books of account in the form prescribed by the state department of audit and control for all expenditures under the highway law and in books of account provided by the town for all other expenditures. Such books of account shall be public records, open and available for inspection at all reasonable hours of the day, and, upon the expiration of his term, shall be filed in the office of the town clerk.

5, 6. [Repealed]

7. Shall pay fixed salaries, the principal of or interest on indebtedness, amounts becoming due upon lawful contracts for periods exceeding one year, and compensation for services of officers or employees regularly engaged by the town at agreed wages by the hour, day, week, month or year without prior audit.

8. Shall prosecute, in the name of the town, for all penalties given by law to such town for its use and for all moneys or property due the town.

9. Shall cause a survey to be made of the bounds of his town, whenever required by the state department of transportation, and transmit a map and description thereof to such department within sixty days thereafter. The expense of such survey and map shall be defrayed by the several towns whose bounds either wholly, or in part, shall be described thereby; such expense to be apportioned by the board of supervisors of the county.

10. Shall prepare and file with the town clerk within thirty days after the expiration of each fiscal year, an annual financial report accounting for all moneys received and disbursed by him, together with the certificate, or certificates, of the bank or trust company where town moneys are deposited, showing the amount of such moneys on deposit with said bank or trust company, and cause a certified copy of such report to be published in the official newspaper, and in such other newspapers, if any, as the town board may require. In addition thereto, if and whenever required, such supervisor shall submit to the other members of the town board at the time of filing such report all vouchers, cancelled checks or check images as authorized by section ninety-nine-b of the general municipal law, check stubs, ledgers, cash books, journals, and financial and accounting records of every sort required to substantiate the accuracy and completeness of such report.

10-a. In lieu of preparing the report required by subdivision ten of this section, the town board may determine, by resolution, that the supervisor shall submit to the town clerk, within the time period prescribed in section thirty of the general municipal law, a copy of the report to the state comptroller required by section thirty of the general municipal law, providing, however, that if the time for the filing of the annual report has been extended by the state comptroller as provided in the said statute, then the time for submitting a copy of the report to the town clerk similarly shall be extended. The town clerk shall cause either a summary of such report to be published within ten days after receipt thereof in a form approved by the state comptroller or a notice that a copy of such report is on file in the town clerk's office and is available for public inspection and copying, in the official newspaper and in such other newspapers as the town board may direct.

11. Shall lease, sell and convey in the name of the town, property owned by it, whenever and in the manner authorized by the provisions of this chapter or any other general or special law and shall execute and deliver, in the name of the town, grants of easements or other rights in lands or other property owned by the town, whenever so directed by the town board.

12. In towns other than those mentioned in section 9-1107 of the environmental conservation law, and other than those included in a forest fire district as defined in subdivision two of section 9-1109 of the environmental conservation law, shall be superintendent of fires of his town and charged with the duty of preventing and extinguishing forest fires. In such capacity, he shall also be charged with the duty of preventing and extinguishing muck fires. He shall have the power to employ persons to act as forest rangers and fire wardens in preventing and fighting forest and muck fires and to employ necessary assistants therefor, and shall possess, for both such purposes, all the power and authority conferred upon the department of environmental conservation, district forest ranger, forest ranger and fire warden under subdivisions one, two, three, four, five and twelve of section 9-1103, subdivision two of section 9-1111 and section 71-0705 of the environmental conservation law with respect to forest fires and forest fire protection. Any person summoned to fight forest or muck fires who is physically able and refuses to assist, shall be liable to a penalty of twenty dollars. The town board of each town shall designate one of its members to act as such superintendent of fires for the ensuing year in case of absence of the supervisor. The town board shall fix the compensation of all forest rangers, fire wardens, and assistants employed under the provisions of this section, and all expenses incurred under the provisions of this section shall be a charge upon and paid by the town.

13. Shall notify the state department of transportation, in writing, regarding the construction, reconstruction or repair by any person or corporation, or political subdivision of the state within his town, of any dam or other structure for impounding water, and of any dock, pier or wharf, or other structure used as a landing place. This notice shall be given within ten days after the commencement of such work. This subdivision shall not apply to a dam where the area draining into the pond formed thereby does not exceed one square mile, unless the dam is more than ten feet in height above the natural bed of the stream at any point or unless the quantity of water which the dam impounds exceeds one million gallons.

14. Shall attend the annual meeting of the board of supervisors of the county, and every regular, adjourned or special meeting thereof of which he shall receive notice.

15. In towns of the first class, may designate a bookkeeper or confidential secretary, or both. In towns of the second class, the town board may by resolution authorize the supervisor of the town to designate a bookkeeper or confidential secretary, or both. A person so designated by the supervisor, shall receive a reasonable compensation for his services, to be fixed by the town board and such compensation shall be a town charge.

16. Shall have and exercise any other power or duty expressly conferred or imposed upon him by law and such powers and duties of administration and supervision of town or special or improvement district functions as shall be provided by resolution of the town board, to be performed on behalf of such board.

1. In general

The failure of the town board to exercise its authority to appoint constables did not render a town supervisor a police officer and therefore disqualified under the Alcoholic Beverage Control Law from any direct or indirect interest in the sale of alcoholic beverages. Robinson v O'Connell, 280 A.D. 270, 113 N.Y.S.2d 582, 1952 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 3451 (N.Y. App. Div. 1952).

Saturday closing of offices of supervisor and town clerk, and office of assessor in town of second class, is a matter for determination by each such officer. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6531.

A town supervisor is a county officer as well as a town officer, being a member of the board of supervisors. He is a county officer when in the performance of duties for the county and a town officer when performing town duties. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7186.

A town supervisor may also serve as chief engineer of the fire district fire department. 1963 Ops St Compt #123.

A conflict of interest does not occur where a town supervisor who is also a practicing attorney occasionally represents a town depository bank for the sole purpose of closing a mortgage loan which in no way involves the town, but disclosure is recommended. 1972 Ops St Compt File #11.

2. Acquisition of property

A town board may not expend town money to build a substation for the use of the state police. 1946 Ops St Compt 284.

The town of Mohawk may not purchase a fire truck for the prevention and extinguishment of forest fires within such town, unless a fire district is formed. 1946 Ops St Compt 288.

A town may not construct or acquire a building for town hall purposes, which is larger than needed in the foreseeable future, for the purpose of renting portions thereof to private individuals or organizations. 1967 Ops St Compt File #867.

A part-time judge may serve as a bookkeeper for the town supervisor, and may also serve as deputy supervisor but should recuse herself in cases involving the town or the supervisor. Advisory Committee on Judicial Ethics, Op 90-37 (1990).

3. Annual financial report, generally

Supervisor's report must be published and the sending of a printed copy to taxpayers is not sufficient. 1945 Ops St Compt 70.

Report of supervisor pursuant to § 29, subd. 10 and § 286 of the Highway Law may not be condensed for publication. Such reports may be combined. The annual report of supervisor pursuant to § 29 subd. 10 of Town Law must be published in official paper. By resolution such report may also be published in a county other than the county in which the town is located. 1945 Ops St Compt 252.

Town supervisor must publish certified copy of his annual report in official newspaper of town and in such other newspapers as town board may direct. Cost of publishing such report is a town charge. 1946 Ops St Compt 27.

The supervisor of a town may not dispense with the publication of the annual report prescribed by subdivision 10 of section 29 of the Town Law, even though he distributes to each taxpayer a printed copy of his report. 1947 Ops St Compt 24.

Certified copy of annual financial report of town must be published in the official newspaper of the town within a reasonable time after filing of the original report with the town clerk. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7074.

4. —Report of town indebtedness

Bond anticipation notes used to finance a sewer district must be included in the annual report of town indebtedness which the supervisor submits to the county board of supervisors. 1969 Ops St Compt File #980.

5. Books and records

An order that directs that certain books, papers and records, belonging and appertaining to the office of supervisor of the town of Annsville, be delivered by the former supervisor to his successor in office was reversed because these are public records which the former supervisor, upon the expiration of his term of office, was required to file in the office of town clerk. Ferguson, 259 A.D. 1068, 21 N.Y.S.2d 320, 21 N.Y.S.2d 366, 1940 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8003 (N.Y. App. Div. 4th Dep't 1940).

There is no requirement that town records be kept in public building and town supervisor may not be prohibited by town board from allowing bookkeeper to keep town's financial records in bookkeeper's home so long as books are accessible to public. Northumberland v Eastman, 129 Misc. 2d 447, 493 N.Y.S.2d 93, 1985 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2637 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1985).

Supervisor may not remove books, papers and records of his predecessor from town clerk's office. 1945 Ops St Compt 598.

A retiring supervisor may be compelled to file his books and records with the town clerk for the use of his successor. 1946 Ops St Compt 392.

A town supervisor is not required to file his account books and records with the town clerk each year. 1947 Ops St Compt 49.

A former supervisor may be compelled to surrender all books and papers pertaining to his office by appropriate legal action. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8160.

Upon the expiration of his term, a town supervisor is required to surrender his account books to the town clerk and other books and records of his office to his successor in office, and may be compelled to do so by appropriate legal action. 1969 Ops St Compt File #696.

Town supervisor in town of first class may appoint full-time bookkeeper, but town board must fix reasonable compensation. 1987 Op St Compt No 87-82.

6. Compensation matters

A town supervisor, whose occupation is that of a funeral director, may not receive payment for his services as a funeral director from the county in cases where funeral expenses are a proper charge against the county. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8274.

7. Confidential secretary; bookkeeper, generally

Position of supervisor's confidential bookkeeper/clerk in first-class town is authorized under CLS Town Law § 29(15) as exception to general power of appointment which resides with Town Board, where bookkeeper clerk was appointed by and accepted position to serve as town supervisor and whose job description included preparation of confidential documents, preparation of town budget, and other politically sensitive issues, because statute provides that town supervisor of first-class town is empowered to appoint confidential secretary or bookkeeper which means that supervisor may choose to appoint only bookkeeper and empower that person with all functions of confidential secretary. Matthews v Town of Blooming Grove, 882 F. Supp. 1420, 1995 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 5526 (S.D.N.Y. 1995).

Position of town supervisor's bookkeeper or clerk to town supervisor, designated under CLS Town § 29(15), falls within political dismissal exception to First Amendment protection of public employees in that it is job for which political affiliation is valid consideration. Matthews v Town of Blooming Grove, 882 F. Supp. 1420, 1995 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 5526 (S.D.N.Y. 1995).

The offices of town clerk and confidential secretary or bookkeeper to the supervisor are incompatible. 1945 Ops St Compt 389.

Appointment of a bookkeeper or confidential secretary to the supervisor is made by the supervisor himself and not by the Town Board. 1961 Ops St Compt #833.

Where the Town Board of a second class town, after adopting a resolution authorizing the supervisor to designate a bookkeeper, later revokes the resolution, the position is abolished and the designated bookkeeper can no longer be paid out of town funds for services rendered. 1962 Ops St Compt #11.

A town councilman of the town of the second class may be appointed by the town supervisor as secretary to the town supervisor. 1965 Ops St Compt File #361.

The same person may serve simultaneously as a member of a town recreation advisory board and as the town supervisor's secretary. 1973 Ops St Compt File #735.

8. —Effect of existence of office of comptroller

In a town which does not have a town comptroller, it is highly inadvisable and undesirable for the deputy town clerk and confidential secretary-bookkeeper to the supervisor to be the same person. 1968 Ops St Compt File #833.

9. —Residency requirement

Town board may sell town garage which has outlived its usefulness without advertising for bids. 1946 Ops St Compt 296.

10. —Spousal officeholders

There is no conflict of interest where a town supervisor appoints his wife as bookkeeper. 1970 Ops St Compt File #62.

A town supervisor would not have a statutory conflict of interest if the supervisor's spouse were appointed confidential secretary or bookkeeper; the town's code of ethics, however, should address the subject of employment of relatives or dependents of town officers, and the town supervisor should abstain from discussions and votes of the town board on matters relating to the confidential secretary or bookkeeper. 1991 Op St Compt No. 91-18.

11. Constitutionality

County Law § 150, Town Law § 29(14), § 41(7), constituting the law dealing with the election of Supervisors and the makeup of the Board of Supervisors of St. Lawrence County, are together unconstitutional as violating the principle of one person, one vote. Dona v Board of Supervisors, 48 Misc. 2d 876, 266 N.Y.S.2d 229, 1966 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2298 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1966).

Apportionment of county board of supervisors which gave equal representation on board to towns of unequal population violated equal protection clause of constitution, as the guaranty of "one person, one vote" has equal application to elective legislative bodies below the level of the state legislature and all municipalities, villages, towns, cities and counties must insure that the vote of each citizen is approximately equal in weight to that of every other citizen. Orlando v Board of Supervisors, 53 Misc. 2d 377, 279 N.Y.S.2d 42, 1966 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1676 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1966).

12. Custody and protection of town funds

Where there is statutory provision for supervisor to obtain surety bond of solvent surety company to secure safety of town funds deposited by him in bank, it is not too far a cry possibly to imply that taking securities duly given him by proper action of authorized officers of bank is therein authorized. In re Bank of Spencerport, 255 N.Y.S. 482, 143 Misc. 196, 1932 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1368 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1932).

Town supervisor, who was also town treasurer, had no standing to petition for Article 78 review of town's share of sales tax revenues as distributed by county pursuant to CLS Tax § 1262, on supervisor's theory that statute affected his duties as supervisor because it interfered with his power as treasurer to collect and have custody over moneys "belonging to or due the town" as provided by CLS Town § 29, since town had neither say in process of sales tax collection and disbursement nor property right in taxes so collected. Moreau v County of Saratoga, 134 Misc. 2d 380, 510 N.Y.S.2d 990, 1987 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2038 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1987), aff'd, 142 A.D.2d 864, 531 N.Y.S.2d 61, 1988 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 7939 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1988).

Under subds. 2 and 3 of this section, all checks made payable to a town or to any fund of a town should be deposited in a bank account of the town, and all payments made by a town should be made only by checks payable to the person or persons entitled thereto and not endorsed by a Supervisor and passed on as a negotiable instrument for the purpose of paying an obligation of the town. American Surety Co. v St. Lawrence County Nat'l Bank, 201 N.Y.S.2d 965 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1960), aff'd, 14 A.D.2d 618, 218 N.Y.S.2d 744, 1961 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 9392 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1961).

Moneys raised by tax for the purchase of town highway machinery shall be deposited to the credit of the town highway fund in a separate bank account. The proceeds of the sale of municipal obligations for machinery purchases should also be deposited in a separate bank account unless the town board resolves to commingle such funds. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8133.

A town supervisor may not deposit town funds in a nondesignated depository. The town board may authorize the supervisor to temporarily invest town funds, not needed for immediate expenditure, in certificates of deposit or special time deposit accounts in banks or trust companies. Such banks or trust companies may be banks other than those designated as official depositories. 1967 Ops St Compt File #399.

A town may designate a bank as depository of town funds, where the town supervisor is an assistant cashier of such bank. 1972 Ops St Compt File #9.

Funds appropriated to the trustees for their use should either be in the control of the town supervisor or the trustees but should not be divided between them. 1974 Ops St Compt File #258.

Powers of town supervisor as treasurer under CLS Town Law may be transferred to town comptroller by local law subject to mandatory referendum; whether it is proper to designate town comptroller as chief fiscal officer must be made on case by case basis depending on particular function to be performed. Ops St Compt 89-35.

13. Disbursal of town funds

Under subds. 2 and 3 of this section, all checks made payable to a town or to any fund of a town should be deposited in a bank account of the town, and all payments made by a town should be made only by checks payable to the person or persons entitled thereto and not endorsed by a Supervisor and passed on as a negotiable instrument for the purpose of paying an obligation of the town. A bank is chargeable with knowledge of the provisions of this section requiring that payments made by a town be made only by check payable to the person or persons entitled thereto. Where a town Supervisor had three accounts in a local bank, one for town funds, one in his personal name, and one in the name of a partnership of which he was a member, the bank should have been placed upon notice that he was withdrawing town funds and placing them in the personal or partnership account without legal right where the checks in question were either not drawn to his name personally or were endorsed over and deposited in the partnership account. American Surety Co. v St. Lawrence County Nat'l Bank, 201 N.Y.S.2d 965 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1960), aff'd, 14 A.D.2d 618, 218 N.Y.S.2d 744, 1961 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 9392 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1961).

A contract may be entered into by a free public library with a village or town to furnish library services and (1) if such contract entered into with a town is for a longer period than one year, verified claims for amount due under same are not necessary but the supervisor must be authorized by resolution adopted prior to payment to pay amount due under contract for library services rendered (2) if contract is for one year or less, verified claim should be submitted and audited prior to payment (3) if a contract is entered into by a village, verified claim that contract services have been rendered must be audited prior to payment by proper village officers. 1945 Ops St Compt 264.

A town supervisor is personally responsible for the amount of a check he issues in payment of an illegal claim against the town. 1965 Ops St Compt File #124.

Warrants presented to the town supervisor for payment are public records subject to inspection by taxpayers at all reasonable times. 1967 Ops St Compt File #748.

Such warrants need not be filed with the town clerk until the expiration of the supervisor's term of office. 1967 Ops St Compt File #748.

14. Disposal or other use of town property

Resolution of town board authorizing sale of town real estate or resolution of town board authorizing leasing of town real estate is subject to permissive referendum. 1946 Ops St Compt 120.

Town may sell or lease town garage to fire district. It may not give use of town garage to fire district. 1946 Ops St Compt 286.

A town may lease a portion of a town building which is not necessary for its use. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7135.

A town may lease real property no longer required for its own use for a term of 99 years. The resolution is subject to permissive referendum. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7423.

Real property owned by a town and no longer necessary for town purposes may be sold at private sale. The town may pay real estate broker's commissions on the sale of town-owned realty. 1960 Ops St Compt File #815.

A town may not permit the gratuitous use of space in the town hall for the maintenance of county offices. 1965 Ops St Compt File #431.

A town may not allow gratuitous use of a town garage by fire district fire equipment, nor lease same for such if space therein is needed for town purposes. 1967 Ops St Compt File #233.

Property owned by the town may be sold at private sale and the consideration may be the transfer of other real property to the town provided the property transferred to the town is an adequate consideration. The sale of the town's real property is subject to a permissive referendum. 1967 Ops St Compt File #667.

A notice of a resolution calling for the sale of town realty must be published in the official paper of the town. 1967 Ops St Compt File #962.

A resolution authorizing the sale of unneeded town land is subject to permissive referendum. 1967 Ops St Compt File #966.

A town may not sell or lease its real property unless it is no longer required for its own purposes and is not held for public use. In those instances where a sale or lease is proper, fair and adequate consideration must be given. 1972 Ops St Compt File #24.

A town may not include space within a proposed town building for the purpose of leasing such space to the U. S. Postal Service upon the completion of the building. Under certain circumstances, it would be legal for the town to lease land for the construction of a post office building. 1972 Ops St Compt File #253.

15. Easements

The conveyance of an easement over town property is subject to a permissive referendum. The acquisition of an easement by a town does not require a referendum. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6958.

Where town lands do not afford sufficient area for a driveway to a town garage and adjoining landowner also lacks sufficient land for a driveway upon his property the town and the adjoining landowner may grant reciprocal easements for the purpose of creating a joint driveway upon the lands of both parties. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6958.

A town may grant an easement for the use of town property if the use of that property is not needed by the town and if fair and adequate compensation is received in exchange for such an easement. The granting of such an easement is subject to a permissive referendum. 1968 Ops St Compt File #881.

16. Firefighting

Towns should not further compensate members of a volunteer fire company for fighting forest fires within an area furnished fire protection by their company pursuant to contract. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6503.

The town board of a town which is neither a "fire town" nor a "fire district", both as defined by the Conservation Law, may fix the salaries of persons employed to fight forest or muck fires. 1960 Ops St Compt File #437.

A town which is neither a "fire town" nor a "fire district", both as defined by the Conservation Law, is responsible for workmen's compensation benefits payable for injuries occasioned to persons employed by the town supervisor to fight forest or muck fires. 1960 Ops St Compt File #437.

17. Legal signatures; facsimiles

Town supervisors and town clerks may sign checks by facsimile signatures only where the town board has authorized the use of a checksigner. They may sign other documents by means of a rubber name stamp. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8119.

The town supervisor is required to sign checks disbursing highway moneys but the town board by resolution, may authorize a facsimile of his signature. 1956 Ops St Comp File #7940.

18. Library matters

A town may not construct a building to be used as a town hall larger than it will need in the foreseeable future for the sole purpose of providing space and facilities for a free library association. 1969 Ops St Compt File #985.

19. Powers of deputy supervisor

Upon the incapacity of the town supervisor, the deputy supervisor is vested with all the powers and duties of the supervisor, with certain express statutory exceptions. 1967 Ops St Compt File #932.

20. Retention of bid bond

After the bids are opened, bid bonds or guarantee bid deposits submitted by the successful bidder should be retained in the custody of the town supervisor. 1968 Ops St Compt File #761.

21. Miscellaneous

It does not require demand to convert rightful possession into wrongful holding, when public officer, in breach of demand which former § 91 put upon him, keeps and retains as his own funds of town. People v Hedges, 184 A.D. 901, 170 N.Y.S. 1102, 1918 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5721 (N.Y. App. Div. 1918).

A town board had no authority to delegate to the town supervisor its duty to hire and fire nonhighway employees to, where no standard of policy had been established by the town board to provide a guide for the town supervisor to follow when hiring and firing town employees. Schimmel v Biscone, 107 A.D.2d 915, 484 N.Y.S.2d 344, 1985 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 49839 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1985).

Process of incorporating village does not require town supervisor to "approve" incorporation petition or take "direct action" of promulgating executive order or directive that public meeting be advertised and scheduled, within meaning of 6 NYCRR § 617.2, and thus State Environmental Quality Review Act (SEQRA) does not apply to incorporation process, and petitioners are not required to submit SEQRA environmental assessment form before respondent supervisor must comply with CLS Vill § 2-204, which mandates her to post notice for public hearing to consider legal sufficiency of petition. O'Keeffe v Bonelli, 170 Misc. 2d 218, 654 N.Y.S.2d 1009, 1996 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 543 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1996).

Town supervisor was policymaker for town under Town § 29, and, thus, town could be held liable under § 1983 for supervisor's alleged retaliation against contractor for threatening suit to challenge award of contract to competitor. Glenview Constr. Inc. v Bucci, 165 F. Supp. 2d 545, 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 14977 (S.D.N.Y. 2001).

Collection of town district water rates or water rentals should be made by town or district employees appointed pursuant to Civil Service Law or by duly authorized town officers and such collection should not be let by contract. 1947 Ops St Compt 298.

Rental of fire hydrants is not a general town charge. 1957 Ops St Compt File #274.

A town may impose a schedule of fees upon a developer to recover engineering, land surveying, and legal expenses incurred in connection with subdivision review so long as they are reasonably necessary to accomplish the regulatory program and bear a reasonable relationship to the average costs incurred by the town planning board in reviewing subdivision applications. The town may not, however, require the developer to pay such fees directly to independent contractors performing such services. 1990 Op St Compt 90-14.

Town supervisor in town of first class may appoint full-time bookkeeper; town board must fix reasonable compensation. 1987 Op St Comp No. 87-82.

1. In general

The offices of Supervisor of the Town of Wilson and Clerk of the Niagara County Legislature, when held by the same person at the same time, are not incompatible per se. 1976 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 2 (informal).

The supervisor of a suburban town is the chief executive officer and head of the administrative branch of town government. Towns other than suburban towns, by local law, may grant administrative powers to the supervisor. 1981 NY Ops Atty Gen March 5 (informal).

Positions of town tax collector and senior account clerk in supervisor's office are incompatible. 1987 NY Ops Atty Gen No. 87-13 (informal).

Positions of town supervisor and director of county veterans agency were compatible, and thus could be held by same person. 1997 NY Ops Atty Gen I 97-46.

Discussion of multiple questions concerning town government. 1978 Op St Compt File #328.

The offices of town supervisor and mayor of a village within the town are not inherently incompatible. However, the existence of inter-governmental relationships between the village and town could result in personal conflict. 1979 Op St Compt File #487.

A town supervisor does not have power to veto town ordinances or local laws unless such power has been conferred on him by local law. 1980 Op St Compt File #532.

2. Annual financial report, generally

The incoming supervisor, rather than the outgoing supervisor, must file the financial report required by section 30. 1980 Op St Compt File #22.

3. Books and records

The proceeding authorized by Public Officers Law § 80 to obtain official papers from an outgoing officer is personal to his successor and no action by the town board is required before a newly elected or appointed town officer may bring such a proceeding. A newly elected town supervisor may not demand from his predecessor the books of account. 1980 NY Ops Atty Gen March 3 (informal).

Town board cannot require supervisor's office to be kept open for use of other town personnel when office must be kept locked for security of supervisor's records. 1978 Op St Compt File #231.

A town clerk is not responsible for the supervisor's financial records until the records are turned over to the clerk at the expiration of the supervisor's term. There is no authority for a bookkeeper to keep the towns financial records in her home, if it is possible for the records to be located in a public building; nor is there any authority which permits town officers to remove public records from the town clerk's office. 1980 Op St Compt File #78.

A municipal (or fire district) governing board may retain private consultants and computer service companies for the purpose of assisting the chief fiscal officer in maintaining the financial records of the municipality. The financial records cannot be permanently removed from municipal custody, although they may be temporarily removed for the purpose of working on them consistent with the right of inspection accorded the general public under the Freedom of Information Law. Opns St Comp, 1969, No. 69-509 is superseded to the extent that it is inconsistent with this opinion. 1980 Op St Compt File #540.

Where a supervisor intentionally or willfully fails to submit his monthly and annual financial reports to the town board or fails to keep his books of account in proper order, (1) any citizen resident of the town may present to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court an application for removal of such officer from office, or (2) the town board may bring an Article 78 proceeding in the nature of mandamus seeking a court order requiring the supervisor to properly perform his official duties, or (3) the town board may create the position of town comptroller and designate him as the accounting officer of the town with responsibility for keeping detailed accounting records, filing the annual financial reports with the town clerk, and filing the monthly financial reports with the town board. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-252.

4. Budget responsibility

Final responsibility for budget content and accuracy rests by law with the town board of a suburban town and not with the town supervisor, whether or not the town has established the office of town comptroller. 1966 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 13.

The proper appointing authority for janitorial and maintenance employees for the Town Hall in the Town of Waterford is the Town Supervisor. 1977 NY Ops Atty Gen March 29 (Informal), 1977 N.Y. AG LEXIS 262.

In a town which has established the position of bookkeeper to the supervisor, the supervisor may appoint the bookkeeper to also be the budget officer. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-108.

5. Confidential secretary; bookkeeper, generally

6. —Effect of existence of office of comptroller

The existence of a town comptroller does not affect the power of a town supervisor of a first class town to "designate a bookkeeper or confidential secretary, or both". 1970 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 16.

7. —Residency requirement

The supervisor's bookkeeper need not be a resident of the town. 1978 Op St Compt File #309.

8. —Spousal officeholders

Under the above sections the Supervisor of the Town of Milan, Dutchess County, a town of the second class, may designate his wife as a bookkeeper provided that the town board by resolution authorizes him to make a designation for the position and fixes the compensation therefor. 1970 NY Ops Atty Gen March 25.

It is inadvisable for the spouse of the deputy town clerk to be appointed as secretary and bookkeeper to the supervisor. 1979 Op St Compt File #377.

It is permissible in a town of the first class for the supervisor's wife to be appointed as confidential secretary or bookkeeper to the supervisor, and town board is obligated to pay a reasonable salary to the supervisor's wife if that person is appointed as confidential secretary or bookkeeper to the supervisor. 1979 Op St Compt File #391.

The position of confidential secretary or bookkeeper to the town supervisor, authorized by section 29(15) of the Town Law, is incompatible with the position of deputy town clerk, but there exists no incompatibility between the position of confidential secretary or bookkeeper and the position of registrar of vital statistics. 1976 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 29 (informal).

Positions of confidential assistant secretary to town supervisor and member of town planning board are not incompatible, and thus same person may serve simultaneously in both positions. 2002 NY Ops Atty Gen I 02-16.

Positions of deputy supervisor and confidential secretary to town supervisor are incompatible, since, when exercising duties of deputy supervisor, such individual will be in direct supervisory role with respect to confidential secretary. 2006 NY Ops Atty Gen I 06-3.

The positions of town clerk and confidential secretary to the town supervisor are incompatible. NY Ops Atty Gen 89-66 (informal).

The simultaneous holding of the office of town councilman and the position of bookkeeper to the supervisor is precluded by considerations of incompatibility. 1978 Op St Compt File #267.

A town board may, by local law, regulate the business hours of the town supervisor's office and require that the town supervisor's bookkeeper or confidential secretary be present in the supervisor's office during certain prescribed hours. Absent such local law, the supervisor would determine the business hours of his or her office and prescribe the bookkeeper's or confidential secretary's working hours. 1978 Op St Compt File #997.

A town board may adopt a resolution fixing the salary of the supervisor, which provides that if he acts as his own clerk he will receive one amount and if he does not, he will receive a lesser amount, providing that in either event his salary does not exceed the amount shown in the notice of public hearing on the preliminary budget. 1979 Op St Compt File #140.

Subject to applicable civil service requirements, a town may engage a bookkeeper to the supervisor on a contract basis rather than as an employee. The bonding requirements, if any, in such event are solely a matter of contract. GENERAL MUNICIPAL LAW, § 92-a: Where a town water district is not governed by a separate board of commissioners, the town may pay the cost of health insurance for a district employee in lieu of paying him a salary. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-53.

9. Custody and protection of town funds

Surpluses in the general and highway funds of a town may be temporarily invested pursuant to § 11 of the General Municipal Law. 1962 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 13.

Unless a local law provides otherwise, care and custody of a tree trust fund would be a duty of the town supervisor. 1981 Op St Compt File #80-768.

10. Disbursal of town funds

A claim against a town must be made on an itemized voucher certified by the claimant which is submitted to the town board for audit. 1979 Op St Compt File #73.

11. Disposal or other use of town property

Real property conveyed to a town by a deed making no reference to the intended use of said real property but presently used for public parking, a public use, may not be alienated without express legislative authority. 1968 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 27.

A town may not permit use of a portion of its town hall by a group if it is also used for town purposes; if not so used, it may lease the portion to a private group for adequate consideration. 1978 Op St Compt File #777.

12. Easements

Easement or other rights for installation of sewers through park lands belonging to a town for a use unrelated to park purposes may not be granted without specific authorization of the Legislature. 1977 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 25.

13. Firefighting

Fire wardens in towns, other than fire towns, have no authority to employ men to aid in extinguishing fires. 1922 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 192.

Where supervisor of town is ordered by conservation commission to extinguish forest fires he has right to employ men and to order forest rangers and fire wardens in town to act. 1923 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 210.

14. Legal signatures; facsimiles

Except as authorized by the provisions of this section, a signature of a supervisor must be handwritten when affixed to official paper. 1955 NY Ops Atty Gen Aug 16 (informal).

As treasurer of a town, the supervisor must sign all checks or other documents effecting the withdrawal of town funds from town bank accounts. In the supervisor's absence a person duly appointed as administrator in lieu of a deputy supervisor, or a deputy supervisor, may sign such documents, as well as obligations issued by the town. A town board cannot require the supervisor to allow his facsimile signature, affixed by a mechanical check-signer, to be used during his absence if the supervisor objects to such use. The administrator appointed in lieu of a deputy supervisor, and the deputy supervisor, are not regarded as the chief executive officer (in a suburban town) or the chief fiscal officer in the absence of the supervisor. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-8.

15. Library matters

A town supervisor may not be appointed as treasurer of the town's public library by the library trustees. 1979 Op St Compt File #25.

16. Office hours; location

A town board may, by local law, regulate the business hours of the town supervisor's office and require that the town supervisor's bookkeeper or confidential secretary be present in the supervisor's office during certain prescribed hours. Absent such local law, the supervisor would determine the business hours of his or her office and prescribe the bookkeeper's or confidential secretary's working hours. 1978 Op St Compt File #997.

A town supervisor has no authority to set office hours for the town clerk but the town board may, by local law, determine the hours when the town clerk's office must be open for business. This does not include authority to require that the town clerk be personally present in the office during these hours. 1980 Op St Compt File #742.

The town board of any town (including a suburban town), rather than the supervisor, has the authority to determine the location of various town offices and departments within town office buildings. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-171.

17. Miscellaneous

The supervisor of a suburban town is the chief executive officer and head of the administrative branch of town government. Towns other than suburban towns, by local law, may grant administrative powers to the supervisor. 1981 NY Ops Atty Gen March 5 (informal).

Offices of town clerk and deputy supervisor are incompatible, as is positions of supervisor's bookkeeper and town clerk. 1986 NY Ops Atty Gen No. 86-30 (Informal).

Person may not hold simultaneously position of town counsel, bookkeeper/secretary to supervisor and Justice Court clerk. 1988 NY Ops Atty Gen No. 88-4 (Informal).

Town supervisor must recuse herself from taking actions as to town police department which affect terms and conditions of employment of her son, sergeant in department. 1996 NY Ops Atty Gen I 96-17.

Recently elected town supervisor may continue to serve as mayor of village in town until commencement of town's budgeting process. 1998 NY Ops Atty Gen I 98-24.

There is no legal impropriety where a husband and wife simultaneously serve as town supervisor and town clerk, respectively. However, from a practical point of view, there is a question of the advisability of such an arrangement. 1979 Op St Compt File #171.

The salary of a town supervisor or a town board member may include additional compensation for assuming extra duties in regard to a town sewer district. However, the salary of such an official may not be higher than the amount specified for the position in the notice of hearing on the preliminary budget unless a local law is adopted. Such a local law may not have effect for longer than one fiscal year. 1980 Op St Compt File #117.

A town supervisor may not arbitrarily refuse to pay duly audited and approved claims for the purchase of highway supplies. 1981 Op St Compt File #81-144.

The offices of elected town assessor and town supervisor's clerk are compatible. 7 Op Counsel SBEA #8 (1980, Jan 10).

HISTORY:

Add, L 1932, ch 634, with substance transferred from former Article 6.

§ 64. General powers of town boards

Subject to law and the provisions of this chapter, the town board of every town:

* * * * *

5. Vacancies. Whenever a vacancy shall occur or exist in any town office, the town board or a majority of the members thereof, may appoint a qualified person to fill the vacancy. If the appointment be made to fill a vacancy in an appointive office, the person so appointed shall hold office for the remainder of the unexpired term. If the appointment be made to fill a vacancy in an elective office, the person so appointed shall hold office until the commencement of the calendar year next succeeding the first annual election at which the vacancy may be filled. A person, otherwise qualified, who is a member of the town board at the time the vacancy occurs may be appointed to fill the vacancy provided that he shall have resigned prior to such appointment.

11-c. Central fire alarm system. In any town, all the area of which outside of any village or villages is included in fire districts, fire alarm districts and fire protection districts, the town board may provide for and establish a central fire alarm system in such town, and may purchase or lease, install, construct and maintain necessary equipment for the operation of such central fire alarm system; provided, that no town board shall exercise the power and authority granted by this subdivision, unless prior thereto the governing board of each village within such town shall by appropriate action have signified its consent thereto, and if the governing board in any village does not consent thereto, the central fire alarm system shall exclude said village and the cost thereof will be assessed against the real property of the town outside said village.

13. Appropriations for rooms for patriotic organizations. In any town in which there may, now or hereafter, be one or more posts of the Grand Army of the Republic, the United Spanish War Veterans, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the Jewish War Veterans of the United States, Inc., Disabled American Veterans, the Catholic War Veterans, Inc., the Italian American War Veterans of the United States, Incorporated, the Polish Legion of American Veterans, Inc., the Marine Corps League, the Military Order of the Purple Heart, Inc., AMVETS, American Veterans of World War II, Masonic War Veterans of the State of New York, Inc., Veterans of World War I of the United States of America Department of New York, Inc., China-Burma-India Veterans Association, Inc., Polish-American Veterans of World War II, Amsterdam, N.Y., Inc., Polish-American Veterans of World War II, Schenectady, N.Y., Inc., World War Veterans Club of Lindenhurst, Inc., the American Legion, the Eastern Paralyzed Veterans Association, the Vietnam Veterans of America, the Army and Navy Union of the United States, the American Gold Star Mothers, Inc., Regular Veterans Association, Inc., the 369th Veterans Association, Inc., the Tri-County Council of Vietnam Veterans, the National Congress of Puerto Rican Veterans, the Fleet Reserve Association, the Navy Seabee Veterans of America, the Korean War Veterans Association, the Women's Army Corps Veterans Association, the 82nd Airborne Division Association, the Empire State Chapter No. 120 of the Retired Enlisted Association, the National Amputation Foundation, or the Navy Club of the U.S.A., the town board may appropriate a sum not exceeding five hundred dollars for each post in any year for the purpose of assisting in defraying the rental or maintenance of rooms for holding meetings of such post or posts, or both. If there be a post in a town adjoining a town in which no post is located, whose membership includes at least five residents of such town having no post, the town board of such town having no post may vote any sum of money, not exceeding one hundred twenty-five dollars in any year, for the purpose of assisting in defraying the rental or maintenance of rooms in such adjoining town as meeting places of each of the posts hereinbefore enumerated. Claims for such rental or rentals shall be made by the organizations interested, and shall be submitted to the town board for audit in the same manner and at the same time as other claims against the town.

15. Appropriation for construction of conning towers. If requested by the conservation department, the town board of any town, not within the forest preserve, may appropriate a sum of money for the construction of a conning tower, to be constructed by the conservation department and to be used as a look-out in aid of the suppression of forest fires, but the whole amount appropriated in any one year shall not exceed five hundred dollars. The money so appropriated when collected, shall be disbursed by the supervisor on the order of the conservation department.

Repeal Notes: [1957, ch 629] The repeal of subdivision fourteen of section sixty-four of the town law by this act, which subdivision was amended twice in nineteen hundred fifty-two without reference to each other, was for the purpose of resolving inconsistent provisions by insertion of a new subdivision embodying the provisions of both amendments with additional provisions relating to Suffolk county.

Amendment Notes:

2004. Chapter 656, § 4 amended:

Sub 1-a, by deleting "two".

2004. Chapter 658, § 1 amended:

Sub 12, by deleting "an amount not to exceed five thousand dollars".

2005. Chapter 328, § 2 amended:

Sub 13, by deleting "or".

2004. Chapter 656, § 6 amended:

Sub 14, par a, by deleting "three" and "but not more than ten thousand dollars annually or (2) upon the adoption of a resolution, subject to a mandatory referendum, may appropriate an amount in excess of ten thousand dollars".

1. In general

Dismissal of the petition was proper, because the town residents made no claim that the procedural requirements of General Municipal Law § 120-w were violated, or that annulment of the resolution and the landfill operating agreement was otherwise justified; claim that a permissive referendum was required by Town Law § 64(2) was without merit. Matter of Conners v Town of Colonie, 108 A.D.3d 837, 968 N.Y.S.2d 717, 2013 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4944 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 2013).

trial court erred in denying a town's motion to dismiss a lender's complaint insofar as asserted against it to recover the unpaid sums due under the loan, breach of contract, and unjust enrichment because the complaint failed to allege that the concession agreement at issue was approved by the town board, and the lender failed to allege facts which, if true, would establish that the town board ratified the concession agreement. Atalaya Asset Income Fund II, LP v HVS Tappan Beach, Inc., 175 A.D.3d 1370, 108 N.Y.S.3d 169, 2019 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6607 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 2019).

The words "a majority of the members" of town board, as used in § 64, if limited to acts of members as distinguished from acts of town boards, are not otherwise defined in Town Law, and, accordingly, what constitutes a majority of the members of board is governed by General Construction Law, § 41. Application of Crosby, 36 N.Y.S.2d 301, 178 Misc. 746, 1942 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1786 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.), aff'd, 265 A.D. 92, 37 N.Y.S.2d 745, 1942 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5686 (N.Y. App. Div. 1942).

None of the powers of towns in New York State are derived from the common law, and such powers as they have are entirely statutory. Olin v North Hempstead, 34 Misc. 2d 853, 231 N.Y.S.2d 286, 1962 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 3199 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1962), aff'd, 18 A.D.2d 831, 237 N.Y.S.2d 991, 1963 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4651 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1963).

The trustees of the freeholders and commonalty of the Town of Southampton must submit its budget to the town board for its review and approval. 1974 Op St Compt No. 74–258.

Funds appropriated to the trustees for their use should either be in the control of the town supervisor or the trustees but should not be divided between them. 1974 Ops St Compt File #258.

This section no longer governs appropriations for the U.S. Bicentennial celebration. 1974 Ops St Compt File #505.

Although the town clerk is required to record in the minutes of a town board meeting the name of each member of the board who was present, the clerk is under no statutory duty to record the names of other persons attending the meeting. A decision to publish the minutes of a town board meeting must be made by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the members of the town board, and not by the town supervisor acting unilaterally. The town board may also elect to publish at town expense the report of examination prepared by the office of the state comptroller. 1990 Op St Compt No. 90-52.

2. Acquisition of real property, generally

Dedication of land to town by town trustees was not invalidated by fact that town board adopted resolution accepting dedication "a few minutes" prior to trustees' adoption of same resolution, where there was no question of trustees' intent to dedicate property or of town's intent to accept it. Zebrowski v Trustees of Brookhaven, 128 A.D.2d 704, 513 N.Y.S.2d 200, 1987 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 44389 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1987), app. denied, in part, app. dismissed, 72 N.Y.2d 829, 530 N.Y.S.2d 548, 526 N.E.2d 39, 1988 N.Y. LEXIS 1061 (N.Y. 1988).

A municipality must acquire a lot by purchase or condemnation when a zoning ordinance bars substandard lot from any practical use. Long Island Land Research Bureau, Inc. v Young, 7 Misc. 2d 469, 159 N.Y.S.2d 414, 1957 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 3720 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1957).

Contrary to contention that attachment of lighting equipment to telephone utility's poles by town and its lighting district constituted an authorized de facto condemnation of an interest in real property because utility's special franchise to erect and maintain poles in public highways was an interest in real property, such franchise was not an interest in real property. New York Tel. Co. v North Hempstead, 86 Misc. 2d 487, 385 N.Y.S.2d 436, 1975 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 3362 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1975), aff'd, 52 A.D.2d 934, 385 N.Y.S.2d 505, 1976 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 12804 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1976).

Developer of residential subdivision, who intended to dedicate roads and utilities within development to town on completion of construction, failed to show that special relationship existed between himself and town, and therefore town was entitled to summary judgment dismissing claim for 5-year delay resulting from developer's attempts to have plans and specifications comply with town's minimum specifications for dedication. Press v Lozier, Inc., 178 Misc. 2d 883, 684 N.Y.S.2d 407, 1998 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 575 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1998).

A membership corporation with leave of the Supreme Court may convey its real property to a town without consideration. The acceptance thereof by the town board is not subject to referendum. Town funds may be expended to keep such town property in repair even if it is encumbered with outstanding leases. 1947 Ops St Compt 156.

Town may acquire land for public purpose under a renewable permit, but may not finance it by the issuance of bonds. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6345.

Discussion relating to purchase of land for town office building and garage. 1957 Ops St Compt File #559.

Under subd. 6 of this section, a Town Board may acquire and pay for an option to purchase land. 1964 Ops St Compt #640.

Real property acquired for purposes of District governed by town board is to be acquired by town board in name of district. 1987 Op St Compt No. 87-69.

3. —By condemnation

Town's and lighting district's right of condemnation extends only to interests in real property and contemplates that acquisition of personal property will be accomplished by purchase or contract. New York Tel. Co. v North Hempstead, 41 N.Y.2d 691, 395 N.Y.S.2d 143, 363 N.E.2d 694, 1977 N.Y. LEXIS 2018 (N.Y. 1977), abrogated, Corsello v Verizon N.Y., Inc., 18 N.Y.3d 777, 944 N.Y.S.2d 732, 967 N.E.2d 1177, 2012 N.Y. LEXIS 583 (N.Y. 2012).

Town lacked power to close 200-foot section of active roadway to create site for resource recovery facility in absence of statutory mandate under Highway Law or other clear and express legislative authorization since (1) public highway cannot be appropriated for another public use without specific legislative authorization, (2) general grant of eminent domain extended in CLS Town § 64 does not empower town to acquire rights in property already devoted to another public use where acquisition will interfere with or destroy prior public use, and (3) CLS Town § 274, which empowers town to authorize closing off or abandonment of streets, requires compliance with both Town and Highway Laws. E & J Holding Corp. v Noto, 126 A.D.2d 641, 510 N.Y.S.2d 899, 1987 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 41774 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1987).

Court would annul determination by town board to acquire more property than was necessary for street improvements since property was not blighted area and proposal to construct houses to be "sold" to low-income elderly individuals failed to comply with state constitutional requirements (CLS NY Const Art XVIII § 10), which preclude towns from engaging in private business or enterprise other than building and operation of low "rent" dwelling houses for low-income persons. Russin v Union, 133 A.D.2d 1014, 521 N.Y.S.2d 160, 1987 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 52032 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1987).

Owners failed to establish that a town's determination to condemn a portion of their real property to provide expanded access to a recreational trail was without foundation and baseless, or that it was violative of any of the applicable statutory criteria because the town, through its town board, was statutorily authorized to acquire by eminent domain any land required for any public purpose, the record confirmed that the strip would continue in its existing, pre-acquisition condition and that its historical use as an access point to the recreational trail would remain unchanged, and, given the above, the town board's determination to render a negative declaration was not inadequate or otherwise in error. Matter of Johnson v Town of Caroga, 162 A.D.3d 1353, 79 N.Y.S.3d 368, 2018 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4543 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 2018).

A taking of property to provide access to land which a town planned to fill for safety reasons was a condemnation for a public purpose within the power of the town. De Matteis v Hempstead, 142 N.Y.S.2d 754, 207 Misc. 1026, 1955 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 3536 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.), aff'd, 286 A.D. 1025, 145 N.Y.S.2d 256, 1955 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5052 (N.Y. App. Div. 1955).

A municipality must acquire a lot by purchase or condemnation when a zoning ordinance bars substandard lot from any practical use. Long Island Land Research Bureau, Inc. v Young, 7 Misc. 2d 469, 159 N.Y.S.2d 414, 1957 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 3720 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1957).

A town may condemn a school district high school building which is no longer needed or used for school district purposes. 1974 Ops St Compt File #415.

Notwithstanding that the cost of flood control measures for the protection of certain property would exceed the value thereof, a town may not condemn such property in order to preclude expenditures for flood protection. 1976 Ops St Compt File #219.

4. —By lease; proper

Sewer district lands, not required for the purposes of the district, may be leased to the town. 1947 Ops St Compt 462.

A town may sell a portion of its property to an incorporated fire company for the construction of a firehouse and subsequently lease space therein for town purposes. 1953 Op St Compt No. 53–6153.

A town board could, subject to a permissive referendum, convey property, acquired for the purpose of erecting a town garage but no longer necessary for that purpose, to a fire district for a fair and reasonable consideration. A town may lease space in a fire house for use as a town clerk's office. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7272.

A town may enter into a long term lease of lands for a public dump. 1957 Ops St Compt File #100.

A town may lease private property as a site for a town dump. While the town has no authority to agree to indemnify the lessor against tort liability, it may undertake to procure insurance to protect itself and the lessor against such contingencies. 1959 Ops St Compt File #74.

A town board is authorized to lease premises for use as a town hall where, the present hall lacks sanitary facilities, heating and lighting. However, a lease between the board and the Grange for the Grange hall was void where two members of the town board were members of the Grange. 1959 Ops St Compt File #517.

There is no prohibition against the lease, by a town, of premises for use as a town hall for a fixed term of ten years. 1965 Ops St Compt File #178.

A town may rent space in the home or other property of a town officer for use as that officer's town office. 1968 Ops St Compt File #442.

Under certain circumstances, it would be legal for the town to lease land for the construction of a post office building. 1972 Ops St Compt File #253.

A transaction whereby a not-for-profit corporation, without competitive bidding, constructs a public facility for use by a municipal corporation in the performance of its governmental functions and the municipal corporation acquires use of the facility under a lease agreement and has an option to purchase: (a) does not constitute indebtedness for purposes of the State Constitution and Local Finance Law if the lease agreement has an executory clause making the municipal corporation's obligation contingent on annual appropriations, although it is doubtful that a clause providing that, if the municipal corporation fails to appropriate money for the lease payments, the municipal corporation agrees not to purchase, lease or rent property to perform the same functions as the facility, would be enforceable; (b) constitutes a prohibited installment purchase contract if the total character of the transaction is that of a purchase rather than a lease; and (c) violates the competitive bidding requirements of General Municipal Law §§ 101, 103, if the total character of the transaction constitutes a contract for public work of the municipal corporation. 1991 Op St Compt No. 91-13.

Town board may enter into agreement for payment of reasonable rental to town officer who utilizes portion of his or her home as office in connection with performance of his or her official town duties. Town is authorized to lease office space from fire company. 1992 Op St Compt No. 92-16.

5. — —Improper

Town cannot pay rental on a building for the use thereof by the local unit of the National Guard, however a town does have authority to acquire property with any building thereon for the purpose of conveying the same to the state, with or without consideration, where the same is required for an armory, camp, range, base or any building, structure or other facility or purpose for the organized militia. 1957 Ops St Compt File #756.

A town may not lease privately-owned real property situated in another state for established of a dump. 1962 Ops St Compt #811.

A transaction whereby a not-for-profit corporation, without competitive bidding, constructs a public facility for use by a municipal corporation in the performance of its governmental functions and the municipal corporation acquires use of the facility under a lease agreement and has an option to purchase: (a) does not constitute indebtedness for purposes of the State Constitution and Local Finance Law if the lease agreement has an executory clause making the municipal corporation's obligation contingent on annual appropriations, although it is doubtful that a clause providing that, if the municipal corporation fails to appropriate money for the lease payments, the municipal corporation agrees not to purchase, lease or rent property to perform the same functions as the facility, would be enforceable; (b) constitutes a prohibited installment purchase contract if the total character of the transaction is that of a purchase rather than a lease; and (c) violates the competitive bidding requirements of General Municipal Law §§ 101, 103, if the total character of the transaction constitutes a contract for public work of the municipal corporation. 1991 Op St Compt No. 91-13.

6. —By purchase; proper

Owners' N.Y. C.P.L.R. art. 78 petition seeking to annul an authorization by a town board to purchase and remodel property to relocate the town hall was properly dismissed because, inter alia, the purchase and the remodeling of the building constituted a town purpose in context of N.Y. Const. art. VIII, § 2; further, an ordinary town purpose may have been planned and executed with reference to future needs. Matter of Potter v Town Bd. of Town of Aurora, 60 A.D.3d 1333, 875 N.Y.S.2d 414, 2009 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 2142 (N.Y. App. Div. 4th Dep't), app. dismissed, 12 N.Y.3d 882, 883 N.Y.S.2d 176, 910 N.E.2d 1006, 2009 N.Y. LEXIS 1868 (N.Y. 2009), app. denied, 13 N.Y.3d 707, 887 N.Y.S.2d 4, 915 N.E.2d 1182, 2009 N.Y. LEXIS 3820 (N.Y. 2009).

A town may purchase a gravel bed and cost thereof is general town charge and no referendum necessary. 1945 Ops St Compt 20.

Town board, on behalf of a sewer district, may acquire lands in an adjoining town and construct a disposal plant thereon. 1946 Ops St Compt 301.

A town may purchase a parcel of land for a site for a town hall and accept a quitclaim deed containing a clause providing for reverter in case the lands cease to be used for a town hall. 1953 Ops St Compt #6181.

Town of second class may purchase real property upon which is to be erected polling places. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6406.

The town may acquire land and carry liability insurance thereon, said land to be made available for the use of the general public in the conduct of baseball games, youth projects, Independence Day celebrations and other similar events. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8144.

Town cannot pay rental on a building for the use thereof by the local unit of the National Guard, however a town does have authority to acquire property with any building thereon for the purpose of conveying the same to the state, with or without consideration, where the same is required for an armory, camp, range, base or any building, structure or other facility or purpose for the organized militia. 1957 Ops St Compt File #756.

When a town needs additional space and no other practical alternative exists, it is probable that a town may purchase a vacant school building from a school district, and use only 50% of the space with the rest being leased for private purposes, if the town expects to need approximately 75% of the building within 15 to 20 years. Prior opinions are superseded to the extent they are inconsistent herewith. 1981 Op St compt File #81-155.

7. — —Improper

Town may not acquire building for town hall with restriction in the deed that a portion of the building must be maintained by the town for community hall purposes. Compliance with Art. 13 of General Municipal Law required if neighborhood recreation center is to be established. 1947 Ops St Compt 241.

In the absence of a contract under General Municipal Law, section 99-h, a town may not purchase real property to be used by private non-profit anti-poverty agencies. 1968 Ops St Compt File #693.

A town may not acquire real property for the purpose of establishing an industrial park and attracting industry to the town. A town may sell unneeded real property without attempting to obtain the highest possible price so long as the property is sold to the best advantage of the town. A deed executed by a town may contain a reversionary clause if this clause achieves a town purpose. 1969 Ops St Compt File #523.

The purchase of an option to buy a building by a town and village for the purpose of future assignment of such option to a private corporation would not be in furtherance of a proper town or village purpose and is, therefore, impermissible. 1974 Ops St Compt File #576.

8. —Joint acquisitions

A town and a village may not purchase a parcel of real property as tenants in common, for the establishment of a public dumping ground. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7616.

Village may not use proceeds of sale of bonds to defray part of cost of a project more expensive than that for which the bonds were authorized. Village and town may jointly acquire land. 1966 Ops St Compt File #683.

Town and fire district located therein may, under CLS Gen Mun Art 5-G, enter into municipal cooperation agreement to jointly acquire real property and construct building thereon for use as combined town hall and fire station; both town and fire district must comply with all statutory requirements applicable to individual undertaking and financing of such project. 1996 Op St Compt No. 96-19.

9. —Necessity of referendum

Purchase and maintenance of a public beach could only be done by the town board and then only upon approval of the qualified electors at an election. Knapp v Fasbender, 278 A.D. 970, 105 N.Y.S.2d 780, 1951 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5404 (N.Y. App. Div. 1951).

A cause of action against a town for breach of contract does not accrue for purposes of the statute of limitations until the contractor has a legal right to demand payment. Thus, where a contract for engineering services specified that payment would be deferred until bonds were sold, the promise to pay was a conditional promise to be treated as a condition precedent to the accrual of the cause of action, and summary judgment for the town was inapporpriate where the record was unclear as to whether the defendant town ever sold any bonds. Laberge v Town of Inlet, 79 A.D.2d 1070, 436 N.Y.S.2d 98, 1981 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 9996 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't), app. dismissed, 54 N.Y.2d 602, 443 N.Y.S.2d 1025, 426 N.E.2d 754, 1981 N.Y. LEXIS 4345 (N.Y. 1981).

A town may purchase a gravel bed and cost thereof is general town charge and no referendum necessary. 1945 Ops St Compt 20.

A membership corporation with leave of the Supreme Court may convey its real property to a town without consideration. The acceptance thereof by the town board is not subject to referendum. Town funds may be expended to keep such town property in repair even if it is encumbered with outstanding leases. 1947 Ops St Compt 156.

The purchase by a town of real property to be used as a town hall and recreational park is subject to permissive referendum except in the specific instances discussed below. 1967 Ops St Compt File #1034.

A school district may convey unneeded real property to a town, with or without consideration, subject to the approval of the voters of the district. 1967 Ops St Compt File #1034.

The purchase, out of surplus funds, of land to expand a town cemetery is not subject to permissive or mandatory referendum in the town. 1968 Ops St Compt File #102.

10. Appropriations and expenditures, generally

A refuse and garbage collection system may not be set up under Town Law, § 221, unless it is on a town-wide basis. A town board may appropriate funds from the general fund for a survey of the practicability and cost of a town-wide refuse collection system. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8154.

Expenditures by the Trustees of the Freeholders and Commonalty of the Town of Southampton, New York, did not have to be approved by the Town Board or the Town Comptroller; this section did not transfer control over Freeholders Trust revenue to the Town Board or otherwise render Trust funds "public funds" under N.Y. Gen. Mun. Law § 10. Gessin v Throne-Holst, 134 A.D.3d 31, 20 N.Y.S.3d 367, 2015 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6799 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 2015), app. dismissed, 26 N.Y.3d 1094, 45 N.E.3d 613, 24 N.Y.S.3d 575, 2016 N.Y. LEXIS 35 (N.Y. 2016).

Taxpayers properly asserted claims against Town Trustees for misuse and waste of public funds since the Trustees were a public governmental agency and officers of the Town which were not financially independent from the Town and the Town Board, and were in the financial position of an administrative unit of the Town. Gessin v Throne-Holst, 979 N.Y.S.2d 776, 43 Misc. 3d 517, 2014 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 518 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 2014), rev'd, in part, dismissed, 134 A.D.3d 31, 20 N.Y.S.3d 367, 2015 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6799 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 2015).

11. —Proper, generally

Where by reason of a storm gravel has accumulated in a creek crossing a town highway thereby causing the flooding of private property, general town money may be expended for the removal of such flood menace. 1946 Ops St Compt 493.

A town board in a town of the second class may establish a shade tree fund under this section or Highway Law, § 153, and expend moneys therefrom for the protection of elm trees. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6187.

Town moneys may be used to replace and repair an "Honor Roll", if it acquires title thereto. No referendum is required. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7508.

A town may pay rental for property leased for library purposes from a fund designated "mortgage payments", where such fund was actually created for the payment of rental. 1969 Ops St Compt File #584.

Town may permit elected official full-time use of town vehicle to insure his readily availability where he is subject to being called to perform official duties during other then regular hours, and further, town may enact local law superseding provisions of CLS Town Law § 27(1) to authorize full-time use of town vehicle as part of official's compensation. 1987 Op St Compt No. 87-25.

Town is authorized to adopt local law that establishes flat fee for annual subscription to copies of minutes of town board meetings and provides for mailing of copies of minutes to those who have paid fee; amount of fee must be reasonably related to town's reproduction and mailing costs, and provisions of subscription service does not obviate need to respond to individual requests, submitted under Freedom of Information Law, or copies of minutes. 1999 Op St Compt No. 99-8.

Although town is generally without authority to purchase gasoline for resale to private organizations, town may, as consideration under contract with nonprofit organization to provide bus transportation for town senior citizens, provide gasoline for bus owned by private organization and used to provide transportation services under contract, in lieu of cash consideration, as providing of gasoline would be in furtherance of proper town purpose of operating and maintaining town senior citizens program. Ops St Compt No. 89-30.

12. —Improper, generally

Town may not donate public money to American Legion Post to be expended for celebration in honor of those who served in armed forces; but town may appropriate and expend town money for observance of Armistice or Memorial Day. 1945 Ops St Compt 458.

A town board may not contribute town money to a veterans' organization for the purchase and erection of a building for such organization. 1947 Ops St Compt 124.

A town may not lease, to a boat club, town property acquired for and dedicated to park and public recreational purposes. A town may not contribute its money to a recreational program, for both youth and adults, sponsored by the local Rotary Club and operated jointly with the town. 1964 Ops St Compt File #898.

14. Band concerts

A town may not contribute to the cost of band concerts to be held outside the town. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7527.

A town may not contribute public monies to support a private symphony orchestra, but it may contract for free band concerts to the extent provided in subd. 20 of this section. 1963 Ops St Compt #37.

15. Conveyance of real property, generally

Article 78 proceeding, alleging that town's proposed sale of 88-acre parcel located in environmentally-sensitive Long Island Pine Barrens did not conform to requirements of CLS ECL Art 8, was improperly dismissed for lack of standing as (1) individual petitioners established sufficient potential injury on grounds that they were experiencing problem with rust in their drinking water and county water authority had performed tests on subject parcel to determine whether wells thereon might serve as replacement source of water, and (2) individual petitioners were members of petitioner organization and thus their standing was attributable to organization and its executive director. Long Island Pine Barrens Soc'y, Inc. v Town of Islip, 261 A.D.2d 474, 690 N.Y.S.2d 95, 1999 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4726 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1999).

Town of Islip was not required to comply with this section before leasing land under the waters of Great South Bay for planting and cultivating shellfish, since land was proprietory in nature and did not change its character because the patent was granted by the state rather than the king or a colonial governor. Bevelander v Islip, 17 Misc. 2d 819, 185 N.Y.S.2d 508, 1959 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 4221 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1959).

Conveyance by town of property designated as parkland to private developer for development of low income housing did not violate CLS Pub Hous § 150 on basis that approval of housing project was in violation of town's master plan since approval of housing project, which coincided with change in zoning classification from one-acre residential to garden apartment use, was part of well considered plan for development of community. Conveyance by town of property designated as parkland to "turnkey" private developer for development of low income housing did not render CLS Pub Hous § 124 inapplicable since CLS Pub Hous § 220 requires liberal construction to effectuate purposes of chapter. Alienation by town of property designated as parkland for use and development as low-income housing was lawful pursuant to CLS Pub Hous § 124, notwithstanding lack of approval by state legislature, since statute applied to transfer of "any" governmental property so long as requirements of statute were satisfied. Grayson v Huntington, 144 Misc. 2d 1064, 545 N.Y.S.2d 633, 1989 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 562 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1989), aff'd, 160 A.D.2d 835, 554 N.Y.S.2d 269, 1990 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4479 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1990).

Conviction of defrauding the government, N.Y. Penal Law § 195.20, was supported by sufficient evidence and was not against the weight of the evidence under circumstances in which defendant, a town supervisor, improperly acquired a right-of-way over town property, for access to his own property; among other things, even if the conveyance of the right-of-way failed to comply with the applicable procedural requirements of N.Y. Town Law § 64, such failure would, at most, have rendered the conveyance voidable. Inasmuch as there was no record evidence of any action taken to rescind the transaction, there was legally sufficient evidence to establish that defendant obtained the right-of-way. People v Haskell, 68 A.D.3d 1358, 890 N.Y.S.2d 718, 2009 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 9129 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 2009).

Real property conveyed to a town for the public use is impressed with a public trust and may not be conveyed without specific legislative authorization. 1965 Ops St Compt File #103.

A town, which is the gratuitous grantee of land from a school district, should not, under the circumstances, convey the same land to a fire district for a use not contemplated in the original conveyance. 1967 Ops St Compt File #1005.

A town has no authority to transfer town cemetery property to a corporation organized under the Religious Corporations Law. 1968 Op St Compt No. 68–333.

16. —By deed

A town which owned the waters and bed of a bay could convey filled-in land to an individual for his own private purposes, and the town could also convey to the same grantee, not only that filled-in land, but land actually under water. Riviera Ass'n v North Hempstead, 52 Misc. 2d 575, 276 N.Y.S.2d 249, 1967 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1890 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1967).

A town may sell a portion of its property to an incorporated fire company for the construction of a firehouse and subsequently lease space therein for town purposes. 1953 Op St Compt No. 53–6153.

A restriction in a deed to a town requiring the land "to be used only for a public park" renders the title inalienable and the town may not deed the land to a village for a similar or other public purpose without express legislative authority. 1964 Ops St Compt File #968.

A reversionary clause in such deed is not wholly necessary to create a condition subsequent upon breach of which the grantor may exercise a right of re-entry. The grantor may not release the public use restriction, but may waive or release the condition subsequent and his right of reentry. A town board resolution authorizing a conveyance of land creates an enforceable contract to convey, notwithstanding the absence of a deed, provided the land is not otherwise inalienable. Inalienability of public park land may be removed only by legislative enactment. 1964 Ops St Compt File #968.

A town may not acquire real property for the purpose of establishing an industrial park and attracting industry to the town. A town may sell unneeded real property without attempting to obtain the highest possible price so long as the property is sold to the best advantage of the town. A deed executed by a town may contain a reversionary clause if this clause achieves a town purpose. 1969 Ops St Compt File #523.

Town board, on its own motion without necessity of petition, may submit resolution for sale of real property to voter approval. 1996 Op St Compt No. 96-11.

17. —By lease; proper

Town board may lease available space in town garage to incorporated fire company. It may not, however, give use of such space to fire company. 1945 Ops St Compt 342.

Discussion re validity of a lease granting membership corporation privilege of occupying certain town-owned land in return for erection of a building thereon at the expense of such corporation. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7227.

A town board, subject to permissive referendum, may convey real property to a fire district for a fair and reasonable consideration. It may lease its land for the erection of a fire hall thereon but it may not permit the gratuitous use of its land for that purpose. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8018.

18. — —Improper

Master license agreement between town and private corporation (essentially homeowner's organization), using public parkland for private summer cottages, was invalid; neither CLS Town § 64 nor CLS Mun H R § 10 permit town to convert dedicated public parkland into revenue-generating enterprise by leasing public parkland to private individuals. Johnson v Town of Brookhaven, 230 A.D.2d 774, 646 N.Y.S.2d 180, 1996 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8370 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1996).

Where a town building is used for town purposes and there is no present intention to dispose of it, it is improper to lease all or part of such building to a select parents' organization for a private purpose. 1960 Ops St Compt File #613.

A town may not acquire by gift a building which is larger than the town needs and lease the unneeded portion back to the grantor unless the town reasonably anticipates that it will require and use all space in the building for town purposes within the forseeable future. 1962 Ops St Compt #94.

A town may not lease park land to a membership corporation whose aim it is to construct a swimming pool and turn back the same, fully paid for, to the town after a period of years. 1964 Ops St Compt #856.

A town may not lease, to a boat club, town property acquired for and dedicated to park and public recreational purposes. A town may not contribute its money to a recreational program, for both youth and adults, sponsored by the local Rotary Club and operated jointly with the town. 1964 Ops St Compt File #898.

A town may not allow gratuitous use of a town garage by fire district fire equipment, nor lease same for such if space therein is needed for town purposes. 1967 Ops St Compt File #233.

A portion of land acquired or developed as an historic site by a town which has received State aid for that purpose pursuant to Conservation Law, Article 1, Title VIII, cannot be leased to the Atmospheric Sciences Research Center of the New York State University of Albany. 1968 Ops St Compt File #436.

19. —Competitive bidding; private sale

Town board was entitled, at its option, to cancel public sale of land before actual delivery of deed when it learned that considerably higher price for property would be paid by another prospective buyer. Orelli v Ambro, 41 N.Y.2d 952, 394 N.Y.S.2d 636, 363 N.E.2d 360, 1977 N.Y. LEXIS 2015 (N.Y. 1977).

Town board may sell town garage which has outlived its usefulness without advertising for bids. 1946 Ops St Compt 296.

A town may sell excess soil excavated from its refuse disposal pits without competitive bidding or adopting a resolution subject to a permissive referendum. 1958 Ops St Compt File #974.

Real property owned by a town and no longer necessary for town purposes may be sold at private sale. The town may pay real estate broker's commissions on the sale of town-owned realty. 1960 Ops St Compt File #815.

A Town Board, in selling real estate no longer needed for town purposes, may hire a qualified realty appraiser to assist in determining its value and may make the sale either by sealed bidding or auction, with any public sale to be conducted by a town officer designated by the Board, and the manner and type of public notice of sale to be given is discretionary with the Board. 1962 Ops St Compt #156.

20. —Consideration, generally

A town board may convey real property to a fire district for a fair and reasonable consideration. The resolution authorizing such conveyance is subject to permissive referendum. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6673.

A town board could, subject to a permissive referendum, convey property, acquired for the purpose of erecting a town garage but no longer necessary for that purpose, to a fire district for a fair and reasonable consideration. A town may lease space in a fire house for use as a town clerk's office. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7272.

A town board, subject to permissive referendum, may convey real property to a fire district for a fair and reasonable consideration. It may lease its land for the erection of a fire hall thereon but it may not permit the gratuitous use of its land for that purpose. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8018.

A town may not convey town-owned real property to a fire district fire department or company for a consideration less than actual value. 1963 Ops St Compt #137.

Property owned by the town may be sold at private sale and the consideration may be the transfer of other real property to the town provided the property transferred to the town is an adequate consideration. The sale of the town's real property is subject to a permissive referendum. 1967 Ops St Compt File #667.

A town may not lease land to a village, for a village sewage facility, for less than a fair and adequate consideration. 1967 Ops St Compt File #755.

A town may not convey property to a private industrial firm without referendum or for less than adequate consideration. 1969 Ops St Compt File #180.

A town may not sell or lease its real property unless it is no longer required for its own purposes and is not held for public use. In those instances where a sale or lease is proper, fair and adequate consideration must be given. 1972 Ops St Compt File #24.

21. — —Nominal consideration

A town may not, for a nominal consideration, sell or lease real property to a fire district. 1960 Ops St Compt File #435.

A town may not lease town land to a private entity for a nominal consideration; where such real property has been acquired for park purposes, it may not, without specific legislative authority, lease the same under any circumstances. 1960 Ops St Compt File #545.

A town may not convey town cemetery property to a cemetery corporation organized under the Membership Corporations Law for a nominal consideration. But where the consideration for such a transfer is to be other than cash, the resolution of the town board to convey the cemetery property to a cemetery corporation is subject to a permissive referendum and should state the actual consideration for the transfer. 1968 Ops St Compt File # 999.

Neither a town nor a fire district may sell real property to the other for a nominal consideration. 1970 Ops St Compt File #47.

22. —Property not devoted to public use

Provided town has absolute fee to property deeded to it for highway with no reversionary clause in event of failure to use same for highway purpose, town may sell that portion in excess of amount necessary for highway purposes to private individual. 1947 Ops St Compt 133.

A town board could, subject to a permissive referendum, convey property, acquired for the purpose of erecting a town garage but no longer necessary for that purpose, to a fire district for a fair and reasonable consideration. A town may lease space in a fire house for use as a town clerk's office. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7272.

A town may lease real property no longer required for its own use for a term of 99 years. The resolution is subject to permissive referendum. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7423.

A town may not lease town land to a private entity for a nominal consideration; where such real property has been acquired for park purposes, it may not, without specific legislative authority, lease the same under any circumstances. 1960 Ops St Compt File #545.

Real property owned by a town and no longer necessary for town purposes may be sold at private sale. The town may pay real estate broker's commissions on the sale of town-owned realty. 1960 Ops St Compt File #815.

A Town Board may convey, for adequate consideration, property acquired for a proposed stadium but no longer suitable for that purpose or needed for any other town purpose. 1962 Ops St Compt #156.

Real property owned by a town and dedicated to public use may not be sold to the state without express authorization from the Legislature. 1963 Ops St Compt #127.

A Town Board lacks authority to lease land to an adjoining landowner, if the town needs use of such land. 1963 Ops St Compt #635.

A town may not sell or lease its real property unless it is no longer required for its own purposes and is not held for public use. In those instances where a sale or lease is proper, fair and adequate consideration must be given. 1972 Ops St Compt File #24.

A town board's general power to convey real property does not extend to the conveyance of property held for public use. 1973 Ops St Compt File #984.

23. —Referendum, generally

Subdivision (2) of this section mandatorily requires submission to the voters of a resolution for conveyance of real property in the name of the town, if a petition therefor is filed, and the Town Board cannot refuse to submit the proposition to referendum because of conduct of certain of its officers in furtherance of the conveyance or transaction. A Town Board lacks power, without ratification by referendum, to convey real property in the name of the town, and, with respect to a causeway constructed over a pond owned by the town by defendants, the Town Board is not estopped from asserting claim against defendants, in the absence of a referendum, by the fact that defendants have acted upon oral permission of certain town officials. Guilderland v Swanson, 41 Misc. 2d 398, 245 N.Y.S.2d 696, 1963 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1242 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1963).

Permissive referendum provided for in CLS Town §§ 64(2) and 90 was not required before town could convey property designated as parkland to private developer for development of low income housing since CLS Pub Hous § 124 provided that such conveyance was lawful notwithstanding any other provisions of law; latter statute was special statute which took precedence over former general statutes. Grayson v Huntington, 144 Misc. 2d 1064, 545 N.Y.S.2d 633, 1989 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 562 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1989), aff'd, 160 A.D.2d 835, 554 N.Y.S.2d 269, 1990 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4479 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1990).

A town board may convey real property to a fire district for a fair and reasonable consideration. The resolution authorizing such conveyance is subject to permissive referendum. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6673.

Property owned by the town may be sold at private sale and the consideration may be the transfer of other real property to the town provided the property transferred to the town is an adequate consideration. The sale of the town's real property is subject to a permissive referendum. 1967 Ops St Compt File #667.

A town may not convey property to a private industrial firm without referendum or for less than adequate consideration. 1969 Ops St Compt File #180.

Where a town of the second class sells a parcel of land worth less than $100 to a town justice: (1) A permissive referendum is required without regard to the value of the land; (b) The town justice would not have a prohibited interest in the transaction. 1974 Ops St Compt File #477.

Town may sell historic building under procedural requirements of CLS Gen Mun § 119-dd(4), and such sale is not subject to permissive referendum requirements of CLS Town § 64(2). 1998 Op St Compt No. 98-15.

24. — —Lease of public land

Where no referendum was held as required by subd. (2) of § 64 of this law, and there was no public hearing as required by § 198 subd. (12), legality of a lease entered into by a town with a shellfish corporation was subject to attack by a taxpayer under § 51 of the General Municipal Law without regard to time limitations under § 48 subd. (2) of the Civil Practice Act. Bevelander v Islip, 10 A.D.2d 170, 199 N.Y.S.2d 561, 1960 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 10917 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1960).

Resolution of town board authorizing sale of town real estate or resolution of town board authorizing leasing town real estate is subject to permissive referendum. 1946 Ops St Compt 120.

A town may lease real property no longer required for its own use for a term of 99 years. The resolution is subject to permissive referendum. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7423.

A town board, subject to permissive referendum, may convey real property to a fire district for a fair and reasonable consideration. Also, it may lease its land for the erection of a fire hall thereon but it may not permit the gratuitous use of its land for that purpose. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8018.

25. — —Sale of town cemetery

A town may not convey town cemetery property to a cemetery corporation organized under the Membership Corporations Law for a nominal consideration. But where the consideration for such a transfer is to be other than cash, the resolution of the town board to convey the cemetery property to a cemetery corporation is subject to a permissive referendum and should state the actual consideration for the transfer. 1968 Ops St Compt File # 999.

26. — —Sale of unneeded land

A town may sell excess soil excavated from its refuse disposal pits without competitive bidding or adopting a resolution subject to a permissive referendum. 1958 Ops St Compt File #974.

A Town Board, in selling real estate no longer needed for town purposes, may hire a qualified realty appraiser to assist in determining its value and may make the sale either by sealed bidding or auction, with any public sale to be conducted by a town officer designated by the Board, and the manner and type of public notice of sale to be given is discretionary with the Board. 1962 Ops St Compt #156.

Sale of abandoned town property is subject to permissive referendum. 1964 Ops St Compt #212.

A town may convey unneeded real property to a Board of Cooperative Educational Services for a valuable consideration upon the adoption of a resolution subject to permissive referendum. 1967 Ops St Compt File #303.

A resolution authorizing the sale of unneeded town land is subject to permissive referendum. 1967 Ops St Compt File #966.

Real property owned by a town and no longer necessary for town purposes may be conveyed to private persons for an adequate consideration, but the resolution authorizing such conveyance is subject to permissive referendum. 1975 Ops St Compt File #641.

A town may convey a parcel of land, which was dedicated to it by a subdivision developer for the purpose of road construction but was never so used, by resolution subject to a permissive referendum if the property is not needed for any other town purpose and if the town receives fair and adequate consideration. 1981 Op St Comp File #81-380.

27. — —Transfer of less than complete ownership

Town board's resolution transferring operation of landfill to town's solid waste management authority was not invalid on ground that it was adopted without permissive referendum or prior public notice and hearing as required under CLS Town §§ 62(2), 81, 90, 91, and 221, since no expenditure in connection with project was being financed by taxes levied for fiscal year in which such expenditure was to be made. Also, town board's resolution transferring operation of landfill to town's solid waste management authority was not invalid on ground, inter alia, that it was adopted without permissive referendum since Authority took nonexclusive possession of land in question as coordinate municipal body, was not obligated to pay rent, and was unable to make capital improvements or expenditures on landfill site without prior written authorization from town. New York Public Interest Research Group, Inc. v North Hempstead, 153 A.D.2d 743, 545 N.Y.S.2d 308, 1989 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 11226 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1989).

28. Depositary, generally

A town board must designate the depository for tax money. Neither the tax collector nor the supervisor may do so alone. 1959 Ops St Compt File #35.

The town supervisor determines the amounts of town moneys to be deposited in or with each bank or trust company where more than one such institution has been designated by the town board as official depositories. 1964 Ops St Compt File #606.

A town supervisor may not deposit town funds in a nondesignated depository. The town board may authorize the supervisor to temporarily invest town funds, not needed for immediate expenditure, in certificates of deposit or special time deposit accounts in banks or trust companies. Such banks or trust companies may be banks other than those designated as official depositories. 1967 Ops St Compt File #399.

29. —Interest of town official in depositary

A bank may be designated as depositary for town funds notwithstanding the fact that an officer of a town is also an officer, director or stockholder of such bank. 1947 Ops St Compt 372.

A member of a town board may be a director of a bank that is the official depository for town funds. 1959 Ops St Compt File #40.

Town funds may be deposited in a bank wherein one of the members of the town board or other town officers are interested, but a town may not borrow or engage in any other financial transactions with such bank except as provided in Local Finance Law § 60.10. 1959 Ops St Compt File #764.

A town may designate a bank as depository of town funds, where the town supervisor is an assistant cashier of such bank. 1972 Ops St Compt File #9.

Municipalities and school districts are authorized to accept surety bonds as security for deposits from their designated depositary banks but are not authorized to accept surety bonds as security for investments. 1982 St Compt File #82-222.

30. —Surety bond or other security

Town board may require depository to furnish surety bond or to deposit government bonds as security for town moneys deposited therein; town board is not required to do this. 1946 Ops St Compt 525.

A single segregation of collateral by a bank is sufficient to secure the current demand accounts of both a town receiver of taxes and assessments and the supervisor, although the accounts are in different branches of the same bank, in a case where the town has required collateral in the first instance. 1968 Ops St Compt File #967.

Town may legally invest in bonds and notes of New York State Medical Care Facilities Finance Agency; however it may not accept bonds and notes of the Agency as collateral for its deposits or investments. 1986 Op St Comp No. 86-81.

31. Easements

The conveyance of an easement over town property is subject to a permissive referendum. The acquisition of an easement by a town does not require a referendum. Where town lands do not afford sufficient area for a driveway to a town garage and adjoining landowner also lacks sufficient land for a driveway upon his property the town and the adjoining landowner may grant reciprocal easements for the purpose of creating a joint driveway upon the lands of both parties. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6958.

A town may grant an easement for the use of town property if the use of that property is not needed by the town and if fair and adequate compensation is received in exchange for such an easement. The granting of such an easement is subject to a permissive referendum. 1968 Ops St Compt File #881.

Town's proposed conveyance of a conservation easement to a not-for-profit corporation was not an illegal gift of public property to a private entity under N.Y. Const. art. VII, § 1; the town had the power, subject to referendum, to make the conveyance under N.Y. Town Law § 64(2), and the land's preservation as an undeveloped park and recreational facility was adequate consideration because it provided a clear public benefit in perpetuity. Matter of La Barbera v Town of Woodstock, 29 A.D.3d 1054, 814 N.Y.S.2d 376, 2006 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5881 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't), app. dismissed, 7 N.Y.3d 844, 823 N.Y.S.2d 773, 857 N.E.2d 68, 2006 N.Y. LEXIS 2583 (N.Y. 2006).

Town's proposed conveyance of a conservation easement to a not-for-profit corporation did not improperly bind successive town boards because the town was statutorily authorized to enter into a perpetual conservation easement with a not-for-profit organization under N.Y. Envtl. Conserv. Law § 49-035(1), (3)(a), and municipal bodies had the power to make permanent conveyances of real property under N.Y. Town Law § 64(2). Matter of La Barbera v Town of Woodstock, 29 A.D.3d 1054, 814 N.Y.S.2d 376, 2006 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5881 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't), app. dismissed, 7 N.Y.3d 844, 823 N.Y.S.2d 773, 857 N.E.2d 68, 2006 N.Y. LEXIS 2583 (N.Y. 2006).

32. Franchises, generally

Town board's resolution transferring operation of landfill to town's solid waste management authority was not invalid on ground, inter alia, that it was adopted without prior public notice and hearing since landfill agreement resulting from resolution was exempt from notice and hearing requirements of CLS Town § 64(7) by virtue of Laws of 1983, ch. 544, which expressly authorized town board to grant concession of type authorized by agreement. New York Public Interest Research Group, Inc. v North Hempstead, 153 A.D.2d 743, 545 N.Y.S.2d 308, 1989 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 11226 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1989).

Contention of public service commission, that town boards were without authority, under this section, to grant privilege to use streets and highways, is untenable. Penn-York Natural Gas Corp. v Maltbie, 299 N.Y.S. 1004, 164 Misc. 569, 1937 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1895 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1937).

There is no authority for a town to engage in business of selling television antenna service; town board may, however, grant franchise to private organization to engage in such business in the town. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7231.

The town board may not waive, in whole or in part, accrued franchise fees nor reduce such fees "nunc pro tunc" for prior years. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7361.

Granting of a franchise to a transportation corporation to place electric lines across a town road requires a public hearing, but is not an easement and is not subject to permissive referendum. 1962 Ops St Compt #566.

33. —CATV

In municipalities other than New York City, cable franchises are granted by the town board, village board of trustees, or the common council of the city, as required by N.Y. Town Law § 64(7), N.Y. Village Law § 4-412(6), N.Y. Gen. City Law §§ 20(10) and 23(2)(b), and N.Y. Second Class Cities Law § 37, respectively; in New York City, however, the City Charter requires that the New York City Franchise and Concession Review Committee (FCRC) approve franchises and explicitly bars any participation by the Council after the Council passes an authorizing resolution. Thus, the FCRC was the body with authority to approve cable franchise renewals and the New York Public Service Commission's regulation did not require or authorize the additional approval of the Council. Council of N.Y. v PSC, 99 N.Y.2d 64, 751 N.Y.S.2d 822, 781 N.E.2d 886, 2002 N.Y. LEXIS 3371 (N.Y. 2002).

A town or a village may not prescribe the rates to be charged by a television cable service company to which it grants a franchise. 1965 Ops St Compt File #531.

A town may grant a franchise to a CATV closed circuit television installation whereby such town would receive a percentage of the revenues from the operation of said installation. 1967 Ops St Compt File #800.

A town may grant a franchise for the operation of a community antenna television service by the adoption of a resolution where the franchise contains no regulatory provisions the violation of which would result in a penalty being imposed. 1969 Ops St Compt File #282.

Although a town board lacks the authority to grant an exclusive franchise to any person, firm or corporation providing cable television services, it may grant a franchise to a cable television operator for ten years. 1969 Ops St Compt File #445.

34. —Exclusive franchises

Although a town board lacks the authority to grant an exclusive franchise to any person, firm or corporation providing cable television services, it may grant a franchise to a cable television operator for ten years. 1969 Ops St Compt File #445.

A town board may not adopt an ordinance granting an exclusive license to one garbage collector to do business within the township. 1969 Ops St Compt File #791.

35. Funds; investment of

A town supervisor may not deposit town funds in a nondesignated depository. The town board may authorize the supervisor to temporarily invest town funds, not needed for immediate expenditure, in certificates of deposit or special time deposit accounts in banks or trust companies. Such banks or trust companies may be banks other than those designated as official depositories. 1967 Ops St Compt File #399.

Notwithstanding the charitable purpose for which a nonprofit corporation is organized, a town may not invest in securities issued by such corporation because the transaction would constitute an illegal investment of municipal funds and would also violate Article VIII, section 1, of the New York State Constitution. 1967 Ops St Compt File #840.

Town board manages and controls finances of town, but may authorize its chief fiscal officer or officer having custody of town monies to temporarily invest monies not needed for immediate expenditure. Ops St Compt 89-35.

36. —Petty cash fund

A band, hired to play at a dance held as part of a town recreation program, which requires payment at the end of the evening, cannot be paid from the receipts of the dance, but may be paid from a petty cash fund if one is established for the recreation commission. 1967 Ops St Compt File #756.

Fees of jurors serving in justice court cannot be paid prior to audit unless town board establishes a petty cash fund for that purpose. 1967 Ops St Compt File #774.

A town may establish petty cash funds for town officers, and heads of offices and departments. Such funds may be created for the heads of bureaus and divisions within departments. 1976 Ops St Compt File #392.

37. Gifts to town

A water district may be partially financed by gifts of money made to town for that purpose. 1947 Ops St Compt 552.

Gifts of money to a town become town moneys when accepted by the town, although they must be used for the purpose for which they were given. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6310.

Gifts of private funds may be accepted for town youth recreation projects. 1957 Ops St Compt File #57-330.

A legacy bequeathed to a town board in trust, to construct and thereafter maintain a town hall, does not in reality constitute a trust, but rather an absolute gift, and the town board must treat the residue of such building fund in the same manner as other town funds, subject to the testamentary limitation on its use, and may not deposit same in a savings and loan association. 1964 Ops St Compt File #1005.

Gifts devised or bequeathed to a town "in trust" do not constitute a true trust and are in reality, municipal funds. However, they may be used only for the purposes for which they were given. They must be invested as municipal funds pursuant to the statutes applicable thereto. 1967 Op St Compt No. 67–217.

CLS Town L § 64(a), which empowers town to accept gifts of real and personal property for any public use, is sufficiently broad to allow town to accept, on behalf of town sewer district, dedication of privately owned sewerlines within boundaries of district. 1986 Op St Compt No. 86-52.

38. —Conditional gifts

Gifts under subdivision 8 of this section may be made to a town upon terms and conditions but the use thereof must be public. Town board's power to extend park districts could not be abrogated by covenants or conditions contained in a dedication deed by a property association to the town restricting use of donated park property to property owners and residents of the association and park district at the time of the dedication. Atlantic Beach Property Owners' Ass'n v Hempstead, 3 N.Y.2d 434, 165 N.Y.S.2d 737, 144 N.E.2d 409, 1957 N.Y. LEXIS 903 (N.Y.), reh'g denied, 3 N.Y.2d 942, 1957 N.Y. LEXIS 1528 (N.Y. 1957).

A town may not accept a gift of land on the condition that it will waive permit fees required by a town ordinance. 1958 Ops St Compt File #992.

A town board, acting on behalf of a sewer district may not accept a gift of water to facilitate the treatment of sewage upon the condition that the sewer district never be extended (Town L Articles 12, 12-A) or upon the condition that disposal plant operations be limited to sewage originating within the original district (Town L § 64, subd 8). However, the board could accept such a gift where the term thereof was limited to so long as a disposal plant should remain in operation or for so long as such plant did not treat outside sewage (Town L §§ 198, subd 1, 202, subd 5). 1959 Ops St Compt File #18.

A town may not accept as a gift an incinerator plant to be erected on town property upon condition that the town give exclusive garbage pickup and salvage rights to the donor. 1961 Ops St Compt #408.

A town may accept a gift of real property consisting of waterfront beaches and containing restrictive covenants limiting use thereof to residents of the town and their guests. 1962 Ops St Compt #743.

39. Historic places

A town may not, by local law or otherwise, authorize the purchase of buildings and sites of historic value within the town, renovate them, and then either sell or rent them to parties who agree to the designation of such buildings and sites as historic places. 1974 Ops St Compt File #979.

40. Indemnity insurance

The town board of a town may insure against the liability imposed by section 207-a of the General Municipal Law arising from injuries to paid town firemen. 1947 Ops St Compt 358.

Cost of liability insurance for highway defects should be paid from General Fund. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6391.

The town may acquire land and carry liability insurance thereon, said land to be made available for the use of the general public in the conduct of baseball games, youth projects, Independence Day celebrations and other similar events. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8144.

A town may lease private property as a site for a town dump. While the town has no authority to agree to indemnify the lessor against tort liability, it may undertake to procure insurance to protect itself and the lessor against such contingencies. 1959 Ops St Compt File #74.

A town lacks authority to procure and pay for blanket liability and collision insurance covering fire trucks located in fire districts within the town, in behalf of such districts, and to charge the cost back to the fire district. 1961 Ops St Compt #200.

A town may not purchase liability insurance to cover officers or employees from liability for libel, slander, false arrest or false imprisonment. 1968 Ops St Compt File #2.

41. Lighting of highways and bridges

The cost of lights installed upon a highway located in a lighting district by the town board as a general town charge may be paid from general town funds. 1946 Ops St Compt 274.

A town may erect a light on a public road, paying the installation cost, and enter into an agreement with a private religious corporation, benefited thereby, to pay the electricity charges, but there is no authority for the town to place the religious corporation on the lighting district tax roll for cost of the light. 1961 Ops St Compt File #295.

A town may install safety lights in a lighting district at expense of the whole town. 1962 Ops St Compt #557.

Where certain lighting is to be installed by the town to light a portion of highway, an agreement may be entered into by the town and a school district for jointly lighting the highway and the exterior of the school building. 1968 Ops St Compt File #742.

A town may provide lighting for State highway bridges in any part of the town, including villages. 1973 Ops St Compt File #721.

42. Management, custody and control of town property, generally

In town's action to permanently enjoin private riparian owner from dredging public underwater lands, court improperly held that riparian owner had right to dredge for commercial purposes to extent reasonably necessary to maintain same access to navigability as it originally attained by "wharfing out"; issue was not whether riparian owner was entitled to preserve its original level of access, but whether dredging was necessary to assure reasonable access. Town of Oyster Bay v Commander Oil Corp., 96 N.Y.2d 566, 734 N.Y.S.2d 108, 759 N.E.2d 1233, 2001 N.Y. LEXIS 3265 (N.Y. 2001).

Because no property was conveyed or leased, and the neighbor affirmed that she had no ownership interest in the parcel, the owners failed to state a cause of action alleging a violation of N.Y. Town Law § 64(2) based on the neighbor's allegedly improperly use of the town's real estate parcel. Aiardo v Town of E. Greenbush, 64 A.D.3d 849, 881 N.Y.S.2d 698, 2009 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5333 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 2009).

Two towns may erect a memorial building. 1945 Ops St Compt 433.

Machinery may be purchased by town for purposes of this subdivision. 1946 Ops St Compt 199.

43. —Abandoned or unclaimed property

Surplus, obsolete town office machinery which remained unsold after the town conducted a public sale and which has no appreciable market value may be discarded, destroyed or donated to not-for-profit organizations. 1982 St Compt File #82-232.

44. —Gifts, generally

A municipality may make a gift of real property to another municipality, in the absence of other legal impediments to the transfer. 1964 Ops St Compt File #968.

A town may make a gift of used, unneeded and obsolete voting machines to a student organization, where they have no market value. 1972 Ops St Compt File #69.

A town may accept a gift of a copyright on a literary work where it is determined that the acceptance of such gift will have some value to the town. 1976 Ops St Compt File #586.

Town may not make gratuitous payment to private individuals who voluntarily assist town in coordinating volunteers from not-for-profit organizations in providing services in connection with town's recycling program; however, town may (in accordance with applicable procurement procedures) contract with individuals for provision of such coordination services in connection with operation of town's recycling center and pay individuals consideration for such services pursuant to contract. 2002 Op St Compt No. 02-9.

45. — —Gratuitous use

Town board may lease available space in town garage to incorporated fire company. It may not, however, give use of such space to fire company. 1945 Ops St Compt 342.

Town may sell or lease town garage to fire district. It may not give use of town garage to fire district. 1946 Ops St Compt 286.

A town board, subject to permissive referendum, may convey real property to a fire district for a fair and reasonable consideration. It may lease its land for the erection of a fire hall thereon but it may not permit the gratuitous use of its land for that purpose. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8018.

A town may permit the gratuitous use of a portion of town property, under circumstances not amounting to a lease, by a department of the State of New York. 1964 Ops St Compt File #864.

A town may not permit the gratuitous use of space in the town hall for the maintenance of county offices. 1965 Ops St Compt File #431.

A town may not allow gratuitous use of a town garage by fire district fire equipment, nor lease same for such if space therein is needed for town purposes. 1967 Ops St Compt File #233.

While a town or village may not provide its gasoline for use by volunteer firemen in their private cars, such municipality may assist volunteer firemen by providing a place to store the volunteer firemen's emergency allocation of gasoline. 1974 Ops St Compt File #181.

46. —Highway equipment

Town board may accept gift of money to be used for construction of a sewer system. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6038.

Town superintendent of highways may dispose of fill which has no value upon private property with the consent of the owner. However, if the material has market value, it should be disposed of in the manner most advantageous to the town. 1960 Ops St Compt File #11.

A town board may not impose a covenant on certain previously acquired town properties whereby the town board agrees not to utilize such land for highway purposes. 1975 Ops St Compt File #554.

Town board has authority to make inquiry into allegations of misuse of town highway equipment, and following such inquiry, where appropriate, town board may recommend to highway superintendent that disciplinary action be taken against highway department employees and that superintendent reconsider his appointment of deputy superintendent. Ops St Compt No. 89-34.

47. —Licenses and concessions

A town board may grant a license for a definite period for the use of portions of the park property by concessionaires. Concession may be granted only after a public hearing held pursuant to this section. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6853.

A town may grant a license or concession to a corporation to operate skeet, trap and rifle facilities in a town park. 1967 Ops St Compt File #306.

A town may grant a license or concession to a private person to conduct tennis lessons in a town park for which fees will be charged. 1967 Ops St Compt File #478.

A town may not lease a building on park property to a private person for the operation of a restaurant therein, but may grant a revocable license for that purpose. 1967 Ops St Compt File #492.

48. —Town dump

Although a town may contract with a private individual for use of his lands as a town dumping ground for a fixed sum per year, and such land lies without the town and county, the town may not permit non-residents to use such dumping ground. 1963 Ops St Compt #573.

Establishment of a town dump is subject to approval by referendum unless the land has been purchased for such purpose and is financed pursuant to the Local Finance Law. 1964 Ops St Compt #835.

A town board may assign to the town superintendent the duties of supervising the maintenance of the town dump without providing additional compensation therefor. 1971 Ops St Compt File #1011.

49. —Town hall

Town may construct a town hall and may establish a capital reserve fund in connection with the financing thereof. 1965 Ops St Compt File #88.

A town may not construct or acquire a building for town hall purposes, which is larger than needed in the foreseeable future, for the purpose of renting portions thereof to private individuals or organizations. 1967 Ops St Compt File #867.

No State aid or low interest loans are available for the construction of a new town hall. 1968 Ops St Compt File #108.

A town may not construct a building to be used as a town hall larger than it will need in the foreseeable future for the sole purpose of providing space and facilities for a free library association. 1969 Ops St Compt File #985.

50. —Town offices, generally

A receiver of taxes and assessments is without authority to use town building without consent of town board. Such receiver of taxes and assessments may, with authorization of the town board, lease office space. No authority to charge receiver of taxes office rent for use of office space in town buildings. 1946 Ops St Compt 672.

Except as to receivers of and collectors of taxes, no office hours are prescribed for town officers. It would appear that the town board may authorize the closing of town offices on Saturday during the summer months. 1947 Ops St Compt 168.

While a town may lease space in a privately-owned office building for certain town offices, it may not spend town money to remodel or alter the leased space so as to provide separate offices for certain officials. 1962 Ops St Compt #264.

A justice of the peace may not share in the use of the office facilities of another town officer unless authorized by the town board. 1968 Ops St Compt File #15.

Neither the construction of, nor the acquisition of the land for, a building to house the town police department may be considered as a part-town expense, although the village in that town is exempt from taxation for the maintenance and operation of a town police department. 1968 Ops St Compt File #781.

A town may maintain and plow snow from the driveway of the town clerk's home where the clerk's office is in her home and the driveway is necessary for access to the office. 1968 Ops St Compt File #1049.

A town may not include space within a proposed town building for the purpose of leasing such space to the U.S. Postal Service upon the completion of the building. 1972 Ops St Compt File #253.

A town may not erect a building on town park lands where a portion of such building would be used for municipal purposes such as town offices and the town hall. 1975 Ops St Compt File #877.

51. — —Location

A town board may not compel town officer or official to use rooms provided by town board, but may compel town records and other property to be kept in a place designated by town board. 1945 Ops St Compt 470.

The Town Board of a town of the first class may designate location of the office of receiver of taxes and assessments. 1961 Ops St Compt #814.

If the town board so determines, the office of the town clerk may be located in a building where intoxicants are licensed to be sold. 1969 Ops St Compt File #818.

52. —Town park, generally

Town may not make payments in lieu of taxes to village for services rendered to town park located in village. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6771.

The town board on its own motion may submit to referendum a resolution for the issuance of bonds maturing in more than five years. In the referendum, paper ballots may be used. No person shall be entitled to vote unless he is an elector of the town and the owner of property assessed upon the last preceding town assessment roll. An elector of the town need not necessarily be a registered or enrolled voter. A public park so established shall be administered by the town board. Town board may accept gift for park purposes, absolutely or in trust. Town board may establish capital reserve fund to finance cost of park. If the land to be acquired is less than fifty acres, a down payment from current funds will be necessary, since the term of the proposed bonds exceeds five years. 1966 Ops St Compt File #938.

A town may not rent the use of park property, including a pavilion with restaurant facilities, to private persons or groups for bakes and other outdoor recreational purposes. 1968 Ops St Compt File #409.

Decision as to location of town clerk's office and accompanying town public records is for determination by the town board. Proposed receptacle of town public records is subject to inspection and approval by the Division of Archives and History of the Department of Education. 1968 Ops St Compt File #1000.

However, it may permit such organization to use park property, provided such use is not to the exclusion of the public, but such use may not involve on-premises advertising. 1969 Ops St Compt File #493.

Persons may be prosecuted for entry upon town park lands during hours when they are closed to the public, either by the adoption of an ordinance with an appropriate penalty clause, or pursuant to certain sections of the Penal Law. 1969 Ops St Compt File #539.

Where a town has constructed a park in a village which is situate within the boundaries of the town: (1) Village traffic regulations may not be enforced within the confines of the town park; (2) The village may not restrict hours of use of the town park, except in the exercise of its police powers; (3) The village police department must provide police protection within the confines of the park; (4) Except for necessary police power regulations, the village may not restrict the use of the town park; (5) The village is not responsible for liability insurance coverage on park property; (6) The village may not install parking meters on roadways within the park. 1976 Ops St Compt File #6.

53. — —Playground; recreational facility

Resolution of town board, which barred use of town airport by sport parachuting organization until it obtained liability insurance naming town as additional insured, was not preempted by Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) requirement that airport be made available to all aeronautical users, including parachutists, on nondiscriminatory basis, since FAA also explicitly permitted municipal proprietors of airports to impose reasonable limitations on parachute jumping, including liability insurance. Malone Parachute Club v Town of Malone, 197 A.D.2d 120, 610 N.Y.S.2d 686, 1994 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4134 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1994).

A municipality operating a playground or recreational program is liable for the negligence of its officers, agents and employees. 1957 Ops St Compt File #57-330.

The establishment of skeet, trap and rifle shooting facilities in a town park and recreational area is a proper recreational use. 1967 Ops St Compt File #306.

A town may not establish a special rate for the use of its golf facilities by clergymen and policemen. 1967 Ops St Compt File #902.

Without specific legislative authority, a town may not sell or lease park property to a little-league organization. 1969 Ops St Compt File #493.

54. —Townline road

Failure of towns to maintain townline road which is sole means of access to certain real property does not relieve the owner of such property of his obligation to pay real property taxes thereon, and the property owner can acquire no personal rights in town line road by maintaining the road by himself. 1968 Ops St Compt File #1022.

55. Medical matters; facilities and services

A town may discontinue operation of a town general hospital. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7505.

The cost of providing visiting nurse services pursuant to subd. 19-a is a general town charge. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7619.

A town which does not have a licensed physician practicing therein may establish the office of town physician and secure a qualified incumbent, but prior authorization from the Legislature is necessary before the town can construct a medical building or clinic. 1964 Ops St Compt #181.

Two adjacent towns may agree to join in the operation of a medical center already established in a third adjoining town but such an agreement must provide for actual joint operation and control and not merely a contribution of funds. 1968 Ops St Compt File #57.

56. —Town physician

On application to continue injunction restraining town board from paying salary for services of town physician, it appears that board, pursuant to former § 141-b, established office of town physician, and that physician so appointed established residence within town and has since continued to reside and practice his profession there. Since statute authorizes appointment of town physician only when no resident physician lives within town, appointment of another physician to office was invalid and injunction should be continued. Edwards v Lake Pleasant, 242 N.Y.S. 635, 137 Misc. 78, 1930 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1338 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.), aff'd, 231 A.D. 770, 247 N.Y.S. 354 (N.Y. App. Div. 1930).

Subdivision 21 of this section does not authorize the joint employment of a physician by a town and a village. 1960 Ops St Compt File #939.

A town which does not have a licensed physician practicing therein may establish the office of town physician and secure a qualified incumbent, but prior authorization from the Legislature is necessary before the town can construct a medical building or clinic. 1964 Ops St Compt #181.

A town may engage the services of an employment agency to obtain a doctor for its residents. 1974 Ops St Compt File #39.

57. Official newspapers, generally

Subdivision 11 of this section is permissive and not mandatory. Cowan v Burns, 110 N.Y.S.2d 671, 1952 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 3004 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1952).

Only one newspaper may be designated as the official newspaper of a town. Where an official newspaper has been designated in a town, particular sections of the Town Law requiring publication in the official paper can be satisfied only by publication in the paper so designated. However, where a particular section does not specify publication in the official paper, the newspaper designated for such publication need only comply with the requirement specified in such section. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6717.

Where there is no newspaper which can qualify for the publication of official notices of a town, the town board may adopt a local law providing alternative qualifications for designation. 1968 Ops St Compt File #242.

Minor irregularities in the schedule of publication does not disqualify a newspaper from being designated the town official newspaper. Where a newspaper meets the requirements for the official newspaper, it must be utilized over non-eligible newspapers for publication of notices required to be published in the town official newspaper, even though it has not been so designated. 1968 Ops St Compt File #868.

A town board resolution designating an official town paper continues in full force and effect until it is repealed. 1969 Ops St Compt File #268.

Free distribution of a newspaper to boost subscriptions and newsstand sales does not disqualify it from designation as an official town newspaper or from designation as a newspaper for the publication of fire district notices. 1972 Ops St Compt File #340.

Town board is not required to designate official newspaper, but if it elects to do so board must follow order of selection in CLS Town § 64(11). 1992 Op St Compt No. 92-24.

58. —Location outside of town

If a town board elects to designate an official newspaper in a town in which no paper is published, first choice must be given to a newspaper published in the county and having general circulation in the town before looking to a paper published in a county which adjoins the town. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7126.

While a newspaper published in the town need not be designated as its official newspaper, despite the fact that it is the only newspaper published in the town and is eligible for such designation, if the designation is not made to that newspaper it may not be made to another published elsewhere and notices required by law to be published in the "official newspaper" can only be published in the local paper. 1962 Ops St Compt #693.

A town board may designate as the town's official newspaper, a paper published in a city or village in an adjoining county and having a circulation in the town, under certain circumstances. 1973 Ops St Compt File #742.

59. —"Newspaper" defined

A town without a newspaper cannot designate a so-called "throw-away" or "pennysaver", reputedly mailed to every resident, as the official newspaper for the publication of town notices. 1968 Ops St Compt File #30.

Publication must be "newspaper" as defined in CLS Gen Const § 60 and must satisfy conditions precedent set forth in CLS Pub O § 70-a before it can be designated as "official newspaper" of town pursuant to CLS Town § 64(11); place of publication of newspaper is question of fact. 1988 Op St Compt No 88-28.

Publication which does not satisfy threshold requirements of CLS Gen Const § 60 and CLS Pub O § 70-a, because it is mailed as third class matter and does not have paid subscription, may not be designated as official newspaper. 1992 Op St Compt No. 92-24.

60. —"Published" defined

Newspaper is "published" in a town for purposes of this section where it is entered as second class mail matter in the town, has its address there, and is sold and distributed in the town in the first instance even though it is printed outside the town. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6564.

61. —Use of other than official newspaper

Only one newspaper may be designated as the official newspaper of a town. Where an official newspaper has been designated in a town, particular sections of the Town Law requiring publication in the official paper can be satisfied only by publication in the paper so designated. However, where a particular section does not specify publication in the official paper, the newspaper designated for such publication need only comply with the requirement specified in such section. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6717.

Where a particular section of the Town Law does not specify publication in the official newspaper, publication need only comply with the requirements of such section. Where no official paper has been designated, notices required to be published in the official newspaper must be published in a paper which could be so designated. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7517.

A town is not restricted to the use of its official newspaper in publishing all public notices; however, the town may not pay for such advertisements unless placed in a newspaper published in the town for one year and entered in the post office as second class matter. 1968 Ops St Compt File #306.

Minor irregularities in the schedule of publication does not disqualify a newspaper from being designated the town official newspaper. Where a newspaper meets the requirements for the official newspaper, it must be utilized over noneligible newspapers for publication of notices required to be published in the town official newspaper, even though it has not been so designated. 1968 Ops St Compt File #868.

Failure to publish ordinance in newspaper located in county and having circulation in town under the requirement of Town L § 133, before designating a newspaper which does not meet the statutory requirement except as a lower priority under § 64, subd 11 of the Town Law renders an ordinance invalid even though such ordinance was published in a newspaper of an adjoining county having some circulation in the town and which has been designated as the official newspaper. Almond v Penfold, 58 Misc. 2d 780, 296 N.Y.S.2d 619, 1969 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1824 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1969).

Report of supervisor pursuant to § 29, subd. 10 and § 286 of the Highway Law may not be condensed for publication. Such reports may be combined. The annual report of supervisor pursuant to § 29 subd. 10 of Town Law must be published in official paper. By resolution such report may also be published in a county other than the county in which the town is located. 1945 Ops St Compt 252.

Notice of hearing for the establishment of a lighting district should be republished in the official town newspaper when its initial publication was not so published. 1963 Ops St Compt #113.

Advertising and publishing fees for legal notices may be a town-wide or part-town charge, depending upon the nature of the publication. 1967 Ops St Compt File #838.

A notice of a resolution calling for the sale of town realty must be published in the official paper of the town. 1967 Ops St Compt File #962.

63. Patriotic holidays, generally

Town board may annually appropriate $200 for observance of Memorial or Armistice Day. 1945 Ops St Compt 456.

Town may not donate public money to American Legion Post to be expended for celebration in honor of those who served in armed forces; but town may appropriate and expend town money for observance of Armistice or Memorial Day. 1945 Ops St Compt 458.

In a town of the first class or in a town having 5,000 or more inhabitants, as described in subdivision 12 of section 64 of the Town Law, two separate appropriations of $200 each may not be made by the town board for the observance of Memorial and Armistice Days. 1946 Ops St Compt 62.

Where there are three American Legion Posts in a town, lump sum payments may not be made by a supervisor to each of such posts of the proportion allocated of the sum appropriated for the observance of Memorial Day. 1946 Ops St Compt 93.

The $200 limitation for appropriations for Memorial Day and Armistice Day may be increased, subject to permissive referendum, to an amount not to exceed ¼ of one mill on each dollar of assessed valuation of the town as shown by the latest assessment roll. 1946 Ops St Compt 188.

In a town of the second class the amount appropriated for the proper observance of Memorial Day may be paid by the supervisor for several veterans' organizations within the town on the concurrent resolution of the post commissioners and quartermasters to allocate the proportion of the sum appropriated over which each post is to supervise the expenditures. 1946 Ops St Compt 371.

The item for Memorial Day observance and Armistice Day observance may be increased to the maximum amount set out in section 64, subd. 12, from the contingent fund, from surplus moneys and from unexpended balances. 1947 Ops St Compt 76.

Where town failed to provide in its budget for Memorial Day observance, contingent funds may be used therefor. American Legion post conducting such observance may pay necessary expenses in first instance and be reimbursed by town upon presentation of vouchers. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6099.

The limitation imposed by subdivisions 12 and 13 of this section is on the amount of the appropriation, not the amount actually paid out during a year. Claim incurred in 1954 may be paid in 1955 with moneys in an unexpended balance of an appropriation from which the claim originally could have been paid, where such balance has not been reappropriated or otherwise committed by the town board. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7068.

Where a town appropriates funds to defray expense of observance of certain holidays by veterans' organizations, the funds should be allocated among the various posts by concurrent determination. The board may appropriate not more than $200 for each post located within the town, but funds so appropriated must be used solely for rental and maintenance costs. 1960 Ops St Compt File #476.

A town supervisor may pay a claim submitted by a veterans' post for reimbursement of expenses for patriotic observance, if the Town Board has made an appropriation therefor. 1962 Ops St Compt #317.

Where a veterans' organization located in a town moves to an adjoining town, the town from which it moved may, if no other veterans' organization is located in the town, appropriate funds for the organization, up to $500 annually, for the celebration of certain holidays if at least three residents of the town belong to the organization. The town may also appropriate up to $50 annually for the organization for the cost of rent and maintenance of its meeting hall if at least five town residents are members of the post. 1981 Op St Comp File #81-399.

64. —Lodging for members of patriotic organizations

Where sum of $75 is placed in annual town budget to be expended toward rent of rooms for American Legion Post located in town, town may not pay $150 for such purpose unless additional moneys are legally transferred and appropriated to such item. 1946 Ops St Compt 119.

Rental for rooms of Marine Corps League may be provided from contingent or surplus funds or by budget note, when no item in budget. 1946 Ops St Compt 200.

A town may, in its discretion, appropriate moneys to maintain meeting room for American Legion Post. 1947 Ops St Compt 137.

Town is authorized to appropriate and pay $200 toward cost of rental or maintenance of rooms by American Legion Post when a holding corporation of the legion is owner and to which holding corporation post pays rental for such rooms. 1947 Ops St Compt 334.

The town board, in its discretion, may appropriate funds for the maintenance of American Legion meeting rooms where such rooms are owned by the post through a holding company. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6831.

The limitation imposed by subdivisions 12 and 13 of this section is on the amount of the appropriation, not the amount actually paid out during a year. Claim incurred in 1954 may be paid in 1955 with moneys in an unexpended balance of an appropriation from which the claim originally could have been paid, where such balance has not been reappropriated or otherwise committed by the town board. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7068.

An American Legion post which has had its charter revoked is not eligible to receive the monetary allowance authorized for patriotic organizations. 1969 Ops St Compt File #329.

65. Postings additional to signboards

Statutory requirements of notice by publication and posting for the submission of propositions are mandatory, and actual notice or substantial equivalents will not be acceptable as a substitute unless there has been in fact some posting and publication to satisfy the statute, while statutory requirements to make elections effective, convenient, or more efficient are generally treated as directory only, with respect to which substantive equivalences will be acceptable. Vote approving proposition to change town board from a body elected at large into one of representatives elected by districts was nullified on basis of improper submission where there was no attempt of any kind at posting or publication of proposition as required by Town Law § 82, and Town Law § 64, subd 14-a, despite widespread publicity of the proposition. Fact that special proceeding pursuant to Election Law § 330 could not be used to set aside vote on proposition did not deprive court of jurisdiction to nullify vote on proposition which failed to comply with posting or publication requirements of Town Law § 82, and § 64, subd 14-a, where lower court opinion had recited that action to determine validity of submission was consolidated into an action for declaratory judgment. D'Addario v McNab, 32 N.Y.2d 84, 343 N.Y.S.2d 124, 295 N.E.2d 792, 1973 N.Y. LEXIS 1403 (N.Y. 1973).

66. Publicity, generally

A town board of a town of the second class may by resolution establish a publicity fund and appropriate $500 annually for the purposes thereof subject to permissive referendum. 1947 Ops St Compt 457.

Town board by resolution may establish publicity fund and appropriate up to $3,000 annually therefor, and annual appropriation may be increased to amount of not more than $10,000 by resolution subject to permissive referendum, and to amount in excess of $10,000 by resolution subject to mandatory referendum; towns may expend publicity fund moneys for purpose of contracting with local chamber of commerce for publicity services. 1992 Op St Compt No. 92-33.

67. —Payments for publicity, generally

Under subdivision 14 of this section a town has statutory powers to use a publicity fund for the benefit of the town at large by erecting a sign at a fork in a highway advising travelers that motels and restaurants are to be found on the road leading through the town. Bischoff v East Hampton, 47 Misc. 2d 615, 263 N.Y.S.2d 61, 1965 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1526 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1965).

A town may not contribute moneys from its publicity fund to a local chamber of commerce. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7614.

A town may disburse from its publicity fund the necessary and legitimate expenses to urge the United States Golf Association to designate the town as a place for holding a National Public Links Tournament. However, Article VIII § 1 of the New York State Constitution would make it an improper and illegal use of a town's publicity fund to pay the expenses of the United States Golf Association while a golf tournament is in progress. 1959 Ops St Compt File #691.

A town may not contribute money from its publicity fund to help pay the publicity expenses of a volunteer fire department's field days. 1960 Ops St Compt File #339.

A town may expend moneys from its publicity fund for the purpose of securing the designation of the town as the place for an association's annual meeting. 1960 Ops St Compt File #680.

A town may not purchase advertising in a volunteer fire company's program for a fire association convention where the town has already been designated as the site of the convention. 1968 Ops St Compt File #927.

Contract for publicity and promotional services involving development and implementation of marketing strategies would fall within professional services exception to competitive bidding; such services, however, must be procured in accordance with municipality's procurement polices and procedures. 1992 Op St Compt No. 92-33.

Town on behalf of park district established by L 1928 h 477, as amended, may expend up to $50,000 annually for park district promotional purposes, and no referendum under CLS Town § 64(14)(a) is required; further, town may not adopt local law increasing maximum amount that may be expended on behalf of park district for purposes of promoting district. 1992 Op St Compt No. 92-33.

68. — —For Christmas decorations

Publicity fund moneys may be used for Christmas decoration of streets in a business area of the town. 1953 Ops St Compt #6474.

A town may appropriate public moneys to defray the cost of Christmas decorations on streets in a business area of the town as a publicity fund purpose. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6952.

A town lacks authority to donate funds to a village for the celebration of its sesquicentennial. However, where a town has established a publicity fund such fund may be expended for town activities commemorative of a village sesquicentennial. 1958 Ops St Compt File #917.

Subdivision (14) of this section prohibits a town from giving away to the county historical observation committee. However, the town may appropriate funds for town activities in a celebration of New York's Year of History. The town board is not prohibited from being guided by the suggestions of the county historical observance committee as to the precise purposes for which such appropriations may be expended. 1959 Ops St Compt File #662.

A town board may pay all or part of the cost of Christmas tree decorations to be used on streets of an incorporated village within the township, pursuant to § 64(14) of the Town Law. 1960 Ops St Compt File #342.

69. — —For historical celebrations

A town and a village within the town may expend funds jointly to celebrate an historical commemoration. Control of municipal funds appropriated for an historical commemoration may not be turned over to private citizens for administering the program. 1969 Ops St Compt File #1023.

70. Street names, numbers and signs

A town may purchase street signs involving an expenditure of $5,500 without advertising for or receiving bids. 1947 Ops St Compt 513.

There is no requirement in law that individual home owners or addressees be notified of a change in the numbering system used on certain streets in the town. The town board may cause a brief notice of any such change to be published in the official newspaper. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7562.

When a street name change is made pursuant to section 64(9) of the Town Law, the town clerk is required to send only a notice of such fact to the county clerk. The county clerk is required to file such notice but may not charge a fee for doing so. 1969 Ops St Compt File #428.

71. Town contracts, generally

Creation of an obligation against a town, by way of contract, cannot be founded upon omission of action by the town officials, but must be the result of an affirmative determination to create the obligation in the form and manner provided by statute. New York Tel. Co. v North Hempstead, 41 N.Y.2d 691, 395 N.Y.S.2d 143, 363 N.E.2d 694, 1977 N.Y. LEXIS 2018 (N.Y. 1977), abrogated, Corsello v Verizon N.Y., Inc., 18 N.Y.3d 777, 944 N.Y.S.2d 732, 967 N.E.2d 1177, 2012 N.Y. LEXIS 583 (N.Y. 2012).

Where legislature provides that valid contracts may be made only by specified officers or boards and in specified manner, no implied contract to pay for benefits furnished by person under an agreement which is invalid, because it fails to comply with statutory restrictions and inhibitions can create an obligation or liability of the city. New York Tel. Co. v North Hempstead, 41 N.Y.2d 691, 395 N.Y.S.2d 143, 363 N.E.2d 694, 1977 N.Y. LEXIS 2018 (N.Y. 1977), abrogated, Corsello v Verizon N.Y., Inc., 18 N.Y.3d 777, 944 N.Y.S.2d 732, 967 N.E.2d 1177, 2012 N.Y. LEXIS 583 (N.Y. 2012).

Unsuccessful bidder on town contract for provision of garbage and recyclable services could not defeat contract on basis that contract term of 5 years exceeded 2-year term of town board, and violated principle that town board could not bind hands of its successors, since (1) contract provided that it was for no more than 5 years unless otherwise terminated and that town could terminate contract on 30 days' notice if deemed in best interest of town, and (2) parties to contract agreed that provision gave town authority to terminate contract at any time. Ramapo Carting Corp. v Reisman, 192 A.D.2d 922, 596 N.Y.S.2d 602, 1993 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4023 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1993).

Compliance with subdivision 6 of this section is generally a condition precedent to a valid town contract. Soundview Woods, Inc. v Mamaroneck, 14 Misc. 2d 866, 178 N.Y.S.2d 800, 1958 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2771 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1958), aff'd, 9 A.D.2d 789, 193 N.Y.S.2d 1021, 1959 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5904 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1959).

Defendant's summary judgment motion as to a town's legal malpractice action was denied, because there was a triable issue of fact as to whether defendant committed malpractice by failing to raise a defense in an underlying action that a consent order was invalid because the town board had not approved the order as required by N.Y. Town Law § 64(6). Town of N. Hempstead v Winston & Strawn LLP, 234 N.Y.L.J. 115, 2005 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 3553 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. Dec. 15, 2005), rev'd, 28 A.D.3d 746, 814 N.Y.S.2d 237, 2006 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4759 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 2006).

Plaintiff's amended complaint failed to state a claim on which relief could be granted for breach of contract or equitable relief because it failed to allege plausibly that a subsequent amendment to a concession agreement (SACA), of which plaintiff claimed to be a third-party beneficiary, was approved by the Town Board through a resolution as required by this statute, and hence did not plausibly allege the existence of a valid and enforceable contract. PHL Variable Ins. Co. v Town of Oyster Bay, 929 F.3d 79, 2019 U.S. App. LEXIS 20263 (2d Cir. N.Y. 2019).

Plaintiffs did not have an actionable claim against a town for an alleged breach of contract because plaintiffs could not show the existence of a written contract with the town. Merrick Gables Ass'n v Town of Hempstead, 691 F. Supp. 2d 355, 2010 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 21469 (E.D.N.Y. 2010).

A contract for library services may exceed one year. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8024.

A town may enter into a contract with a local chamber of commerce to furnish publicity services for the town, but the contract must be in writing, detail services to be rendered, provide reasonable compensation therefor, and no part of such consideration may be based on any form of aid or assistance to a commercial or industrial enterprise as an inducement to locate in the area. 1962 Ops St Compt #210.

A town may contract with a local development corporation for preparation and distribution of brochures pertaining to industrial development in the town. 1964 Ops St Compt #289.

A town cannot contract with a cultural group, operating within the town, for publicity services. 1967 Ops St Compt File #659.

The awarding of a contract by a town board is an improper act where the services of a professional engineer or land survey or are not employed in the preparation of plans and specifications for the public work which involves professional engineering and the cost of the work exceeds $5,000,00. 1968 Ops St Compt File #45.

Town may by local law delegate to town supervisor power to renew certain contracts. 1987 Op St Compt No. 87-43.

72. —Competitive bidding; private sales

It was not improper for town to award contract to specific contractor, despite technical noncompliance with bid specifications, where there was no showing that irregularities in bid gave contractor substantial advantage unavailable to other bidders, and it was in town's best interests to waive irregularities because contractor's bid was considerably lower than cost of current contract. Willets Point Contracting Corp. v Town Bd. of Oyster Bay, 141 A.D.2d 735, 529 N.Y.S.2d 592, 1988 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 7038 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't), app. denied, 72 N.Y.2d 810, 534 N.Y.S.2d 938, 531 N.E.2d 658, 1988 N.Y. LEXIS 2932 (N.Y. 1988).

Town board had authority to reject all bids for 5-year contract for collection of residential solid waste and recyclables in 35 bid areas and to re-advertise for new bids, based on finding that it was in town's best interest to have multiple solid waste carters in order to foster competition and that it was essential to restrict number of areas for which one company could bid. Son Mar Carting v Heil, 159 Misc. 2d 200, 603 N.Y.S.2d 379, 1993 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 435 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1993).

A town board may sell personal property at private sale without receiving bids therefor. 1947 Ops St Compt 511.

A town may purchase street signs involving an expenditure of $5,500 without advertising for or receiving bids. 1947 Ops St Compt 513.

In view of the power of a town to establish and equip parks under subd. 4 of § 220 of the Town Law, and to manage and control them under § 64 of that law, including the power to let contracts under subd. 6 of the latter section, a town may hire machinery and operators therefor from a private contractor at a reasonable hourly or daily rate for clearing and grading land in a town park, and may do so without competitive bidding. 1961 Ops St Compt File #278.

73. —Firefighting; fireworks

Fire protection contract between town and fire company may provide for payment at beginning of contract year. 1987 Op St Compt No. 87-50.

Town contract with private organization to conduct town's fire prevention program could provide for use of town-owned equipment by private organization in connection with conduct of program; however, program and town property used in connection therewith must remain under supervision and control of town, such that contract with private organization should, at minimum, describe program and manner in which it is conducted, and set forth private organization's responsibility for loss or damage to town property. Ops St Compt 88-41.

74. —Highways, driveways and the like

A contract between a town and a county for the removal of ice and snow from county roads may include a "hold harmless" provision for the benefit of the county. 1970 Ops St Compt File #9.

Except in towns which have established office of director of purchasing pursuant to CLS Town Law § 41-a, town highway superintendent has authority to award contracts for purchase of materials and supplies for repair and improvement of highways and bridges and for control of snow and ice without prior board approval; award of contracts for purchase of highway equipment is made by superintendant subject to board approval, except where board has authorized superintendent to purchase equipment up to specified dollar amount without its prior approval; where town board has provided that construction or improvement of highway or bridge be done under contract, award of such contract is made by highway superintendent. 1987 Op St Compt No. 87-42.

Town may enter into agreement with owner of parking lot pursuant to which town would lease portion of lot for town parking purposes and, in consideration therefor, would agree to plow snow on portion of property not used for town parking if snow plowing is primarily in furtherance of proper town purpose, and value of services to owner, plus any other consideration provided by town, is commensurate with value of benefit received by town under lease. 1992 Op St Compt No. 92-42.

75. —Housing

Town had power to execute memorandum of understanding with landlords whereby town agreed not to adopt Emergency Tenant Protection Act of 1974 and landlords agreed to follow stipulated rental guidelines and certain specifically enumerated terms regarding lease renewals, since memorandum was adopted in recognition of scarcity of affordable housing, and sought to promote public welfare; town is authorized to execute contracts under CLS Town § 64 and has broad power to provide for order, conduct, safety, health, and well-being of persons or property therein, under CLS NY Const Art IX § 2(c)(ii)(10). Preemption doctrine did not bar tenants' action to enforce memorandum of understanding whereby town agreed not to adopt Emergency Tenant Protection Act (ETPA) and landlords agreed to follow stipulated rental guidelines and specifically enumerated terms regarding lease renewals since (1) ETPA is voluntary and demonstrates intention to not preempt field, (2) memorandum represented contract rather than legislation, and preemption doctrine pertains to legislation, not contracts, and (3) even if memorandum were deemed to be legislation, mere fact that local law touched on same matter as state legislation would not necessarily render local law invalid on preemption grounds. Massagli v Bastys, 141 Misc. 2d 357, 532 N.Y.S.2d 638, 1988 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 596 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1988).

Where plaintiffs failed to present convincing evidence that federal government was mislead with respect to scope of Town Attorney's authority to commit town to development of low and moderate income housing for federal employees, defendants were not estopped from asserting lack of such authority. Town Attorney's representation that town would provide "whatever programs would be necessary to meet the housing needs for all federal employees which may develop as a result of the award of the [Internal Revenue Service Regional Center] project" to town was unenforceable for lack of specificity. Brookhaven Housing Coalition v Solomon, 583 F.2d 584, 1978 U.S. App. LEXIS 9549 (2d Cir. N.Y. 1978).

76. —Implied or inferred contracts

In absence of any formal prerequisites to execution of valid contract on part of the town to pay rental for right to attach lighting fixtures to telephone poles, town's failure to respond to letter from telephone company asking town to remove fixtures or pay rent did not create contractual obligation on part of town to pay rental. New York Tel. Co. v North Hempstead, 41 N.Y.2d 691, 395 N.Y.S.2d 143, 363 N.E.2d 694, 1977 N.Y. LEXIS 2018 (N.Y. 1977), abrogated, Corsello v Verizon N.Y., Inc., 18 N.Y.3d 777, 944 N.Y.S.2d 732, 967 N.E.2d 1177, 2012 N.Y. LEXIS 583 (N.Y. 2012).

A town is contractually obligated to receive and pay for services offered by petitioner, a consulting and publishing firm which submitted a written proposal at the town's request in the form of a contract offering to codify its ordinances and local laws for a sum specified in the proposal, inasmuch as petitioner later agreed to certain changes suggested by the town attorney and the town board, by resolution, authorized the town attorney to accept the proposal, authorized the supervisor to sign the agreement, and provided payment for the work, following which the supervisor failed to sign the contract, since although generally, where the parties contemplate that a signed writing is required there is no contract until one is delivered, the rule yields when the parties have agreed on all contractual terms and have only to commit them to writing; because all the terms of the contract had been negotiated and agreed upon, and there was no understanding or agreement that the contract would not be binding until both parties had signed it, it is enforceable although it was never memorialized with a mutually signed writing. Moreover, the town board's resolution authorizing the supervisor to sign the agreement on its behalf was an acceptance of petitioner's offer, since subdivision 6 of section 64 of the Town Law reposes exclusive authority in the town board to award contracts and provides that such contracts shall be executed by the supervisor in the name of the town after approval by the board; nothing further was necessary to create an enforceable contract, and the supervisor's refusal to perform the ministerial act of signing the contract was, therefore, unlawful. Municipal Consultants & Publishers, Inc. v Ramapo, 47 N.Y.2d 144, 417 N.Y.S.2d 218, 390 N.E.2d 1143, 1979 N.Y. LEXIS 1997 (N.Y. 1979).

Town was entitled to dismissal of cause of action for breach of contract where (1) plaintiff alleged that he caused certain improvements to be made on his property in reliance on assurances by town that he would thereafter be granted variance, (2) variance was not granted, (3) plaintiff commenced instant action rather than bringing Article 78 proceeding to review determination of zoning board of appeals, (4) no contract was approved by town board and executed by town supervisor as required by CLS Town § 64(6), and (5) it was doubtful that town could validly contract away its authority to make future zoning determination. Goldberg v Penny, 163 A.D.2d 352, 558 N.Y.S.2d 564, 1990 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8892 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1990).

Town employee's action against town, seeking reimbursement of legal expenses incurred in defending federal criminal prosecution, was dismissed where no local laws or resolutions provided for defense or indemnification of employees who were subject of criminal prosecutions; alleged assurances by town officials, that expenses "would be taken care of," did not create contract implied-in-fact because no town official was authorized to bind town by words or conduct to enter into any contract (express or implied) to reimburse employees. Zimmer v Town of Brookhaven, 247 A.D.2d 109, 678 N.Y.S.2d 377, 1998 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 10118 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1998).

Letter from Town Attorney to General Services Administration, stating that town would provide whatever programs would be necessary to meet housing needs for federal employees in connection with opening of Internal Revenue Service Regional Center, did not create binding contractual commitment on part of town to develop low and moderate income housing; since attorney never claimed authority to bind town, and Town Board's resolutions did not by their terms so authorize him, he had neither actual nor apparent authority to create such contractual commitment. Brookhaven Housing Coalition v Solomon, 583 F.2d 584, 1978 U.S. App. LEXIS 9549 (2d Cir. N.Y. 1978).

77. —Interest of town official in contract

A partnership, one of whose members is a town officer, cannot do business with the town and recover compensation therefor. 1947 Ops St Compt 372.

A bank of which a town supervisor is an officer may not loan money at interest to town. 1947 Ops St Compt 453.

Town board may not award contract to chairman of town board of assessors. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6313.

A town board is authorized to lease premises for use as a town hall where, the present hall lacks sanitary facilities, heating and lighting. However, a lease between the board and the Grange for the Grange hall was void where two members of the town board were members of the Grange. 1959 Ops St Compt File #517.

A prohibited conflict of interest would occur if a town councilman should be hired as an independent contractor to work for the town; and his appointment to a position of employment by the town board would be contrary to public policy. 1968 Ops St Compt File #53.

A prohibited interest in contract exists where a town board purchases a vehicle from a company which employs a member of the board as a salesman, unless the exception afforded by section 802(1)(b) is applicable. 1968 Ops St Compt File #810.

A town supervisor has a prohibited interest in any insurance contracts between the town and an insurance agency which he acquires, where he receives a material or pecuniary benefit as a result of such contracts, and he has the powers and duties enumerated in General Municipal Law, § 801 with respect thereto. 1973 Ops St Compt File #979.

78. —Ratification

Validity of otherwise valid town contract does not depend on resolution of town board being recorded in minutes of board meeting. Hubbard v Onondaga County Dep't of Health, 219 A.D.2d 832, 632 N.Y.S.2d 370, 1995 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 10881 (N.Y. App. Div. 4th Dep't 1995).

Town was bound by arbitration clause in letter agreement with construction firm where letter agreement was referred to in change order signed by town supervisor and town comptroller on next day after town board passed resolution authorizing change order. Town of Babylon v Tully Constr. Co., 242 A.D.2d 703, 662 N.Y.S.2d 590, 1997 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 9231 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1997), app. denied, 91 N.Y.2d 807, 669 N.Y.S.2d 260, 692 N.E.2d 129, 1998 N.Y. LEXIS 166 (N.Y. 1998).

Defendants had not been entitled to summary judgment on a town's claim its contracts with them were void, because there were triable fact issues as to whether the town board ratified the agreements such that they were enforceable under N.Y. Town Law § 64(6). Town of Angelica v Smith, 89 A.D.3d 1547, 933 N.Y.S.2d 480, 2011 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8249 (N.Y. App. Div. 4th Dep't 2011).

Dismissal of insurer's breach of contract case against a town was error as insurer failed to allege that the parties' concession agreement was approved and ratified by the town board in strict compliance with the statute, so their contract was not binding on the town. Phoenix Life Ins. Co. v Town of Oyster Bay, 186 A.D.3d 763, 129 N.Y.S.3d 451, 2020 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4702 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 2020).

Town was liable to plaintiff for 2-month rental of woodchipper, whether or not contract between parties was made on behalf of town by authorized agent or was properly authorized by town board pursuant to CLS Town § 64(6), since (1) retention and use of woodchipper constituted ratification of agreement, and (2) principles of equity and fair dealing require municipal body, based on theory of implied or quasi contract, to pay reasonable value of property received or services rendered, provided they would be proper subject of express contract and are within contractual power of governmental body. Centereach Rentals, Inc. v Huntington, 150 Misc. 2d 462, 574 N.Y.S.2d 636, 1991 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 562 (N.Y. Dist. Ct. 1991).

Failure of a law firm to raise a consent agreement's invalidity under N.Y. Town Law § 64(6) for lack of town board approval as an affirmative defense in a breach of contract action did not show that the firm committed legal malpractice in representing the town and its waste management authority; the town board ratified the agreement by accepting its benefits and by passing a resolution that referred to the agreement. Town of N. Hempstead v Winston & Strawn, LLP, 28 A.D.3d 746, 814 N.Y.S.2d 237, 2006 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4759 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't), app. denied, 7 N.Y.3d 715, 826 N.Y.S.2d 181, 859 N.E.2d 921, 2006 N.Y. LEXIS 3536 (N.Y. 2006).

Where Town Board passed no resolution which either explicitly approved Town Attorney's assurances with respect to development of low and moderate income housing for federal employees or was implicitly inconsistent with any other supposition than that Town Board intended to implement housing program, Board's approval of reduction in rent for Internal Revenue Service Regional Center did not constitute ratification of Town Attorney's representations with regard to housing. Brookhaven Housing Coalition v Solomon, 583 F.2d 584, 1978 U.S. App. LEXIS 9549 (2d Cir. N.Y. 1978).

A town board may ratify a contract improperly made by a superintendent of highways when the town board could have authorized the contract initially and when there are funds available from which to pay the claim. If there are no funds available then a town board would have to obtain authority to pay the claim through a special act of the legislature. 1958 Ops St Compt File #991.

A town board does not have to audit and approve a voucher submitted by an independent contractor hired by the town superintendent of highways without board approval. The town board may in its discretion, however, ratify agreements or contracts made by the superintendent without board approval. 1967 Ops St Compt File #344.

Except in towns which have established office of director of purchasing pursuant to CLS Town Law § 41-a, town highway superintendent has authority to award contracts for purchase of materials and supplies for repair and improvement of highways and bridges and for control of snow and ice without prior board approval; award of contracts for purchase of highway equipment is made by superintendant subject to board approval, except where board has authorized superintendent to purchase equipment up to specified dollar amount without its prior approval; where town board has provided that construction or improvement of highway or bridge be done under contract, award of such contract is made by highway superintendent. 1987 Op St Compt No. 87-42.

79. Traffic control, signals and standards, generally

Supervision and control of traffic standards permitted by former § 138-d, did not come within general ambit of prescribed duties of town superintendent as defined by Highway Law, § 47. Masucci v Orangetown, 239 A.D. 840, 264 N.Y.S. 291, 1933 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8820 (N.Y. App. Div. 1933).

The authority given to towns to "purchase, lease, install and maintain traffic signals and standards for the control of traffic upon the streets and highways outside limits of any incorporated village or city," is given without further action by the town. Epolito v Epolito, 71 N.Y.S.2d 611, 189 Misc. 424, 1947 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2604 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1947).

A town may erect school warning signs on town highways at town expense. 1954 Ops St Compt File #7045.

A town may purchase, lease, install and maintain warning and other traffic control signs upon streets and highways outside the limits of incorporated villages or cities. Expense incurred for this purpose is a general town charge. 1957 Ops St Compt File #915.

The town, under its power to pass ordinances, rules or regulations, for the safety of the community, could purchase and install warnings to motorists indicating the presence of children in the area along the highway. Regulation of the speed on the town highway in question must be established under Vehicle and Traffic Law, section 1622, with the speed established by the State Traffic Commission. 1967 Ops St Compt File #485.

A town may purchase traffic controls for town roads outside of villages and these are a town-wide charge. 1967 Ops St Compt File #1000.

80. —On private property

The installation of traffic controls by a town upon the parking area of a privately-owned shopping center is a town charge and the cost of same may not be assessed against the owner thereof. 1972 Ops St Compt File #574.

81. —On state or county roads

Former §§ 138-d and 141-c, subd. 1, did not make towns liable for failure of traffic signal to operate on state and county highways. Cleveland v Lancaster, 239 A.D. 263, 267 N.Y.S. 673, 1933 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8018 (N.Y. App. Div. 1933), aff'd, 264 N.Y. 568, 191 N.E. 568, 264 N.Y. (N.Y.S.) 568, 1934 N.Y. LEXIS 1599 (N.Y. 1934).

In action against town and county by motorist injured in collision at intersection of streets maintained by them and regulated by stop sign, alleging that traffic signal light should have been installed, plaintiffs failed to overcome defendants' prima facie entitlement to qualified immunity where (1) defendants presented expert opinion and 1986 county traffic engineering report concluding that neither traffic signal nor additional sign at intersection was warranted, (2) plaintiffs' civil engineer opined that intersection was not "designed, maintained, and operated in accordance with standard and appropriate acceptable good and safe design practices," and (3) raw statistics indicating 9 other accidents at or near intersection between 1989 and 1993, without any descriptive details, did not show that defendants breached their continuing duty to review traffic plan in light of its actual operation. Schuster v McDonald, 263 A.D.2d 473, 692 N.Y.S.2d 721, 1999 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 7893 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1999).

Where a "stop and go" traffic signal light has been installed on a county road directly in front of a firehouse and operated in emergency situations by the fire company, the cost of the installation, erection and maintenance of the traffic signal light is a town charge. 1969 Ops St Compt File #332.

Where town has actual or constructive knowledge of hazardous traffic conditions at intersection of town highway and county road located outside village, town has responsibility to study need for and, if necessary, to install and maintain appropriately designed traffic controlled devices at intersection; once it adopts traffic safety plan for intersection, town also has responsibility to continually review plan in light of its actual operation; town has no similar duty with respect to intersection of 2 county roads located outside village, unless town constructed, or owns, maintains, or exercises some form of control over intersection, such as by installing traffic control devices itself. Ops St Compt 89-22.

82. Vacancies in town office, generally

New York Constitution, Art. X, § 5, applies to an election to fill a town office, and Town Law, § 64, subd. 5, which conflicts with constitutional provision, is invalid. Mott v Krug, 278 N.Y. 457, 17 N.E.2d 129, 278 N.Y. (N.Y.S.) 457, 1938 N.Y. LEXIS 1325 (N.Y. 1938).

There was conflict of interest when town board member acquired realty in his town at county tax sale and sale was voidable where, although contract of sale in form concerned only county, by implication it also involved town and was within general municipal law precluding municipal officer from having interest in contract with his municipality when he has power or duty to authorize or approve contract or to appoint officer who has such power or duty, inasmuch as town board's action in preparing town budget was part of approval and authorization culminating in county tax sale and town board fixed salary of collecting officer and filled vacancies in that office. Rose v Eichhorst, 42 N.Y.2d 92, 396 N.Y.S.2d 837, 365 N.E.2d 868, 1977 N.Y. LEXIS 2108 (N.Y. 1977).

This section must be read in connection with § 63 and § 60 as to vacancies to be filled by the board as such. Application of Crosby, 36 N.Y.S.2d 301, 178 Misc. 746, 1942 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1786 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.), aff'd, 265 A.D. 92, 37 N.Y.S.2d 745, 1942 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5686 (N.Y. App. Div. 1942).

83. —Created by election tie

Where the office of town supervisor becomes vacant by reason of a tie in the election returns, the town board may appoint a qualified person to that office and upon such appointment, the encumbent, will cease to be a holdover in the office. Furk v Board of Supervisors, 1 N.Y.2d 128, 151 N.Y.S.2d 12, 134 N.E.2d 104, 1956 N.Y. LEXIS 913 (N.Y. 1956).

Petitioner is entitled to mandamus in proceeding involving his right to exercise powers of town supervisor, where returns of biennial town meeting resulted in tie vote and no person has been certified as being elected to said office. Petitioner, incumbent of office must hold over under Public Officers Law, § 5, and is entitled to discharge duties of his office until such time as successor has been appointed or declared elected and qualified under former § 130. Williamson v Corscadden, 255 N.Y.S. 597, 143 Misc. 249, 1932 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1380 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1932). See also In re Baker, 233 A.D. 482, 253 N.Y.S. 584, 1931 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 11337 (N.Y. App. Div. 1931).

84. —Discretion of town board as to filling

In a town of the second class where a vacancy occurs in the office of one of three town assessors by reason of failure to elect, it is the duty of the town board to fill such vacancy. 1947 Ops St Compt 257.

It is mandatory that the town board fill a vacancy in office of town assessor. A person elected to fill a vacancy takes office on January 1. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7289.

A town board need not fill the vacancy left by the resignation of a town councilman whose term of office would have expired at the end of this year. 1967 Ops St Compt File #789.

85. —Eligibility of town officers

No rule of law prohibits a former member of the New York City Council from the Borough of The Bronx from being selected to fill the vacancy in the office of Bronx Borough President by vote of a majority of city council members representing Bronx Borough (New York City Charter, § 81) following his resignation as a city councilman; provisions of law governing the ethical behavior of members of the city council in the appointment of a member to another post are intended to deal with abuses such as dual office holding and do not prohibit a council member from being chosen by his fellow members to another office at which time he automatically forfeits his position as a council member; common-law principles under prior case law which may be read as prohibiting a governmental body from appointing one of its own members to office have been codified and where different from applicable statutory law, specifically abrogated by legislative enactment (New York City Charter, §§ 33, 1115, 2604; Town Law, § 64, subd 5; General Municipal Law, art 18) and, in any event, respondent was not a "member" of the city council at the time the vacancy in the office of Borough President occurred nor was he a member of the special body of electors convened by the Mayor to elect an interim Borough President. Valentin v Simon, 98 Misc. 2d 5, 413 N.Y.S.2d 266, 1979 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2037 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1979).

A town board may not fill a vacancy in the office of town supervisor by the appointment of one of its members. 1946 Ops St Compt 620.

In a town of the second class, town board may not appoint a town councilman to fill a vacancy in the office of justice of the peace. Nor may such councilman or justice be appointed by the board to be superintendent of a water district operated by such board. 1946 Ops St Compt 652.

A town councilman may be appointed to a vacancy in the office of supervisor providing he resigns his position as councilman prior to appointment, but, under § 63, the vote to fill the vacancy must be by majority of the whole number of the membership of the board. 1962 Ops St Compt #832.

A town councilwoman and a justice of the peace may each resign and be appointed to fill the vacancy of the other. 1967 Ops St Compt File #760.

A town councilman may not be appointed to the office of town assessor. 1967 Ops St Compt File #954.

86. —Specific office vacancies, generally

87. — —Assessor

Under subd. 5 of this section, an elected assessor who sells his real property and ceases to be a resident of the town creates a vacancy which may be filled by the Town Board by an appointee who meets the qualifications for the office. 1964 Ops St Compt #282.

88. — —Highway superintendent

One who receives majority vote for office of superintendent of highways of town and who fails to qualify for office in that his official oath is defective in omitting statement that he has not directly or indirectly paid moneys or property to electors as consideration for giving or withholding votes at election, is not entitled to hold office, and hence town board has authority to fill vacancy by reappointing former incumbent. People ex rel. Preston v Keator, 169 A.D. 368, 154 N.Y.S. 1007, 1915 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 9112 (N.Y. App. Div. 1915).

89. — —Justice of the peace

A vacancy in office of justice of the peace must be filled at next annual election. 1946 Ops St Compt 178.

Where a town is required to reduce the number of its justices of the peace from four to two, and where it is necessary to fill a vacancy in one of the offices as well as to elect successors to two other justices, the person elected to fill the vacancy must be elected as a justice of the peace. 1955 St Compt File #7168.

An elected justice of the peace must hold property at the time of election to be qualified for office and an appointment of a justice to fill a vacancy must be made of a person who holds property of record as of the time of his appointment. 1967 Ops St Compt File #510.

90. — —Supervisor; deputy supervisor

Where office of town supervisor was declared vacant in view of the fact that supervisor had accepted and qualified for the office of county legislator, a successor could be appointed at once to fill the vacancy. Knauf v County Legislature of County of Monroe, 27 A.D.2d 440, 280 N.Y.S.2d 15, 1967 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4070 (N.Y. App. Div. 4th Dep't 1967).

The appointment of a deputy supervisor has nothing to do with the filling of a vacancy resulting from the death of an incumbent supervisor, and such a vacancy may be filled by the Town Board by appointment. Roth v Loomis, 54 Misc. 2d 39, 281 N.Y.S.2d 158, 1967 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1456 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1967).

A vacancy occurring between September 1 and September 20, 1947 in the office of town supervisor should be filled by appointment to be made by the town board. A vacancy in a nomination for office of town supervisor occurring between September 1 and

September 20, 1947 may be filled pursuant to section 139 of the Election Law. 1947 Ops St Compt 398.

Terms of persons appointed to fill vacancies in the office of supervisor and councilman occurring between September 20 and the next general election should run until December 31 of the next political year. 1962 Ops St Compt #894.

Where a town supervisor dies in office, the town board should fill the vacancy as soon as reasonably possible. The fact that the office of deputy supervisor exists does not affect the requirement that the vacancy be filled. 1968 Ops St Compt File #1090.

91. — —Town board member

Terms of persons appointed to fill vacancies in the office of supervisor and councilman occurring between September 20 and the next general election should run until December 31 of the next political year. 1962 Ops St Compt #894.

92. — —Town clerk

Where a town clerk ceases to be a resident of the town, a vacancy occurs which may be filled by the town board. 1971 Ops St Compt File #992.

93. — —Town tax collector

Vacancy occurring on August 19, 1954 in office of town tax collector should be filled at November 1954 election; nomination procedure, filling of vacancy by appointment discussed. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6838.

94. —Term of office, generally

Person appointed to fill vacancy in office of tax collector in town of second class must be owner of record of real property in town, and may hold office only until next annual election at which the vacancy must be filled. 1946 Ops St Compt 118.

The limitation of the term of office of a person appointed to fill a vacancy in an elective office, as set forth in § 8 of Art 13 of the Constitution, does not apply in case of appointive officers. 1946 Ops St Compt 703.

If person is appointed on or about December 1, 1947 to fill vacancy existing in elective town office of receiver of taxes and assessments, such appointee holds office until the general election held in November 1948. 1947 Ops St Compt 524.

Where tax collector resigned January 1, 1955, at the general election there must be an election of collector to fill the unexpired term from the date of the general election in November until December 31, 1955 and also in addition an election to fill the term of office of town collector commencing January 1, 1956 and expiring December 31, 1957. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7212.

The term of office of a receiver of taxes and assessments elected to fill a vacancy does not commence on the day after election. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8016.

95. — —Remainder of calendar year

Where person re-elected in November died before January first, person appointed under former by town board to fill vacancy held office until January first. Under Public Officers Law, §§ 5 and 30, vacancy existed again after January first, and new town board had right to fill vacancy on January first and action of old town board in appointing person to hold office until next biennial election was illegal. People ex rel. Green v Black, 229 A.D. 47, 241 N.Y.S. 244, 1930 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 10305 (N.Y. App. Div. 1930).

An appointment made in January to fill a vacancy in the elective office of town clerk terminates December 31 next succeeding the first annual election thereafter held and is not for the unexpired term. The person elected to such office in November of 1946 would hold for the unexpired term. 1946 Ops St Compt 206.

Whether the office of town Highway Superintendent is elective or appointive, a person appointed to fill a vacancy in such office occurring November 1, 1962 will hold office until January 1, 1964. 1962 Ops St Compt #688.

Where an appointee holds the office of town justice due to a vacancy and an election is held filling that vacancy, the term of the appointee expires, and the term of the elected town justices commences, on January first succeeding the election. 1974 Ops St Compt File #10.

96. — —Unexpired term

A person appointed by the town board to fill a vacancy in office of assessor in town of the first class, holds such office for the unexpired term thereof. The limitation of the term of office of a person appointed to fill a vacancy in an elective office, as set forth in section 8 of Article XIII of the Constitution, does not apply in case of appointive officers. 1946 Ops St Compt 703.

The office of justice of the peace where a vacancy occurs and an appointment is made to fill this office may be filled at the next annual election for the remainder of the unexpired term. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6865.

Where a vacancy occurs in the office of justice of the peace, the term of which will expire on December 31, 1957, and an appointment is made until Election Day, it will be necessary to elect a justice of the peace to serve from Election Day through December 31, 1957, as well as justice of the peace for a new four year term commencing on January 1, 1958. 1957 Ops St Compt File #250.

97. —Voting by town board

The "appointment" to fill a vacancy in town office provided for in § 64, subd. 5, cannot be accomplished by execution of certificate by members of town board, but requires a vote at meeting duly called and held pursuant to § 63 which provides that every act, motion or resolution shall require for its adoption an affirmative vote. In re Crosby, 265 A.D. 92, 37 N.Y.S.2d 745, 1942 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5686 (N.Y. App. Div. 1942).

98. Weed, fire and other health hazard removal, generally

Town board did not violate due process by failing to notify property owner or to conduct adversarial hearing prior to adopting resolution authorizing town to enter owner's property to remove litter and debris in event it was not removed by owner within 10 days of service of resolution on him, and to charge costs of removal as lien and assessment to be collected as ad valorem charge. It was neither arbitrary nor capricious to adopt resolution authorizing town to enter petitioner's property to remove litter and debris in event it was not removed by petitioner within 10 days of service of resolution on him, and to charge costs of removal as lien and assessment to be collected as ad valorem charge, where there were ongoing outbreaks of fire and smoke from debris on property. 4M 4M Holding Co. v Town Bd. of Town of Islip, 185 A.D.2d 317, 586 N.Y.S.2d 286, 1992 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 9036 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1992), aff'd, 81 N.Y.2d 1053, 601 N.Y.S.2d 458, 619 N.E.2d 395, 1993 N.Y. LEXIS 1723 (N.Y. 1993).

In Article 78 proceeding, lessee of property lacked standing to challenge town board's resolution directing owner of property to expeditiously clean up solid waste on premises, although lessee had agreed to remove waste but had failed to do so, since aggrievement warranting judicial review requires threshold showing that person has been adversely affected by activities challenged, and lessee failed to show any such injury. Sabrina Corp. v Jones, 199 A.D.2d 396, 605 N.Y.S.2d 320, 1993 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 12074 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1993), app. denied, 83 N.Y.2d 912, 614 N.Y.S.2d 394, 637 N.E.2d 285 (N.Y. 1994).

A town board may not avail itself of the power granted in section 64(5-a) of the Town Law without first enacting an ordinance pursuant to section 130 of the same law, such ordinance to contain, among other things, the requisite assessment and lien provisions. 1968 Ops St Compt File #1084.

A town may expend its funds to remedy a rodent infestation problem existing on town property by clearing the land of tree and grass clippings and ponding water even though the property is subject to the permanent easement of a county drainage district. The town should seek reimbursement for the district if the district was responsible for the conditions creating the problem or was required by the easement to clear the land. 1982 St Compt File #82-219.

N.Y. Real Prop. Tax Law § 936 did not require a county to credit a town for unpaid maintenance charges under N.Y. Town Law §§ 64 and 130 or to guarantee those amounts since: (1) maintenance charges were assessed against individual properties for their benefit and did not fall within the general definition of a tax; (2) they did not constitute special ad valorem levies since they were not used to defray the cost of a special district improvement or service; (3) they were not assessed ad valorem because they were not based on property value; (4) even if they were special assessments, special assessments were not taxes; and (5) N.Y. Mun. Home Rule Law § 10 did not render maintenance charges taxes. Matter of Town of Irondequoit v County of Monroe, 175 A.D.3d 846, 107 N.Y.S.3d 510, 2019 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6308 (N.Y. App. Div. 4th Dep't 2019).

99. —Central fire alarm system

The consent of the governing bodies of all villages in the town must be obtained before the town may establish a central fire alarm system. The expense of establishing and operating the central fire alarm system is a general town charge. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6676.

A town board may establish a mutual fire aid radio and central alarm system in the town providing they comply with certain provisions. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8197.

Under subd. 11-c of this section, where a town has a central fire alarm system a fire district may install fire alarm boxes and appropriate wiring within the district and connect the same to the town alarm system within the district at fire district expense, but the town may not install extra fire alarm boxes within the district area at request of the district commissioners where the district agrees to pay cost of additional alarm boxes, wire and installation costs. 1964 Ops St Compt #464.

A town's central fire alarm system may be used to service any authorized emergency calls. 1968 Ops Ct Compt File #116.

100. —Drainage facilities, generally

General town moneys may be expended to deepen, alter or otherwise improve drainage ditches and pipes. 1945 Ops St Compt 432.

A drainage district may be established for the purpose of constructing improvements designed to prevent silting of a creek outlet and consequent flooding of riparian real property. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6382.

The town superintendent of highways may tile a ditch within the bounds of a town highway when such ditch creates a hazard to the highway. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6841.

Whether or not drainage work is to be a general town charge or to be accomplished as a special improvement district is a matter within the discretion of the town board. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6982.

Towns and villages in more than one county may enter into a joint contractual arrangement to maintain a flood control project which has been turned over to them by the State Superintendent of Public Works. A resolution of a town board authorizing the town's contribution under such a joint maintenance contract is not subject to a permissive referendum. 1957 Ops St Compt File #488.

A town board may act pursuant to Town Law § 64(11-a) to protect property within the town from overflowing water courses or it may establish a drainage district and improve such water course to protect such district. 1960 Ops St Compt File #432.

A town may perform the necessary work to clean out a drainage ditch which not only drains a public highway but which also drains private property, based upon an agreement with the benefited property owners to share the costs of such work, but it may not contract with a private contractor to clean out such a drainage ditch based upon the agreement of the property owners to pay the cost of such work. 1960 Ops St Compt File #890.

Where a town drainage district has been created and the drainage facilities therein are inadequate, the cost of correcting such defects should be charged against the property owners of the district and not the town at large. 1968 Ops St Compt File #186.

A town may adopt a local law authorizing it to make repairs to a private water or sewer system when the public health, safety, or welfare is threatened, and to charge the expenses as a tax lien against the property. 1982 St Compt File #82-216.

101. — —Acquisition of property

A town may accept the gift of a strip of land for drainage and flood control purposes and may construct improvements thereon for such purposes. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6707.

A town can condemn real property or an interest therein for the purposes of constructing drainage facilities. 1960 Ops St Compt File #818.

A town has authority under this section to acquire an easement in private lands for draining waters from town roads, and may pay for such an easement either from the general fund, the highway fund, or both. 1961 Ops St Compt File #51.

102. — —Financing

A resolution of a town board authorizing the issuance of capital notes to finance a drainage facility under this section is not subject to a referendum. 1952 Ops St Compt File #5667.

Town may finance the cost of drainage facilities by the issuance of bonds having a maximum maturity of not more than thirty years. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7403.

A common drainage system constructed as a joint project by a village and a town may not be financed by the issuance of bonds. Drainage facilities constructed individually may be so financed. 1956 Ops St Compt File #7936.

103. —Dumping

In view of fact that garbage is a deleterious substance and that garbage dumps, no matter how carefully controlled, present some hazard to a community, town was entitled, in the exercise of its police power, to minimize this potential hazard by enacting ordinance which, inter alia, prohibited the dumping, within the town, of garbage, rubbish and waste originating outside the town. Town was entitled to order permanently enjoining corporate garbage collector from violating town ordinance which regulated the disposal of garbage, rubbish and other articles and which prohibited the dumping, within the town, of garbage, rubbish and waste originating outside the town. Where town ordinance which, in pertinent part, prohibited dumping, within the town, of garbage, rubbish and waste originating from outside the town was clearly a health and safety measure and not a retroactive zoning ordinance, corporate garbage collector's use of site would not be immune from operation of ordinance as a "prior non-conforming use" even if it did preexist ordinance. Plattekill v Dutchess Sanitation, Inc., 56 A.D.2d 150, 391 N.Y.S.2d 750, 1977 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 10035 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't), aff'd, 43 N.Y.2d 662, 400 N.Y.S.2d 816, 371 N.E.2d 534, 1977 N.Y. LEXIS 2483 (N.Y. 1977).

Cause of action seeking declaration of invalidity of town board's authorizing resolution and implementing agreement regarding debris landfill was time barred where (1) plaintiffs' challenge was directed not to substance of resolution and agreement but to town's failure to hold permissive referendum on resolution and to town's lack of authority to make agreement, (2) those procedural claims could have been brought in proceeding under CLS CPLR § 7803(2), and (3) thus, 4-month limitations period in CLS CPLR § 217, not 6-year period in CLS CPLR § 213, applied. Complaint seeking to impose personal liability on individual town board members under CLS Gen Mun § 51 for passing allegedly invalid resolution and making allegedly invalid agreement regarding debris landfill was properly dismissed for failure to state cause of action, absent allegation of necessary element of collusion, fraud, or personal gain. Atkins v Town of Rotterdam, 266 A.D.2d 631, 697 N.Y.S.2d 780, 1999 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 11231 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1999).

A village and a town may contract for the joint use of public dumping grounds but may not jointly establish and operate one. 1959 Ops St Compt File #974.

A town may enter into a contract with a village to provide for use of the village dump by inhabitants of the town. 1963 Ops St Compt #150.

104. —Public works department

Office of superintendent of highways must be appointive in any town before department of public works may be established; such office not discontinued when a department of public works is established in town. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6157.

The commissioner of public works of a town has the duty to submit a budget estimate of his department to the town clerk. This estimate of revenues and expenditures is subject to the approval of the town board pursuant to sections 112 and 113 of the Town Law. 1966 Ops St Compt File #423.

The town board of any town in Suffolk County may adopt a resolution establishing a department of public works and may provide that the town superintendent of highways shall be its administrative head. 1968 Ops St Compt File #456.

Appointment of the elective highway superintendent to be head of a newly created town department of public works would not subject the exercise of his statutory powers and duties to town board supervision. 1972 Ops St Compt File #995.

Where the superintendent of highways is not the head of the department of public works, highway department functions, personnel and equipment may not be transferred to the new department if the result thereof would be to impair the statutory responsibilities of the superintendent. 1972 Ops St Compt File #995.

105. Other powers exercised, generally

A town may not ban the use and operation of mini-bikes within the town but may otherwise restrict the same in relation to speed and noise while operated on public highways within the town and in relation to emission of excessive fumes and noise while operated upon private property. 1972 Ops St Compt File #434.

106. —Proper exercise, generally

It was error to invalidate local law removing quarrying and mining from list of permitted uses in town's residential districts where among various findings made in negative declaration was that mining and quarrying would impinge on various goals of town's master plan, which were intended to "protect the Town's natural resources, natural beauty and small-town atmosphere"; possibility that mining would encroach on town's several "environmentally sensitive areas" was also noted in negative declaration. Local laws of town, imposing various regulations on harvesting of timber and restricting various construction-related activities occurring on steep slopes, wetlands, and other environmentally sensitive areas, were local laws of general applicability that, at best, would have incidental burden on mining, and thus laws were facially valid and declaration to that effect should have been made by court. Patterson Materials Corp. v Town of Pawling, 264 A.D.2d 510, 694 N.Y.S.2d 708, 1999 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8896 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1999), app. denied, 95 N.Y.2d 754, 711 N.Y.S.2d 156, 733 N.E.2d 228, 2000 N.Y. LEXIS 983 (N.Y. 2000).

A town board in a town of the second class may establish a shade tree fund under this section, and may expend moneys therefrom for the protection of elm trees. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6187.

Town may adopt sanitary and plumbing regulations not inconsistent with sanitary code of public health council. Town board must constitute local board of health. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6329.

Where a resolution is subject to permissive referendum, petition is duly filed, and it is to be submitted at a special town election, the Town Board may designate a single polling place at the office of the town clerk. 1963 Ops St Compt #300.

Water district may purchase disused town garage. Town board may employ a qualified realty appraiser. After acquiring the building, the district may sell or lease any part thereof not required for district purposes. 1966 Ops St Compt File #736.

A town may enact reasonable legislation requiring the relocation of utility poles in the interests of public health, safety, or convenience. 1973 Ops St Compt File #34.

107. — —Communications

A town may lease and pay for telephone lines for connections between schools in the town and the central office of the town's mutual aid system. 1960 Ops St Compt File #254.

A town may purchase and install a two-way radio in the privately owned car of the town supervisor for the purpose of maintaining contact with the town hall in the performance of the duties of his office. 1967 Ops St Compt File #974.

108. — —Dredging, sewage and the like

Although a town board could not refuse to issue a dredging permit on the ground that it would not benefit the town, the town could refuse to deny a permit on the ground that the dredging would be harmful to the marine resources of the area. Bernhard v Caso, 19 N.Y.2d 192, 278 N.Y.S.2d 818, 225 N.E.2d 521, 1967 N.Y. LEXIS 1707 (N.Y. 1967).

In an Article 78 proceeding, an application by a landowner to tie into the sewer system of a town the sewer system of a warehouse that he wanted to convert into an office building would be granted, where the town's conditioning of approval of the sewer connection on the landowner's limiting the occupancy of the building to 54 employees and parking to 50 spaces was arbitrary, capricious, and an abuse of discretion, even though the landowner did not have an automatic right to the sewer connection without the consent of the town, where the application was rejected because of the potential increase in traffic, where there was no indication in the record that such an increase would adversely impact on the sewer system, where traffic in any case would be substantially lessened by conversion of the building from a warehouse to an office building, and where the town attorney in response to the landowner's application had noted that the sewer line was readily available to the landowner's property. Svenningsen v Passidomo, 95 A.D.2d 833, 463 N.Y.S.2d 874, 1983 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 18771 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1983), aff'd, 62 N.Y.2d 967, 479 N.Y.S.2d 335, 468 N.E.2d 290, 1984 N.Y. LEXIS 4477 (N.Y. 1984).

In an action by individual plaintiffs in their capacities as taxpayers and Mayors of plaintiff villages for a declaration that a town resolution which provided for a levy of an ad valorem property tax to raise an additional $20,000,000 for the town's budget for waste disposal was null and void, plaintiffs' argument that the town was not authorized to provide for the disposal of garbage because no such authority was conferred by Town Law § 64 was without merit since Town Law § 220(5), 221 explicitly empowered a town to provide for the collection and disposal of solid waste. Brookville v Colby, 108 A.D.2d 724, 484 N.Y.S.2d 890, 1985 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 43063 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1985).

Court has not power to exempt state officers from scope and effect of valid town ordinances which prohibit discharge of sewage into river and which were adopted pursuant to former § 130, subd. 14 for promotion of its public welfare, nor has court power to restrain by injunction enforcement of criminal law. Mere appropriation of funds by legislature for new sewage disposal plant at state hospital, which empties its sewage into river, does not have effect, by implication or otherwise, of superseding during course of construction of plant, power of defendant town to enact ordinances affecting discharge of sewage into rivers within its jurisdiction. Parsons v Smithtown, 288 N.Y.S. 470, 160 Misc. 103, 1936 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1180 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1936).

Town could properly enact its marine law requiring permit for removing from or depositing any material in bed of any watercourse of wetland in that the legislature granted town the authority to control land fill operations. People v Poveromo, 79 Misc. 2d 42, 359 N.Y.S.2d 848, 1973 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1260 (N.Y. App. Term 1973).

109. — —Highways, roads, driveways and the like

Town board's rejection of dedication of road was not arbitrary where road did not meet all requirements of board's resolution concerning acceptance of new roads—particularly as to requisite number of occupied homes per mile. Di Lucia v Town Bd., 245 A.D.2d 692, 664 N.Y.S.2d 898, 1997 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 12536 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1997).

A town highway superintendent is under a duty to make a written annual inventory, but the town board may direct a supplemental inventory of town machinery, tools, implements and equipment. 1967 Ops St Compt File #855.

Town board has authority to assign additional duties to town highway superintendent and board has responsibility of seeing that functions of town highway superintendent which are financed with town moneys, are not negligently, arbitrarily or wastefully performed. 1968 Ops St Compt File #835.

Town has discretion to sell unneeded, worn out or obsolete highway equipment, machinery, tools and implements by public auction, competitive bidding or private negotiation; method chosen should be one which will bring best price or most beneficial terms. 1986 Op St Compt No. 86-78.

110. — —Police matters

Part-time town policemen in Westchester County may not operate their privately owned vehicles equipped with flasher lights and sirens, but a town board may authorize the use of a detachable "police sign" on privately owned vehicles operated by part-time town policemen. 1967 Ops St Compt File #597.

111. —Improper exercise, generally

Town board's resolution delegating, to town supervisor, its authority to hire and fire town employees would be declared invalid where no standard of policy was established by town board to provide guide for town supervisor to follow when hiring and firing such employees. Lumpkin v Halperin, 225 A.D.2d 698, 639 N.Y.S.2d 938, 1996 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 2658 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't), app. dismissed, 88 N.Y.2d 1015, 649 N.Y.S.2d 381, 672 N.E.2d 607, 1996 N.Y. LEXIS 3021 (N.Y. 1996).

Town board may not, by resolution, extend the provisions of the Tax Law in relation to exemptions of real property from taxation. 1946 Ops St Compt 150.

A town may not enact an ordinance to compel property owners to trim or remove trees, hedges or shrubs situated wholly within their property, notwithstanding such trees, hedges or shrubs obstruct visibility of highway traffic. 1960 Ops St Compt #486.

Money appropriated for benefit of free association library by a town should be disbursed pursuant to contract terms or, in absence of contract, by the supervisor on vouchers. Town has no authority to make gift of land or money to free library association, or to issue bonds to finance such association's purchase of land, or construction of a building on the association's land. 1966 Op St Compt No. 66–710.

A town may not enter into an agreement with a professional baseball team whereby the team supplies the town with admission tickets and the town sells such tickets for a "Community Night" for its citizens. Such an arrangement is not a proper "recreation program" in connection with which town efforts may be undertaken. 1975 Ops St Compt File #651.

A town board may not appoint a "fire marshal's unit" for the purpose of investigating fires suspected to be caused by arson. 1975 Ops St Comp File #1163.

112. — —Dredging, sewage and the like

Although a town board could not refuse to issue a dredging permit on the ground that it would not benefit the town, the town could refuse to deny a permit on the ground that the dredging would be harmful to the marine resources of the area. Bernhard v Caso, 19 N.Y.2d 192, 278 N.Y.S.2d 818, 225 N.E.2d 521, 1967 N.Y. LEXIS 1707 (N.Y. 1967).

A refuse and garbage collection system may not be set up under Town Law, § 221, unless it is on a town-wide basis. A town board may appropriate funds from the general fund for a survey of the practicability and cost of a town-wide refuse collection system. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8154.

A town may not undertake to remove rubbish from private property without assessing such property for the cost of the removal. 1967 Ops St Compt File #770.

A town board may not contract with a private landfill operator for collection and disposal of refuse on lands the town has not acquired pursuant to statute, and retains no control over the operation and services to be rendered. 1972 Ops St Compt File #95.

113. — —Highways, roads, driveways and the like

Where a town chief of police garages a town police car in his private garage, the Town Board may not provide for the plowing of his private driveway at town expense. 1963 Ops St Compt #96.

A town may not ban the use and operation of mini-bikes within the town but may otherwise restrict the same in relation to speed and noise while operated on public highways within the town and in relation to emission of excessive fumes and noise while operated upon private property. 1972 Ops St Compt File #434.

114. — —Police matters

No power in town to contract for village police to render emergency service to town. Town executive may request and village may grant use of village police in town emergency. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6354.

Where a town chief of police garages a town police car in his private garage, the Town Board may not provide for the plowing of his private driveway at town expense. 1963 Ops St Compt #96.

1. In general

There is now no authority for town electors at town meetings to adopt resolutions authorized by this section. 1958 NY Ops Atty Gen Aug 4 (informal).

The proper appointing authority for janitorial and maintenance employees for the Town Hall in the Town of Waterford is the Town Supervisor. 1977 NY Ops Atty Gen March 29 (Informal), 1977 N.Y. AG LEXIS 262.

County Attorney appointed by Board of Supervisors is appointed to a fixed term of two years. The Board has no authority to remove County Attorney, absent a hearing on charges, notwithstanding a change in the political composition of the Board due to filling of vacancies. 1979 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 3.

In implementing the Environmental Quality Review Act, (1) agencies must use the procedures in 6 NYCRR Part 617 to the greatest extent possible, but may modify them to accommodate the particular requirements of each agency; (2) any procedural changes would be made by the body vested with the authority to do so; and (3) the town board may not designate one agency as permanent lead agency. 1979 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 26 (Informal).

Because of the town board's powers over the town justice and court, and the possible appearance before the court by a town board member in his capacity as police officer, the position of town board member and chief of police department of a village within the town are incompatible, and therefore a person should not simultaneously hold both offices. 1990 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. I90-7.

Discussion of multiple questions concerning town government. 1978 Op St Compt File #328.

The town board of the Town of Brookhaven acts ex officio as the trustees of the town and are vested with the duties and powers previously exercised by the Trustees of the Freeholders and Commonalty of the Town of Brookhaven. Since considerable uncertainty exists as to the nature and scope of such duties and powers, consideration might be given to modification by the Legislature or by local law of the special act granting such duties and powers. 1979 Op St Compt File #751.

In general, village property owners must pay taxes for all expenditures in the town budget unless a statute requires or permits an expenditure to be a part-town charge. 1981 Op St Compt File #80-796.

A town council member may not also serve as financial operations manager. 2013 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 2013-1, 2013 N.Y. AG LEXIS 1.

A vacancy created by not placing the position of town justice on the ballot cannot be filled by town board appointment. It can be filled before the November 2013 general election only by special election if the Governor chooses to call for one. The term of the justice will commence January 1, 2014 in either case. 2013 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 2013-4, 2013 N.Y. AG LEXIS 4.

2. Acquisition of real property, generally

3. —By condemnation

Subdivision 2 of this section gives a Town Board general power to acquire real property by condemnation, but this power does not extend to property already devoted to public use. 1962 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 11.

The Town of Newburgh is authorized to obtain easements on, and condemn if necessary, land within the City of Newburgh, for the purpose of constructing thereon a sewer trunk line to the City's sewage treatment plant. 1974 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 8.

A town has the authority to acquire historic edifices by either purchase or condemnation. 1978 Op St Compt File #497.

4. —By lease; proper

5. — —Improper

A town may not lease real property from a private, not-for-profit corporation for the purpose of providing a place to conduct a Red Cross community blood drive. 1980 Op St Compt File #124.

A lease agreement pursuant to which the Town of Altamont pays an annual rental for real property used by the town as a ski area and which further provides that the lessor agrees to make a gift of the property to the town at the expiration of the lease term would appear to constitute an unauthorized installment purchase contract. 1980 Op St Compt File #243.

A town may establish a public dump within the town by leasing the necessary land therefor. 1964 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 23.

6. —By purchase; proper

7. — —Improper

A town may not acquire a site for the erection of a treatment plant in a sewer district where the consideration for such transfer would be services of the district to the former owner for a number of years without charge. 1967 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 24.

While a village is not authorized to acquire property without the confines of the village for use as a village garage, a town may acquire such property outside of the town boundaries for such purpose. 1972 NY Ops Atty Gen Mar 2.

Under unique circumstances justifying a purchase of a parcel of land, the purchase would be for a public purpose even though much of the land would be resold immediately subject to easements for public purposes. 1980 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov. 13 (informal).

A town has the authority to acquire historic edifices by either purchase or condemnation. 1978 Op St Compt File #497.

8. —Joint acquisitions

Discussion of possible conflict of authority over a swimming pool and recreational park owned jointly by a town and a village within the town. 1978 Op St Compt File #463-A.

(1) A town may, in the proper exercise of its police powers, permit town gasoline to be used by a fire district fire department in an emergency and charge the district for the cost of the gasoline. (2) A town and a school district may enter into a municipal cooperation agreement pursuant to which they would jointly purchase gasoline or the school district would purchase gasoline to be delivered to and stored by the town. 1981 Op St Compt File #81-10.

9. —Necessity of referendum

Easement or other rights for installation of sewers through park lands belonging to a town for a use unrelated to park purposes may not be granted without specific authorization of the Legislature. 1977 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 25.

A resolution of a town board agreeing to lease a parcel of land for use as a public parking lot would be subject to permissive referendum, unless rental payments and the costs of repair, maintenance and insurance are to be financed in whole from moneys appropriated from surplus funds. 1979 Op St Compt File #347.

A town's purchase of school land for parks and playground and its donation of the school building for elderly housing both constitute use of property for a public purpose and do not violate the constitutional prohibition against town gifts to private parties. 1991 NY Ops Atty Gen I 91-27.

Under certain circumstances, a town may accept a gift from an American Legion Post of a building to be used as a town hall, subject to the donor retaining the right to occupy the building several evenings per month. A town may purchase a building in exchange for consideration other than cash. 1981 Op St Compt File #81-172.

10. Appropriations and expenditures, generally

11. —Proper, generally

12. — —Attorney services

A town board may authorize the expenditure of town funds to retain private counsel to defend the Town Highway Superintendent against charges of having made defamatory statements at a town board meeting. 1978 NY Ops Atty Gen Sept 1.

A town may expend funds for legal expenses to determine title to a park previously believed to be owned by the town. 1980 Op St Compt File #434.

A village may use village funds to hire special counsel to defend the village in an action involving claims against village property. The village may, in cooperation with other municipalities, agree to hire a single law firm to present a joint defense against such claims where the interests of all the municipalities are identical. But the village may not pay for the legal services rendered to private litigants although the same law firm could represent both the village and private individuals if they are co-defendants. 1981 Op St Compt File #80-789.

13. — —Volunteer appreciation

A town board may hold an annual dinner for unsalaried members of various town boards where only the meals of the members will be paid for by the town as a token of appreciation for the services rendered by such members to the town. 1980 Op St Compt File #282.

A town may hold a recognition luncheon for its volunteer library workers but the town may only pay for the meals of the volunteers and the cost of the meals must be reasonable. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-66.

A town may adopt a local law superseding Town Law, § 64(14)(a) by authorizing appropriations to the town publicity fund in excess of the amounts specified therein. However, such a local law is subject to a permissive referendum. 1979 Op St Compt File #797.

A charge for stenographic services rendered in connection with a grievance matter concerning a highway department employee should be considered an administrative expense chargeable against the town general fund. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-243.

Town may make contribution to non-profit center for arts, provided that town residents will benefit as result thereof. 1994 NY Ops Atty Gen I 94-35.

Town may contribute funds to project to reconstruct privately-owned dam if town credibly finds that protection of public health would be served. 2002 NY Ops Atty Gen I 2002-17.

A town may expend publicity fund moneys to pay for rental of a room, food, non-alcoholic beverages and gratuities in connection with a dinner or luncheon meeting to be attended by area businessmen and town officials for the purpose of discussing potential business expansion and relocation in the town. However, such moneys may not be expended to purchase alcoholic beverages for such meeting. 1977 Op St Compt File #667.

The City of Saratoga Springs may expend moneys from its publicity fund to pay for actual and necessary expenses incurred in connection with a "Legislators' Day" held for the benefit of the members of the New York Legislature if such expenditures serve the purpose of promoting the general commercial and industrial welfare of the City. Whether an expenditure is for such a purpose is a question of fact to be determined in the first instance by local officials. To the extent Opns St Comp, 1965, No. 65-315, unreported, or other opinions of this Department are inconsistent with this opinion, they are superseded. 1979 Op St Compt No. 79-655, 1979, 1979 N.Y. Comp. LEXIS 164.

An assessor who uses his personal vehicle to visit property in the town in the course of preparing the assessment roll should be reimbursed for his travel expenses since these expenses are necessarily incurred in the performance of his duties. Furthermore, the town board may not adopt a policy of reimbursing only travel outside the town because travel within the town by an officer or employee in performing the duties of his office is a legitimate government expense which must be borne by the municipality. 1981 Op St Compt File #81-161.

14. Conveyance of real property, generally

15. —By deed

A town board, in conveying town real property pursuant to this section, may convey only such estate, right, title or interest as the town may have in the real property which is the subject of the conveyance and is not authorized to convey by a full covenant or warranty deed. 1958 NY Ops Atty Gen (informal).

A town-board may sell real property at private sale pursuant to a resolution which is subject to a permissive referendum provided the property is unneeded for town purposes and an adequate consideration is received. 1981 Op St Compt File #5.

A town may convey real property owned by it, including a portion of the town hall, to a village for village public library expansion, and the village may agree to construct an addition to the town hall at its expense as consideration therefor. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-305.

16. —By lease; proper

17. — —Improper

There is no statute which authorizes a town board to lease the town hall to private persons to conduct public dances. 1953 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 24 (informal).

Absent specific legislative authorization, a municipality may not lease municipal park lands to a private natural gas company for the purposes of drilling a specified and limited number of gas wells. 1977 Op St Compt File #430.

A Town Board may, subject to permissive referendum, lease property owned by it to a city for a dump site. 1962 NY Ops Atty Gen Sept 14.

There is no authority for a town to convey real property which was originally vested in the town for recreational purposes. Where a planning board required subdividers to set aside and convey land for park and playground purposes, pursuant to § 277 of the Town Law, such lands were held in trust for the public use. 1959 Ops St Compt File #531; however a town may construct a building on its property to be used for park and recreational purposes and may lease such property to a nonprofit organization for recreational purposes for a fair and adequate consideration. 1962 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 22.

A Town Board, upon adoption of a resolution, may lease to an adjoining landowner for a definite or indefinite term a strip of land adjoining the town building which strip is not being actively used, subject to permissive referendum, and improvements made by the lessee will be for joint use of the town and lessee. 1964 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 31.

The Town of North Harmony may, pursuant to a resolution of the Town Board which is subject to a permissive referendum, enter into an extended lease of a portion of its real property which is to be used for oil drilling purposes, provided that the land is not impressed with a public trust or presently required for a Town purpose. Any such lease must be made for a fair and adequate consideration, and a provision in the lease for royalty payments to the Town in the event that gas or oil is discovered is permissible. 1975 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 25 (Informal), 1975 N.Y. AG LEXIS 75.

A town may, for fair consideration and subject to permissive referendum, enter into a lease permitting a private utility to drill for methane gas at a town-owned sanitary landfill if the town board determines that the lease will not interfere with any town purpose. To the extent that any prior opinions are inconsistent with the views expressed herein they are superseded. 1980 Op St Compt File #113.

Under certain circumstances, a town may lease real property to a religious organization for fair and adequate consideration. As a general proposition, land which has no present or foreseeable use for town purposes should be sold, not leased, when an adequate price and ready purchaser are available. 1980 Op St Compt File #709.

18. —Competitive bidding; private sale

A town need not require public bidding for sale of excess land but must submit the transaction to a referendum. 1958 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 10 (informal).

Town funds cannot be utilized to lease and equip medical facilities for use free of charge by a private physician who has neither been appointed to the office of town physician nor has contracted with the town board to provide medical or public health services. 1977 NY Ops Atty Gen Sept 29.

As a general rule, a town may not submit formal bids on a State contract for the purchase of sand. However, a town may convey to the State an interest in the real property in which the sand is located. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-63.

19. —Consideration, generally

20. — —Nominal consideration

A town may not convey its park land without special legislation, nor may it convey land to the YWCA for nominal consideration. 1978 Op St Compt File #595.

A town may not convey its park land without special legislation, nor may it convey land to the YWCA for nominal consideration. 1978 Op St Compt File #595.

A town board may not reduce the consideration of a lease of town real property during the term of such lease. 1953 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 7 (informal).

The surplus area in a town building may be rented at a fair and reasonable rent. Any rental of the premises will be subject to a permissive referendum. Approval at a referendum of a lease not requiring a fair and reasonable rent would not exempt the town from the requirement to lease at a fair and reasonable rental. 1972 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 21.

The Town of North Harmony may, pursuant to a resolution of the Town Board, which is subject to a permissive referendum, enter into an extended lease of a portion of its real property which is to be used for oil drilling purposes, provided that the land is not impressed with a public trust or presently required for a Town purpose. Any such lease must be made for a fair and adequate consideration, and a provision in the lease for royalty payments to the Town in the event that gas or oil is discovered is permissible. 1975 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 25.

Discussion of fair and adequate consideration. 1981 Op St Compt File #81-51.

A town may convey unneeded real property to an historical society for fair and adequate consideration. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-111.

A town may enter into an agreement with a private firm whereby the firm will install and maintain bus stop shelters along town roads in exchange for the right to sell and display advertising on the shelters, so long as the town receives fair and adequate consideration under the agreement. Although not free from doubt, it would seem that such an arrangement is not subject to competitive bidding. Prior inconsistent opinions superseded. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-133.

21. —Property not devoted to public use

There is no authority for a town to convey real property which was originally vested in the town for recreational purposes. Where a planning board required subdividers to set aside and convey land for park and playground purposes, pursuant to § 277 of the Town Law, such lands were held in trust for the public use. 1959 Ops St Compt File #531; however a town may construct a building on its property to be used for park and recreational purposes and may lease such property to a nonprofit organization for recreational purposes for a fair and adequate consideration. 1962 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 22.

Real property conveyed to a town by a deed making no reference to the intended use of said real property but presently used for public parking, a public use, may not be alienated without express legislative authority. 1968 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 27 (informal).

The Town of North Harmony may, pursuant to a resolution of the Town Board which is subject to a permissive referendum, enter into an extended lease of a portion of its real property which is to be used for oil drilling purposes, provided that the land is not impressed with a public trust or presently required for a Town purpose. Any such lease must be made for a fair and adequate consideration, and a provision in the lease for royalty payments to the Town in the event that gas or oil is discovered is permissible. 1975 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 25 (Informal), 1975 N.Y. AG LEXIS 75.

Under certain circumstances, a town may lease real property to a religious organization for fair and adequate consideration. As a general proposition, land which has no present or foreseeable use for town purposes should be sold, not leased, when an adequate price and ready purchaser are available. 1980 Op St Compt File #709.

22. —Referendum, generally

23. — —Lease of public land

A lease of town real property to a private person is subject to permissive referendum. 1955 NY Ops Atty Gen May 23 (informal).

The surplus area in a town building may be rented at a fair and reasonable rent. Any rental of the premises will be subject to a permissive referendum. Approval at a referendum of a lease not requiring a fair and reasonable rent would not exempt the town from the requirement to lease at a fair and reasonable rental. 1972 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 21.

The Supervisor and Justices of the Peace, as ex-officio trustees of the Town of Babylon, may lease a portion of the real property of such town, without the holding of a permissive referendum thereon. 1960 Op St Compt File #800.

24. — —Sale of unneeded land

A town need not require public bidding for sale of excess land but must submit the transaction to a referendum. 1958 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 10 (informal).

The Town of Brookhaven may convey unneeded real property owned by the town to a fire district without consideration and without being subject to a permissive referendum. 1979 Op St Compt File #699.

A sale of park property by the Town Board of the Town of Henrietta to Monroe County may not be subjected to permissive referendum when the Special Act of the Legislature authorizing such sale stipulates that the action of the Town Board is to be consummated without a public hearing or referendum. 1970 NY Ops Atty Gen May 12.

A resolution of a town board of a town in Westchester County which directs the supervisor to sell property acquired through tax foreclosure is not subject to a permissive referendum. 1978 Op St Compt No. 78–586.

Town lands may be sold subject to the provisions of sub 2 of this section. 1953 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 26 (informal).

Discussion of inalienability of sewer district, park district and park lands. 1977 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 17.

Procedure, terms and conditions for sale of real property by town under CLS Gen Mun § 72-h are determined by town board. 1987 NY Ops Atty Gen No. 87-61 (Informal).

A town's purchase of school land for parks and playground and its donation of the school building for elderly housing both constitute use of property for a public purpose and do not violate the constitutional prohibition against town gifts to private parties. 1991 NY Ops Atty Gen I 91-27.

Under appropriate circumstances municipality has authority to convey property by means other then quitclaim deed, as CLS Real P § 240 defines "conveyance as including every instrument, in writing, except a will, by which any estate or interest in real property is created, transferred, assigned or surrendered"; however, conveyances other then quitclaim imposes additional obligations on vendor and should be made only after municipality has made certain it can meet those obligations. NY Ops Atty Gen 88-68 (Informal).

If a town has purchased land pursuant to a resolution declaring that a specific parcel should be acquired for park purposes, but the town never used the land at all, and if the land is considered unsuitable for park purposes by the town board and if the deed contains no restriction stating that the land shall be used as a park, the rule of inalienability of park land does not apply and the land can be conveyed without a special act of the Legislature. 1978 Op St Compt File #771.

A reverter clause in an instrument conveying real property to a municipality is deemed to be enforceable unless it is illegal or against public policy. 1980 Op St Compt File #483.

Where a strip of land was not acquired for park purposes but for highway purposes, a special act of the legislature is not needed to alienate an interest therein. Whether a parcel of land was acquired for park purposes is a question of fact. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-255.

25. Depositary, generally

The guaranteed portion of SBA loans may be used as collateral for municipal and school district investments and deposits. 1976 Op St Compt No. 76–1155.

Given the transactional nature of N.O.W. accounts, whenever a municipal officer or employee is authorized or required to deposit moneys received by him in his official capacity, said officer may utilize either a checking account or a N.O.W. account. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-123.

26. Easements

Easement for power line through town park conveyed to town for park purposes may not be granted without specific legislative authorization. 1974 NY Ops Atty Gen June 7 (informal).

The Town of Newburgh is authorized to obtain easements on, and condemn if necessary, land within the City of Newburgh, for the purpose of constructing thereon a sewer trunk line to the City's sewage treatment plant. 1974 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 8.

A town board may release a town easement to the grantor upon adoption of a resolution which is subject to a permissive referendum if such easement is no longer needed for any town purpose and fair and adequate consideration is paid to the town. 1980 Op St Compt File #267.

A town may adopt a resolution, subject to permissive referendum, conveying a license or easement for the purpose of drawing water from a well located on town property provided that the town board determines that the conveyance will not interfere with any town purpose and the town receives fair consideration. Any such agreement may be for a multi-year period extending beyond the term of the governing board which enters into the agreement, but it may not be for an indefinite term. 1981 Op St Compt File #81-209.

27. Franchises, generally

28. —CATV

Since a television cable concern is not regulated by the Public Service Commission, a Town Board may grant it a franchise upon such terms and conditions as are deemed proper. 1961 NY Ops Atty Gen June 6.

29. —Exclusive franchises

In the absence of specific legislative authority, a Town Board may not grant an exclusive franchise for use of its streets, highways and public places. 1964 NY Ops Atty Gen Sept 11.

30. Funds; investment of Temporary deposits of funds for income by a municipal corporation require security by a local banking institution; the statutes mentioned are not in conflict. 1965 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 8.

Recent amendments to the Banking Law and other laws at an Extraordinary Session of the State Legislature (L 1980, ch 883) did not change the status of the law so as to authorize municipal funds to be invested in savings banks. 1981 Op St Compt No. 81-11, 1981

A town is not authorized to invest town funds in a savings bank account. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-9.

Given the transactional nature of N.O.W. accounts, whenever a municipal officer or employee is authorized or required to deposit moneys received by him in his official capacity, said officer may utilize either a checking account or a N.O.W. account. A town clerk is required to deposit all moneys received by him not later than three business days after the total thereof exceeds fifty dollars and therefore is authorized to deposit moneys in a N.O.W. account designated by the town board as a depository of town funds. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-123.

31. Gifts to town

32. —Conditional gifts

Land conveyed to a municipality under a condition whereby it will revert to the grantor if it is not used as a golf course is a fixed asset for purposes of the municipality's annual financial report to the Comptroller. 1980 Op St Compt File #483.

A town board may accept gifts of money by private citizens to be used specifically as a defense fund for a suit attacking the constitutionality of the town's zoning ordinance. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-336.

A town board, under Town Law § 64(17-a) does not have a right to obtain a historical landmark by condemnation or otherwise but might be authorized to acquire such by gift if Town Law § 64(8) is complied with. 1967 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 24 (Informal), 1967 N.Y. AG LEXIS 68.

While the Town of Skaneateles is authorized to take by gift real and personal property for any public use upon such terms or conditions as may be prescribed by the donor and accepted by said town, it is not authorized to accept all of the stock of a business corporation whose only asset is the land it wishes to donate to the town. 1973 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 26 (informal).

There is no authority for a town or any of its departments or agencies to either solicit funds for use in town programs or participate in fund-raising activities for such purpose. A town may, however, accept gifts of moneys solicited by a private civic group. 1978 Op St Compt File #256.

An unconditional gift of money to a town may not be used to establish a reserve fund to pay tort claims. 1978 Op St Compt File #1063.

A town board may accept a gift for a particular town purpose subject to the condition that town moneys in the same amount be provided for the same purpose, so long as the town board is not relinquishing any of its powers and duties relating to appropriations and expenditures. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-165.

33. Historic places

A town board, under Town Law § 64(17-a) does not have a right to obtain a historical landmark by condemnation or otherwise but might be authorized to acquire such by gift if Town Law § 64(8) is complied with. 1967 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 24 (Informal), 1967 N.Y. AG LEXIS 68.

Tax money of a municipality may be used to help operate and maintain a museum owned and operated by a corporation incorporated by or with the consent of the Regents and registered by the Regents. 1971 NY Ops Atty Gen Aug 16.

A town has the authority to acquire historic edifices by either purchase or condemnation. 1978 Op St Compt File #497.

A town may make a contribution to a county for the repair of a covered bridge which has been recognized to be of historic significance and value so long as a determination is first made that such a contribution would serve a legitimate town purpose. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-143.

34. Indemnity insurance

A suburban town may adopt a local law superseding the provisions of section 55-b of the Town Law and removing the limitations therein with respect to the maximum amount of the reserve fund authorized thereby. 1978 Op St Compt File #452.

Discussion of workmen's compensation and liability insurance coverage of persons working on a volunteer basis for a town. 1978 Op St Compt File #712.

There is serious doubt as to the enforceability of a general waiver of liability obtained by a municipality from a person working on a volunteer basis for such municipality. 1978 Op St Compt File #789.

Special districts that are not townwide may be self-insured in the town's liability and casualty reserve fund. Payments into the reserve fund on behalf of special districts for both liability and casualty protection are charged against the districts, and should be allocated among the districts on some equitable basis such as exposure to risk. 1979 Op St Compt File #621.

The cost of liability insurance is a general town-wide charge, and may not be apportioned to the general part-town fund or the highway fund. 1980 Op St Compt File #456.

35. Lighting of highways and bridges

A county may terminate the lighting of public highways without advance notice to towns. Towns may provide lighting on public highways as a general town charge. There is no duty for a town or county to provide lighting on public highways. 1981 NY Ops Atty Gen June 1 (Informal).

(1) A town may not use general funds to install or maintain street lights within the boundaries of an incorporated village except on public bridges which are not under the jurisdiction of the village and (2) a town lighting district may only provide street lighting in a village if the village is within the district. 1980 Op St Compt File #368.

36. Management, custody and control of town property, generally

37. —Abandoned or unclaimed property

A town board may sell abandoned and unclaimed property held by the town police department, not accepted by the Comptroller and the Motor Vehicle Commissioner. 1958 NY Ops Atty Gen Aug 6 (informal).

A town may lease unneeded real property to junkyard businesses and in connection therewith, construct fencing on the leased property. 1979 Op St Compt File #606.

Where a town owns a boarded-up mansion, a member of the town board has the right to enter and inspect it. He may also bring a reasonable number of interested persons with him, subject to certain conditions. However, no single board member can cause the mansion to be opened for a general public inspection without the approval of a majority of the board. 1981 Op St Compt File #718.

38. —Gifts, generally

39. — —Gratuitous use

A town may furnish the state police and/or the county sheriff with free office facilities, including heat, light, water and janitorial services. 1979 Op St Compt File #462.

Abutting landowners who own and use private road may dedicate road to town, whereupon town becomes responsible for maintenance. 1979 Op St Compt File #631.

A town, either alone or jointly with a village, may establish a "tree trust" to accept gifts of money to be used for planting and maintaining trees on public property. 1981 Op St Compt File #80-768.

If an unincorporated cemetery association conveys a cemetery and perpetual trust fund to a town, the money in the fund may be used only for the particular cemetery involved and not for other town cemeteries. 1981 Op St Compt File #80-810.

A town may not make a gift of public funds to a private historical association but it may enter a contract with an historical association for the support or maintenance of any historic edifices located in the town. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-283.

40. —Highway equipment

Discussion of the town board's power to investigate and settle the town's claim for damages when the town highway superintendent uses town equipment for private purposes. 1979 Op St Compt File #134.

A town highway superintendent has the power to authorize highway employees to take highway vehicles home at night regardless of any contrary policy adopted by the town board. 1981 Op St Compt File #80-806.

In the absence of a collective bargaining agreement so authorizing, a town board may not permit highway employees the use of the highway garage and town equipment to repair and work on their own personal vehicles. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-241.

Town highway equipment is under the management and control of the town highway superintendent and the town board may not impose restrictions on its use so long as it is being used for town highway purposes. This rule applies even where the superintendent is traveling outside the limits of the town if such travel is related to his official duties. In using a highway department vehicle to attend a conference or meeting outside of the town, the superintendent only needs the approval of the town board if the conference or meeting is covered by section 77-b of the General Municipal Law or if additional expenses would be incurred. The town board may impose restrictions on any town vehicles which do not belong to the highway department. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-240.

41. —Licenses and concessions

In joint town and village park managed by town, town has discretion to grant one or more concessions to private vendors to sell food. 1979 Op St Compt File #178.

The granting of a revocable license, for adequate consideration, to a church to use a town community center building for religious services would not fall within the constitutional prohibition contained in article XI, § 3 of the State Constitution. 1981 Op St Compt File #645.

A town may grant a license to use town property for the purpose of ingress and egress to the licensee's property. Such a license would not be considered a conveyance of real property and need not be subject to a permissive referendum. The town may require the licensee to improve the property that he travels on but the cost thereof should be treated as part of the consideration paid for the license since the town will be benefited thereby. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-180.

42. —Town hall

The Town of Tusten is not authorized to purchase a building from the Narrowsburg Fire Department which now houses a movie theater under lease to a private person and where only a portion of said building would be used for a town purpose; namely, a town hall. 1973 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 29 (informal).

A town may not permit use of a portion of its town hall by a group if it is also used for town purposes; if not so used, it may lease the portion to a private group for adequate consideration. 1978 Op St Compt File #777.

A town may lease office space in the town hall which is not needed for town purposes to the local post office for a fair and reasonable rental. 1981 Op St Compt File #81-173.

43. —Town offices, generally

44. — —Location

In view of the duty imposed upon the town board to have custody of town property, it may require a town clerk to maintain his office in quarters provided by the town. 1957 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 11 (informal).

A town may house in one building its town offices, justice court offices and police headquarters and may locate the building anywhere within the town or within a village wholly or partly within the town. 1981 NY Ops Atty Gen March 4 (informal).

A town board may require that the records of the town clerk's office be kept in space provided therefor in the town office building and, to that extent, the board may dictate the location of the town clerk's office. 1979 Op St Compt File #221.

The town board of any town (including a suburban town), rather than the supervisor, has the authority to determine the location of various town offices and departments within town office buildings. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-171.

Pursuant to state law, town board has authority to determine location of office of town's board of assessors; pursuant to local law, town board may require board of assessors to maintain regular office hours. 9 Op Counsel SBEA No. 91 (1989).

Town board cannot require supervisor's office to be kept open for use of other town personnel when office must be kept locked for security of supervisor's records. 1978 Op St Compt File #231.

The secretary to the highway superintendent may not keep the superintendent's records in her home unless the town board has designated her home to be the superintendent's office. The town supervisor may not order that mail addressed to other town officers be delivered to him unless the town board has authorized him to receive such mail. 1981 Op St Compt File #80-663.

45. —Town park, generally

46. — —Playground; recreational facility

The only occasion upon which an expenditure for the establishment of a public park and playground and acquisition of the land for the same and the equipping of it with suitable structures and apparatus is subject to a referendum, is when such expenditure is to be made solely under the provisions of the Town Law and from taxes levied for the fiscal year in which the expenditure is to be made, in which case the expenditure is subject to a permissive referendum. One other method of expenditure is authorized when action is to be taken solely under the provisions of the Town Law and that is when the expenditure is to be made in whole from moneys appropriated from surplus funds, but when the expenditure is to be made from such surplus funds, it is not subject to a permissive referendum. On the other hand, where financing of the program is to be relied upon, this is provided for by following a combination of the provisions contained in the Town Law and in the Local Finance Law, in which case, if the financing (as distinguished from the expenditure) is to be accomplished through the sale of bonds with a proposed maturity greater than five years, it is subject to a permissive referendum whereas if the financing is to be accomplished through sale of bonds with a proposed maturity of not more than five years from the date of the bonds or from the date of the first bond anticipation note issued in anticipation of the sale of the bonds, whichever date is earlier, it is not subject to a permissive referendum. In the event of financing under the Local Finance Law, the expenditure itself is not subject to an additional referendum. If this were not the case, and two referenda could be held, the ridiculous result could be produced that the first referendum could be approved, authorizing sale of long-term obligations, and the second could be rejected, thus effectively preventing the expenditure of the funds so raised. 1976 Ops Atty Gen Oct 15.

A town board may grant a concession for a reasonable fee, terminable at will by the town, to a private entity to operate a restaurant in a town-owned building in the town park. 1978 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 23 (Informal).

A municipality may enter into a gas pooling agreement whereby municipal park lands are used in such pool, and gas underlying such lands may be extracted in exchange for a portion of royalties, so long as any actual drilling is done on non-park lands. 1977 Op St Compt File #430.

Award of concession to private vendor to sell food from mobile unit at joint town and village park is not subject to competitive bidding. 1979 Op St Compt File #178.

Where a town has used property for park purposes and has by ordinance incorporated the property into its park system, the property is restricted to use for park purposes only and it may not be conveyed or used for other purposes without specific authority from the State Legislature. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-361.

47. —Town waterway; dam

Town Law, § 64(11-a), Village Law, § 4-412(3)(1) and General Municipal Law, § 119-o are permissive statutes and impose no duty on the town or village to make repairs on privately owned streams within such municipalities. 1979 NY Ops Atty Gen Sept 14 (Informal).

While a town has no duty to maintain or repair a privately-owned dam, it has authority to do so where there is a danger of flooding. 1979 Op St Compt No.79–372.

A town is not empowered to develop town-owned real property for the purpose of converting it into building lots for sale. 1955 NY Ops Atty Gen Sept 23 (informal).

In the absence of express legislative grant, a municipality may not exercise its jurisdiction beyond its boundaries and may not, therefore, regulate by ordinance or local law the use of real property owned by it but located in another municipality. 1971 NY Ops Atty Gen May 11 (informal).

A town may house in one building its town offices, justice court offices and police headquarters and may locate the building anywhere within the town or within a village wholly or partly within the town. 1981 NY Ops Atty Gen March 4 (informal).

Underground sprinkler systems may be allowed within the boundaries of town property. 1991 NY Ops Atty Gen I 91-22.

Local government is not authorized to permit use of its property for private advertising. 1992 NY Ops Atty Gen I 92-56.

A town may rent to a Federal agency a log chipper which is currently not needed for town purposes for adequate consideration. 1978 Op St Compt File #934.

A town assessor may not be denied travel expenses for the use of his automobile when used to perform his duties of assessing property in the town, and a town board may dictate where the office of assessor shall be located but may not require the assessor to travel to his office before leaving to assess property in the town. 1980 Op St Compt File #285.

48. Medical matters; facilities and services

49. —Town physician

A town can pay a physician, an X-ray technician, a receptionist and a physician's attendant to operate a town-owned primary health care center. 1978 Op St Compt File #770.

There are various means whereby a town having a public general hospital may "guarantee" a physician an annual sum or salary for practicing in the community. 1979 Op St Compt File #670.

50. Official newspapers, generally

51. —Location outside of town

Where the only newspaper published in the county and circulated within a town is not entered in a post office within five miles of the town, the town board has the discretion to designate as the official newspaper of the town a newspaper which is published in a city in an adjoining county if that newspaper has a general circulation within the town and is entered in the post office as second class matter. 1980 Op St Compt File #307.

Where a town has three different newspapers which have a circulation within the town, only one of which is entered as second class matter in a post office located in the town, the town may designate only that publication as the official newspaper. Where a newspaper is entered as second class matter in a post office which is located outside the town but which delivers mail to an area of the town under the post office's geographical lines, such newspaper is not eligible to be designated as the official newspaper. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-307.

52. —"Newspaper" defined

A "throw-away" pamphlet distributed to the public without charge is not a "newspaper" which can be designated as official by a municipality. 1963 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 20.

A newspaper which has been designated by a town as an official newspaper does not cease to be an official newspaper if it changes its name, changes its format, or if it closes down with no publication for one week in order to retool. 1990 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. I90-49.

A town may not designate as the official newspaper, a periodical that has not been entered as second class matter. Postal regulations prevent a publication designed primarily for advertising or having free circulation from being entered as second class matter. 1981 Op St Compt No. 81-70, 1981 N.Y. Comp. LEXIS 818.

53. —"Published" defined

A newspaper which has been designated by a town as an official newspaper does not cease to be an official newspaper if it changes its name, changes its format, or if it closes down with no publication for one week in order to retool. 1990 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. I90-49.

A newspaper which has general circulation in the town by subscription, but is not available at news stands, may be designated as the official newspaper. 1980 Op St Compt No. 80–123.

54. —Use of other than official newspaper

Where a particular section of the Town Law does not otherwise require, notices may be published in a newspaper not designated as the official newspaper. 1956 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 16 (informal).

55. —Miscellaneous

(1) A Pennysaver-type shopping circular may not be designated the official town newspaper; (2) provided all statutory criteria are met, a newspaper published in Pennsylvania may be designated the town's official newspaper; (3) it is not necessary for the town, in choosing a newspaper published outside the county, to designate the paper having the greatest circulation in the town. 1979 NY Ops Atty Gen June 28. (Informal).

A newspaper which has been designated by a town as an official newspaper does not cease to be an official newspaper if it changes its name, changes its format, or if it closes down with no publication for one week in order to retool. 1990 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. I90-49.

The circulation rating of a newspaper, in which town legal notices are published, should be based on total paid circulation over a recent period of six months or so. 1978 Op St Compt File #200.

A town board is advised not to designate as the official town newspaper a newspaper in which a town board member is interested as a stockholder of the corporation publishing such newspaper. 1957 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 22 (informal).

If only one newspaper has been published in a town for at least one year and is entered in a post office as second class mail matter, that is the only newspaper which can be designated as the official town newspaper. 1980 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 29 (informal).

CLS Town § 64(11) establishes procedures for selection of official newspaper. 1992 NY Ops Atty Gen I 92-36.

Discussion of the topic of an official town newspaper and the publication of legal notices. 1978 Op St Compt File #657.

Discussion of official newspaper. 1979 Op St Compt File #41.

A town board resolution designating an official town newspaper may be repealed at any time. 1981 Op St Compt File #81-221.

56. Patriotic holidays, generally

A town and a village may agree to expend funds jointly to pay for the cost of publishing a coloring book commemorating the 300th anniversary of the area. 1978 Op St Compt File #264.

A village may authorize the appropriation of funds for the observance of Memorial Day by adoption of a local law or resolution. 1978 Op St Compt No. 78–854.

Section 64(12) of the Town Law, imposing a $1000 ceiling on annual appropriations for Veteran's Day observance by towns within a certain population class is a special law, and its terms may be superseded by a local law properly enacted. 1978 Op St Compt File #961.

57. Postings additional to signboards

Subdivision 14-a is intended for public purposes for benefit of the town generally and is constitutional. 1939 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 143.

58. Publicity, generally

59. —Payments for publicity, generally

60. — —For historical celebrations

Town funds may properly be expended for a centennial celebration of the establishment of a town. 1955 NY Ops Atty Gen May 12 (informal).

A town which has agreed to pay $10,000 to a local chamber of commerce pursuant to a contract for publicity services may not pay any additional moneys to the chamber of commerce in the absence of a resolution subject to mandatory referendum. 1979 Op St Compt File #94.

A town may expend publicity fund moneys to defray the cost of printing the cover of a telephone and business directory issued by the chamber of commerce. 1980 Op St Compt File #109.

An agreement between the Town of Pelham and the League of Women Voters to pay publicity fund moneys for the preparation and distribution of a booklet promoting the general, commercial and industrial welfare of the Town is improper because it leaves the final determination as to the contents of the booklet to the League and does not provide for a set-off of costs of publication and distribution to the extent that advertising revenues exceed the value of the League's services. Such revenues may not exceed the Town's costs and become a source of general revenue to the Town. Opn No. 67-787 superseded. 1981 Op St Compt File #80-671.

Because the amendments to sub 14 of this section made at the 1952 session of the legislature can be harmonized, it is believed that a town of the second class may expend the amount of $2000 annually for publicity purposes. 1953 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 21 (informal).

A town may not establish a separate fund, nor may it use its publicity fund to pay the expense of publishing a summary and condensed notices of forthcoming town board meetings. However, public notice of such meetings must be given. 1978 Op St Compt File #417.

The State Legislature may enact a special law authorizing a town to impose an occupancy tax on hotels and motels within the town. A formal home rule request from the town is not required. The Legislature may also direct that the revenues produced from such tax are to be credited to the publicity fund of the town. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-218.

61. Street names, numbers and signs

A Town Board may authorize a Superintendent of Highways to purchase road signs at a cost not exceeding $1,000 in any one year, the cost to be a general town charge. 1964 NY Ops Atty Gen May 22.

62. Town contracts, generally

63. —Competitive bidding; private sales

A town may contract for the sale and delivery of recyclable newspaper to a private recycling firm. Such a contract would not be subject to competitive bidding procedures. 1979 Op St Compt File #146.

Award of concession to private vendor to sell food from mobile unit at joint town and village park is not subject to competitive bidding. 1979 Op St Compt File #178.

Competitive bidding is not required for the sale of a damaged vehicle by a town, but is required for repair work to a damaged vehicle, if an expenditure in excess of the bidding monetary limit is involved. If no bidding is required for the repair work, the town is still obligated to secure such work at a reasonable cost and would be advised to obtain cost estimates in this regard. 1979 Op St Compt File #560.

64. —Highways, driveways and the like

A town board is not authorized to contract with a private individual on behalf of the town to plow out driveways of all individual persons in the town who request the service, nor is there any authority for the formation of a district encompassing the entire town or part thereof for such purpose. 1968 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 14 (informal).

A town may purchase gravel for highway purposes in exchange for performing grading and filling work at the gravel site of the vendor-landowner, provided the value of such work does not exceed the value of the gravel purchased. 1978 Op St Compt File #988.

65. —Interest of town official in contract

General rules are that (a) no officer of a county, city, town, school district, fire district or improvement district may be interested directly or indirectly in a claim other than for his compensation against political subdivision of which he is an officer; and (b) a public officer who is an officer or director of a corporation doing business with governmental unit of which he is an officer has such an interest in corporation's claim as to make contract unlawful. 1946 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 2.

A retired town officer may contract with the town, but, by so doing, may lose his retirement benefits. 1961 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 21.

A member of a town board may not have an interest in a contract of insurance with such town except where the total consideration payable thereunder, together with all other considerations payable under contracts with such town in which he has an interest during the fiscal year, does not exceed $100.00; or where his interest is only that of a stockholder owning or controlling less than 5% of the stock of the corporation entering into such contract with the town. In any event, disclosure under § 803 must be made. 1969 NY Ops Atty Gen July 16.

Subdivision 6 of this section, in permitting the Town Board to award contracts, does not prohibit the awarding of contracts by other officers or agencies of the town. 1961 NY Ops Atty Gen June 13.

A town may enter into an agreement wherein it provides funds for the preservation and indexing of historical artifacts which residents either give or lend to the town. 1980 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec. 12 (informal).

A town may appropriate the necessary funds (if funds are available) to pay a claim based upon a contract entered into in a prior year where no appropriation had been made in the year of the contract, provided that funds were available from which an appropriation could have been made in the year the contract was entered into and provided the statute of limitations has not run out. If such a claim is for preliminary work in connection with a capital project for which bonds are issued, the proceeds from such bond issue may be used to pay the claim. 1978 Op St Compt File #608.

A town may enter into an agreement pursuant to Town Law, § 64(12) with a private baseball club to provide an Independence Day fireworks display and pay all or part of the expense therefor, if the display is a town activity and, as such, under the sponsorship and control of the town. 1979 Op St Compt File #742.

A choice of law clause within a public contract would be permissible so long as there is authorization to enter into the underlying contract. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-178.

66. Traffic control, signals and standards, generally

67. —On private property

Regulation of parking and traffic in a private condominium complex is an exercise of a town's police powers, and a town is subject to the same constitutional principles as when it regulates parking and traffic on public streets and highways—e.g., regulations should bear reasonable relation to public welfare and operate with substantial equality and uniformity. The installation of signs and traffic controls in a private condominium complex is a town charge and may not be charged back against the property in question. 1978 Op St Compt File #269.

The cost of installing and maintaining traffic control signs in a private apartment complex is a town charge, and may not be charged back against the apartment owners. 1981 Op St Compt File #80-733.

68. —On state or county roads

A town board has no authority to erect "stop" and "go" signal over and upon state or county highway without permit from superintendent of public works. 1927 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 308.

Although traffic control signals, as defined by Vehicle and Traffic Law, § 2 (24) may be installed and maintained as provided for by Town Law, § 64 (16), a town board cannot enact ordinances enforcing obedience to a traffic control signal. Violations in connection therewith must be prosecuted under provisions of Vehicle and Traffic Law. 1937 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 172.

A town cannot place a gate across a public highway in order to restrict the use thereof to town officials and employees and to owners of property along the highway. 1980 NY Ops Atty Gen July 29 (Informal), 1980 N.Y. AG LEXIS 75.

69. Vacancies in town office, generally

70. —Created by election tie

The provisions of this section, authorizing town board to fill vacancy in any town office by appointment, apply where there is failure to elect by reason of tie vote. 1911 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 520.

In the event of a tie vote at an election for a town office there is a failure to elect and the town board fills the vacancy occurring after the expiration of the term of the incumbent who holds over until his successor is appointed. 1955 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 9 (informal).

Where there is a tie vote for election to a town office there is a failure to elect and the town board may fill the vacancy by appointment. 1957 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov. 14 (informal).

Where there is a tie vote for an elective office a vacancy will exist at the expiration of the current term. The vacancy must be filled by the appointing board. If the appointing board fails to act, the Governor may require a special election. A special proceeding may be brought to compel the board to act, and if the board then fails, the judgment may require a special election. Appointing officer holds office until following December 31, and balance of term is filled at November election. Officer elected at special election holds for balance of unexpired term. 1973 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 30.

71. —Discretion of town board as to filling

Where a vacancy exists in the membership of a town board, the authority of the town board is mandatory and not discretionary. Failure of the town board to appoint would authorize a proceeding in the nature of mandamus to compel an appointment. 1970 NY Ops Atty Gen March 5.

If a town board member resigns before September 20 in an even-numbered year and the town board does not appoint to fill the vacancy and an election is held to fill the vacancy, the winner will take office immediately upon the certification of the election by the board of canvassers and upon qualifying for the office. 1978 NY Ops Atty Gen Sept 5.

The failure to follow procedure required by law for a permissive referendum invalidates the resolution by the Town Board in reducing the number of justices from 2 to 1. If the second office of town justice is currently vacant, the town board is empowered to fill the vacancy. The fact that a second town justice should have been available, however, did not invalidate actions transferred to and taken by other justices, where sole town justice was unable to act by reason of conflict of interests, etc. 1990 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. I90-35.

72. —Eligibility of town officers

A town clerk may resign that office and thereafter be appointed by the town board to fill a vacancy in another elective town office. Of course, this vacancy must be filled by election at the next general election. 1959 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr. 9 (informal).

Under Town Law Section 64(5) and Public Officers Law Section 30(2), a member of the Town Board of the Town of Amherst which created the position of Second Deputy Town Attorney may be appointed by said Board to such position, following the resignation from said Board. 1971 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 5 (informal).

In view of the statutory authority contained in Town Law, § 64(5), when a vacancy occurs in the Office of Supervisor of the Town of Blooming Grove, a member of the Town Council upon his resignation as Councilman may be appointed to said Office of Supervisor. 1975 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 28 (informal).

A town board member may not be appointed by the town board to a town job unless the member first resigns from the town board. 1981 NY Ops Atty Gen April 7 (informal).

Section 64(5) of CLS Town permits a former town board member to be appointed only to another town office. 1987 NY Ops Atty Gen No. 87-79 (Informal).

Because of the town board's powers over the town justice and court, and the possible appearance before the court by a town board member in his capacity as police officer, the position of town board member and chief of police department of a village within the town are incompatible, and therefore a person should not simultaneously hold both offices. 1990 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. I90-7.

73. —Specific office vacancies, generally

74. — —Assessor

A town cannot change from sole appointed assessor to three elective assessors. When office of appointive town assessor becomes vacant, town board appoints individual who serves for remainder of unexpired term. 1980 Op St Compt File #12.

Where the office of town assessor becomes vacant before September twentieth of any year the town board may appoint an assessor to hold the office for the remainder of the calendar year. The town should elect a new assessor at the general election in November to fill the vacancy for the remainder of the unexpired term. No special election need be held. 1980 Op St Compt File #269.

The appointment of an individual to fill a vacancy in the position of appointed assessor is subject to pertinent civil service requirements. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-4.

75. — —Justice of the peace

A person elected to fill a vacancy of the office of justice of the peace is entitled to assume the office upon his election thereto and qualification therefor. 1953 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 9 (informal).

Where a town in the second class becomes a town in the first class and a justice of the peace, whose term of office has two years to run, resigns, there is doubt whether the town board may properly fill the vacancy. The question is whether it is the justice in office or the term of the office itself which is constitutionally protected. 1954 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 14 (informal).

A vacancy in the office of justice of the peace occurring on August 11, 1957, should be filled at the 1957 general election. 1957 NY Ops Atty Gen July 28 (informal).

The failure to follow procedure required by law for a permissive referendum invalidates the resolution by the Town Board in reducing the number of justices from 2 to 1. If the second office of town justice is currently vacant, the town board is empowered to fill the vacancy. The fact that a second town justice should have been available, however, did not invalidate actions transferred to and taken by other justices, where sole town justice was unable to act by reason of conflict of interests, etc. 1990 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. I90-35.

76. — —Town board member

Town board has authority to fill vacancy by appointment for prescribed period or until filled by special election. 1935 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 117.

A vacancy on a town board is filled by appointment by the remaining members of the town board and if they are unable to agree, the Governor may, in his discretion, proclaim a special election to fill the vacancy. Any resident of the town may bring a proceeding under Article 78 CPLR to compel the town board to appoint and could ask, as alternate or additional relief, that the court order a special election in the event the town board fails to appoint. 1978 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 2 (Informal).

77. — —Town clerk

An appointee to fill a vacancy in the office of town clerk and an appointee to fill a vacancy in the office of town justice must run for election to fill the unexpired portions of the terms. The fact that the appointees had previously been elected to and served in those offices has no relevancy to the question of whether an election must be held. An 18 year old who is otherwise qualified may be appointed to the office of deputy town clerk. 1972 NY Ops Atty Gen July 27 (informal), 1972 N.Y. AG LEXIS 118.

Where the elected town clerk and a councilman simultaneously resign in futuro and at same time town board passes a resolution appointing the councilman as town clerk, resolution has no effect: town councilman was still member of town board and vacancy in town clerk's office did not then exist. Elected town clerk's resignation must be filed with Secretary of State. When filed in town clerk's office, it has no effect so town clerk still holds office. Where resignation purported to be for balance of present and all of forthcoming term the resignation, even if properly filed, would be inoperative as to forthcoming term and present town clerk will hold over in office until qualifying for new term. If clerk fails to qualify for new term, town board may appoint. 1975 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 31 (informal).

Where a town clerk is re-elected and subsequently resigns prior to the expiration of his current term, two vacancies arise—one for the current term and one for the new term. The vacancies may not be filled until they actually occur, however, and an attempt to fill a prospective vacancy is null and void. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-30.

A town Recreation Commission may not appoint one of its members as Assistant to the Recreation Superintendent. The employment of a former commissioner to such position is not void simply because a majority of the commissioners serving at the time of such appointment previously served as commissioners with the individual being employed. However, in the latter case, additional circumstances may work to void the appointment. N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 83-38.

A town board member must first resign as such in order to be appointed to fill a vacancy in a town office, and this obviously prevents him from voting on his own appointment. 1978 Op St Compt File #607.

78. —Term of office, generally

79. — —Remainder of calendar year

Resignation of a supervisor prior to September 20 creates a vacancy which must be filled at the general election in the same year, and any appointment to fill a vacancy must be by a majority vote of the Town Board and for a term not longer than the end of the current year. 1962 NY Ops Atty Gen Mar 15.

The term of a supervisor appointed to fill a vacancy expires December 31 of the year in which the appointment is made. 1962 NY Ops Atty Gen July 17.

Subdivision 5 of this section conflicts to some extent with the time limit imposed by the Constitution on appointments to fill vacancies in elective town offices, and accordingly when the appointment is made to fill a vacancy occurring after September 20 and before the general election, the appointee may hold office only through December 31 of the same year, and the vacancy then ensuing may be filled by the Town Board by appointment to hold office until December 31 of that year. 1962 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 18.

One who is appointed to fill a vacancy in the office of justice of the peace holds office until the next annual election at which the vacancy may be filled, and if the vacancy is not then filled the Town Board may make an appointment to fill it to the end of the year. 1963 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 13.

If an elected town officer resigns before September 20 in an even-numbered year the vacancy is filled by appointment for the balance of the year and a successor is elected at the general election in November who will take office on the next January 1. 1978 NY Ops Atty Gen Sept 5.

Upon the failure to hold the required election to fill a vacancy in an elective office, the person appointed to temporarily fill the vacancy may not hold over beyond December 31 following the date on which the election should have been held. N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 84-67.

Where the office of town assessor becomes vacant before September twentieth of any year the town board may appoint an assessor to hold the office for the remainder of the calendar year. The town should elect a new assessor at the general election in November to fill the vacancy for the remainder of the unexpired term. No special election need be held. 1980 Op St Compt File #269.

80. — —Unexpired term

A person elected to fill vacancy in office of justice of peace at general or special election called for that purpose, but held at time when no biennial town meeting or special meeting was scheduled to be held, will hold office only for unexpired portion of term of office and not for full term. 1940 NY Ops Atty Gen June 24.

The term of a justice of the peace to fill a vacancy terminates upon the election of a person to fill the unexpired term and a person so elected is entitled to enter upon office immediately after election. 1957 NY Ops Atty Gen July 16 (informal).

Construing § 17 of art. VI of the Constitution with par. 5 of § 64 of the Town Law, where a vacancy occurs in the office of justice of the peace during a term which would expire December 31, and an appointment is made to fill the vacancy, it is necessary to elect a justice to serve from election day through December 31, as well as a justice for a new four-year term commencing January 1. 1961 NY Ops Atty Gen Mar 27.

The terms of a town assessor and councilman elected on November 6, 1962, to fill vacancies commence January 1, 1963 and terminate on the same day as the terms of their predecessors would have terminated. 1962 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 1.

Discussion of term of office of justice of peace appointed to fill a vacancy in Suffolk County and election of a successor to fill the balance of the term. 1962 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 27.

A town justice, elected to fill a vacancy, serves for the unexpired portion of the term, not for a full four-year term. 1974 NY Ops Atty Gen June 14 (informal).

When a member of a town zoning board of appeals holds over after the expiration of his term, a new five-year term commences at the expiration date and the town board should appoint a successor to fill the unexpired term. 1978 Op St Compt File #179.

Where there is a vacancy in the office of justice of the peace, the Town Board may fill it by appointment only until the next annual election and the appointment is valid only for such period, but the person so appointed is acting as a de facto justice if appointed for a longer term and continuing to act under such appointment. 1962 NY Ops Atty Gen May 2.

The Town of Ogden is not authorized to adopt a local law mandating that a vacancy in the elective offices of Supervisor or Councilman, arising otherwise than by expiration of term, be filled by a person of the same political affiliation as the person who vacated the office. 1972 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 25.

If an elected town officer resigns after September 20 in an even-numbered year, the vacancy is filled by appointment and unless the term will expire in the year in which the vacancy occurred the appointee will serve until the end of the following year. If a town board member resigns before September 20 in an even-numbered year and the town board does not appoint to fill the vacancy and an election is held to fill the vacancy, the winner will take office immediately upon the certification of the election by the board of canvassers and upon qualifying for the office. 1978 NY Ops Atty Gen Sept 5.

The failure to follow procedure required by law for a permissive referendum invalidates the resolution by the Town Board in reducing the number of justices from 2 to 1. If the second office of town justice is currently vacant, the town board is empowered to fill the vacancy. The fact that a second town justice should have been available, however, did not invalidate actions transferred to and taken by other justices, where sole town justice was unable to act by reason of conflict of interests, etc. 1990 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. I90-35.

81. —Voting by town board

Resignation of a supervisor prior to September 20 creates a vacancy which must be filled at the general election in the same year, and any appointment to fill a vacancy must be by a majority vote of the Town Board and for a term not longer than the end of the current year. 1962 NY Ops Atty Gen Mar 15.

A person named to fill a vacancy in the office of town supervisor or town councilman must receive not less than a majority of the votes of the entire authorized membership of the town board. 1972 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 13 (Informal), 1972 N.Y. AG LEXIS 157.

Member of town board who has tendered letter of resignation, effective at some future date, may not participate in appointment of his successor, and appointment may not be made until vacancy actually occurs. NY Ops Atty Gen 89-23 (Informal).

An individual must receive three votes to be appointed to fill a vacancy on the town board of a town of the second class. 1978 Op St Compt No. 78–1054.

Section 64, subd. 5, to the extent that it provides that the appointee of a town board to fill a vacancy in a town office shall hold office longer than the commencement of the political year next succeeding the first annual election after the happening of the vacancy violates New York Constitution, Art. X, § 5. 1938 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 99.

A vacancy in an elective town office occurring before September 20 in any year should be filled at the ensuing general election. 1957 NY Ops Atty Gen May 28 (informal).

Upon occurrence of a vacancy in an elective office, filled by appointment, failure to elect a successor for the balance of the unexpired term creates a continuing vacancy commencing on the next January first which cannot be filled by appointment and must be filled at a special election proclaimed by the Governor or ordered by a court. A person appointed to the office on or after the next January first is only a de facto officer. His acts as such cannot be attacked collaterally. 1973 NY Ops Atty Gen July 2 (informal).

Where an oath of office is filed a year or more late a vacancy in office is created and the vacancy can be filled by appointment. 1975 NY Ops Atty Gen Aug 29 (informal).

If an elected town officer resigns prior to September 20, the vacancy is filled by appointment for the balance of the year and a successor is elected at the general election in November. If an elected town officer resigns subsequent to September 20, the vacancy is filled by appointment, and unless the term will expire in the year in which the vacancy occurred, the appointee will serve until the end of the following year. 1976 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 7 (informal).

82. Weed, fire and other health hazard removal, generally

83. —Drainage facilities, generally

84. — —Financing

Discussion of imposition of charges for sewer service by a village against a town park located in the village. 1978 Op St Compt File #902.

An appropriation of funds for a drainage improvement project which is not set up as a capital project or a reserve fund would lapse at the expiration of the year for which the funds were appropriated. 1979 Op St Compt File #243.

A town may correct a drainage or flooding problem affecting a small portion of the town with an expenditure from the general fund. 1980 Op St Compt File #193.

A town may clean and deepen a stream, for flood control purposes, flowing within a village in a town, as well as that portion of the stream located outside the village. 1955 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 2 (informal).

A town may correct drainage problem affecting small portion of town, pursuant to section 64(11-a). 1979 Op St Compt File #281.

85. —Dumping

In towns which use village dumping grounds, contracts for such use should be made pursuant to subd. 20-a of this section. 1961 NY Ops Atty Gen July 26.

86. —Public works department

The Town Board of the Town of Collins, Erie County, a town of the second class with a population of less than 10,000 people as shown by the latest federal census, is not authorized to discontinue by local law, or otherwise, the position of town superintendent of highways, but is authorized by local law to establish a department of public works. 1968 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 9.

Town may enact local law requiring removal of brush, grass, rubbish or weeds, and, where there is noncompliance, cause work to be performed and charge expense to property owner at same time and in same manner as other town taxes. 9 Op Counsel SBEA No. 55 (1990).

87. Other powers exercised, generally

88. —Proper exercise, generally

89. — —Highways, roads, driveways and the like

Town may make its elected superintendent of highways the administrative head of department of public works. 1994 NY Ops Atty Gen I 94-43.

The town board may impose on the town highway superintendent the additional duties of keeping detailed records on preventive maintenance and repair for each piece of highway equipment, making a tally of fuel consumption versus mileage driven, and submitting this information monthly to the town board for review. 1979 Op St Compt File #904.

90. — —Police matters

(1) A town may, in the proper exercise of its police powers, permit town gasoline to be used by a fire district fire department in an emergency and charge the district for the cost of the gasoline. (2) A town and a school district may enter into a municipal cooperation agreement pursuant to which they would jointly purchase gasoline or the school district would purchase gasoline to be delivered to and stored by the town. 1981 Op St Compt File #81-10.

Town board could establish official letterhead and policy for its use by town officials. 1996 NY Ops Atty Gen I 96-47.

Town may allow consumption of alcohol on town property, and may implement permit system to regulate such consumption. 2003 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 2003-13 (Informal), 2003 N.Y. Op. (Inf.) Att'y Gen. 13, 2003 N.Y. AG LEXIS 17.

A town may grant a license or concession to sell refreshments in a town recreational facility to a local youth hockey organization. Such license or concession must be terminable at will by the town and the granting thereof must be preceded by a public hearing. 1980 Op St Compt File #491.

A town may sell cobble stones from a town owned gravel pit to another municipality or a private individual. 1980 Op St Compt File #626.

Since Town Board has power to create advisory committee, it is implicit under CLS Town § 64(23) that Board has power to require that committee function in certain way, such as in accordance with Open Meetings Law. Comm on Open Gov't OML-AO-3858.

Town Board could by local law or rule require advisory committee to grant public access to its meetings in manner consistent with Open Meetings Law. Comm on Open Gov't OML-AO-3858.

91. —Improper exercise, generally

92. — —Highways, roads, driveways and the like

A town may only permit the use of its highway equipment by a village pursuant to the provisions of the Highway Law. 1955 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 2 (informal).

Presently, a town board is not authorized to contract with a private individual on behalf of the town to plow out driveways of all individual persons in the town who request the service, nor is there any authority for the formation of a district encompassing the entire town or part thereof for such purpose. 1968 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 14.

Ordinance of town which purports to regulate and license hunting and trapping, being in conflict with provisions of Conservation Law, is not reasonable or permissible exercise of powers of town board, and is invalid. 1947 NY Ops Atty Gen Mar 18.

§ 64-g. Town of Warwick preservation funds

1. As used in this section, the following words and terms shall have the following meanings:

(a) "Town" means the town of Warwick.

(b) "Community preservation" shall mean and include any of the purposes outlined in subdivision four of this section.

(c) "Board" means the advisory board required pursuant to subdivision five of this section.

(d) "Fund" means the community preservation fund created pursuant to subdivision two of this section.

2. The town board of the town of Warwick is authorized to establish by local law a community preservation fund pursuant to the provisions of this section. Deposits into the fund may include revenues of the local government from whatever source and shall include, at a minimum, all revenues from a tax imposed upon the transfer of real property interests in such town pursuant to article thirty-one-F of the tax law. The fund shall also be authorized to accept gifts of any such interests in land or of funds. Interest accrued by monies deposited into the fund shall be credited to the fund. In no event shall monies deposited in the fund be transferred to any other account. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prevent the financing in whole or in part, pursuant to the local finance law, of any acquisition authorized pursuant to this section. Monies from the fund may be utilized to repay any indebtedness or obligations incurred pursuant to the local finance law consistent with effectuating the purposes of this section. The town of Warwick may only adopt the local law authorized by this subdivision if it has incurred or authorized bonded indebtedness since nineteen hundred eighty for open space purposes equal to or greater than two hundred dollars per town resident. The number of residents shall be determined by the 2000 U.S. Census. Said local law shall make a finding that the town has complied with the per resident financial commitment requirement of this subdivision.

3. The purposes of the fund shall be exclusively, (a) to implement a plan for the preservation of community character as required by this section, (b) to acquire interests or rights in real property for the preservation of community character within the town including villages therein in accordance with such plan and in cooperation with willing sellers, (c) to establish a bank pursuant to a transfer of development rights program consistent with section two hundred sixty-one-a of this chapter, and (d) to provide a management and stewardship program for such interests and rights consistent with subdivision nine of this section and in accordance with such plan designed to preserve community character. Not more than ten percent of the fund shall be utilized for the management and stewardship program. If the implementation of the community preservation project plan, adopted by the town board, as provided in subdivision six of this section, has been completed, and funds are no longer needed for the purposes outlined in this subdivision, then any remaining monies in the fund shall be applied to reduce any bonded indebtedness or obligations incurred to effectuate the purposes of this section.

4. Preservation of community character shall involve one or more of the following: (a) establishment of parks, nature preserves, or recreation areas; (b) preservation of open space, including agricultural lands; (c) preservation of lands of exceptional scenic value; (d) preservation of aquifer recharge areas; (e) preservation of undeveloped beachlands or shoreline; (f) establishment of wildlife refuges for the purpose of maintaining native animal species diversity, including the protection of habitat essential to the recovery of rare, threatened or endangered species; (g) preservation of unique or threatened ecological areas; (h) preservation of rivers and river areas in a natural, free-flowing condition; (i) preservation of forested land; (j) preservation of public access to lands for public use including stream rights and waterways; (k) preservation of historic places and properties listed on the New York state register of historic places and/or protected under a municipal historic preservation ordinance or law; and (l) undertaking any of the aforementioned in furtherance of the establishment of a greenbelt.

5. The town board which has established a community preservation fund shall create an advisory board to review and make recommendations on proposed acquisitions of interests in real property using monies from the fund. Such board shall consist of five or seven legal residents of the municipality who shall serve without compensation. No member of the local legislative body shall serve on the board. A majority of the members of the board shall have demonstrated experience with conservation or land preservation activities. The board shall act in an advisory capacity to the town board. At least one member of the board shall be an active farmer.

6. The town board which has established a community preservation fund shall, by local law, adopt a community preservation project plan. Such plan shall list every project which the town plans to undertake pursuant to the community preservation fund. It shall include every parcel which is necessary to be acquired in the town in order to protect community character. Such plan shall provide for a detailed evaluation of all available land use alternatives to protect community character, including but not limited to: (a) fee simple acquisition, (b) zoning regulations, including density reductions, cluster development, and site plan and design requirements, (c) transfer of development rights, (d) the purchase of development rights, and (e) scenic and conservation easements. Said evaluation shall be as specific as practicable as to each parcel selected for inclusion in such plan. Such plan shall establish the priorities for preservation, and shall include the preservation of farmland as its highest priority. Funds from the community preservation fund may only be expended for projects which have been included in such plan. Such plan shall be updated not less than once every five years, but in no event until at least three years after the adoption of the original plan. A copy of such plan shall be filed with the commissioner of environmental conservation, the commissioner of agriculture and markets and the commissioner of the office of parks, recreation and historic preservation. Such plan shall be completed at least sixty days before the submission of the mandatory referendum required by section fourteen hundred forty-nine-bbbb of the tax law.

7. The town board which has established a community preservation fund pursuant to this section shall study and consider establishing a transfer of development rights program to protect community character as provided for by section two hundred sixty-one-a of this chapter. All provisions of such section two hundred sixty-one-a shall be complied with. If at any time during the life of the community preservation fund a transfer of development rights program is established, the town may utilize monies from the community preservation fund in order to create and fund a central bank of the transfer of development rights program. If at any time during the life of the community preservation fund, a transfer of development rights program is repealed by the town, all monies from the central bank shall be returned to the community preservation fund.

8. No interests or rights in real property shall be acquired pursuant to this section until a public hearing is held as required by section two hundred forty-seven of the general municipal law; provided, however, that nothing herein shall prevent the town board from entering into a conditional purchase agreement before a public hearing is held. Any resolution of the town board approving an acquisition of land pursuant to this section, shall find that acquisition was the best alternative for the protection of community character of all the reasonable alternatives available to the town.

9. Lands acquired pursuant to this section shall be administered and managed in a manner which (a) allows public use and enjoyment in a manner compatible with the natural, scenic, historic and open space character of such lands; (b) preserves the native biological diversity of such lands; (c) with regard to open spaces, limits improvements to enhancing access for passive use of such lands such as nature trails, boardwalks, bicycle paths, and peripheral parking areas provided that such improvements do not degrade the ecological value of the land or threaten essential wildlife habitat; and (d) preserves cultural property consistent with accepted standards for historic preservation. In furthering the purposes of this section, the town may enter into agreements with corporations organized under the not-for-profit corporation law and engage in land trust activities to manage lands including less than fee interests acquired pursuant to the provisions of this section, provided that any such agreement shall contain a provision that such corporation shall keep the lands accessible to the public unless such corporation shall demonstrate to the satisfaction of the town that public accessibility would be detrimental to the lands or any natural resources associated therewith.

10. Rights or interests in real property acquired with monies from such fund shall not be sold, leased, exchanged, donated, or otherwise disposed of or used for other than the purposes permitted by this section without the express authority of an act of the legislature, which shall provide for the substitution of other lands of equal environmental value and fair market value and reasonably equivalent usefulness and location to those to be discontinued, sold or disposed of, and such other requirements as shall be approved by the legislature. Nothing in this section shall preclude the town, by local law, from establishing additional restrictions to the alienation of lands acquired pursuant to this section. This subdivision shall not apply to the sale of development rights by the town acquired pursuant to this section, where said sale is made by a central bank created by the town, pursuant to a transfer of development rights program established by the town pursuant to section two hundred sixty-one-a of this chapter, provided, however (a) that the lands from which said development rights were acquired shall remain preserved in perpetuity by a permanent conservation easement or other instrument that similarly preserves the community character referenced in subdivision four of this section, and (b) the proceeds from such sale shall be deposited in the community preservation fund.

§ 64-h. Town of Red Hook preservation funds

1. As used in this section, the following words and terms shall have the following meanings:

(a) "Town" means the town of Red Hook.

(b) "Community preservation" shall mean and include any of the purposes outlined in subdivision five of this section.

(c) "Board" means the advisory board required pursuant to subdivision six of this section.

(d) "Fund" means the community preservation fund created pursuant to subdivision two of this section.

(e) "Tax" shall mean the real estate transfer tax imposed pursuant to section fourteen hundred thirty-eight-b of the tax law or, if the context clearly indicates, shall mean the real estate transfer tax imposed pursuant to article thirty-one of the tax law.

2. The town board of the town of Red Hook is authorized to establish by local law a community preservation fund pursuant to the provisions of this section. Deposits into the fund may include revenues of the local government from whatever source and shall include, at a minimum, all revenues from a tax imposed upon the transfer of real property interests in such town pursuant to article thirty-one-A-1 of the tax law. The fund shall also be authorized to accept gifts of any such interests in land or of funds. Interest accrued by monies deposited into the fund shall be credited to the fund. In no event shall monies deposited in the fund be transferred to any other account. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prevent the financing in whole or in part, pursuant to the local finance law, of any acquisition authorized pursuant to this section. Monies from the fund may be utilized to repay any indebtedness or obligations incurred pursuant to the local finance law consistent with effectuating the purposes of this section.

3. The purposes of the fund shall be exclusively, (a) to implement a plan for the preservation of community character as required by this section, (b) to acquire interests or rights in real property for the preservation of community character within the town including villages therein in accordance with such plan and in cooperation with willing sellers, (c) to establish a bank pursuant to a transfer of development rights program consistent with section two hundred sixty-one-a of this chapter, and (d) to provide a management and stewardship program for such interests and rights consistent with subdivision ten of this section and in accordance with such plan designed to preserve community character. Not more than ten percent of the fund shall be utilized for the management and stewardship program.

4. If the implementation of the community preservation project plan, adopted by the town board, as provided in subdivision seven of this section, has been completed, and funds are no longer needed for the purposes outlined in this subdivision, then any remaining monies in the fund shall be applied to reduce any bonded indebtedness or obligations incurred to effectuate the purposes of this section.

5. Preservation of community character shall involve one or more of the following:

(a) preservation of open space;

(b) establishment of parks, nature preserves, or recreation areas;

(c) preservation of land which is predominantly viable agricultural land, as defined in subdivision seven of section three hundred one of the agriculture and markets law, or unique and irreplaceable agricultural land, as defined in subdivision six of section three hundred one of the agriculture and markets law;

(d) preservation of lands of exceptional scenic value;

(e) preservation of fresh and saltwater marshes or other wetlands;

(f) preservation of aquifer recharge areas;

(g) preservation of undeveloped beach-lands or shoreline;

(h) establishment of wildlife refuges for the purpose of maintaining native animal species diversity, including the protection of habitat essential to the recovery of rare, threatened or endangered species;

(i) preservation of unique or threatened ecological areas;

(j) preservation of rivers and river areas in a natural, free-flowing condition;

(k) preservation of forested land;

(l) preservation of public access to lands for public use including stream rights and waterways;

(m) preservation of historic places and properties listed on the New York state register of historic places and/or protected under a municipal historic preservation ordinance or law; and

(n) undertaking any of the purposes of this subdivision in furtherance of the establishment of a greenbelt.

6. The town board which has established a community preservation fund shall create an advisory board to review and make recommendations on proposed acquisitions of interests in real property using monies from the fund. Such board shall consist of five or seven legal residents of the municipality who shall serve without compensation. No member of the local legislative body shall serve on the board. A majority of the members of the board shall have demonstrated experience with conservation or land preservation activities. The board shall act in an advisory capacity to the town board. At least one member of the board shall be an active farmer. Board members' terms shall be staggered.

7. The town board which has established a community preservation fund shall, by local law, adopt a community preservation project plan. Such plan shall list every project which the town plans to undertake pursuant to the community preservation fund. It shall include every parcel which is necessary to be acquired in the town in order to protect community character. Such plan shall provide for a detailed evaluation of all available land use alternatives to protect community character, including but not limited to: (a) fee simple acquisition, (b) zoning regulations, including density reductions, cluster development, and site plan and design requirements, (c) transfer of development rights, (d) the purchase of development rights, and (e) scenic and conservation easements. Said evaluation shall be as specific as practicable as to each parcel selected for inclusion in such plan. Such plan shall establish the priorities for preservation, and shall include the preservation of farmland as its highest priority. Funds from the community preservation fund may only be expended for projects which have been included in such plan. Such plan shall be updated not less than once every five years, but in no event until at least three years after the adoption of the original plan. A copy of such plan shall be filed with the town clerk, the commissioner of environmental conservation, the commissioner of agriculture and markets and the commissioner of the office of parks, recreation and historic preservation. Such plan shall be completed at least sixty days before the submission of the mandatory referendum required by section fourteen hundred thirty-eight-b of the tax law. If at the time of referendum, the town shall have in place an adopted open space plan, such plan shall be deemed sufficient to waive the preservation plan requirements of this subdivision. Any monies expended from the community preservation plan shall, however be consistent with the purposes outlined in subdivisions three and five of this section and with the open space plan for a period not to exceed twelve months.

8. The town board which has established a community preservation fund pursuant to this section may study and consider establishing a transfer of development rights program to protect community character as provided for by section two hundred sixty-one-a of this chapter. All provisions of such section two hundred sixty-one-a shall be complied with. If at any time during the life of the community preservation fund a transfer of development rights program is established, the town may utilize monies from the community preservation fund in order to create and fund a central bank of the transfer of development rights program. If at any time during the life of the community preservation fund, a transfer of development rights program is repealed by the town, all monies from the central bank shall be returned to the community preservation fund.

9. No interests or rights in real property shall be acquired pursuant to this section until a public hearing is held as required by section two hundred forty-seven of the general municipal law; provided, however, that nothing herein shall prevent the town board from entering into a conditional purchase agreement before a public hearing is held. Any resolution of the town board approving an acquisition of rights or interest in real property pursuant to this section, shall find that acquisition was the best alternative for the protection of community character of all the reasonable alternatives available to the town.

10. Rights or interest in real property acquired pursuant to this section shall be administered and managed in a manner which (a) allows public use and enjoyment in a manner compatible with the natural, scenic, historic and open space character of such lands; (b) preserves the native biological diversity of such lands; (c) with regard to open spaces, limits improvements to enhancing access for passive use of such lands such as nature trails, boardwalks, bicycle paths, and peripheral parking areas provided that such improvements do not degrade the ecological value of the land or threaten essential wildlife habitat; and (d) preserves cultural property consistent with accepted standards for historic preservation. Notwithstanding any other provision of this subdivision there shall be no right to public use and enjoyment of land used in conjunction with a farm operation as defined by subdivision eleven of section three hundred one of the agriculture and markets law. In furthering the purposes of this section, the town may enter into agreements with corporations organized under the not-for-profit corporation law and engage in land trust activities to manage lands including less than fee interests acquired pursuant to the provisions of this section, provided that any such agreement shall contain a provision that such corporation shall keep the lands accessible to the public unless such corporation shall demonstrate to the satisfaction of the town that public accessibility would be detrimental to the lands or any natural resources associated therewith.

11. Rights or interests in real property acquired with monies from such fund shall not be sold, leased, exchanged, donated, or otherwise disposed of or used for other than the purposes permitted by this section without the express authority of an act of the state legislature, which shall provide for the substitution of other lands of equal environmental value and fair market value and reasonably equivalent usefulness and location to those to be discontinued, sold or disposed of, and such other requirements as shall be approved by the state legislature. Any conservation easements, created under title three of article forty-nine of the environmental conservation law, which are acquired with monies from such fund may only be modified or extinguished as provided in section 49-0307 of such law. Nothing in this section shall preclude the town, by local law, from establishing additional restrictions to the alienation of lands acquired pursuant to this section. This subdivision shall not apply to the sale of development rights by the town acquired pursuant to this section, where said sale is made by a central bank created by the town, pursuant to a transfer of development rights program established by the town pursuant to section two hundred sixty-one-a of this chapter, provided, however (a) that the lands from which said development rights were acquired shall remain preserved in perpetuity by a permanent conservation easement or other instrument that similarly preserves the community character referenced in subdivision five of this section, and (b) the proceeds from such sale shall be deposited in the community preservation fund.

ARTICLE 6 Town Elections

Section

81. Election upon proposition

HISTORY:

Add, L 1932, ch 634, with substance transferred from Article 4.

§ 81. Election upon proposition

The town board may upon its own motion and shall upon a petition, as hereinafter provided, cause to be submitted at a special or biennial town election, a proposition:

1. In any town:

(a) To erect a monument or monuments within the town in commemoration of any person or event.

(b) To purchase, lease, construct, alter or remodel a town hall, a town lockup or any other necessary building for town purposes, acquire necessary lands therefor, and equip and furnish such buildings for such purposes, or to demolish or remove any town building.

(c) To establish airports, landing fields, public parking places, public parks or playgrounds, acquire the necessary lands therefor, and equip the same with suitable buildings, structures and apparatus.

(d) To vote upon or determine any question, proposition or resolution which may lawfully be submitted, pursuant to this chapter or any general or special law.

(e) To dredge, bulkhead, dock and otherwise improve any navigable, or other waterway, within the town, and to rent, purchase and equip necessary machinery for such dredging, docking, bulkheading or other improvement, and supply the necessary labor and material therefor.

(f) To provide for the collection and disposition of garbage, ashes, rubbish and other waste matter in the town by (1) the award of one or more contracts for the collection and disposition of the same, (2) by the purchase, operation and maintenance of apparatus and equipment for the collection and transportation of the same, (3) by the construction, operation and maintenance of a disposal or incinerator plant or (4) by any combination of (1), (2) and (3).

2. In any town of the first class:

(a) To increase the number of councilmen from four to six.

(b) To establish or abolish the ward system for the election of councilmen in towns having four or six councilmen.

(c) To decrease the number of councilmen from four to two.

(d) To increase the number of councilmen from two to four.

3. In a town of the second class having five thousand or more population according to the latest federal or state census or enumeration or having an assessed valuation of ten million dollars or more, as shown by the latest completed assessment-roll of such town, or adjoining a city having a population of three hundred thousand or more, as shown by the latest federal or state census or enumeration, to change the classification of such town to that of a town of the first class.

4. Such petition shall be subscribed and authenticated, in the manner provided by the election law for the authentication of nominating petitions, by electors of the town qualifed to vote upon a proposition to raise and expend money, in number equal to at least five per centum of the total votes cast for governor in said town at the last general election held for the election of state officers, but such number shall not be less than one hundred in a town of the first class nor less than twenty-five in a town of the second class. If such a petition be filed in the office of the town clerk not less than sixty days, nor more than seventy-five days, prior to a biennial town election, the proposition shall be submitted at such biennial election. If a petition be presented at any other time, a special election shall be called to be held not less than sixty days, nor more than seventy-five days after the filing of such petition.

5. A proposition for the consolidation or dissolution of a town or district shall be noticed, conducted, canvassed and otherwise held pursuant to, and in accordance with, the provisions of article seventeen-A of the general municipal law; and a petition to consolidate or dissolve a town or district shall be subscribed, authenticated and otherwise governed pursuant to, and in accordance with, that article.

Any expenditure approved pursuant to this section shall be paid for by taxes levied for the fiscal year in which such expenditure is to be made. However, nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prevent the financing in whole or in part, pursuant to the local finance law, of any expenditure enumerated in this section which is not authorized pursuant to this section.

Any expenditure financed in whole from moneys appropriated from surplus funds shall not be subject to referendum.

I. Generally

1. In general

Provision of CLS Town § 81 that town board "shall upon a petition" submit proposition for establishment of public park to town election and "acquire the necessary lands therefor" does not usurp board's power of eminent domain. Placing proposition to establish public park on referendum in town election, as provided by CLS Town § 81, is official act of ministerial nature which does not require preparation of environmental impact statement. Queensbury Ass'n v Town Bd. of Queensbury, 141 A.D.2d 997, 530 N.Y.S.2d 861, 1988 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 7220 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1988).

CLS Town § 81 does not unconstitutionally abridge people's right to petition government for redress of grievances. Greene v Town Bd., Warrensburg, 159 A.D.2d 781, 552 N.Y.S.2d 62, 1990 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 2201 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't), app. dismissed, 76 N.Y.2d 771, 559 N.Y.S.2d 984, 559 N.E.2d 678, 1990 N.Y. LEXIS 1336 (N.Y. 1990), cert. denied, 498 U.S. 941, 111 S. Ct. 348, 112 L. Ed. 2d 313, 1990 U.S. LEXIS 5430 (U.S. 1990).

In a town of the second class where the number of assessors has been reduced to one pursuant to § 21 of the Town Law, the electors may petition for submission of a proposition to increase the number of assessors from one to three and to make such assessors elective rather than appointive. If such a proposition is adopted by the electors, there is no requirement that the town board adopt a resolution approving the change before it takes effect. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7147.

2. Construction

Former § 43, subd. 12 must be read in conjunction with either former § 46-a or former § 48. Former § 46-a must be construed as referring to county having less than stated population according to last census immediately preceding action of board. Hurley v Cheshire, 234 A.D. 464, 255 N.Y.S. 486, 1932 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 10466 (N.Y. App. Div.), aff'd, 259 N.Y. 582, 182 N.E. 190, 259 N.Y. (N.Y.S.) 582, 1932 N.Y. LEXIS 1061 (N.Y. 1932).

It is not necessary to state in a proposition submitted to referendum, the specific source from which funds for the purpose will be obtained. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6310.

Local Finance Law § 35.00(b)(1)(4) is broad enough to include the compliance with administrative orders; thus where a town is obligated to build a salt water shed to comply with an enforceable determination of the Department of Environmental Conservation, a resolution authorizing the issuance of bonds for this purpose and the resolution authorizing the expenditure of bonds proceeds is not subject to referendum under either Town Law §§ 81 and 220, or Highway Law § 142(4). Inconsistent prior opinions are superseded. 1990 Op St Compt 90-32.

3. Effect of Local Finance Law

Sections 81 and 220 of the Town Law as amended require no referendum where a project is to be financed under provisions of the Local Finance Law, unless required by provisions of that law. Griffin v Town Board of Warrensburg, 43 Misc. 2d 550, 251 N.Y.S.2d 536, 1964 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1735 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1964), aff'd, 23 A.D.2d 944, 259 N.Y.S.2d 906, 1965 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5115 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1965).

Town's argument that passage of referendum to acquire park land would impose severe financial burden on town was of no moment since CLS Town § 81 specifically authorizes financing of project pursuant to local finance law; in any event, statute is unequivocal in its authorization of referendum by petition for such acquisitions. Queensbury Ass'n v Town Bd. of Queensbury, 135 Misc. 2d 118, 515 N.Y.S.2d 193, 1987 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2189 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1987).

4. Petition, generally

Signatures on petition for referendum pursuant to CLS Town § 81 were not rendered invalid because not obtained within time period required by CLS Elec § 6-138; provision of CLS Town § 81 which directs that signatures be subscribed and authenticated in same manner as that prescribed in Election Law for authentication of nominating petitions does not extend to rigid time requirements of CLS Elec § 6-138. Also, signatures on petition for referendum pursuant to CLS Town § 81 affixed 4 to 6 years prior to filing of petition would be deemed stale under "rule of reason"; mere passage of such significant period of time undermined any contention that signatures evidenced present support for placing proposition on ballot. Jacobs v Ocker, 123 A.D.2d 801, 507 N.Y.S.2d 276, 1986 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 60942 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1986).

Proposition to acquire land for park was not insufficient even though it failed to specifically identify property to be acquired, type of public purpose to be utilized and cost of acquisition, since town had yet to conduct special election to determine whether property be acquired at all; CLS Town § 81 does not require such specific information prior to election. Environmental impact statement would not be required prior to town board conducting special election on proposition to acquire land for park since action in conducting mandated election is ministerial in nature not requiring exercise of discretion and thus not within purview of Environmental Conservation Law. Queensbury Ass'n v Town Bd. of Queensbury, 135 Misc. 2d 118, 515 N.Y.S.2d 193, 1987 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2189 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1987).

The petition to the town board for a referendum on a resolution to acquire lands for a park was held sufficient without a declaration of the registration of the voters or their party enrollment. In re Application of Sinicropi, 135 N.Y.S.2d 77, 1954 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2880 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.), aff'd, 284 A.D. 893, 134 N.Y.S.2d 596, 1954 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 3975 (N.Y. App. Div. 1954).

Where a petition to place a proposition before town electors as to whether the town should adopt the ward system for election of councilmen, pursuant to N.Y. Town Law § 81(2)(b), failed to include in the preamble that the signors' current place of residence was truly stated opposite their signature, pursuant to N.Y. Town Law § 81(4) and N.Y. Elec. Law § 6-140, the petition was invalid; such a statement was an essential part of the signature authentication. Matter of Fisher v Sampson, 27 A.D.3d 560, 813 N.Y.S.2d 136, 2006 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 2835 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 2006).

5. —Former requirement as to acknowledgement

Supreme Court usurped town board's legislative authority by directing that proposed referendum be placed on ballot for particular general election, since CLS Town § 82 specifically confers on town board discretion to determine when special election on referendum shall be held; town board is required to submit proposition at general election only when general election is held in biennial town election year, under provisions of CLS Town § 81. Jacobs v Ocker, 123 A.D.2d 801, 507 N.Y.S.2d 276, 1986 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 60942 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1986).

A petition to a town board to hold a special election on a proposition must be dismissed where the petition was not acknowledged as required by subdivision 5 even though it was authenticated by witness to the signatures substantially as required by Election Law § 135. Where a petition requesting a Town Board to submit two propositions at a special election contained signatures which had not been acknowledged personally by the signatories before the notary public, but had been acknowledged by the subscribing witness the petition was defective. Election Law § 135 was not incorporated by reference into this section, and subd. 5 of this section requires that an elector must personally acknowledge his signature. Winebrenner v De Witt, 140 N.Y.S.2d 913, 207 Misc. 800, 1955 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2454 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.), aff'd, 286 A.D. 105, 142 N.Y.S.2d 602, 1955 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 3986 (N.Y. App. Div. 1955).

6. Voting on proposition

Qualified electors of a first class town who are not property owners may vote on propositions to increase the number of councilmen from four to six and to establish the ward system for the election of councilmen. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7180.

7. Miscellaneous

Local town law which expressly amended CLS Town § 81 with respect to timing of special elections on referendums was no longer viable where CLS Town § 81 had subsequently been substantially amended; under CLS Gen Const § 91, repeal of statute includes statute amendatory of statute repealed. Although qualified town electors who filed objections to referendum petitions were not necessary or indispensable parties in Article 78 proceedings to compel town clerk to place proposition on ballot, it would be "grossly inequitable" to deny standing to any qualified elector to challenge clerk's determination of petition's validity solely because of absence of explicit statutory mechanism for filing objections; thus, objectors were subject to permissive joinder under CLS CPLR § 1002, and where one objector had been named and served in proceedings, was subject to personal jurisdiction of court, and had served answer, it was error for court to refuse to consider his cross petition challenging clerk's determination validating signatures on petition. Jacobs v Ocker, 123 A.D.2d 801, 507 N.Y.S.2d 276, 1986 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 60942 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1986).

Provision of CLS Town § 81, requiring that town board "shall upon a petition" submit proposition for establishment of public park to town election, is nondiscretionary and ministerial; thus, it was improper for town board to refuse to put proposition regarding establishment of public park to popular vote. Queensbury Ass'n v Town Bd. of Queensbury, 141 A.D.2d 997, 530 N.Y.S.2d 861, 1988 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 7220 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1988).

Article 78 petition to compel town board to hold referendum, to enable electorate to decide whether television translators should be installed at town's expense, was properly dismissed since petitioner was collaterally estopped from relitigating issue where identical issue was decided in prior Article 78 proceeding; while current proposition and proposition previously presented to board for action differed in number of supporting signatures and anticipated cost of installing and maintaining translators, substantive issues were identical. Greene v Town Bd., Warrensburg, 159 A.D.2d 781, 552 N.Y.S.2d 62, 1990 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 2201 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't), app. dismissed, 76 N.Y.2d 771, 559 N.Y.S.2d 984, 559 N.E.2d 678, 1990 N.Y. LEXIS 1336 (N.Y. 1990), cert. denied, 498 U.S. 941, 111 S. Ct. 348, 112 L. Ed. 2d 313, 1990 U.S. LEXIS 5430 (U.S. 1990).

Former § 43 subd. 11 authorized electors of each town at town meeting to determine any question lawfully submitted to them, and former § 170, subds. 3 and 4 provided that town charges shall include moneys authorized to be raised by vote of town for any town purpose, and every sum directed by law to be raised for any town purpose. Town board, however, had no authority to bind town to pay for bridge tenders, and its resolution to that effect was nullity on its face. Expense has, therefore, not been made town charge under former § 43, subd. 11 and former § 170, subds. 3, 4, and funds for reimbursement of state for payment of bridge tenders have not been provided. Ridgeway v Treman, 129 N.Y.S. 1081, 72 Misc. 452, 1911 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 420 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1911).

Proceeding to compel town board to call special election was not rendered moot by fact that election had not been conducted between 60 and 75 days following filing of petition with town clerk as required by CLS Town § 81, since action had been commenced within 4-month time limit of CLS CPLR § 217; Article 78 proceeding in nature of mandamus cannot be commenced until conditions precedent of demand and refusal have been fulfilled. Queensbury Ass'n v Town Bd. of Queensbury, 135 Misc. 2d 118, 515 N.Y.S.2d 193, 1987 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2189 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1987).

In Article 78 proceeding challenging town clerk's determination that proposition to establish ward system for election of members of town council could not be placed on ballot because CLS Town § 81(2) only allows such referendum in town of first class, town respondents were not equitably estopped from denying ballot placement after petitioner was erroneously informed by town clerk that town had first class status, where there was no showing that such misstatement was not innocently made, or that clerk allowed any other proposition or referendum which was permissible only for town of first class to get on ballot. Grossman v Town of Southampton, 170 Misc. 2d 822, 651 N.Y.S.2d 1006, 1996 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 466 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1996).

Town clerk far exceeded the scope of a ministerial review of the election petition and became an objector by invalidating 148 signatures beyond the clerk's ministerial duty to determine if the signers were qualified voters in the town or if a qualified voter signed the petition twice; the clerk also used an incorrect base number concerning the total number of votes cast for governor in the previous election and thereby established that the election petition was factually and legally sufficient and presumptively valid. Cavallaro v Schimel, 194 Misc. 2d 788, 755 N.Y.S.2d 809, 2003 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 101 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 2003).

Combination town office highway building would be paid for from general town funds or from obligations, the debt service on which would be paid from general town funds. Surplus town funds may be used for such purpose. Unexpended balances of appropriations for town government may be used subject to restriction of section 115 of Town Law. 1947 Ops St Compt 120.

Under certain limited circumstances, town may exclude nonresidents from town park. 1988 Op St Compt No 88-22.

County, city, town or village may, in accordance with pertinent statutory requirements, contribute public funds to veterans memorial committee for purpose of erecting memorial monument. Ops St Compt 88-74.

II. Necessity of Referendum

8. In general

In an Article 78 proceeding in which petitioner sought to compel a town board to hold a public referendum respecting the installation and maintenance, at town expense, of a television translator system, the court properly dismissed the petition since a town or municipality may not submit a proposition to the electorate in the absence of express statutory authority permitting it to do so, and since a television translator is not a recreational facility analogous to a "park or playground" within the meaning of Town Law § 81(1)(d). Greene v Town Bd., 90 A.D.2d 916, 456 N.Y.S.2d 873, 1982 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 19196 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1982), app. denied, 58 N.Y.2d 604, 459 N.Y.S.2d 1027, 445 N.E.2d 654, 1983 N.Y. LEXIS 3666 (N.Y. 1983).

In absence of express authority for referendum to approve a town budget, such a referendum would be unlawful and would constitute an infringement upon right of town board to make decisions in area of its responsibility. Application of Town Board of Halfmoon, 81 Misc. 2d 157, 364 N.Y.S.2d 299, 1975 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2348 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1975).

Provided moneys are properly available therefor, a town board may appropriate town funds for recreational purposes without a referendum. 1947 Ops St Compt 336.

Where a town board adopts a resolution authorizing the town's participation in a Federal-State Comprehensive Planning Assistance Program, the resolution is not subject to referendum. 1969 Ops St Compt File #625.

Local Finance Law § 35.00(b)(1)(4) is broad enough to include the compliance with administrative orders; thus where a town is obligated to build a salt water shed to comply with an enforceable determination of the Department of Environmental Conservation, a resolution authorizing the issuance of bonds for this purpose and the resolution authorizing the expenditure of bonds proceeds is not subject to referendum under either Town Law §§ 81 and 220, or Highway Law § 142(4). Inconsistent prior opinions are superseded. 1990 Op St Compt 90-32.

Town electors may not, by petition, compel the town board to hold a referendum on a proposition to impose a limit on the amount by which real property taxes may be annually increased. 1991 Op St Compt No. 91-41.

Proposed lease of property for use as town recreational trail was subject to permissive referendum, or town board, on its own motion, could submit proposition therefor to referendum at special or biennial town election if lease payments were to be paid from moneys appropriated from taxes levied for current fiscal year. 1992 Op St Compt No. 92-49.

Town may expend current tax monies to dredge privately-owned waterway within town, subject to voter approval and other applicable laws and regulations, including any permit requirements; town must determine that dredging will provide, at most, only incidental benefit to private owner and will primarily serve town purposes, and dredging work may be carried out by town highway superintendent provided such work is reasonably related to and does not interfere with usual work of superintendent and cost of work is charged to town's general fund. 2002 Op St Compt No. 2002-4.

A referendum may not be initiated by petition on the question of fluoridating a water district water supply. There is no provision for federal or state aid in the taking of a special census. 1964 Ops St Compt File #915.

9. Airports, parking places and parks

Condemnation proceedings by a town for acquisition of property for a public beach were not fatally defective by reason of the town board's failure to obtain the electorate's prior approval on a referendum where town passed resolution that cost of acquisition was to be paid pursuant to the Local Finance Law, and passed a resolution for issuance of bonds. In re Town Board of Islip, 12 N.Y.2d 321, 239 N.Y.S.2d 541, 189 N.E.2d 808, 1963 N.Y. LEXIS 1303 (N.Y. 1963).

The acquisition of land for public park or playground containing bob runs, bridle paths, ski trails and other winter sports is authorized by this section and § 220. Rivet v Burdick, 255 A.D. 131, 6 N.Y.S.2d 79, 1938 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4674 (N.Y. App. Div. 1938).

The 1943 and 1945 amendments of §§ 81, 220, and 223, Town Law, and § 35.00 Local Finance Law, having to do with elimination of one referendum in the event that the financing is to be accomplished by means of bonds of not more than five years duration, are inapplicable to the acquisition of land for a public beach, where the cost was defrayed out of unexpended budget balances which in turn could not be utilized for the acquisition of a park or playground or parking place save upon approval of qualified electors. Knapp v Fasbender, 278 A.D. 970, 105 N.Y.S.2d 780, 1951 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5404 (N.Y. App. Div. 1951).

Referendum not required under Town Law or Local Finance Law when town park and playground is to be financed by capital note issue. 1946 Ops St Compt 317.

A town may enter into an agreement with a county for the joint development to a recreation park owned by the county. Such an agreement would be subject to a permissive referendum. 1966 Ops St Compt File #662.

In order for a town to establish a new town airport, it must follow the provisions of either Town Law, section 81, or Town Law, section 220. 1968 Ops St Compt File #842.

An expenditure for the construction of a swimming pool by a town is subject to referendum only if it is financed through current taxes. However, if it is financed by issuing obligations, then the bond resolution, but not the expenditure, is subject to permissive referendum only if the bonds have a proposed maturity of more than five years. 1969 Ops St Compt File #534.

10. Number of councilmen

There is no authority for the submission of a proposition decreasing the number of councilmen from six to four. A proposition to abolish the ward system of election of councilmen must be submitted on a petition therefor. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6704.

11. Ordinances

Town board may not submit proposed zoning ordinance for approval of people by referendum in absence of statute specifically authorizing such submission. 1945 Ops St Compt 356.

Proposed amendments to a town snowmobile ordinance may not be submitted to a referendum. 1974 Ops St Compt File #1317.

12. Town buildings and lands

Since amendment of this section to provide that any expenditure financed in whole by monies appropriated from surplus funds shall not be subject to referendum, no referendum is required in a second class town for purchase of a town hall site out of funds bequeathed to the town for erection and equipment of a town hall. Griffin v Town Board of Warrensburg, 43 Misc. 2d 550, 251 N.Y.S.2d 536, 1964 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1735 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1964), aff'd, 23 A.D.2d 944, 259 N.Y.S.2d 906, 1965 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5115 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1965).

Neighborhood recreation centers may be created by a town board on its own initiative; referendum not necessary under Town Law or section 245 of General Municipal Law; possible referendum on bond issue. 1946 Ops St Compt 16.

A town board may appropriate current funds necessary to equip and improve land for use as a "recreation project" without a referendum. 1952 Ops St Compt File #5665.

Surplus moneys may be used to purchase and alter an existing structure for a town hall, however it is recommended that such proposition be submitted to special election. A proposition for expenditures for such a purpose to be made from current taxes must be submitted to the voters. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6828.

The purchase, out of surplus funds, of land to expand a town cemetery is not subject to permissive or mandatory referendum in the town. 1968 Ops St Compt File #102.

A proposed acquisition by lease for a town recreation center is subject to referendum if current taxes are to be used for annual rental payments. 1974 Ops St Compt File #370.

Local Finance Law § 35.00(b)(1)(4) is broad enough to include the compliance with administrative orders; thus where a town is obligated to build a salt water shed to comply with an enforceable determination of the Department of Environmental Conservation, a resolution authorizing the issuance of bonds for this purpose and the resolution authorizing the expenditure of bonds proceeds is not subject to referendum under either Town Law §§ 81 and 220, or Highway Law § 142(4). Inconsistent prior opinions are superseded. 1990 Op St Compt 90-32.

Resolution of the town board authorizing purchase of a site for a new town hall is not subject to a permissive referendum where a portion of the cost is to be financed by the issuance of capital notes. 1955 St Compt File #7536.

13. Ward system

Town law, which restricted authorization of permitted referenda, was improper use of town's supersession powers (CLS Mun H R[1]0(1)(ii)(d)(3)), and thus law was properly declared invalid because it impermissibly provided additional requirements as to authorization of referenda relating to establishment of ward districts in town. Kepert v Allan, 287 A.D.2d 570, 731 N.Y.S.2d 664, 2001 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 9578 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 2001), app. denied, 98 N.Y.2d 602, 744 N.Y.S.2d 762, 771 N.E.2d 835, 2002 N.Y. LEXIS 1025 (N.Y. 2002).

Article 78 proceeding by residents and electors of town, challenging determination which invalidated petitions seeking referendum to establish ward system for election of members of town council, was dismissed for failure to state cause of action, where witness statements of petitions lacked wording "and I am duly qualified to sign the petition" as required by CLS Elec § 6-140(1)(b); when language is statutorily mandated as part of content of petition, it is considered matter of substance and not form, requiring strict compliance. Article 78 proceeding, challenging determination that invalidated petitions seeking referendum to establish ward system for election of members of town council, was untimely where it was not commenced within time limits of CLS Elec § 16-102(2), which was applicable as result of incorporation language of CLS Town § 81 and broad operation of CLS Elec § 1-102. Heath v Town of Islip, 169 Misc. 2d 382, 645 N.Y.S.2d 702, 1996 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 201 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1996).

There is no authority for the submission of a proposition decreasing the number of councilmen from six to four. A proposition to abolish the ward system of election of councilmen must be submitted on a petition therefor. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6704.

14. Waste disposal

Town board's resolution transferring operation of landfill to town's solid waste management authority was not invalid on ground that it was adopted without permissive referendum or prior public notice and hearing as required under CLS Town §§ 62(2), 81, 90, 91, and 221, since no expenditure in connection with project was being financed by taxes levied for fiscal year in which such expenditure was to be made. Also, town board's resolution transferring operation of landfill to town's solid waste management authority was not invalid on ground, inter alia, that it was adopted without permissive referendum since Authority took nonexclusive possession of land in question as coordinate municipal body, was not obligated to pay rent, and was unable to make capital improvements or expenditures on landfill site without prior written authorization from town. New York Public Interest Research Group, Inc. v North Hempstead, 153 A.D.2d 743, 545 N.Y.S.2d 308, 1989 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 11226 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1989).

Under this section, where a Town Board adopts a resolution authorizing construction of an incinerator and disposal plant and expenditure of $800,000 to be financed by a bond issue, such resolution is subject to permissive referendum upon petition. Application of Cox, 40 Misc. 2d 531, 243 N.Y.S.2d 605, 1963 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1509 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1963).

Referendum on proposition to construct incinerator required only where cost to be paid out of taxes collected during year in which expenditure is made. Where cost is to be financed, in town of the first class, only permissive referendum required on bond resolution, if term of bonds more than five years. 1946 Ops St Compt 520.

Second class towns, having a population of 5,000 or more, upon the adoption of proposition to provide for removal of garbage, etc., may award contracts. 1946 Ops St Compt 548.

Town which provides solid waste disposal facilities as town-wide function and has enacted legislation which requires solid waste to be processed at town's facilities may finance facilities through imposition of "solid waste generation fee" as user fee on owners of all improved properties within town that generate solid waste, and fee may be imposed retroactively for short period of time unless retroactivity would be so harsh and oppressive as to violate constitutional due process guarantees. 1992 Op St Compt No. 92-18.

I. Generally

1. In general

A town board, upon receipt of a petition, must cause to be submitted at a town election a proposition upon any question or resolution which may lawfully be submitted, pursuant to law. A proposition in reference to authorizing bingo is of the kind which must be submitted upon receipt of a petition. Following a favorable vote, the board must thereafter enact a bingo ordinance and submit a proposition thereon to referendum. 1958 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 28 (informal).

A resolution of a town board providing for a proposition to establish the ward system for the election of councilmen should be adopted at least thirty days prior to a biennial town election. 1959 NY Ops Atty Gen Sept. 25 (informal).

A town may be divided only by following the procedure set forth in Town Law, § 73. Paragraph (f) of Town Law, § 81(1) is obsolete. 1981 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 1 (Informal).

2. Effect of prior rejection by electorate

There is no provision in the Town Law, nor in any other State statute, which would prohibit a town board from adopting a resolution, subject to permissive referendum, or on its own motion, submitting a proposition at a special or biennial town election for the purchase of a building for town purposes even though such proposition had previously been voted on by the electors of the town two years prior thereto and such proposition had been defeated. 1971 NY Ops Atty Gen Aug 24.

3. Petition, generally

The signatures to a petition submitting a proposition to change the classification of a town may be proven in the same manner as a deed. 1953 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 21 (Informal), 1953 N.Y. AG LEXIS 400.

Petition for a proposition to be submitted at a special or biennial town election; form and content, and authentication: general discussion. 1974 NY Ops Atty Gen June 14 (informal).

4. Voting on proposition

If the proposition to be submitted to town electors at the same time as a general election may be voted upon only by electors possessing real property ownership qualifications, voting thereon should be by separate ballot and the proposition should not appear upon the voting machines used at the general election. 1953 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 14 (informal).

It is believed that town electors may vote on a proposition to change the classification of a town even though they may not be the owners of real property within the town. 1953 NY Ops Atty Gen July 15 (informal).

A proposition to establish the ward system for the election of councilmen in a town may properly appear on the voting machine used at the general election at which such proposition is submitted. 1955 NY Ops Atty Gen Sept 30 (informal).

A proposition authorized to be submitted by this section to town electors should be submitted at a special town election or a biennial town election. 1958 NY Ops Atty Gen Sept 9 (informal).

A town board resolution on a proposition which is to be submitted to the electors may not be submitted at a general election in an even-numbered year, and must be submitted at a special election. 1962 NY Ops Atty Gen July 17.

Town electors may not vote on a proposition to change its classification from second to first class at a general election to be held November 6, 1962, and such a proposition must either be put up to the electors at a special election or at the biennial election held in November, 1963. 1962 NY Ops Atty Gen June 28.

A proposition which would authorize change in classification of a town may only be submitted at a special election or a biennial November town election held in an odd-numbered year, but a special election can be called to be held at the same time and place as a general election in an even-numbered year if all the requirements applicable to special town elections are observed. 1962 NY Ops Atty Gen July 30.

The "qualified electors at a general election" who may vote at a public referendum mandated by L. 1968, c. 530(2) are those possessing the qualifications of voters enumerated in Election Law § 150. 1968 NY Ops Atty Gen Sept 19.

Pursuant to this section, a town may submit a proposition to dredge a navigable creek within the town, even though its bed and banks are privately owned. 1979 Op St Compt File #660.

Filing of petition on issue whether to establish ward system for election of council members in Town of North Hempstead is sufficient, assuming petition is otherwise proper, to require town board to submit proposition to voters under CLS Town § 81. 2002 NY Ops Atty Gen I 2002-18.

5. Miscellaneous

Where a town provides a trash pick-up service on a town-wide basis paid for out of general town-wide taxes, all taxpayers must be given an equal opportunity to take advantage of the service on some reasonable basis. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-215.

When a town needs additional space and no other practical alternative exists, it is probable that a town may purchase a vacant school building from a school district, and use only 50% of the space with the rest being leased for private purposes, if the town expects to need approximately 75% of the building within 15 to 20 years. Prior opinions are superseded to the extent they are inconsistent herewith. 1981 Op St Compt File #81-155.

(1) A town may operate a refreshment stand at its park facility or contract out the operation of a refreshment stand to a private party. (2) A town may charge a parking fee, on a per day or seasonal basis, to town residents utilizing a parking facility at a town park. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-237.

II. Necessity of Referendum

6. In general

A town board may not submit to a referendum a proposition to approve the action of a town housing authority in acquiring real property for proper purposes of the authority. 1954 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 6 (informal).

A town board, upon receipt of a petition, must cause to be submitted at a town election a proposition upon any question or resolution which may lawfully be submitted, pursuant to law. A proposition in reference to authorizing bingo is of the kind which must be submitted upon receipt of a petition. Following a favorable vote, the board must thereafter enact a bingo ordinance and submit a proposition thereon to referendum. 1958 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 28 (informal).

There is no constitutional or statutory authority for a town to conduct a public referendum on the proposition of revaluation and reassessment of real property, and, in the absence of same, it may not do so. 1965 NY Ops Atty Gen July 13.

Where it is wished to have a new town created, to be coterminous with boundaries of an existing village, the Municipal Annexation Law does not apply. The procedure is set forth in Article 5 of the Town Law, which still survives the partial repealer contained in the Municipal Annexation Law. The partial repealer applied only to change of boundaries of existing towns, not to creation of new towns. A town-wide referendum is required before a new town may be created from part of an existing town. 1975 NY Ops Atty Gen May 13.

A town may not conduct an advisory referendum on a proposal to permit the establishment of a retail shopping center within the town. 1979 Op St Compt File #617.

7. Airports, parking places and parks

A purchase of park lands to be financed in whole from monies appropriated from surplus funds is not subject to referendum. 1963 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 7.

The only occasion upon which an expenditure for the establishment of a public park and playground and acquisition of the land for the same and the equipping of it with suitable structures and apparatus is subject to a referendum, is when such expenditure is to be made solely under the provisions of the Town Law and from taxes levied for the fiscal year in which the expenditure is to be made, in which case the expenditure is subject to a permissive referendum. One other method of expenditure is authorized when action is to be taken solely under the provisions of the Town Law and that is when the expenditure is to be made in whole from moneys appropriated from surplus funds, but when the expenditure is to be made from such surplus funds, it is not subject to a permissive referendum. On the other hand, where financing of the program is to be relied upon, this is provided for by following a combination of the provisions contained in the Town Law and in the Local Finance Law, in which case, if the financing (as distinguished from the expenditure) is to be accomplished through the sale of bonds with a proposed maturity greater than five years, it is subject to a permissive referendum whereas if the financing is to be accomplished through sale of bonds with a proposed maturity of not more than five years from the date of the bonds or from the date of the first bond anticipation note issued in anticipation of the sale of the bonds, whichever date is earlier, it is not subject to a permissive referendum. In the event of financing under the Local Finance Law, the expenditure itself is not subject to an additional referendum. If this were not the case, and two referenda could be held, the ridiculous result could be produced that the first referendum could be approved, authorizing sale of long-term obligations, and the second could be rejected, thus effectively preventing the expenditure of the funds so raised. 1976 Ops Atty Gen Oct 15.

A town may contribute to the cost of constructing a building in a village park pursuant to an Article 5-G agreement so long as the town first authorizes itself to establish and equip public parks. 1978 Op St Compt File #259.

A resolution of a town board agreeing to lease a parcel of land for use as a public parking lot would be subject to permissive referendum, unless rental payments and the costs of repair, maintenance and insurance are to be financed in whole from moneys appropriated from surplus funds. 1979 Op St Compt File #347.

8. Number of councilmen

A town wishing to increase the number of its councilmen and also to establish a ward system may submit both propositions at the same election. Town Law does not now provide for staggered election of councilmen in a town divided into wards. 1968 NY Ops Atty Gen March 14.

Under § 81 of the Town Law it is necessary that a town of a second class first effectuate a change in classification to become a town of the first class prior to submission to the electorate of propositions to increase the number of councilpersons or to establish the ward system; the three propositions may not be submitted in the same election. A town of the second class may, however, increase the membership of his town council and establish the ward system through the enactment of local law subject to mandatory referendum; the referendum on each of these proposals may be held in the same election. 1990 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. I90-63.

9. Ordinances

A town board may not submit to a referendum of the town electors a proposition to repeal a town zoning ordinance. 1958 NY Ops Atty Gen May 5 (informal).

There is no authority in the Town Law for a second class town to have a referendum on adoption of a zoning ordinance. 1962 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 22.

10. Town buildings and lands

A town may remodel its town hall pursuant to either § 81 or § 220 of the Town Law. 1962 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 3.

The Town Board of the Town of Seneca Falls may demolish a Town building adjacent to the Town of Seneca Falls Hospital with the view of future expansion of the Town of Seneca Falls Hospital where surplus funds are available for such purpose without referendum either mandatory or permissive. 1975 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 3.

A town may house in one building its town offices, justice court offices and police headquarters and may locate the building anywhere within the town or within a village wholly or partly within the town. 1981 NY Ops Atty Gen March 4 (informal).

A town board has discretion to submit a proposition to purchase land for public parks or playgrounds to the electors at either a special or biennial town election. N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 84-51.

A town may acquire a school district building having office space in excess of its present needs and rent the surplus space to third parties when the town board reasonably anticipates utilization of the additional space for town purposes within the foreseeable future. 1981 Op St Compt File # 81-197.

Where a town constructs a building to store highway salt at a cost of more than $100,000, such action is subject to either a permissive referendum pursuant to section 81(1)(c) and 220(3) of the Town Law or a mandatory referendum pursuant to section 142(4) of the Highway Law if the building could be used for the storage of machinery, tools, implements, or equipment. The financing of such a building may also be subject to a permissive referendum. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-192.

11. Ward system

The town board in a town of the first class may adopt a resolution to establish a ward system for the election of councilmen pursuant to this section. 1959 NY Ops Atty Gen July 9 (informal).

A town wishing to increase the number of its councilmen and also to establish a ward system may submit both propositions at the same election. Town Law does not now provide for staggered election of councilmen in a town divided into wards. 1968 NY Ops Atty Gen March 14.

A town which has adopted the ward system for the election of councilmen may change its ward boundaries by local law, which is not subject to any referendum. 1969 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 14.

Under § 81 of the Town Law it is necessary that a town of a second class first effectuate a change in classification to become a town of the first class prior to submission to the electrorate of propositions to increase the number of councilpersons or to establish the ward system; the three propositions may not be submitted in the same election. A town of the second class may, however, increase the membership of his town council and establish the ward system through the enactment of local law subject to mandatory referendum; the referendum on each of these proposals may be held in the same election. 1990 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. I90-63.

12. Waste disposal

Absentee voting is permitted when a proposition for the establishment or extension of a sewer district is presented to the voters at the general town election. Absentee voting is also permitted at a special election where the town board of a town of the first class, by resolution has required personal registration. N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 83-6.

91. Referendum on petition.

HISTORY:

Add, L 1932, ch 634.

§ 90. Acts or resolutions of the town board that are subject to a referendum on petition

Whenever this chapter shall expressly provide that an act or resolution of the town board is subject to a permissive referendum, such act or resolution shall be subject to a referendum on petition as set forth in the next section, unless a proposition therefor shall have been adopted at a town election. Within ten days after the adoption by the town board of any resolution which is subject to a permissive referendum as above defined, the town clerk, in the same manner as provided for notice of a special election, shall post and publish a notice which shall set forth the date of the adoption of the resolution and contain an abstract of such act or resolution concisely stating the purpose and effect thereof. The notice shall specify that such resolution was adopted subject to a permissive referendum.

A referendum is no more than a veto power vested in the electorate to review an act of the Town Board, and it can in no way constitute a direction to the local legislative body to do more than that body has already determined by its own resolution to accomplish. A Town Board exercises the town's legislative power, its inhabitants cannot initiate legislation except in rare instances, and only under limited conditions set forth in the statutes can they exercise a veto power over a legislative act of the Town Board in the form of a referendum. Olin v North Hempstead, 34 Misc. 2d 853, 231 N.Y.S.2d 286, 1962 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 3199 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1962), aff'd, 18 A.D.2d 831, 237 N.Y.S.2d 991, 1963 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4651 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1963).

In absence of express authority for referendum to approve a town budget, such a referendum would be unlawful and would constitute an infringement upon right of town board to make decisions in area of its responsibility. Application of Town Board of Halfmoon, 81 Misc. 2d 157, 364 N.Y.S.2d 299, 1975 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2348 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1975).

Failure to post and publish town board's resolution purporting to change classification of town from second to first class, subject to permissive referendum, was jurisdictional defect that prevented town from attaining first class status. Grossman v Town of Southampton, 170 Misc. 2d 822, 651 N.Y.S.2d 1006, 1996 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 466 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1996).

An appropriation is illegal where the resolution of the town board authorizing such appropriation has not been submitted to permissive referendum when required to be by statute, and a contract based upon such illegal appropriation cannot be enforced against the town. 1969 Ops St Compt File #74.

2. Real property sale

A resolution of a town board approving an offer for the sale of real property subject to permissive referendum and effective 30 days after the adoption thereof provided no petition was filed in the meantime could not be rescinded within the 30-day period where no petition was filed and the purchaser was irrevocably committed to purchase the property. Lake George v Caldwell, 3 A.D.2d 550, 162 N.Y.S.2d 762, 1957 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5536 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1957), aff'd, 5 N.Y.2d 727, 177 N.Y.S.2d 711, 152 N.E.2d 668, 1958 N.Y. Permissive referendum provided for in CLS Town §§ 64(2) and 90 was not required before town could convey property designated as parkland to private developer for development of low income housing since CLS Pub Hous § 124 provided that such conveyance was lawful notwithstanding any other provisions of law; latter statute was special statute which took precedence over former general statutes. Grayson v Huntington, 144 Misc. 2d 1064, 545 N.Y.S.2d 633, 1989 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 562 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1989), aff'd, 160 A.D.2d 835, 554 N.Y.S.2d 269, 1990 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4479 (N.Y. 5. —Town fire district

The town board of a town and board of trustees of the village located within the town are authorized to establish a joint fire district by resolution subject to a permissible referendum. The members of the board of fire commissioners of a joint fire district may be appointed by the town board and village board of trustees or they may be elected pursuant to the provisions of Article 11 of the Town Law. 1990 Op St Compt 90-27.

6. Waste management

Town board's resolution transferring operation of landfill to town's solid waste management authority was not invalid on ground that it was adopted without permissive referendum or prior public notice and hearing as required under CLS Town §§ 62(2), 81, 90, 91, and 221, since no expenditure in connection with project was being financed by taxes levied for fiscal year in which such expenditure was to be made. Also, Town Board's resolution transferring operation of landfill to town's solid waste management authority was not invalid on ground, inter alia, that it was adopted without permissive referendum since Authority took nonexclusive possession of land in question as coordinate municipal body, was not obligated to pay rent, and was unable to make capital improvements or expenditures on landfill site without prior written authorization from town. New York Public Interest Research Group, Inc. v North Hempstead, 153 A.D.2d 743, 545 N.Y.S.2d 308, 1989 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 11226 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1989).

Cause of action seeking declaration of invalidity of town board's authorizing resolution and implementing agreement regarding debris landfill was time barred where (1) plaintiffs' challenge was directed not to substance of resolution and agreement but to town's failure to hold permissive referendum on resolution and to town's lack of authority to make agreement, (2) those procedural claims could have been brought in proceeding under CLS CPLR § 7803(2), and (3) thus, 4-month limitations period in CLS CPLR § 217, not 6-year period in CLS CPLR § 213, applied. Complaint seeking to impose personal liability on individual town board members under CLS Gen Mun § 51 for passing allegedly invalid resolution and making allegedly invalid agreement regarding debris landfill was properly dismissed for failure to state cause of action, absent allegation of necessary element of collusion, fraud, or personal gain. Atkins v Town of Rotterdam, 266 A.D.2d 631, 697 N.Y.S.2d 780, 1999 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 11231 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1999).

Olin v North Hempstead, 34 Misc. 2d 853, 231 N.Y.S.2d 286, 1962 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 3199 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1962), aff'd, 18 A.D.2d 831, 237 N.Y.S.2d 991, 1963 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4651 (N.Y. When a resolution of a town board is subject to a permissive referendum, it can be sent to referendum via the petition method or by resolution of the town board. In the absence of a petition or a specific resolution, no referendum is held. Town Law § 60-a enabled towns of the second class to reduce the number of councilmen to be on the town board by resolution subject to permissive referendum. A town which decreased the number from four to two may, by local law subject to mandatory referendum, increase the number to four. 1981 NY Ops Atty Gen June 2 (Informal).

If town approves restriction of office of town justice, justice must be elected to that position at next biennial election for term of 4 years commencing on first day of January following election. 1997 NY Ops Atty Gen I 97-55.

Filing of petition on issue whether to establish ward system for election of council members in Town of North Hempstead is sufficient, assuming petition is otherwise proper, to require town board to submit proposition to voters under CLS Town § 81. 2002 NY Ops Atty Gen I 2002-18.

A proposition to reduce the number of town justices from two to one may be presented to the voters at a biennial town election even though candidates for that office are running at the same election. N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 83-59.

5. Waste management

Absentee voting is permitted when a proposition for the establishment or extension of a sewer district is presented to the voters at the general town election. Absentee voting is also permitted at a special election where the town board of a town of the first class, by resolution has required personal registration. N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 83-6.

6. Zoning

A town may not conduct a referendum on a proposed zoning ordinance. 1974 NY Ops Atty Gen Mar 5.

§ 91. Referendum on petition.

Any such resolution or act of the town board as set forth in the preceding section shall not take effect until thirty days after its adoption; nor until approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the qualified electors of such town or district affected, voting on such proposition, if within thirty days after its adoption there be filed with the town clerk a petition signed, and acknowledged or proved, or authenticated by electors of the town qualified to vote upon a proposition to raise and expend money, in number equal to at least five per centum of the total vote cast for governor in said town at the last general election held for the election of state officers, but which shall not be less than one hundred in a town of the first class nor less than twenty-five in a town of the second class, protesting against such act or resolution and requesting that it be submitted to the qualified electors of the town or district affected, for their approval or disapproval. If such petition be so filed not more than one hundred five days nor less than ninety days prior to a biennial town election, a proposition for the approval of such act or resolution shall be submitted at such biennial town election. If a petition be so filed at any other time, a proposition for the approval of such act or resolution shall be submitted at a special town election to be held not less than ninety nor more than one hundred five days after the filing of such petition. The petition may be made upon separate sheets and the signatures to each sheet shall be authenticated in the manner provided by the election law for the authentication of nominating petitions. The several sheets so signed and authenticated when fastened together and offered for filing shall be deemed to constitute one petition. If, within five days after the filing of such petition, a written objection thereto be filed with the town clerk, and a verified petition setting forth the objections be presented by the person so filing such objections to the supreme court or any justice thereof of the judicial district in which such town is located, such court or justice within twenty days shall determine any question arising thereunder and make such order as justice may require. Such proceeding shall be heard and determined in the manner prescribed by section 16-116 of the election law.

1. In general

The word "petition" as used in this section means substantially what is meant by § 135 of the Election Law, to which it refers, namely: a statement of purpose followed by the authenticated signatures of those seeking to advance that purpose. In re Brookhaven, 18 A.D.2d 662, 234 N.Y.S.2d 762, 1962 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6693 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1962), app. denied, 12 N.Y.2d 646, 1963 N.Y. LEXIS 1555 (N.Y. 1963).

There is rational basis for not applying the substantial compliance rule to referendum petitions with the same strictness which governs designating petitions. Morabito v Campbell, 59 A.D.2d 703, 398 N.Y.S.2d 176, 1977 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 13653 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1977).

Requirements of CLS Election § 6-130 apply to referrendum petitions governed by CLS Town § 91. Gomberg v Gorman, 117 A.D.2d 583, 498 N.Y.S.2d 55, 1986 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 52852 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1986).

Property owners who do not timely seek permissive referendum on resolution establishing sewer district for judicial review pursuant Article 78 are precluded from challenging validity of resolution in subsequent action to determine validity of sewer district's operation and maintenance charge. Chiocchi v Montgomery, 120 A.D.2d 479, 502 N.Y.S.2d 34, 1986 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 56552 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1986).

Town board's resolution transferring operation of landfill to town's solid waste management authority was not invalid on ground that it was adopted without permissive referendum or prior public notice and hearing as required under CLS Town §§ 62(2), 81, 90, 91, and 221, since no expenditure in connection with project was being financed by taxes levied for fiscal year in which such expenditure was to be made. Also, resolution was not invalid because adopted without permissive referendum since Authority took nonexclusive possession of land in question as coordinate municipal body, was not obligated to pay rent, and was unable to make capital improvements or expenditures on landfill site without prior written authorization from town. New York Public Interest Research Group, Inc. v North Hempstead, 153 A.D.2d 743, 545 N.Y.S.2d 308, 1989 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 11226 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1989).

This section applies only to acts or resolutions of the Town Board that are subject to a referendum on petition. Winebrenner v De Witt, 140 N.Y.S.2d 913, 207 Misc. 800, 1955 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2454 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.), aff'd, 286 A.D. 105, 142 N.Y.S.2d 602, 1955 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 3986 (N.Y. App. Div. 1955).

Although a referendum petition was filed with the town clerk within the required 30 days after adoption of a town board resolution for construction of an incinerator and issuance of bonds to cover the expense, and no objections were filed by anyone to the petition within five days thereafter, under this section it become the function of the Town Board to determine when the election should be held and to make arrangements therefor. Application of Cox, 40 Misc. 2d 531, 243 N.Y.S.2d 605, 1963 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1509 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1963).

A petition for a mandatory referendum pursuant to Town Law § 91 may be filed by mail. Application of Cohalan, 71 Misc. 2d 196, 335 N.Y.S.2d 747, 1972 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1607 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1972), aff'd, 41 A.D.2d 840, 342 N.Y.S.2d 153, 1973 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4780 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1973).

No referendum was required or necessary regarding town's construction of swimming pool complex with 50% state aid for the project. Ecker v West Seneca, 87 Misc. 2d 322, 384 N.Y.S.2d 613, 1976 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2205 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1976).

When a town of the second class proposes to abolish the three elective offices of assessor and create one appointive office of assessor, a special election must be held if a referendum is requested. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6060.

A referendum on petition may be initiated by a petition containing signatures in a number equal to five per cent of the total votes cast for governor within the township at the last general election of state officers. 1967 Ops St Compt File #962.

The town board of a town and board of trustees of the village located within the town are authorized to establish a joint fire district by resolution subject to a permissible referendum. The members of the board of fire commissioners of a joint fire district may be appointed by the town board and village board of trustees or they may be elected pursuant to the provisions of Article 11 of the Town Law. 1990 Op St Compt 90-27.

2. Sufficiency of petition

Sheets attached to a petition to require submission of a proposition to the voters at a town election which, though properly authenticated, contained no statement of the substance of the petition, failed to comply with the requirements or this section and § 135 of the Election Law and could not be counted. In re Brookhaven, 18 A.D.2d 662, 234 N.Y.S.2d 762, 1962 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6693 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1962), app. denied, 12 N.Y.2d 646, 1963 N.Y. LEXIS 1555 (N.Y. 1963).

Petitions for a referendum on a resolution of the town board approving the acquisition of a golf course and the means to commence it were rendered null and void by reason of the failure to incorporate in such referendum the authentication clause required by Election Law §§ 135, subd 3 and 138, subd 3 as incorporated by reference in Town Law § 91. Cohalan v Olmo, 41 A.D.2d 840, 342 N.Y.S.2d 153, 1973 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4780 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1973).

Petition to place on ballot issue of whether town should establish award system for election of council members may be rejected for failure to include election districts of signers. Gomberg v Gorman, 117 A.D.2d 583, 498 N.Y.S.2d 55, 1986 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 52852 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1986).

In special proceeding under CLS Town § 91, by individual who was both town board member and water commissioner, to invalidate referendum petitions by property owners regarding change in water supplier, owners waived any objection to petitioner's standing to sue where they did not raise defense of lack of standing either in pre-answer motion or in their responsive pleadings. Santoro v Schreiber, 263 A.D.2d 953, 695 N.Y.S.2d 443, 1999 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 7913 (N.Y. App. Div. 4th Dep't), app. dismissed, 94 N.Y.2d 817, 701 N.Y.S.2d 708, 723 N.E.2d 564, 1999 N.Y. LEXIS 3805 (N.Y. 1999).

In special proceeding under CLS Town § 91, by individual who was both town board member and water commissioner, to invalidate referendum petitions by property owners regarding change in water supplier, Supreme Court lacked jurisdiction to add, sua sponte, 8 petitioners as parties where their petitions were not accompanied by orders to show cause in accordance with CLS Elec § 16-116; also, under CLS CPLR § 304, special proceeding is commenced by filing notice of petition or order to show cause and petition, and absent such filing, service of petitions is nullity. Santoro v Schreiber, 263 A.D.2d 953, 695 N.Y.S.2d 443, 1999 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 7913 (N.Y. App. Div. 4th Dep't), app. dismissed,

Trial court erred in granting petitions by a developer, an individual, and a town to invalidate the electors' petition for a permissive referendum because the referendum petition satisfied the statutory requirements by identifying the resolution, stating that the undersigned electors were signing in protest to it, and requesting that the resolution be submitted to a referendum of qualified electors, requiring more detail would read a new requirement into the statute that the legislature did not include, and the matter had not been rendered academic by the passage of time. Matter of Merlin Entertainments Group U.S. Holdings, Inc. v 409 Signatories to the Challenged Referendum Petition, 160 A.D.3d 867, 75 N.Y.S.3d 97, 2018 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 2594 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 2018).

Petition which merely opposed the proposed site of a new town hall at a particular location was not a sufficient objection to the construction of the town hall nor a sufficient request that the voters be given an opportunity to vote upon the act or resolution and failed to comply with the technical requirements of the Town Law for petitions to submit the resolutions to the voters. In re Mt. Pleasant, 82 Misc. 2d 869, 372 N.Y.S.2d 8, 1975 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2827 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1975).

The petition to the town board for a referendum on a resolution to acquire lands for a park was held sufficient without a declaration of the registration of the voters or their party enrollment. Biennial town election can only be held on "Election Day" in odd numbered years. Court held that an election in 1954 was a special election and had to be held within forty days of filing of petition. The fact that petition asked that election be held on day which was not legal for holding it did not invalidate petition. In re Application of Sinicropi, 135 N.Y.S.2d 77, 1954 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2880 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.), aff'd, 284 A.D. 893, 134 N.Y.S.2d 596, 1954 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 3975 (N.Y. App. Div. 1954).

The requirement that the several sheets of a petition for permissive referendum be fastened together and deemed to constitute one petition, was designed to avoid a challenge to the whole petition on the ground that no one sheet thereof was sufficient to meet the requirements for an adequate petition. Where a permissive referendum petition was comprised of 134 pages, but the statements and verifications of subscribing witnesses on many of the pages were wholly inadequate to meet the requirements of this section and § 135 of the Election Law, and signatures on the remaining pages were insufficient in number to make the petition effective, the entire petition was invalid. Application of McComb, 232 N.Y.S.2d 861 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.), aff'd, 18 A.D.2d 662, 234 N.Y.S.2d 762, 1962 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6693 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1962).

Sufficiency of petitions may be challenged by the Town Clerk rejecting signatures patently insufficient and by the procedure provided by the Town Law. Town board would be limited to bringing court action to determine sufficiency. Signatures may not be rejected by the Town Clerk because signed in pencil or with initials, or because a married woman signs as "Mrs. John Jones" or because similar names appear more than once. Signatures may be rejected because the signers witnessed their own signatures. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6331.

3. Time of referendum

Biennial town election can only be held on "Election Day" in odd numbered years. Court held that an election in 1954 was a special election and had to be held within forty days of filing of petition. The fact that petition asked that election be held on day which was not legal for holding it did not invalidate petition. In re Application of Sinicropi, 135 N.Y.S.2d 77, 1954 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2880 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.), aff'd, 284 A.D. 893, 134 N.Y.S.2d 596, 1954 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 3975 (N.Y. App. Div. 1954).

A special election held to vote on a resolution of the town board is without effect if held more than forty days after the town board moved to submit the resolution to a referendum. 1969 Ops St Compt File #523.

Where a town board has approved the creation of a proposed water district and has moved to submit it to a referendum, the referendum must be held within 40 days after such motion. 1973 Ops St Compt File #1086.

4. Written objections to petition, generally

Where no written objections were filed to a referendum petition within the prescribed five-day period, it was too late for a court to pass upon objections raised at a later date by special town counsel with respect to signatures and qualifications of some of the signers. A report by town counsel on a referendum petition, made to the Town Board and recommending its rejection, could not be considered as constituting written objections thereto within the meaning of this section. Application of Cox, 40 Misc. 2d 531, 243 N.Y.S.2d 605, 1963 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1509 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1963).

5. —Effect of Election Law $ 335

Since § 335 of the Election Law governs hearings under this section and requires only the giving of notice to such persons as the court may direct, persons attempting to intervene at such a hearing cannot charge that the petitions were defective because no provision was made for service of the show cause order upon them. In re Brookhaven, 18 A.D.2d 662, 234 N.Y.S.2d 762, 1962 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6693 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1962), app. denied, 12 N.Y.2d 646, 1963 N.Y. LEXIS 1555 (N.Y. 1963).

Section 335 of the Election Law, to which this section refers, does not require that those who have circulated a petition for permissive referendum be served with an order to show cause against a petition for nullification of the referendum petition, unless the judge or justice so directs. Application of McComb, 232 N.Y.S.2d 861 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.), aff'd, 18 A.D.2d 662, 234 N.Y.S.2d 762, 1962 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6693 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1962).

6. Other; miscellaneous

Where authentication by witness which stated the exact number of signatures appearing on each petition sheet was stapled to each signature sheet instead of appearing on the bottom of each sheet, method was not such a substantial deviation from section of Election Law as to invalidate the referendum petition. Morabito v Campbell, 59 A.D.2d 703, 398 N.Y.S.2d 176, 1977 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 13653 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1977).

Court properly dismissed, for lack of jurisdiction, proceeding challenging petition for referendum where petitioner did not file notice of petition or order to show cause prior to purported service of petition, and there was no order directing manner of service of petition; fact that court obtained jurisdiction over 4 signatories to petition for referendum was irrelevant since they did not represent town, nor was there any evidence to suggest that they represented other 141 signatories. Millar v Tolly, 252 A.D.2d 872, 675 N.Y.S.2d 440, 1998 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8584 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1998).

In special proceeding under CLS Town § 91, by individual who was both town board member and water commissioner, to invalidate referendum petitions by property owners regarding change in water supplier, referendum petitions could not be invalidated on re-argument on grounds not raised by petitioner in his objections filed with town clerk or in his petitions filed in Supreme Court; fundamental fairness requires that prior notice by given of basis for challenge to referendum petitions, and re-argument is not vehicle for parties to raise new questions or advance arguments different from those tendered on original application. Also, all but one of those referendum petitions were properly invalidated on ground they had insufficient numbers of signature where they were filed separately and were not fastened together in accordance with § 91. Santoro v Schreiber, 263 A.D.2d 953, 695 N.Y.S.2d 443, 1999 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 7913 (N.Y. App. Div. 4th Dep't), app. dismissed, 94 N.Y.2d 817, 701 N.Y.S.2d 708, 723 N.E.2d 564, 1999 N.Y. LEXIS 3805 (N.Y. 1999).

Town did not fail to use its best efforts to complete purchase of gravel pit from defendants and thus was entitled to refund of its $20,000 deposit although public referendum was defeated by voters and sale did not occur, where town board unanimously approved bond resolution for purchase subject to permissive referendum and, when matter was referred for public referendum after various town residents objected, all members of board voted in favor of resolution. Town of Roxbury v Rodrigues, 277 A.D.2d 866, 716 N.Y.S.2d 814, 2000 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 12378 (N.Y.

Even though personal registration procedures for referendum were not complied with, and even though election on bonding resolution for swimming pool was not held ten days after governing body's adoption of resolution, where there was extensive newspaper and media publicity which attended issue, where bonding referendum was mistakenly believed by town to be mandatory but was in fact permissive, and where there was no fraud, town properly complied with necessary procedures in conduct of election results of special referendum were valid. Ecker v West Seneca, 87 Misc. 2d 322, 384 N.Y.S.2d 613, 1976 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2205 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1976).

Order to show cause seeking to void admittedly defective referendum petition would be granted, notwithstanding fact that it was dated 13 days after referendum petition was filed, where objectors' petition was filed with Supreme Court within 5 days, as required by CLS Town § 91. Lamendola v Warner, 181 Misc. 2d 1024, 696 N.Y.S.2d 668, 1999 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 420 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1999).

In a town of the second class where the town board has resolved that there shall be but one appointive assessor, and no timely demand for a referendum has been filed, then the positions of assessor which expire December 31 are not to be voted upon at the biennial town election, but a single assessor shall be appointed on the first day of January next succeeding. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7384.

1. In general

The town board must notify the county board of elections of a town proposition to be placed on the ballot in the general election soon enough for the board of elections to have the ballots printed in time to mail them to military voters by the date set each year as the latest date for such mailing. 1973 NY Ops Atty Gen July 26 (informal).

2. Sufficiency of petition

Filing of petition on issue whether to establish ward system for election of council members in Town of North Hempstead is sufficient, assuming petition is otherwise proper, to require town board to submit proposition to voters under CLS Town § 81. 2002 NY Ops Atty Gen I 2002-18.

3. Time of referendum

Where a petition is filed with a town clerk requesting the submission of a resolution to a referendum and a special election is to be held, the town board may schedule the election no sooner than twenty days after the adoption of the resolution calling the election but not more than forty days from the filing of the petition with the town clerk. 1981 Op St Compt File #80-689.

4. Other; miscellaneous

When a resolution of a town board is subject to a permissive referendum, it can be sent to referendum via the petition method or by resolution of the town board. In the absence of a petition or a specific resolution, no referendum is held. Town Law § 60-a enabled towns of the second class to reduce the number of councilmen to be on the town board by resolution subject to permissive referendum. A town which decreased the number from four to two may, by local law subject to mandatory referendum, increase the number to four. 1981 NY Ops Atty Gen June 2 (Informal).

If town approves restriction of office of town justice, justice must be elected to that position at next biennial election for term of 4 years commencing on first day of January following election. 1997 NY Ops Atty Gen I 97-55.

Absentee voting is permitted when a proposition for the establishment or extension of a sewer district is presented to the voters at the general town election. Absentee voting is also permitted at a special election where the town board of a town of the first class, by resolution has required personal registration. N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 83-6.

When a town board resolution to dissolve a fire protection district is submitted for a permissive referendum, only qualified electors residing within the district may sign a petition and vote. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-149.

A permissive referendum to dissolve a fire protection district located in portions of three towns should be held throughout the district in all three towns, even though the petition is signed only by electors of the district in one town. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-178.

§ 103. Definitions

For the purpose of this article, the following terms shall be defined as follows:

1. "Administrative unit" shall mean an office, department, division, bureau, board, commission, district, or other agency of town government, but shall exclude a fire district.

2. "Budget officer" shall mean the supervisor or, in towns which have more than one supervisor, the presiding supervisor; provided that the supervisor or presiding supervisor may appoint, to serve at his pleasure, any person including a town officer or employee, other than a member of the town board, to be budget officer. When a person other than the supervisor has been appointed as budget officer, the supervisor, in the event of a vacancy in the office of budget officer shall serve as budget officer unless and until another person shall be appointed as provided in this subdivision.

3. "Capital project" shall mean: (a) any physical public betterment or improvement or studies, surveys and plans relative thereto, or (b) land or rights in land, or (c) any furnishings, machinery, apparatus or equipment for any physical public betterment or improvement when such betterment or improvement is first constructed or acquired, or (d) any combination of items (a), (b) and (c).

4. "Unappropriated unreserved fund balance" shall mean the difference between the total assets for a fund and the total liabilities, deferred revenues, encumbered appropriations, amounts appropriated for the ensuing fiscal year's budget, and amounts reserved for stated purposes pursuant to law, including reserve funds established pursuant to the general municipal law for the fund, as determined through application of the system of accounts prescribed by the state comptroller pursuant to section thirty-six of the general municipal law.

Analysis

1. In general
2. Under former § 111

1. In general

Local town law, requiring applicants for building permits to pay fee reflecting additional traffic generated by proposed construction, to be used for capital improvements to town, county and state roadway network, was inconsistent with and preempted by general laws regulating highway funding and municipal finance, primarily codified in CLS Town Art 8; permitting towns to raise revenues with impact fees would allow towns to circumvent statutory restrictions on how money is raised and would permit towns to create fund of money subject to limited accountability, not subject to statutory requirements governing how highway improvement funds are spent. Albany Area Builders Ass'n v Guilderland, 141 A.D.2d 293, 534 N.Y.S.2d 791, 1988 N.Y. App.

Div. LEXIS 10961 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1988), aff'd, 1989 N.Y. LEXIS 3171 (N.Y. Oct. 26, 1989).

Town highway superintendent's annual budget estimate must specify 4 major categories as set forth in CLS High § 141, and further must be in such form and contain such information as budget officer prescribes; town may not, by local law, supersede such budget estimate requirements. 1998 Op St Compt No. 98-14.

2. Under former § 111

An item for a reasonable amount to pay for an attorney's services in a litigation to which town was a party, covering a period of approximately four years, is properly included in estimate for town budget and a contention that fees and allowances for counsel must be estimated in advance and included in the estimate each year cannot be upheld, but the value of services performed in one year may properly be included in the budget for the next year provided they are reasonable. Coggeshall v Hennessey, 279 N.Y. 438, 18 N.E.2d 652, 279 N.Y. (N.Y.S.) 438, 1939 N.Y. LEXIS 876 (N.Y. 1939).

Where the town sets forth in the preliminary budget various department items for salary adjustments, the names of the individuals or employees for whom said adjustments are intended need not be specified. Nowhere in the statutes is any permission granted to a town to include contingencies in its detailed estimates of expenditures to be made during the next fiscal year. This section, taken in conjunction with § 141 of the Highway Law, prohibits a Town Board including in its budget any contingent estimates for repair and improvement of highways. § 106. Preparation, filing and review of tentative and preliminary budgets

1. The budget officer, upon receipt of the estimates of the various administrative units, shall review the estimates and may confer with the head of any such unit in regard to such estimates. He may require the head of any such unit to furnish information and to answer inquiries pertinent to such review.

2. Upon the completion of the review of the estimates, the budget officer shall prepare a tentative budget which shall include his recommendations and which shall be in the form prescribed in and in conformance with section one hundred seven of this article. He may also prepare a budget message explaining the main features of the tentative budget and containing such additional information as he may deem advisable. 3. The town clerk shall present the tentative budget to the town board at a regular or special meeting to be held on or before the fifth day of October. In towns in Westchester and Monroe counties the town clerk shall present the tentative budget to the town board at a regular or special meeting to be held on or before the tenth day of November. The town board may call upon the head of any administrative unit and the budget officer to discuss the tentative budget and the estimates as originally submitted. The head of any administrative unit may request in writing that he be permitted to explain his estimates to the town board. The town board shall review the tentative budget and may make such changes, alterations and revisions as it shall consider advisable and which are consistent with law.

4. Upon the completion of such review, the tentative budget and any modifications thereof as approved by the town board, shall become the preliminary budget. The preliminary budget shall be filed in the office of the town clerk and the town clerk shall reproduce for public distribution as many copies as the town board may direct.

§ 107. Contents of preliminary budget

1. The preliminary budget shall be in the format prescribed by the state comptroller. The preliminary budget shall show by funds (a) proposed appropriations and estimated revenues in accordance with the classification of accounts prescribed by the state comptroller pursuant to article three of the general municipal law, (b) estimated fund balances, together with a breakdown of such fund balance estimated for encumbrances, amounts appropriated for the ensuing fiscal year's budget, amounts reserved for stated purposes pursuant to law, including reserve funds established pursuant to the general municipal law, and the remaining estimated unappropriated unreserved fund balance for each fund, provided that the remaining estimated unappropriated unreserved fund balance for each fund shall not exceed a reasonable amount, consistent with prudent budgeting practices, necessary to ensure the orderly operation of town government, taking into account factors including, but not limited to, the size of the fund, cash flows, the certainty with which the amounts of revenues and expenditures can be estimated, and the town's experience in prior fiscal years, (c) the amount of taxes to be levied, (d) salaries of elected officers, and (e) such other information pertinent to the above as shall be prescribed by the state comptroller.

2. Such budget may contain for general contingent purposes, an amount not to exceed ten per centum of the total amount estimated as necessary to provide for the operation of town government exclusive of the amount necessary to pay debt service and judgments, estimates for special district purposes, estimates for the repair and improvement of highways and estimates for purposes for which real property taxes are required to be levied on an area less than the entire town. A sum also* be included for special contingent purposes, which amount shall not exceed ten per centum of the total amount estimated as necessary to provide for the operation of town government and for which real property taxes are required to be levied on the area of the town outside villages, exclusive of the amount required to pay debt service, judgments and estimates for special district purposes and for the repair and improvement of highways.

3. Amounts to be raised by tax for highway purposes shall be within the limitations of section two hundred seventy-one of the highway law.

4. The preliminary budget shall include any other data which the town board may, by resolution, require.

The town board should pay for the space it rents in the library-owned building from its appropriation for rent in the annual budget and not by paying the bills of the library. The board of library trustees may direct the town supervisor to create a reserve for emergencies from unexpended balances of library funds in his custody. 2. —Itemization

The town board in preparing its statement of estimated revenues and expenditures, must itemize the funds, where practicable. The budget for the fiscal year 1952 of the Town of North Hempstead contained many lump sum items which were not itemized with the particularity required. Conway v Sahm, 109 N.Y.S.2d 662, 202 Misc. 519, 1952 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2356 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1952).

3. —Appropriation for contingencies

This section, prior to 1959 amendment, granted to a Town Board only a limited and circumscribed power to include appropriations for contingent purposes, such appropriations not to exceed 10% of the total budget exclusive of debt service and special district purposes, and the 1959 amendment went one step further by not only continuing the prohibition but by excluding the highway item from the base figure upon which the contingency percentage could be calculated. Sweeney v Farrington, 38 Misc. 2d 882, 239 N.Y.S.2d 254, 1963 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2156 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1963).

A town board may set up the appropriation for contingent purposes in 2 parts, one part to be used for "part town" functions but the amount thereof should not exceed 10% of the total amount which the town board appropriates for the "part town" functions. The appropriation for the contingent fund to be used for "part town" purposes should be a charge upon the taxable property of that part of the town outside of any incorporated villages. The base to be used in computing any contingent fund shall not include any appropriation for debt service, judgments or for special district purposes. 1958 Ops St Compt File #811; see also 1958 Ops St Compt File #910.

4. —Fire districts

A town board may not in the preparation and adoption of the annual town budget diminish an estimate submitted by a fire district by striking from such estimate an item determined by the town board to be illegal. 1945 Ops St Compt 256.

A town board must include in the preliminary and annual town budgets the estimate of expenditures submitted by the board of fire commissioners of a fire district, notwithstanding the disapproval by the voters of a proposed proposition authorizing the expenditure of sums in excess of those that may be spent without adoption of such a proposition. 1946 Ops St Compt 562.

5. —Miscellaneous

A town board in a town of the second class having a population of more than 5,000 may create the position of full time constable and funds for the payment of such compensation may be transferred from surplus, unexpended balances or contingent funds as provided by statute. 1945 Ops St Compt 63.

Rental for rooms for Marine Corps League may be provided from contingent or surplus funds or by budget note, when no item in budget. 1946 Ops St Compt 200.

If an appropriate item therefor is not contained in a town budget, such a town may provide care for children (pursuant to chapter 298 of the Laws of 1946) with funds from the contingent fund, surplus moneys, profits of municipal utilities, unexpended balances of war emergency appropriations, or budget notes. 1946 Ops St Compt 264.

Towns and villages may expend moneys to defray the cost of local or branch offices of county veterans' service agencies. 1946 Ops St Compt 410.

The item for Memorial Day observance and Armistice Day observance may be increased to the maximum amount set out in section 64, subd. 12, from the contingent fund, from surplus moneys and from unexpended balances. 1947 Ops St Compt 76.

Where town failed to provide in its budget for Memorial Day observance, contingent funds may be used therefor. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6099.

The town board may authorize payment of a claim for mileage only if moneys have been appropriated for such purpose and are available therefor. Such appropriation need not have been made in the original budget. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6431.

Payment of salary increases may be provided for by the use of surplus funds, unexpended balances, or contingent fund moneys. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6686.

The costs of electricity, water, fuel and telephone for the town garage and the insurance expense on highway equipment are administrative expenses payable out of the general fund of the town. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7459.

After the annual budget of a town is once adopted, there is no power to make any change therein. 1964 Ops St Compt File #1035.

Improvement district expenses for which no taxes or assessments have been levied may not be stated in the town's tax bills and collected in addition to the amounts levied. 1964 Ops St Compt File #1035.

Town board may employ clerk to assist justice of the peace and compensate such clerk from contingent fund. 1965 Ops St Compt File #458.

A town may issue budget notes in 1967 to pay for expenditures incurred in excess of the 1967 budget for highway items 1 through 4. 1967 Ops St Compt File #736.

The salaries of assessors and tax collector may be increased during their terms of office so long as sufficient funds are available in those budget items. 1968 Ops St Compt File #35.

Town funds may not be used, on a temporary basis, to pay water district expenses necessitated by unforeseen circumstances. 1972 Ops St Compt File #630.

1. In general

Under existing law, a contingency fund may not be established for special district purposes or for Highway Item one expenditures. 1978 Op St Compt File #843.

Fees collected for bingo licenses which are not paid to the State Comptroller are town revenues which may be used for town purposes. 1979 Op St Compt File #614.

Surplus revenues of a town-wide lighting district may not be accumulated and carried over from one fiscal year to another except by establishment of a lawful reserve fund. Unappropriated cash surplus may be used to finance an additional appropriation or an increase in an existing appropriation during a fiscal year. 1980 Op St Compt File #280.

In the event that a particular fund concludes a fiscal year with a surplus, it would not be appropriate for that fund to commence the next fiscal year with a balance of zero. 1981 Op St Compt File #81-128.

Moneys received by a town from taxes imposed on admissions to pari-mutuel tracks and moneys received as reimbursement for reductions in such admissions tax revenues are to be credited to the general fund, town-wide. 1981 Op St Compt File #784.

2. Under former § 112, generally

Final responsibility for budget content and accuracy rests by law with the town board of a suburban town and not with the town supervisor, whether or not the town has established the office of town comptroller. 1966 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 13.

The power of a suburban town board to revise estimates of town expenditures before approval of a preliminary budget is not curtailed by the direction given the supervisor of a suburban town to prepare such preliminary budget. 1966 NY Ops Atty Gen Sept 19.

§ 112. Supplemental appropriations; unappropriated unreserved fund balances

1. The town board, during a fiscal year, by resolution, may make additional appropriations or increase existing appropriations and shall provide for the financing thereof. Moneys therefor may be provided from the unexpended balance of an appropriation, from the appropriation for contingencies, from unappropriated unreserved fund balance or unanticipated revenues within a fund or by borrowing pursuant to the local finance law. For the purposes of this subdivision, unappropriated unreserved fund balance or unanticipated revenues shall be utilized only to the extent that the total of all revenues of such fund recognized or reasonably expected to be recognized in the current fiscal year, together with unappropriated unreserved fund balance, exceeds the total of all revenues and appropriated fund balance as estimated in the budget.

2. If at any time during a fiscal year a town receives moneys from any source, except from loans, which are not otherwise committed or appropriated, the town board may direct the supervisor to pay the same or any part thereof to the treasurer of the county to be applied in reduction of the amount to be levied for state and county purposes, and the supervisor shall pay such moneys to the county treasurer prior to the levy.

3. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision one of this section, grants in aid from the state and federal governments, gifts which are required to be expended for particular objects or purposes, and insurance proceeds for the loss, theft, damage or destruction of real or personal property, when proposed to be used or applied to repair or replace such property, may be appropriated by resolution of the town board at any time for such objects and purposes.

I. Generally

1. Use of surplus funds

Where surplus bond proceeds are available to pay debt service for purposes of town improvement district and current assessments also have been raised and appropriated for purpose, debt service need not be paid from assessments. 1988 Op St Compt No. 88-7.

2. Salary increases

A nonelective officer or employee of a town such as a town constable may have his compensation increased during the fiscal year by the town board by resolution without the necessity of a public hearing. 1981 Op St Comp File #81-218.

3. Depletion of funds appropriated for particular purpose

If town superintendent of highways expenditures in fiscal year exceed amount appropriated for particular item or transferred to it pursuant to other provisions of law, superintendent is personally liable on obligations he has thus incurred and continued persistence in such practice to detriment of township may also be grounds for removal of superintendent of highways. Myruski v Town Board of Goshen, 87 Misc. 2d 1063, 386 N.Y.S.2d 984, 1976 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2362 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1976).

4. Under former § 107, generally

There is no conflict between this section and §§ 51 and 52. Petito v Poulos, 51 Misc. 2d 1081, 274 N.Y.S.2d 930, 1966 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1344 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1966), modified, 28 A.D.2d 900, 282 N.Y.S.2d 146, 1967 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 3534 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1967).

Town board may set up welfare item for receipt of moneys found on a gambling device or apparatus. Surplus moneys in such item may be transferred to the general fund. 1947 Ops St Compt 450.

A surplus exists when the total revenues actually received for general town purposes exceeds the total revenues set up in the budget for general town purposes. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6668.

5. —Use of surplus town funds, generally

Unexpended balance in general town budgetary item may be transferred and appropriated to another item appearing in budget for general town purposes. Moneys in surplus town general funds may be transferred and appropriated to increase or create new item. Moneys received from bonding company as result of misappropriation of general town funds would become revenue. 1945 Ops St Compt 435.

Unexpended balances and surplus of welfare moneys may be used for any lawful town purpose. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6757.

6. — —Reduction of taxes

Procedure to be followed where surplus general town moneys are to be applied to reduce the amount to be levied for state and county taxes is the adoption of a resolution authorizing and directing the supervisor to pay to the county treasurer from such surplus moneys a fixed amount for such purpose. 1946 Ops St Compt 677.

Where an amount has been collected by taxation in excess of that appropriated to Item 1-a of the Highway Fund, the supervisor should apply such excess in the following year to reduce the amount to be raised by taxation for that purpose and should not treat it as surplus pursuant to § 107 of the Town Law. 1962 Ops St Compt #71.

A town may invest surplus moneys in special time deposit accounts or certificates of deposit on a temporary basis up to the end of the fiscal year, but must apply such surplus to the reduction of town taxes for the following year, if not expended before the end of the current fiscal year. The only means by which moneys can be accumulated from year to year is by establishing a valid reserve fund. 1969 Ops St Compt File #708.

7. — —Retirement of bonds

Town may not purchase its own obligations and may not invest town moneys, except as provided in sections referred to. 1946 Ops St Compt 36.

8. — —Highway purposes

Surplus general town funds may not be transferred and expended for highway purposes. 1945 Ops St Compt 93.

General town moneys may not be transferred, advanced or loaned to item of highway fund. 1945 Ops St Compt 394.

Widening town highway within right-of-way payable from item 1 of town highway fund; cost of sidewalk along such highway, if not paid by abutting owners, is a town charge. As to the widening, surplus general town moneys may not be used; as to the sidewalk, surplus general town moneys may be used and, if there is an item in the budget for the sidewalk, unexpended balances may be transferred to the sidewalk item. 1945 Ops St Compt 481.

Surplus general town moneys may not be transferred to town highway item I to be expended for repair or improvement of highways. On or after January 1, 1947, surplus general town funds may be transferred to town highway items II, III and IV and be expended for those purposes. 1946 Ops St Compt 656.

Surplus general town moneys may not be transferred to item 1 of the highway fund whether or not there is an incorporated village in the town. 1947 Ops St Compt 55.

Surplus moneys in item 3 of the Highway Fund may be used to purchase new highway machinery. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7408.

A surplus in the town general fund may be transferred by appropriate resolution to Item 3 of the highway fund and used to purchase highway machinery. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8040.

Unanticipated balances remaining in the town general fund at the end of the fiscal year become unanticipated revenues on January 1. If such unanticipated revenues constitute surplus funds, they may be transferred to item 3 of the highway fund. 1957 Ops St Compt File #755.

Unappropriated moneys in the general fund may be transferred to item 4 of the highway fund but not to item 1 of the highway fund. 1957 Ops St Compt File #757.

9. — —Town buildings

Surplus moneys or an unexpended balance in town general fund may be used to pay part of cost of construction of town building to be used for storing highway machinery and for town offices. 1945 Ops St Compt 324.

Surplus town funds may be used to finance a town hall without a referendum. 1946 Ops St Compt 389.

Combination town office highway building would be paid for from general town funds or from obligations, the debt service on which would be paid from general town funds. Surplus town funds may be used for such purpose. Unexpended balances of appropriations for town government may be used subject to restriction of section 115 of Town Law. 1947 Ops St Compt 120.

Surplus town moneys may be appropriated to finance purchase of accounting machine. If purchase price exceeds $1000, competitive bidding is required. Surplus moneys may be used to finance construction of addition to town hall. Referendum requirements discussed. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6383.

A town may expend unappropriated cash surplus to construct a town garage at a cost of $25,000 or less, without a referendum. 1957 Ops St Compt File #418.

10. — —Payment of salaries

A town board in a town of the second class having a population of more than 5,000 may create the position of full time constable and funds for the payment of such compensation may be transferred from surplus, unexpended balances or contingent funds as provided by statute. 1945 Ops St Compt 63.

Salary of newly created position may be paid from surplus funds, contingency funds and from proceeds of budget notes issued pursuant to section 29.00 of the Local Finance Law. 1946 Ops St Compt 30.

Town board may increase salaries of town assessors, including chairman, if moneys are available to pay such increases. Surplus moneys, unexpended balances, contingent fund, or proceeds of budget note may be transferred to budget item for assessors' salaries. 1946 Ops St Compt 495.

Payment of salary increases may be provided for by the use of surplus funds, unexpended balances, or contingent fund moneys. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6686.

Where there is no specific budgetary appropriation for the salary for a particular officer or employee, such salary may be paid from the contingent fund, surplus, unexpended balances, or from the proceeds of a budget note, pursuant to §§ 107, 112, and 115 of the Town Law and § 29.00 of the Local Finance Law. 1960 Ops St Compt File #899.

A town may create the position of park superintendent subsequent to the adoption of the final budget for the fiscal year and pay the salary assigned thereto from legally available funds. 1968 Ops St Compt File #56.

A town may increase the salary of a town justice by resolution, unless the town justice is a member of the town board, in which case a salary increase may be made only by a local law which is subject to a permissive referendum. A salary increase may be made from such legally available moneys as contingent funds, surpluses, unexpended balances, or the proceeds of budget notes. In certain circumstances, such as where one justice's position is vacant for a period of time money from the appropriation for the position of the vacant justice may constitute surplus funds from which the salary increase can be paid. 1980 Op. St. Compt File #496.

11. — —Other

A suburban town had the power under this section and §§ 51 and 52 of the Town Law to transfer surplus funds to the use of a recreational program for handicapped children in a park district. Petito v Poulos, 51 Misc. 2d 1081, 274 N.Y.S.2d 930, 1966 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1344 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1966), modified, 28 A.D.2d 900, 282 N.Y.S.2d 146, 1967 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 3534 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1967).

Where no item has been placed in budget for payment of expenses incurred by assessors, an appropriation must be made in budget or a transfer made from general town funds. 1945 Ops St Compt 429.

Where sum of $75 is placed in annual town budget to be expended toward rent of rooms for American Legion Post located in town, town may not pay $150 for such purpose unless additional moneys are legally transferred and appropriated to such item. 1946 Ops St Compt 119.

Surplus general town funds may be transferred to and appropriated for town welfare purposes. 1946 Ops St Compt 126.

Rental for rooms for Marine Corps League may be provided from contingent or surplus funds or by budget note, when no item in budget. 1946 Ops St Compt 200.

Surplus town general funds may be expended pursuant to section 191-a of the Town Law for the purpose of financing the cost of the preparation of maps and plans for a proposed sewer district. 1946 Ops St Compt 257.

If an appropriate item therefor is not contained in a town budget, such town may provide care for children (pursuant to ch 298 of the Laws of 1946) with funds from the contingent fund, surplus money, profits of municipal utilities, unexpended balances of war emergency appropriations, or budget notes. 1946 Ops St Compt 264.

Surplus town moneys may be used to defray cost of recreation project. State aid is payable for approved expenditures based on application approved by town board and State Youth Commission. 1946 Ops St Compt 333.

The item for Memorial Day observance and Armistice Day observance may be increased to the maximum amount set out in section 64, subd. 12, from the contingent fund, from surplus moneys and from unexpended balances. 1947 Ops St Compt 76.

Compensation of architect payable from surplus funds if no budgetary appropriation therefor. 1947 Ops St Compt 96.

Surplus town moneys may be appropriated to finance purchase of accounting machine. If purchase price exceeds $1000, competitive bidding is required. Surplus moneys may be used to finance construction of addition to town hall. Referendum requirements discussed. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6383.

Where the budget appropriation for the town constabulary has been exhausted, an appropriation therefor may be made from the contingent fund, or from surplus moneys or unexpended balances, or from the proceeds of a budget note issued for that purpose. 1960 Ops St Compt File #670.

The town board may authorize payment of claims incurred in excess of appropriations and transfer moneys from surplus funds, contingent funds or unexpended balances for such payment. 1960 Ops St Compt File #843.

A town which has made no provision in its budget for funds for the payment of a general ambulance service contract may obtain such funds from a surplus or unexpended balance (if one exists) or by issuing budget notes. 1967 Ops St Compt File #349.

12. —Use of surplus district funds

Salaries of employees of a town water district may be increased over and above the amount placed in the budget provided there are surplus district funds or unexpended district balances from which transfers may be made to pay the same. 1945 Ops St Compt 135.

A water district may not expend surplus or an unexpended balance of district funds to purchase fire hose except in an amount necessary for the protection of district-owned property. 1945 Ops St Compt 185.

Unexpended balances of sewer district moneys may be used to increase item in district budget estimate but not for district purposes for which no appropriation was made in district budget estimate. 1945 Ops St Compt 346.

Surplus moneys in debt service item of water district budget may be transferred to item for repairs. 1946 Ops St Compt 44.

Surplus moneys of a water district may be used to retire bonds of a water district prior to maturity with the consent of the bondholder, but interest may not be paid beyond the date of redemption. 1956 Ops St Compt File #7990.

Moneys received on behalf of a sewer district as a condemnation award may be used for any general sewer district purpose. 1957 Ops St Compt File #317.

Town board may authorize expenditure, for any lawful purpose of fire protection district, of surplus moneys for such district or unexpended balances of appropriations made for district purposes. 1964 Ops St Compt File #933.

13. —Reserve fund

Board of fire commissioners of a fire district may establish a capital reserve fund to finance the purchase of fire apparatus. 1946 Ops St Compt 144.

No authority to create single capital reserve fund to finance two specific capital improvements not of the same type or class. Where town does not comply with requirements of law relating to establishment of capital reserve fund, such a fund cannot be deemed to have been created and moneys constitute surplus moneys. 1951 Ops St Compt File #5152.

A building fund (capital reserve fund) may be established for the construction of a town hall from surplus funds or unexpended balances. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7711.

There is no authority for a town to carry a surplus forward from year to year. Resolution that certain moneys "be deposited in a Special Fund entitled 'Capital Improvement' to be disbursed only on a referendum of the people" is not sufficient to establish a new capital reserve fund but might authorize payment into an existing duly established capital reserve fund. 1966 Ops St Compt File #1119.

Where a town has attempted to establish a capital reserve fund, but has not legally done so because of technicalities, the moneys must, nevertheless, be held as if a capital reserve fund had been legally established, pending proper procedures to cure the technical errors. 1968 Ops St Compt File #862.

A town may invest surplus moneys in special time deposit accounts or certificates of deposit on a temporary basis up to the end of the fiscal year, but must apply such surplus to the reduction of town taxes for the following year, if not expended before the end of the current fiscal year. The only means by which moneys can be accumulated from year to year is by establishing a valid reserve fund. 1969 Ops St Compt File #708.

14. —Miscellaneous

Additional moneys to pay for extraordinary repairs to highway machinery may be obtained only upon approval of the town electors voting upon a proposition therefor at a biennial or special election. The additional sum raised may not exceed one-third of one per centum of taxable property of the town as shown upon the last assessment roll thereof. 1945 Ops St Compt 206.

If authorized by plan, rule or order of the New York State Youth Commission, municipalities and school districts may provide care for children (pursuant to chapter 298 of the Laws of 1946) through the facilities of child care projects of nearby municipalities or school districts and the latter may provide the actual care on behalf of the former. 1946 Ops St Compt 264.

In the event of an omitted tax in a fire protection district such omitted tax may not be advanced and paid from general town funds to a volunteer fire company under contract to furnish fire protection to such district. 1946 Ops St Compt 267.

Town board may not contribute and appropriate general town funds to assist a town lighting district in the maintenance of street lights on highways located within such district. 1946 Ops St Compt 274.

Moneys may not be invested by a supervisor in federal obligations except as provided in section 6-f of the General Municipal Law and section 107-a of the Town Law. 1947 Ops St Compt 230.

Financing of youth project by town in absence of budgetary appropriation. 1950 Ops St Compt File #4478.

Town general fund moneys may not be used for a water district purpose after appropriations for water district have been expended. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6505.

Highway fund moneys may not be transferred to the general fund to pay town's share of social security of highway employees. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6579.

Discussion relating to purchase of land for town office building and garage. 1957 Ops St Compt File #559.

A town may issue budget notes in 1967 to pay for expenditures incurred in excess of the 1967 budget for highway items 1 through 4. 1967 Ops St Compt File #736.

15. Under former § 115, generally

Unexpended balances of district funds become either estimated revenues for the succeeding year or, at option of Town Board, part of funds appropriated for district purposes. 1963 Ops St Compt File #981.

Moneys should not be transferred from any account for which there was a specific budgetary appropriation until such time as the purpose has been accomplished or abandoned and there exists in such account an unexpended balance. 1968 Ops St Compt File #180.

16. —Use of unexpired town balances, generally

Unexpended balance in general town budgetary item may be transferred and appropriated to another item appearing in budget for general town purposes. Moneys in surplus town general funds may be transferred and appropriated to increase or create new item. Moneys received from bonding company as result of misappropriation of general town funds would become revenue. 1945 Ops St Compt 435.

Unexpended balances and surplus of welfare moneys may be used for any lawful town purpose. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6757.

General discussion of the use of unexpended balance of down payment to finance lawful town purposes. 1961 Ops St Compt #679.

17. — —Highway purposes

Unexpended balances of appropriations for support of town government may not, pursuant to Section 115 of Town Law, be applied toward purchase of snow plow for removal of snow from town highways. 1945 Ops St Compt 361.

Widening town highway within right-of-way payable from item 1 of town highway fund; cost of sidewalk along such highway, if not paid by abutting owners, is a town charge. As to the widening, surplus general town moneys may not be used; as to the sidewalk, surplus general town moneys may be used and, if there is an item in the budget for the sidewalk, unexpended balances may be transferred to the sidewalk item. 1945 Ops St Compt 481.

An unexpended balance in one item of the highway machinery fund may be transferred to another item of such fund. 1946 Ops St Compt 161.

Unexpended balances in the general town fund may not be transferred to the machinery fund (item No. 3) of the highway fund for the purpose of purchasing a snow plow. 1947 Ops St Compt 499.

Unanticipated balances remaining in the town general fund at the end of the fiscal year become unanticipated revenues on January 1. If such unanticipated revenues constitute surplus funds, they may be transferred to item 3 of the highway fund. 1957 Ops St Compt File #755.

The balance of an appropriation for snow removal in the 1968 budget as of March 18, 1968 cannot be considered an unexpended balance and is not available for transfer for any purpose within or without the highway account. 1968 Ops St Compt File #284.

18. — —Town buildings

Surplus moneys or an unexpended balance in town general fund may be used to pay part of cost of construction of town building to be used for storing highway machinery and for town offices. 1945 Ops St Compt 324.

Combination town office highway building would be paid for from general town funds or from obligations, the debt service on which would be paid from general town funds. Surplus town funds may be used for such purpose. Unexpended balances of appropriations for town government may be used subject to restriction of section 115 of Town Law. 1947 Ops St Compt 120.

19. — —Payment of salaries

A town board in a town of the second class having a population of more than 5,000 may create the position of full time constable and funds for the payment of such compensation may be transferred from surplus, unexpended balances or contingent funds as provided by statute. 1945 Ops St Compt 63.

Town board may increase salaries of town assessors, including chairman, if moneys are available to pay such increases. Surplus moneys, unexpended balances, contingent fund, or proceeds of budget note may be transferred to budget item for assessors' salaries. 1946 Ops St Compt 495.

20. — —Other

Where sum of $75 is placed in annual town budget to be expended toward rent of rooms for American Legion Post located in town, town may not pay $150 for such purpose unless additional moneys are legally transferred and appropriated to such item. 1946 Ops St Compt 119.

Unappropriated balances remaining from any one year in the highway fund may be reappropriated subsequently to pay claims incurred in the same year. 1946 Ops St Compt 439.

Balance in Federal Food Stamp Fund of a town, if composed of moneys raised by and belonging to such town, may be transferred to other town funds appropriated for general town purposes. 1946 Ops St Compt 622.

The item for Memorial Day observance and Armistice Day observance may be increased to the maximum amount set out in section 64, subd. 12, from the contingent fund, from surplus moneys and from unexpended balances. 1947 Ops St Compt 76.

Compensation of architect payable from surplus funds if no budgetary appropriation therefor. 1947 Ops St Compt 96.

Unexpended balances may not be used for library purposes where no provision is made therefor in the town budget. However, appropriations for such purposes may be made from the contingent fund or surplus fund. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6159.

Payment of salary increases may be provided for by the use of surplus funds, unexpended balances, or contingent fund moneys. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6686.

Unexpended balances of appropriations in the current fiscal year or surplus funds may be transferred to a fire district capital reserve fund or repair reserve fund. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6773.

The town board may authorize payment of claims incurred in excess of appropriations and transfer moneys from surplus funds, contingent funds or unexpended balances for such payment. 1960 Ops St Compt File #843.

Where no appropriation has been made for the operation of the public library, the town may obtain such funds from any true surplus, unexpended balance, the contingent fund, or the proceeds of budget notes. 1968 Ops St Compt File #508.

Where a town has budgeted an amount for fire protection district purposes, it cannot increase this amount or supplement it until surplus funds or unexpended balances exist. 1968 Ops St Compt File #970.

21. —Use of expended district funds

Salaries of employees of a town water district may be increased over and above the amount placed in the budget provided there are surplus district funds or unexpended district balances from which transfers may be made to pay the same. 1945 Ops St Compt 135.

A water district may not expend surplus or an unexpended balance of district funds to purchase fire hose except in an amount necessary for the protection of district-owned property. 1945 Ops St Compt 185.

Unexpended balances of sewer district moneys may be used to increase item in district budget estimate but not for district purposes for which no appropriation was made in district budget estimate. 1945 Ops St Compt 346.

22. —Reserve fund

Board of fire commissioners of a fire district may establish a capital reserve fund to finance the purchase of fire apparatus. 1946 Ops St Compt 144.

Unexpended balances of appropriations in the current fiscal year or surplus funds may be transferred to a fire district capital reserve fund or repair reserve fund. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6773.

A building fund (capital reserve fund) may be established for the construction of a town hall from surplus funds or unexpended balances. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7711.

23. —Miscellaneous

Budget system for towns, as provided for in §§ 110 to 120, does not require that every small item of possible expenditure shall be set forth therein, and reasonable lump sums for miscellaneous items and for contingencies may properly be included. Coggeshall v Hennessey, 279 N.Y. 438, 18 N.E.2d 652, 279 N.Y. (N.Y.S.) 438, 1939 N.Y. LEXIS 876 (N.Y. 1939).

Additional moneys to pay for extraordinary repairs to highway machinery may be obtained only upon approval of the town electors voting upon a proposition therefor at a biennial or special election. The additional sum raised may not exceed one-third of one per centum of taxable property of the town as shown upon the last assessment roll thereof. 1945 Ops St Compt 206.

General town moneys may not be transferred, advanced or loaned to item of highway fund. 1945 Ops St Compt 394.

Town board may not contribute and appropriate general town funds to assist a town lighting district in the maintenance of street lights on highways located within such district. 1946 Ops St Compt 274.

Procedure to be followed where surplus general town moneys are to be applied to reduce the amount to be levied for state and county taxes is the adoption of a resolution authorizing and directing the supervisor to pay to the county treasurer from such surplus moneys a fixed amount for such purpose. 1946 Ops St Compt 677.

Town general fund moneys may not be used for a water district purpose after appropriations for water district have been expended. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6505.

Highway fund moneys may not be transferred to the general fund to pay town's share of social security of highway employees. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6579.

If all of the facilities of a water district are sold to a water authority, the proceeds of the sale may not be invested, nor may in excess over the required reserve be used to acquire and maintain a park for the residents of the water district. 1957 Ops St Compt File #57-424.

Town board of suburban town, which established general reserve fund pursuant to § 55 of Town Law, may, subject to subdivision 3 of that section, authorize an expenditure therefrom for specific object or purpose having a period of probable usefulness of at least 5 years pursuant to § 11.00 of Local Finance Law. 1967 Ops St Compt File #846.

A town recreation commission budget is subject to town board control in regard to budgetary appropriations and expenditures. 1967 Ops St Compt File #922.

I. Generally

1. In general

A town board may authorize an officer or board of a town to employ outside counsel and may make the necessary appropriations for such purposes. In the absence of such action, the office of town attorney is responsible for defending an Article 78 action against the zoning board of appeals. N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 83-77.

An unconditional gift of money to a town may not be used to establish a reserve fund to pay tort claims. 1978 Op St Compt File #1063.

Under certain circumstances, a claim incurred in fiscal year 1979 for highway materials delivered in 1979 may be paid from legally available funds in 1980. 1980 Op St Compt File #286.

2. Receipt of revenues

Discussion of return of town's share of county sales tax revenues in circumstances where the town elects to receive its share of such revenues in cash. 1978 Op St Compt File #765.

A town may not elect to receive only a portion of its share of county sales tax revenues in cash and authorize the county to retain the remaining portion to be applied to reduce county taxes on real property in the town. However, it may direct that some or all of its cash share of county sales tax revenues which are not appropriated or committed to some lawful town purpose be paid to the county treasurer in the manner prescribed in Town Law, § 112(2). 1979 Op St Compt File #766.

A town and a county may not enter into an agreement whereby the county withholds a portion of the town's share of county sales tax revenues to be applied to reduce county taxes on real property in the town and turns over the remaining portion to the town in cash. 1980 Op St Compt File #331.

3. Use of surplus funds

4. —Accumulation

A town may not accumulate and build up surplus moneys from year to year. 1978 Op St Compt File #859.

Surplus revenues of a townwide lighting district may not be accumulated and carried over from one fiscal year to another except by establishment of a lawful reserve fund. Unappropriated cash surplus may be used to finance an additional appropriation or an increase in an existing appropriation during a fiscal year. 1980 Op St Compt File #280.

Discussion of manner in which a town may utilize surplus moneys in the general fund and/or the highway fund. 1978 Op St Compt File #320.

Discussion of purchase of a building, to be used as a town hall, from unappropriated surplus funds. 1978 Op St Compt File #978.

A town may not transfer general surplus moneys to a fire protection district. 1979 Op St Compt File #456.

A town board may not transfer unexpended moneys from its highway fund to pay amounts the town owes under an agreement to support a joint municipal library. 1979 Op St Compt File #567.

Where both a town and a village elect to receive their sales tax revenues in cash, the town may expend its share for any town purpose for which moneys raised in the area of the town exclusive of the village may be expended. Where a town receives its sales tax revenues in cash and these revenues exceed its expenditures for the unincorporated area of the town, the town may treat the excess funds as a surplus and use them to reduce the property taxes on those properties outside the village in the next fiscal year, or the town may pay over the surplus to the county treasurer to be applied to reducing county taxes on those properties outside the village. The use of such sales tax revenues to reduce property taxes would not enhance the "tax effort" for federal revenue sharing purposes. The eligibility of a town for state aid for highways is not affected by the application of the proceeds of the county sales tax. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-25.

5. Salary increases

A town may increase the salary of an elected receiver of taxes by resolution. A salary increase may be made from such legally available monies as contingent funds, surpluses, unexpended balances, or the proceeds of budget notes. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-7.

6. Depletion of funds appropriated for particular purpose

If the funds appropriated for a particular town department are completely depleted before the close of a fiscal year, no further expenditures may be made nor liabilities incurred for that department unless the amount of the appropriation is increased and funds are available to finance that increase. 1981 Op St Compt File #81-128.

8. —Use of surplus town funds, generally

9. — —Town buildings

Surplus town funds may be used for the construction of a town garage. No referendum is necessary if the cost of construction is not in excess of $25,000. 1953 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 21 (informal).

10. — —Other

A town board may abolish the position of secretary to the planning board and may transfer the unexpended balance of the appropriation to another department. The town board may not appoint a secretary or clerk to the planning board nor may it force the planning board to share a secretary or clerk with another department, but it may offer the planning board the part-time services of a town employee. 1980 Op St Compt File #358.

Where there is an actual surplus in town fund, such moneys may be lawfully diverted to purposes other than those for which fund was established, without awaiting end of fiscal year. 1929 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 151.

11. —Miscellaneous

Under certain circumstances, a claim incurred in fiscal year 1977 for materials delivered in 1977 may be paid in fiscal year 1980. 1980 Op St Compt File #646.

The town clerk shall prepare and certify in duplicate a copy of the annual budget as adopted by the town board, together with the estimates, if any, adopted pursuant to section two hundred two-a of this chapter. The town clerk shall then affix to each such copy of the annual budget adopted by the town board, as part thereof, a copy of the annual budget of each fire district located in whole or in part within the town as certified by the secretary of the fire district. Within five days thereof the town clerk shall deliver two copies of such budget to the supervisor of the town. The supervisor shall present the copies of the annual budget to the board of supervisors of the county in which such town is situated within ten days after his receipt thereof from the clerk as hereinabove provided. The board of supervisors shall levy and cause to be raised the amounts specified in said annual budget to be levied by tax or assessments, and such amounts shall be levied, assessed and raised by tax and assessments upon the real property of the town liable therefor, at the time and in the manner provided by law for the levy of state and county taxes. The clerk of the board of supervisors shall cause such annual budget to be printed in the journal or proceedings of the board of supervisors except that the board of supervisors of any county by majority vote may authorize the clerk to cause a summary, recapitulation or abstract of such budget to be so printed.

§ 170. Establishment and extension of fire, fire alarm and fire protection districts

1. The town board of any town or, if the proposed district or extension includes territory in more than one town, the town boards of each of the towns in which such proposed district or extension is situated, acting jointly by a majority vote of the members of each of such town boards, upon a written petition as hereinafter provided, may establish or extend fire districts, fire alarm districts and fire protection districts in said town or towns; provided, however, that any such district or extension shall be outside of any incorporated village or city, or existing fire, fire alarm or fire protection district. A fire district shall not be extended pursuant to the provisions of this subdivision except upon the consent in writing of a majority of the commissioners of such fire district. Such consent shall be acknowledged or proved in the same manner as a deed to be recorded.

2. Upon its own motion and without a petition, the town board of any town or, if the district as proposed or proposed to be extended includes territory in more than one town, the town boards of each of the towns acting jointly by a majority vote of the members of each of such boards may establish or extend fire districts or fire protection districts in such town or towns outside of any incorporated village or city or existing fire, fire alarm or fire protection district therein, after a public hearing thereon. The notice of such hearing shall be published and posted and such hearing shall be held in the manner provided in this article for a hearing upon the establishment of a fire district or fire protection district upon petition. After such hearing and upon the evidence given thereat, the town board or boards shall determine by resolution whether it be in the public interest to establish the proposed fire district or fire protection district or extend the existing fire district or fire protection district, as the case may be. If it be determined that the establishment or extension of such district be in the public interest, the town board or boards shall determine whether all the property, property owners and interested persons within the proposed district are benefited thereby and whether all property or property owners benefited are included therein and such town board or boards shall so alter the boundaries of the proposed district or extension, so that all property and property owners and only such property and property owners as are benefited shall be included within its limits. In the event, however, that it is found that any property, property owners or any interested persons not included in the district, as originally proposed, will be benefited thereby, a further notice shall be posted and published and another hearing held as provided herein, unless all said additional property owners or interested persons execute and file written consents to be included in such district or extension. When the boundaries of such fire protection district or extension shall have been finally determined, the town board or boards shall adopt a resolution establishing or extending the district and shall comply with the provisions of subdivision one of section one hundred seventy-three of this chapter. When the boundaries of such fire district or extension shall have been finally determined the town board or boards shall adopt a resolution approving the establishment or extension of the district, and shall comply with the provisions of subdivisions two and four of section one hundred seventy-three of this chapter, other than filing a certified copy of a petition as provided in such subdivision two. A fire district shall not be extended pursuant to the provisions of this subdivision except upon the consent in writing of a majority of the commissioners of such fire district. Such consent shall be acknowledged or proved in the same manner as a deed to be recorded.

3. If a fire alarm district or fire protection district is proposed to be established, or extended, and the district or extension will be situated in whole or in part in any town which is wholly or partly within the Adirondack park and has within the town boundaries state lands subject to taxation assessed at more than thirty per centum of the total taxable assessed valuation of the town as determined from the assessment rolls of the town, as completed from time to time, the town board or boards shall not adopt a resolution establishing or extending any such fire alarm district or fire protection district unless the state comptroller, on behalf of the state, previously has consented to the establishment or extension of the district.

4. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision one of this section, and subdivisions one and two of section one hundred seventy-one of this chapter, if a fire district embraces an area outside a village and also embraces more than fifty per centum of the area of such village, and if the village was incorporated after the fire district was established, the town board of the town in which such fire district and such village are situated, after a public hearing and upon the petition of the village board of such village and the board of fire commissioners of such fire district, may adopt a resolution, subject to permissive referendum, extending such fire district to include the portion of such village which is not in such fire district. The notice of public hearing shall be posted and published, and such hearing shall be held in the manner provided in this article for a hearing upon the establishment or extension of a fire district. The provisions of sections ninety and ninety-one of this chapter shall apply in relation to such referendum except that a petition filed pursuant to such section ninety-one only need be signed by twenty-five qualified electors of the area of such extension, or if there are not twenty-five electors, then by at least fifty per centum of the qualified electors of such area. All of the other provisions of this article not inconsistent herewith shall be complied with in relation to any such extension.

Pursuant to procedural requirements of CLS Town article 11, town may dissolve fire protection district and establish fire district having same boundaries as dissolved fire protection district; however, there is no authority for fire district to establish scale of tax rates so that owners of multiple parcels are taxed at lower rate. 2001 Opns St Comp No. 01-8.

2. Boundaries and extent of territory

It is undisputed that town boards have the sole statutory authority to establish or extend fire districts by resolution. Guilderland Fire Dist. v Centi, 193 Misc. 2d 611, 749 N.Y.S.2d 696, 2002 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1352 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 2002).

Fire district formed pursuant to Article 11 of the Town Law may not include territory situated within an incorporated village. 1947 Ops St Compt 148.

Fire department of the village of Bergen may operate outside of the village limits only if the village has authorized such operation. The town of Bergen may contract with the village of Bergen for the furnishing of fire protection outside of the village limits only if a fire protection or fire alarm district has been established. 1947 Ops St Compt 441.

Territory within a fire protection district may be included in an extension to a fire district only if the fire protection district is dissolved or diminished. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7480.

A fire district may be extended to include a territory in which there are no resident taxpayers, upon petition of resident taxpayers of the existing district. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8213.

A fire district may include territory in more than one county. 1959 Ops St Compt File #839.

A fire protection district may be established to include the entire area of a town outside of villages and cities. 1960 Ops St Compt File #416.

A fire district may be extended to include uninhabited lands within the town, outside of a village. 1968 Ops St Compt File #1020.

In case of extension of fire district located within 2 towns, if proposed extension is upon petition under CLS Town § 170(1), town board of town in which extension is to be located may proceed on its own, without action by other town, but if proposed extension is without petition and by board motion under CLS Town § 170(2), joint action by both town boards is necessary; if area of proposed extension is within adjoining fire protection district, town board of town within which extension is located may proceed on its own under CLS Town § 172-d unless fire protection district is located within more than one town. 1994 Op St Compt No. 94-23.

3. Consolidation and joint districts

Town board may not, at public hearings on the establishment of two proposed fire protection districts, determine to consolidate the proposed district. 1947 Ops St Compt 519.

Unlike fire districts, fire protection districts may not be zoned. A fire protection district may, however, be dissolved and two or more fire protection districts created from the territory formerly embraced by the original district. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8050.

4. Procedures and prerequisites

Appellate court properly affirmed the trial court's dismissal of the electors' referendum petition challenging the dissolution of the existing fire protection district (FPD) and the creation of two new FPDs because the town board fully and properly complied with all the requirements of the New N.Y. Government Reorganization and Citizen Empowerment Act in dissolving the existing FPD, no wind down was necessary as it had no employees, assets, or liabilities, the town board was empowered to create the new FPDs, and its decision to deliver the services formerly provided by the existing FPD by creating two new FPDs was a proper exercise of that authority. Matter of Waite v Town of Champion, 31 N.Y.3d 586, 106 N.E.3d 1167, 81 N.Y.S.3d 807, 2018 N.Y. LEXIS 1544 (N.Y. 2018).

Consent of State Comptroller is necessary to extension of town fire district. 1945 Ops St Compt 39.

Proceedings for the formation of a fire protection district may be initiated by the town board upon its own motion and without petition and the consent of the State Comptroller is not required for the formation of a fire protection district. 1946 Ops St Compt 592.

The consent of the State Comptroller is not required for the formation of a fire protection district. 1947 Ops St Compt 48.

A fire protection district may be formed without a petition. 1952 Ops St Compt File #5565.

Consent of State Comptroller is necessary to establishment of fire protection district in town of North Elba, Essex County. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6999.

Where a fire district located in town A is being extended to include territory wholly within town B, the town board of town B may act alone upon the petition and joint action with town A is not required. 1954 Ops St Compt File #7024.

Permission of the State Comptroller is not required for the establishment of a special improvement district where the only indebtedness to be incurred by the town on behalf of the district will be tax anticipation notes. 1956 Ops St Compt File #7928.

5. Finances and expenditures

There is no statutory limit upon the amount of money which may be expended in a fire protection district. 1945 Ops St Compt 134.

Town board may not purchase a fire truck or erect a fire house on behalf of a fire protection district. 1946 Ops St Compt 167.

No method exists for charging a proportionate share of the expenses of a fire district for a given fiscal year against the real property within an extension of the fire district, when the district was extended during such fiscal year. 1947 Ops St Compt 94.

The expense of establishment of a fire district may be charged back upon the fire district. 1947 Ops St Compt 176.

Services of town attorney rendered in the formation of a fire district are not a district charge and he may not be paid extra compensation by the town. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6528.

Certain funds of fire districts may be temporarily deposited to earn interest in: (a) time deposits, open account, and in (b) time certificates of deposit issued by banks or trust companies but not savings banks, industrial banks or savings and loan associations. 1964 Ops St Compt File #573 (Revised).

6. Action or suit

In consolidated actions for personal injuries and wrongful death arising out of alcohol-related automobile accident which occurred after intoxicated driver consumed beer at fund-raising event to benefit volunteer fire companies, court should have dismissed claims against fire protection district and associated volunteer fire company since protection district submitted proof that it was "defined taxing district" with no independent legal status; where town has created fire district, its volunteer firemen are employees of district, which is proper legal party to be sued. Haskell v Chautauqua County Fireman's Fraternity, Inc., 184 A.D.2d 12, 590 N.Y.S.2d 637, 1992 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 14048 (N.Y. App. Div. 4th Dep't 1992), app. dismissed, 81 N.Y.2d 954, 597 N.Y.S.2d 939, 613 N.E.2d 971, 1993 N.Y. LEXIS 5289 (N.Y. 1993).

In action by plaintiff who was injured in accident involving vehicle driven by volunteer firefighter responding to fire alarm, fire company incorporated under CLS N-PCL § 1402 was properly granted summary judgment on ground that it was not proper party to action, where town had chosen to establish "fire protection district" (which, unlike "fire district," is not political subdivision independent of town), fire company provided fire protection services within fire protection district pursuant to contract with town, and town retained complete control over fire company and ultimate responsibility for fire protection pursuant to § 1402. Miller v Savage, 237 A.D.2d 695, 654 N.Y.S.2d 215, 1997 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 2265 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1997).

The term "fire district" as used in § 205-b of the General Municipal Law, referring to liability for negligence of fire district and volunteer firemen, has a specific meaning in law and does not include fire companies. Heifetz v Rockaway Point Volunteer Fire Dep't, 124 N.Y.S.2d 257, 1953 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2150 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.), aff'd, 282 A.D. 1062, 126 N.Y.S.2d 604, 1953 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5825 (N.Y. App. Div. 1953).

Fire districts as such are neither corporations nor quasi corporations and are not to be regarded as jural persons who might be subjected to suitAny recovery for legal liability on fire district contracts, express or implied, must be had, if at all, by proceedings against commissioners and other officials of fire district, in their capacity as such. Paid firemen of paid fire departments are public employees and not public officers; their residence qualifications are determined on that basis. 1975 NY Ops Atty Gen Aug 20 (informal).

A fire district commissioner may not hold the office of treasurer of the fire district but may hold the office of treasurer of a fire company. 1977 NY Ops Atty Gen March 2.

General Municipal Law § 122 is not applicable to a fire district created under Town Law, Article 11. 1978 NY Ops Atty Gen August 10.

The Joint Pawling Fire District may organize an emergency rescue and first aid squad by following the procedures set forth in General Municipal Law § 209-b subd 1, par a and thereafter, by following the procedure set forth in subdivision b, may provide general ambulance service. 1980 NY Ops Atty Gen June 26 (informal).

A fire district has a duty to provide fire protection services to the general public in all areas of the district, including that portion of a river located within the district, and to render rescue services in that area where emergency rescue services have been organized under General Municipal Law, § 209-b(1). A fire district is not liable for failure to provide fire protection or rescue services. 1983 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 3 (Informal).

One person may not hold simultaneously the positions of a member of a town board and fire district commissioner. 1987 NY Ops Atty Gen No. 87-69 (Informal).

Board of flyer commissioners may require that prospective volunteer members of fire company have high school degrees or equivalency certificates; as alternative, board may consider requiring volunteers to undergo state's certified training currently required only for paid firefighters. 2000 NY Ops Atty Gen I 2000-4.

A fire district is obligated to provide fire protection to tax-exempt properties within the district. 1979 Op St Compt File #117.

It would seem that, as a general rule, a fire district is not subject to the rules and regulations of a town in which it is situate relative to permits for the installation of gasoline storage tanks and, thus, is not required to pay the permit fees. However, the applicability of specific rules and regulations to a fire district is a matter for local determination. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-39.

2. Boundaries and extent of territory

Where the boundaries of a fire district are extended to include "unorganized territory" the consent of a volunteer fire corporation is not required to extend the boundaries of the fire district. 1955 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 13 (informal).

The exclusive firefighting jurisdiction of a village fire department does not automatically expand upon annexation by the village of territory in a neighboring fire district; an agreement by which a village fire department would provide services to the annexed portion of a fire district is possible under Town Law § 176(22). 1990 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. I90-59.

Fire district created in 1952 by town had responsibility for providing fire protection to territory annexed to town in 1998 following 1996 judicial decision which determined that disputed territory was within boundaries of neighboring town where, prior to 1996, fire district boundary included disputed territory; under facts presented, neither annexation of territory in 1998, nor 1996 judicial decision, affected boundaries of fire district. 2002 NY Ops Atty Gen I 02-14.

A fire district cannot include within its geographical boundaries any territory of a previously established fire district. Special legislation is recommended to remedy the overlapping of the area of one fire district by the boundaries of a district subsequently created. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-152.

3. Procedures and prerequisites

Section 170, subd. 2, does not permit town board to extend, without a petition to it (as required by subd. 1), any district other than a "fire protection district". 1943 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 161.

The Joint Pawling Fire District may organize an emergency rescue and first aid squad by following the procedures set forth in General Municipal Law § 209-b subd 1, par a and thereafter, by following the procedure set forth in subdivision b, may provide general ambulance service. 1980 NY Ops Atty Gen June 26 (informal).

While there is no provision of law authorizing the change of a fire district into a fire protection district, a fire district could be dissolved and a fire protection district established to encompass the same geographic area as the dissolved fire district. 1981 Op St Compt File #1.

4. Finances and expenditures

There appears to be no authority for either a town or a county to purchase fire apparatus; quaere, whether § 46 of War Emergency Act, which provides for the appropriation by towns of moneys for safety and protection of persons and property during existing state of war, furnishes such authority; it is suggested that localities desiring to purchase fire equipment create fire districts under this section. 1945 NY Ops Atty Gen Aug. 22.

A member of a town board may not be compensated for legal services rendered in the formation of a fire protection district. 1953 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 9 (informal).

Expense of enlarging a fire district may be charged back to fire district, including Town Attorney paid on fee basis. 1967 NY Ops Atty Gen June 23.

A fire district has no power to tax real property, no power to assess real property and no power to grant or withhold a real property tax exemption. 1976 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 29.

A fire district has no authority to pay the cost of construction of a memorial monument in memory of deceased volunteer firemen. 1980 NY Ops Atty Gen June 11 (informal).

It would be improper for a village to expend village funds for the purpose of sending letters to town residents informing them of possible consequences involved if a fire district is formed within the town. 1978 Op St Compt File #394.

A fire district, with voter approval, may increase its spending limitation by a specified sum to be raised and spent annually for the operation and maintenance expenses of the district's ambulance. 1980 Op St Compt File #206.

5. Action or suit

Volunteer Firemen are not covered by the provisions of the Volunteer Firemen's Benefit Law when attending a funeral, whether such attendance is pursuant to orders or by permission from the chief or fire district commissioners. It is questionable whether use of fire department apparatus to transport the body of a deceased fireman for burial is authorized by statute. If a court held that there is no such authorization, the immunity statute would not apply, the Volunteer Firemen's Benefit Law would not provide protection and personal liability might result. 1977 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 7 (Informal).

§ 171. Petition and hearing

1. A petition to establish or extend afire, fire alarm or fire protection district pursuant to the provisions of section one hundred seventy of this article shall be signed, and acknowledged or proved in the same manner as a deed to be recorded, or authenticated in the manner provided by the election law for the authentication of nominating petitions, by resident taxpayers owning taxable real property aggregating at least one-half of the assessed valuation of all the taxable real property of the proposed district or extension thereof owned by resident taxpayers, as such valuations appear upon the latest completed assessment roll of said town or towns, except that where there are no resident taxpayers within a proposed fire protection district or fire alarm district or a proposed extension of a fire district, fire protection district or fire alarm district then the petition shall be signed by non-resident taxpayers owning taxable real property aggregating at least one-half of the assessed valuation of all the taxable real property in the proposed district or extension as shown on such last completed assessment roll. If a portion only of a parcel of such real estate appearing upon the assessment roll is situated within the proposed district or extension, then the town board or boards may determine the relative value of that part thereof within the proposed district or extension, based upon the valuation of the entire parcel as the same appears upon the assessment roll. If the boundaries of a proposed fire district as described in the petition therefor shall be coterminous with those of an existing water supply district having no bonded indebtedness, the petition may provide for the dissolution of such water supply district upon the establishment of said fire district and the assumption by said fire district of all the liabilities and indebtedness of such water supply district.

2. a. The town board or town boards shall hold a public hearing upon such petition and shall cause a notice thereof to be published at least once in a newspaper having general circulation in the territory affected, the first publication thereof to be not less than ten days nor more than twenty days before the day designated therein for the hearing, and the town clerk or town clerks shall cause copies of such notice to be posted on the sign-board of the town maintained pursuant to subdivision six of section thirty of this chapter, and conspicuously in such other places within or without the territory affected as the town board or town boards may direct, not less than ten nor more than twenty days before the day designated for the hearing as aforesaid. In the event that the town maintains a website, such information may also be provided on the website. Such notice shall contain a description of the proposed district or extension, state the estimated rate per thousand dollars of assessed valuation, based on the aggregate assessed valuation of taxable real property of the proposed district or extension district shown in the latest completed final assessment roll, projected to be assessed, levied and collected for purposes of the proposed district or extended district for the fiscal year of its operation and specify the time when and the place where the town board or boards will meet to consider such petition and to hear all persons interested in the subject concerning the same. If the petition shall provide for the dissolution of an existing water supply district upon the establishment of the fire district, the notice of hearing shall so specify. If, upon the establishment or extension of a fire district, the fire district would become the sponsor of a service award program pursuant to section two hundred sixteen-b of the general municipal law, the notice of hearing shall so specify and contain a statement of the estimated annual cost of the service award program to the fire district; provided, however, that if, upon the establishment or extension of a fire district, the ensuing fire district would become the sponsor of a service award program pursuant to section two hundred sixteen-b of the general municipal law, the resolutions establishing the districts shall be submitted in each such town in the manner provided by article seven of this chapter. Prior to the publication of the notice, the board or boards shall cause to be prepared, and file for public inspection with the town clerk, a detailed explanation of how the estimated rate of assessment for the proposed district or extended district was computed.

b. (1) If the permission of the state comptroller is not required pursuant to section one hundred seventy-three of this article because it is not proposed to finance an expenditure for the district or extension by the issuance of bonds, notes, certificates or other evidences of indebtedness of the fire district, a certified copy of the notice shall be filed with the state comptroller on or about the date of the publication of such notice.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraph one of this paragraph the state comptroller shall not be precluded from requiring the submission of additional information or data in such form and detail as the state comptroller shall deem sufficient or from causing an investigation to be made with respect to the establishment or extension of a district or an increase in the maximum amount to be expended.

3. After a hearing held upon notice as hereinbefore provided and upon the evidence given thereat, the town board or boards shall determine by resolution:

(a) Whether the petition is signed, and acknowledged or proved, or authenticated as required by law and is otherwise sufficient;

(b) Whether all the property and property owners within the proposed district or extension are benefited thereby;

(c) Whether all the property and property owners benefited are included within the limits of the proposed district or extension;

(d) Whether it is in the public interest to grant in whole or in part the relief sought.

If the town board shall determine that the petition is not signed, and acknowledged or proved, or authenticated as required by law or that it is otherwise insufficient, or if it is determined that it be not in the public interest to grant in whole or in part the relief sought, the town board shall deny the petition.

If the town board shall determine that the petition is signed, and acknowledged or proved, or authenticated as required by law and is otherwise sufficient and that it is in the public interest to grant the relief sought, either in whole or in part, but shall find that any part or portion of the property or property owners within the proposed district or extension are not benefited thereby or that certain property or property owners benefited thereby have not been included therein, the town board shall specify the necessary changes of the boundaries of the proposed district or extension to be made in order that all of the property and property owners and only such property and property owners as are benefited shall be included within such proposed district or extension, and the board shall call a further hearing at a definite place and time not less than fifteen nor more than twenty-five days after such determination. Notice of such further hearing shall be posted, published and mailed in the manner provided in this section except that such notice shall also specify the manner in which it is proposed to alter the boundaries of the proposed district or extension. Such further hearing shall be conducted in the same manner as an original hearing upon a petition. If and when the town board shall determine in the affirmative all of the questions set forth in this subdivision, the board may adopt a resolution approving the establishment or extension of the district as the boundaries shall be finally determined, but no such resolution so approving shall be adopted unless the petition shall comply with the requirements of this section as to sufficiency of signers as the boundaries of the proposed district or extension shall be finally determined.

2. "Resident taxpayer", defined
3. "Taxable real property", defined

1. In general

Expense of proceedings taken by town board in establishing fire district is a town charge. Expense incurred by petitioners may be refunded from district funds. If district is not established expense of petitioners may not be refunded. A town may not legally pay premium on insurance purchased by a fire company. Expense of town officer for travel in own automobile to conference of municipal officers is a town charge. 1946 Ops St Compt 127.

Where proposed fire district embraces territory situated in more than one town, each town board, in separate session, should fix the date of the public hearing to be held by the town boards jointly. Such resolution should also provide for the posting and publication of notice of hearing and prescribe the form of the notice. 1947 Ops St Compt 39.

(1) A fire district may be established by a town board only after compliance with the procedure prescribed in Article 11 of the Town Law. (2) There is no requirement that the petitioner possess fire apparatus, equipment or housing. 1947 Ops St Compt 330.

2. "Resident taxpayer", defined

No corporation is a "resident taxpayer" within the meaning of Section 171 of the Town Law. 1946 Ops St Compt 669.

The term "resident taxpayers", as used in this section does not include corporations or the State of New York. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7300.

Only "resident taxpayers" need sign a petition for the establishment or extension of a fire district. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8011.

A fire district may be extended to include a territory in which there are no "resident taxpayers", upon petition of "resident taxpayers" of the existing fire district. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8213.

3. "Taxable real property", defined

Meaning of term "taxable real property" depends upon status of real property at time at which the statute speaks. As used in Sections 171 and 191 of the Town Law, "taxable real property" does not include property exempt from taxation for general governmental purposes. 1945 Ops St Compt 483.

Real property forming part of the New York City water supply system, excepting aqueducts, is "taxable real property" if benefited by the establishment of the district. 1947 Ops St Compt 176.

§ 172-a. Alteration of boundaries of fire districts

1. Irrespective of the manner of their original establishment, whenever two or more fire districts adjoin and the boards of fire commissioners of each fire district affected have agreed by a written memorandum of proposed change to alter the boundaries of such fire districts, but not in such a manner as to include territory not previously situate within such fire districts, nor to exclude territory previously situate therein, and after a public hearing thereon, held jointly by such fire districts, the boundaries of such fire districts may be altered in accordance with such memorandum of proposed change, but not until such proposed change has been approved by the town board of the town in which such fire districts are located, or if located in two or more towns, by the town boards of such towns.

2. Such memorandum of proposed change shall be signed by a majority of the members of the board of fire commissioners of each fire district and shall be acknowledged or proved in the same manner as a deed to be recorded. The members of the board of fire commissioners of each district affected shall jointly hold a public hearing upon such memorandum of proposed change and shall cause a notice thereof to be published at least once in a newspaper having general circulation in the territory affected, the first publication thereof to be not less than ten days nor more than twenty days before the day designated therein for the hearing, and the secretary of the fire districts shall cause copies of such notice to be posted conspicuously in five public places in the district at least ten days prior to the date of such public hearing. In the event that the district maintains a website, one of the posting requirements may be fulfilled by posting such information on the website. Such notice shall specify the time when and the place where the boards of fire commissioners of the districts affected will meet to hear all persons interested in the subject concerning the same and shall specify each district affected and shall state in general terms the manner in which it is proposed to alter the boundaries thereof. Costs of publication shall be borne equally by each fire district affected.

3. After a hearing held upon notice as hereinbefore provided and upon the evidence given thereat, the boards of fire commissioners of the districts affected shall determine by joint resolution:

(a) Whether all the property and property owners within the districts are benefited by such change.

(b) Whether all the property and property owners within the area of such boundary change are benefited thereby.

(c) Whether it is in the public interest to grant the boundary line changes as set forth in the memorandum of proposed change.

If and when the boards of fire commissioners shall determine in the affirmative all of the questions set forth in this subdivision, the boards may adopt a resolution jointly approving the boundary line changes. Such joint resolution and memorandum of proposed change shall be filed with the town clerk of the town or towns in which such districts are wholly located and with the assessor of such town or towns.

4. The proposed change of boundaries shall be deemed to have been approved pursuant to this section in the event that no action is taken by the town board or town boards, either approving or disapproving, within thirty days of receipt of the memorandum of proposed change by the town clerk or clerks. If the town board or town boards approve such proposed change, such alteration of boundaries shall be deemed effective upon the date of such adoption. If the town board of any one of the two or more town boards in which the fire district is located disapprove such proposed change of boundaries, then, within ten days after the adoption of such resolution disapproving such change of boundaries the town clerk of the town disapproving such change shall notify the fire districts involved. Any fire district believing itself aggrieved may within thirty days of receipt of notification commence an appropriate proceeding in the supreme court of the state of New York in accordance with article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules, naming the town board or town boards as respondents.

5. In the event that the boundaries of a district having indebtedness, either bonded or temporary, shall be altered pursuant hereto, such district shall continue in law as it existed immediately prior to such change of boundaries for the purpose of paying such indebtedness, and there shall be annually assessed and levied upon and collected from the taxable real property within such district as it existed immediately prior to such alteration of boundaries, in the same manner and at the same time and by the same officers as town taxes are assessed, levied and collected, a sum sufficient to pay such indebtedness and interest thereon as the same shall become due. All and only the real property within the boundaries of the district as they exist after the alteration thereof shall be liable for the payment of indebtedness incurred for the purposes of such district after such alteration. For the purposes hereof, such alteration of boundaries shall be deemed effective upon the adoption by the boards of fire commissioners of the affected fire districts of the resolution providing therefor, unless such resolution shall specify some other date for such purpose, in which case such alteration shall be deemed effective upon the date so specified.

§ 172-c. Alteration of boundaries of fire protection district

The town board of a town in which any fire protection district has been established, or if established in two or more towns, the town boards of such towns acting jointly by a majority vote of the members of each of such town boards, upon petition and after a public hearing, or upon the motion of such town board or town boards after a public hearing, may alter the boundaries of such fire protection district in accordance with such petition or motion and exclude from the district territory previously located therein. Such petition, if any, shall be signed by resident taxpayers owning taxable real property aggregating at least one-half of the assessed valuation of all the taxable real property owned by resident taxpayers in the territory to be excluded and at least one-half of the assessed valuation of all the taxable real property owned by resident taxpayers in the remaining territory of the district. The assessed valuations in either case shall be the assessed valuations of the taxable real property as shown by the latest completed assessment-roll of the town. Such petition, if any, shall be signed, and acknowledged or proved in the same manner as a deed to be recorded, or authenticated in the manner provided by the election law for the authentication of nominating petitions. Notice of such hearing shall be given and such hearing held and the subject matter thereof determined in the manner provided herein for hearings upon the establishment of fire protection districts, except that the notice of hearing shall state in general terms the purposes of the hearing and the manner in which it is proposed to alter the boundaries of the district. Any resolution altering the boundaries of such fire protection district made upon motion of the town board or town boards without a petition shall be subject to a permissive referendum as provided in article seven of this chapter. For the purposes of this section, the boundaries of such fire protection district shall be deemed to be altered pursuant to petition of resident taxpayers and the territory described in the notice excluded, upon the adoption by the town board or town boards of the resolution providing therefor, unless such resolution shall specify some other date for such purpose, in which case such boundaries shall be deemed to be altered and such territory excluded on the date so specified, and such alteration of boundaries upon motion of the town board or town boards without a petition shall become effective as provided in section ninety-one of this chapter. Unless renegotiated, any existing contract for the supplying of fire protection to any such fire protection district shall be carried out in the same manner as if such boundaries had not been altered or territory excluded from the district.

§ 172-e. Change of name of fire district

The name of a fire district may be changed upon a resolution of the board of fire commissioners of such fire district after a public hearing thereon. Such public hearing shall be held prior to the first day of September in any year. The notice of such hearing shall state the proposed new name and shall be published and posted, and such hearing shall be held, in the manner provided in this article for a hearing upon the establishment of a fire district upon petition. After such hearing and upon the evidence given thereat, the board of fire commissioners shall determine by resolution whether it be in the public interest to change the name of such fire district. If it be so determined, the board of fire commissioners, by an approving vote of not less than three-fifths of the voting strength of the board, shall adopt a resolution establishing the new name for the fire district to take effect on the first day of January of the next fiscal year of the fire district. Within ten days after the passage of such resolution, the fire district secretary shall file a certified copy of such resolution (1) in the office of the town clerk of each town in which such district is situated, (2) in the office of the county clerk of each county in which such district is situated, (3) in the office of the clerk of the board of supervisors of each county in which such district is situated, and (4) in the office of the state department of audit and control at Albany, New York.

§ 172-f. Resolution and hearing for diminution of fire district boundaries

1. Irrespective of the manner of its original establishment, whenever a board of fire commissioners resolves, by a two-thirds vote, to diminish the boundaries of such fire district, so as to exclude territory previously situate within such fire district, and after a public hearing thereon, held jointly by the fire district and the town in which such territory to be excluded is situate, the boundaries of such fire district may be altered in accordance with such resolution.

2. Such resolution of proposed diminution shall be signed by two-thirds of the members of the board of fire commissioners and shall be acknowledged or approved in the same manner as a deed to be recorded. The members of the board of fire commissioners shall jointly hold a public hearing with the members of the town board in which such territory is located and shall cause a notice thereof to be published at least once in a newspaper having general circulation in the territory affected. The first publication thereof shall be not less than ten days nor more than twenty days before the day designated therein for the hearing. Such notice shall specify the time when and the place where the board of fire commissioners and the town board will meet to hear all persons interested in the subject, and shall specify the territory affected. Cost of publication shall be borne solely by the fire district. Such notice shall also specify the area to be included in a proposed fire protection district, which fire protection district shall include the area of the fire district proposed to be excluded.

3. After a hearing held upon notice as hereinbefore provided and upon the evidence given thereat, the board of fire commissioners and the town board shall determine by resolution:

(a) Whether all the property and property owners within the area proposed to be excluded from the district and included in the fire protection district are benefited thereby;

(b) Whether all the property and property owners benefited are included within the limits of the proposed fire protection district;

(c) Whether it is in the public interest to grant in whole or in part the diminution of the district and the creation of the fire protection district by the town board.

If the board of fire commissioners and the town board shall determine that it is in the public interest to diminish the fire district and create the fire protection district but shall find that any part or portion of the property or property owners within the proposed area to be excluded from the fire district are not benefited thereby or that certain property or property owners benefited thereby have not been included in the proposed fire protection district, the board of fire commissioners and the town board shall specify the necessary changes of the boundaries of the area to be excluded from the fire district and the boundaries of the fire protection district in order that only such property and property owners as are benefited, shall be included within such proposed excluded area and within the fire protection district, and the board of fire commissioners shall, together with the town board, call a further hearing at a definite place and time not less than fifteen nor more than twenty-five days after such determination. Notice of such further hearing shall be published in the manner provided in this section except that such notice shall also specify the manner in which it is proposed to alter the boundaries of the area to be excluded and the boundaries of the fire protection district. Such further hearing shall be conducted in the same manner as the original hearing. If, and when, the board of fire commissioners and the town board shall determine in the affirmative all of the questions set forth in this subdivision, the board of fire commissioners may adopt a resolution approving the diminution of the fire district and the town board may adopt a resolution approving the establishment of the fire protection district, all as the boundaries shall be finally determined.

§ 172-g. Filing of determination

1. Whenever the board of fire commissioners and the town board shall adopt a resolution diminishing the area of a fire district and including such area in a fire protection district, the town clerk shall cause a certified copy of such resolution to be duly recorded in the office of the clerk of the county in which such fire district and fire protection district are located, and shall, within ten days cause a certified copy of such resolution to be filed in the state department of audit and control at Albany, New York. When so recorded, such resolution shall be presumptive evidence of the regularity of the establishment of the fire protection district and the diminution of the fire district. The expense of such recording shall be a charge against the fire district. The said determination shall be final and conclusive unless a proceeding has been commenced for a review in the manner provided by article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules within thirty days from the time of recording thereof.

2. In the event that the boundaries of a fire district having indebtedness, either bonded or temporary, shall be diminished pursuant hereto, such district shall continue in law as it existed immediately prior to such change of boundaries for the purpose of paying such indebtedness, and there shall be annually assessed and levied upon and collected from the taxable real property within such district as it existed immediately prior to such diminution of its boundaries, and in the same manner and at the time and by the same officers as town taxes are assessed, levied and collected, a sum sufficient to pay such indebtedness and interest thereon as the same shall become due. All and only the real property within the diminished boundaries of the district as they exist after the diminution thereof shall be liable for the payment of indebtedness incurred for the purposes of such district after such diminution. For the purposes hereof, such diminution of boundaries shall be deemed effective upon the adoption by the town board of the resolution providing therefor, unless such resolution shall specify some other date for such purpose, in which case such diminution shall be deemed effective upon the date so specified.

§ 173. Filing of determination

1. Whenever the town board or boards shall adopt a resolution establishing or extending a fire alarm district or a fire protection district, or consolidating two or more adjoining fire districts or fire protection districts, or altering the boundaries of a fire district or fire protection district, or dissolving a fire district, a fire alarm district or fire protection district, the town clerk or clerks shall cause a certified copy of such resolution to be duly recorded in the office of the clerk of the county or counties in which such fire district, fire alarm district, fire protection district, or consolidated or altered fire districts, or consolidated fire protection districts, are located, and shall, within ten days cause a certified copy of such resolution to be filed in the state department of audit and control at Albany, New York. When so recorded, such resolution shall be presumptive evidence of the regularity of the establishment, extension, consolidation, dissolution or alteration of such district or districts. The expense of such recording shall be a charge against the district or districts. The said determination shall be final and conclusive unless a proceeding has been commenced for review in the manner provided by article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules within thirty days from the time of recording thereof.

2. Whenever the town board or boards shall adopt a resolution establishing or extending a fire district for which it is proposed that an expenditure is to be financed by the issuance of bonds, notes, certificates or other evidences of indebtedness of the fire district, such resolution or determination shall be submitted to the state comptroller for approval in the following manner:

(a) Within ten days after the adoption of a resolution by a town board approving the establishment or extension of such a district, the town clerk of the town shall file a certified copy of such resolution, in duplicate, in the office of the state department of audit and control at Albany, New York, together with an application, in duplicate, for permission to create or extend such district as the case may be. Such application shall be executed and verified by the supervisor, or by such other officer of the town as the town board shall determine, and shall include the following:

(1) A certified copy of the petition, if there is one, omitting, however, the signatures and acknowledgments or proofs, or authentications.

(2) An itemized statement of the existing indebtedness of the town, both temporary and bonded, including the indebtedness of the town for all special district purposes.

(3) A statement of the aggregate assessed valuation of the taxable real property situated in the proposed district or extension thereof, and, if there is a petition, of the portion thereof owned by resident owners.

(b) Whenever such an application shall be filed in the office of the department of audit and control, the state comptroller shall within five days thereafter give notice thereof to the board of supervisors of the county in which such proposed district or extension is located by filing with the clerk of such board of supervisors one copy of such application. At any time within fifteen days of the filing of the application, said board of supervisors may file an objection, in writing, in the office of said department of audit and control. In addition, the state comptroller shall determine whether the public interest will be served by the creation or extension of the district and also whether the cost thereof will be an undue burden upon the property of the proposed district or extension. The state comptroller may make such determinations upon the original or any amended application, or in his discretion may require the submission of additional information or data in such form and detail as he shall deem sufficient, or may cause an investigation to be made, to aid him in making the determinations above mentioned.

3. Upon the expiration of fifteen days from the date of the filing of such application with the clerk of the board of supervisors and upon reaching a determination, the comptroller shall make an order, in duplicate, granting or denying permission for the creation or extension of the district and shall file one copy of such order in the office of the state department of audit and control at Albany, New York, and the other in the office of the town clerk of the town in which the proposed district or extension is located. The town clerk shall present such order to the town board of the town at the next meeting thereof.

4. If the state comptroller shall deny permission for the creation or extension of the district, the town board shall forthwith adopt an order denying the petition. If the state comptroller shall grant permission therefor or if permission of the state comptroller is not required, the town board may adopt an order establishing the district or extension as the boundaries shall be finally determined. The town clerk shall cause certified copies of its resolution and such order to be duly recorded in the office of the clerk of the county or counties in which such fire district is located. When so recorded such resolution and order shall be presumptive evidence of the regularity of the establishment or extension of such district. The expense of such recording shall be a charge against the district. The said determination shall be final and conclusive unless a proceeding for review in the manner provided by article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules has been commenced within thirty days from the time of the recording thereof. Within ten days after the adoption of such order by the town board, establishing the district or extension, the town clerk shall cause a certified copy of such order to be filed in the office of the state department of audit and control at Albany, New York.

5. If the petition for the establishment of a fire district shall provide for the dissolution of an existing coterminous water supply district having no bonded indebtedness, then upon the establishment of the fire district the district so established shall assume and pay all the liabilities and indebtedness of the water supply district so dissolved.

§ 174. Fire district officers

1. Whenever a fire district shall be established, within ten days thereafter the town board of the town in which such district is located or, in the case of a district including territory in two or more towns, the town boards of such towns acting jointly by a majority vote of the members of each of such town boards, shall appoint five fire district commissioners and a treasurer for such district who shall hold their respective offices until the thirty-first day of December next succeeding; provided, however, that if such district be established subsequent to the first day of October in any year, the officers so appointed by the town board shall hold office until the thirty-first day of December of the next succeeding calendar year. A person so appointed as fire district commissioner shall not serve as chief or assistant chief of the fire district fire department after taking his oath of office as such commissioner and during the time he serves as such commissioner pursuant to such appointment. The town clerk shall immediately notify the appointees of their appointment and of the time and place which he shall fix for the organization meeting of the board of fire commissioners, which meeting shall be held not later than ten days after the appointment of said officers. At such organization meeting, the treasurer shall preside until such time as a chairman of the board of fire commissioners shall be chosen, but such treasurer shall not be entitled to a vote at such meeting. The board of fire commissioners shall appoint a secretary who shall hold office until the thirty-first day of December following the first election of fire district officers.

2. The first election of fire district officers shall be held on the second Tuesday in December next succeeding the establishment or consolidation of such fire district; provided, however, that if such district be established at a time subsequent to the first day of October in any year, the first election of fire district officers shall be held on the second Tuesday in the month of December of the next succeeding calendar year. At the first annual election of fire district officers, five district commissioners shall be elected and a treasurer. The person receiving the greatest number of votes for the office of fire commissioner shall be elected for a term of five years; the person receiving the second highest number of votes shall be elected for a term of four years; the person receiving the third highest number of votes shall be elected for a term of three years; the person receiving the fourth highest number of votes shall be elected for a term of two years and the person receiving the fifth highest number of votes shall be elected for a term of one year. In the event that two persons shall receive the same number of votes the terms of office shall be decided by lot. At each subsequent election of fire district officers a commissioner shall be elected for the full term of five years. In the event that two or more persons receive the same number of votes thereat, a special election between the tying parties receiving the highest number of votes to fill the vacancy shall be held within forty-five days after such election. The fire district treasurer shall be elected for a term of three years. The fire district secretary shall be appointed by the fire district commissioners and shall serve for a period of one year. The fire district secretary in office at the time such election is held shall immediately notify the officers elected of their election and that an organization meeting will be held on the day specified in said notice, which shall not be later than the fifteenth day of January next ensuing. At such organization meeting, the treasurer shall preside until such time as a chairman of the board of fire commissioners shall be chosen, but such treasurer shall not be entitled to a vote at such meeting.

2-a. The fire district commissioners may adopt a resolution establishing the office of director of purchasing and appoint a director of purchasing who shall serve for a term, not to exceed five years, to be fixed by the fire district commissioners. If the fire district commissioners so determine, the duties of the director of purchasing may be combined with the duties of any other fire district officer or employee except members of the board of fire district commissioners and the fire district treasurer. The fire commissioners of any fire district in which the office of director of purchasing shall have been established may adopt a resolution abolishing such office, and upon the expiration of the term of office of the incumbent or such other time as may be set forth in the resolution, such office shall be abolished and no successor shall be appointed.

3. The fire district commissioners shall receive no compensation for their services, but a commissioner acting as secretary of the fire district may be compensated. The fire district secretary shall receive such compensation as the fire district commissioners may determine, but if the secretary be a member of the board of fire commissioners his compensation shall be fixed by the other members of the board. The fire district treasurer and the director of purchasing, when such office has been established, shall receive such compensation as the fire district commissioners may determine. Each fire district treasurer, each secretary in fire districts having a separate secretary, and each director of purchasing, when such office has been established, shall before entering upon the duties of his office take the constitutional oath of office and file the same with the town clerk of the town or one of the towns in which such fire district is located. The treasurer of each fire district shall before entering upon the duties of his office, execute and file with the town clerk of the town or one of the towns in which such fire district is located, an official undertaking, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties and that he will and truly keep, pay over and account for all moneys of the fire district coming into his hands as treasurer of the fire district. The undertaking shall be in such form, in such sum and with such sureties as the fire commissioners shall direct and approve and such approval shall be indicated upon such undertaking. The fire commissioners of any fire district may require the director of purchasing, when such office has been established, before entering upon the duties of that office, to execute and file with the town clerk of the town or one of the towns in which such fire district is located, an undertaking, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties and for a due accounting of all property that may come under his care, custody and control. Such undertaking shall be in such form, in such sum and with such sureties as the fire commissioners shall direct and approve and such approval shall be indicated upon such undertaking.

4. The fire district treasurer or any commissioner of the fire district, whenever so appointed, may also act as fire district secretary. When the position of fire district treasurer or fire district secretary is appointive, and in the case of the director of purchasing, when such office has been established, and if no qualified resident of the district is willing to perform the duties of fire district treasurer, fire district secretary or director of purchasing, a person who is a nonresident of such fire district may be appointed as fire district treasurer, fire district secretary or director of purchasing. A person shall not hold the offices of fire district commissioner and fire district treasurer at the same time. A person shall not hold the office of fire district commissioner and the office of chief or assistant chief of the fire department of the fire district at the same time.

Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of law, a person who is a fire district commissioner, may, if he is otherwise qualified, be a candidate for nomination, and may be nominated by the fire district fire department, for the office of chief or any assistant chief of the fire department, but only if such commissioner has filed with the fire district secretary at least five days, but not more than ten days, before the meeting of the fire department at which any such nomination would be made a written notice that he will be a candidate for such nomination. If a fire district commissioner is a candidate for nomination for any such office in the fire department and he is duly nominated for such office at a meeting of the fire department, he shall forthwith cease to be a fire district commissioner and his office as such commissioner shall thereupon become vacant. If a fire district commissioner is a candidate for nomination for any such office in the fire department and he is defeated for such nomination at the meeting of the fire department, he shall not participate in any vote of the board of fire commissioners in relation to the appointment of the successful nominee to the office for which such commissioner and such successful nominee were opposing candidates.

Notwithstanding any inconsistent provision of law, a person who is the chief or an assistant chief of the fire district fire department, if he is otherwise qualified, may be elected to the office of fire district commissioner or may be appointed to the office of fire district commissioner to fill a vacancy and, if he is so elected or appointed, his office as chief or assistant chief, as the case maybe [may be][*], shall become vacant upon his taking his oath of office as fire district commissioner.

5. A person who has been convicted of arson in any degree shall not be eligible for nomination, election or appointment to the office of fire district commissioner or fire district officer.

6. Each commissioner of a fire district before entering upon the duties of his office, shall take the constitutional oath of office and file the same with the town clerk of the town or one of the towns in which such fire district is located.

7. A fire district is a political subdivision of the state and a district corporation within the meaning of section three of the general corporation law.[] The officers and employees of a fire district, including the paid and volunteer members of the fire department thereof, are officers and employees of such fire district and are not officers or employees of any other political subdivision.

1. In general

Auditing provisions of county charter, which empowered county comptroller to examine and audit accounts and records of any special district within county, did not authorize audit of financial affairs of fire district, which is political subdivision of state pursuant to CLS Town § 174(7) and therefore subject to exclusive jurisdiction of State Comptroller to conduct annual audits under CLS Gen Mun § 30 et seq. In re Inwood Fire Dist., 152 Misc. 2d 518, 577 N.Y.S.2d 575, 1991 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 668 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1991).

Since a fire district is a political subdivision of the state, its paid drivers are, in fact, paid firemen. 1962 Ops St Compt #268.

2. Compatibility and conflicts, generally

Offices of fire district commissioner and water district commissioner (in a district operated by a separate board) are incompatible. 1946 Ops St Compt 651.

A fire district commissioner is a public officer and, although he serves without compensation, he may not enter into a contract with the fire district which he serves. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7343.

A fire district commissioner who is an employee of a business which services district vehicles has a conflict of interest in any contracts between the district and the business unless the exception contained in section 802(1)(b) is applicable. 1984 Op St Comp File #84-37.

3. —Board of education member

The offices of Fire District Commissioner and Member of the Board of Education are compatible. 1964 Ops St Compt File #719.

4. —Fire district secretary

A fire district may not sell at private sale its capital note to a fire company, a membership corporation, where all of the fire district commissioners and the secretary-treasurer of such district are members of the fire company. The fire district may accept the low bid of such a membership corporation on the public sale of a capital note if no member of the board of fire commissioners is an officer or director of the membership corporation. 1960 Ops St Compt File #400.

The same person may not hold the offices of town fire district commissioner and fire district treasurer, but may hold either of such offices and the office of fire district secretary. 1964 Ops St Compt #183.

5. —Fire district treasurer

The office of fire district treasurer is incompatible with employment as a paid fireman of the fire district. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7362.

A fire district may not sell at private sale its capital note to a fire company, a membership corporation, where all of the fire district commissioners and the secretary-treasurer of such district are members of the fire company. The fire district may accept the low bid of such a membership corporation on the public sale of a capital note if no member of the board of fire commissioners is an officer or director of the membership corporation. 1960 Ops St Compt File #400.

The same person may not hold the offices of town fire district commissioner and fire district treasurer, but may hold either of such offices and the office of fire district secretary. 1964 Ops St Compt #183.

The treasurer of a fire district may legally serve on the planning board of a town in which the fire district is located. 1968 Ops St Compt File #819.

6. —Part-time judge; justice

A justice of the peace in a town of the first class may hold the offices of fire commissioner of a fire district and member of the zoning board of appeals although these offices could not be held by a justice of the peace in a town of the second class. 1965 Ops St Compt File #879.

A part-time judge may serve as a secretary to a town fire district, and as a chair of the annual school board meeting for the presentation of the school budget. Advisory Committee on Judicial Ethics, Op 89-155 (1990).

A part-time judge may serve as captain of a voluntary rescue squad, and as secretary for the board of fire commissioners. Advisory Committee on Judicial Ethics, Op 90-3 (1990).

A part-time judge should not seek election to the position of treasurer of the local fire district. However, the judge may continue to serve in that position in the fire district until the end of the current term because there is no conflict of incompatibility in the duties of the two offices, but the judge cannot run for re-election while retaining judicial office. Advisory Committee on Judicial Ethics, Op 90-50 (1990).

Full-time judge should not serve as Commissioner of volunteer fire department, even though fire department is not in fire district (which is political subdivision of state), since such service as commissioner would be virtually identical in terms of duties and responsibilities. Ops Adv Comm Jud Ethics No. 03-79.

7. Elections

Fire district's board of commissioners properly refused to remove board candidate's request to remove his name from ballot, and thus result of election that he won would not be set aside on petition of losing candidate in Article 78 proceeding, where winning candidate was properly nominated, his subsequent discovery that he could not continue his employment as city police officer if he accepted nomination did not disqualify him, and Town Law contains no provision authorizing fire district commissioners to remove candidate's name from ballot once he or she has duly filed proper nominating petition. Cusumano v Board of Comm'rs, 251 A.D.2d 404, 674 N.Y.S.2d 86, 1998 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6636 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1998).

A fire district commissioner may be nominated for the office of chief engineer or assistant engineer, but upon being nominated he ceases to be a fire district commissioner. 1963 Ops St Compt #171.

Election inspectors and ballot clerks at fire district elections may not be compensated from fire district funds. 1946 Ops St Compt 140.

A part-time judge should not seek election to the position of treasurer of the local fire district. However, the judge may continue to serve in that position in the fire district until the end of the current term because there is no conflict of incompatibility in the duties of the two offices, but the judge cannot run for re-election while retaining judicial office. Advisory Committee on Judicial Ethics, Op 90-50 (1990).

8. Meetings

The attendance of three fire district commissioners is necessary for a quorum and the affirmative vote of three such commissioners is necessary for the adoption of any resolution. 1953 Ops St Compt File #5967.

9. Oath and bond

Where one who was elected to office of fire district commissioner in December, 1939, failed to take and file the oath of office, as required by § 174, subd. 5, and he illegally held office until October 1, 1941, when board of fire district commissioners declared a vacancy to exist and appointed another to fill it, inasmuch as a vacancy in office had existed for over thirty days, appointment by board was violative of § 176, subd. 3. Rivette v Baker, 265 A.D. 89, 37 N.Y.S.2d 912, 1942 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5685 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't), modified, 265 A.D. 894, 1942 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6369 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1942).

Fire district commissioners not required to furnish official undertaking. Fire district treasurer must provide official undertaking. 1945 Ops St Compt 538.

Husband and wife may sign individually as sureties on fire district treasurer's bond, if both meet qualifications of section 11 of the Public Officers Law. It is not necessary to re-submit proposition to pay salary to fire district treasurer, once such proposition has been adopted. Board of fire commissioners should fix secretary's compensation annually. Treasurer's bond must be renewed, or new bond filed for each term of office. 1946 Ops St Compt 105.

Under subd. 3 of this section, as well as subd. 4 of § 176, it is clear that the undertaking of a fire district treasurer should be filed with the town clerk. 1961 Ops St Compt File #139.

Secretary of fire district may administer oath of office to district commissioner, but treasurer of fire district may not administer such oath. 1987 Op St Compt No. 87-60.

The constitutional oath of office of fire district officers, such as the treasurer, secretary, and commissioner, must be filed with the town clerk of the town, or one of the towns, in which the district is located, before such an officer enters upon the duties of his office. 1960 Ops St Compt File #341.

10. Powers and duties

Fire company could not be held vicariously liable for alleged negligence of firefighter in operating her vehicle in response to emergency since, under statute, (1) fire district, not fire company, employs, supervises and controls individual firefighters, (2) district is responsible for prevention and extinguishment of fires, (3) district possesses virtually total supervision and control over all aspects of creation and staffing of fire companies as well as over rules and regulations governing firefighting practices and procedures, and (4) district is answerable for negligence of its firefighters committed in course of their duties. Knapp v Union Vale Fire Co., 141 A.D.2d 509, 529 N.Y.S.2d 132, 1988 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6348 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1988).

A chief engineer of the Fire Department of a town is not a public officer since he has no independent prerogatives or sovereign power, but is subject to the jurisdiction and control of the fire commissioners, and so is subject to removal from his position without the preferring of formal charges and without being accorded a hearing. Application of Barber, 100 N.Y.S.2d 668, 198 Misc. 135, 1950 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2169 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1950), aff'd, 278 A.D. 600, 101 N.Y.S.2d 924, 1951 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4071 (N.Y. App. Div. 1951).

Officials of fire districts are merely administrative officials who are not subject to ordinary actions, and their inaction must be remedied, if at all, by mandamus. Hellawell v Grafeld, 22 F. Supp. 765, 1938 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 2274 (D.N.Y. 1938).

A chief engineer employed as a fire district commissioner becomes a paid fireman and loses his status as a volunteer fireman. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6654.

11. Compensation and benefits

A member of the Board of Fire Commissioners may be reimbursed for car expense and meals when such costs are incurred on district business. 1961 Ops St Compt #663.

A fire district may not provide disability benefits coverage for its employees. 1961 Ops St Compt #900.

A member of a board of fire commissioners of a fire district may not be provided health insurance through the state health insurance plan at the expense of the district. 1991 Op St Compt No. 91-44.

Salary of fire district treasurer, may not be increased by increasing it in the budget, though budget was submitted to vote of fire district electors. Defeat of budget does not affect such salary. Payment of increased salary to treasurer in prior years was improper. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7512.

Subdivision 3 of this section confers authority upon a town to compensate the fire district secretary on an annual basis, and the method whereby he may be compensated is set forth in § 176. 1964 Ops St Compt #533.

A fire district commissioner, who travels to an approved convention or other firemanic function in his own camper and takes lodging therein, may not be reimbursed the equivalent of a reasonable hotel or motel charge, but may be paid his actual and necessary expenses. 1968 Ops St Compt File #973.

12. Term of office and vacancies

Mandamus to compel town board and members thereof to fill vacancy is the proper remedy in case where there is no dispute of facts, and person illegally appointed by board of fire district commissioners to fill the vacancy was properly omitted as a party in proceeding. Rivette v Baker, 265 A.D. 89, 37 N.Y.S.2d 912, 1942 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5685 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't), modified, 265 A.D. 894, 1942 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6369 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1942).

A fire district secretary-treasurer serves for a term of one year, notwithstanding that the appointment was designated as a temporary one. 1974 Ops St Compt File #825.

A person may hold the following positions at the same time: member of board of education of school district, part-time police officer of town and fire district commissioner. 1978 Op St Compt File # 297.

4. —Fire company director

Positions of fire district commissioner and member of board of directors of fire company are compatible. 1994 NY Ops Atty Gen I 94-39.

5. —Fire company line officer

A fire district commissioner may also serve as a line officer of a fire company in the fire department of the fire district. 1991 NY Ops Atty Gen I 91-43.

A paid fireman of a fire district should not serve on the board of fire commissioners of that district. 1980 Op St Compt File #7.

6. —Fire district counsel

Compatibility of fire district manager and counsel to the fire district is dependent on duties of each office, which are set independently by each fire district. 1985 NY Ops Atty Gen No. 85-64 (Informal).

7. —Fire district secretary

A fire commissioner may hold the office of secretary and receive such compensation as shall be fixed by the other members of the Board. A fire commissioner may be removed from office only in accordance with the provisions of Public Officers Law § 36. 1971 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 5.

The same person may not at the same time hold the positions of fire district commissioner and an office in the fire department or fire district, except secretary, even though such an office is not contained in the prohibition against dual office holding contained in Town Law, § 174, subdivision 4. 1974 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 22.

Positions of fire district commissioner and fire district secretary are compatible. 1985 NY Ops Atty Gen No. 85-64 (Informal).

A fire district commissioner may also serve as paid fire district secretary. 1978 Op St Compt File #676.

8. —Fire district treasurer

A fire district commissioner may not hold the office of treasurer of the fire district but may hold the office of treasurer of a fire company. 1977 NY Ops Atty Gen March 2.

Fire district commissioners and district treasurers may hold any office in a volunteer fire company that is not in the line of firefighting. 1983 NY Ops Atty Gen April 14 (informal).

An employee of the State whose principal employment is not in connection with an activity financed in whole or in part by federal funds, (so as to come within the Hatch Act) or who does not exercise administrative functions in connection with such activity may also serve as treasurer of a fire district so long as the duties of such office may be performed outside his regular work hours of State employment and do not interfere with the performance of his regular duties and so long as no departmental or administrative rule nor the Code of Ethics provides otherwise. 1978 Op St Compt File #635.

9. —Highway superintendent

Assuming the individual concerned is otherwise qualified to hold the offices of village street commissioner and fire district commissioner of a fire district in a town of which the village is a part, there is no incompatibility or conflict of interest in the simultaneous holding of these two offices by the same individual. 1975 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 5 (informal).

The same person simultaneously may hold the two elective public offices of town superintendent of highways and commissioner of a fire district organized and operating under authority of Town Law Article 11. 1980 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 9 (informal).

One person may serve simultaneously as a county fire coordinator and a town highway superintendent. 1982 NY Ops Atty Gen March 22 (informal).

There is no legal prohibition against a fire district commissioner serving as superintendent of highways of a town in which the district is situate. 1979 Op St Compt File #915.

A member of a town board should not at the same time serve as fire district commissioner. 1957 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 19 (informal).

A fire commissioner of a fire district may serve at the same time as an assistant chief of a village fire department with which the fire district in which he is a commissioner contracts for fire protection. 1978 NY Ops Atty Gen May 26.

A fire district commissioner does not have a conflict of interest when the fire district contracts with his adult son for electrical services, providing that the commissioner receives no direct or indirect pecuniary or material benefit as a result of such contracts. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-40.

10. Elections

Because the Town Law is lacking in provisions regulating this subject matter, the provisions of Article 6 of the Election Law govern the nominating procedure and requirements. The provisions peculiarly applicable to nominating petitions for nominating candidates for fire district officers are contained in Election Law § 138, which applies to independent nominations. 1969 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 23 (Informal), 1969 N.Y. AG LEXIS 115.

It is necessary that a fire district commissioner of a fire district created under Town Law Article 11 (§§ 170–189) be a registered voter in the fire district in order to be elected to or to continue in that office. Providing differing statutory provisions setting qualifications to hold public office in different kinds of governmental units does not constitute an improper exercise of legislative judgment. 1978 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 18.

11. Meetings

While a board of fire commissioners may properly hold a closed unofficial executive session, official action should be taken only at public meetings. 1955 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 31 (informal).

A Town Board may not delegate its authority to issue fire permits to officers of a fire district. 1962 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 13.

It is questionable whether use of fire department apparatus to transport the body of a deceased fireman for burial is authorized by statute. If a court held that there is no such authorization, the immunity statute would not apply, the Volunteer Firemen's Benefit Law would not provide protection and personal liability might result. 1977 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 7 (Informal).

A fire district has a duty to provide fire protection services to the general public in all areas of the district, including that portion of a river located within the district, and to render rescue services in that area where emergency rescue services have been organized under General Municipal Law, § 209-b(1). A fire district is not liable for failure to provide fire protection or rescue services. 1983 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 3 (Informal).

Fire district is public corporation and, therefore, is "agency" required to comply with Freedom of Information Law. Comm on Open Gov't OML-AO-2598.

14. Compensation and benefits

A fire district is not authorized to provide disability benefits coverage for its employees pursuant to the Workmen's Compensation Law. 1967 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 22 (Informal), 1967 N.Y. AG LEXIS 142.

Volunteer Firemen are not covered by the provisions of the Volunteer Firemen's Benefit Law when attending a funeral, whether such attendance is pursuant to orders or by permission from the chief or fire district commissioners. 1977 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 7 (Informal).

15. Term of office and vacancies

Where a member of a Board of Fire Commissioners of the Montauk Fire District resigned his office on December 27, 1972 to be effective on December 31, 1972, a vacancy in that office did not occur until January 1, 1973 and any action of the Board of Fire Commissioners to fill such vacancy prior to January 1, 1973 was null and void. 1973 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 12.

§ 175. Election of fire district officers

1. An annual election shall be held in each fire district on the second Tuesday in December, except that in the Ocean Bay Park fire district, the Lonelyville fire district, the Davis Park fire district, the Cherry Grove fire district, the Fair Harbor fire district and the Fire Island Pines fire district, Suffolk county, such annual election shall be held on the second Tuesday in July, except that in the town of Salisbury, Herkimer county, such annual election shall be held on the Tuesday next succeeding the first Monday in November from six o'clock in the morning until nine o'clock in the evening and except that in the Belfast fire district, Allegany county, such annual election shall be held on the first Tuesday in December. The board of fire commissioners shall give notice thereof by the publication of a notice once in one or more newspapers having a general circulation in the district. The first publication of such notice shall be not less than twenty-seven days and not more than thirty-four days prior to the date of such election. Such notice shall specify the time when and the place where such election will be held, the officers to be elected thereat and their terms of office, and the hours during which the polls will be open for the receipt of ballots. The secretary of such fire district shall prepare the ballots for all elections of fire district officers and the polls shall remain open for the receipt thereof at all elections of fire district officers from six o'clock in the evening until nine o'clock in the evening and such additional consecutive hours prior thereto as the board of fire commissioners of such district may have determined and specified in the notice thereof. The board of fire commissioners shall designate a resident fire district elector, who shall be a registered voter of the town, to act as chairman of any election of said district and shall designate not less than two nor more than four resident fire district electors, who shall be registered voters of the town to act as election inspectors and ballot clerks at such elections. No elective officer of the fire district shall serve as such chairman or as an election inspector or ballot clerk. The board of fire commissioners may adopt a resolution providing that such chairman, election inspectors and ballot clerks shall be paid for their respective services at any such annual election or at any special election of the fire district. Such resolution, if adopted, shall fix the amount of such compensation, as follows: if the hours during which the polls will be open for the receipt of ballots are from six o'clock in the evening until nine o'clock in the evening, a sum not to exceed thirty-five dollars for each such official; if additional consecutive hours prior to six o'clock in the evening are determined and specified in the notice of election, a sum not to exceed fifty dollars for each such official.

2. Every elector of the town who shall be a registered voter and who shall have resided in the district for the period of thirty days next preceding any election of fire district officers shall be qualified to vote for such officers. Every elector of the town who shall be a registered voter and who shall have resided in the fire district for the period of thirty days next preceding any election at which a proposition shall be submitted, shall be qualified to vote upon such proposition.

3. Every fire district commissioner, treasurer and secretary must at the time of his election or appointment and throughout his term of office be a resident of such fire district. Membership in a volunteer fire company shall not disqualify any such fire district commissioner, treasurer or secretary. A person who has been convicted of arson in any degree shall not be eligible for election or appointment to the office of fire district commissioner, treasurer or secretary. Any fire district commissioner, treasurer or secretary who is convicted of arson in any degree during his term of office shall be disqualified from completing such term of office.

4. There shall be conspicuously placed, by the resident fire elector, distance markers at a distance of one hundred feet from the polling place. Such distance markers shall be so placed at least one-half hour before the opening of the polls and shall remain until such polls are closed. The one hundred foot distance shall be deemed to include a one hundred foot radial measured from the entrances, designated by the resident fire elector, to a building where such election is being held. While the polls are open no person shall do any electioneering within the polling place, or in any public street within the one hundred foot radial, or within such distance in any place in a public manner. No electioneering banner, button, poster or placard on behalf of or in opposition to any candidate or issue to be voted upon shall be allowed in or upon the polling place or within such one hundred feet therefrom during the election. Any person who willfully violates the provisions of this subdivision shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

5. All official ballots shall remain in the custody of election inspectors within the polling place from the opening of the polls until the announcement of the result of the canvass and the signing of the inspectors' returns thereof. After the polls shall have been closed at any election held for the election of fire district officers or to vote upon a proposition, the election inspectors and ballot clerks shall immediately canvass publicly the ballots cast and the chairman of the election shall publicly announce the result. Within seventy-two hours thereafter, the chairman, election inspectors and ballot clerks shall execute and file a certificate of the result of the canvass with the board of fire commissioners and with the town clerk of each town in which said district or any part thereof may be located.

6. If in any fire district the number of voters is so great as to render it inexpedient or impossible to conduct the election at one polling place, the board of fire commissioners may divide the fire district into election districts and provide a polling place for each such election district, provided, however, that the number of election districts in any fire district shall not exceed one for each six hundred electors plus one for a remaining fraction of six hundred. In such event, the notice specified in subdivision one of this section shall describe the election districts and state where the polling places will be located, and the board of fire commissioners shall designate not less than two nor more than four resident fire district electors, who shall be registered voters of the town, to act as election inspectors and ballot clerks at each such polling place. The board of fire district commissioners may adopt a resolution providing that such election inspectors and ballot clerks shall be paid for their respective services at any such annual election or at any special election of the fire district. Such resolution, if adopted, shall fix the amount of such compensation as follows: if the hours during which the polls will be open for the receipt of ballots are from six o'clock in the evening until nine o'clock in the evening, a sum not to exceed thirty-five dollars for each such official; if additional consecutive hours prior to six o'clock in the evening are determined and specified in the notice of election, a sum not to exceed fifty dollars for each such official. No elective officer of the fire district shall serve as an election inspector or ballot clerk.

1. In general

Failure to give notice of special election regarding bond resolution did not deprive taxpayers of property without due process of law where the resolution did not impose an assessment on the taxpayers' property. Barrett v Cuskelly, 28 A.D.2d 532, 279 N.Y.S.2d 380, 1967 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4278 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1967).

Fire district's board of commissioners properly refused to remove board candidate's request to remove his name from ballot, and thus result of election that he won would not be set aside on petition of losing candidate in Article 78 proceeding, where winning candidate was properly nominated, his subsequent discovery that he could not continue his employment as city police officer if he accepted nomination did not disqualify him, and Town Law contains no provision authorizing fire district commissioners to remove candidate's name from ballot once he or she has duly filed proper nominating petition. Cusumano v Board of Comm'rs, 251 A.D.2d 404, 674 N.Y.S.2d 86, 1998 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6636 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1998).

A fire district bond resolution is not effective when a special election approving it is not held in the manner provided in § 179 of the Town Law. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7681.

2. Ballots and voting

There is no legal provision for the use of absentee ballots in a fire district annual election. 1968 Ops St Compt File #1024.

3. Compatibility and conflicts

One person may hold the office of commissioner of a fire district and also the office of commissioner of a sewer district. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6027.

There is no incompatibility or conflict of interest where one person holds, at the same time, the offices of fire district treasurer, fire district secretary, director of the incorporated fire company and member of a town Zoning and Planning Board. 1961 Ops St Compt #578.

If a Fire District Commissioner is nominated for the office of assistant engineer, he vacates the office of Commissioner forthwith, and similarly if an assistant engineer is elected to the office of Commissioner, he vacates the office of assistant engineer upon qualifying for that of Commissioner. 1962 Ops St Compt #715.

The president, treasurer or secretary of a volunteer fire company may serve as fire district commissioner for the fire district. 1963 Ops St Compt #12.

4. Election officials

Election inspectors and ballot clerks at fire district elections may not be compensated from fire district funds. 1946 Ops St Compt 140.

The Board of Commissioners of a fire district may provide for payment of compensation to election inspectors and ballot clerks at a fire district election. 1962 Ops St Compt #160.

There is no requirement that the chairman, election inspectors and ballot clerks designated to act as such for special or annual elections of a fire district take an oath of office. 1974 Ops St Compt File #972.

5. Procedure generally

The obvious intention of the legislature in requiring the notice of an election to be published in a newspaper "having a general circulation" is that the newspaper be distributed throughout the limits of the fire district and that it be a publication containing matters of general public interest as distinguished from trade journals catering to a special class of people, and therefore newspaper reasonably calculated to give notice to the persons affected provides adequate notice even though the circulation of such newspaper is less than the number of voters in the district. Barrett v Cuskelly, 52 Misc. 2d 250, 275 N.Y.S.2d 280, 1966 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1304 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1966), aff'd, 28 A.D.2d 532, 279 N.Y.S.2d 380, 1967 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4278 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1967).

A person may be challenged at a fire district election pursuant to the provisions of § 225(1)(3) of the Election Law. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6759.

A special fire district election is held in the same manner as the annual fire district election. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7367.

Board of fire commissioners should appoint a commissioner to fill a vacancy on the board where the annual election was not held because of failure, by oversight, to publish the required notice of election. 1968 Ops St Compt File #1027.

6. Qualification of officers, generally

Town board has no authority to investigate qualifications for office of fire district commissioners. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6390.

7. —Property ownership requirement

Fire district commissioner is not required to own property assessed to him upon the last completed assessment roll. It is sufficient if the property owned by him was assessed to anyone. 1946 Ops St Compt 686.

Fire district commissioner does forfeit his office if during his term he disposes of all real property owned by him and as a result there is no real property assessed to him on the tax roll of the town in which the district is located. 1947 Ops St Compt 448.

The provisions of section 175(3) and (5) of the Town Law requiring fire commissioners to be property owners in the fire district and election inspectors and ballot clerks to be taxpayers within the fire district, are apparently no longer applicable. 1967 Ops St Compt File #899.

The requirement that fire commissioners be real property owners in the fire district is apparently invalid. 1967 Ops St Compt File #921.

8. —Residency requirement

A person who actually resides outside a fire district may not, by merely declaring himself a resident, qualify himself for election as a commissioner. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7658.

The office of fire commissioner automatically becomes vacant upon the incumbent's ceasing to be a resident of the district and it is not necessary for him to resign the office. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8010.

A person who is not a resident elector of a fire district may not serve as a fire district commissioner. The said office automatically becomes vacant upon the incumbent's removal of his residence from the fire district. 1974 Ops St Compt File #714.

9. Time and place of election

The annual election of fire district officers must be held within the fire district. 1960 Ops St Compt File #758.

A fire district in one town may acquire a fire house in another town. Such fire house may be used for storage of fire equipment and for fire company meetings but, because of its location outside the fire district, may not be used by such fire district for meetings of its board of fire commissioners or for its regular or special elections, and will not be exempt from taxation. 1965 Ops St Compt File #637.

10. Voter eligibility

Court erred in granting petition to set aside election for position of fire commissioner on ground that one of votes was cast by person who allegedly resided outside of fire district where it was undisputed that voter in question owned home within fire district, and he rented that home to tenant, voter testified that he slept and had his meals at home of friend outside of fire district but intended to return to his own home and that he had been advised to reside with someone for medical reasons, and voter kept substantial amounts of personal property at his home, and he maintained oral month-to-month lease with his tenant. Sauer v Springbrook Fire Dist., 284 A.D.2d 1016, 726 N.Y.S.2d 511, 2001 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5839 (N.Y. App. Div. 4th Dep't 2001).

Town Law provision confining franchise to property owners was unconstitutional and participation of non-property owners in special election for issuance of bonds to purchase pumper for fire department was proper. Light v MacKenzie, 78 Misc. 2d 315, 356 N.Y.S.2d 991, 1974 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1391 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1974).

Voters must be registered under the system of permanent personal registration in order to be eligible to vote in a fire district election, and such requirement does not violate the constitution of the United States or the New York State Constitution. Tatay v Tatay, 349 F. Supp. 1300, 1972 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 11270 (E.D.N.Y. 1972).

In order to vote on a proposition under section 176(2-a) of the Town Law, making the office of fire district treasurer an appointive one, electors must be owners of real property in the fire district and must have resided for thirty days next preceding the election in the fire district. 1967 Ops St Compt File #841.

Fire district commissioners are elected by the qualified electors of the fire district. 1969 Ops St Compt File #35.

§ 175-a. Registration for voters

1. The board of fire commissioners of any fire district may provide by resolution, that a proposition be submitted at any annual fire district election providing that additional personal registration of voters not registered with the board of elections shall be permitted for all elections in such fire district. Such additional personal registration may be terminated by a resolution of the board of fire commissioners and the passage of a proposition at any annual fire district election.

2. Registration for all fire district elections shall be conducted as follows:

(a) Only those persons registered with the board of elections on or before the twenty-third day before such election and those persons whose names are placed on the fire district register pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be entitled to vote in such district.

(b) In fire districts in which there is additional personal registration, the board of fire commissioners shall publish a resolution at least twenty-seven days prior to election day, which shall designate the dates prior to registration day on which the inspectors of election shall meet to commence the preparation of the register; the place in each fire district where such meetings, registration, if any, and election shall be held; the hours for such meetings, registration, if any, and election; but in no event shall the hours for registration be less than the hours from six o'clock in the evening until nine o'clock in the evening. Such resolution shall be adopted at least thirty days prior to election day.

(c) In a fire district whose electors have approved additional personal registration, such registration shall be held on the seventeenth day prior to the annual fire district election, except in those fire districts which provide by resolution adopted at least thirty-seven days prior to the date of the first election for which it shall be effective, for an additional day of registration to be held on the nineteenth day prior to the annual fire district election. Such resolution shall remain in effect for subsequent annual elections, unless amended, modified or repealed.

3. The register for the annual fire district election shall be prepared in each fire district by the inspectors of election thereof on the days prior to registration day, if any, designated therefor, on the registration day, if any, at the times and places designated by the resolution of the board of fire commissioners. In preparing such register, the inspectors of election shall comply with the following procedure:

(a) They shall adopt, use or copy from, the registration list certified and supplied by the county board of elections the names appearing thereon of all persons residing in the fire district and qualified to vote in such forthcoming annual fire district election and in those instances in which additional persons are entitled to register pursuant to this section, such register shall be completed by adding thereto the names of the persons personally appearing before them and providing to their satisfaction to then be or at the time of election qualified to vote.

(b) The register for each fire district shall include as a minimum the space for the name of the voter, his address within the fire district and a space for his or her signature to be signed by the voter on election day. Such register shall also contain a space for the signature of the voter to be signed by such voter on registration day, if any. If the register shall contain only space for the name, address and signature of the voter, the fire district secretary shall furnish a printed certificate to be signed by the voter who appears personally before the inspectors of election on registration day if his name does not already appear on the register. Such certificate shall contain a statement that the person possesses all the necessary qualifications for voting in fire district elections. Such certificate shall be accepted for all purposes as the equivalent of an affidavit, and if it contains a material false statement, shall subject the person signing it to the same penalty as if he had been duly sworn, and such provision shall be printed in bold type directly above the signature line of the certificate.

4. The fire district secretary shall furnish the inspectors of election, at fire district expense, with all necessary registration books, papers, equipment and supplies.

5. Registration for special fire district elections shall be held in the same manner as is provided herein for annual fire district elections, and registration days therefor shall be the same as if said special fire district election were the annual fire district election.

6. In lieu of the provisions for designating the chairman, election inspectors and ballot clerks, as set forth in subdivision one of section one hundred seventy-five of this chapter, the board of fire commissioners shall, by resolution adopted at least forty days prior to the annual fire district election, designate a resident fire district elector to act as chairman of any election of said district and shall designate not less than two nor more than four resident fire district electors to act as election inspectors and ballot clerks in such election. Such resolution shall fix the compensation of the chairman and inspectors and, in addition, the board of fire commissioners may provide for alternate inspectors who shall assume the office of inspector upon the inability or refusal of an inspector to assume or perform his duties and for any clerical help which they may deem necessary. Such clerical help shall perform their duties under the direction and control of the chairman and inspectors of election.

§ 175-b. Absentee ballots for fire district elections; special provisions

1. The board of fire commissioners of any fire district in which officers are elected, may, by resolution, provide for absentee ballots for fire district elections, in accordance with the provisions of this section. Such resolution shall take effect at the first such election held more than sixty days after its adoption and shall continue in effect for all such elections until a subsequent resolution providing otherwise shall, in like manner, have taken effect.

2. a. An applicant for such an absentee ballot shall submit an application setting forth (1) his or her name and residence address, including the street and number, if any, or town and rural delivery route, if any; (2) that he or she is or will be, on the day of the election, a qualified voter of the district in which he or she resides in that he or she is or will be, on such date, over eighteen years of age, a citizen of the United States and has or will have resided in the district for thirty days next preceding such date; (3) that he or she is registered in the town; (4) that he or she will be unable to appear to vote in person on the day of the election for which the absentee ballot is requested because he or she is, or will be on such day (a) a patient in a hospital, or unable to appear personally at the polling place on such day because of illness or physical disability or (b) because his or her duties, occupation or business will require him or her to be outside of the county of his or her residence on such day, (c) because he or she will be on vacation outside the county of his or her residence on such day; or, (d) absent from his or her voting residence because he or she is detained in jail awaiting action by a grand jury or awaiting trial or is confined in prison after conviction for an offense other than a felony. Such application must be received by the district secretary at least seven days before the election if the ballot is to be mailed to the voter, or the day before the election, if the ballot is to be delivered personally to the voter or his or her agent.

b. (1) Where such duties, occupation or business are of such a nature as ordinarily to require such absence, a brief description of such duties, occupation or business shall be set forth in such affidavit. (2) Where such duties, occupation or business are not of such a nature as ordinarily to require such absence, such application shall contain a statement of the special circumstances on account of which such absence is required.

c. Where the applicant expects in good faith to be absent on the day of the election because he or she will be on vacation elsewhere on such day, such application shall also contain the dates upon which he or she expects to begin and end such vacation, the place or places where he or she expects to be on such vacation, the name and address of his or her employer, if any, and if self-employed, a statement to that effect.

d. Where the absence is because of detention or confinement to jail, such affidavit shall state whether the voter is detained awaiting action of the grand jury or is confined after conviction for an offense other than a felony.

e. Where a person is or would be, if he or she were a qualified voter, entitled to apply for the right to vote by absentee ballot under the provisions of this section, his or her spouse, parent or child, if a qualified voter and a resident of the same district, shall be entitled to vote as an absentee voter upon personally making and signing an application in accordance with the preceding provisions of this subdivision and showing that he or she expects to be absent from the district on the day of the district election by reason of accompanying or being with the spouse, child or parent who is or would be, if he or she were a qualified voter, so entitled to apply for the right to vote by absentee ballot, and, in the event no application is made by such spouse, child or parent, such further information as the fire district shall require.

f. Such application shall include the following statement to be signed by the voter.

I hereby declare that the foregoing is a true statement to the best of my knowledge and belief, and I understand that if I make any material false statement in the foregoing statement of application for absentee ballots, I shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Date ..... Signature of Voter .....

g. An applicant whose ability to appear personally at the polling place of the district of which he or she is a qualified voter is substantially impaired by reason of permanent illness or physical disability and whose registration record has been marked "permanently disabled" by the board of elections pursuant to the provisions of the election law shall be entitled to receive an absentee ballot pursuant to the provisions of this section without making separate application for such absentee ballot, and the secretary of the fire district, upon being advised by the board of elections on or with the list of registered voters that the registration record of a voter is marked "permanently disabled", shall send an absentee ballot to such voter at his or her last known address by first class mail with a request to the postal authorities not to forward same but to return same in five days in the event that it cannot be delivered to the addressee. The election inspectors of the fire district shall make an appropriate entry on the registration record indicating the fact that an absentee ballot has been sent and the date of mailing.

3. If, upon examining the application required under the provisions of subdivision two of this section, and upon such inquiry as it deems proper, the election inspectors of the fire district shall be satisfied that the applicant is a qualified voter of the district, and entitled to vote by absentee ballot, such election inspectors shall place his or her name upon a list, thereupon the applicant shall be issued or mailed an absentee voter's ballot and the election inspectors of the fire district shall make an appropriate entry on the list indicating that an absentee ballot has been applied for by, and issued to, the applicant.

4. Ballots for absentee voters shall be, as nearly as practicable, in the same form as those to be voted at the district election; if the vote at such election shall be by ballot, the absentee ballot shall conform to that part of the regular ballot which relates to the election of district members; if the vote of such election shall be by voting machine, the absentee ballot shall be, as nearly practicable, in the same form as those to be voted in the district on election day and shall contain a space for a write-in or write-ins. On the back of such absentee ballots shall be printed the words "Official Ballot, Absentee Voter," followed by the words "For Officers of fire district."

5. a. The board of registration shall enclose each absentee voter's ballot in an envelope which shall be labelled:

ELECTION MATERIAL

PLEASE EXPEDITE

On one side of such envelope shall be printed:

OFFICIAL BALLOT, ABSENTEE VOTER

at

Fire District Election

Name of Voter .....
Residence (street and number, if any) .....
City (or Town) of .....
County of .....
Fire district .....

The date of the election and name of the district shall be printed, and the name of the voter, residence and district shall be written in by the fire district.

b. On the reverse side of such envelope shall be printed the following statement:

STATEMENT OF ABSENTEE VOTER

I do declare that I will have been a citizen of the United States for thirty days, and will be at least eighteen years of age, on the date of the district election; that I will have been a resident of this state and of the district if any, shown on the reverse side of this envelope for thirty days next preceding the said election and that I am or on such date will be, a registered voter of said district; that I will be unable to appear personally on the day of said district election at the polling place of the said district in which I am or will be a qualified voter because of the reason stated on my application heretofore submitted; that I have not qualified, or do I intend to vote, elsewhere than as set forth on the reverse side of this envelope; that I have not received or offered, do not expect to receive, have not paid, offered or promised to pay, contributed, offered or promised to contribute to another to be paid or used, any money or other valuable thing, as a compensation or reward for the giving or withholding of a vote at this district election, and have not made any promise to influence the giving or withholding of any such votes; that I have not made or become directly or indirectly interested in any bet or wager depending upon the result of this district election; and that I have not been convicted of bribery or any infamous crime, or, if so convicted, that I have been pardoned or restored to all the rights of a citizen, without restriction as to the right of suffrage, or received a certificate of relief from disabilities or a certificate of good conduct pursuant to article twenty-three of the correction law removing my disability to register and vote.

I hereby declare that the foregoing is a true statement to the best of my knowledge and belief, and I understand that if I make any material false statement in the foregoing statement of absentee voter, I shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

c. The envelope shall be gummed, ready for sealing, and shall have printed thereon, on the side opposite the statement, instructions as to the duties of the voter after the marking of the ballot, which instructions shall include a specific direction stating that the envelope must reach the office of the district not later than five P.M. on the day of the election in order that his or her vote may be canvassed.

d. A person who shall make any material false statement in the statement of absentee voter appearing on the reverse side of the envelope as provided in this subdivision, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

6. a. The secretary of the fire district shall make a list of all persons to whom absentee voter's [voters'][*] ballots shall have been issued and keep such list on file in the fire office where it shall be available for public inspection during regular office hours until the day of the election. Any qualified voter may, upon examination of such list, file a written challenge of the qualifications as a voter of any person whose name appears on such list, stating the reasons for such challenge. Such written challenge shall be transmitted by the secretary to the inspectors of election on election day.

b. Such list shall also be posted in a conspicuous place or places during the election, and any qualified voter may challenge the acceptance of the absentee voter's ballot of any person on such list, by making his or her challenge and the reasons therefor known to the election inspectors before the close of the polls.

[*]The bracketed word has been inserted by the Publisher.

7. a. The secretary of the fire district shall be authorized to call upon the commissioner of police or the county sheriff and the officers and members of the police force or sheriff's department for such assistance in the enforcement of the provisions of this section as such board shall require, and such commissioner and officers and members of the police force and sheriff's department shall be authorized to render such assistance.

b. The election inspectors of the fire district may require any person to attend before them at the office of the secretary of the district and be examined as to any matter in relation to which such district is charged with a duty under this section, and may issue a subpoena therefor. Each member of such election inspectors district shall be authorized to administer any oath that may be required or authorized by law in this connection.

8. No absentee voter's ballot shall be canvassed, unless it shall have been received in the office of the secretary of the district not later than five P.M. on the day of the election.

9. The secretary of the district shall, on the day of the election, transmit all absentee voters' envelopes, received by him or her in accordance with subdivision eight of this section, to the election inspectors.

10. If, at the district election, any absentee voters' envelopes shall have been received at the polling place, the election inspectors immediately after the closing of the polls shall examine them, and shall compare the signature, if any, on each envelope with the signature, if any, on the register, of the person of the same name who registered from the same address. If the signatures are found to correspond, the election inspectors shall certify thereto by signing their initials opposite the name of the voter at the appropriate place in the register. If a person whose name is on an envelope as a voter, shall have already voted in person at such district election, or if his or her name, residence and signature, as stated on the envelope, are not on the register, or if there is no signature on the envelope, this envelope shall be laid aside unopened and be returned unopened to the secretary of the district. If such person is found to be registered and has not so voted in person, and if no objection is made, or if an objection made be not sustained, the envelope shall be opened and the ballot withdrawn without unfolding and deposited in the proper box or boxes. At the time of the deposit of such ballot, the election inspectors shall enter the words "absentee vote" at an appropriate place in the register.

11. During such examination any qualified voter present in the polling place may object to the voting of the ballot contained in any envelope upon the ground or grounds (a) that the person named thereon is not a qualified voter of the district, or (b) that he or she was within the county or city while the polls of the election were open, except where the applicant is a patient in a hospital located within the county or city or detained or confined in a jail located within the county or city and except where the ballot was obtained upon the ground of inability to appear personally at the polling place on the day of the fire district election because of illness or physical disability, or (c) that he or she was able to appear personally while the polls were open, in cases where the ballot was obtained upon the ground that the voter was a patient in a hospital located within the county or city or detained or confined in a jail located within the county or city or upon the ground of inability to appear personally at the polling place on the day of the election because of illness or physical disability, or (d) that he or she was not entitled to cast such ballot. An election inspector shall make such an objection if he or she shall know or suspect that the person named on such envelope is not such a qualified voter or was so within the district or was able so to appear personally, or was not entitled to cast such ballot. The election inspectors shall forthwith proceed to determine each objection including any written challenge transmitted to them by the district secretary as provided in subdivision six of this section. Unless the election inspectors, by majority vote, shall sustain the objection, the chairman, or if he or she refuses, another election inspector shall endorse upon the envelope the objection and the words "not sustained," shall sign such endorsement, and shall open the envelope and deposit the ballot as provided in this section. Should the election inspectors, by majority vote, sustain such objection, the objection and word "sustained" shall be similarly endorsed upon the envelope, the envelope shall not be opened nor the ballots therein canvassed, and such envelope shall be returned unopened to the secretary of the district. If the election inspectors shall have received an envelope endorsed with the name of a person who to the knowledge of the election inspectors is deceased on the day of the election, the election inspectors shall return such envelope unopened to the secretary of the district with the words "deceased—objection sustained" endorsed on the envelope.

12. If the election inspectors shall have received an envelope, and upon opening the same no ballot shall be found therein, the election inspectors shall make a memorandum showing that the ballot is missing. When the casting of absentee voters' ballots shall have been completed, the election inspectors shall ascertain the number of such ballots which have been deposited in the ballot box by deducting from the number of envelopes opened the number of missing ballots, and shall make a separate return thereof in duplicate. The number of absentee voters' ballots deposited in the ballot box shall be added to the number of other ballots deposited in the ballot box in order to determine the number of all ballots to be accounted for in the ballot box. Such ballots shall then be counted or canvassed by the election inspectors along with the other ballots cast at such district election, or, where voting machines are used, shall be added to the votes recorded on such machines.

13. The provisions of this section shall apply to absentee ballots at fire district elections, notwithstanding any other provision of law. The provisions of any other law as they relate to fire district elections not inconsistent herewith shall apply to the conduct of such elections.

§ 175-c. Notice of hearings and elections

1. In addition to any other notice or posting requirement, every fire district secretary shall cause a notice of any upcoming hearing or election to be posted on the fire district website, if one exists. Such notice shall be posted for at least fifteen days prior to such hearing or election and shall not be posted any sooner than twenty days before such hearing or election. If the fire district maintains a sign board, a copy of such notice shall also be posted on the sign board.

2. Every fire district secretary shall provide, in a timely manner, a notice of any upcoming hearing or election to be posted on the municipal website of any town located within the geographic boundaries of the district, or any town or fire district with which the district contracts. Such posting shall only be required if such a website exists. Such notice shall be posted for at least fifteen days prior to such hearing or election and shall not be posted any sooner than twenty days before such hearing or election. In addition, the town clerk shall post or cause to be posted on the bulletin board in his or her office a copy of such notice and on the sign board maintained by him or her pursuant to subdivision six of section thirty of this chapter. The town clerk shall cooperate with the fire district to ensure the timely notification of the upcoming hearing or election.

3. The notice required by this section shall specify the time when and the place where such hearing or election will be held, and, with respect to elections, the officers to be elected, their terms of office, and details regarding other matters to be voted on, as well as the hours during which the polls will be open for the receipt of ballots.

HISTORY:

Add, L 2006, ch 241, § 1, eff Jan 1, 2007.

§ 176. Powers and duties of fire district commissioners

Subject to law and the provisions of this chapter, the fire district commissioners of every fire district shall constitute and be known as the board of fire commissioners of such fire district. Such board of fire commissioners

1. Shall elect one of their members as chairman at the first meeting of fire commissioners after such district shall have been established and annually thereafter at the first meeting thereof following each election of fire district officers. Such chairman, when present, shall preside at the meetings of the board of fire commissioners. In the absence of the chairman the other members may designate one of their members to act as temporary chairman.

2. Shall appoint a fire district secretary.

2-a. May, notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision two of section one hundred seventy-four of this chapter, provide by resolution that a proposition shall be submitted at any annual fire district election, other than one at which a fire district treasurer is required to be elected, determining that the office of fire district treasurer shall be an appointive office in such district. If such proposition be approved at such election, the office of fire district treasurer shall thereafter be an appointive office in such district and no fire district treasurer shall be elected at the expiration of the term of office of the incumbent elected fire district treasurer. The board of fire commissioners at its organization meeting shall annually appoint a fire district treasurer to hold office until the thirty-first day of December next succeeding his appointment. In any fire district in which the office of fire district treasurer has been made appointive, the fire district commissioners shall designate one of their members to act as temporary chairman at the organization meeting each year until such time as a chairman of the board of fire commissioners shall be chosen.

In any fire district in which the office of appointed fire district treasurer may exist, the board of fire commissioners may provide by resolution that a proposition shall be submitted at any annual fire district election determining that the office of fire district treasurer shall be an elective office in such district. If such proposition be approved at such election, the office of fire district treasurer shall thereafter be an elective office in such district and a fire district treasurer shall be elected at the next succeeding annual fire district election in accordance with the provisions of subdivision two of section one hundred seventy-four of this chapter and the term of office of the appointive fire district treasurer for whom such successor shall be elected shall expire on the thirty-first day of December next succeeding such annual fire district election.

3. Whenever a vacancy shall occur in any fire district office, the board of fire commissioners of such district, or a majority of the members thereof in office may appoint a qualified person to fill the vacancy. If the appointment be made to fill a vacancy in an appointive office, the person so appointed shall hold office for the remainder of the unexpired term. If the appointment be made to fill a vacancy in an elective office, the person so appointed shall hold office until the thirty-first day of December next succeeding the first annual fire district election held thereafter and at such election a successor shall be elected for the unexpired portion of the term beginning on the first day of January next succeeding. If a vacancy shall occur in any elective fire district office after the first day of October in any year, the person so appointed to fill the vacancy shall hold office until the thirty-first day of December of the following calendar year and a successor shall be elected at the annual fire district election held immediately prior thereto to serve for the unexpired portion of the term; provided, however, that if a vacancy so occurs in any elective fire district office, the term of which would expire on the thirty-first day of December next succeeding, the person so appointed shall hold office only until such thirty-first day of December.

4. Shall require the fire district treasurer, before entering upon the duties of his office, to give an official undertaking, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties and that he will well and truly keep, pay over and account for all moneys and property belonging to the fire district and coming into his hands as such treasurer, in such form, in such sum and with such sureties as the board of fire commissioners shall direct and approve and such approval shall be indicated upon such undertaking, and when approved such undertaking shall be filed in the office of the town clerk of the town in which such fire district is located. If such district is situated in more than one town, a duplicate original of such undertaking, approved by the board of fire commissioners, shall be filed in the office of the town clerk of each town in which such district is located. The fire district commissioners may by resolution determine that such undertaking shall be executed by a surety company authorized to transact business in the state of New York and that the expense thereof shall be a charge on the fire district.

4-a. Shall audit all claims against the fire district and shall, by resolution, order the payment thereof by the fire district treasurer in the amounts allowed. Except as otherwise provided by this subdivision, no such claim shall be audited or ordered paid by the board of fire commissioners unless an itemized voucher therefor, in such form as the board of fire commissioners shall prescribe, shall have been presented to the board of fire commissioners for audit and allowance. The board of fire commissioners may provide by resolution that no such claims may be presented, audited or paid unless they be either verified under oath, or, in lieu of such verification, certified, to be true and correct in a statement signed by or on behalf of the claimant. The provisions of this subdivision shall not be applicable to claims for the payment of fixed salaries, compensation for services of officers or employees regularly engaged by the fire district at agreed wages by the hour, day, week, month or year unless so required by resolution of the board of fire commissioners adopted at the organization meeting in the month of January, the principal of or interest on obligations issued by the fire district, fixed amounts becoming due on lawful contracts for the purchase of water for fire protection, and amounts which the fire district may be required to pay to the state employees' retirement system on account of contributions for past and current services of firefighters. The board of fire commissioners may, further, by resolution authorize the payment in advance of audit of claims for light, telephone, postage, freight and express charges. All such claims shall be presented at the next regular meeting for audit, and the claimant and the officer incurring or approving the same shall be jointly and severally liable for any amount disallowed by the board of fire commissioners.

4-b. Any fire commissioner, secretary or treasurer of a fire district may administer any necessary oath in any matter or proceeding lawfully before him, or in connection with any paper to be filed with him as such officer.

4-c. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision four-a of this section, may by resolution establish a petty cash fund for the fire district treasurer for the payment, in advance of audit, of properly itemized and verified or certified bills for materials, supplies or services furnished to the fire district for the conduct of its affairs and upon terms calling for payment to the vendor upon the delivery of any such materials or supplies or the rendering of any such services. The amount of such petty cash fund shall not exceed two hundred fifty dollars. At the time of any payment from such fund, the treasurer shall require delivery to him of a bill in form sufficient for audit by the board of fire commissioners as required by law. At each meeting of the board of fire commissioners a list of all expenditures made from such fund since the last meeting of the board, together with the bills supporting such expenditures, shall be presented by the treasurer to the board of fire commissioners for audit. The board of fire commissioners shall direct the treasurer to reimburse such petty cash fund from the appropriate budgetary item or items, in an amount equal to the total of such bills which it shall so audit and allow. Any of such bills or any portion of such bills which the board of fire commissioners shall refuse to audit and allow shall be the personal liability of the treasurer and he shall promptly reimburse such petty cash fund in the amount of such disallowances. If such reimbursement has not been made by the time of the first payment of salary to the treasurer after the action of the board of fire commissioners in disallowing an amount so expended, such amount shall be withheld from such salary payment to the treasurer and, if necessary, subsequent salary payments and paid into such petty cash fund until an amount equal to the amount so disallowed in the audit of the board of fire commissioners has been repaid to the petty cash fund. Any bond or undertaking filed by the treasurer shall be available to the fire district for recovery of any losses incurred by reason of the operation of such petty cash fund.

5. Shall cause a map to be prepared showing the exact boundaries of the fire district. If such map indicates boundary lines that are contiguous with an adjacent fire district or fire districts, then such adjacent fire district or fire districts shall be given written notice, by certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the secretary of such fire district, of the intention to file a fire district map, together with a copy of such map. Such notice shall be sent by the secretary of the fire district preparing such map. If an adjacent fire district objects to the location of a boundary line affecting such adjacent fire district, then within forty-five days of the receipt of such notification and map, such objections shall be filed with the fire district secretary of the fire district proposing such map and with the town clerk of each town in which any part of such fire district is located. If such map does not indicate any boundary lines contiguous with an adjacent fire district or fire districts, then a certified copy of such map shall be filed by the secretary of the fire district with the town clerk of each town in which any part of the fire district is located for approval by the town board and, when so approved and filed by the secretary of the fire district, in the office of the town clerk and filed by the secretary of the fire district in the office of the county clerk in which said fire district or any part thereof shall be located, shall constitute presumptive evidence of the boundaries of the fire district. If such map indicates any boundary lines that are contiguous with an adjacent fire district, such map shall be submitted by the secretary of the fire district to the town clerk of each town in which any part of the fire district is located, together with proof of service upon such adjacent fire district or fire districts of such proposed map, and that more than forty-five days have elapsed since such service was made. In addition, if objections have been filed, then a verified statement either amending the proposed map to meet such objections or denying such objection in whole or in part, shall also be filed. If the objections are denied, the town board in which town such disputed boundary line is located shall, within thirty days after the submission of all proofs, objections and denials, cause the town engineer, if there be one, or, if not, hire a licensed land surveyor, to survey the boundary line or lines. If the disputed line or lines lie in more than one town, the town boards, acting jointly by a majority vote of the members of each such town shall determine which town engineer or licensed land surveyor shall survey the boundary line or lines. The cost of this survey, if any, shall be borne equally by the fire districts involved. Upon receipt by the town board or town boards of the survey of the disputed boundary line or lines, each involved fire district shall be immediately notified by the town clerk or town clerks. If no objections are served upon the town clerk or clerks by adjacent fire districts within sixty days of receipt of such notification or the boundary line or lines have been adjusted to meet objections, then thereafter and within twenty days, the town board or town boards if one disputed line or lines lie in more than one town shall cause a public hearing to be held, at which hearing owners of real property in the affected area shall be given an opportunity to be heard. Upon the conclusion of said public hearing, the town board shall determine the disputed line or lines, and if the disputed line or lines lie in more than one town, the town boards acting jointly by a majority vote of the members of each such town board shall determine the disputed line or lines and a copy of such map, as finally approved by the town board or town boards, shall be filed in the office of the town clerk or clerks and certified copy shall be filed in the office of the county clerk in which said fire district or any part thereof shall be located. Such map shall then constitute presumptive evidence of the boundaries of the fire district. The town clerk shall notify each affected fire district of the filing of such map in such town clerk's office or offices and in the office of the county clerk. The town clerk or clerks shall also publish a notice of the filing of said map in the official paper of the town or towns. Any fire district believing itself aggrieved or aggrieved property owner may within thirty days of receipt of notification or publication commence an appropriate proceeding in the supreme court of the state of New York, in accordance with article seventy-eight of the civil practice law and rules, naming the involved fire district and the town board or boards as respondents. All fire district maps heretofore approved by the town board of each town in which any part of the fire district is located and which map was filed in the office of the clerk of each town in which said fire district is located and filed in the office of the county clerk in which said fire district or any part thereof is located, prior to the first day of January, nineteen hundred eighty-one, shall continue to be presumptive evidence of the boundaries of such fire district.

6. Shall give notice of annual elections in the manner provided in this article.

7. Shall require that candidates for district offices file their names with the secretary of the fire district at least twenty days prior to the date of such fire district elections and in addition may provide by resolution that such nominations be submitted in petition form subscribed by twenty-five qualified voters of the district. Thereafter the ballots prepared for the election of fire district officers shall specify the names of the candidates duly filed and in addition provide proper blank spaces for each office to be filled at such election. If any such resolution shall be adopted, the requirements thereof shall be specified in the notice of each fire district election held thereafter. The board of fire commissioners may rescind such resolution at any time and thereafter fire district officers shall be elected as otherwise provided herein.

8. Shall appoint officials for fire district elections as provided in section one hundred seventy-five of this chapter and may provide for their compensation pursuant to such section.

9. Shall have the power to make any and all contracts for the purposes herein authorized within the appropriations approved by the taxpayers of the district or within the statutory limitations specified herein.

10. May organize, operate, maintain and equip fire companies, including the purchase of uniforms to be used by the members of such companies, and provide for the removal of such members for cause.

11. May adopt rules and regulations governing all fire companies and fire departments in said district and prescribing the duties of the members thereof and enforce discipline and provide for public drills, parades, funerals, inspections and reviews of the fire district fire department, or any company or unit thereof, within the fire district or at other places within the state, any adjoining state or in Canada. Such rules and regulations shall not authorize any member of the board of fire commissioners to interfere with the duties of the chief or assistant chief at such times as the fire department or any company or squad thereof is on duty.

11-a. The members of the fire department of the fire district shall meet at a time and place designated by the board of fire commissioners on the Thursday following the first Tuesday in April of each year and nominate persons for the offices of chief and such assistant chiefs as may be provided for in the rules and regulations adopted by the board of fire commissioners. If the Thursday following the first Tuesday in April falls upon a day of special religious observance, the board of fire commissioners may designate any other weekday in April after such Thursday as the day upon which to hold such meeting. Each nominee shall be a member of the fire department. In addition, the board of fire commissioners may by resolution require that any or all of such fire department officers shall be residents of the fire district. All nominations shall be made by ballot. The person acting as secretary of such meeting shall promptly notify the fire district secretary in writing of such nominations. The board of fire commissioners at its meeting next succeeding the making of such nominations shall consider the same and shall appoint such persons to the offices to which they have been respectively nominated or, if a nomination is not approved the board of fire commissioners shall call another meeting of the members of the fire department at which a new nomination shall be made to take the place of any nomination not approved, which procedure shall continue until a full set of officers is approved. Any such person shall assume the duties of his office as soon as he has been appointed thereto by the board of fire commissioners and shall serve until his successor is appointed. A person who has been convicted of arson in any degree shall not be eligible for nomination, election or appointment to the office of fire department chief or assistant chief. Any fire department chief or assistant chief who is convicted of arson in any degree during his term of office shall be disqualified from completing such term of office.

11-b. The members of the fire department at a regular or special meeting of the department held after the month of April but prior to the month of November in any year may adopt a resolution recommending that future meetings for the nomination of the chief and assistant chiefs be held in December, either on the first Thursday, the first Saturday, the Thursday following the first Tuesday, the Saturday following the first Tuesday, the Thursday following the second Tuesday, or the Saturday following the second Tuesday in such month, instead of April as provided in subdivision eleven-a of this section. Provided, however, the Davis Park fire department may adopt a resolution to hold future meetings, for nomination of chief and assistant chiefs, on the last Sunday in September; the Caton fire district may adopt a resolution to hold future meetings, for nominations of chief and assistant chiefs, on the second Tuesday in December; and the Fair Harbor fire department may adopt a resolution to hold future meetings, for nomination of the chief and assistant chiefs, on the third Sunday in September. The notice or call for such meeting shall specify that such a resolution will be offered to be voted upon at such meeting. If such resolution is adopted, the board of fire commissioners may adopt a rule or regulation providing that future meetings for the nomination of chief and assistant chiefs shall be held in December, either on the first Thursday, the first Saturday, the Thursday following the first Tuesday, the Saturday following the first Tuesday, the Thursday following the second Tuesday, the Saturday following the second Tuesday in such month, the last Sunday in September in the Davis Park fire department, the second Tuesday in December in the Caton fire district, or the third Sunday in September in the Fair Harbor fire department, as specified in the fire department resolution, instead of April as provided in subdivision eleven-a of this section. Each nominee shall be a member of the fire department. In addition, the board of fire commissioners may by resolution require that any or all of such fire department officers shall be residents of the fire district. All nominations shall be made by ballot. The person acting as secretary of such meeting shall promptly notify the fire district secretary in writing of such nominations. The board of fire commissioners at its organization meeting in the month of January next succeeding the making of such nominations shall consider the same and shall appoint such persons to the offices to which they have been respectively nominated or, if a nomination is not approved the board of fire commissioners shall call another meeting of the members of the fire department at which a new nomination shall be made to take the place of any nomination not approved, which procedure shall continue until a full set of officers is approved. Any such person shall assume the duties of his office as soon as he has been appointed thereto by the board of fire commissioners and shall serve until his successor is appointed. A person who has been convicted of arson in any degree shall not be eligible for nomination, election or appointment to the office of fire department chief or assistant chief. Any fire department chief or assistant chief who is convicted of arson in any degree during his term of office shall be disqualified from completing such term of office.

If the date of meetings for the nomination of chief and assistant chiefs is changed from April to September or December pursuant to the foregoing provisions of this subdivision, the members of the fire department at a regular or special meeting of the department held after the month of April but prior to the month of November in any year may adopt a resolution recommending that future meetings for the nomination for such officers shall be held in April pursuant to the provisions of subdivision eleven-a of this section. The call for such meeting shall specify that such a resolution will be offered to be voted upon at such meeting. If such a resolution is adopted, the board of fire commissioners may adopt a rule or regulation providing that future meetings for the nomination of chief and assistant chiefs shall be held in April pursuant to the provisions of subdivision eleven-a of this section and that the provisions of such subdivision eleven-a shall again become applicable.

11-c. May adopt a resolution to employ paid firefighters and paid fire officers including but not limited to a paid chief of the fire district department, provide for their powers and duties, determine the chain of command in the fire department as between volunteer and paid firefighters, determine that paid chief and/or any other paid officers shall have charge of apparatus and other equipment, and determine that the volunteer firefighters and volunteer officers of the fire department shall act under the orders and control of such paid fire officers. The board of fire commissioners may adopt a resolution to appoint a paid chief of the fire district department only after holding a public hearing prior to adopting such resolution. The notice of such hearing shall be published and posted and such hearing shall be held in the manner provided in section one hundred seventy-one of this article for a hearing upon the establishment of a fire district. The notice shall state the reason for the hearing including but not limited to the proposed employment of and proposed salary for the paid chief.

12. May contract for a supply of water and for the furnishing, erection, maintenance, care and replacement of fire hydrants, including the erection and maintenance of markers therefor, and removal of snow and ice to provide access thereto, for fire purposes for a period not exceeding five years without any appropriation vote therefor by the qualified voters of such district.

12-a. In order to provide a supply of water for firefighting purposes for any area of a fire district which does not have an adequate and available supply or which cannot be suitably supplied by contract pursuant to subdivision twelve of this section, (1) may purchase permanent or temporary rights to take water from cisterns, wells, and bodies of water and water-courses within the fire district, or may lease such rights, and (2) may purchase, construct or lease, and maintain, fire suction pools in bodies of water and water-courses, fire cisterns and fire wells, including necessary pipes, pumps, hydrants and other facilities in connection therewith, and may purchase and lease necessary real property and rights in land and water therefor. The water and improvements shall be used for firefighting purposes only and the water shall not be sold. The fire suction pools, fire cisterns and fire wells shall be fenced or covered to prevent trespass by children and domestic animals. Any such improvement shall be located upon real property within the fire district which is owned or leased by the fire district or upon which an easement has been acquired by the fire district, except such portions of the improvement which are located within the bounds of public highways, roads or streets with the consent of the state or local official charged with the supervision of the highway, road or street. The board of fire commissioners may purchase insurance to protect the fire district from liability for damage to persons or property resulting from the maintenance of any such improvement by the fire district. If, after proceeding pursuant to this subdivision, an adequate and available supply of water for fire-fighting purposes becomes available for such area or if a suitable supply may be obtained therefor by contract pursuant to subdivision twelve of this section, the fire district, nevertheless, may continue to act pursuant to this subdivision.

13. May purchase or lease apparatus and equipment for the extinguishment and the prevention of fires and for the purposes of emergency rescue and first aid and fire police squads.

14. For the preservation, protection and storing of fire apparatus and equipment and for the social and recreational use of the firefighters and residents of the district and for any of the purposes authorized by law, may acquire by purchase, lease, gift, devise or by condemnation, real property and erect, construct, alter, repair and equip suitable buildings, and may furnish necessary supplies for such purposes, and may lease portions thereof not required for fire district purposes. All real property required by any fire district for any purpose authorized by this article shall be deemed to be required for public use and may be acquired by such fire district.

15. May construct and maintain an adequate fire alarm system in said district.

16. May contract to provide outside of the fire district (1) fire protection, (2) emergency service in case of accidents, calamities or other emergencies, or (3) general ambulance service pursuant to the provisions of section two hundred nine-b of the general municipal law, upon such terms as the board of fire commissioners may determine proper, provided that such service can be supplied without undue hazard to the fire district furnishing the service. Whenever the fire department or fire company of a fire district provides any such service to outside territory pursuant to a contract, as aforesaid, the board of fire commissioners of such fire district may pay to the fire department of such fire district, or to any fire company or companies of such fire district, performing the service, such portion of the contract price as such board may deem proper, but not in any event to exceed thirty-five per centum of such contract price. The amount received pursuant to any such contract may be expended without being included in the amount that may be expended annually without the adoption of a proposition therefor as provided in subdivision numbered eighteen of this section and in section one hundred seventy-nine of this chapter.

17. May employ an attorney to counsel and assist in the discharge of its official duties and give it such professional services as it may require in conducting or defending any action or legal proceedings. If the town attorney shall be so employed he shall receive, in addition to his salary as town attorney, such compensation from the fire district as shall be agreed upon between the commissioners of the fire district and such town attorney, notwithstanding the provisions of section twenty-seven of this chapter.

18. May, without the adoption of a proposition, expend from the fire district revenues for any fiscal year amounts appropriated for

(1) the payments under contracts made pursuant to subdivisions twelve and twenty-two of this section,

(2) the payments required under a lease to provide a supply of water for fire fighting purposes entered into pursuant to subdivision twelve-a of this section,

(3) the payment of the principal of and interest on bonds, bond anticipation notes and capital notes issued by the fire district, and budget notes issued pursuant to the provisions of subdivisions five, six and seven of paragraph a of section 29.00 of the local finance law, and interest on tax anticipation notes issued pursuant to the provisions of paragraphs c-1 and c-2 of section 24.00 of the local finance law,

(4) the compensation of paid fire district officers, fire department officers, firefighters and other paid personnel of the fire department,

(5) contributions to the New York state employees' retirement system and the New York state and local police and fire retirement system on account of past and current services of paid fire district officers and employees, including the paid officers, firefighters and other personnel of the fire department,

(6) an assessment, charge, share or other payment required to be paid as the result of the participation by the fire district in any county self-insurance plan under article five of the workmen's compensation law,

(7) the cost of insurance secured to indemnify the fire district against liability for benefits or compensation required to be paid or furnished under or pursuant to the volunteer firefighters' benefit law and workers' compensation law, or for the payment of the benefits or compensation required to be paid or furnished under or pursuant to such laws by a fire district which is a self-insurer under such laws, to the extent that such benefits and compensation have not been recovered in such fiscal year under section twenty of the volunteer firefighters' benefit law or section twenty-nine of the workers' compensation law,

(7-a) the payment required annually to fund service awards to volunteer firefighters made pursuant to article eleven-A of the general municipal law,

(8) the cost of blanket accident insurance purchased under the provisions of section four thousand two hundred thirty-seven of the insurance law to insure volunteer firefighters against injury or death resulting from bodily injuries sustained by such firefighters in the performance of their duties,

(9) medical, surgical, hospital or other care or treatment and medical inspections required in connection with the disability of paid fire department personnel pursuant to section two hundred seven-a of the general municipal law, to the extent, if any, that such charges will not be paid by an insurance carrier or county self-insurance plan under the workmen's compensation law or have not been recovered in such fiscal year under such section two hundred seven-a or under section twenty-nine of the workmen's compensation law,

(10) employer's contributions for old age and survivors insurance coverage under article three of the retirement and social security law,

(11) the payment of the principal of and interest on indebtedness evidenced by tax anticipation notes issued pursuant to subdivision one of paragraph d of section 24.00 of the local finance law in relation to newly-created fire districts under subdivision twenty-six of this section, and

(12) the payment of compromised claims and judgments under subdivisions twenty-eight and thirty of this section;

(13) the cost of insurance secured to indemnify the fire district against liability arising out of the ownership, use or operation of motor vehicles owned by the fire district; and

(14) the payment of monetary rewards pursuant to subdivision thirty-one of this section.

(15) the cost of fuel for the fire district emergency vehicles, including fuel tax carry-overs.

(16) the cost of audits required pursuant to section one hundred eighty-one-a of this article.

(17) the cost of insurance secured to indemnify the fire district against liability for benefits required to be paid or furnished pursuant to the enhanced cancer disability benefit established in section two hundred five-cc of the general municipal law, or for the payment of benefits required to be paid or furnished pursuant to such law by a fire district which is a self-insurer under such law.

In addition to such expenditures, the board of fire commissioners of any fire district may, without the adoption of a proposition therefor, expend from the first district revenues for any fiscal year for purposes authorized by or pursuant to law not to exceed two thousand dollars and in districts having a full valuation of real property taxable for fire district purposes in excess of one million dollars an additional amount equivalent to one mill for each dollar of full valuation of taxable real property in excess of the first million dollars of full valuation of such taxable real property. Such full valuation shall, for the purposes of this subdivision, be computed by dividing the assessed valuation of the real property subject to taxation by the fire district, as shown on the assessment roll for the fire district which was completed in the second calendar year prior to that in which the expenditure is to be made, by the town equalization rate established for such roll by the state board of equalization and assessment. Where, in the case of a newly-created fire district, there is no such completed assessment roll for such fire district, full valuation shall be determined from the assessment roll upon which the real property included within the district was assessed for town purposes and which was completed in the second calendar year prior to that in which the expenditure is to be made. In any fire district the foregoing limitations provided in this subdivision may be exceeded if a proposition has been adopted pursuant to paragraph (d) of subdivision one of section one hundred seventy-nine of this chapter.

The foregoing limitations on expenditures shall not be applicable to the proceeds of a contract for fire department services entered into pursuant to the provisions of subdivision sixteen of this section and such proceeds may be expended for purposes authorized by or pursuant to law.

The foregoing limitations on expenditures shall not be applicable to appropriations to or expenditures from a repair reserve fund, contingency and tax stabilization reserve fund, capital reserve fund, debt stabilization fund, workers' compensation reserve fund, mandatory reserve fund, unemployment insurance reserve fund or liability and casualty reserve fund established pursuant to sections six-d, six-e, six-g, six-h, six-j, six-l, six-m and six-n of the general municipal law, or to the use of the income and capital gains realized on the investments of the assets of such funds.

The foregoing limitations on expenditures shall not be applicable to the use of premiums from the sale of fire district obligations, the unexpended portion of the proceeds of fire district obligations, the income and capital gains realized on the temporary investment of the proceeds, inclusive of premiums, of fire district obligations, as provided in section 165.00 of the local finance law.

The foregoing limitations on expenditures shall not be applicable to the use of the proceeds of a gift or gifts given to a fire district, and such proceeds may be expended for purposes authorized by or pursuant to law.

The provisions of this subdivision shall not be deemed to prevent the issuance of bonds, bond anticipation notes, capital notes or budget notes to finance any object or purpose for which the fire district may expend money.

The foregoing limitation on expenditures shall not be applicable to the use of insurance proceeds received for the loss, theft, damage or destruction of real or personal property when proposed to be used or applied to repair or replace such property. Such proceeds may be appropriated by resolution of the board of fire commissioners at any time for such objects and purposes.

The foregoing limitation on expenditures shall not be applicable to contributions to the state's unemployment insurance fund on account of salaries paid to fire district officers and employees, including the paid officers, firefighters and other personnel of the fire department.

18-a. May employ such persons as may be necessary to effectuate the objects and purposes of the district. Persons may be employed as paid firefighters, however, only after a public hearing in relation to such employment. Any such hearing shall be held by the board of fire commissioners and the notice of the hearing shall state the time when and place in the district where the hearing will be held, the number of paid firefighters to be employed and the total annual amount to be spent for the salaries or other compensation of such firefighters. The notice shall be published in the official newspaper of the district at least once not more than twenty nor less than ten days before the hearing.

19. Shall have the exclusive management and control of the property of the fire district and may insure the same against loss or damage from any risk whatsoever and may contract at the expense of the district for insurance indemnifying the district, its officers, agents, employees and the members of all fire companies against any loss arising from injuries to persons or property through the operation and maintenance of such fire district and the performance of the duties thereof and insure the members of the fire department of the district against injury or death in the performance of their duties, or both.

20. May grant or withhold its consent to the formation of a fire corporation which intends to operate within the territory of such fire district, pursuant to subdivision (f) of section four hundred four of the not-for-profit corporation law.

21. Shall have and exercise all the powers conferred upon the fire district and such additional powers as shall be necessarily implied therefrom.

(a) May contract for the furnishing of fire protection within the fire district with any city, village, fire district, or incorporated fire company having its headquarters outside such fire district and maintaining adequate and suitable apparatus and appliances for the furnishing of fire protection in such district; provided there is no fire company maintaining its headquarters in said district or provided the fire department of said district is, in the judgment of such fire commissioners, unable to render adequate and prompt fire protection to such district or any area thereof. The contract also may provide for the furnishing of (i) emergency service in case of accidents, calamities or other emergencies in connection with which the services of firefighters would be required and (ii) general ambulance service subject, however, to the provisions of section two hundred nine-b of the general municipal law. In the event that the fire department or fire company furnishing fire protection within the district pursuant to contract does not maintain and operate an ambulance and provision has not otherwise been made for ambulance service for the area of the district pursuant to section one hundred twenty two-b of the general municipal law then a separate contract may be made for the furnishing within the district of emergency ambulance service or general ambulance service, or both, with any city, village or fire district the fire department of which, or with an incorporated fire company having its headquarters outside the district which, maintains and operates an ambulance subject, however, in the case of general ambulance service, to the provisions of section two hundred nine-b of the general municipal law.

(b)(i) Except as provided in subparagraph (ii) of this paragraph, prior to commencing the negotiation process for such contract with an incorporated fire company, the incorporated fire company shall file with the board of fire commissioners a statement itemizing the estimated costs of the incorporated fire company attributable to the provision of services under the prospective contract. The estimated costs attributable to the provision of services under the prospective contract itemized in the statement shall include, at a minimum, those, if any, for: supplies; materials; operation, maintenance and repair of equipment and apparatus; insurance; training; protective clothing, gear and other personnel costs; building rental, maintenance and operation; and a specified proportionate share of capital costs. If the fire company is required to prepare any of the following documents, copies shall be included with the statement:

(1) the fire company's most recent annual report of directors pursuant to section five hundred nineteen of the not-for-profit corporation law;

(2) the fire company's most recent verified certificate pursuant to subdivision (f) of section fourteen hundred two of the not-for-profit corporation law;

(3) the fire company's most recent internal revenue service form 990; and

(4) the fire company's most recent annual report pursuant to section thirty-a of the general municipal law.

(ii) The provisions of subparagraph (i) of this paragraph shall not apply to the renewal of a contract when the contract is deemed renewed in accordance with paragraph (e) of this subdivision. Upon good cause shown, the board of fire commissioners may, by resolution, waive in whole or in part the requirement that the fire company file the statement, and copies of documents, required by subparagraph (i) of this paragraph.

(c) The contract shall not be entered into until a public hearing has been held by the board of fire commissioners. Notice of the hearing shall be published at least once in at least one newspaper having general circulation in the district. The notice shall specify the time when and place where the hearing will be held, and describe in general terms the proposed contract. The first publication thereof shall be at least ten days prior to the day specified for the hearing.

(d) Except as hereinafter provided, the term of the contract shall be for a definite period of time, but in no event shall the term exceed five years. The contract year or years in all such contracts entered into after the year nineteen hundred sixty shall terminate on December thirty-first.

(e) Instead of being for a definite term as hereinabove provided, the contract may be for an original term of one calendar year or less and provide that it shall be deemed renewed on the same basis each year thereafter for a further term of one full calendar year without any further public hearing unless one of the contracting parties shall notify the other in writing on or before the first day of August that it elects to terminate the contract on December thirty-first in that year. The term of any such contract, including renewals, shall not exceed five years, but the contract may provide that there shall be less than four such renewals. If the city, village or fire district fire department or fire company which is to furnish the service under such a contract is not a fully paid department or company, the city, village or fire district governing board upon the request of the department or company, shall terminate the contract as provided in this paragraph. Any contract entered into pursuant to this paragraph may provide that in the month of July of each year in which such a renewal could occur the fire district secretary shall notify the secretary of the fire department or fire company which is to furnish the service under the contract that the contract shall be deemed renewed on the same basis for a further full term of one calendar year unless one of the contracting parties shall notify the other in writing on or before the first day of August that it elects to terminate the contract on December thirty-first in such year.

(f) The contract shall specify a definite sum to be paid each year for all of the services to be rendered thereunder and may provide that such amount shall be paid in one sum or in installments.

(g) By mutual consent of the contracting parties, and after a public hearing held pursuant to notice in the manner aforesaid, any such contract heretofore or hereafter executed may be (i) amended, (ii) terminated, or (iii) terminated and a new contract may be entered into in lieu thereof, if the board of fire commissioners, after such hearing, shall determine by resolution, that it is in the public interest so to do. Such notice shall state in general terms the reason why any existing contract is to be amended or terminated, and if a new contract is to be entered into the notice shall also describe the new contract in general terms.

(h) The term "fire protection", as used in this subdivision, includes inspections of buildings and properties in the fire district for the purposes specified in and as authorized by section eight hundred seven-a of the education law, subdivision four of section three hundred three of the multiple residence law, and section one hundred eighty-nine of the town law.

(i) The provisions of this subdivision shall not be deemed to have amended subdivision two of section two hundred nine-b or section two hundred nine-d of the general municipal law, or any other general, special or local law requiring the consent of a fire department, fire company or an emergency rescue and first aid squad to the entering into of a contract for services to be performed by such department, company or squad.

23. May sell or otherwise dispose of real and personal property of the district no longer necessary for any of its uses or purposes if, when and in the manner and to the extent authorized so to do in a proposition which is duly submitted and adopted or approved at a special or annual fire district election in the manner provided by section one hundred seventy-nine of this article for voting upon appropriations, except that if a proposition shall be submitted pursuant to the provisions of said section for the purchase of apparatus or if a proposition shall be submitted pursuant to the local finance law for the approval of a bond resolution or a capital note resolution for obligations to be issued for the purchase of apparatus, such proposition may specify that apparatus or equipment owned by the district or the proceeds of the sale thereof is to be used in part payment for new apparatus and the adoption of such proposition shall authorize the sale or such other disposition of such apparatus or equipment, or if apparatus or equipment is to be purchased without the submission of a proposition as aforesaid apparatus or equipment owned by the district may be used as part payment for new apparatus or equipment without the adoption of a proposition therefor, and except also that the board of fire commissioners may at any time sell or otherwise dispose of real and personal property of the district no longer necessary for any of its uses or purposes if valued at less than one hundred thousand dollars but not below twenty thousand dollars, if, when and in the manner and to the extent authorized so to do in a resolution which shall be subject to a permissive referendum governed in the manner provided in subdivision seven of section six-g of the general municipal law and except also that the board of fire commissioners may at any time sell or otherwise dispose of real and personal property of the district no longer necessary for any of its uses or purposes without the adoption of a proposition therefor if the value of such real and personal property does not exceed the sum of twenty thousand dollars.

23-a. Shall award all contracts for public work and, except when the office of director of purchasing has been established and a director of purchasing shall have been appointed and qualified, all purchase contracts to the lowest responsible bidder after advertisement for bids where so required by section one hundred three of the general municipal law. In any case of a purchase from a manufacturer of a motor vehicle used for fighting fires, whether or not including apparatus used in connection with such motor vehicle, having a period of probable usefulness of ten years as determined by section 11.00 of the local finance law, advertisement for sealed bids may be made and the purchase contract may be awarded for such motor vehicle and apparatus with the provision, if the board of fire commissioners shall so specify, that progress payments be made to the manufacturer as the motor vehicle or apparatus or both progresses, provided that evidence satisfactory to the board of fire commissioners as to the progress of such work be produced with each request by the manufacturer for a progress payment, and further provided that such progress payments shall not exceed four in number and that at least twenty-five per cent of the contract price of the motor vehicle or apparatus or both be withheld by the board of fire commissioners until such motor vehicle or apparatus or both are delivered to and accepted by the board of fire commissioners, and further provided that every such contract providing for progress payments shall be accompanied by a surety bond of a property/casualty insurance company, as defined in section one hundred seven of the insurance law, for the completion of the work, specified in the contract, within the amount stipulated therein, which bond shall be filed with the board of fire commissioners.

24. May enter into an agreement with the town in which the fire district is located in whole or in part for the fire district to issue fire permits on behalf of the town as provided in and subject to the provisions of sections one hundred thirty-nine and one hundred seventy-six-a of this chapter and may terminate any such agreement as provided in such section one hundred thirty-nine.

25. Shall have power to cause investigations to be made to determine whether the provisions of laws relating to fire prevention and fire equipment are being complied with within the fire district and, in case there is found what appears to be a violation of any town building code or of any town ordinances, rules and regulations for fire prevention, or for the removal or repair of unsafe buildings or collapsed structures, shall report the same to the town building inspector appointed pursuant to section one hundred thirty-eight of this chapter, or, if there be no such official, to the town board, for appropriate action.

26. The amount of any indebtedness incurred by a newly created fire district prior to the first fiscal year for which an annual estimate is adopted, and the amount of the interest thereon, shall be included in the first statement of expenditures of the district submitted pursuant to section one hundred eighty-one of this chapter and shall be assessed and levied on the taxable property of such district and collected in the same manner and at the same time as the other amounts included in such statement of expenditures. The amount so raised shall not be subject to the limitations of subdivision eighteen of this section.

27. Shall have power to establish within the fire district one or more zones in which the rate of tax for fire district purposes shall be different from the rate for other zones or for the portion of the district not included in any zone, after a public hearing thereon. The notice of such hearing shall be published and posted and such hearing shall be held in the manner provided in this article for a hearing upon the establishment of a fire, fire alarm or fire protection district upon petition, except that the secretary of the board of fire commissioners shall perform the duties of the town clerk. Such notice shall specify the boundaries of the proposed zone or zones and the items of expense of the district which shall be charged against such zone or zones, other than those charged against the district as a whole, or the other respects in which the rates of tax for the proposed zone or zones are to be different from the rates for the remainder of the district. After such hearing and upon the evidence given thereat, the board of fire commissioners shall determine by resolution whether it be in the public interest to establish the proposed zone or zones. If it be determined that the establishment of such zone or zones be in the public interest, such board shall determine whether all the property, property owners and interested persons within the proposed zone or zones are benefited thereby or enjoy benefits greater than are conferred upon the remainder of the district, and whether all property or property owners benefited or who enjoy such benefits are included within such zone or zones, and it shall so alter the boundaries of such zone or zones that all property and property owners and only such property and property owners as are benefited and enjoy such benefits shall be included within the limits of such zone or zones. In the event, however, that it is found that any property, property owner or any interested persons not included in the zone or zones as originally proposed will be benefited thereby or enjoy such benefits, a further notice shall be posted and published and another hearing held as provided herein, unless all said additional property owners or interested persons affected file a written consent to be included in such zone or zones. When the boundaries of such zone or zones shall have been finally determined by such board, a certificate thereof shall be filed in the office of the town clerk or, if the district be situated in more than one town, in the offices of the town clerks of all of the towns in which such district is situated, and such zone or zones shall be deemed established by the filing of such certificate. Such board shall also cause such zone or zones to be correctly marked upon the map of the fire district. It is intended that the provisions of this subdivision shall apply, for example, so as to permit one rate of taxation within a given distance of the fire house, where insurance rates are lower, and another rate for a greater distance from the fire house, or one rate for that portion of the district which does not have water hydrants and another rate for that portion of the district which has water hydrants, or in the event of any other unusual circumstances making the establishment of a zone or zones desirable. After such zone or zones shall be established, the annual statement of expenditures, filed pursuant to section one hundred eighty-one of this chapter, shall specify the amounts to be raised by taxation in said zone or zones, which are not to be a general charge against all of the property of the fire district, and such amounts shall be levied only upon the property included in such zone or zones. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the petition for the creation of a fire district may provide for the establishment of a zone or zones as aforesaid, and the town board or boards in the creation of the fire district may establish such separate zone or zones in the same manner that they established the fire district, but the provisions relating to the establishment of zones by the board of fire commissioners of a fire district shall be followed so far as applicable. In case a petition for the creation of a fire district calls for the establishment of such a zone or zones, the notice of the public hearing with respect to the creation of the fire district shall contain information similar to that required to be contained in the notice given by the secretary of the board of fire commissioners where the zone or zones are to be created by the board of fire commissioners and the town board or boards shall have all of the powers of a board of fire commissioners with respect to the creation of such zone or zones. The board of fire commissioners of a fire district in which a zone or zones shall have been established as hereinbefore provided may alter the boundaries of any such zone or zones or cause any such zone or zones to be abolished by procedure similar to that provided in this section for the establishment of a zone or zones by the board of fire commissioners.

28. May compromise any suits or claims now existing or hereafter arising against the fire district under section two hundred five-b of the general municipal law, and a tax may be levied against the taxable property of the fire district for such purpose in addition to the sums authorized by subdivision eighteen of this section, without the adoption of a proposition therefor, provided, however, that such compromise shall have been approved by the court in which such action is pending, or if not pending in any court, by a justice of the supreme court of the judicial district in which such fire district is located, on motion of either party supported by the affidavits of both an officer of such fire district and the claimant or claimants, and the affidavits of such other persons as the court or justice may require, setting forth facts sufficient to establish the liability of the fire district and its lack of adequate defense.

29. May authorize the use of voting machines at any annual or special election held within the fire district and such voting machine shall be used in accordance with the provisions contained in article nine of the election law.

30. May provide by taxation the sum necessary to pay any judgment recovered against the fire district, or may provide such sum, in whole or in part, pursuant to the local finance law and any taxes levied for such purpose against the taxable property of the fire district shall be in addition to the sums authorized by subdivision eighteen of this section without the adoption of a proposition therefor.

31. May offer monetary rewards, in sums not to exceed one thousand dollars, to individuals for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person or persons for felonies or misdemeanors directly connected to vandalism or theft of district property. Such rewards may be offered on any conditions the board may determine, subject to whatever qualifications it may deem appropriate.

32. May engage a certified public accountant or public accountant to audit the accounts and fiscal affairs of the fire district.

33. May authorize the use of fire equipment and apparatus belonging to the fire district for the purpose of participation in the funeral of a deceased member or former member of a fire department or fire company within the district including the transportation of the body of the deceased firefighter.

34. May adopt a resolution authorizing the application of the agricultural value assessment established pursuant to article twenty-five-AA of the agriculture and markets law to the special assessment or special ad valorem levy made on behalf of the district on land benefitting from the agricultural value assessment under article twenty-five-AA of the agriculture and markets law located within the district. A copy of this resolution shall be delivered to the assessor or assessors of the unit or units in which the district is located and shall be effective on the assessment roll prepared after the next taxable statue [status]* date following its adoption. A resolution repealing this exemption shall be delivered to the assessor or assessors of the assessing unit or units in which the district is located and shall be effective on the assessment roll prepared after the next taxable status date following its adoption.

Revision Notes: [1954, ch 699] The matter deleted in subdivision 10 is covered in new section 176-b of the Town Law, as added by this act.

[1955, ch 638] Formerly many fire districts secured indemnity against workmen's compensation benefits for fire district officers and paid employees and for mandatory financial benefits in relation to volunteer firemen by the purchase of insurance. These districts are located mainly in 23 counties outside New York City. Such expense is inside the spending limitation of the fire district as set forth in subdivision 18 amended by this act.

In the remaining 34 counties outside New York City, the vast majority of fire districts, according to administrative practice and construction of the law, have such indemnity without purchasing insurance as the result of the participation of the town in which they are located in county mutual workmen's compensation plans. See First Interim Report of Temporary State Commission on Fire Laws, Leg. Doc. (1954) No. 71, pages 45-94. The spending power of such districts is not reduced by the cost of such insurance, it being covered in the town budget.

In some towns a single policy is purchased by the town under Workmen's Compensation Law, § 50(7), covering the town, villages and fire districts for liability for fireman benefits. The cost, being in the town's budget, does not reduce the first district spending power.

Under the Workmen's Compensation Law, § 50 (3-a), some fire districts can be direct participants in a county mutual workmen's compensation plan. Only one such participating district is now known. Suggestions for changes in such law could be made at the 1955 session of the Legislature which might increase direct fire district participation in such plans. The cost of such participation under then existing law might be inside the spending limitation of the fire district.

The Temporary State Commission on Fire Laws believed that the cost of insurance for workmen's compensation and firemen's benefits should be uniformly outside the spending limitation, whether such insurance is purchased or is provided by participation in a mutual plan. This act accomplishes such purpose.

[1958] This act embodied separate recommendations of the Association of Fire Districts of the State of New York and of the Joint Legislative Committee on Fire Laws. If separate bills had been introduced, there would have been considerable confusion to local officials and the fire service.

Editor's Notes: Laws 2009, ch 74, §§ 1 and 18, eff March 21, 2010, provide as follows:

Section 1. Short Title. The act shall be known and may be cited as the "New N.Y. Government Reorganization and Citizen Empowerment Act".

§ 18. Savings clause. Notwithstanding the repeal or amendment of any law by this act, nothing in this act shall be construed to impair the consolidation or dissolution of any local government entity pursuant to any such repealed or amended law if there was commenced in or for such local government entity prior to the effective date of this act a consolidation or dissolution proceeding pursuant to such law, in which event the provisions of such former law shall govern such proceeding as though such former law had not been repealed hereby.

Laws 2011, ch 170, § 7, eff July 20, 2011, provides as follows:

§ 7. This act shall take effect immediately provided, however, that sections one, two, four and five of this act shall expire and be deemed repealed December 31, 2015, when upon such date the provisions of sections three and six of this act shall take effect. (Amd, L 2012, ch 482, § 3, eff Oct 3, 2012, L 2014, ch 273, § 3, eff Aug 11, 2014.).

Laws 2017 ch 294, § 4, eff Jan 1, 2018, provides:

§ 4. This act shall take effect on January first next succeeding the date on which it shall have become a law and shall apply to contracts with a term commencing after March first of the year in which it shall have become a law.

Laws 2018, ch 248, § 2, eff January 1, 2019, provides:

§ 2. This act shall take effect on the same date and in the same manner as chapter 334 of the laws of 2017 takes effect. Effective immediately, the addition and/or repeal of any rule or regulation necessary for the implementation of this act on its effective date are authorized to be made and completed on or before such effective date.

Laws 2019, ch 208, § 2, eff September 28, 2019, provides:

§ 2. This act shall take effect on the thirtieth day after it shall have become a law.

Amendment Notes 2011. Chapter 170, § 2 amended:

Sub 29 by deleting at fig 1 "and" at fig 2 "machine" and adding the matter in italics.

2009. Chapter 74, § 7 amended:

Sub 1 by deleting at fig 1 "or consolidated" and adding the matter in italics.

2006. Chapter 237, § 2 amended:

By adding sub 18, par (16).

2004. Chapter 549, § 1 amended:

By adding sub 18, par (15).

2004. Chapter 656, § 7 amended:

Sub 4-c by deleting at fig 1 "one".

The 2014 amendment by ch 313, § 1, in the first paragraph of 11-b, added "and the Caton fire district may adopt a resolution to hold future meetings, for nominations of chief and assistant chiefs, on the second Tuesday in December" at the end of the second sentence, added "or the second Tuesday in December in the Caton fire district" in the fourth sentence, and made related changes.

The 2016 amendment by ch 351, § 1, deleted "and a resident of the state of New York" at the fifth sentence of the first paragraph of 11-b.

The 2016 amendment by ch 430, § 1, substituted "section one hundred seventy-nine of this article" for "section one hundred seventy-nine", "less than one hundred thousand dollars but not below twenty thousand dollars" for "less than fifty thousand dollars" and "sum of twenty thousand dollars" for "sum of ten thousand dollars" in 23.

The 2017 amendment by ch 294, § 1, added 22(a) designation; redesignated former (a)(1) and (a)(2) as (a)(i) and (a)(ii) in 22(a); added 22(b); designated 22(c) through 22(i); and redesignated former (g)(1) through (g)(3) as (g)(i) through (g)(iii) in 22(g).

The 2017 amendment by ch 365, § 1, substituted "subdivision seven of section six-g" for "subdivision four of section six-g" in 23.

The 2018 amendment by ch 248, § 1, added 18(17).

The 2018 amendment by ch 476, § 97, substituted "firefighter" for "fireman" or variants wherever it appears in 4-a, 14, 18(4), 18(5), 18(7), 18(8), 18-a, 22(a) and 33; substituted "New York state and local police" for "New York state policemen's" in 18(5); and substituted "workers' compensation law" for "workmen's compensation law" twice in 18(7).

The 2019 amendment by ch 208, § 1, in 11-b, in the first paragraph, added "and the Fair Harbor fire department may adopt a resolution to hold future meetings, for nomination of the chief and assistant chiefs, on the third Sunday in September" in the second sentence and "or the third Sunday in September in the Fair Harbor fire department" in the fourth sentence; and made related changes.

Repeal Notes: [1954, ch 699] Subdivision 24 provided for admission of certain non-residents in fire district fire companies. It was repealed because the subject matter is covered in new section 176-b of the Town Law, as added by this act.

[1964, ch 946] Subdivision 31, repealed by this act, related to conflicts of interest and has been replaced and made unnecessary by the enactment of article 18 of the General Municipal Law by this act.

I. Generally

1. In general

When a fire district filed a map of its boundaries with a town clerk, and the other fire districts adjacent to the filing fire district did not file written objections to the map within 45 days, N.Y. Town Law § 176(5) governed the town board's consideration of the map, under which the town board had the authority to determine what the district's boundaries were. Guilderland Fire Dist. v Centi, 193 Misc. 2d 611, 749 N.Y.S.2d 696, 2002 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1352 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 2002).

Where the board of fire commissioners of a fire district is going to abolish all of the special zones of assessment in the district, the notice of hearing thereon does not have to describe the zones in the same detail as is required for the establishment of zones. 1969 Ops St Compt File #250.

CLS Town Law § 176(7) empowers board of fire commissioners to impose "requirements" on nominating petitions for fire district office, and since it is silent as to nature of these requirements, they could include prohibition against signing by qualified voter of multiple petitions for candidates for same fire district office. Ops St Compt 89-62.

The office of fire chief is a fire department rather than a fire district office and a vacancy in such office must be filled in the manner provided by section 176(11-a) of the Town Law. 1983 Op St Comp File #83-72.

2. Creation of districts and companies; management of affairs; scope of responsibility, generally

Fire company was political subdivision because it was essentially under complete control of fire district, and thus fact that fire company, rather than fire district, owned real property underlying fire station, was irrelevant for purposes of determining whether proposed construction of fire substation was exempt from area and site plan requirements of town building code. Nanuet Fire Engine Co. No. 1 v Amster, 177 Misc. 2d 296, 676 N.Y.S.2d 890, 1998 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 300 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1998).

The certificate of incorporation of a volunteer fire company may be amended so as to include a fire district within the territory in which the fire company proposes to act. 1955 Op St Compt No. 55–7319.

Unlike fire districts, fire protection districts may not be zoned. A fire protection district may, however, be dissolved and two or more fire protection districts created from the territory formerly embraced by the original district. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8050.

A fire district fire department is obliged to respond to alarms concerning fires which occur on state-owned property located within the district. 1963 Ops St Compt #62.

Discussion of procedure for incorporation of volunteer fire company and the beneficial effect of a corporate status to simplify matters concerning the management of affairs and ownership of assets. 1967 Op St Compt No. 67–786.

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may organize, operate, maintain and equip additional fire companies in the fire district. The board of fire commissioners may consent to the formation of a fire corporation which intends to operate within the territory of such fire district. In either case, either the fire company or the district could purchase and own real property and equipment. 1968 Op St Compt No. 68–926.

The by-laws of a volunteer fire company of a fire district are not subject to approval by the fire district board of fire commissioners, but fire company bylaws in conflict with duly prescribed rules and regulations of such board are invalid. 1969 Ops St Compt File #142.

3. —Control of internal affairs

A fire company or fire department in a fire district may adopt by-laws regulating its internal affairs without prior approval of the district board of fire commissioners so long as such by-laws are not inconsistent with the board's rules and regulations. 1968 Ops St Compt File #374.

4. —Coordination between districts

Fire companies from one or more fire districts may respond to calls for assistance in another fire district pursuant to General Municipal Law, § 209. 1969 Ops St Compt File #227.

5. —Emergency, rescue and relief

For a discussion of law with reference to fire districts answering calls for assistance and relative authority of civil defense commissions and fire defense coordinators, see 1953 Ops St Compt File #6413.

A fire district may purchase an ambulance and authorize the emergency relief squad of its fire department to render, in conjunction with its operation, general ambulance service in the fire district. 1960 Ops St Compt File #423.

6. —Fire outside of district

No provision of a law requires a fire district fire department to fight any fire outside the district. Forest rangers and other officers charged with duty of fighting fires may not compel use of fire district fire apparatus at a forest fire outside the fire district. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6404.

7. Employees, generally

Where a board of fire commissioners of a fire district has appointed a person to supervise and have charge of the maintenance of the district fire apparatus and equipment, it should define his duties and the duties of the chief engineer with sufficient exactitude so that there is no conflict of authority as between the two. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6068.

Board of fire commissioners may employ and compensate persons to answer fire calls and sound alarms in connection with a fire alarm system. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6597.

A fire district Board of Commissioners may appoint a "fire inspector" to inspect public places, gas stations and other premises within the district for hazards and make recommendations in relation thereto. 1961 Ops St Compt #405.

The Board of Fire Commissioners may provide for employment of a drill master and instructor for the fire district fire department. 1962 Ops St Compt #792.

When board of fire commissioners declines to approve nominee for fire chief, hearing is unnecessary and nominee need not be advised of reasons for disapproval. 1985 Op St Compt No. 85-49.

Otherwise qualified individual may be assigned to fire police squad immediately on becoming member of fire company of fire district fire department; however, board of fire commissioners may establish reasonable minimum service requirement for appointment to fire police squad, if board determines that such requirement is reasonably related to functions to be performed and is in best interest of fire district. 1998 Op St Compt No. 98-20.

Election inspectors and ballot clerks at fire district elections may not be compensated from fire district funds. 1946 Ops St Compt 140.

Fire district may hire a person either as an employee or an independent contractor to drive fire truck to distant city for installation of equipment even though he happens to be a volunteer fireman. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7392.

8. —Attorney

(1) The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may employ an attorney to perform legal services for the district. (2) The town attorney may be so employed and paid from fire district funds. 1947 Ops St Compt 353.

There is no statutory or common law impediment to a town attorney's representing both the town and fire districts therein. However, consideration should be given to the provisions of Canon No. 6 of the Canons of Professional Ethics. 1967 Ops St Compt File #1010.

A fire district may not directly or indirectly employ an attorney to represent an injured volunteer fireman in proceedings to determine such fireman's qualifications to retain his position of employment. 1968 Ops St Compt File #1086.

9. —Janitor

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may not employ one of its members as janitor of the fire house. 1947 Ops St Compt 190.

10. Engineers and other officers, generally

A "write in" candidate for fire district officer who receives the majority of votes and is otherwise qualified, is the duly elected officer. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7067.

A blank space for "write in" candidates must be provided on the ballots prepared for the election of fire district officers. 1960 Ops St Compt File #573.

11. —Assistant engineers

It is not necessary for volunteer fire department to submit to board of fire commissioners names of and number of ballots cast for all candidates proposed for chief engineer and assistant engineers at department election. 1945 Ops St Compt 194.

The only officers of a fire department subject to the approval of fire commissioners are chief engineer and assistant engineers. 1946 Ops St Compt 659.

Only active members of a fire department are eligible to nomination for office of chief engineer or assistant chief engineer, and exempt firemen and those on leave of absence are ineligible for nomination. 1962 Ops St Compt #350.

Burning permits may be issued by a chief or assistant engineer of the fire district fire department pursuant to rules and regulations not inconsistent with the rules and regulations promulgated by the Air Pollution Control Board. 1968 Ops St Compt File #820.

12. —Chief engineer, generally

A chief engineer of the Fire Department of a town is not a public officer since he has no independent prerogatives or sovereign power, but is subject to the jurisdiction and control of the fire commissioners, and so is subject to removal from his position without the preferring of formal charges and without being accorded a hearing. Application of Barber, 100 N.Y.S.2d 668, 198 Misc. 135, 1950 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2169 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1950), aff'd, 278 A.D. 600, 101 N.Y.S.2d 924, 1951 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4071 (N.Y. App. Div. 1951).

It is not necessary for volunteer fire department to submit to board of fire commissioners names of and number of ballots cast for all candidates proposed for chief engineer and assistant engineers at department election. 1945 Ops St Compt 194.

The only officers of a fire department subject to the approval of fire commissioners are chief engineer and assistant engineers. 1946 Ops St Compt 659.

A chief engineer employed as a fire district commissioner becomes a paid fireman and loses his status as a volunteer fireman. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6654.

A town councilman may also hold the office of chief engineer of a fire district. 1956 Ops St Compt File #7848.

The position of paid chief engineer may be abolished by resolution of the board of fire commissioners of a fire district. A chief engineer whose paid job is abolished may be restored to his former status as a volunteer fireman, if he still retains membership in the volunteer fire company. 1957 Ops St Compt File #272.

There can be only one chief engineer in a fire district, and he is nominated at a meeting of the fire district fire department and appointed by the Board of Fire Commissioners. 1962 Ops St Compt #953.

Discussion of authority of fire district chief engineer to reassign company members from one company to another and to accept non-firemen's assistance or call for assistance in connection with fighting fires. The chief engineer of a fire district department in charge at the scene of a fire has no authority to employ anyone to assist activities of his department. 1963 Ops St Compt #329.

13. — —Nomination to office

The board of fire commissioners may refuse to appoint the person nominated to be chief engineer. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6544.

Only active members of a fire department are eligible to nomination for office of chief engineer or assistant chief engineer, and exempt firemen and those on leave of absence are ineligible for nomination. 1962 Ops St Compt #350.

There can be only one chief engineer of a fire district fire department, who must be nominated at the annual department meeting and appointed by the Board of Fire Commissioners. 1963 Ops St Compt #213.

A board of fire commissioners may not reject the nominee of the fire department for the office of chief and appoint a different person to such office. 1979 Op St Comp File #600.

14. —Secretary

A part-time judge may serve as a secretary to a town fire district, and as a chair of the annual school board meeting for the presentation of the school budget. Advisory Committee on Judicial Ethics, Op 89-155 (1990).

A part-time judge may serve as a secretary to a town fire district, and as a chair of the annual school board meeting for the presentation of the school budget. Advisory Committee on Judicial Ethics, Op 89-155 (1990).

15. —Treasurer

The office of fire district treasurer is incompatible with employment as a paid fireman of the fire district. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7362.

A board of fire commissioners of a fire district may cause to be submitted to the district electors at any annual fire district election, other than one at which a fire district treasurer is required to be elected, a proposition determining that the office of fire district treasurer shall be appointive and not elective in such district. 1969 Ops St Compt File #86.

16. —Volunteer chief

A paid fireman may not be appointed chief of a volunteer fire department. 1979 Op St Comp File #600.

17. Firemen; paid

In a fire district in which employment of paid firemen has already been authorized, the authorization continues from year to year and further authorization, either by public hearing or referendum, is necessary only if it is proposed to increase the number of paid firemen or to increase their salaries. 1963 Ops St Compt #264.

18. —Volunteers, generally

The provisions of this section as to removal of members of a fire company are complemented, as to removal of volunteer firemen, by § 209-1 of the General Municipal Law, governing procedure to be followed and rights of the accused. Busking v Kronimus, 41 Misc. 2d 985, 247 N.Y.S.2d 149, 1963 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1711 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1963), aff'd, 22 A.D.2d 888, 255 N.Y.S.2d 312, 1964 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 2631 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1964).

A person may not be a member of the volunteer fire department of each of two fire districts. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6350.

A volunteer fireman may be hired by the fire district as an independent contractor to provide painting, snow removal, grading, plumbing and other maintenance work without affecting his status as a volunteer fireman. 1967 Ops St Compt File #465.

If a volunteer fireman receives payment as a full or part-time dispatcher, and if such activity is fire-manic, the fireman's power to act as a volunteer fireman is temporarily suspended. 1967 Ops St Compt File #465.

Several fire districts may enter into cooperation agreement to implement advertising campaign for purpose of recruiting volunteer firefighters for fire companies of fire departments of districts; costs of campaign may be apportioned by property valuations, population, or any other equitable method or formula as agreed to by parties to agreement. 1996 Op St Compt No. 96-7.

19. — —Absenteeism among volunteers

A board of fire commissioners had the power and discretion to approve the recommendation of the board of officers of a fire district to dismiss the appellant (volunteer fireman) for absenteeism at fires and meetings, without serving charges on the appellant and without granting a hearing. Iannucci v Summa, 8 A.D.2d 841, 190 N.Y.S.2d 560, 1959 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 7887 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1959).

In an Article 78 proceeding, the court would reinstate a volunteer fireman who was dismissed for gross misconduct and insubordination after he allegedly refused his fire chief's order to shave off his beard, allegedly disobeyed an order not to respond to the scene of the fire until he had shaved off his beard, allegedly failed to attend a meeting to discuss that conduct, and, after being suspended, allegedly used recreational facilities reserved for firemen who had not been suspended, where there was no evidence in the record that the Board of Fire Commissioners had, under Town Law § 176, adopted a rule, regulation or bylaw prohibiting beards, where the chief's order thus was not binding, where the evidence supported the fireman's contention that he was at the fire as a spectator rather than as a firefighter, where the fireman's failure to attend the meeting was due to a conflict in employment schedules, his inability to reach the chief by telephone, and the chief's alleged refusal to listen to the fireman's explanation, and where the fireman was present at the recreational facilities as a guest of another fireman who was in good standing. Ittig v Huntington Manor Volunteer Fire Dept., Inc., 95 A.D.2d 829, 463 N.Y.S.2d 870, 1983 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 18767 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1983).

20. — —Disabled volunteers

A person is not disqualified from eligibility to active membership in a fire company because he is temporarily disabled by reason of illness. 1960 Ops St Compt File #632.

21. — —Women volunteers

A woman may be admitted to membership in a volunteer fire company to participate in all firemanic activities. Whether a woman may be excluded from membership in a volunteer fire company, in the face of a claim of unconstitutional discrimination, is a matter for judicial determination. 1974 Ops St Compt File #1171.

22. Municipal regulations

In proceeding to nullify decision of town board which vacated permit previously issued for construction of fire substation because proposed construction did not meet requirements of town's building code, case was remanded for town board to apply "balancing of public interests" test to determine whether proposed construction of substation on 43,841 square feet was subject to building code requirement of 80,000 square feet and filing of site plan. Nanuet Fire Engine Co. No. 1 v Amster, 177 Misc. 2d 296, 676 N.Y.S.2d 890, 1998 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 300 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1998).

A board of fire commissioners must obtain a building permit and pay the fee therefor under the town building code for the construction of a firehouse. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6205.

Petition is not required to initiate proceedings to zone fire district. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6401.

A fire district may not be zoned so as to charge against an extension the amount of additional cost for fire protection incurred during the year by reason of such extension. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6538.

Although a fire district has no authority to levy fines for the transmission of false alarms, the town board of the town in which the fire district is located may enact a local law, ordinance, rule or regulation making the transmission of a false alarm an offense punishable by a civil penalty or fine. 1984 Op St Comp File #84-21.

23. Powers and duties of fire commissioner, generally

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may organize, operate, maintain and equip additional fire companies in the fire district. Upon dissolution of district, the property must be sold and proceeds distributed as provided in section 185. 1947 Ops St Compt 203.

Fire district taxpayers may attend the regular monthly meeting of the board of fire commissioners but may not interfere in any way in the conduct of its business. The board of fire commissioners may not disband an incorporated fire company constituting the fire department of the district, but may organize other companies. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6282.

A fire district commissioner is a public officer and, although he serves without compensation, he may not enter into a contract with the fire district which he serves. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7343.

A member of the board of fire commissioners, where authorized by resolution of the board, may ride the fire apparatus to a fire or other emergency without the specific permission of the officer in charge. 1960 Ops St Compt File #780.

Under certain circumstances, a Board of Fire District Fire Commissioners may approve and supervise intentional burning of a building and grass growing upon the parcel of land on which the building is located. 1963 Ops St Compt #475.

Board of fire commissioners may adopt regulations authorizing fire commissioner, who is not member of fire department, to ride on fire vehicles during emergency calls, so long as regulation does not have effect of interfering with duties of chief or assistant chief, with chief or assistant chief having discretion to determine whether commissioner's presence in any particular vehicle would hamper firefighting efforts; point at which fire commissioner's involvement interferes with performance of duties of chief or assistant chief is factual determination to be made on basis of circumstances of each case. 1992 Op St Compt No. 92-25.

Governing body of town fire district may not be changed from town board to separate elective board of fire commissioners. 1945 Ops St Compt 194.

A taxpayer of a fire district has the right to attend a meeting of the board of fire commissioners. 1954 Ops St Comp File #6544.

24. —Posting bond or undertaking

Fire district commissioner not required to furnish official undertaking. Fire district treasurer must provide official undertaking. 1945 Ops St Compt 538.

25. Selection of fire commissioner, generally

Pursuant to CLS Town § 176(11-b), board of fire commissioners was not required to give reason for its rejection of fire department's nomination of plaintiff to office of assistant chief. Leap v Finnen, 168 A.D.2d 432, 562 N.Y.S.2d 555, 1990 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 15019 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1990).

Fire department officers must be nominated on the Thursday following the first Tuesday of April (or, under certain circumstances, December) and thereafter be appointed by the board of fire commissioners of the district. Fire company line officers are elected by the individual fire company at its own election held at such time and place as the constitution and by-laws of the particular fire company may prescribe. 1967 Ops St Compt File #1007.

If the board of fire commissioners refuses to appoint a nominee for a fire department office it may not appoint the person receiving the next highest number of ballots. The conduct of the fire department meeting at which nominations for fire department offices are made is governed by the rules and regulations of the board of fire commissioners. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6282.

26. —Dual office holding

The same person may not hold the office of fire district commissioner and justice of the peace. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7767.

There is no prohibition against the same individual serving on a county legislature and on a board of fire commissioners within the county. 1969 Ops St Compt File #1040.

27. —Length of term, generally

A fire district secretary-treasurer serves for a term of one year, notwithstanding that the appointment was designated as a temporary one. 1974 Ops St Compt File #825.

28. — —Holding over

Where fire district fails to hold annual election, commissioners in office hold over until successors are appointed. 1947 Ops St Compt 520.

Where, through inadvertence, an office of the fire district is left off the ballot, the person holding the said office at the time of the election shall hold over until a successor is chosen. 1956 Ops St Compt File #7878.

29. —Removal; suspension

Fire district's board of commissioners properly refused to remove board candidate's request to remove his name from ballot, and thus result of election that he won would not be set aside on petition of losing candidate in Article 78 proceeding, where winning candidate was properly nominated, his subsequent discovery that he could not continue his employment as city police officer if he accepted nomination did not disqualify him, and Town Law contains no provision authorizing fire district commissioners to remove candidate's name from ballot once he or she has duly filed proper nominating petition. Cusumano v Board of Comm'rs, 251 A.D.2d 404, 674 N.Y.S.2d 86, 1998 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6636 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1998).

Powers and duties of a Board of Fire Commissioners are further defined in § 209-1 of the General Municipal Law, particularly with respect to removal of volunteer members, and the board has no power to suspend a member without establishing that he violated established rules or was guilty of some act which might be considered incompetence or misconduct. Burkart v Board of Fire Comm'rs, 28 Misc. 2d 64, 219 N.Y.S.2d 289, 1960 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1947 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1960).

This section makes no provision for removal of an elected chairman of the Board of Fire Commissioners, but such an officer is subject to removal under the provisions of § 36 of the Public Officers Law. 1961 Ops St Compt #616.

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may remove a member of an incorporated fire company for cause. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6544.

30. —Vacancy

Mandamus to compel town board and members thereof to fill vacancy is the proper remedy in case where there is no dispute of facts, and person illegally appointed by board of fire district commissioners to fill the vacancy was properly omitted as a party in proceeding. Where one who was elected to office of fire district commissioner in December, 1939, failed to take and file the oath of office, as required by § 174, subd. 5, and he illegally held office until October 1, 1941, when board of fire district commissioners declared a vacancy to exist and appointed another to fill it, inasmuch as a vacancy in office had existed for over thirty days, appointment by board was violative of § 176, subd 3. Rivette v Baker, 265 A.D. 89, 37 N.Y.S.2d 912, 1942 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5685 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't), modified, 265 A.D. 894, 1942 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6369 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1942).

A vacancy in the office of fire district commissioners should be filled as the statute provides. 1947 Ops St Compt 165.

A vacancy in the office of fire district commissioner may be filled by the town board if the board of fire commissioners fail to fill such vacancy within thirty days. 1953 Ops St Compt #6452.

Where a fire district election results in a tie vote for fire commissioner, the vacancy must be filled pursuant to this section. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6516.

Board of fire commissioners should appoint a commissioner to fill a vacancy on the board where the annual election was not held because of failure, by oversight, to publish the required notice of election. 1968 Ops St Compt File #1027.

II. Specific Matters

31. Contracts, generally

Board of fire commissioners (and town board, in a town-wide fire district having no separate board of fire commissioners) may contract for the delivery of fire equipment and apparatus. 1946 Ops St Compt 18.

Fire district which has valid contract for fire apparatus may not pay vendor amount in excess of contract price if contract remains unamended. 1946 Ops St Compt 537.

Where a fire district commissioner is personally interested in a contract with the fire district, after notice of the impropriety thereof, the board of fire commissioners should decline to direct the expenditure of fire district funds therefor. 1947 Ops St Compt 165.

A fire district may not contract with a volunteer fire company for the storage of district-owned equipment if the commissioners of the district also are members of the fire company. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6390.

A fire district has no authority to lease fire fighting apparatus. If such equipment is purchased, the contracts must be competitively let. Fire district may not make purchases on an installment payment plan. 1956 Ops St Compt File #7886.

Where a fire district contracts with two towns for fire protection, and the fire department owns a part of the apparatus to be used, the district may pay a portion of the contract prices equal to or greater than 35%, but if the district owns all the apparatus, it can pay the fire department not in excess of 35% of the contract price. In either case, such amounts may be paid in addition to rental for district use of fire department buildings. 1960 Ops St Compt File #197.

A contract may not be entered into for the purchase of a fire engine unless the contract cost is available or provided for on the date the contract is signed. 1970 Ops St Compt File #24.

A fire district is not obligated to compensate a private waterworks corporation for the rental of fire hydrants unless a properly authorized contract for such rental exists. Property owners within the zone of assessment in a fire district cannot be assessed retroactively for costs incurred by the district prior to establishment of the zone. 33 Op St Compt 1977, p 187 and 5 Op St Compt 1949, p 345 are superseded to the extent that a private waterworks corporation would be entitled to receive compensation for the use of fire hydrants even in absence of a properly authorized contract. 1990 Op St Compt 90-25.

Where a fire district enters a fire protection contract with an outside fire company for fire protection within the fire district, the question of who will be in command of a fire scene is a term of the contract which must be negotiated by the parties. 1984 Op St Comp File #84-22.

Assistant chief of fire district's fire department who owns more than 5 percent of stock of private corporation contracting with fire district for sale and repair of radios to district does not have prohibited interest in contract if, as assistant chief, he or she does not have any powers and duties listed in CLS Gen Mun § 801 in connection with contract; if assistant chief, on behalf of corporation, exercises direction and control over any corporate employees involved in contract, such fact must be disclosed under CLS Gen Mun § 803(1). 2001 Opns St Comp No. 01-11.

32. —Bidding requirements

Where bid submitted to fire district on fire truck was low by a small margin but provided a progressive payment schedule whereas district was not allowed by law to make prepayments, board of fire commissioners of such district was not empowered to allow such contract to be changed to provide that price should be paid on delivery, after competitor's bid stating a price based on payment on delivery had been opened. In awarding public contracts, no scheme or device promotive of favoritism or unfairness or which imposes limits not applicable to all bidders alike will be tolerated. Though acceptance of particular bid by fire district was improper, board of fire commissioners of such district would not be ordered, in Article 78 proceeding, to award the contract to the lowest proper bidder, in light of provision in notice to bidders that board reserved the right to reject any and all bids and readvertise for new bids. Sanford Fire Apparatus Corp. v Board of Fire Comrs., Lysander-Cody Fire Dist., 81 Misc. 2d 992, 367 N.Y.S.2d 891, 1975 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2512 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1975).

Purchase of fire apparatus is subject to public bidding requirements of General Municipal Law, Article 5-A. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6416.

Where no direct or indirect interest in public contracts exists, a fire district contract may be awarded to the adult son of a member of the board of fire commissioners where the son is the lowest responsible bidder on the contract. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8231.

Where a fire district intends to finance purchase of apparatus by issuance of serial bonds, it may advertise for bids on the proposed purchase before a proposition authorizing the financing has been approved, if a clause in the advertisement makes awarding of the contract subject to referendum approving the same. 1961 Ops St Compt #279.

Fire commissioners may reject all bids and re-advertise for new bids. If condemnation proceeding is discontinued, fire district may be ordered to pay damages to owners of realty. Board may not expend in excess of estimate set forth in bond resolution. Board may issue bonds to an amount smaller than approved. Expenses incurred in connection with building construction project disapproved in referendum are legal liabilities and may be paid. 1966 Ops St Compt File #751.

The board of fire commissioners may invite bids on property prior to a required referendum authorizing the sale of such property. 1968 Ops St Compt File #867.

Fire district may purchase firefighting vehicle from fire department at cost of more than $5,000 only after compliance with competitive bidding requirements of CLS Gen Mun § 103. 1986 Op St Compt No. 86-67.

33. —Contracts for services, generally

(1) Fire commissioners of fire district established under former § 38 of County Law may contract with a fire company located within district for fire protection within such district. (2) Fire commissioners of a fire district established pursuant to § 316 of former Town Law may contract for fire protection within the district, with a fire company located in such district. (3) In a fire district established pursuant to § 316 of former Town Law and in which district town board acts as commissioners, such town board may contract for fire protection within district with a fire company located within such district. (4) Town board may contract with fire company located within fire district established pursuant to §§ 314-c or 314-d of former Town Law for furnishing fire protection in such district. (5) Board of fire commissioners of a district established subsequent to Jan. 1, 1934, pursuant to Art. II of the present Town Law may not contract with a fire company to furnish fire protection in such district. 1945 Ops St Compt 77.

Commissioners of a fire district formed on or after January 1, 1934, are not authorized to contract for the furnishing of fire protection in said district. 1947 Ops St Compt 72.

A fire district may contract to furnish fire protection to a fire protection district though the fire protection district can be reached only by traveling through another fire district. 1947 Ops St Compt 104.

Fire district formed in 1941 may not contract for fire protection. 1947 Ops St Compt 105.

Fire commissioners of a fire district established in 1938 may not contract with an incorporated village for the furnishing of fire protection within said district. 1947 Ops St Compt 459.

A fire district established subsequent to January 1, 1934, may not contract for the furnishing of fire protection to a portion thereof. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6956.

A fire district established pursuant to Town Law of 1909. Sec. 314-c may not contract for fire protection pursuant to this section or § 184. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7598.

A fire district which contracts for fire protection may not compel the fire company to accept a condition in the contract that it place a portion of the consideration in a reserve fund for the purchase of new fire apparatus and equipment. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7657.

A fire district established subsequent to December 31, 1933 may contract for the furnishing of fire protection within a portion of the fire district where, in the judgment of the board of fire commissioners, the district fire department is unable to render adequate and prompt fire protection to such area. 1957 Ops St Compt File #139.

Where all of the apparatus used in furnishing fire protection pursuant to contract is owned by the fire district, the portion of the contract price which may be paid over to the volunteer fire department which furnishes the protection may not exceed 35%, unless a greater portion was being paid over to the department on March 15, 1941. 1957 Ops St Compt File #227.

There is no statutory limit on the amount a village may be charged for fire protection under a fire protection contract. 1967 Ops St Compt File #815.

Where an area within a town is in need of fire protection, the town may enter into a contract with any city, village, fire district or incorporated fire company for fire protection, if the area to be served is within a fire alarm or fire protection district; however, if such area is within a fire district, the district is responsible for providing fire protection, and may contract with any city, village, fire department, or incorporated fire company having its headquarters outside the district if there is no fire company maintaining its headquarters in the district or if, in the judgment of the fire commissioners, the fire department of the district "is unable to render adequate and prompt fire protection to such district or any area thereof". 1985 Op St Compt No. 85-71.

34. — —Ambulance and other emergency services

A town may contract with a fire district to provide general ambulance service only under a fire protection contract entered into under General Municipal Law, Section 209-b. 1967 Ops St Compt File #76.

A fire district may contract for the furnishing of general ambulance service to the district by another district, municipality or other outside agency only where the fire district receives fire protection by contract with another district, municipality or outside agency. 1968 Ops St Compt File #224.

A town may contract with a fire district for general ambulance services to be provided to areas within a town fire protection district. Such services may be provided only as part of an overall fire protection contract. A contract for general ambulance services with a volunteer fire company where unrelated to fire protection contract is unauthorized. 1969 Ops St Compt File #4.

Fire district, fire department of which does not have emergency rescue and first aid squad, may contract with any city, town, village, or fire district which has in its fire department emergency rescue and first aid squad duly authorized to render emergency ambulance service to receive emergency ambulance service, but fire district may not contract to receive general ambulance service unless it also contracts to receive fire protection. 1987 Op St Compt No. 87-39.

Although town is authorized under CLS Gen Mun § 122-b to enter into contract with private ambulance company to provide advanced life support services on town-wide basis, fire district has no authority to enter into contract with private ambulance company for such services; consequently, town and fire district located therein may not under CLS Gen Mun Art 5-G enter into municipal cooperation agreement under which advanced life support services would be provided by private ambulance company. 1998 Op St Compt No. 98-21.

Fire district may not impose fees for emergency rescue services provided by emergency rescue and first aid squad of fire district fire department, irrespective of whether services involve ambulance. 2004 Op St Compt No. 04-1.

35. — —Annual report preparation

There is no conflict of interest or other legal impropriety where an accountant retained by a fire district to prepare its annual financial report is also the owner of a computer firm which is engaged by the district to perform data processing services. 1981 Op St Comp File #81-373.

36. — —Services outside fire district

Where a fire district contracts to furnish fire protection to an outside area, there is no limitation on the portion of the contract price which may be paid to the fire company furnishing the fire protection, unless the fire district owns all of the equipment used in furnishing the protection. 1960 Ops St Compt File #359.

A fire district may not enter into a direct contract with a county to provide fire protection for the latter's property located outside the district, but is required to furnish protection for such property if located within its geographical area of operation. 1963 Ops St Compt #1.

37. — —Services within fire district which was created before January 1, 1934

Only fire districts created prior to January 1, 1934, may contract for fire protection. Such districts may spend more than $1,000 annually for fire protection pursuant to a contract, without the adoption of a proposition therefor. 1946 Ops St Compt 530.

A contract for fire protection may be made by a fire district established prior to January 1, 1934 with a fire company which is not situated within the fire district. The amount of the contract is not subject to approval by referendum. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6700.

38. Equipment and apparatus, generally

Financing of purchase of fire equipment by fire district—$1,000 limitation does not apply if bonds or capital notes are issued. 1946 Ops St Compt 139.

For a discussion of rules and regulations relative to purchase of fire apparatus, see 1953 Ops St Compt File #6421.

A fire district may purchase apparatus owned by a fire company, but may not assume payment of fire company obligations. 1962 Ops St Compt #842.

Board of fire commissioners may adopt rule or regulation limiting, controlling, or prohibiting use of personal equipment at fire scene and, even in absence of such rule or regulation, chief of fire district fire department may restrict or prohibit such use. 1998 Op St Compt No. 98-2.

A proposition for the purchase of fire apparatus should specify that used apparatus owned by the district or the proceeds of the sale thereof will be used in part payment for the new apparatus. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7745.

A fire district may not make a gift to a fire company of an amount equal to the cost of firefighting equipment previously given as an unconditional gift by a fire company to the fire district. 1991 Op St Compt No. 91-19.

If fire district board of fire commissioners determines that, due to unique or unusual circumstances, properties within particular area of fire district will benefit to greater extent from particular piece of equipment, board may, through formations of zone of assessment, charge proportionately greater amount of cost of that equipment to zone of assessment, consistent with greater or special benefit to properties within zone. Fire district board of fire commissioners may permit specialized firefighting equipment, cost of which was charged only to zone of assessment, to be used, on occasion, for fire protection elsewhere within fire district. 1997 Op St Compt No. 97-26.

39. —Alarm systems

Fire district funds may be used to purchase blue lights for installation on private cars of volunteer firemen. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7412.

A town may not pay for a private fire alarm system to be placed in the central schools in the town. 1967 Ops St Compt File #538.

40. —Equipment, generally

Fire commissioners of a fire district may purchase equipment but there seems to be no statutory authority to lease the same. 1945 Ops St Compt 124.

Fire district equipment and apparatus having a value of $1,000 or less, no longer necessary for fire district purposes, may be sold without a public hearing, referendum, or public solicitation of bids. 1962 Ops St Compt #1083.

A town may not impose a special tax or other charge on behalf of a fire district on properties which are exempt from fire district taxes to defray the cost of specialized equipment needed to provide fire protection services to those properties. 1990 Op St Compt 90-39.

41. — —Radio, telephones and the like

Fire district funds may be expended to provide radio-telephone service for use in the private automobiles of fire department chiefs, in order to coordinate their movements. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8150.

Fire district funds may be expended to provide radio communication services between the firehouse and firefighting vehicles, including the private automobiles of personnel, but radios installed in such private vehicles must remain property of the district and be returned thereto upon the individual's termination of service or disposition of his vehicle, and the communication system must be restricted to public use on fire-manic frequencies. 1963 Ops St Compt #624.

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may purchase radios, monitors or other devices to be placed in active volunteer firemen's homes, if such devices will aid in the functioning of the fire company. 1969 Ops St Compt File #522.

42. —Vehicles, generally

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may accept a gift of an automobile for the use of the chief engineer of the fire department without the adoption of a proposition by the qualified electors of the fire district, even though acceptance of the gift entails expenditures for operation, maintenance, repair and insurance. 1947 Ops St Compt 349.

Fire Commissioners of a fire district may house a fire district fire engine in a fire protection district which is protected under contract by the fire district if, in so doing, the adequacy of the protection in the fire district itself is not jeopardized. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6971.

An ambulance owned by a fire district fire company furnishing general ambulance service may be garaged in the fire district fire house. 1961 Ops St Compt #713.

A fire district has no authority to acquire, by means of a lease, vehicles to be used in the extinguishment and the prevention of fires. 1967 Ops St Compt File #875.

A fire district may pay for repairs to a fire truck lent to it by the county, if such repairs are necessary to keep the truck in the condition it was in when obtained by the fire district and if the fire district has agreed to pay for such repairs as consideration for the use of the truck. 1969 Ops St Compt File #63.

43. — —Purchase

Fire district has no power to buy fire truck for use by a village. 1947 Ops St Compt 105.

For a discussion in regard to control of board of fire commissioners over "jeep" purchased with fire company funds, see 1953 Ops St Compt File #6421.

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may acquire an ambulance by purchase or accept the same as a gift. 1954 Ops St Compt File #7037.

Three fire districts may not jointly purchase and operate an ambulance. 1957 Ops St Compt File #180.

There is no constitutional authority for the joint purchase of a squad car by a village and a fire district jointly. However, a possible solution of such a problem would be the purchase of the squad car by either the fire district or the village and then entering into a fire protection contract pursuant to Town Law § 176, subd 16, subd 22, and Village Law § 89, subd 24. 1959 Ops St Compt File #600.

Fire district may purchase pick-up truck for use in transporting equipment for the extinguishment and prevention of fires. 1965 Ops St Compt File #848.

A fire district may not pay for a fire truck until after the truck is received and a proper voucher submitted, audited and ordered paid. 1969 Ops St Compt File #723.

A fire district may purchase an ambulance and other rescue equipment for use by the ambulance and rescue squads of its fire department. 1974 Ops St Compt File #951.

Fire district may purchase firefighting vehicle from fire department at cost of more than $5,000 only after compliance with competitive bidding requirements of CLS Gen Mun § 103. Fire district may purchase fire truck from its fire department utilizing current funds if spending limitation contained in CLS Town § 176 will not be exceeded or if proposition has been adopted pursuant to CLS Town § 179; alternatively, Reserve Funds may be used, subject to limitations of CLS Gen Mun § 6-g, CLS Local Fin § 38.00, or obligations may be issued subject to mandatory referendum under CLS Local Fin § 38.00. 1986 Op St Compt No. 86-67.

If board of fire commissioners makes reasoned determination that negotiated, rather than public, sale of unneeded pumper truck will yield best price or maximum financial benefits, it may resolve to sell by negotiated sale subject to applicable referendum requirement; board should take steps, such as soliciting quotations or obtaining appraisals, to ensure that negotiated sale is upon best or most beneficial terms. 1993 Op St Compt No. 93-21.

44. — —Sale

A fire district may not sell a used fire truck upon terms which would give the purchaser three years in which to pay the purchase price. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6989.

It is not necessary that a referendum be held where the fire district wishes to sell two used fire trucks no longer necessary and the combined value does not exceed $1000. 1961 Ops St Compt #629.

45. Finances and expenditures, generally

Board of fire commissioners may not permit fire company to retain and disburse moneys received from operation of a bowling alley operated by the district. Fire commissioners may dispose of bowling alley subject to approval of qualified electors at district election. 1946 Ops St Compt 138.

Moneys received for furnishing fire protection in territory outside of the fire district are not required to be kept in a separate account. Such moneys may be expended in addition to the $1,000 which may be expended without a referendum. A portion of such moneys may be paid to the fire department or fire company. 1947 Ops St Compt 84.

A fire district may not replace a worn battery in the fire chief's private automobile. 1965 Ops St Compt File #95.

A fire district may not turn over fire district funds to the district fire department for expenditure. Fire district moneys may be expended only by the board of fire commissioners and, in general, only upon the submission of valid claims. 1969 Ops St Compt File #728.

Town may not reimburse fire district for expenses of refilling air tanks and replacing certain damaged equipment incurred by district in cleaning up toxic chemical spill. 1986 Op St Compt No. 86-34.

Fire district may purchase fire truck from its fire department utilizing current funds if spending limitation contained in CLS Town § 176 will not be exceeded or if proposition has been adopted pursuant to CLS Town § 179; alternatively, Reserve Funds may be used, subject to limitations of CLS Gen Mun § 6-g, CLS Local Fin § 38.00, or obligations may be issued subject to mandatory referendum under CLS Local Fin § 38.00. 1986 Op St Compt No. 86-67.

Fire district may not expend moneys to repair "sidewalks" within district. 1992 Op St Compt No. 92-41.

Unexpended moneys raised by taxation in zone of assessment, and any property, cost of which was charged only to zoned of assessment, belong to fire district after zone is abolished. 1997 Op St Compt No. 97-26.

Board of Fire Commissioners should not submit the entire fire district budget, item by item, for approval at a fire district election, but should, if necessary, submit a single proposition under section 179(1-d) calling for the expenditure of a given amount over and above the spending limitation for the district as computed under this section. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6970.

46. —Advance payments

It is not legal for a Board of Fire Commissioners to pay in advance for travel and living expenses of a member of the Commission and its Secretary attending a convention outside the district. 1961 Ops St Compt #726.

47. —Bond proceeds

Fire district may not divert bond proceeds to pay current operating expenses. Fire district may not use taxes of 1947 to pay expenditures of 1946. Fire district may borrow pursuant to Local Finance Law, section 29.00 (a, 2), notwithstanding provisions of paragraph 1 of such section. 1946 Ops St Compt 583.

48. —Claims for payment, generally

The commissioners of a fire district may audit and order paid a claim made by a fire department officer for reimbursement for expenditures to provide food and coffee to volunteer firemen on emergency duty, if the Board determines the expenditure to have been necessarily incurred. 1961 Ops St Compt #188.

Claims against a fire district must be itemized in sufficient detail that a determination may be made as to validity of the claim. 1961 Ops St Compt #663.

The members of a board of fire commissioners are not required to sign each voucher submitted for audit and allowed. 1969 Ops St Compt File #198.

A fire district may not pay the claim of an oil company for gasoline purchased by the district with the use of a credit card where the company refuses to submit duly executed vouchers therefor. 1974 Ops St Compt File #430.

49. — —Verification; certification

Claims against fire district must be verified unless resolution is adopted prescribing form of certified claim, and claim is made on such form. (Opinion No. 1859 commented upon.) 1947 Ops St Compt 173.

Claims against a fire district must be verified. 1946 Ops St Compt 201.

A fire commissioner may take claimant's oath to a verification of a claim against a fire district. 1946 Ops St Compt 336.

Claims against a fire district, with certain exceptions must be presented in the form of an itemized voucher, verified by or in behalf of the claimant. 1946 Ops St Compt 350.

Claims presented to fire commissioners of fire district must be verified except as provided in subdivision 4-a of section 176 of the Town Law. 1947 Ops St Compt 43.

For a form of resolution authorizing certification of claims, see this section. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6542.

Where a fire district purchases gasoline on a credit card the company so selling the gasoline, in order to be paid, must submit a verified claim or a certified claim upon a form prescribed by the fire commissioners. 1963 Ops St Compt #392.

Where a fuel oil company refuses to execute and submit verified or certified vouchers in claim for payment for fuel oil deliveries to a fire district, the district, in view of the current fuel oil market, may make payment on the certification of a district officer, employee, or volunteer fireman that the amount of the product stated in the invoice has actually been received. 1974 Ops St Compt File #186.

A fire district may audit and pay a voucher certified on behalf of the New York Telephone Company on the company's own form rather than require the company to use the regular voucher form supplied by the district. 1974 Ops St Compt File #752.

Claims submitted by a public utility for electricity and telephone service furnished to a fire district must be verified or, if the board of fire commissioners has so authorized, certified. 1957 Ops St Compt File #453.

50. —Compensation and reimbursement

Wages of paid firemen of a fire district may not be increased without a vote at an election. 1947 Ops St Compt 157.

A fire district may not reimburse a volunteer fireman for damages to his private automobile while answering a fire alarm. 1951 Ops St Compt File #5269.

Paid firemen of a fire district may not be paid extra compensation for extra hours of duty occasioned by granting of vacations to such firemen. 1954 Ops St Compt File #7006.

A fire district employing paid firemen may pay them overtime compensation for work in excess of their regularly established hours of employment. 1958 Ops St Compt File #72.

A Board of Fire Commissioners may establish a salary schedule including longevity and annual increment provisions, which will be binding upon future boards of fire commissioners unless they determine to increase or decrease scheduled items. 1963 Ops St Compt #964.

Neither a fire chief, nor any other volunteer fireman, may be compensated or reimbursed from fire district funds for time lost from regular employment as a result of performing firemanic functions. 1967 Ops St Compt File #186.

A fire district may raise the salaries of its paid firemen either by holding a referendum on the question or by holding a public hearing. 1968 Ops St Compt File #823.

Fire district expenditures for fringe benefits, which have been authorized by statute or have been provided for in collective bargaining agreement, are part of compensation of district officers or employees, and excludible from district's spending limit. 1987 Op St Compt No. 87-33.

Authorization in CLS Town § 178-c to reimburse paid and volunteer officers of fire district fire department for actual and necessary expenses incurred in execution of duties of office does not provide authority to reimburse individual designated as "chief" of fire company, as distinguished from chief of fire district fire department. 1987 Op St Compt No. 87-66.

A fire district has no statutory authority to reimburse its volunteer firemen for expenses incurred as a result of being subpoenaed to testify in civil actions arising from events which they attended in the course of their duties. A fire district has no power to adopt a local law or resolution giving it such authority. 1984 Op St Comp File #84-43.

51. —Fitness training

A fire district may pay for supervised physical fitness training sessions for its active volunteer firefighters so long as the particular training program provides the type of conditioning necessary for the firefighters to efficiently fill their firemanic functions, the nature of the supervision is such that the fire district has reasonable assurance that it is realizing sufficient benefits to justify the expenditure, and the cost is reasonable in relation to the benefits received by the district. 1992 Op St Compt No. 92-4.

52. —Meals and refreshments

Fire district commissioners may expend district funds for meals of volunteer firemen at a parade or inspection only when such meals are an incident to such parade or inspection and not when such parade or inspection is an incident to such meals. 1945 Ops St Compt 52.

A budget appropriation may be made to provide refreshments for firemen who respond to a fire or other emergency in the fire district. 1962 Ops St Compt #673.

Where an inspection or review of fire department personnel is purely incidental to a banquet for the volunteer firemen, their families and guests, the use of fire district funds for such banquet is unauthorized. 1967 Ops St Compt File #820.

(a) The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may provide for refreshments at a monthly drill. (b) However, alcoholic beverages may not be included. 1969 Ops St Compt File #522.

53. —Membership fees

A fire district may not sell at private sale its capital note to a fire company, a membership corporation, where all of the fire district commissioners and the secretary-treasurer of such district are members of the fire company. The fire district may accept the low bid of such a membership corporation on the public sale of a capital note if no member of the board of fire commissioners is an officer or director of the membership corporation. 1960 Ops St Compt File #400.

Fire district may expend monies to become member of volunteer firefighters museum if board of fire commissioners determines that fire district's statutory functions will be enhanced thereby and that fire district will receive sufficient benefits in furtherance of its statutory purposes to constitute fair consideration for cost of membership. 2000 Op St Compt No. 2000-20.

54. —Petty cash

Fire districts may not establish petty cash funds. Claims against such a district must be verified. Treasurer thereof may be reimbursed for incidental office expenses but may not generally pay district claims and then seek reimbursement, save in special circumstances. 1946 Ops St Compt 190.

55. —Public relations events; publicity

Fire district commissioners may pay for the printing and distribution of fire prevention circulars and for fire prevention meetings, courses and programs. 1968 Ops St Compt File #798.

56. —Rewards

Fire district may offer reward of up to $1,000 for information leading to arrest and conviction of individuals for felonies and misdemeanors directly connected to vandalism or theft of fire district property; however, fire district may not offer rewards in connection with other matters. 2001 Op St Compt No. 2001-5.

57. —Spending limitations, generally

There is no statutory limit upon the amount of money which may be expended in a fire protection district. 1945 Ops St Compt 134.

Subject to the spending limitation contained in subd. 18 of section 176 of the Town Law, such surplus funds may be expended for any lawful district purpose, or may be held and included as revenue in the next annual budget. 1946 Ops St Compt 540.

The commissioners of a fire district, whose annual expenditures are limited to $1,000.00, may not expend in addition to such $1,000.00, surplus funds resulting from an unexpended balance of the previous year. Capital reserve fund suggested. 1946 Ops St Compt 687.

A proposition adopted by the electors of a fire district authorizing the fire commissioners to spend moneys in excess of the limitation prescribed by subdivision 18 of section 176 of the Town Law cannot be effective for more than one fiscal year. 1947 Ops St Compt 412.

The basic spending limitation on a fire district having an assessed valuation of one million dollars is $2,000. 1955 St Compt File #7193.

The spending limitation for a fire district is provided in § 176 (18) and may be exceeded as provided in § 179. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7741.

A fire district cannot expend outside the spending limitation, except pursuant to section 179 of the Town Law, an amount received from the Federal Government as its share of a matching fund project. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8101.

Where a proposition authorizing a fire district to exceed the spending limitation by a stated amount has been approved at referendum, and the budget containing the excess already includes an appropriation for a fire-fighting vehicle, no separate referendum on the purchase of the fire-fighting vehicle is required. 1972 Ops St Compt File #1045.

Pursuant to CLS Town Law § 176(18), referendum would not be required to authorize expenditure for fire district's share of ambulance from current funds if such expenditure, together with any other expenditures that are subject to fire district's spending limitations, can be made within district's spending limit; however, referendum will be necessary if it is to be made from current funds in excess of district's spending limit or if expenditure is not to be made from current funds. 1985 Op St Compt No. 85-55.

Where a fire district will exceed its spending limitation, the purchase of land must be submitted to referendum unless a proposition is adopted to exceed the spending limitation and the amount of the purchase is not in excess of the maximum amount stated in the proposition. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6871.

A fire district may purchase cable television service for its fire house for the social and recreational use of firemen and residents. Opns St Comp, 1966, 66-1098 is hereby superseded. 1984 Op St Comp File #84-40.

58. — —Borrowing

Subdivision 18 of this section fixes a maximum limit on the amount which a fire district may expend in any one year. It does not prohibit borrowing for fire district purposes, however, pursuant to the Local Finance Law. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7228.

59. — —Capital reserve funds

Creation of capital reserve funds by fire districts; payment therein of moneys set aside for building fire house; appropriations to capital reserve funds notwithstanding limitation on amount that may be expended without a vote on a proposition. 1946 Ops St Compt 514.

60. —Surplus funds

Board of fire commissioners must deduct unexpended balances remaining at close of fiscal year from amount authorized to be expended without adoption of a proposition. 1945 Ops St Compt 382.

Moneys remaining unexpended at end of fiscal year of a fire district which were not included in first district budget for the ensuing year, constitute surplus funds in ensuing fiscal year. 1946 Ops St Compt 540.

A town board must include in the preliminary and annual town budgets the estimate of expenditures submitted by the board of fire commissioners of a fire district, notwithstanding the disapproval by the voters of a proposed proposition authorizing the expenditure of sums in excess of those that may be spent without adoption of such a proposition. 1946 Ops St Compt 562.

Surplus funds of a fire district may be used to redeem bonds or capital notes and interest thereon. 1946 Ops St Compt 600.

A fire district may establish a capital reserve fund and transfer thereto surplus fire district funds. 1951 Ops St Compt File #5493.

A fire district may use surplus funds through supplemental appropriation, but, where this will result in exceeding the statutory spending limitation, it must be done by adopting a proposition subject to mandatory referendum. 1973 Ops St Compt File #957.

61. —Tax matters

Tax anticipation notes may not be issued to finance the purchase of fire apparatus and fire apparatus may not be purchased by a fire district unless a proposition has been adopted by the electors of the fire district pursuant to either section 179 of the Town Law or section 38.00 of the Local Finance Law. 1947 Ops St Compt 416.

All tax moneys collected for fire district purposes must be paid over to the treasurer of the fire district. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6128.

Property of a fire district acquired subsequent to the taxable status date is liable for taxes for the ensuing year. 1958 Ops St Compt File #866.

A town may not impose a special tax or other charge on behalf of a fire district on properties which are exempt from fire district taxes to defray the cost of specialized equipment needed to provide fire protection services to those properties. 1990 Op St Compt 90-39.

A fire district may as part of the purchase price pay a pro rata share of the property taxes on the property purchased. 1958 Ops St Compt File #866.

There is no authority for fire district to establish scale of tax rates so that owners of multiple parcels are taxed at lower rate. 2001 Opns St Comp No. 01-8.

62. —Uniforms and other clothing expenses

In an Article 78 proceeding, the court would order reinstatement of two firemen who were terminated for wearing their own turn-out coats to a fire training drill in violation of an order prohibiting all members of the fire department from using any individually owned equipment while on duty, even though it was beyond the question that under Town Law § 176, the members of the board of fire commissioners had the ultimate authority to adopt rules and regulations concerning the type and nature of the equipment to be used by the members of the fire department, where the record indicated that numerous members of the fire department had been using individually owned equipment, and where the record failed to disclose any evidence that a formal resolution, rule or regulation prohibiting the use of individually owned equipment had ever been validly adopted by the board. Converse v Horan, 95 A.D.2d 842, 464 N.Y.S.2d 530, 1983 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 18784 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't), app. denied, 60 N.Y.2d 552 (N.Y. 1983).

A cash clothing allowance to volunteer firemen may not be paid from district funds of a fire district. 1945 Ops St Compt 152.

Fire commissioners may expend $3000.00 for uniforms for members of fire department upon adoption of proposition therefor by qualified voters of district. 1946 Ops St Compt 68.

Town may not pay volunteer fireman value of clothing damaged while answering a call for assistance in territory of the town outside of the fire district. 1946 Ops St Compt 187.

Fire district funds may not be expended to purchase baseball jackets for a team composed of volunteer firemen of the district. 1946 Ops St Compt 460.

(a) The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may provide for the replacements of uniforms owned by the district. (b) The board may also provide for the upkeep of such uniforms. (c) Such replacements remain the property of the fire district. 1969 Ops St Compt File #522.

A fire district may not purchase uniforms and instruments for a band comprised of volunteer firemen and those who are not volunteer firemen who play at fire district parades and inspections. 1973 Ops St Compt File #1205.

63. Firehouses and buildings, generally

While the statute does not impose any duty to allow private companies to connect into the fire alarm system, the statute is broad enough to authorize the Commissioners, if in their discretion they deem it appropriate to do so, to permit private companies to make such connections. But although the Town Law does not mandate such action, the equal protection clauses do require, that when the District elects to grant permission for such a connection, the grant be equally applicable to all. AFA Protective Systems, Inc. v Crouchley, 63 Misc. 2d 695, 313 N.Y.S.2d 504, 1970 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1547 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1970).

The commissioners of a fire district may agree with a utility company for furnishing a light outside the fire house. 1961 Ops St Compt #188.

Fire district may not improve vacant land owned by district with permanent outdoor competitive sports facilities such as softball fields and tennis courts. 1993 Op St Compt No. 93-24.

64. —Condemnation

A town board could, subject to a permissive referendum, convey property, acquired for the purpose of erecting a town garage but no longer necessary for that purpose, to a fire district for a fair and reasonable consideration. A town may lease space in a fire house for use as a town clerk's office. There is serious doubt that a fire district could condemn such property for fire district purposes. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7272.

65. —Construction

There is no requirement that any specified period of time must elapse before the re-submission, pursuant to Section 179 of the Town Law, of a defeated proposition to construct a building for the preservation, protection and storing of fire apparatus and equipment and for the social and recreational use of the firemen and residents of the district. 1945 Ops St Compt 200.

Board of fire commissioners of fire district may establish capital reserve fund for the erection of fire house. Establishment of such capital reserve fund is subject to permissive referendum. Board of fire commissioners may make budgetary appropriation to the capital reserve fund. Amount which may be appropriated is not subject to spending limitation prescribed by subd.18 of section 176 of Town Law or to referendum provisions of section 179 of Town Law. 1946 Ops St Compt 559.

Current funds of a fire district may be used to erect a storage garage for equipment without a referendum if the proposed expenditure is within the district's spending limitation. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7628.

Town and fire district located therein may, under CLS Gen Mun Art 5-G, enter into municipal cooperation agreement to jointly acquire real property and construct building thereon for use as combined town hall and fire station; both town and fire district must comply with all statutory requirements applicable to individual undertaking and financing of such project. 1996 Op St Compt No. 96-19.

66. —Lease; rental

Commissioners of fire district may lease firehouse owned by volunteer fire company. 1945 Ops St Compt 584.

Fire district may lease a fire house from an incorporated fire company. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6601.

A town board could, subject to a permissive referendum, convey property, acquired for the purpose of erecting a town garage but no longer necessary for that purpose, to a fire district for a fair and reasonable consideration. A town may lease space in a fire house for use as a town clerk's office. There is serious doubt that a fire district could condemn such property for fire district purposes. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7272.

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may not set apart a room in a fire district fire house for the exclusive use of a fireman's benevolent association; however, if the room is not needed for fire district purposes, board may lease such room to the association for a fair and adequate consideration. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7372.

Fire district may lease its real property and collect rent therefor. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7560.

There is no maximum statutory amount which a fire district may expend for rental of a fire department building. 1960 Ops St Compt File #197.

There is no legal requirement that the Board of Fire Commissioners must conduct its meetings in a firehouse not owned by the fire department, and such board may rent such quarters as are necessary for transacting district business. 1963 Ops St Compt #7.

A referendum is required for the sale of real property of a fire district but not for the lease of that property. 1967 Ops St Compt File #912.

A fire company may, under certain conditions, lease a portion of its real property to a fire district in which the property is located for parking of vehicles of members and residents of the fire district while in attendance at social functions at the district fire house. Where the rent under any such lease does not exceed the amount of carrying, maintenance and depreciation charges, the leased portion may remain or become tax exempt. 1968 Op St Compt No. 68–252.

Fire district may, without referendum, negotiate lease of portion of its vacant land with not-for-profit association if it is determined land is temporarily not needed for fire district purposes, and lease may be for reasonable term and must be in exchange for fair and adequate consideration; prior to negotiating with any particular lessee, fire district board of commissioners should take steps to ensure that negotiated lease is upon best or most beneficial terms, and lease may permit lessee to construct, maintain and operate, with lessee's own funds, building on vacant land, subject to applicable zoning, building code or other similar requirements. 1994 Op St Compt No. 94-12.

67. —Purchase

Proposed acquisition of petitioner's property would be allowed to proceed where condemnor fire district showed that such acquisition would provide much needed parking for firefighters who utilized district's firehouse, which was located just across street from petitioner's parcel. Salvation Army v Central Islip Fire Dist., 230 A.D.2d 841, 646 N.Y.S.2d 558, 1996 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 8570 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1996).

Fire district may acquire real estate for fire house purposes upon condition that the property be used for such purposes and will revert to donor on breach of such condition. The condition of such deed may provide that fire district shall remove the building in the event of breach of condition. The fire house upon such property so acquired may be financed by issuance of serial bonds. 1947 Ops St Compt 225.

Surplus funds of a fire district may be used to purchase a site for a fire house. If the expenditure does not exceed the spending limitation, no referendum is necessary. 1952 Ops St Compt File #5784.

A town board could, subject to a permissive referendum, convey property, acquired for the purpose of erecting a town garage but no longer necessary for that purpose, to a fire district for a fair and reasonable consideration. A town may lease space in a fire house for use as a town clerk's office. There is serious doubt that a fire district could condemn such property for fire district purposes. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7272.

A fire district may purchase land and the firehouse thereon although the conveyance provides that the land shall revert to the grantor in the event that the premises cease to be used for fire-manic purposes. 1960 Ops St Compt File #1129.

A Board of Fire Commissioners on behalf of the district may purchase real property owned by a fire company which is a membership corporation, although one or more commissioners are members of the fire company. If a Board of Fire Commissioners wishes to purchase real property from a fire company for the district, and the company is a membership corporation, the board may engage and pay from district funds an independent appraiser to appraise the property. 1963 Ops St Compt #169.

A fire district may make a budgetary appropriation for the purchase of real property for fire district purposes, but if such appropriation exceeds the aggregate annual spending limitation of the fire district, either a proposition to exceed the spending limitation or a proposition to purchase such property must be adopted and such proposition is subject to a mandatory referendum. 1968 Ops St Compt File #988.

A fire district may purchase an option on real property without voter approval, only if the cost of the option, plus the cost of the property if purchased, will not create expenditures in excess of the statutory spending limitation. 1974 Ops St Compt File #951.

Town and fire district located therein may, under CLS Gen Mun Art 5-G, enter into municipal cooperation agreement to jointly acquire real property and construct building thereon for use as combined town hall and fire station; both town and fire district must comply with all statutory requirements applicable to individual undertaking and financing of such project. 1996 Op St Compt No. 96-19.

68. —Repair; remodeling

Board of fire commissioners of fire district may not expend surplus funds of district to paint and repair fire house, where such expenditure would exceed the spending limitation prescribed by subdivision 18 of section 176 of the Town Law. Such expenditure may not be authorized by referendum pursuant to section 179 of the Town Law. Such surplus funds may be transferred to a capital reserve fund and, if not so transferred, must be included in the budget for the following fiscal year as a revenue. 1946 Ops St Compt 563.

The board of commissioners of a fire district may spend moneys of the fire district for the preparation of plans and specifications for alterations and an addition to the fire house without submitting the proposition to referendum if the expenditure will not exceed the spending limitation of the district. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6529.

Volunteer firemen may construct an addition to the firehouse on a volunteer basis and the cost of materials used therefor may be paid for with money raised through taxation, if the expenditure does not exceed the fire district's spending limitation. 1962 Ops St Compt #405.

69. —Sale

The board of fire commissioners may sell the district fire house only if it is no longer necessary for any of its uses or purposes and then only after approval at a fire election. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6282.

Proceeds of sale of real property no longer needed for fire district purposes may be used for capital improvement on firehouse. If spending limitation prescribed in this section would thereby be exceeded, referendum must be held to authorize such expenditure. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6349.

In order for a fire district to sell a building valued at $450, a fire district election is necessary. 1956 Ops St Compt File #7842.

The Board of Fire Commissioners of a fire district may not convey district-owned real property formerly used as the fire district headquarters to a school district or to a town for a nominal consideration. 1962 Ops St Compt #999.

The Board of Commissioners of a fire district may not dispose of real property of the district without a proposition therefor being submitted to the electorate at either a special or annual district election. 1962 Ops St Compt #1054.

A referendum is required for the sale of real property of a fire district but not for the lease of that property. 1967 Ops St Compt File #912.

Neither a town nor a fire district may sell real property to the other for a nominal consideration. 1970 Ops St Compt File #47.

70. —Use, generally

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may grant the use of district recreational facilities to local civic organizations whose membership is comprised of district residents. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6551.

The board of fire commissioners may in its discretion permit the use of the fire hall when such hall is not needed for fire district purposes. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6998.

Discussion of use of fire house for other than fire district purposes. 1961 Ops St Compt #627.

A fire district's fire house may not be used for private functions, whether for rental or not. 1962 Ops St Compt #61-805.

A fire district in one town may acquire a fire house in another town. Such fire house may be used for storage of fire equipment and for fire company meetings but, because of its location outside the fire district, may not be used by such fire district for meetings of its board of fire commissioners or for its regular or special elections, and will not be exempt from taxation. 1965 Ops St Compt File #637.

A village may not restrict a social room within the village firehouse for the exclusive use of the fire department, to the exclusion of all others. 1968 Ops St Compt File #423.

71. — —Political meetings

Fire houses are primarily dedicated to fire district purposes and the commissioner's refusal to allow the use of the fire house for a political meeting was not discriminatory. Hooker v Conte, 143 N.Y.S.2d 750, 208 Misc. 188, 1955 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2901 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1955).

A fire district may not lawfully permit the use of its assembly hall for a rally by a political party. 1967 Ops St Compt File #788.

72. — —Private functions

The board of fire commissioners may not allow private individuals to use the fire house for private social functions and exclude any fire district residents. 1967 Ops St Compt File #422.

73. —Wrecking; destruction

Proposition for wrecking of old fire house and disposal of lumber need not be submitted to the voters, if the value is less than $250.00. If cost of destruction of old firehouse is less than $2500, competitive bidding is not required. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6410.

74. Gifts and bequests

Fire commissioners of town fire district may not give district funds to a volunteer fire department to expend for recreational activities. 1945 Ops St Compt 14.

Fire district commissioners may accept a bequest to its fire company under cy pres doctrine. 1945 Ops St Compt 580.

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may accept a gift of an ambulance and provide for the storing and maintenance thereof. 1947 Ops St Compt 52.

A fire district may not gift or loan money to a fire company for the purpose of repairing or improving fire company property. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6239.

Fire districts may acquire by gift land on which fire suction pool is located. Such a pool may not be used for recreation program of the town, but only for fire fighting purposes. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6279.

A fire district may accept an ambulance as a gift. It may not, however, sell any of its property for less than its reasonable market value. 1967 Ops St Compt File #590.

A fire district may accept a gift of a dam from the owner thereof and may accept a gift of money from a service organization to maintain and repair the dam. 1967 Ops St Compt File #592.

A fire district is authorized to accept as a gift a parcel of property upon the condition that the grantor thereof shall have the right to use the parcel for parking from 6:30 AM to 4:30 PM Mondays through Fridays. 1983 Op St Comp File #83-93.

75. Hydrants and water supply, generally

A fire district may purchase and maintain fire suction pools, watercourses, fire cisterns and fire wells, including necessary pipes, pumps, hydrants and other facilities. Water may be used for fire-fighting purposes only. 1953 Ops St compt File #6202.

Fire commissioners may spend money to provide the district with an adequate water supply for fire purposes. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6465.

A water district may charge different rates for hydrant rentals to two fire districts located wholly or partly within the water district if the hydrants do not provide equal services or equal volumes of water in all instances. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7559.

Reconstruction of a reservoir maintained by a fire district for fire-fighting purposes may be financed by issuing serial bonds or capital notes, except where only minor repairs are to be effected; for minor repairs the cost may be met by issuing a budget note and appropriating funds from fire district revenues for the fiscal year. 1963 Ops St Compt #396.

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may contract with a village for a term not to exceed five years for the erection and maintenance of hydrants on the village supply line running through the fire district. The cost of such contract would be a general district charge unless the district were zoned. A water supply district could be established to accomplish the same purpose as zoning of the fire district. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6185.

76. —Installation of hydrants

Under subd. 3, fire commissioners are clothed with authority to require a public service corporation engaged in supplying water to install a fire hydrant even though the express contract has expired. Company must comply and recover on a theory of implied assumpsit. People ex rel. Arthur v Huntington Water Works Co., 208 A.D. 807, 203 N.Y.S. 808, 1924 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6037 (N.Y. App. Div. 1924).

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may not contract with a water district for erection of a hydrant on school district property, since water district lacks authority to make such installation. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7315.

Board of fire commissioners may not purchase and install hydrants on a village supply main running through the district and then contract with the village to supply water and maintain the hydrants. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7363.

The Board of Fire Commissioners of a fire district may not pay for installation of a water main and hydrant to be used for training purposes where such installation will be on privately-owned premises. 1961 Ops St Compt #490.

77. —Rental of hydrants

In an action by a county water authority to recover unpaid fire hydrant rental fees from a fire district, an order of the Appellate Division which modified a judgment for the county, would be affirmed, where the fire district cited no authority to support its contention that the county should have been compelled to enter into a contract specifying the terms on which its service was to be provided, where the clear import of Pub A Law § 1085 was that the making of such a contract was permissive, in that the statute did no more than authorize the authority to contract with a municipality or fire district. Suffolk County Water Authority v Board of Fire Comm'rs, 59 N.Y.2d 646, 463 N.Y.S.2d 191, 449 N.E.2d 1269, 1983 N.Y. LEXIS 3046 (N.Y. 1983).

Town board may not contract on behalf of fire protection district for rental of hydrants and purchase of water from a water company. Fire district furnishing protection to fire protection district may make such contract with the water company. 1945 Ops St Compt 494.

If a board of water commissioners of a water district, created under and pursuant to the Town Law, has been delegated power to sell water and rent hydrants to a fire district, it may enter into a contract for such sale and rental as provided in subdivision 3(b) of section 198 of the Town Law. In the absence of such contract it has no authority to permit the use of such water by the fire district. 1947 Ops St Compt 379.

A fire district is not obligated to compensate a private water-works corporation for the rental of fire hydrants unless a properly authorized contract for such rental exists. Property owners within the zone of assessment in a fire district cannot be assessed retroactively for costs incurred by the district prior to establishment of the zone. 33 Op St Compt 1977, p 187 and 5 Op St Compt 1949, p 345 are superseded to the extent that a private water-works corporation would be entitled to receive compensation for the use of fire hydrants even in absence of a properly authorized contract. 1990 Op St Compt 90-25.

General fire district funds may not be used to pay amounts due under a contract for the use of hydrants which serve only a zone within the district; under the facts presented, the fire district annual budget may include an amount sufficient to pay for the use of hydrants under a contract for both the preceding fiscal year and the current fiscal year. 1992 Op St Compt No. 92-2.

78. Injury or death claims

Where a town volunteer fireman had been summoned to assist two men caught in a manhole in a fire district and suffered asphyxiation in his efforts to release the two men, the decedent at the time of his death was an employee of the fire district and not of the defendant town. Hence, his common law action against the fire district should be dismissed on the ground that the Workmen's Compensation Law was a complete bar to such an action and a motion to dismiss the complaint against the town should have been denied. Bauman v Irondequoit, 122 N.Y.S.2d 47, 204 Misc. 494, 1953 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1809 (N.Y. Sup. Ct.), aff'd, 282 A.D. 916, 125 N.Y.S.2d 250, 1953 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 5406 (N.Y. App. Div. 1953).

Where person ceases to be member of volunteer fire company and there is no compliance with subdivision 24 of section 176, Town Law, he is not entitled to benefits provided by section 205, General Municipal Law. 1947 Ops St Compt 317.

If a volunteer fireman is injured while participating in an outing or clambake or while engaging in a sport as a member of a departmental athletic team, he is not protected by the provisions of section 205 of the General Municipal Law and section 10 of the Workmen's Compensation Law. 1949 Ops St Compt File #4042.

Volunteer fireman injured while participating in civil defense drill is performing a firemanic duty; thus, insurance providing coverage in case of injury or death while performing firemanic duty, provides coverage during such drills. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7359.

In order to be eligible for benefits under the Volunteer Firemen's Benefit Law, a person must be an active member of a volunteer fire company. 1957 Ops St Compt File #272.

Although the fire district may not pay a chiropractor's bills incurred by a volunteer fireman who, in conjunction with the treatment of injuries received while performing firemanic duties, has incurred such bills, the fire district may purchase insurance indemnifying volunteer firemen for injuries occasioned to them in the performance of their duties, including the payment of chiropractor's bills incurred in connection with the treatment of such injuries. 1959 Ops St Compt File #755.

While a fire district is authorized to employ paid firemen, volunteer members of its fire department who are compensated for service on stand-by duty during emergencies are not within the coverage of the Volunteer Firemen's Benefit Law. 1963 Ops St Compt #588.

Although fire district funds may not be expended for erection of a memorial to a deceased district fireman, fire company funds may be so employed. 1964 Ops St Compt #74.

79. Insurance, generally

Real property of an incorporated association of volunteer firemen is exempt from taxation and fire district funds may not be expended to pay the cost of insurance on such property. 1946 Ops St Compt 162.

Insurance policies purchased by a fire district should be made payable to the fire district rather than to the board of fire commissioners. 1947 Ops St Compt 91.

A fire district may not purchase insurance under this section to protect persons who may not legally be members of the fire district fire department. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6074.

Fire district may insure against loss arising out of negligence in use of fire apparatus at authorized parade in connection with funerals of deceased members. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6317.

A fire district may not purchase group insurance which would supply blood, crutches and wheel chairs to fire district firemen and members of their families. 1963 Ops St Compt #247.

An emergency relief squad of a fire district fire department may pay the expenses of operating the fire district ambulance and it may reimburse the fire district for insurance paid on the latter's ambulance, provided there is nothing in the certificate of incorporation or bylaws of the fire company or fire department prohibiting such expenditures. 1967 Ops St Compt File #590.

A fire district may not enter into a municipal cooperation agreement with a town pursuant to which the fire district and the town would jointly purchase insurance coverage for their paid employees. 1969 Ops St Compt File #558.

80. —Accident insurance

Fire district may insure member of fire department against injury or death, or both, in addition to insurance under General Municipal Law, section 205, and Workmen's Compensation Law. 1947 Ops St Compt 275.

The purchase of supplemental accident insurance covering volunteer firemen against injury or death in line of duty in no way affects the primary benefits payable pursuant to General Municipal Law § 205 or Workmen's Compensation Law, § 10. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7646.

A fire district may not purchase accident insurance for members of the ladies auxiliary. 1967 Ops St Compt File #832.

A fire district may not purchase a group accident and health insurance policy for its volunteer firemen. 1968 Ops St Compt File #1085.

A fire district may purchase a life and accident insurance policy for its volunteer firemen where the benefits are payable only for injury or death incurred in the line of duty. 1969 Ops St Compt File #557.

81. —Liability insurance

The town board of a town may insure against the liability imposed by section 207-a of the General Municipal Law arising from injuries to paid town firemen. 1947 Ops St Compt 358.

A fire district may contract, at district expense, for liability insurance covering an ambulance owned by a fire company and operated by an emergency relief squad. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6135.

A fire district is not compelled to carry liability insurance on the fire apparatus or equipment of the fire district. In the absence of negligence on the part of the board of fire commissioners, they are not personally liable for damages in the event of an accident involving apparatus or equipment of the fire district. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6217.

Village insurance does not cover its volunteer firemen engaged in protecting property in fire district pursuant to a contract. Fire district is liable in such case. Board of fire commissioners may not delegate to village board the power to purchase insurance to cover such liability. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6326.

Board of fire commissioners may not purchase liability insurance covering "jeep" owned by fire company against liability arising out of use in connection with company social and recreational activities; however, fire district funds may be used to purchase liability insurance to protect the fire district against loss arising out of use of the "jeep" for district purposes. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6358.

The board of fire commissioners may permit children who are residents of the district to use real property leased by the district from a private individual as a playground, and may purchase liability insurance indemnifying the district against any loss arising from injuries occasioned to children so using the property. 1960 Ops St Compt File #351.

A fire district may purchase liability insurance covering emergency vehicles owned by its fire company. 1962 Ops St Compt #602.

A board of fire commissioners may contract, at the expense of the fire district, for liability insurance covering fire apparatus and emergency vehicles owned by the fire district fire department. The district may maintain such fire apparatus, but may not undertake the cost of repairing such equipment. 1968 Ops St Compt File #362.

82. —Life insurance

Fire district may insure member of fire department against injury or death, or both, in addition to insurance under General Municipal Law, section 205, and Workmen's Compensation Law. 1947 Ops St Compt 275.

Fire districts may not insure firemen for death from any cause by purchase of life insurance. 1951 Ops St Compt File #5367.

A fire district may not properly assume the cost of premiums for life insurance insuring the volunteer firemen against death resulting other than in the performance of their duties. 1967 Ops St Compt File #360.

A fire district may not purchase a group accident and health insurance policy for its volunteer firemen. 1968 Ops St Compt File #1085.

A fire district may not purchase group life insurance for its volunteer firemen where they will be covered against death arising other than in the performance of their duties. 1969 Ops St Compt File #315.

A fire district may purchase a life and accident insurance policy for its volunteer firemen where the benefits are payable only for injury or death incurred in the line of duty. 1969 Ops St Compt File #557.

The fire district may purchase life insurance for its paid firemen; however, such policies must be payable only as a result of death occurring as a result of the performance of the fireman's duties as a paid fireman. 1970 Ops St Compt File #73.

83. —Workers' compensation

Fire district may insure member of fire department against injury or death, or both, in addition to insurance under General Municipal Law, section 205, and Workmen's Compensation Law. 1947 Ops St Compt 275.

The purchase of supplemental accident insurance covering volunteer firemen against injury or death in line of duty in no way affects the primary benefits payable pursuant to General Municipal Law § 205 or Workmen's Compensation Law, § 10. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7646.

84. Residency requirements

(1) Residents of territory outside of a fire district may be appointed members of the fire department of such district only if such outside territory is afforded fire protection by the fire department of the fire district, and the board of fire commissioners of the fire district has, by resolution, authorized residents of the outside territory to become members. Such non-resident members may vote upon the nomination of the officers of the fire department. (2) Any active member of the fire department of a fire district is protected by the provisions of § 205 of the General Municipal Law while going to or returning from a fire within the district. Whether or not the contract of insurance indemnifying the district against the liability imposed by § 205 covers non-resident members of the fire department depends upon the terms of the contract. 1945 Ops St Compt 126.

Residents of territory outside of a fire district may become members of the fire department of the district if (1) the territory in which they reside is afforded protection by the fire department of the district and (2) the fire commissioners by resolution authorize such membership. 1946 Ops St Compt 169.

If member of volunteer fire company located within fire district moves outside such district, he is no longer a member of such company unless there is compliance with provisions of subdivision 24 of Section 176 of Town Law. 1947 Ops St Compt 317.

For a discussion of problems involved when volunteer fireman moves from one fire district to an adjoining fire district, see 1953 Ops St Compt File #6207.

A fire company may not restrict the powers, duties, immunities and privileges of a non-resident member to a greater extent than is provided by statute. 1956 Ops St Compt File #7850.

Where a volunteer fireman moves from one fire district into another fire district he may continue his membership in the fire department of the first fire district under certain circumstances. 1957 Ops St Compt File #149.

In order to vote on a proposition under section 176(2-a) of the Town Law, making the office of fire district treasurer an appointive one, electors must be owners of real property in the fire district and must have resided for thirty days next preceding the election in the fire district. 1967 Ops St Compt File #841.

A person who is not a resident elector of a fire district may not serve as a fire district commissioner. The said office automatically becomes vacant upon the incumbent's removal of his residence from the fire district. 1974 Ops St Compt File #714.

All of the members of a volunteer fire department of a fire district are entitled to the same privileges regardless of whether they reside within or without the district, including protection under the provisions of § 205 of the General Municipal Law and the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Law. 1952 Ops St Comp File #5803.

85. Tort liability

Fire company could not be held vicariously liable for alleged negligence of firefighter in operating her vehicle in response to emergency since, under statute, (1) fire district, not fire company, employs, supervises and controls individual firefighters, (2) district is responsible for prevention and extinguishment of fires, (3) district possesses virtually total supervision and control over all aspects of creation and staffing of fire companies as well as over rules and regulations governing firefighting practices and procedures, and (4) district is answerable for negligence of its firefighters committed in course of their duties. Knapp v Union Vale Fire Co., 141 A.D.2d 509, 529 N.Y.S.2d 132, 1988 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 6348 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1988).

A property damage negligence action brought against an oil burner repair service, a district fire department, and a town, would be dismissed as against the town which could not be held liable for the negligence of members of the fire district, having no control over or responsibility for the acts and conduct of the fire district under Town Law § 176(19) and Gen Mun Law § 205-b. Harland Enterprises, Inc. v Commander Oil Corp., 108 Misc. 2d 511, 437 N.Y.S.2d 506, 1981 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2231 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1981).

Fire districts no longer have immunity from tort liability in the performance of a governmental function such as fire fighting. 1946 Ops St Compt 400.

A fire district is liable for negligence of its volunteer firemen while driving private vehicles in performance of duty. A piece of fire apparatus is any equipment for the purpose of extinguishing fires. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6300.

I. Generally

1. In general

There is no authority for a fire district, or a volunteer fire company serving the district, to levy a per diem charge upon an individual of the district for furnishing fire-fighting apparatus and volunteer firemen at specific times. 1957 NY Ops Atty Gen May 14 (informal).

The secretary of a fire district has authority to determine the validity of nominating petitions submitted pursuant to Town Law § 176(7) with regard to patent defects only. 1965 NY Ops Atty Gen Aug 26.

A board of fire commissioners cannot require a fire company or department to elect anyone to membership. This is a right reserved to the company or department, subject only to disapproval by the board of fire commissioners. This is particularly so as regards "honorary", etc., memberships which are not recognized by law. 1965 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 28.

A board of fire commissioners has no authority to assess fines, penalties or other charges against the owners of school buildings, private hospitals and nursing homes in which the fire district has installed fire alarm systems which are activated because of mechanical difficulties and carelessness on the part of personnel employed in such places. 1976 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 19 (informal).

A fire district commissioner may not hold the office of treasurer of the fire district but may hold the office of treasurer of a fire company. 1977 NY Ops Atty Gen March 2.

Where a vacancy in an elective fire district office exists prior to October 1, the appointee to such office serves until December 31 of the same year. An election to fill the unexpired term must be held in December. 1979 Op St Compt File #4.

The offices of town clerk-tax collector and secretary of a fire district within the town are not incompatible. 1980 Op St Compt File #82.

2. Creation of districts and companies; management of affairs; scope of responsibility, generally

3. —Control of internal affairs

It is doubted that a board of fire commissioners may adopt rules and regulations dealing with the purely internal affairs of a volunteer fire company. 1955 NY Ops Atty Gen Sept 9 (informal).

The board of fire commissioners may adopt internal rules and regulations governing all fire companies and fire departments in its fire district. At the same time, a fire company, may adopt a by-law more stringent as respects attendance at fires by members of the company than is provided in rules and regulations of the fire commissioner. 1959 NY Ops Atty Gen No. 25 (informal).

Fire District Commissioners may make internal rules for admission and expulsion of members of the district fire companies, but the companies themselves may make more rigid requirements for admission and fix additional grounds for expulsion. 1962 NY Ops Atty Gen July 31.

4. —Coordination between districts

As between village and town fire districts, there is no provision for, and there is a prohibition against, inclusion of territory of one in the territory of the other; but a contractual relationship may be entered into so as to accomplish the desired result. 1961 NY Ops Atty Gen Aug 30.

Discussion of legality of and procedure for consolidation of two adjoining fire districts which are located in different towns, and the effect thereof on existing and future fire protection contracts. 1978 Op St Compt File #278.

A fire district cannot include within its geographical boundaries any territory of a previously established fire district. Special legislation is recommended to remedy the overlapping of the area of one fire district by the boundaries of a district subsequently created. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-152.

Where two fire departments respond to a fire, the chief of each department remains in control of the crew and the apparatus and equipment of his fire department. A contract may, however, provide guidelines to coordinate the services of the two departments at a fire. N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 84-36.

5. —Emergency, rescue and relief

The emergency relief squad of a fire district volunteer fire department may operate an ambulance. Such ambulance may not be used to operate a general ambulance service for hire even though all proceeds therefrom are used for the maintenance of the ambulance. 1953 NY Ops Atty Gen Sept 25 (informal).

The Joint Pawling Fire District may organize an emergency rescue and first aid squad by following the procedures set forth in General Municipal Law § 209-b subd 1, par a and thereafter, by following the procedure set forth in subdivision b, may provide general ambulance service. 1980 NY Ops Atty Gen June 26 (informal).

A fire district has a duty to provide fire protection services to the general public in all areas of the district, including that portion of a river located within the district, and to render rescue services in that area where emergency rescue services have been organized under General Municipal Law, § 209-b(1). A fire district is not liable for failure to provide fire protection or rescue services. 1983 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 3 (Informal).

Use of loan of public property by private interests prohibited. Fire District Commissioners have full control over management and use of Fire District property. Payment for janitorial services from rentals will not remove tax exempt status. 1968 NY Ops Atty Gen March 27.

The date of a meeting of a fire department in a fire district for the nomination of persons for the positions of chief and assistant chief is governed by § 176(11-a), (11-b) of CLS Town. 1987 NY Ops Atty Gen No. 87-68 (Informal).

A fire district is obligated to provide fire protection to tax-exempt properties within the district. 1979 Op St Compt File #117.

A fire district may remove any fire alarm box and fire system line which it has installed. It may not compel owners of real property within the district to pay for the repair and maintenance of its fire alarm system, nor may it compel property owners to install their own fire alarms. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-273.

6. Employees, generally

7. —Attorney

Positions of fire district manager and fire district secretary are compatible; compatibility of fire district manager and counsel to the fire district is dependent on duties of each office, which are set independently by each fire district. 1985 NY Ops Atty Gen No. 85-64 (Informal).

An individual may be employed as fire district or school district attorney and compensated by an annual fixed amount for certain specified services plus a per diem rate for other specified services. Opn No. 69-194 superseded to the extent inconsistent. 1981 Op St Compt File #80-783.

8. —Janitor

A fire district may employ a janitor. 1954 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 11 (informal).

A board of fire commissioners may properly employ a stenographer to render purely stenographic and clerical assistance to the fire district secretary and to the fire district treasurer. A fire commissioner may not be appointed deputy fire district treasurer. 1954 NY Ops Atty Gen Mar 29 (informal).

A board of fire commissioners may properly employ a full time business manager to take care of the administrative details of operating the fire district. 1957 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 24 (informal).

CLS Town § 176-b(10) prohibits person from becoming member of more than one fire company, whether company is formed for firefighting or emergency and general ambulance services; member of one company may assist another company or department in provision of emergency and general ambulance services. 1999 NY Ops Atty Gen I 99-2.

Positions of town clerk and fire district commissioner are compatible. 1999 NY Ops Atty Gen I 99-40.

9. Engineers and other officers, generally

10. —Assistant engineers

The Fire Department of a fire district may, at the annual meeting, elect a chief engineer and as many assistants as are provided by the rules and regulations of the fire district. 1954 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 8 (informal).

Nominations and elections of persons for the offices of chief engineer and assistant engineer must be made in the manner provided in this section. 1959 NY Ops Atty Gen May 12 (informal).

Assistant engineers, appointed by the Board of Fire Commissioners without first being nominated by members of the department, have no status under the law, and the Board of Fire Commissioners has no power to approve or disapprove election by members of fire companies of their captains and lieutenants. 1963 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 21.

The board of fire commissioners of the Forks Fire District No. 3 may create the position of a third assistant engineer, if the rules and regulations they have adopted provide for at least that number of assistant engineers and they may prescribe the duties to be performed by the members of the fire department in the fire district. 1970 NY Ops Atty Gen March 2.

Where the Board of Fire Commissioners in a town does not approve a nomination, a different person should be nominated by the fire department for the office of chief engineer or assistant engineer. 1972 NY Ops Atty Gen Aug 3 (informal).

The positions of fire district treasurer and second assistant engineer should not be held by the same person. Therefore, the same person should not be the fire district treasurer and second assistant engineer. 1972 NY Ops Atty Gen Aug 8 (informal).

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may require the chief engineer and assistant chief engineer to be residents of the fire district. 1975 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 5.

11. —Chief engineer, generally

12. — —Nomination to office

Nominations and elections of persons for the offices of chief engineer and assistant engineer must be made in the manner provided in this section. 1959 NY Ops Atty Gen May 12 (informal).

Where the Board of Fire Commissioners in a town does not approve a nomination, a different person should be nominated by the fire department for the office of chief engineer or assistant engineer. 1972 NY Ops Atty Gen Aug 3 (informal).

Members of fire companies in the same district should meet at the same meeting to nominate a chief engineer. Seconding a nomination is not necessary. 1972 NY Ops Atty Gen Aug 8 (informal).

The board of fire commissioners has no power of appointment to fill a vacancy in the position of chief engineer but may call a special meeting of the members to nominate a candidate to be appointed by the board of fire commissioners to the position of chief engineer. 1981 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 26 (informal).

The Fire Department of a fire district may, at the annual meeting, elect a chief engineer and as many assistants as are provided by the rules and regulations of the fire district. 1954 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 8 (informal).

The Chief Engineer of the Bayport Fire District may not allow his spouse to be a passenger in a vehicle which is fire district property. The Chief Engineer may be allowed to leave the vehicle at his residence. 1973 NY Ops Atty Gen Aug 21 (informal).

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may require the chief engineer and assistant chief engineer to be residents of the fire district. 1975 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 5.

13. —Treasurer

It is not necessary for a person to be the owner of property within a fire district assessed upon the latest completed assessment rolls of the town in which such district is located to qualify for the office of deputy fire district treasurer. 1967 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 4.

14. —Volunteer chief

Chief of a volunteer fire department shall be a member of the fire department, a resident of New York State and, if the by-laws so provide, a resident of the fire district. 1971 NY Ops Atty Gen May 26.

Because the Town Law is lacking in provisions regulating this subject matter, the provisions of Article 6 of the Election Law govern the nominating procedure and requirements. The provisions peculiarly applicable to nominating petitions for nominating candidates for fire district officers are contained in Election Law § 138, which applies to independent nominations. 1969 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 23 (Informal), 1969 N.Y. AG LEXIS 115.

15. Firemen; paid

16. —Volunteers, generally

17. — —Absenteeism among volunteers

A board of fire commissioners may adopt a rule or regulation providing that membership in a fire company is dependent upon attendance at fires. 1955 NY Ops Atty Gen June 9 (informal).

A board of fire commissioners may not restrict leaves of absence granted volunteer firemen pursuant to company bylaws. 1980 Op St Compt File #535.

18. — —Disabled volunteers

A board of fire commissioners may properly approve the appointment of members of a volunteer fire company serving the district even though such members have physical disabilities but are nevertheless licensed by the Motor Vehicle Bureau. 1953 NY Ops Atty Gen June 2 (informal).

There is no statutory restriction upon the appointment to volunteer fire companies of persons who are suffering from some physical disabilities; nor does the Volunteer Firemen's Benefit Law limit the coverage of such persons. 1960 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 12 (informal).

When a fire district volunteer fireman suffers from a physical disability, the extent to which he may perform fire-manic duties is in the discretion of the board of fire commissioners. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-179.

There is no legal prohibition against a person being a paid fireman and a volunteer fireman in the same fire district, but it is so undesirable and raises such serious problems that a paid fireman should not be granted membership as a volunteer member of the fire company in the same fire district. 1971 NY Ops Atty Gen May 26.

Board of fire commissioners may require that prospective volunteer members of fire company have high school degrees or equivalency certificates; as alternative, board may consider requiring volunteers to undergo state's certified training currently required only for paid firefighters. 2000 NY Ops Atty Gen I 2000-4.

Paid firefighters are "members of the fire department" eligible to cast ballots at annual meeting to nominate volunteer fire chief. 2006 NY Ops Atty Gen I 06-10.

A fire district may not replace personal property of a volunteer fireman which was lost by him in a fire. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-21.

There is no doubt that a paid fireman may properly continue his membership as a volunteer fireman in a fire department serving the district. 1954 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 13 (informal).

In a fire district functioning under the provisions of Article 11 of the Town Law (§§ 170 through 189), a paid fireman is not a public officer unless some overt act has occurred or a positive step has been taken to convert the department from a voluntary to a professional department: such a paid fireman is an employee of the fire district. The board of commissioners of a fire district have no authority to impose residency restrictions upon employees. The state or local civil service commissions may require applicants for employment to live in a restricted area but can not control residence after appointment and such restrictions do not apply to promotional positions; however, the board of commissioners of the fire district may require that eligibles for appointment (as distinguished from promotion) who are residents of the fire district, be certified first. 1975 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 27.

A paid fireman may be enrolled as an active member of a volunteer fire company and may hold company offices such as captain, lieutenant, president or vice-president if the company by-laws or constitution permit. 1979 Op St Compt File #806.

A paid fireman of a fire district should not serve on the board of fire commissioners of that district. 1980 Op St Compt File #7.

As used in CLS Town Art 11, phrase "members of the fire department" appears to include both paid and volunteer firefighters. 2006 NY Ops Atty Gen I 06-10.

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may require paid firemen to take regular physical exams at district expense and may select the doctor or doctors who will administer the exams. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-204.

19. Municipal regulations

It is believed that the fire district commissioners may properly direct district volunteer firemen to inspect and report violations of town building codes or town ordinances dealing with fire prevention. 1954 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 1 (informal).

In the absence of specific requirement that a building permit shall not be issued by a Zoning Board of Appeals without written approval of the Board of Fire Commissioners of the district, no such approval is necessary. 1962 NY Ops Atty Gen Aug 8.

A town board has no authority to enact a local ordinance requiring a board of fire commissioners to appoint a fire inspector. 1972 NY Ops Atty Gen Sept 6 (informal).

20. Powers and duties of fire commissioner, generally

21. —Conflicts of interest

A member of a board of fire commissioners has a prohibited conflict of interest in any agreement between the board and himself as a private businessman, for rental of a portion of the firehouse for use as a barber shop. 1978 Op St Compt File #995.

A chief of a fire district is not deemed to have an interest in contracts between the district and a corporation of which his spouse is a director and officer. The existence of a statutory interest depends on whether he receives a pecuniary or material benefit as a result of the contract. Courts may find conflicts of interest where facts indicate violation of spirit, but not letter, of Article 18 legislation. 1980 Op St Compt File #38.

A Board of Fire Commissioners may properly provide telephone service for the official use of the district. 1954 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 8 (informal).

While a board of fire commissioners may properly hold a closed unofficial executive session, official action should be taken only at public meetings. 1955 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 31 (informal).

Fire district commissioners of fire districts created under Town Law Article 11 have no authority to use the position title "Fire Marshal", which appears in a general law and several special laws applicable to specific positions in the fire service of particular cities. 1976 NY Ops Atty Gen May 5 (Informal), 1976 N.Y. AG LEXIS 109.

22. Selection of fire commissioner, generally

23. —Dual office holding

The same person may not at the same time hold the positions of fire district commissioner and an office in the fire department or fire district, except secretary, even though such an office is not contained in the prohibition against dual office holding contained in Town Law, § 174, subdivision 4. 1974 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 22.

A fire commissioner of a fire district may serve at the same time as an assistant chief of a village fire department with which the fire district in which he is a commissioner contracts for fire protection. 1978 NY Ops Atty Gen May 26.

Person may not hold both positions of master mechanic of fire district and fire district commissioner. 1997 NY Ops Atty Gen I 97-44.

One person may simultaneously hold elected offices of commissioner of water district and commissioner of fire district, but must recuse himself or herself from participating in any matters relating to contract between districts for installation and maintenance of fire hydrants, sale of water, and testing of backflow devices; if those or other matters involving 2 districts lead to frequent or substantial conflicts, recusal would not be appropriate remedy, and individual may not hold both positions. 2002 NY Ops Atty Gen I 2002-11.

24. —Eligibility; qualifications

Establishment of qualifications to hold line offices in fire department of fire district are established solely by board of fire commissioners of fire district. 1997 NY Ops Atty Gen No. 97-49, 1997 N.Y. AG LEXIS 76.

A board of fire commissioners may not investigate into the eligibility of a candidate for the office of fire commissioner. 1980 Op St Compt File #91.

25. —Length of term, generally

26. — —Holding over

Where a fire district fails to hold an annual election, commissioners in office hold over until their successors are appointed. 1953 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 7 (informal).

Fire district commissioners appointed after October 1, to fill an existing vacancy, hold office until the end of the following calendar year. 1965 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 8.

Fire District Commissioner elected to fill unexpired term is elected for total number of years remaining in said term. 1966 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 5.

27. —Vacancy

Vacancy is to be filled by appointment by Board of Fire Commissioners for unexpired portion of term. Failure to appoint, through failure to act or a tie vote, allows Governor to proclaim a special election, in his discretion. The vacancy may remain unfilled for the duration of the term. 1965 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 27.

Where a member of a Board of Fire Commissioners of the Montauk Fire District resigned his office on December 27, 1972 to be effective on December 31, 1972, a vacancy in that office did not occur until January 1, 1973 and any action of the Board of Fire Commissioners to fill such vacancy prior to January 1, 1973 was null and void. 1973 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 12.

Under CLS Town § 176(3) (and not CLS Gen Const § 41), 2 fire commissioners then in office may appoint qualified persons to fill 3 vacancies on board of fire commissioners; on filling of first vacancy, 3 should appoint fourth, and so on. 2008 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 2008-1, 2008 N.Y. AG LEXIS 1.

Nominations for the election of fire commissioners may be provided for in a resolution adopted by the board of fire commissioners pursuant to this section. 1960 NY Ops Atty Gen Aug 22 (informal).

A fire commissioner who is serving a term which will not expire for more than a year is not eligible to be nominated for the office of fire commissioner for a five-year term and his election under such circumstances is nugatory. 1970 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 3.

Board of fire commissioners may provide details for preparation of paper ballots, including procedure for allowance of space for write-ins. 1997 NY Ops Atty Gen I 97-45.

Candidates for fire district offices are required to submit their names in writing to the fire district secretary rather than orally notify him of their candidacy. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-41.

Where a board of fire commissioners failed to call a meeting of the district fire department to nominate fire department officers at the time specified in subdivision 11-a of this section, it is believed that such a board may thereafter call a meeting for that purpose. 1958 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 25 (informal).

The positions of assistant fire chief of a joint fire district and county director of emergency services are compatible. 2017 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 2017-2, 2017 N.Y. AG LEXIS 2.

II. Specific Matters

28. Contracts, generally

29. —Bidding requirements

A board of fire commissioners may not properly submit specifications in advertising for bids for a new fire truck which specifications can be met by but one manufacturer. 1954 NY Ops Atty Gen May 24 (informal).

The purchase by a fire district of equipment and apparatus for use by the fire department emergency rescue and first aid squad is subject to competitive bidding requirements even though moneys bequeathed to the fire district specifically to be used for such purchases are utilized. 1981 Op St Compt File #81-187.

30. —Contracts for services, generally

31. — —Ambulance and other emergency services

A town cannot contract with a fire district in the town to furnish ambulance service outside of the fire district and outside of the area in which the fire district has contracted to furnish fire protection. 1961 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 18.

A fire district may not contract with a private not-for-profit ambulance squad to provide ambulance services to its area. 1979 Op St Compt File #611.

There is no authority for a town to contract with a fire company or a fire district to provide for general ambulance service on a town-wide basis. General ambulance service may be provided to fire protection districts within the town pursuant to fire protection contracts. 1980 Op St Compt File #684.

A fire district may not contract with a private not-for-profit ambulance service to provide emergency ambulance service to their respective service areas on a mutual aid basis. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-310.

A fire district having an emergency rescue and first aid squad may contract with a school district to provide "stand-by" ambulance service at high school football games where the high school is located in another fire district. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-188.

32. — —Services outside fire district

A town cannot contract with a fire district in the town to furnish ambulance service outside of the fire district and outside of the area in which the fire district has contracted to furnish fire protection. 1961 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 18.

The exclusive firefighting jurisdiction of a village fire department does not automatically expand upon annexation by the village of territory in a neighboring fire district; an agreement by which a village fire department would provide services to the annexed portion of a fire district is possible under Town Law § 176(22). 1990 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. I90-59.

The Wantagh Fire District may contract with the State Office of Parks and Recreation to provide fire protection outside the district to a State park (Jones Beach) not within a fire alarm or fire protection district. 1979 Op St Compt No. 79-887, 1979 N.Y. Comp. LEXIS 126.

The provisions of section 209 of the General Municipal Law relating to answering calls for assistance outside the area regularly served and protected and financial liability for expenses incurred in use of fire equipment when responding to such calls have no application where fire protection is provided pursuant to contract. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-276.

A fire district may enter into a municipal cooperation agreement with an adjoining fire district under Article 5-G of the General Municipal Law under which it would provide one of its emergency rescue vehicles not needed for rescue operations in the district to the adjoining district at such times when the latter's rescue vehicle is inoperative. N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 83-41.

33. — —Services to individuals

It is doubtful if a volunteer fire department serving a fire district may properly contract with an individual taxpayer in the territory protected by the fire department to station a piece of equipment and a number of volunteer firemen on the property of such taxpayer for a certain number of hours each day of an agreed period. 1953 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 7 (informal).

34. — —Services within fire district which was created before January 1, 1934

A fire district, established after 1932, may not contract for fire protection. 1953 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 15 (informal).

35. — —Training services

A fire district may pay an annual fee pursuant to a contract with a not-for-profit corporation which owns a fire training facility for the use thereof for training of volunteer fireman. 1981 Op St Compt File #81-116.

A fire district is not required to inspect school buildings located within the fire district but may enter into a contract with the school authorities of the school district (or of a private school) to perform fire inspection services. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-188.

Since a fire protection contract entered into by a fire district or by a town, on behalf of a fire protection district, must specify a definite annual sum to be paid for all of the services to be rendered thereunder, provisions whereby the fire district and the fire protection district would also be liable for loss or damage to fire apparatus or equipment and for personal injury or death of firemen, are invalid. 1980 Op St Compt File #757.

A fire district, under section 176(12) of the Town Law, may obtain a supply of water from the fire hydrants of a water authority by entering into a written or oral contract with the authority. 1981 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 19 (Informal).

A fire district may not enter into a lease whereby the fire district fire house would be leased to a volunteer fire company. 1978 Op St Compt File #355.

A member of a board of fire commissioners who is also a private businessman has a prohibited conflict of interest in any contracts between himself and the fire district. 1979 Op St Compt File #4.

A fire district may contract for the furnishing of general ambulance service to the town in which it is situated or to an adjoining fire district only pursuant to a fire protection contract with the town on behalf of a fire protection or fire alarm district or with the adjoining fire district, unless another entity is furnishing fire protection to the fire protection or fire alarm district or the adjoining fire district and does not operate and maintain an ambulance, in which case a separate contract for general ambulance service may be entered into. 1979 Op St Compt File #201.

A municipal (or fire district) governing board may retain private consultants and computer service companies for the purpose of assisting the chief fiscal officer in maintaining the financial records of the municipality. The financial records cannot be permanently removed from municipal custody, although they may be temporarily removed for the purpose of working on them consistent with the right of inspection accorded the general public under the Freedom of Information Law. Opns St Comp, 1969, No. 69-509 is superseded to the extent that it is inconsistent with this opinion. 1980 Op St Compt File #540.

36. Equipment and apparatus, generally

37. —Alarm systems

Fire district funds may be expended to purchase an electric siren used solely for civil defense purposes. 1954 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 29 (informal).

A Board of Fire Commissioners may construct and maintain an adequate fire alarm system in their district. 1962 NY Ops Atty Gen Mar 9.

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may permit a private alarm company or other commercial establishment to connect into the fire district alarm system and, may charge an installation and service fee. 1974 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 5.

The board of commissioners of a fire district may not adopt a resolution of the board which prohibits the use of electronic devices which use the telephone lines to transmit alarms to the fire department. 1979 Op St Compt File #395.

38. —Equipment, generally

39. — —Radio, telephones and the like

Fire district funds may be expended to purchase special radio receiving equipment to be installed in the private cars of firemen. 1956 NY Ops Atty Gen Mar 7 (informal).

Fire district commissioners have authority to install a radio in a fire company truck and to permit fire company pumper truck to be garaged in the fire district firehouse, and a fire company may own its own pumper truck even when it is under jurisdiction of the fire district. 1964 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 8.

There appears to be no authority for a board of fire commissioners to lease "surplus" fire equipment to a private corporation. 1953 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 6 (informal).

Two or more fire districts jointly or cooperatively may purchase, use, maintain and operate non-mobile apparatus and equipment which each fire district separately could purchase, use, maintain and operate. 1976 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 13 (informal).

40. —Vehicles, generally

41. — —Purchase

The Town Board of the Town of Sullivan, acting as Fire Commissioners of said town under Town Law § 176 (18), may purchase a fire truck without submission of a proposition to the electors for their approval, provided that the expenditure is to be made from cash on hand if the expenditure is within the district's spending limitation, but if such purchase is to be made under Town Law § 179 or Local Finance Law § 38.00, approval by the electors of a proposition on referendum is necessary. 1968 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 16.

(1) A fire district may purchase and maintain a bus to be used to transport firemen back and forth from fire-related training sessions. Title must be acquired in the name of the district. (2) A fire district bus may not be used for recreational purposes. 1979 Op St Compt File #335.

42. — —Sale

Where a fire district sells a surplus truck (subject to pertinent referendum requirements), the sale need not be at public auction and the proceeds may be treated as surplus moneys and used for repairs to fire district real property so long as the expenditure is within the district's spending limitation. 1978 Op St Compt File #403.

Fire district commissioners have authority to install a radio in a fire company truck and to permit fire company pumper truck to be garaged in the fire district firehouse, and a fire company may own its own pumper truck even when it is under jurisdiction of the fire district. 1964 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 8.

A fire district may permit chief's cars to be used to transport firemen to firematic meetings in other towns such as lectures on fire prevention and discussions of mutual aid systems. 1980 Op St Compt File #299.

Where a volunteer fire company has purchased apparatus for corporate purposes from company funds, such apparatus remains the property of the company. Board of Fire Commissioners has no control over expenditure of the fire company moneys. 1955 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 28 (informal).

A mandatory referendum is required for the sale of personal property of a fire district no longer necessary for fire district purposes unless one of the exceptions mentioned in the statute applies. 1976 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 26 (informal).

It is questionable whether use of fire department apparatus to transport the body of a deceased fireman for burial is authorized by statute. If a court held that there is no such authorization, the immunity statute would not apply, the Volunteer Firemen's Benefit Law would not provide protection and personal liability might result. 1977 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 7 (Informal).

It is the responsibility of the Board of Fire Commissioners of a fire district to establish policy regarding use of district equipment, and the responsibility of the Chief to see that the policy is carried out. 1981 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 27 (Informal).

Discussion of whether a fire district may expend funds for the purpose of transporting racing trucks to a State tournament where the volunteer members of the fire district fire department will compete in various events related to fire-fighting. 1978 Op St Compt File #1065.

The board of fire commissioners may, to the extent they deem necessary, expend moneys for the purpose of maintaining and insuring fire apparatus and emergency vehicles owned by the fire district fire department (24 Opn St Comp, 1968, p 373, superseded). Kitchen equipment purchased by a fire department ladies auxiliary and placed in a fire district owned fire house is under the exclusive management and control of the fire district commissioners. 1979 Op St Compt File #729.

Kent Fire District Number One may lease a room on the second floor of the fire house which is not needed for fire district purposes to the Kent Volunteer Fire Department for fair and adequate consideration, but the use of fire district property for a non-fire district purpose will result in loss of tax exemption. 1980 Op St Compt File #171.

A fire district may lease its training facility to fire districts and fire companies at such times as the facility is not needed for fire district purposes so long as use by lessee does not interfere with fire district use and the district receives the right to utilize the facility during the lease period if the need arises. Leases to fire districts may be without consideration. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-241.

43. Finances and expenditures, generally

44. —Advance payments

A fire district may not advance moneys to physicians as an inducement for the physicians to treat firemen who are injured in the line of duty with the understanding that the physician will reimburse the district when he receives payment from the district's volunteer firemen's benefit or worker's compensation insurance carrier. 1978 Op St Compt File #986.

A fire district may pay a deposit or down payment for a room and a band in connection with its annual inspection-dinner. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-154.

45. —Bond proceeds

Proceeds from the sale of bonds may be used only for the purpose issued, and not for maintenance and repair. 1953 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 30 (informal).

46. —Claims for payment, generally

47. — —Verification; certification

A claim submitted by a multi-purpose credit card company must be certified by the claimant or on behalf of the claimant by a duly authorized agent, and may not be certified by the municipal officer or employee who used the card. 1979 Op St Compt File #726.

A town board, on behalf of a water district, may charge a fire district for the use of fire hydrants and water by the fire district. 1978 Op St Compt File #630.

The board of fire commissioners, on advice from legal counsel, may compromise or settle a claim for damages against the fire district if there is a legal basis for fire district liability for such damages. 1978 Op St Compt File #896.

A fire district treasurer does not have statutory authority to require a claimant to submit an outstanding claim to the board of fire commissioners for audit. 1979 Op St Compt File #579.

A fire district may pay a claim for services rendered in a prior year if the contract pursuant to which the services were rendered was validly entered into, provided that the claim is not barred by the statute of limitations and that moneys are available from which to pay the claim. If moneys are not presently available, the district may issue budget notes. 1981 Op St Compt File #81-153.

A board of fire district commissioners must audit claims at a formal meeting of the commissioners and order, by resolution, the payment thereof by the fire district treasurer. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-158.

48. —Compensation and reimbursement

Fire district moneys may not be expended to reimburse officers of the fire department for time lost in answering a subpoena as a witness in criminal prosecutions. 1955 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 17 (informal).

Fire district funds may not properly be expended to purchase gasoline to be given to volunteer firemen serving the fire district for use in their personally owned automobiles in responding to alarms. 1956 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 5 (informal).

A fire district may not replace personal property of a volunteer fireman which was lost by him in a fire. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-21.

Upon request of the paid fire chief of a fire district, the board of fire commissioners may delay payment to him until the next fiscal year of $2500 of his salary earned in the current year. 1981 Op St Compt File #81-195.

49. —Fines for false alarms

Board of fire commissioners of fire district is not authorized to impose fines on property owners for fire department's response to false alarms. 1999 NY Ops Atty Gen I 99-10.

50. —Membership fees

Discussion of fire districts paying a membership or policy fee to the Fire Districts of New York Mutual Insurance Company, Inc., and also of fire districts guaranteeing repayment of a loan made to such company by a bank or lending institution. 1978 Op St Compt File #567.

51. —Public relations events; publicity

Neither this statute nor any other authorizes a fire district to expend its funds for publicity purposes. 1969 NY Ops Atty Gen July 10.

A fire district board of fire commissioners may not expend district funds for conducting a 25th anniversary celebration for the district. 1981 Op St Compt File #81-196.

Fire district funds may be expended: (1) to hire bands to march in parades in which the fire department participates, either within or without the district (2) to purchase plaques and awards for presentation to firemen at the annual inspection-dinner. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-15.

A fire district may pay a deposit or down payment for a room and a band in connection with its annual inspection-dinner. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-154.

52. —Rewards

A fire district may have implied authority to offer a reward for information leading to the apprehension, arrest and conviction of a person responsible for a suspected arson but in light of the General Municipal Law provisions pertaining to rewards and arson investigation, the best course of action may be for the fire district commissioners to discuss with the town officials the possibility of the town offering a reward and to determine what steps the town may be taking to apprehend a suspected arsonist. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-242.

53. —Spending limitations, generally

54. — —Capital reserve funds

Discussion of fire district spending limitation and of appropriation of surplus to capital reserve fund. 1978 Op St Compt File #820.

An appropriation by a fire district to a capital reserve fund is exempt from the fire district's spending limit, regardless of whether it is made during the budget process for the upcoming year or during a fiscal year. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-119.

Where a proposition to increase to $1500 the limitation on fire district expenditures was approved by the fire district voters and such proposition set up the precise sum authorized to be expended, it is not believed that the 1954 amendment to § 176 has the effect of increasing the maximum limitation on expenditures thereafter authorized. 1954 NY Ops Atty Gen Sept 15 (informal).

Fire district surplus moneys may be appropriated to a capital reserve fund without regard to the spending limitation, but the establishment of the capital reserve fund may be subject to referendum requirements. 1978 Op St Compt File #1041.

In computing the fire district spending limitations contained in Town Law, § 176(18) an accrual basis or a reservation of surplus (i.e. encumbrance) may be used. 1979 Op St Compt File #644.

The adoption of a proposition to increase a fire district's spending limitation requires approval of the proposed increase by a majority of those voting. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-240.

55. —Surplus funds

Fire district surplus moneys may be appropriated to a capital reserve fund. 1978 Op St Compt File #764.

Fire district surplus moneys may be appropriated to a capital reserve fund without regard to the spending limitation, but the establishment of the capital reserve fund may be subject to referendum requirements. 1978 Op St Compt File #1041.

Moneys in a duly established capital reserve fund may be expended by a fire district, pursuant to the procedures set forth in General Municipal Law, § 6-g, for the purchase of land. 1981 Op St Compt File #765.

Surplus moneys may be used by a fire district without the adoption of a proposition for the purpose of reducing the principal due on outstanding bond application notes. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-347.

56. —Tax matters

Fire district's payment of a sewer tax lawfully imposed is subject to the statutory spending limitations. 1973 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 19.

A fire district's payment of a sewer tax lawfully imposed is subject to the statutory spending limitations. 1973 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 19 (informal).

A fire district has no power to tax real property, no power to assess real property and no power to grant or withhold a real property tax exemption. 1976 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 29.

The rate of tax for fire district purposes in Zone I of the Branchport Fire District, established pursuant to the provisions of this section, should be higher than the rate of tax in the remainder of the District not included within such zone. 1980 Op St Compt File #603.

Where a fire district is situated within two towns and district taxes are incorrectly levied in one town causing an excess of taxes to be collected, the excess amount should be held by the fire district treasurer until the succeeding fiscal year and used to reduce the fire district tax levy within that town. 1981 Op St Compt File #3.

Although fire district boundaries must be indicated on tax matter provided for assessments of real property, determination of those boundaries or resolutions of dispute is a responsibility of the District and the Town Board, not the assessor. 8 Op Counsel SBEA No. 121.

57. —Uniforms and other clothing expenses

Fire district funds may not be expended to purchase baseball uniforms for a team composed of volunteer firemen of the district. 1953 NY Ops Atty Gen May 4 (informal).

The amount to be expended by a fire district for the purchase of uniforms together with all other expenditures for purposes other than the so-called "priority items" in any one fiscal year may not exceed $2,000 or such higher amount as may be applicable in a fire district whose full valuation of real property taxable for fire district purposes exceeds $1,000,000, unless a proposition authorizing the expenditure of a higher amount is approved by the district voters. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-270.

Boards of commissioners of a fire district may permit its fire companies and departments to engage and participate in fire training programs outside the area regularly served by them and may contribute toward the cost of improvements made necessary by such use within the appropriations approved by the taxpayers of the district or within the statutory limitations specified in Town Law, § 176. 1972 NY Ops Atty Gen Aug 31 (informal).

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may dedicate a fire district building in memory of deceased volunteer firemen but no expense involved in the dedication may be paid for by fire district funds. 1980 NY Ops Atty Gen Sept 15 (informal).

Officers of an emergency rescue and first aid squad may wear badges of rank. A fire district may purchase such badges at the squad's request, but it is not mandatory that it do so. 1983 NY Ops Atty Gen April 15 (informal).

A fire district is authorized to expend funds for the purpose of furnishing a certified check where such check is required as a condition to the granting of a permit by the New York State Department of Transportation for the construction of a driveway within the state highway right of way. 1978 Op St Compt File #393.

Fire district moneys may not be expended in connection with a program designed to insure that all homeowner's in the district correctly designate the fire district in which they reside on their homeowner's insurance policies. 1979 Op St Compt File #324.

A fire district may pay the expenses incurred by firemen under the age of 18, including the expense of travel to drills or for instruction, and may also pay for the purchase of equipment in connection with a properly authorized youth program. 1979 Op St Compt File #877.

58. Firehouses and buildings, generally

59. —Condemnation

The term "district" as used in section 64(2) of the Town Law refers to the improvement districts discussed in Article 12 of the Town Law, and, thus, section 64(2) does not infringe upon the condemnation power accorded a fire district board of fire commissioners as provided for in section 176(14) of the Town Law. 1979 NY Ops Atty Gen Apr 6 (informal).

60. —Construction

Where the issuance of serial bonds to finance the cost of constructing a fire house by a board of fire commissioners has been approved at a referendum, the board is empowered to determine whether to go forward to construct the fire house and issue the bonds. 1956 NY Ops Atty Gen Sept 19 (informal).

In constructing a firehouse to be utilized for fire fighting or fire prevention, a fire corporation in a fire district need not comply with town zoning and building regulations. 1983 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 83-33.

61. —Easement

A fire district may not gratuitously grant an easement to a gas company to lay gas pipes across its property. 1978 Op St Compt File #82.

62. —Lease; rental

A board of fire commissioners may rent a hall in a firehouse owned by the fire district when it is not needed for fire district purposes. The charge for such rental can only cover the expenses of cleaning and maintenance of the hall and not for profit. 1958 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 27 (informal).

A 99-year lease of real property no longer required for fire district purposes should be made only after submission at a special or annual fire district election. In no event should such lease be made for a merely nominal price or a wholly inadequate consideration. 1973 NY Ops Atty Gen Jan 22.

A member of a board of fire commissioners has a prohibited conflict of interest in any agreement between the board and himself as a private businessman, for rental of a portion of the firehouse for use as a barber shop. 1978 Op St Compt File #995.

A fire district may lease unneeded space in one of its substations to a neighboring fire district for the purpose of vehicle storage, either with or without compensation therefor; two fire districts may enter into an agreement pursuant to Article 5-G of the General Municipal Law to effect such purpose. 1979 Op St Compt File #5.

A fire district may lease part of a fire station to a private ambulance service only if it receives fair consideration. The incidental or occasional use of any portion of fire district property for purposes not related to the fire district will not normally cause the entire parcel of real property to lose its tax exemption. 1981 Op St Compt File #81-55.

63. —Purchase

While a fire district is not required to specify the location of a parcel of real property for the purchase of which a capital reserve fund is established, it may establish such a fund for the purchase of a specific parcel of real property located outside the boundaries of the district to be used as a fire sub-station. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-187.

64. —Sale

Fire district real property no longer necessary for fire district purposes may be sold at private sale, and the Board of Fire Commissioners may agree to pay a licensed real estate broker a commission in the event that he is successful in selling such property. 1963 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 20.

A fire district may sell or otherwise dispose of, real property of the district no longer necessary for any of its uses or purposes, if it is authorized to do so at a special or annual fire district election, even though it originally acquired such real property from a school district in accordance with Education Law § 405. 1967 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 16.

65. —Use, generally

66. — —Private functions

Fire district property may not be used for private purposes. 1953 NY Ops Atty Gen July 29 (informal).

The Board of Fire Commissioners may permit the use of the fire house within the scope of this section. 1960 NY Ops Atty Gen June 24 (informal).

The Board of Fire Commissioners of the Franklin Square-Munson Fire District, Town of Hempstead, is not authorized to set aside space in the fire headquarters for the exclusive use of an association consisting of former volunteer firemen. 1969 NY Ops Atty Gen July 10.

A fire district may allow a firehouse to be used for the repose of a deceased volunteer fireman. 1974 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 14.

A board of fire commissioners may charge a fee or rental for use of the fire hall by fire district residents and formal groups made up of residents, or may allow the free use of the fire hall by them; a fee or rental may be charged to non-residents of the district and formal groups not limited in membership to residents of the fire district; such use, if it makes the use of the premises fall within the Labor Law definition of a place of public assembly, subjects the property to Labor Law Article 17; if rental from the premises results in any profit the tax exempt status of the property may be lost; any use of the property is subject to reasonable regulation by the board of fire commissioners. 1977 NY Ops Atty Gen March 24.

A member of a board of fire commissioners has a prohibited conflict of interest in any agreement between the board and himself as a private businessman, for rental of a portion of the firehouse for use as a barber shop. 1978 Op St Compt File #995.

A fire district is a public corporation and may hold title to real property. 1974 NY Ops Atty Gen Aug 22 (Informal), 1974 N.Y. AG LEXIS 135.

67. Gifts and bequests

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may accept a gift of money from a volunteer fire company upon condition that the money be used to construct an addition to a fire district building to be used for recreational and social purposes; fire commissioners may construct such addition without adoption of a proposition by the district electors and may expend district moneys to maintain said addition. 1957 NY Ops Atty Gen May 23 (informal).

There is no authority for a fire district to donate to a privately owned business interest the temporary use of a portion of a building owned by the fire district. 1975 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 7.

A fire district may not make a gift to a fire company of 25% of the proceeds from the sale of a fire house given to the district by the fire company. The fire district may, however, accept the gift of such fire house subject to the condition that the fire district pay to the fire company 25% of the proceeds from the sale of such fire house. 1978 Op St Compt File #658.

An incorporated volunteer fire company may expend funds received from donations and foreign fire insurance taxes to erect an addition to a firehouse and then donate this addition to the fire district. 1980 Op. St. Compt. No. 80–627.

68. Hydrants and water supply, generally

69. —Rental of hydrants

A town board, on behalf of a water district, may charge a fire district for the use of fire hydrants and water by the fire district. 1978 Op St Compt File #630.

The Bellrose Terrace Fire District may make advance payments to the Jamaica Water Supply Company for the rental of fire hydrants. 1980 Op St Compt File #102.

A fire district may not sell water to a private organization for domestic use. 1955 NY Ops Atty Gen Mar 2 (informal).

A fire district, under section 176(12) of the Town Law, may obtain a supply of water from the fire hydrants of a water authority by entering into a written or oral contract with the authority. 1981 NY Ops Atty Gen Oct 19 (Informal).

A town board, on behalf of a water district, may charge a fire district for the use of fire hydrants and water by the fire district. 1978 Op St Compt File #630.

A fire district located outside the boundaries of a village may purchase water from the village for use at the firehouse. A village water works situate outside of the village and within a fire district is not exempt from fire district taxation. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-257.

A fire district located outside the boundaries of a village may purchase water from the village for use at the fire house. A village water works situate outside of the village and within a fire district may be exempted from fire district taxes by the town board. Notwithstanding the exemption, the village is entitled to receive consideration from the fire district for the water consumed by the district. Opns St Comp, No. 82-257 superseded to the extent it is inconsistent herewith. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-56.

70. Injury or death claims

A fire district is not authorized to provide disability benefits coverage for its employees pursuant to the Workmen's Compensation Law. 1967 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 22 (Informal), 1967 N.Y. AG LEXIS 142.

The laws relating to volunteer fireman recognize only active volunteer members of fire companies and only such active volunteer members are protected in case of injury or death in the performance of fire-manic duties and are accorded rights and privileges of volunteer firemen. 1970 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 12.

Two fire districts may enter into an "automatic mutual aid plan" pursuant to which both fire departments would automatically respond to alarms from certain defined areas within their respective boundaries. Liability for loss or damage to equipment incurred while responding to such alarms would be governed by the provisions of General Municipal Law, § 209(2) and benefits to a fireman injured while responding to such alarms would be the responsibility of the fireman's "home" district. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-164.

71. Insurance, generally

72. —Accident insurance

A fire district may not purchase accident insurance for members of the ladies' auxiliary. 1978 Op St Compt File #382.

A fire district may provide its volunteer firemen with insurance against injury or death occurring in the performance of their duties. 1978 Op St Compt File #676.

73. —Liability insurance

An endorsement naming a fire department or company, fire commissioners and/or fire chiefs as additional insureds cannot be added to nor form a part of a fire district's Volunteer Firemen's Benefit Law insurance policy originally issued to take effect on or after March 1, 1962. A fire district may purchase liability insurance for the fire departments or companies, fire commissioners and fire chiefs serving the district. 1983 NY Ops Atty Gen April 14 (informal).

Discussion of liability for loss or damage to fire equipment incurred while answering a call for assistance from another fire district or municipality and the need for insurance to cover the possibility of such loss or damage. 1978 Op St Compt File #268.

A fire district may self-insure for liability claims. However, at this time there is no authority for the establishment of reserve funds for such purpose. 1978 Op St Compt File #737.

A fire district may be a self-insurer for motor vehicle liability purposes, but may not establish a reserve fund in connection therewith. 1978 Op St Compt File #855.

74. —Life insurance

A fire district may provide its volunteer firemen with insurance against injury or death occurring in the performance of their duties. 1978 Op St Compt File #676.

Discussion of the purchase of life insurance for volunteer firemen with fire district moneys, moneys of a volunteer fireman's benevolent association and foreign fire insurance fund moneys. 1978 Op St Compt File #909.

75. —Workers' compensation

Board of fire district commissioners of fire district established under provisions of Town Law are authorized to insure volunteer firemen constituting members of department under provisions of Workmen's Compensation Law. 1935 N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 352.

A county that administers a county self-insurance plan under Article 5 of the Workers' Compensation Law may not decline to cover an individual volunteer firefighter who has been duly approved for membership in a fire department. N.Y. Op. Att'y Gen. No. 84-62.

Volunteer Firemen are not covered by the provisions of the Volunteer Firemen's Benefit Law when attending a funeral, whether such attendance is pursuant to orders or by permission from the chief or fire district commissioners. 1977 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 7 (Informal).

There is no authority for a municipality to pay a portion of the cost of automobile insurance premiums of volunteer firemen who use their private automobiles in the course of fire-fighting activities. 1978 Op St Compt File #1023.

It is permissible to procure position schedule, name schedule bonds, or public employees blanket bonds as undertakings to cover a fire district treasurer. Discussion of principles of Surety Law. 1979 Op St Compt File #390.

76. Residency requirements

Since elimination, by 1961 amendment, of the prior requirement that officers of fire districts be residents of the district and of the state, any volunteer member of a fire company may be elected district chief engineer or assistant chief engineer, if a resident of the state, whether or not he is an elector or property owner in the fire district. 1961 NY Ops Atty Gen Sept 13.

77. Tort liability

A town is not liable for negligence on the part of members of a fire company engaged in fire fighting or other authorized activities of a fire district, even though the town serves as a conduit for the raising of taxes to be used for fire district purposes. 1967 NY Ops Atty Gen Mar 22.

The board of fire commissioners, on advice from legal counsel, may compromise or settle a claim for damages against the fire district if there is a legal basis for fire district liability for such damages. 1978 Op St Compt File #896.

§ 176-a. Duties of chief and assistant chiefs of fire department of fire district

1. The chief shall, under the direction of the board of fire commissioners, have exclusive control of the members of the fire department of the fire district at all fires, inspections, reviews and other occasions when the fire department is on duty or parade; he shall also have supervision of the engines, fire trucks, pumpers, hose wagons and other apparatus and of the equipment and other property used for the prevention or extinguishment of fire and of all officers and employees of the fire department. He shall see that the rules and regulations of the board of fire commissioners are observed and that the orders of the board of fire commissioners are duly executed. He shall, whenever required by the board of fire commissioners, report to said board the condition of the property of said fire district and such other information as may be required of him. He shall hold the members, officers and employees of the fire department strictly to account for neglect of duty and may suspend them for improper conduct, subject to the action of the board of fire commissioners at its next meeting. In case of the disability or absence of the chief, the first assistant chief, and in the case of the disability or absence of both the chief and first assistant chief, the other assistants, in numerical order, shall perform the duties and exercise the powers of the chief. When the fire department or any company or squad thereof is on duty no member of the board of fire commissioners shall interfere with the duties of the chief or assistant chief.

2. If an agreement in relation to the issuance of fire permits is entered into between the town board and the board of fire commissioners pursuant to section one hundred thirty-nine and subdivision twenty-four of section one hundred seventy-six of this chapter, the duties performed for the fire district by the chief, or an assistant chief, of the fire district fire department in relation to the issuance of the fire permit, or any preliminary investigation in connection therewith shall, in the case of any such officer who is a volunteer firefighter, be deemed to have been performed by him or her in his or her capacity as such and to be a duty within the meaning of paragraph c of subdivision one of section five of the volunteer firefighters' benefit law and shall, in the case of any such officer who is a paid firefighter, be deemed to have been performed by him or her in his or her capacity as such and to be a duty within the meaning of section two hundred seven-a of the general municipal law and other laws applicable in the event of injuries to or death of paid firefighters in line of duty. A chief or an assistant chief who is a volunteer firefighter shall not receive any remuneration for his or her services in relation to the issuance of such permits and any investigation in relation thereto, and any such officer who is a paid firefighter shall not receive any additional remuneration above his or her regular salary for any such service. Any such officer shall, however, be entitled to his or her actual and necessary travel expenses or mileage in connection with such services as provided in section one hundred seventy-eight-c of this article.

3. —Chief engineer
4. —District commissioner
5. Boards of fire commissioners

1. In general

An otherwise qualified person may serve as a member of a fire district volunteer company where he resides in an area of the protection district not served by the company, if, by reason of residence in the vicinity and usual occupation he will be available to render active service. 1962 Ops St Compt #956.

Town liability and liability of a fire district for injuries sustained by volunteer assistance in fighting a fire by a fire district fire department are not within the coverage of either the Workmen's Compensation Law or the Volunteer Firemen's Benefit Law and depend upon the facts and principles of common-law negligence. 1963 Ops St Compt #329.

Fire district employees who maintain the district firehouses, answer any and all emergency alarms, clean fire apparatus and perform general custodial duties are "employees of the fire department" within the meaning of this section. 1963 Ops St Compt #679.

2. Compatibility and conflicts, generally

The fire district should not employ the first assistant engineer as a relief houseman and/or dispatcher. 1959 Ops St Compt File #756.

A paid fireman may not be appointed chief of a volunteer fire department. 1979 Op St Comp File #600.

Where a fire district enters a fire protection contract with an outside fire company for fire protection within the fire district, the question of who will be in command of a fire scene is a term of the contract which must be negotiated by the parties. 1984 Op St Comp File #84-22.

Assistant chief of fire district's fire department who owns more than 5 percent of stock of private corporation contracting with fire district for sale and repair of radios to district does not have prohibited interest in contract if, as assistant chief, he or she does not have any powers and duties listed in CLS Gen Mun § 801 in connection with contract; if assistant chief, on behalf of corporation, exercises direction and control over any corporate employees involved in contract, such fact must be disclosed under CLS Gen Mun § 803(1). 2001 Opns St Comp No. 01-11.

3. —Chief engineer

A town councilman may also hold the office of chief engineer of a fire district. 1956 Ops St Compt File #7848.

A chief engineer of a fire district may not be employed by the district as a cleaner of fire headquarters. 1957 Ops St Compt File #57-653.

A dispatcher-cleaner at fire headquarters while on leave of absence may not hold the position of chief engineer of the fire district, since he is still an employee though on leave of absence. 1959 Ops St Compt File #605.

The chief engineer of a fire district may not be appointed by the district as a full-time paid fire inspector. 1961 Ops St Compt #328.

Where the fire department chief engineer is responsible for the servicing of fire district vehicles, a prohibited conflict of interest occurs when such vehicles are serviced at a service station owned by him. 1969 Ops St Compt File #942.

The chief engineer of a fire district does not have a prohibited interest in contracts for the purchase of fire fighting equipment between the district and a firm by which he is employed unless, as a fire district officer, he performs certain functions enumerated in General Municipal Law, § 801(1) in connection with such contracts. 1975 Ops St Compt File #457.

4. —District commissioner

A chief engineer employed as a fire district commissioner becomes a paid fireman and loses his status as a volunteer fireman. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6654.

Board of fire commissioners may adopt regulations authorizing fire commissioner, who is not member of fire department, to ride on fire vehicles during emergency calls, so long as regulation does not have effect of interfering with duties of chief or assistant chief, with chief or assistant chief having discretion to determine whether commissioner's presence in any particular vehicle would hamper firefighting efforts; point at which fire commissioner's involvement interferes with performance of duties of chief or assistant chief is factual determination to be made on basis of circumstances of each case. 1992 Op St Compt No. 92-25.

5. Boards of fire commissioners

Where a board of fire commissioners of a fire district has appointed a person to supervise and have charge of the maintenance of the district fire apparatus and equipment, it should define his duties and the duties of the chief engineer with sufficient exactitude so that there is no conflict of authority as between the two. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6068.

A member of the board of fire commissioners, where authorized by resolution of the board, may ride the fire apparatus to a fire or other emergency without the specific permission of the officer in charge. 1960 Ops St Compt File #780.

Board of fire commissioners may adopt rule or regulation limiting, controlling, or prohibiting use of personal equipment at fire scene and, even in absence of such rule or regulation, chief of fire district fire department may restrict or prohibit such use. 1998 Op St Compt No. 98-2.

§ 176-b. Volunteer members of fire district fire companies

1. The volunteer members of a fire company shall be elected and appointed as provided in this section.

2. The board of fire commissioners shall appoint residents of the fire district as the volunteer members of any newly organized fire company. Thereafter, the fire company may elect other eligible persons, including fire district officers, as volunteer members. The election shall be pursuant to the by-laws, if any, of the fire company; otherwise, by a three-fourths vote of the members of the fire company present and voting at a regular or special meeting thereof. The membership of any person so elected shall become effective when approved by resolution of the board of fire commissioners. Membership shall be deemed to have been approved pursuant to this subdivision in the event that no action is taken by the board of fire commissioners, either approving or disapproving, within forty days after service of written notice of election to membership shall have been made by the secretary of the fire company upon the secretary of the board of fire commissioners, either personally or by mail.

3. Any person elected to membership as a volunteer member of a fire company shall be a resident of the fire district or of territory outside the fire district which is afforded fire protection by the fire department of the fire district, or any fire company thereof, pursuant to a contract for fire protection, except as otherwise provided in subdivision six.

4. The membership of a volunteer member of a fire company shall terminate when he ceases to be a resident of the fire district or of any territory outside the fire district which is afforded fire protection by the fire department of the fire district, or any fire company thereof, pursuant to a contract for fire protection, except as otherwise provided in subdivision five.

5. Any fire company may authorize the continued membership of any volunteer member where such member notifies the secretary of his or her fire company (a) that he or she plans to change his or her residence to territory which is not in the fire district and is not protected by the fire department of the district, or any fire company thereof, pursuant to a contract for fire protection, and (b) that by reason of his or her residence in the vicinity or his or her usual occupation he or she will be available to render active service as a volunteer firefighter in the fire district or in territory outside the fire district which is afforded fire protection pursuant to a contract for fire protection by the fire department of the fire district, or a fire company thereof. Such authorization shall be pursuant to the by-laws, if any, of the fire company of which he or she is a member, otherwise by a three-fourths vote of the members of such fire company present and voting at a regular or special meeting thereof. Such authorization shall not become effective unless approved by resolution of the board of fire commissioners. Such authorization shall be deemed to have been approved pursuant to this subdivision in the event that no action is taken by the board of fire commissioners, either approving or disapproving, within forty days after service of written notice of such authorization shall have been made by the secretary of the fire company upon the secretary of the board of fire commissioners, either personally or by mail. Any membership continued pursuant to the provisions of this subdivision shall terminate when the member cannot meet either the requirements of this subdivision or the residence requirements of subdivision three of this section. In the case of a fire district which adjoins another state, the term "vicinity", as used in this subdivision, includes territory in this state and territory in the adjoining state.

6. A person who cannot meet the residence requirements of subdivision three of this section may be elected to membership as a volunteer member of any fire company of the fire department if by reason of his or her residence in the vicinity or his or her usual occupation he or her will be available to render active service as a volunteer firefighter in the fire district or in territory which is afforded fire protection pursuant to a contract for fire protection by the fire department of the fire district, or a fire company thereof. Such election shall be pursuant to the by-laws, if any, of the fire company; otherwise by a three-fourths vote of the members of the fire company present and voting at a regular or special meeting thereof. The membership of any person so elected shall not become effective unless approved by resolution of the board of fire commissioners. Membership shall be deemed to have been approved pursuant to this subdivision in the event that no action is taken by the board of fire commissioners, either approving or disapproving within seventy days after service of written notice of election to membership shall have been made by the secretary of the fire company upon the secretary of the board of fire commissioners, either personally or by mail. The membership of any volunteer member elected pursuant to the provisions of this subdivision shall terminate when the member cannot meet either the requirements of this subdivision or the residence requirements of subdivision three of this section. In the case of a fire district which adjoins another state, the term "vicinity", as used in this subdivision, includes territory in this state and territory in the adjoining state.

7. (a) [As amended, L 2010, ch 114, § 1, L 2010, ch 270, § 1, L 2010, ch 272, § 1] The membership of any volunteer firefighter shall not be continued pursuant to subdivision five of this section, and persons shall not be elected to membership pursuant to subdivision six of this section, if, by so doing, the percentage of such non-resident members in the fire company would exceed forty-five per centum of the actual membership of the fire company, provided however, that the provisions of this subdivision shall not apply to the memberships of the Shelter Island Heights fire district, the Cherry Grove fire district, the Fire Island Pines fire district, the Davis Park fire department, and the Cold Spring Harbor fire district in Suffolk county, the New Hampton fire district, the Mechanicstown fire district, the Pocatello fire district, the Washington Heights fire district and the Good Will fire district in Orange county, the Jericho fire district, the Westbury fire district and the Roslyn Rescue Hook and Ladder Company, No. 1 in Nassau county, the Orangeburg fire district in Rockland county, the South Lockport Fire Company and the Terry's Corners volunteer fire company in Niagara County, the Taunton fire district and the Onondaga Hill fire department in Onondaga county, the Town of Batavia fire department in Genesee County, the Schuyler Heights fire district, the Boght Community fire district and the Slingerlands fire district I in Albany county, the town of Providence fire district in Saratoga county, the River Road fire district, No. 3 and the Armor Volunteer Fire Company in Erie county, the Sir William Johnson Fire Company in Fulton county, the Fort Johnson Fire district in Montgomery county or the memberships of the Millwood fire district, the Purchase Fire District, the North Castle South Fire District, No. 1 in Westchester county, the Thornwood fire company, No. 1 in Westchester county and the Rockland Lake fire district in Rockland county.

(b) Upon application by a fire district or fire company to the state fire administrator, the requirements of paragraph (a) of this subdivision shall be waived, provided that no adjacent fire district objects within sixty days of notice, published in the state register. Any such objection shall be made in writing to the state fire administrator setting forth the reasons such waiver should not be granted. In cases where an objection is properly filed, the state fire administrator shall have the authority to grant a waiver upon consideration of (1) the difficulty of the fire company or district in retaining and recruiting adequate personnel; (2) any alternative means available to the fire company or district to address such difficulties; and (3) the impact of such waiver on adjacent fire districts.

8. The board of fire commissioners by resolution may restrict the membership of volunteer members in any or all of the fire companies of the fire department to residents of the fire district. Any volunteer member who then resides in territory outside the fire district shall cease to be a member of any fire company to which the restriction is applicable unless the resolution provides that his membership shall continue during the existence of any contract for fire protection to such territory by his company or during the period in which he may continue to meet the requirements of subdivision three, five or six.

9. Residents of outside territory which is protected pursuant to a contract for fire protection who have been elected to volunteer membership, and non-residents whose volunteer memberships have been continued or authorized pursuant to subdivision five or six of this section may be elected or appointed to any office in the fire company or fire department and, shall have all the powers, duties, immunities, and privileges of resident volunteer members, except a non-resident of this state whose membership has been continued pursuant to subdivision five of this section, or a non-resident of this state who was elected to membership pursuant to subdivision six of this section, shall not be considered to be performing any firemanic duty, or to be engaged in any firemanic activity, as a member of the fire company while he or she is outside of this state unless and until he or she has first reported to the officer or firefighter in command of his or her fire department, or any company, squad or other unit thereof, engaged or to be engaged in rendering service outside this state, or has received orders or authorization from an officer of the fire department or fire company to participate in or attend authorized activities outside of this state in the same manner as resident members of the fire company.

10. A person shall not be eligible to volunteer membership in more than one fire company at one time.

11. The term "contract for fire protection" as used in this section means one under which a cash consideration is received by the fire district or by the fire department or a fire company thereof for the furnishing of fire protection to an area outside the fire district. Any such contract shall be deemed in full force and effect for the purposes of this section if negotiations are pending for the renewal thereof.

12. The provisions of this section shall not be deemed to authorize the election of any person as a member of a fire company, or the continuance of membership in a fire company as herein provided, if such election or continuance of membership shall be contrary to the by-laws, rules or regulations of the fire company or of the fire department of the fire district.

13. Any person:

(1) who was recognized prior to the first day of July, nineteen hundred fifty-four, as a volunteer member of any fire company of the fire district by the board of fire commissioners of the fire district or by the officers and members of his fire company, and

(2) who rendered active service with such fire company prior to such date, and

(3) who was, at the time of his or her election to membership, a resident of the fire district or of territory outside the fire district which was afforded fire protection by the fire department of the fire district, or any fire company thereof, pursuant to a contract for fire protection, shall for all purposes in law be considered to have been duly elected and appointed to membership in such fire company as of the date of such appointment, if any, and, if none, then as of the date of such election; notwithstanding that there may have been some legal defect in such election, or the proceedings precedent thereto, or a failure of the board of fire commissioners to appoint such member, as provided by the law in force at the time of such election, and the status of such person as a volunteer firefighter as of the date of such appointment or election is hereby legalized, validated, and confirmed. This subdivision shall not apply to a person, if any, whose volunteer membership in a fire company was declared invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction prior to the first day of January, nineteen hundred fifty-five.

14. Any person:

(1) who was recognized on and after the first day of July, nineteen hundred fifty-four and prior to the first day of January, two thousand eleven, as a volunteer member of any fire company of the fire district by the board of fire commissioners of the fire district or by the officers and members of his fire company, and

(2) who rendered active service with such fire company between such dates, and

(3) who was, at the time of his election to membership, a resident of the fire district or of territory outside the fire district which was afforded fire protection by the fire department of the fire district, or any fire company thereof, pursuant to a contract for fire protection, or, who was a nonresident who was elected to membership or who was continued as a member, pursuant to the provisions of subdivision five or six of this section, shall for all purposes in law be considered to have been duly elected and approved, or continued, as a member in such fire company as of the date of such approval, if any, and, if none, then as of the date of such election or, in the case of a continuance, as of the date of the approval, if any, by the board of fire commissioners, and, if none, as of the date of authorization of continuance by the fire company; notwithstanding that there may have been some legal defect in such election, or the proceedings precedent thereto, or a failure of the board of fire commissioners to approve such member, or approve the continuance of membership of such member, as provided by the law in force at the time of such election or continuance, and the status of such person as a volunteer firefighter as of such date is hereby legalized, validated, and confirmed. This subdivision shall not apply to a person, if any, whose volunteer membership in a fire company was disapproved by the board of fire commissioners or declared invalid by a court of competent jurisdiction prior to the first day of January, two thousand eleven.

15. (a) It shall be an unlawful discriminatory practice for any volunteer fire department or fire company, through any member or members thereof, officers, board of fire commissioners or other body or office having power of appointment of volunteer firefighters in any fire department or fire company pursuant to this section, because of the race, creed, color, national origin, sex or marital status of any individual, to exclude or to expel from its volunteer membership such individual, or to discriminate against any of its members because of the race, creed, color, national origin, sex or marital status of such volunteer members.

(b) Any person claiming to be aggrieved by an unlawful discriminatory practice pursuant to this section may by himself or his attorney at law make, sign and file with the state division of human rights, a verified complaint which shall set forth the particulars of the alleged unlawful discriminatory practice and contain such other information as the division of human rights may require. The division shall thereupon cause to be made an investigation and disposition of the charges pursuant to the provisions of article fifteen of the executive law.

16. A person who has been convicted of arson in any degree shall not be eligible to be elected or appointed as a volunteer member of a fire company. The membership of any volunteer member of a fire company shall immediately terminate if he is convicted of arson in any degree while a member of a fire company.

17. Upon application by any person for membership in a fire company operating pursuant to this section, the fire chief shall cause the applicant's background to be checked pursuant to section eight hundred thirty-seven-o of the executive law for a criminal history involving a conviction for arson and conviction of a crime which requires the person to register as a sex offender under article six-C of the correction law. Where such criminal history information includes conviction of a crime which requires the person to register as a sex offender under article six-C of the correction law, a fire company shall determine whether or not such person shall be eligible to be elected or appointed as a volunteer member of such fire company. Such determination shall be made in accordance with the criteria established in sections seven hundred fifty-two and seven hundred fifty-three of the correction law.

Editor's Notes Laws 1999, ch 423, §§ 1, 6, eff April 1, 2000, provides as follows:

Section 1. Legislative intent. The efforts of volunteer firefighters in New York state embody many of the values and traditions long respected and admired by our citizens. Volunteer firefighters devote many hours acquiring necessary training and then expend their energies to protect lives and property while placing their own lives and physical well being in jeopardy. They are heroes to our children, are trusted in our hour of need and provide role models for dedication and discipline.

Unfortunately, each year the public and members of the volunteer firefighting services are shocked to learn that a very few volunteers among the ranks have themselves been responsible for setting fires in their communities. These are the very individuals who have received specific training as firefighters in the arts and techniques of the arsonist. While observers may differ as to whether these fires are set by individuals who are fascinated by fire itself, or are set by those who seek to create opportunities in which they can be viewed as brave heroes by others, the results are the same: a serious erosion in public confidence in the volunteer firefighting services as a whole, and a loss of trust and morale within the volunteer companies themselves. This small number of individuals also places our communities and citizens at serious physical risk.

Mindful of these consequences, the legislature enacted chapter 719 of the laws of 1985, making an arson conviction in any degree an absolute bar to membership in a fire company. This law, however, relied too heavily upon an individual's willingness to admit an arson conviction and resigning as a volunteer or in refraining from applying in the first instance. It is the intent of this law to strengthen the ability of fire companies to police their own ranks by enabling fire chiefs to require new applicants for membership as volunteer firefighters, including transfers between fire companies, to undergo an arson conviction record check prior to acceptance as members. The authority afforded will enable the early identification of persons convicted of arson who may not serve.

§ 6. This act shall take effect April 1, 2000 except that the division of criminal justice services and the department of state are immediately authorized to promulgate such rules and regulations necessary to implement this act on or before such effective date.

Laws 2003, ch 393, § 1, eff Aug 19, 2003, provides as follows:

Section 1. Legislative intent. This legislation is designed to update certain provisions of the village law, the town law, the general city law and the not-for-profit corporation law relating to recognition of volunteer firefighters as duly elected or approved members of their respective fire companies. Periodically, these provisions of law should be updated to ensure that firefighters recently recognized as volunteers are considered to be duly elected and approved members in their respective fire companies, notwithstanding any legal defect in the election or approval process. This bill updates the relevant statutory provisions and ensures that more recently elected or approved volunteer members of fire companies are recognized as duly elected or approved for all purposes in law, including but not limited to coverage under the volunteer firefighters' benefit law.

Laws 2011, ch 373, § 1, eff Aug 3, 2011, provides as follows:

This legislation is designed to update certain provisions of the village law, the town law, the general city law and the not-for-profit corporation law relating to recognition of volunteer firefighters as duly elected or approved members of their respective fire companies. Periodically, these provisions of law should be updated to ensure that firefighters recently recognized as volunteers are considered to be duly elected and approved members in their respective fire companies, notwithstanding any legal defect in the election or approval process. This act updates the relevant statutory provisions and ensures that more recently elected or approved volunteer members of fire companies are recognized as duly elected or approved for all purposes in law, including but not limited to coverage under the volunteer firefighters' benefit law.

Amendment Notes 2011. Chapter 373, § 4 amended:

Sub 14, par (1) by deleting at fig 1 "two thousand three" and adding the matter in italics.

2011. Chapter 373, § 5 amended:

Sub 14, par (3) by deleting at fig 1 "two thousand eleven" and adding the matter in italics.

2010. Chapter 56, § 3 (Part EE) amended:

Sub 7 by designating entire sub 7 as sub 7, par (a).

Sub 7 by adding par (b).

2010. Chapter 114, § 1 amended:

Sub 7, par (a) by deleting at fig 1 "and" and adding the matter in italics.

2010. Chapter 270, § 1 amended:

Sub 7, par (a) by adding the matter between figs 2 and 3.

2010. Chapter 272, § 1 amended:

Sub 7, par (a) by adding the matter between figs 4 and 5.

The 2014 amendment by ch 198, § 2, in 17, added "and conviction of a crime which requires the person to register as a sex offender under article six-C of the correction law" at the end of the first sentence and added the second and last sentences.

The 2018 amendment by ch 476, § 99, substituted "firefighter" for "fireman" or variants wherever it appears in 5, 6, 9, 13(3) and 15(a); added "or her" wherever it appears in 5, 6, 9 and 13(3); added "or she" wherever it appears in 5 and 9; substituted "subdivision three of this section" for "subdivision three" wherever it appears in 5 and 6; and substituted "subdivision five of this section" for "subdivision five" in 9.

1. In general

A "social member" has no legal standing as a volunteer fireman and is ineligible for the offices of chief engineer or assistant of the district fire department. 1962 Ops St Compt #175.

A fire district may use surplus funds through supplemental appropriation, but, where this will result in exceeding the statutory spending limitation, it must be done by adopting a proposition subject to mandatory referendum. 1973 Ops St Compt File #957.

By-laws of volunteer fire department may provide for class of membership of volunteer firefighters to perform fire-manic functions other than fighting fires, such as dispatching. 1987 Op St Compt No. 87-57.

Several fire districts may enter into cooperation agreement to implement advertising campaign for purpose of recruiting volunteer firefighters for fire companies of fire departments of districts; costs of campaign may be apportioned by property valuations, population, or any other equitable method or formula as agreed to by parties to agreement. 1996 Op St Compt No. 96-7.

2. Election, appointment or admission to membership, generally

Board of commissioners of fire district has discretion and authorization to approve or disapprove any person elected for membership in fire company, but board does not have unfettered discretion since (1) CLS Town § 176-b(3) and (16) expressly prohibit membership of nonresidents and convicted arsonists, and (2) discretion is also limited by antidiscrimination statutes. Waskewicz v Guy, 141 Misc. 2d 983, 535 N.Y.S.2d 345, 1988 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 732 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1988).

Members of fire district fire company elect persons to membership in the company, subject to approval of the Board of Fire Commissioners. 1962 Ops St Compt #365.

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may not approve the election to membership of a person presently serving in the armed forces, regardless of his availability. 1968 Ops St Compt File #226.

Village, fire districts or cities may require that persons elected to membership in a volunteer fire company satisfactorily complete a physical examination. The cost of such a physical examination may be assumed by the respective municipality. 1969 Ops St Compt File #597.

Where the membership of an individual in a volunteer fire department has neither been approved nor disapproved by action of the board of fire commissioners within forty days after having received notice of election of that individual to membership by the members of the company, his membership is deemed to have been approved. 1984 Op St Comp File #84-42.

3. —Residency requirements

For a general explanation of Chapter 699 of Laws of 1954 in relation to non-resident members of volunteer fire departments, see 1954 Ops St Compt File #7063.1.

Admission of non-resident volunteer members in fire district fire department discussed. 1955 Op St Compt No. 55–7275.

A non-resident is not eligible to membership of a volunteer fire department when he is available for service only during the summer months. 1957 Ops St Compt File #1160.

Certain nonresidents of a fire district and of the territory protected by it are eligible for volunteer membership in the fire district company where, by reason of usual daily occupation, they are present during working hours in the fire district, subject to the 30% limitation on such membership and the absence of any restriction on membership to residents. 1961 Ops St Compt #299.

A foreigner residing within a fire district may be a volunteer fireman. 1968 Ops St Compt File #396.

The board of fire commissioners may require that all volunteer fire company members be residents of the fire district and may disapprove and veto the election of particular members for cause, but may not mandate other qualifications for membership in a volunteer fire company. 1969 Ops St Compt File #142.

A New York State resident who is a non-resident member of a fire district fire company be elected a "line officer" of such company. 1969 Ops St Compt File #144.

A non-resident of a fire district may be allowed membership in a fire company of the fire district fire department if such membership is authorized by the fire company. Where such membership is permitted, the non-resident member shall have all the powers, duties, immunities, and privileges of resident members, including the right to hold a fire company office, unless the nonresident is also a non-resident of the State. A volunteer fireman may belong to only one fire company at a time and where such fireman joins a second company, he may be removed from membership in the original company. 1985 Op St Compt 85-31.

4. — —Move outside district

Petition to annul alleged action of commissioners of fire district in removing petitioners, who had moved from fire district, from membership roll which alleged that fire company had voted to retain them as firemen despite their change of residence and that commissioners had received new roster containing petitioners' addresses outside of district was insufficient in that it failed to allege approval of retention by resolution of fire district. Forwarding to commissioners of fire district of new roster of membership of company bearing new address for one of members who has moved outside the district does not give sufficient notice to commissioners that fire company has voted to authorize retention of that member, and thus approval by commissioners of new roster does not amount to necessary resolution to continue membership of member who has moved outside district. Morley v Lake Shore Fire Dist., 74 Misc. 2d 977, 346 N.Y.S.2d 606, 1973 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1720 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1973).

Where a volunteer fireman moves his residence from one fire district to another fire district, it is possible for him to retain his membership in the fire department of the first fire district subject to compliance with statutory requirements. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6781.

A fire department rule which requires a member of the district fire department to reside within the district precludes a person who has moved from the district from continuing his membership. 1962 Ops St Compt #534.

5. —Women as volunteers

Rejected female applicant for membership in volunteer fire company may reapply and be reconsidered after membership receives policy statement providing that female candidates must be given equal consideration, where only 2 other female applicants were also rejected and it is highly likely that some members believe that, as association of volunteers, they are free to reject applicants according to whim or social unacceptability, because applicant deserves such relief under CLS Town Law § 176-b(15)(a). Gibson v Hurleyville Fire Co. No.1, 1 F. Supp. 2d 329, 1998 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 5435 (S.D.N.Y. 1998).

Women may be elected to membership in an incorporated fire company, if the by-laws do not prohibit such membership and if their election is approved by the board of fire commissioners or town board. 1955 Op St Compt No. 55–7128.

Women may be elected to volunteer fire company membership if not barred by the district constitution or by-laws or by rule or regulation of the Board of Fire Commissioners. 1962 Ops St Compt #161.

A woman may be admitted to membership in a volunteer fire company to participate in all fire-manic activities. Whether a woman may be excluded from membership in a volunteer fire company, in the face of a claim of unconstitutional discrimination, is a matter for judicial determination. 1974 Ops St Compt File #1171.

6. —Compatibility and conflicts; multiple memberships

A volunteer fireman may not be a member of two volunteer fire companies on or after July 1, 1954. 1954 Op St Compt No. 54–6669.

Persons who are not active members of a volunteer fire company, though they may be carried on a roster as inactive, honorary, life on social members, are not prohibited from membership in another volunteer fire company. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6961.

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may refuse to appoint a person as a member of a volunteer fire company if, in the due exercise of discretion, it believes that the applicant, because of membership in the armed forces, cannot efficiently serve the fire department. 1956 Ops St Compt File #8168.

A volunteer firefighter may not simultaneously be a member of 2 fire companies, regardless of whether the companies are part of the same fire department or different fire departments. 1991 Op St Compt No. 91-23.

There is no statutory prohibition on individual becoming member of fire company and member of volunteer ambulance corps at same time. 1997 Op St Compt No. 97-23.

Individual who is member of volunteer fire company may not join second company unless he or she first terminates membership in original company. 2000 Op St Compt No. 2000-13.

7. —Eligibility under Volunteer Firemen's Benefit Law or similar provision

Workers' Compensation Board properly determined that claimant, as 16-year-old member of junior corps of town fire department, became active member of department and was entitled to benefits provided by Volunteer Firefighters' Benefit Law following injury incurred while operating his vehicle in response to fire alarm, since members of junior corps were required to respond to alarms once school day was completed, they were under direction and control of chief of department, and their duties at scene were consistent with those of active firefighter save for certain limitations such as not entering building that is scene of fire; furthermore, given these facts, junior corps is not youth program and thus its members are not excluded from benefits by operation of CLS Gen Mun § 204-b. Elander v Pleasantville Fire Dist., 124 A.D.2d 388, 507 N.Y.S.2d 334, 1986 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 61399 (N.Y. App. Div. 3d Dep't 1986), app. denied, 69 N.Y.2d 608, 516 N.Y.S.2d 1023, 509 N.E.2d 358, 1987 N.Y. LEXIS 16376 (N.Y. 1987).

Members of a volunteer fire company who are anything less than active members are not protected in case of injury or death if they should serve at fires. 1969 Ops St Compt File #90.

1. In general

There is no statutory limitation on the number of volunteer firemen who may be members of a fire district company, but such limitation may be expressed in the certificate of incorporation of an incorporated company, in its constitution, bylaws or rules, or may be made effective by board of fire commissioners' disapproval of elected new members of a fire company. 1970 NY Ops Atty Gen April 14.

A fire district has no power to tax real property, no power to assess real property and no power to grant or withhold a real property tax exemption. 1976 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 29.

Board of flyer commissioners may require that prospective volunteer members of fire company have high school degrees or equivalency certificates; as alternative, board may consider requiring volunteers to undergo state's certified training currently required only for paid firefighters. 2000 NY Ops Atty Gen I 2000-4.

A fire district may pay the expenses incurred by firemen under the age of 18, including the expense of travel to drills or for instruction, and may also pay for the purchase of equipment in connection with a properly authorized youth program. 1979 Op St Compt File #877.

A member of the Hewlett Fire Department may not resign from the Fire Department and remain a "member" of the Hewlett Bay Fire District. We express no opinion with respect to the notion of a volunteer fireman resigning his membership in a fire district, since firemen do not become members of the fire district. 1981 Op St Compt File #81-53.

When a fire district volunteer fireman suffers from a physical disability, the extent to which he may perform fire-manic duties is in the discretion of the board of fire commissioners. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-179.

2. Election, appointment or admission to membership, generally

3. —Residency requirements

4. — —Move outside district

A fire district commissioner who moves out of the fire district is ineligible to remain in office or to run for re-election. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-69.

5. — —Student residence

Residence outside of the fire district by a volunteer fireman, who is a student, for the purpose of attending college results in his ineligibility to continue as a member of the fire department, if so provided in the by-laws of the department. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-278.

Residents of outside territory and non-residents whose volunteer membership have been continued or authorized may not be elected to the office of chief engineer or any assistant engineer of the fire department. 1960 NY Ops Atty Gen May 6 (informal).

It is at least doubtful if a person living "8 or 10 miles" away from a fire district and who is employed full time in a city the same distance away is eligible for membership in a volunteer fire company in such district. 1968 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 14.

Chief of a volunteer fire department shall be a member of the fire department, a resident of New York State and, if the by-laws so provide, a resident of the fire district. 1971 NY Ops Atty Gen May 26.

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may require the chief engineer and assistant chief engineer to be residents of the fire district. 1975 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 5.

A non-resident who is engaged in his usual occupation within a fire district would appear to be eligible to election to membership in a fire district fire company. 1979 Op St Compt File #163.

Volunteer members of a village fire department or of a fire district fire company who are non-residents of the village, the first district, or of the territory protected by a fire protection contract, may still be elected or appointed to a fire company or fire department office if they are residents of the state. 1982 Op St Compt File #82-67.

Persons who reside and work in the fringe area outside a fire district, or who reside there but whose work requires them to commute, and yet permits them to render active fire service, may be elected as volunteer firemen in the district but the percentage of such nonresident members may not exceed 30% of the membership of the fire company. 1957 NY Ops Atty Gen May 2 (informal).

6. —Women as volunteers

Unless barred by the company's by-laws, a woman can be elected to membership in a volunteer fire company. 1955 NY Ops Atty Gen Mar 29 (informal).

7. —Compatibility and conflicts; multiple memberships

Though not prohibited by statute, town police officers' duties may make their membership as volunteer firemen inadvisable. There is, however no such conflict of duty in the case of town highway employees. 1970 NY Ops Atty Gen March 6.

There is no legal prohibition against a person being a paid fireman and a volunteer fireman in the same fire district, but it is so undesirable and raises such serious problems that a paid fireman should not be granted membership as a volunteer member of the fire company in the same fire district. 1971 NY Ops Atty Gen May 26.

Volunteer firemen may not belong to more than one volunteer fire company at the same time. 1972 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 29.

A volunteer fireman may not be a member of a fire company within New York State and a volunteer fire company located out of New York State at the same time. 1975 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 24 (Informal), 1975 N.Y. AG LEXIS 74.

A fire district commissioner may not hold the office of treasurer of the fire district but may hold the office of treasurer of a fire company. 1977 NY Ops Atty Gen March 2.

CLS Town § 176-b(10) prohibits person from becoming member of more than one fire company, whether company is formed for firefighting or emergency and general ambulance services; member of one company may assist another company or department in provision of emergency and general ambulance services. 1999 NY Ops Atty Gen I 99-2.

A paid fireman may not be appointed chief of a volunteer fire department. 1979 Op St Compt File #600.

A paid fireman may be enrolled as an active member of a volunteer fire company and may hold company offices such as captain, lieutenant, president or vice-president if the company by-laws or constitution permit. 1979 Op St Compt File #806.

8. —Eligibility under Volunteer Firemen's Benefit Law or similar provision

Honorary, active, life members are not volunteer members of the fire department entitled to benefits under the General Municipal Law, § 205, and under Workmen's Compensation Law, § 10. 1960 NY Ops Atty Gen May 2 (informal).

Only as volunteer firemen would youths 16 to 18 years of age be covered by the Volunteer Firemen's Benefit Law. 1970 NY Ops Atty Gen March 6.

Volunteer Firemen are not covered by the provisions of the Volunteer Firemen's Benefit Law when attending a funeral, whether such attendance is pursuant to orders or by permission from the chief or fire district commissioners. 1977 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 7 (Informal).

It is questionable whether use of fire department apparatus to transport the body of a deceased fireman for burial is authorized by statute. If a court held that there is no such authorization, the immunity statute would not apply, the Volunteer Firemen's Benefit Law would not provide protection and personal liability might result. 1977 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 7 (Informal).

A county by local law may exclude all volunteer firemen from coverage in a county self-insurance plan, but may not administratively exclude, on physical grounds, an individual volunteer fireman who is duly approved for membership in a fire company. 1979 Op St Compt File #889.

Full time college students who attend colleges outside the vicinity of the fire district and are therefore not available for service and/or training during most of the year, are eligible for membership as volunteer members of the fire companies which comprise the Chappaqua Fire Department, if the Board of Fire Commissioners reasonably determines that they will be ale to serve the Fire Department efficiently. 1980 Op St Compt File #535.

The laws relating to volunteer firemen recognize only active volunteer members of fire companies and only such active volunteer members are protected in case of injury or death in the performance of firemanic duties and are accorded rights and privileges of volunteer firemen. 1970 NY Ops Atty Gen Nov 12.

Board of fire commissioners cannot require a fire company or department to elect anyone to membership. This is a right reserved to the company or department, subject only to disapproval by the board of fire commissioners. This is particularly so as regards "honorary", etc., memberships which are not recognized by law. 1965 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 28.

Youths of 16 to 18 years of age may be admitted to membership as volunteer firemen of an incorporated fire company if the bylaws or constitution of the company so provide and the board of fire commissioners of the fire district have taken no positive action to the contrary. 1970 NY Ops Atty Gen March 6.

The law recognizes no classifications of membership of volunteer firemen. There is no authority for probationary or provisional appointment of a volunteer member of a volunteer fire company in a town fire district. Because a person elected to membership in a volunteer fire company is not a member until the election is approved by the board of fire commissioners, the person is not entitled to benefits under the Volunteer Firemen's Benefit Law and the person should not be allowed to perform any firemanic duties until the membership becomes effective. 1975 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 18 (informal).

By-law provisions for the admission of members of volunteer fire companies which provide that three negative votes or black balls will defeat election to membership appear to be valid but if they are used in a manner contrary to the Constitutions of the United States or of the State of New York or the anti-discrimination statutes of the state, such a by-law would be invalid. 1977 NY Ops Atty Gen May 9 (Informal), 1977 N.Y. AG LEXIS 114.

Only the first volunteer members of a newly organized fire company are "appointed" by the board of fire commissioners; thereafter, those members and their successors elect new members to the fire company, whose memberships do not become effective until the board of fire commissioners "approves" of their election, and board approval is deemed to have been given if the board takes no action within 40 days of being informed of the election. 1978 NY Ops Atty Gen July 26.

An alien may not be a fire district officer; an alien may not vote in a fire district election; an alien may be a volunteer fireman; an alien may be appointed fire chief or assistant fire chief and may be elected to fire company corporate office. 1980 NY Ops Atty Gen Feb 6 (Informal), 1980 N.Y. AG LEXIS 152.

Person convicted of arson in any degree is, by statute, ineligible to become member of volunteer fire company, but issuance to that person of unrestricted certificate of relief from disabilities prevents automatic statutory disqualification; however, certificate does not prevent fire company or fire district commissioners from exercising discretion to deny membership based on facts and circumstances surrounding arson conviction. 1998 NY Ops Atty Gen 98-50 (informal), 1998 N.Y. AG LEXIS 54.

Governing body of fire company or department may permit commanding officer to accept services of volunteer firefighter who is member of another company. 1999 NY Ops Atty Gen I 99-41.

An incorporated volunteer fire company may amend its by-laws and constitution to require that members of the company attend at least three meetings annually as a qualification to vote for company officers. 1983 Op. St. Compt. No. 83-65, 1983 N.Y. Comp. LEXIS 420.

An individual 16 or 17 years old may be elected to membership in a volunteer fire company providing the fire company's by-laws, constitution or articles of incorporation do not prohibit such individuals from becoming members. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-66.

Section 1. Legislative declaration. The services provided by volunteer firemen in this state are invaluable. In the highest tradition of exemplary public service, these firemen serve their neighbors, their community and their state. In order to insure the continued availability of this irreplaceable work force, it is in the best interest of the people of our state to provide financial assistance for programs of local fire districts and villages which facilitate the recruitment, training and administration of new personnel who can contribute their loyalty and devotion in the interest of fire protection.

Department of audit and control: required training for commissioners of fire districts. 2 NYCRR Part 153.

§ 177. Powers and duties of fire district treasurer

The fire district treasurer shall be the fiscal officer of the fire district and shall receive and have the custody of the funds of the district and shall disburse the same for the purposes herein authorized when so ordered by resolution of the board of fire commissioners, except that no such resolution of the board of fire commissioners shall be required for the payment of fixed salaries, compensation for services of officers or employees regularly engaged by the fire district at agreed wages by the hour, day, week, month or year unless so required by resolution of the board of fire commissioners adopted at the organization meeting in the month of January, the principal of or interest on obligations issued by the fire district, fixed amounts becoming due on lawful contracts for the purchase of water for fire protection, and amounts which the fire district may be required to pay to the state and local employees' retirement system on account of contributions for past and current services of firefighters. All such disbursements shall be made by check payable to the order of the person or persons entitled thereto. The fire district treasurer shall also be responsible for filing any paperwork necessary to obtain permits or secure any refunds provided pursuant to section three hundred seventy-eight-a of the public authorities law. The board of fire commissioners shall designate in the manner provided by section ten of the general municipal law the depositaries in which the fire district treasurer shall, within ten days, deposit and secure all moneys coming into his or her hands by virtue of his or her office.

At the annual organization meeting of the board of fire commissioners of a fire district the fire district treasurer shall account with the board of fire commissioners for all moneys received and disbursed by him during the preceding fiscal year and shall produce all books, records, receipts, orders, vouchers and cancelled checks or check images as authorized by section ninety-nine-b of the general municipal law respecting the same. At such meeting the fire district treasurer shall file with the board of fire commissioners a statement in writing showing his receipts and disbursements for the preceding fiscal year, which statement shall be in detail and shall be entered in the minutes of the meeting by the fire district secretary, except that the fire district treasurer, if authorized by the board of fire commissioners at a meeting held prior to the annual organization meeting, may within sixty days after the end of the fiscal year, submit to the said board a copy of the annual report required by section thirty of the general municipal law, in lieu of such statement, in which case the fire district treasurer shall account for all moneys received and disbursed by him during the preceding fiscal year, and shall produce all books, records, receipts, orders, vouchers and cancelled checks or check images as authorized by section ninety-nine-b of the general municipal law respecting the same, at the meeting of the board of fire commissioners at which the said annual report is submitted or at the next meeting held subsequent to the submission of the report if not submitted at a meeting of the board, in lieu of producing such records at the annual organization meeting. Such authorization shall remain in effect from year to year until rescinded by the board of fire commissioners. The annual report shall be entered in the minutes of the meeting by the fire district secretary.

The board of fire commissioners may require the fire district treasurer to submit to the board of fire commissioners at any time for examination his books, records, receipts, orders, vouchers and cancelled checks or check images as authorized by section ninety-nine-b of the general municipal law.

§ 179. Special district elections to vote upon appropriations

The board of fire commissioners upon its own motion may submit, and upon petition, as hereinafter provided, shall cause to be submitted, at a special or annual fire district election, a proposition:

1. (a) To purchase fire apparatus and fire-fighting vehicles for the extinguishment or prevention of fires in said fire district, or motorized equipment for emergency relief squads or fire police squads.

(b) To purchase or install an adequate fire alarm system for the fire district, or to make necessary additions thereto.

(c) To lease, purchase, construct, reconstruct, alter, repair or equip suitable buildings for the preservation, protection and storing of vehicles, apparatus and equipment of the fire district and for the social and recreational use of the firefighters and residents of the district, and purchase the necessary lands therefor.

(d) To expend in any one fiscal year, or to expend annually, an amount in excess of the amount authorized by subdivision eighteen of section one hundred seventy-six of this chapter, as amended from time to time, to be expended annually without the adoption of a proposition therefor for any of the purposes authorized by the provisions of this article. If the proposition authorizes an annual expenditure, it shall state a maximum amount which may be expended annually in excess of the amount authorized by subdivision eighteen of section one hundred seventy-six of this chapter, as amended from time to time, and such amount may not be exceeded thereafter unless authorized at a fire district election. If a proposition authorizes an annual expenditure, the authorization shall continue in effect until changed by vote of a district election.

(e) To purchase permanent or temporary rights to take water from cisterns, wells and bodies of water and water-courses within the fire district for the purposes, and subject to the limitations, set forth in subdivision twelve-a of section one hundred seventy-six of this chapter.

(f) To purchase or construct fire suction pools in bodies of water and water-courses, fire cisterns and fire wells, including necessary pipes, pumps, hydrants and other facilities in connection therewith, and to purchase and lease necessary real property and rights in land and water therefor, for the purposes, and subject to the limitations, set forth in subdivision twelve-a of section one hundred seventy-six of this chapter.

2. Any sum authorized to be expended, pursuant to subdivision one of this section, shall be raised by tax and shall be spent only during the fiscal year for which such tax is to be levied but nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prevent the financing in whole or in part, pursuant to the local finance law, of expenditures pursuant to section one hundred seventy-six of this chapter. If the proposition is approved at an election held in any fiscal year after September twentieth, or after October twentieth in the case of fire districts located wholly within the county of Westchester, the proposition shall not become effective for the purpose of levying taxes until the first day of September of the fiscal year succeeding the fiscal year in which such proposition is approved.

3. Such petition shall be signed, and acknowledged or proved in the same manner as a deed to be recorded, or authenticated in the manner provided by the election law for authentication of nominating petitions, by resident taxpayers owning taxable real property aggregating at least one-quarter of the assessed valuation of all the taxable real property of the district owned by resident taxpayers, as such valuations appear upon the latest completed assessment roll of said town. Notice of such special district election shall be given in the same manner as provided herein for annual district elections. The special election shall be held on a Tuesday, provided that such date is not a public holiday, and shall be conducted and scheduled in a manner that maximizes voter participation. The polls shall remain open for the receipt of ballots from six o'clock in the evening to nine o'clock in the evening and such additional consecutive hours prior thereto as the board of fire commissioners may determine. The secretary of the fire commissioners shall prepare the ballots which shall separately state and number each proposition to be voted upon.

4. Every elector of the town who shall be a registered voter of the town and who shall have resided in the district for the period of thirty days next preceding a special or annual fire district election shall be qualified to vote upon such proposition.

1. In general

Fire Commissioners of a fire district may house a fire district fire engine in a fire protection district which is protected under contract by the fire district if, in so doing, the adequacy of the protection in the fire district itself is not jeopardized. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6971.

A mandatory referendum to establish a service award program for volunteer firefighters of a fire district, pursuant to CLS Gen Mun Law § 216, may be conducted at a special election or at the fire district's annual election, pursuant to CLS Town Law § 179, but in either case, board of fire commissioners is not required to hold public hearing before establishment of service award program. Ops St Compt 89-41.

2. Election procedure

Failure to give notice of special election regarding bond resolution did not deprive taxpayers of property without due process of law where the resolution did not impose an assessment on the taxpayers' property. Barrett v Cuskelly, 28 A.D.2d 532, 279 N.Y.S.2d 380, 1967 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4278 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1967).

Town Law provision confining franchise to property owners was unconstitutional and participation of nonproperty owners in special election for issuance of bonds to purchase pumper for fire department was proper. Light v MacKenzie, 78 Misc. 2d 315, 356 N.Y.S.2d 991, 1974 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1391 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1974).Light v MacKenzie, 78 Misc. 2d 315, 356 N.Y.S.2d 991, 1974 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1391 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1974).

There is no requirement that any specified period of time must elapse before the re-submission, pursuant to § 179 of the Town Law, of a defeated proposition to construct a building for the preservation, protection and storing of fire apparatus and equipment and for the social and recreational use of the firemen and residents of the district. 1945 Ops St Compt 200.

Board of Fire Commissioners should not submit the entire fire district budget, item by item, for approval at a fire district election, but should, if necessary, submit a single proposition under this section calling for the expenditure of a given amount over and above the spending limitation for the district as computed under § 176(18). 1954 Ops St Compt File #6970.

In determining the sufficiency of a petition filed pursuant to this section for acquisition of emergency relief apparatus, the assessed valuation of property owned as tenants by the entirety or as joint tenants may not be considered if only one of the owners has signed the petition. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7323.

A special fire district election is held in the same manner as the annual fire district election. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7367.

A fire district bond resolution is not effective when a special election approving it is not held in the manner provided in this section. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7681.

3. Expenditures requiring approval of voters, generally

Fire commissioners may expend $3000.00 for uniforms for members of fire department upon adoption of proposition therefor by qualified voters of district. 1946 Ops St Compt 68.

Salary of fire district treasurer, may not be increased by increasing it in the budget, though budget was submitted to vote of fire district electors. Defeat of budget does not affect such salary. Payment of increased salary to treasurer in prior years was improper. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7512.

Pursuant to CLS Town Law § 176(18), referendum would not be required to authorize expenditure for fire district's share of ambulance from current funds if such expenditure, together with any other expenditures that are subject to fire district's spending limitations, can be made within district's spending limit; however, referendum will be necessary if it is to be made from current funds in excess of district's spending limit or if expenditure is not to be made from current funds. 1985 Op St Compt No. 85-55.

4. Purchase of fire apparatus

Fire district has no power to buy fire truck for use by a village. 1947 Ops St Compt 105.

Fire apparatus may not be purchased by a fire district unless a proposition has been adopted by the electors of the fire district pursuant to either section 179 of the Town Law or section 38.00 of the Local Finance Law. 1947 Ops St Compt 416.

For a discussion of rules and regulations relative to purchase of fire apparatus, see 1953 Ops St Compt File #6421.

A contract may not be entered into for the purchase of a fire engine unless the contract cost is available or provided for on the date the contract is signed. 1970 Ops St Compt File #24.

Fire district may purchase fire truck from its fire department utilizing current funds if spending limitation contained in CLS Town § 176 will not be exceeded or if proposition has been adopted pursuant to CLS Town § 179; alternatively, Reserve Funds may be used, subject to limitations of CLS Gen Mun § 6-g, CLS Local Fin § 38.00, or obligations may be issued subject to mandatory referendum under CLS Local Fin § 38.00. 1986 Op St Compt No. 86-67.

5. Firehouses and other real property expenditures

Fire district which has valid contract for fire apparatus may not pay vendor amount in excess of contract price if contract remains unamended. 1946 Ops St Compt 537.

Fire district may acquire real estate for fire house purposes upon condition that the property be used for such purposes and will revert to donor on breach of such condition. The condition of such deed may provide that fire district shall remove the building in the event of breach of condition. The fire house upon such property so acquired may be financed by issuance of serial bonds. 1947 Ops St Compt 225.

Surplus funds of a fire district may be used to purchase a site for a fire house. If the expenditure does not exceed the spending limitation, no referendum is necessary. 1952 Ops St Compt File #5784.

The board of commissioners of a fire district may spend moneys of the fire district for the preparation of plans and specifications for alterations and an addition to the fire house without submitting the proposition to referendum if the expenditure will not exceed the spending limitation of the district. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6529.

Expenditures authorized by a proposition pursuant to this section must be raised by a single tax levy. However, a fire district may finance the cost of constructing a fire house garage under the provisions of the Local Finance Law. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6677.

Current funds of a fire district may be used to erect a storage garage for equipment without a referendum if the proposed expenditure is within the district's spending limitation. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7628.

No referendum is necessary to authorize the expenditure of a legal budgetary appropriation for reconstruction of a fire district building. 1961 Ops St Compt File #274.

Expenses incurred in connection with building construction project disapproved in referendum are legal liabilities and may be paid. 1966 Ops St Compt File #751.

A fire district may purchase an option on real property without voter approval, only if the cost of the option, plus the cost of the property if purchased, will not create expenditures in excess of the statutory spending limitation. 1974 Ops St Compt File #951.

6. Increase of spending limitation

Board of fire commissioners of fire district may not expend surplus funds of district to paint and repair fire house, where such expenditure would exceed the spending limitation prescribed by subdivision 18 of section 176 of the Town Law. Such expenditure may not be authorized by referendum pursuant to section 179 of the Town Law. Such surplus funds may be transferred to a capital reserve fund and, if not so transferred, must be included in the budget for the following fiscal year as a revenue. 1946 Ops St Compt 563.

A proposition adopted by the electors of a fire district authorizing the fire commissioners to spend moneys in excess of the limitations prescribed by subdivision 18 of section 176 of the Town Law cannot be effective for more than one fiscal year. 1947 Ops St Compt 412.

Where a fire district will exceed its spending limitation, the purchase of land must be submitted to referendum unless a proposition is adopted to exceed the spending limitation and the amount of the purchase is not in excess of the maximum amount stated in the proposition. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6871.

The spending limitation for a fire district is provided in § 176 (18) and may be exceeded as provided in § 179. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7741.

A proposition to increase the spending limitation in a fire district must state a definite, fixed amount by which the spending limitations proposed to be exceeded. 1957 Ops St Compt File #220.

A fire district may make a budgetary appropriation for the purchase of real property for fire district purposes, but if such appropriation exceeds the aggregate annual spending limitation of the fire district, either a proposition to exceed the spending limitation or a proposition to purchase such property must be adopted and such proposition is subject to a mandatory referendum. 1968 Ops St Compt File #988.

Where a proposition authorizing a fire district to exceed the spending limitation by a stated amount has been approved at referendum, and the budget containing the excess already includes an appropriation for a fire-fighting vehicle, no separate referendum on the purchase for the fire-fighting vehicle is required. 1972 Ops St Compt File #1045.

7. Capital reserves fund and surplus

Board of fire commissioners of fire district may establish a capital reserve fund for acquisition of real property for firehouse and purchase of fire apparatus and equipment. 1945 Ops St Compt 352.

Surplus funds of fire district may be appropriated by board of fire commissioners of fire district to establish capital reserve funds for acquisition of fire house and purchase of fire apparatus and equipment. 1945 Ops St Compt 352.

Balance of fire district funds on hand at end of fiscal year must be used to reduce tax levy. Capital reserve fund may be established for purpose of making alterations to fire house. Capital reserve fund is alternative to Section 179 of the Town Law. 1946 Ops St Compt 57.

Board of fire commissioners of a fire district may establish a capital reserve fund to finance the purchase of fire apparatus. 1946 Ops St Compt 144.

Creation of capital reserve funds by fire districts; payment therein of moneys set aside for building fire house; appropriations to capital reserve funds notwithstanding limitation on amount that may be expended without a vote on a proposition. 1946 Ops St Compt 514.

Board of fire commissioners of fire district may establish capital reserve fund for the erection of fire house. Establishment of such capital reserve fund is subject to permissive referendum. Board of fire commissioners may make budgetary appropriation to the capital reserve fund. Amount which may be appropriated is not subject to spending limitation prescribed by subd.18 of section 176 of Town Law or to referendum provisions of section 179 of Town Law. 1946 Ops St Compt 559.

The commissioners of a fire district, whose annual expenditures are limited to $1,000.00 may not expend in addition to such $1,000.00, surplus funds resulting from an expended balance of the previous year. Capital reserve fund suggested. 1946 Ops St Compt 687.

8. Issuance of bonds and obligations to finance acquisitions

Fire district which has adopted proposition to purchase fire apparatus may not finance part of cost by issuance of bonds or capital notes. 1946 Ops St Compt 537.

Tax anticipation notes may not be issued to finance the purchase of fire apparatus. 1947 Ops St Compt 416.

Where the cost of a fire house is to be financed by the issuance of bonds, a referendum pursuant to § 38.00 of the Local Finance Law is required. 1952 Ops St Compt File #5645.

If the purchase of fire apparatus is to be financed by the issuance of serial bonds or capital notes, a referendum is necessary pursuant to Local Finance Law § 38.00 and a referendum may not be held pursuant to § 179 of this Law. 1957 Ops St Compt File #309.

Where a town plans, subject to referendum, to issue bonds to finance purchase of a fire truck, a referendum may not be held pursuant to this section. 1961 Ops St Compt #710.

9. Gifts

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may accept a gift of an ambulance and provide for the storing and maintenance thereof. 1947 Ops St Compt 52.

The board of fire commissioners of a fire district may accept a gift of an automobile for the use of the chief engineer of the fire department without the adoption of a proposition by the qualified electors of the fire district, even though acceptance of the gift entails expenditures for operation, maintenance, repair and insurance. 1947 Ops St Compt 349.

10. Disposal of property

Fire commissioners of town fire district may not give district funds to a volunteer fire department to expend for recreational activities. 1945 Ops St Compt 14.

A fire district, through its Board of Commissioners and pursuant to authority set forth in this law, may convey to a school district the real property no longer necessary for its uses or purposes, by resolution of the Board of Fire Commissioners subject to referendum under this section. 1964 Ops St Compt #788.

§ 181. Annual budget and levy of taxes

1. The fiscal year of each fire district shall begin on the first day of January and end on the thirty-first day of December.

For each fiscal year, the board of fire commissioners of each fire district shall prepare and adopt an annual budget inaccordance with this section.

2. (a) On or before the twenty-first day prior to the public hearing required by subdivision three of this section, the board of fire commissioners shall prepare and adopt a proposed budget for the ensuing fiscal year. Within the limitations specified in this article, the proposed budget shall contain detailed estimates in writing of the amount of revenues to be received and the appropriations required for expenditures to be made during such fiscal year for the purposes of such fire district.

(b) On or before the last date provided by law for the adoption of the proposed budget, the board of fire commissioners shall prepare an estimate of the fund balance which shall be affixed to the proposed budget as an appendix thereto. The estimate of fund balance shall include a breakdown of such fund balance estimated for encumbrances, amounts estimated to be expended for the ensuing fiscal year, amounts reserved for stated purposes pursuant to law, including reserve funds established pursuant to the general municipal law, and the remaining unappropriated unreserved fund balance as that term is defined in section one hundred three of this chapter, provided that the remaining estimated unappropriated unreserved fund balance for each fund shall not exceed a reasonable amount, consistent with prudent budgeting practices, necessary to ensure the orderly operation of the fire district and the continued provision of services, taking into account factors including, but not limited to, the size of the fund, cash flows, the certainty with which the amounts of revenues and expenditures can be estimated, and the fire district's experience in prior fiscal years. For those districts which employ the cash basis of accounting, fund balance means the cash surplus estimated to be on hand at the close of the current fiscal year less claims payable therefrom and amounts reserved pursuant to law for stated purposes, including reserve funds established pursuant to the general municipal law.

(c) Upon adoption of the proposed budget by the board of fire commissioners, the proposed budget shall be filed in the office of the fire district secretary and maintained as a public document available for inspection and copying. The fire district secretary shall also reproduce a sufficient number of copies of the proposed budget for distribution upon request to the public and at no cost to the public. In addition, if the fire district maintains an internet website, the fire district secretary shall cause the proposed budget to be posted and maintained on the fire district's website until the day after the public hearing on the proposed budget.

(a) The board of commissioners of each fire district shall hold a public hearing on the third Tuesday in October to discuss the contents of the proposed budget. The hearing shall be conducted and scheduled in a manner that maximizes participation. Notice of such public hearing shall be published at least once in the official newspaper, or if no official newspaper has been designated, in any newspaper having general circulation in the district. At least five days shall elapse between the date of the first publication of the notice and the date specified for the hearing. The notice of hearing shall state the time when and the place where the public hearing will be held, the purpose thereof and that a copy of the proposed budget is available at the office of the town clerk or clerks and fire district secretary where it may be inspected by any interested person during office hours. In the case of a fire district that maintains an internet website, the notice of hearing shall also state that the proposed budget is posted on the fire district's website. The town clerk or clerks shall cause a copy of the notice to be posted on the signboard of the town or towns, maintained pursuant to subdivision six of section thirty of this chapter, not later than five days before the day designated for such hearing. The notice shall also be posted on the municipal and/or fire district website or websites, if one exists. At such hearing, any person may be heard in favor of or against the proposed budget as compiled, or for or against any item or items therein contained.

(b) After the public hearing, the board of fire commissioners may adopt changes, alterations and revisions to the proposed budget subject to the requirements of paragraph (a) of subdivision two of this section, except that the board of fire commissioners shall not add or increase an appropriation to a capital reserve fund. On or before the fourth day of November, the board of fire commissioners shall adopt as the annual budget of the fire district either the proposed budget or the proposed budget as changed, altered or revised after the public hearing. In the event that the board of fire commissioners fails to adopt the annual budget by such date, the proposed budget with such changes, alterations and revisions as shall have been adopted by the board of fire commissioners by that date shall constitute the annual budget of the fire district.

(c) Within three days after the adoption of the annual budget of a fire district, the fire district secretary shall prepare and deliver to the town clerk of each town in which the fire district is located two certified copies of the annual budget. Neither the town board, town supervisor, town clerk nor any other officer or employee of the town shall make any change to the annual budget of the fire district.

4. After the annual budget of a fire district has been affixed to the annual budget adopted by the town board and a certified copy presented to the board of supervisors of the county in which the town is situated as required by section one hundred fifteen of this chapter, the board of supervisors shall assess and levy upon the taxable real property within the several fire districts the amounts to be raised by tax for the purposes of the respective districts as specified in such annual fire district budget and shall cause the amount so assessed and levied to be collected, in the same manner and at the same time and by the same officers as town taxes are assessed, levied and collected. When such taxes are collected, the amount thereof shall be paid to the supervisor of the town and by him immediately paid to the treasurer of the respective fire districts. If a fire district includes taxable property located in more than one town, the amount to be assessed, levied and collected upon the property within each of such towns shall be apportioned in accordance with section eight hundred six of the real property tax law.

5. In any case where a parcel of real property separately assessed on the town assessment roll shall be divided by the line of the fire district or of any zone established therein as provided in subdivision twenty-seven of section one hundred seventy-six of this chapter, it shall be the duty of the town assessors, after the valuation of the whole of such parcel shall have been fixed, to determine what proportion of such valuation is on account of that part of such parcel lying within the limits of the fire district or of such zone or zones, and the assessors shall enter such proportion separately on the assessment roll. The valuation of the real property lying within such fire district or within such zone or zones, as so fixed and determined, shall be the valuation subject to taxation for the purposes of such fire district or of such zone or zones.

6. The treasurer of each fire district shall prepare and file annually in the office of the town clerk of each town in which any part of such fire district shall be located, and in the office of the state comptroller, a financial statement setting forth in detail the receipts and expenditures of such fire district. Such statement shall be filed in such offices within sixty days after the close of the fiscal year of the fire district.

Failure to give notice of special election regarding bond resolution did not deprive taxpayers of property without due process of law where the resolution did not impose an assessment on the taxpayers' property. Barrett v Cuskelly, 28 A.D.2d 532, 279 N.Y.S.2d 380, 1967 N.Y. App. Div. LEXIS 4278 (N.Y. App. Div. 2d Dep't 1967).

Fire district may not borrow in anticipation of taxes for 1946 to spend in 1945 for current expenses. Town may not advance such tax money to a fire district. Question if Sec. 29.00(a, 2) of Local Finance Law applies to fire districts. If it does, it will be of no substantial assistance. 1945 Ops St Compt 572.

The fire district secretary is the custodian of all books, records and papers of the fire district, including financial records. 1946 Ops St Compt 463.

Where fire district situated in two towns, both are liable for payment of benefits for death of firemen. 1947 Ops St Compt 207.

A town supervisor may not withhold moneys due to a fire district pending filing of the annual district report. 1954 Ops St Compt File #6525.

A town may not withhold from a fire district a portion of the assessments collected by the town on behalf of the fire district, even though the town claims such money is owed to a water district governed by the town board. 1976 Ops St Compt File #275.

Fiscal year of fire district may be changed only by act of state legislature. 1996 Op St Compt No. 96-12.

There is no conflict of interest or other legal impropriety where an accountant retained by a fire district to prepare its annual financial report is also the owner of a computer firm which is engaged by the district to perform data processing services. 1981 Op St Comp File #81-373.

There is no authority for fire district to establish scale of tax rates so that owners of multiple parcels are taxed at lower rate. 2001 Ops St Comp No. 01-8.

Provisions in County Law and Town Law are dispositive as to when liability attaches for county sewer district and town fire district special ad valorem levies. 11 Op. Counsel SBRPS No. 101.

2. Disposition of unexpended balance

Balance of fire district funds on hand at end of fiscal year must be used to reduce tax levy. Capital reserve fund may be established for purpose of making alterations to fire house. Capital reserve fund is alternative to Section 179 of the Town Law. 1946 Ops St Compt 57.

Unexpended balances of fire district funds must be included as revenue in estimate for ensuing fiscal year. 1946 Ops St Compt 483.

Fire district unexpended balance should be included in the annual estimate as a revenue. If not so included such moneys become unanticipated revenues in the following year and may be either included as a revenue in the annual estimate for the following fiscal year. 1947 Ops St Compt 106.

Application of unexpended balances of appropriations of fire districts to reduction of taxes of such district. 1947 Ops St Compt 405.

Moneys remaining unexpended at end of fiscal year of a fire district which were not included in first district budget for the ensuing fiscal year, constitute surplus funds in ensuing years and subject to the spending limitations contained in subdivision 18 of § 176 of the Town Law, such surplus funds may not be expended for any lawful district purpose, or may be held and included as revenue in the next annual budget. 1946 Ops St Compt 540.

3. Estimates of expenditures

A town board may not in the preparation and adoption of the annual town budget diminish an estimate submitted by a fire district by striking from such estimate an item determined by the town board to be illegal. 1945 Ops St Compt 256.

There is no requirement that a fire district annual estimate be approved by the qualified voters of the district. 1946 Ops St Compt 541.

A town board must include in the preliminary and annual town budgets the estimate of expenditures submitted by the board of fire commissioners of a fire district, notwithstanding the disapproval by the voters of a proposed proposition authorizing the expenditure of sums in excess of those that may be spent without adoption of such a proposition. 1946 Ops St Compt 562.

Where the annual estimate of a fire district failed to include an item for payment of debt service, the tax moneys received must nevertheless be used to pay such debt service. 1955 St Compt File #7199.

A town may not impose a special tax or other charge on behalf of a fire district on properties which are exempt from fire district taxes to defray the cost of specialized equipment needed to provide fire protection services to those properties. 1990 Op St Compt 90-39.

4. Fire district treasurers

Annual report of fire district must be signed by retiring treasurer and not his successor. 1947 Ops St Compt 78.

Fire district treasurer must file annual statement in town clerk's office. 1947 Ops St Compt 137.

All tax moneys collected for fire district purposes must be paid over to the treasurer of the fire district. 1953 Ops St Compt File #6128.

5. Persons and property subject to levy and payment of tax

Assessments made against county property located within fire hydrant district organized pursuant to this section are not exempt by § 4 of the Tax Law. County of Westchester v Harrison, 114 N.Y.S.2d 492, 201 Misc. 211, 1951 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 2863 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1951).

Taxes for the payment of indebtedness incurred by a fire district prior to its extension must be collected from the district as a whole, including the extension. 1945 Ops St Compt 460.

Fire district tax must be levied upon the assessed valuation of both the buildings and the land included within the district. 1955 Ops St Compt File #7086.

Enrollees of volunteer fire companies which serve the fire district may not be forgiven or exempted from fire district taxes. 1960 Ops St Compt File #174.

A town may not impose a special tax or other charge on behalf of a fire district on properties which are exempt from fire district taxes to defray the cost of specialized equipment needed to provide fire protection services to those properties. 1990 Op St Compt 90-39.

6. Taxing power as affecting civil liability

Fact that funds for fire districts are collected by municipal agencies does not operate to vest municipal authorities with control or jurisdiction of fire districts, so that members of town board could not be charged with condoning alleged discriminators practices of fire district. Owens v Hanse, 51 Misc. 2d 471, 273 N.Y.S.2d 406, 1966 N.Y. Misc. LEXIS 1600 (N.Y. Sup. Ct. 1966).

Analysis

1. In general
2. Disposition of unexpended balance
3. Fire district treasurers
4. Taxing power as affecting civil liability

1. In general

A fire district has no power to tax real property, no power to assess real property and no power to grant or withhold a real property tax exemption. 1976 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 29.

A fire district has no authority to pay the cost of construction of a memorial monument in memory of deceased volunteer firemen. 1980 NY Ops Atty Gen Jun 11 (Informal), 1980 N.Y. AG LEXIS 104.

A town may not expend Federal Revenue Sharing funds for fire district purposes. 1979 Op St Compt File #299.

A town may not alter the annual budget submitted by a fire district, even where there is a wide difference between the respective budgets of two fire districts in the same town which are similar in size and population. Such a difference in budgets could be attributable to a number of reasonable differences in circumstances. 1979 Op St Compt File #669.

A fire district budget must be incorporated into the town budget by the town board without change. Moneys received by the town collecting officer for town taxes must be paid over to the town supervisor who must immediately turn such funds over to the fire district treasurer until the fire district budget is satisfied. If the supervisor fails to pay over such funds within a reasonable time, the fire district may in its discretion, initiate an Article 78 proceeding in the nature of mandamus against the supervisor to force him to pay over such funds. 1981 Op St Compt File #80-662.

2. Disposition of unexpended balance

In computing the fire district spending limitations contained in Town Law, § 176(18) an accrual basis or a reservation of surplus (i.e. encumbrance) may be used. 1979 Op St Compt File #644.

3. Fire district treasurers

A fire district commissioner may not hold the office of treasurer of the fire district but may hold the office of treasurer of a fire company. 1977 NY Ops Atty Gen March 2.

Where a fire district is situated within two towns and district taxes are incorrectly levied in one town causing an excess of taxes to be collected, the excess amount should be held by the fire district treasurer until the succeeding fiscal year and used to reduce the fire district tax levy within that town. 1981 Op St Compt File #3.

4. Taxing power as affecting civil liability

A town is not liable for negligence on the part of members of a fire company engaged in fire fighting or other authorized activities of a fire district, even though the town serves as a conduit for the raising of taxes to be used for fire district purposes. 1967 NY Ops Atty Gen Mar 22.

§ 181-a. Budgetary controls

1. The fire district treasurer shall maintain a separate account for each appropriation made in the annual budget of the fire district. Each such account shall show the amount appropriated, the several amounts expended from the account, and the unexpended balance of the appropriation.

2. No expenditure shall be made, nor shall any contract which in any manner involves the expenditure of money or the incurring of any pecuniary liability be entered into, unless an amount has been appropriated for the particular purpose and is available for that purpose or has been authorized to be borrowed pursuant to the local finance law. Nothing in this subdivision shall prevent the making of a contract or lease for a term exceeding one year when authorized by law nor shall anything in this subdivision require a fire district which has entered into a contract or lease for a term exceeding one year to pay during the current fiscal year any amounts larger than those which become due and owing during that year under the terms of such lease or contract.

3. Whenever during a fiscal year it shall appear probable to the fire district treasurer that the moneys available for such year will be insufficient to meet the amounts appropriated, he or she shall forthwith notify the board of fire commissioners of such fact, stating the probable amount of such deficiency. The treasurer may include his or her recommendations as to the action which should be taken. The board of fire commissioners may reduce any appropriation or appropriations so as to prevent the making of expenditures in excess of moneys available. An appropriation shall not be reduced below the minimum amount required by law to be appropriated, nor shall an appropriation be reduced by more than the balance therein less outstanding and unpaid claims chargeable to such appropriation.

4. The board of fire commissioners, during a fiscal year, may make additional appropriations or increase existing appropriations. Moneys therefor may be provided by transfer from the unexpended balance of an appropriation, from unappropriated unreserved fund balance, or unanticipated revenues, or by borrowing pursuant to the local finance law. For the purposes of this subdivision, unappropriated unreserved fund balance or unanticipated revenues shall be available for transfer only to the extent that the total of all revenues recognized or reasonably expected to be recognized in the current fiscal year, including unappropriated unreserved fund balance, exceeds the total of all revenues as estimated in the budget, including appropriated fund balance.

5. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision four of this section, grants in aid from the state and federal governments, other gifts which are required to be expended for particular objects or purposes, and insurance proceeds for the loss, theft, damage or destruction of real or personal property, when proposed to be used or applied to repair or replace such property, may be appropriated by the board of fire commissioners at any time for such objects and purposes.

Prior Law: Former § 181–a, renumbered § 181–b, L 2007, ch 555, § 8, eff Aug 15, 2007 (see 2007 note below).

Editor's Notes: Laws 2007, ch 555, § 10, eff Aug 15, 2007, provides as follows:

§ 10. This act shall take effect immediately and shall first apply to fire district budgets prepared for fiscal years commencing on or after January 1, 2008; provided, that the amendments to section 209-z of the general municipal law, made by section two of this act, shall take effect on the same date and in the same manner as chapter 237 of the laws of 2006 takes effect.

§ 181-b. Independent audit of fire districts

1. The commissioner of each fire district with revenues of four hundred thousand dollars or more shall obtain an annual audit of its records by an independent certified public accountant or an independent public accountant. The report of such annual audit shall be presented to the fire district board of fire commissioners by such accountant. Such fire district audit shall include, but not be limited to, the district's financial conditions and resources and such other things as the state comptroller may designate. A copy of the audit report in form prescribed by the state comptroller and certified by the accountant, shall be furnished to the commissioners, the town boards served by the district and the state comptroller within one hundred eighty days following the end of the fiscal year audited.

2. The commissioner of each fire district with revenues of less than four hundred thousand dollars shall report the district's financial conditions and resources and such other things as the state comptroller may designate on a form prescribed by him or her. A copy of such report shall be issued to the state comptroller within one hundred eighty days following the end of the fiscal year. The state comptroller may designate an amount below which no report shall be required.

3. On or after January first, two thousand seven, all fire districts subject to the provisions of subdivision one of this section shall utilize a competitive request for proposal process when contracting for such annual audit. In addition, no audit engagement shall be for a term longer than five consecutive years; provided, however, that nothing in this subdivision shall preclude a district, in its discretion, from permitting an independent certified public accountant or an independent public accountant engaged under an existing contract for such services to (i) submit a proposal for such services in response to a request for competitive proposals, or (ii) be awarded a contract to provide such services under a request for proposal process.

4. Notwithstanding the provisions of subparagraph one of paragraph (b) of subdivision four of section thirty-five of the general municipal law, each fire district shall (i) prepare a corrective action plan in response to any findings contained in the annual external audit report or management letter, or any final audit report issued by the state comptroller, within ninety days of receipt of such report or letter, and (ii) to the extent practicable, begin implementation of such corrective action plan no later than the end of the next fiscal year.

Sub 2 by deleting at fig 1 "two" and adding the matter in italics.

The 2020 amendment by ch 262, § 2, substituted "four hundred thousand dollars" for "three hundred thousand dollars" in the first sentence of 1 and 2.

§ 182. Effect of incorporation of village or city including lands within a fire district

1. Whenever any portion of any fire district heretofore or hereafter established shall be incorporated into the corporate limits of any incorporated village or city, the town board or town boards of the town or towns in which such fire district is located, upon the petition of the resident taxpayers of the incorporated portion of such fire district, shall adopt a resolution changing the boundaries of such district by the exclusion therefrom of the incorporated portion of the district, or, upon the petition of the resident taxpayers of the unincorporated portion of such fire district, shall adopt a resolution changing the boundaries of such district by the exclusion therefrom of the incorporated portion of the district, and thereafter such excluded portions of the district shall not be entitled to protection, nor liable to be assessed or taxed for the fire district purposes of such district, but such portion of the total account of the bonded or other indebtedness of such district as the assessed valuation, according to the last preceding town assessment roll, of the territory so excluded and incorporated in such city or village bears to the assessed valuation, according to the last preceding town assessment roll, of the entire territory of such district before exclusion of such part, shall be assumed and borne by the city or village in which such territory is included and paid over from time to time to the treasurer of such district in accordance with the necessary requirements of the district in paying such indebtedness. Such amounts to be paid by the city or village may be levied with the city tax or village tax upon the parcels of land formerly a part of the fire district, or raised by general taxation, as the village board or governing body of the city may determine. Such petition shall be signed, and acknowledged or proved in the same manner as a deed to be recorded, or authenticated in the manner provided by the election law for authentication of a nominating petition, by resident taxpayers owning taxable real property aggregating at least one-half of the assessed valuation of all the taxable real property owned by resident taxpayers of the portion of the district proposed to be continued or by resident taxpayers owning taxable real property aggregating at least one-half of the assessed valuation of all the taxable real property owned by resident taxpayers of that portion of the district incorporated, as such may appear. Valuation for purposes of this section shall be, as such valuations appear upon the latest completed assessment roll of the town or towns in which such district is located.

2. Whenever any fire district is located entirely within the corporate limits of two or more villages by virtue of incorporation of such villages after the establishment of such fire district and the said villages or either of them have not been excluded from the limits or boundaries of such fire district in accordance with the provisions of subdivision one of this section, the town board and the board of fire commissioners of such fire district shall meet together at least sixty days before the annual meeting of the board of supervisors and estimate the amount necessary and proper to be raised for fire district purposes and shall certify the same to the board of supervisors of the county. Such board shall cause the amount thereof to be assessed and levied on the taxable property of such fire district and collected in the same manner and at the same time and by the same officers as town taxes are assessed, levied and collected and, when collected, the amount thereof shall be paid to the supervisor of the town and by him immediately paid to the treasurer of such fire district.

Notes to Decisions

If fire district boundaries are unaltered after a portion of the district is annexed by a village, the annexed portion remains part of the fire district for fire protection purposes, although town fire prevention regulations would not apply therein. Where a fire district has bonded or other indebtedness at time a portion thereof is annexed by a village, such portion is liable for a share of such indebtedness, to be levied and collected in accordance with the pertinent provisions of the Town Law. If a village extends its boundaries to include part of an existing fire district, the rest of the village being in a different district, boundaries of the district may be changed so as to place the annexed part of the village in the same district as the rest of the village, or they may remain unaltered. 1962 Ops St Compt #243.

Where a village became incorporated on June 21, 1962 and included within its boundaries territory which was within a larger fire district, and no affirmative action was taken pursuant to Town Law, § 182 to exclude from the district the area within the new village, the fire district continued to exist within the village. 1966 Ops St Compt File #692.

Where area of fire district becomes incorporated village, fire district may continue to provide service to such village; if, upon petition, boundaries are changed by resolution of town board, fire district would be required to provide such services until first day of June following first day of January next succeeding date of incorporation of village. 1985 Op St Compt No. 85-50.

Agency Opinions

A petition signed by nonresident property owners to change the boundaries of a fire district by excluding therefrom the portion incorporated into a village or city does not meet the requirements of this section. 1963 NY Ops Atty Gen May 6.

A fire district has no power to tax real property, no power to assess real property and no power to grant or withhold a real property tax exemption. 1976 NY Ops Atty Gen Dec 29.

A fire district commissioner may not hold the office of treasurer of the fire district but may hold the office of treasurer of a fire company. 1977 NY Ops Atty Gen March 2.

Fire district created in 1952 by town had responsibility for providing fire protection to territory annexed to town in 1998 following 1996 judicial decision which determined that disputed territory was within boundaries of neighboring town where, prior to 1996, fire district boundary included disputed territory; under facts presented, neither annexation of territory in 1998, nor 1996 judicial decision, affected boundaries of fire district. 2002 NY Ops Atty Gen I 02-14.

The term "resident taxpayers" as used in this section does not include corporations. 1981 Op St Compt File #81-193.

An area within a fire district which has been annexed by a village may be excluded from the fire district under the procedure prescribed by section 182 of the Town Law. 1983 Op St Compt File #83-177.
